386 GEORGE IV AND QUEEN CAROLINE:—A VERY EXTRAORDINARY AND MULTITUDINOUS ASSEMBLAGE OF PAMPHLETS, ILLUSTRATIVE OF THE LIFE OF KING GEORGE IV, as Prince of Wales, as Prince Regent, and as King of these Dominions; in which will be found all the periodical Pamphlets of the times relative to his debts as Prince of Wales, his marriage with Mrs. Fitzherbert, the death of the Princess Charlotte of Wales, and those relative to the then all absorbing topic the TRIAL OF THE LATE QUEEN CAROLINE:—elucidating the public and private Intrigues of all parties connected with that celebrated circumstance

* * * To give a detail of the contents of this most extraordinary extensive Collection would far exceed the limits of a Sale Catalogue; we must therefore content ourselves with observing, that this CONGREGATED ASSEMBLAGE OF ROYAL ANECDOTES is ILLUSTRATED with an immense mass of Newspapers and cuttings from them that in any way relate to these proceedings.

It is likewise enriched with a vast assemblage of Portraits of the Royal Family, the Nobility, the Statesmen, and illustrious Men then living; together with an equal number of Views, Caricature Prints coloured, Processions, &c. likewise Ballads, Poetical Effusions, and Squibs of the day.

These latter Collections occupy two large Portfolios, and many of the prints are at this time of great rarity.
