

By His Majesty's royal letters patent, the restorative nervous cordial and botanical syrup for all disorders of the human body is subject to / invented and prepared by W. Brodum.

Contributors

Brodum, William.
Royal College of Surgeons of England

Publication/Creation

[London] : [J.M. Gowen], [1800?]

Persistent URL

<https://wellcomecollection.org/works/k9qy6efz>

Provider

Royal College of Surgeons

License and attribution

This material has been provided by This material has been provided by The Royal College of Surgeons of England. The original may be consulted at The Royal College of Surgeons of England. where the originals may be consulted. This work has been identified as being free of known restrictions under copyright law, including all related and neighbouring rights and is being made available under the Creative Commons, Public Domain Mark.

You can copy, modify, distribute and perform the work, even for commercial purposes, without asking permission.

Wellcome Collection
183 Euston Road
London NW1 2BE UK
T +44 (0)20 7611 8722
E library@wellcomecollection.org
<https://wellcomecollection.org>

This PAMPHLET is distributed gratis.

See Page 12—A CAUTION.

9

TO PREVENT
MISTAKES,
As there are more
of the same Number in that Neighbourhood, the Public are cautioned to observe well, that the Doctor's

House is No. 9,
the seventh door
from the Leve-rian Museum.

The following are Agents appointed for the Sale of Dr. BRODUM's Medicines.

STAINBANK, Boston, Wholesale and Retail VENDER

ALBIN, Newport, in the Isle of Wight	BLAKENEY, Windsor
GEE, Cambridge	GREGORY, Leicester
DRUMMOND, Lincoln	MESSRS. DICEY, & Co. Northampton
TAYLOR, Wrexham	DOWNES, Yarmouth
GRIFFITH'S, Ludlow	SMITH, Bedford
SCHOFIELD, Liverpool	MIDDLEDITCH, Ipwich
SMART, Reading	SWINNEY, Birmingham
Baxter, Glasgow	BINNS, Leeds
CRUTTWELL, Bath	R. PECK, Hull
CRUTTWELL, Sherborne	BACON, Norwich
TRUEMAN, Exeter	GOADBY, Sherborne
FULLER, Newbury	RAWSON, Hull
MISS JONES, Oxford	RAIKES, Gloucester
GRAHAM, { Sunderland	GITTON, Bridgewater
GILL, }	KELLY, North Shields
WALKER, Printer, Newcastle	MESSRS. RIDGE, Newark
BAXTER, Edinburgh	JACOB, Peterborough
WRIGHT, Whitchurch	OSBORNE, Pontefract
SERJEANT, Preston	WILSON, Shrewsbury
MR. SIMMONDS, Blandford	FISHER, Bookseller, Penzance
MERRITT & WRIGHT, Printers, Liverpool	MENNON, Printer, Glasgow
BUCKLAND, Portsea	DINGLE, Bury
TOWN, Canterbury	WHITE, Widbeach
PISSE, Lynn	BELAM, Portsmouth
BARNIKEL, Plymouth	WOOD, Weymouth
INGLIS, Dunfermlie	VIRTUE, Northampton
TYNN, Worcester	NEWCOMB, Stamford
	ETHERINGTON, Chardam

OBSERVATION on DEAFNESS.

THE loss of hearing is often in consequence of various diseases. It may be occasioned by a fever, by a nervous, or venereal weakness; and it may be the effect of callosity, or of some accidental injury sustained by the auditory nerves on the tympanum itself. Dr. BRODUM has had astonishing success in many cases, which some of the most eminent of the faculty had pronounced incurable. But it is necessary that he should see the patient, and examine the parts affected, before he can judge of the possibility of a cure. Some of the fatal cases of deafness cannot be removed or remedied; and he should think it equally inconsistent with honour and honesty, to amuse any man with vain hopes, or to engage him in expensive and idle experiments, when convinced of the certainty of their failure. In these cases, therefore, Dr. BRODUM must be personally applied to at his house No. 9, Albion-Street near the Leverian Museum, Blackfriar's Bridge, where the Cordial may be had in bottles, price 5s. 5d. 11s. 6d. and 22s. each.

Other cases, if stated with exactness in a letter, and sent with the usual compliment of HALF A GUINEA, will be duly answered.

P. S. Any Lady or Gentleman who are exceedingly ill, had better make a personal application to Dr. BRODUM, that he may have it in his power to give prescriptions or other advice, if it should be found necessary, that their disorder may be removed with all convenient speed.

N. B. Persons who apply for those medicines, will please to take notice, that it will be in vain to expect any relief from the medicine without punctuality, for taking a bottle or two properly, then leaving off for some days and beginning again, will be of no kind of service. It must be taken regular; and in some cases it hath required the quantity necessary for a perfect cure to be taken before the patient has perceived that he hath obtained any relief; therefore, persons in the country, who wish to go through a regular course of it, should take care to have a proper supply of Dr. BRODUM's Restorative Nervous Cordial.

Any Gentleman or Lady who may have any internal or external complaint, that may require the particular and constant attendance of the Doctor, may be accommodated with elegant Apartments, fit for the reception of any Gentleman or Lady in the Kingdoms, with proper attendance, and the use of a Carriage, (if required) in terms that will meet with approbation.

BY
MAJESTY'S
LETTERS

HIS ROYAL
PATENT,

THE
Restorative Nervous Cordial
AND BOTANICAL SYRUP,

For all Disorders the human Body is subject to,

INVENTED AND PREPARED BY

W. BRODUM, M.D.

TO BE HAD

At his House, No. 9, Albion-Street,

The 7th Door from the Leverian Museum, Blackfriars Bridge;
In Bottles at 1l. 2s.--11s. 6d.--5s. 5d. (duty included)

AND OF

JEBOULT and Co. late Bacon, No. 150, Oxford-street.

TUTT, Royal-Exchange;

E. NEWBURY, Corner of St. Paul's Church-yard;

BOLTON, Royal-Exchange;

WILLIAMS, Perfumer to his Majesty, No. 41, Pall-mall;

BURGEOIS, AMICK and SON, No. 32, Hay-market;

PIDDING, No. 76, Oxford-street, opposite the Pantheon;

WARD's Medicine Warehouse, opposite Gray's Inn,
Holborn;

SHAW, No. 74, opposite the Southwark Bank, Borough;

And of all the Booksellers and Printers in the principal Market
Towns in the three Kingdoms.

The most efficacious Medicines for the following numerous Disorders in the Head, Stomach and every Part of the human Frame:

Head-ach,	{ Biliois Complaints,	{ Consumptions,
Lowness of Spirits,	{ Rheumatism,	{ Flatulencies,
Alarming Dreams,	{ Jaundice,	{ Spasms,
Mental Agitations,	{ Slow, Putrid and	{ Heart-burns,
Approaching Insanity,	{ Malignant Fevers,	{ Cholics,
Indigestion,	{ Declines,	{ Costiveness, &c.
Loss of Appetite,	{	{

Printed by J. MCGOWEN, 15, Church-Street, Blackfriars-Road.

Paralytic and Apoplectic Affections, Startings, Fainting Fits, Palpitations and other incontrovertible proofs of the derangement of the Nervous System, which, in all cases, either of Debility or Relaxation, it braces and restores to its proper tone.

Persons afflicted with Deafness, proceeding from the obstruction of the Wax or affection in the Tympanum; Blindness occasioned by the relaxation of the optic nerve, or other causes; have the greatest probability of relief, by personally applying to the Doctor, whose advice and Medicines have, particularly in these cases, been attended with the happiest success, who will immediately inform them if their disorders are curable.

The Restorative Nervous Cordial prevents every kind of infection, particularly those originating from unhealthy climates. Plague and other communicating distempers, the obnoxious scent of Hospitals and Prisons, the confined situation of persons on board a ship, &c.

As there are complaints peculiar to the Fair Sex, altogether unknown to men, and of too delicate a nature to be mentioned through the medium of public prints, and which require, in different periods and situations, the most skilful medical assistance to complete the original design of the all wise and omnipotent Author of the Universe; to the Ladies, therefore, and especially to those in what is understood by the turn of life, this Nervous Cordial is most admirably adapted, and capable of administering all those great and inestimable benefits which were so long and so generally experienced from the celebrated Doctors De le Cour and Hugh Smith, which, indeed, were solely performed by this most incomparable Medicine.

A WORD TO THE WISE.

As a serious caution to all who, from the nature of their complaints are obliged to have recourse to that dangerous preparation, Mercury: it is certainly, if taken with discretion, a most noble and effectual cure for every species of Venerical Infection; but, on the other hand, there is not an article in the whole Materia Medica so replete with danger: for should the patient take cold whilst under a course of this extraordinary Medicine, it frequently leaves behind it the Gout, Rheumatism, Numbness in the Limbs, Paralytic Affections, which, however, may not be felt till after a lapse of seven, eight, or ten years.

Many persons in business, Servants, and indeed all who, from the nature of their employments, are obliged to be out in all weathers, being liable to catch cold under a course of Mercury, which may terminate with their lives, but no such danger will ensue to those who substitute

Dr. BRODUM'S BOTANICAL SYRUP.

Which is particularly recommended to be used previous to entering into the Matrimonial state, lest the indiscretion of a parent prove a source of vexation to him for the remainder of his days, by afflicting his innocent but unfortunate offspring with the Evil, eruptions of a most malignant tendency, and a variety of other complaints, that are most assuredly introduced by neglect and imprudence.

PROOFS OF CURES WITHOUT SALIVATION.

Case of Capt. G. of Wapping.

A Naval Captain in the India service, during a long period, was afflicted with a LUES VENEREA, which he contracted when a Midshipman; the complaint, in consequence, fell into his limbs, and the ulcers it occasioned exposed the bones to view; by recomcommendation of a Capt. George, of Hull, he applied to Dr. BRODUM, and in three months was restored, but being apprehensive of a return, as he was immediately obliged to sail for India, he took with him a dozen bottles of the Botanical Syrup, from which he has experienced their salutary effects.

To Dr. BRODUM, No. 9, Albion-street, Blackfriars.

SIR,

London, Nov. 1, 1799.

IT is but justice I should inform you that during my last voyage from England to the West-Indies I was very much troubled with a BILIOUS COMPLAINT, which affected me to an alarming degree, fortunately a passenger of mine had some of your Nervous Cordial on board, and was persuaded by him to make trial of a bottle, which I did, and to my utter astonishment found almost instantaneous relief, and have never since been troubled with the above complaint; as such I shall recommend your Medicines to all my friends, both in England and the West-Indies.

I am, Sir, your truly obliged humble Servant,

No. 9, Prospect-Place, near
Dock-head.

W. BUTLER,
Capt. of the Golden Grove West-Indiaman.

Copy of a Letter to RICHARD GRAVES (Brother to Admiral GRAVES) Captain in the Royal Navy.

SIR,

Exeter, Devon.

A GREEABLE to your request, I have the honor and pleasure to inform you that I am entirely recovered from my late illness; although too much praise cannot be ascribed to Dr. BRODUM's Medicines, in working so wonderful a cure in so short a period; still I have you to thank, Sir, for your obliging condescension in answering my first letter in so gentleman-like a manner, and look on you as the principal that my health is restored; for had I not been encouraged by you, Sir, to trust myself under Dr. BRODUM's care, I should to this moment have laboured under the dreadful disorder. I can assure you, it is not in my power to do justice to Dr. BRODUM's merit; as to his Medicines they are most excellent. I will leave you to judge, after being afflicted for upwards of six years under so dreadful a SCORBUTIC COMPLAINT, as to occasion large tumours in my Legs and several parts of my Body, to deprive me of hearing and nearly my sight, my nerves affected almost to madness, for which I was under the care of some of the most eminent of the faculty, at an expence of upwards of three hundred and fifty pounds, without receiving a shadow of benefit; nay, I found my disorder increase under their hands, to be cured by Dr. BRODUM in less than six weeks, appear to me little short of a miracle; his skill as a physician, and his treatment as a gentleman, shall ever be remembered by me with gratitude never to be erased, I shall use my utmost assiduity to recommend Dr. BRODUM's Medicines to my brother officers. I am, dear Sir, with the utmost esteem, your most obedient humble Servant,

Dec. 1797, Manchester-square,

CHARLES HANEY.

A Merchant at Exeter, who had a violent INFLAMMATION in his BLOOD which broke out all over his Body in scorbatic Blotches and occasioned a defect of sight, cured by the Botanical Syrup and Nervous Cordial.

Witness, JOHN COWARD, Exeter.

Being in London, I had the satisfaction of seeing and conversing with the gentleman who confirmed the above case to me.

Sept. 1796. J. BAXTER, Italian Warehouse, Edinburgh.

I have seen the gentleman, have long known him intimately, and I know the above case to be true.

Collyhall, near Norwich.

CHAPMAN IVES.

MR. Metralcourt, Dancing-Master, Bath, cured of a DEAFNESS, NERVOUS and BILIOUS COMPLAINT, by the Nervous Cordial. Witness, R. CRUTTWELL, Bookseller, Bath.

To Dr. BRODUM, Albion-street.

PERmit me, Sir, to return you my grateful acknowledgments for a perfect cure which I received by taking your most truly valuable Medicines, the Botanical Syrup and Nervous Cordial; I was afflicted for a length of time with a SCORBUTIC and NERVOUS WEAKNESS, and am now perfectly cured by taking the above Medicines, and for the benefit of others I wish this to be made public.

THOMAS BRIND, Silver-Turner,

No. 2, Dolphin-Court, Noble-Street, Cheapside.

Witness to the above, Mr. CHRISTIAN SMITH,

Oct. 10, 1799.

No. 28, Air-street, Piccadilly.

SIR,

London, Oct. 18, 1799.

HAVING long laboured under a SCORBUTIC COMPLAINT and tried several Medicines without effect, but by taking a few bottles of your Botanical Syrup am perfectly cured.

1, Commerce-row, Blackfriars road.

J. BOOTH, Coach-Maker.

SIR,

Manchester, Jan. 6, 1800.

I Return you my most grateful thanks for the very great benefit I have received from your highly esteemed Botanical Syrup, and Nervous Cordial. I had laboured some years under a severe BILIOUS COMPLAINT, and such a weakness of nerves, as to be rendered incapable of attending the common concerns of business. Being informed providentially of the astonishing cures effected by the above Medicines, I was induced to take the same, and after consuming only four bottles, am now, thank God, as well as ever I was in my life.

Your grateful Servant,

Near Livershulme, Lancashire,

MARTHA JACKSON.

Witness, W. Cowdroy, Printer of the Manchester-Gazette.

Dear Sir,

No. 24, Pall-Mall, March, 17. 1797.

IT is a duty I owe you and the Public, to acknowledge the benefit I have received from your invaluable Nervous Cordial.—About eight years ago, from grief, occasioned by the loss of a dear friend, my frame, received such a shock, that ever since I have been afflicted with a violent NERVOUS COMPLAINT, which affecting the optic nerve of my eyes, made it difficult for me to proceed in my profession: indeed, I was under apprehensions of blindness, but hearing the good effects some friends had experienced from your Nervous Cordial and Botanical Syrup, I was induced to make trial, and it is with pleasure and gratitude I add, I am now recovered, and my sight is so much restored, that I can paint a miniature of the smallest size, without the least inconvenience. I am, dear Sir, Your humble Servant,

Miniature Painter to his Majesty.

RICHARD COLLINS.

MR. ALLEN of North-street, Brighton, was afflicted with a violent NERVOUS COMPLAINT, and had the advice of the most eminent of the faculty, who recommended her to Bristol Hot-wells, where she found no relief; but by applying to Dr. BRODUM, and taking his Nervous Cordial, is now quite recovered, and enjoys better health than she had done some years. The letter which included the above extraordinary cure, was transmitted by Sept. 26, 1796. J. GREGORY, Library, Brighthelmston.

SIR, To Dr. BRODUM, No. 9, Albion-Street,
FOR the sake of doing justice to your extraordinary abilities, as well as to inform the enemies of public practitioners in that science, that they should not be too precipitate to censure ingenuous and honest men, I do hereby inform the afflicted, and the public in general, of a most surprising cure, perfected by your Restorative Nervous Cordial. I was afflicted with a NERVOUS COMPLAINT, a palpitation of the heart, which distracted my head so that I could hardly see half a yard before me. I applied to many eminent physicians, but all to no purpose, in which situation I was for fifteen years: but, by taking your Medicines, was cured in a short time. Any person doubting the truth, may be convinced, by sending a letter, or by applying to me.

THOMAS MOULF,
Shopkeeper at Barkway, near Roydon, Cambridgeshire.
Witness to the above, J. GERMYN, Gross Keys.

MR. Reynolds (late M^s. Shurman) at the Marquis of Granby, Peterborough, had long been afflicted with the most excruciating pain in her left breast, which, at length, flew to her womb; in this dreadful state she applied to Dr. Gardner, physician, assisted by another Gentleman of the faculty, who attended her some time, and at length gave her up as incurable; but by the advice of her nurse, was prevailed upon to take Dr. BRODUM's Nervous Cordial, by taking which, in twenty-four hours found great relief, and in two days brought away the whole substance from the womb, that had been for a long time gathering, and since, has enjoyed her health uninterrupted. The wonderful effect of the Medicines and Advice of Dr. BRODUM, has induced her to request he would cause it to be published, for the sake of those poor creatures labouring under similar disorders.
Jan. 10, 1795. Signed by me (in London) L. REYNOLDS.

THE son of Thomas Shave, of Newmarket, LOST the USE of HIS LIMBS; by taking Dr. BRODUM's Restorative Nervous Cordial, was cured in a short time. Witness, Thomas Shave, at R. Vernon's, Esq. Newmarket; and Thomas Simmond, Farrier.

SUSANNAH HAREY, Mintern, Dorset, cured of a CANCER in the MOUTH, of 12 years standing, by taking the BOTANICAL SYRUP.

Witnesses, El. Furber, W. Hardy, Churchwardens; T. Furber, Overseer, (who paid for the Cure) J. Waygood, G. and W. House and Rev. W. Glasspoole.

Dear Sir,

IT is with the utmost satisfaction I inform you of a cure effected by your truly invaluable Nervous Cordial. A female friend of and a SCORBUTIC COMPLAINT, was prevailed on by a Gentleman of Pall-Mall, who had experienced the happy effect of your Medicine, to try it, from which she has received the greatest benefit. The head-ache in general came on in the night, and was so bad by eight or nine o'clock in the morning, that she was obliged to keep her bed; it sometimes continued a day or two without intermission, which rendered her very uncomfortable; but by taking a few bottles of your Nervous Cordial, she is quite recovered. She has therefore begged of me to inform you of the above cure, which she thinks it a duty incumbent to acknowledge, for the benefit of those afflicted with similar complaints. You have her leave as well as mine, to publish this, and may refer any one to, dear sir, your's sincerely,

No. 475, Strand,

G. BARRY, Miniature Painter.

To the prejudice against advertised Medicines, the following CASE is Dear Sir, addressed. Jan. 1, 1798.

WITH Infinite pleasure and satisfaction I acknowledge your skill as a Physician, and the excellence of your Botanical Syrup, which has performed a cure in a case the most obstinate, being afflicted with a SCORBUTIC COMPLAINT for upwards of twenty years in my face and chin, that when necessity required me to use the razor, the operation was performed with pains most excruciating: my face and chin are now entirely free from the least mark of the scurv by taking your Botanical Syrup.

I am, Sir,
Roffel-street, Covent-Garden,
near the Hummums.

Your humble servant,

W. BIDWELL, Stockbroker.

Witness W. SHARP, Hampstead.

Sworn at Guildhall. London, 3d Day of Feb. 1798. before me,

PAULLE MESURIER.

A certain proof of the superior efficacy of Dr. BRODUM's Medicines, acknowledged not only by many eminent Physicians. but also by Surgeons and Apothecaries.

Lord Robert Stephen Fitzgerald, His Majesty's late Envoy Extraordinary at the Court of Denmark, attests the following Testimony:

It is not alone that the first Medical Men of England have acknowledged the excellence of Dr. BRODUM's Botanical Syrup and Nervous Cordial: but also the first Professors of the UNIVERSITY of COPENHAGEN have attested the same in Letters to the Doctor, and given praise to his merit for inventing so great a Restorative and Purifier for the human Frame, viz.

WINSLOW, Professor of Anatomy.

TODE, Professor of the University of Physicians.

CALLISON, Professor.

LUD. MANDHEY, Professor of Chymistry.

I do certify that the above is Signed and Sealed by Professor WINSLOW, of the City of Copenhagen. Witness my Hand and Seal, at Copenhagen, this Thirtieth Day of June, 1799.

ROBERT STEPHEN FITZGERALD,

His Majesty's Envoy Extraordinary at the Court of Denmark.

WITNESSES TO DIFFERENT CURES.

Sir James Sunderfon,	-	-	Late Lord Mayor
Charles Hanby, Esq.	-	-	Manchester-square
Richard Graves, Esq.	-	-	Exeter, Devon

Capmanves, Esq.	-	-	Cottingham, near Norwich
E. Robertson & W. Hill, Esqrs.	-	-	Justices of the Peace, London
W. Brissow, Esq.	-	-	Late Mayor of Canterbury
Samuel Rash, Esq.	-	-	Justice of the Peace
Samuel Kingsford, Esq.	-	-	Sturry, near Canterbury
John Bray, Esq.	-	-	Foy, Cornwall
William Teen, Esq.	-	-	Uppingham, Rutland
Rev. Rees Harris,	-	-	Colchester
Rev. William Glaspoole,	-	-	Sherborn, Dorset
Rev. J. Greville,	-	-	Chiswick, Middlesex

The above gentlemen are witnesses to cures which are to be seen in full length in the Doctor's pamphlets, and may be had of his Agents gratis.

Astonishing efficacy in numberless trials, and with full evidence of

Dr. BRODUM's Botanical Syrup,

In which he has happily compressed the most Purifying and Healing virtues of the Vegetable System, is now recommended in Scorbutic, Leprous and Scrophulous Cases.

FROM the Nobleman to the Peasant, intoxication is the cause of many of the Disorders which now afflict mankind. When reason is thrown off her guard by the potent force of drinking to excess, it too often happens that this imprudence produces another, or, in plain terms, a connection with a disordered or unclean person; and frequently those who are guilty of these indiscretions are on the point of entering into the sacred band of wedlock, with a discreet and virtuous companion. What is the consequence of these repeated improprieties? The infectious poison which has lurked in the body of the husband is communicated to the wife, and entailed upon the offspring, who comes into the world a disgusting spectacle to all beholders, and subject to the Evil, eruptions of the most inveterate tendency, &c. A Mechanic, who uses metal in the completion of any performance, that has not been properly refined, will find his workmanship break, crack, and display a variety of imperfections, in defiance of all pains and diligence: it is exactly the same with those who enter into the state of wedlock without having their blood properly purified from the contagious distempers it receives through these errors, than which nothing is more efficacious than Dr. Brodum's Botanical Syrup, being an admirable diuretic, and acting by perspiration, never failing to cure complaints of this nature, after they have lain dormant in the blood for seven, eight, or ten years. Although it is so effectual, it is at the same time so innocent, that a child, or a lying-in woman might take it with the greatest safety; nor is there the least danger of taking cold, even in the most inclement season, which it is scarcely possible to escape during the administration of a course of mercury.

Dear Sir,

Portsmouth.

MY situation for many years past has been so truly miserable, that I have often wished for death to relieve me, but have wished in vain! Owing to juvenile indiscretions, a vice contracted at school, I laboured under almost a total deprivation of sight; my memory had lost its retentive powers, and my other faculties were so much impaired, that I had little hopes, while my existence might be prolonged, of being any thing else than a drone in the great hive of society. I had applied to a number of eminent physicians, whose prescriptions, instead of relieving, tended only to increase the malady; until, about fourteen months since, I was made acquainted with your two valuable Medicines; the Botanical Syrup and Nervous Cordial, and, after taking three bottles, I found myself so much invigorated, both corporally and mentally, that I could scarcely credit the evidence of my own senses. By taking two bottles more, I found myself perfectly restored to health and spirits, that I feel myself, if I may be allowed the expression, an inhabitant of another world. About ten months since I married, and three weeks ago my wife presented me with a son, to the great joy of myself and friends, who had a long time despaired of having the family name perpetuated.

If, Sir, you think the publication of this remarkable cure will be a benefit to the community, and to young men in particular, you are perfectly at liberty to do so. My rank and situation in life makes it improper for my name to appear at the bottom of an advertisement in a public paper; however, I shall be in London about the middle of next month, when I shall be happy to assure you with what respect and gratitude I am, Sir,

Your much obliged humble Servant, W. E. Royal Navy.

To Dr. BRODUM, No. 9, Albion-Street, Blackfriars Road.

Dear Sir,

Jan. 29, 1798.

YOU have my free permission to make public the following cure; I have been afflicted for a number of years with a RHEUMATISM and SCURVY, for which I have tried several Medicines without receiving any benefit; but fortunately a friend of mine recommended to me your Botanical Syrup and Nervous Cordial, which I took for six weeks, and have now the pleasure to inform you, that I am perfectly cured both of the Rheumatism and Scurvy, and as such I would recommend your Medicines to all Sea-faring men, who should never be without it in long voyages, as they are generally subject to the above disorder by eating salt provisions, and making too free with their constitutions. I am, Sir, your humble servant,

King Edward street, Wapping.

D. GLENNY

Formerly in the East-India service, and now pilot for the North and South Channels.

BATH, March 28, 1799.

A Servant of a gentleman in Great Pulteney-street, BATH, labouring under a complication of pain and disease, has been perfectly cured by Dr. Brodum's Botanical Syrup: for nearly these twelve months his affliction was so great, that notwithstanding the best advice of the Faculty he dragged on a miserable existence, having constant EXCRUCIATING PAINS in all his LIMBS, SCORPHULOUS ERUPTIONS, SWELLED LEGS, and an EMACIATED FRAME, he was cured by taking the above Medicines which was purchased at the request of the servant, at Mr. Cruttwell's, Bath, by Mr. J. Gifford, a very respectable Hair-dresser of that City, by whom this extraordinary case is communicated, and who will attest the fact, and give the name of the party to any person desirous of further information.

February 21, 1800.

THE ALEXANDER OF LONDON.

CAPTAIN WILLIAM TAYLOR, of the Alexander of London, was for a considerable length of time afflicted with a BILIOUS and NERVOUS COMPLAINT, for which he had tried several Medicines without effect; in this situation he had recourse to Dr. Brodum's, and, by taken a few bottles of his NERVOUS CORDIAL, was perfectly cured; and, at his request, this case is made public, for the benefit of those who may labour under a similar complaint.

WILLIAM TAYLOR.

The following remarkable Case was communicated to Dr. BRODUM by his Agent, Mr MIDDLEDITCH, Druggist, Ipswich:

MR. SAMUEL BAKER, of NEEDHAM-MARKET, Suffolk, was long afflicted with a complication of disorders, arising from juvenile indiscretions, and an immoderate use of Mercury; the consequence was a general decay of mind and body, his legs swelled, his body wasted, until reduced to that degree of debility that incapacitated him from following his employment. The Faculty in vain tried their skill to restore him; his friends advised him to several nostrums, without the least effect. In this situation he looked for death as the happiest means to relieve him from misery; but, by a fortunate event, Dr. BRODUM's Medicines were strongly recommended to him, which had the happiest effect, after taking a few bottles of NERVOUS CORDIAL and BOTANICAL SYRUP; a total change took place in his system, and, by degrees, restored him to perfect health, which he will with pleasure testify to any person who should apply to him, to know the particulars of the above case, and as such has signed his name hereunto, this 20th day of March, 1800.

SAMUEL BAKER.

Witness, W. MIDDLEDITCH. ~~~

MY SON JOHN NEWMAN, who now Lives at Sir William Clayton's, was cured by Dr. BRODUM eight Years back, and has never had a relapse since; his Complaint was LOSS of SPEECH and EPILEPTIC FITS. Witness my Hand, JOHN NEWMAN, April 12, 1800.

At the White Hart Inn, Newmarket.

THOMAS TOBIT, Miller, at Mr. Stovill's Mill, Steyning, Sussex, cured of the SCURVY, DROPSY and YELLOW-JAUNDICE, by taking the Nervous Cordial, and Botanical Syrup.

Witnesses, H. Leggart, Butcher; John Curtis, Ironmonger, Steyning; Mr. Irish, Goldsmith and Jeweller to his Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, North-freet, Brighton.

THE Son of John Weatherly, of Chiswick, Middlesex, cured of the SCURVY, by taking the Botanical Syrup.

Witnesses, Rev. J. Greville, curate; John Thompson and William Wapshott, Churchwardens.

THE Son of Mr. Thorpe, of Sturry, near Canterbury, cured of DEAFNESS, by taking the Nervous Cordial.

Witnesses, William Bristow, Printer of the Kentish Chronicle; Samuel Kinsford, of Sturry, Banker in Canterbury.

THOMAS NORTON, of Blue Anchor Alley, Buntill Row, cured of a SCORBUTIC COMPLAINT, and other Disorders, by taking the Botanical Syrup.

Witnesses, T. Sabine, Printer, No. 81, Shoe lane; and James Salter, Druggist, No. 29, Poultry.

N. B. The said Thomas Norton swore to the truth of the above this 12th Day of October 1795, at Guildhall, London, before

Sir JAMES SANDERSON, Bart. late Lord Mayor.

ELIZABETH WILSON of Brattleby, near Lincoln, cured of a CANCEROUS JOINT-EVIL, by taking the Botanical Syrup.

Witnesses, Thomas Wilson, father: William Foss, Heighington, near Lincoln; Joseph Smith, Lincoln; and John Knaggs (eye-witness) gentleman farmer, Rise near Hull, Yorkshire.

REMARKABLE CASE.

The following extraordinary Cure, performed in Liverpool, by Dr. BRODUM'S Nervous Cordial, was communicated to Messrs. Meitiz and Wright, Printers of the Phoenix Papers, with an express wish that it might be published for the benefit of the afflicted.

A CHILD belonging to Mr. Molyneux, of this place, had been afflicted for a considerable time with a very dangerous DROPSY in the HEAD, which threatened inevitable death, and thought absolutely incurable by several very respectable gentlemen of the Faculty. After trying a great variety of means recommended by different friends, he was at last induced to try Dr. BRODUM'S Nervous Cordial, by taking a few bottles of which, the Child was, to the astonishment of every one, restored to perfect health. P. JONAS. Witnesses to the Case, J. STRINGER and C. KENT.

From a LADY of QUEEN'S SQUARE, BATH.

BY Advice of Dr. Warren and Reynolds, I went to Bath, for the benefit of the waters, &c. having long been afflicted with a NERVOUS DISORDER, Trembling and Palpitation at my Heart, &c. and by continually fretting under the idea of not recovering; it threw me into violent hysteric fits, &c. After being five weeks at Bath, and growing worse than better, became so weak as to be obliged to be removed to and from bed; happening to see an advertisement to Dr. BRODUM, signed by a person I know very well, induced me to consult the Doctor, who recommended his Nervous Cordial; and as I should get a larger quantity in proportion, advised me to begin a five guinea bottle, and to purchase a publication of his, entitled, "A Guide to Old Age," &c. I purchased the book, and by deliberately perusing it, found out the sole occasion of my disorder; I immediately sent to Mr. Cruttwell's, and began with a guinea bottle of the Doctor's invaluable Nervous Cordial; and, after a regular course of six weeks I found myself so much another person, as to say, I am as well as ever I was in my life. I have at present only signed my initials, but, on my return from Hereford, as I have every reason to hope, I shall be as well as I now am, you shall very soon hear from me, with my real name, &c.

Sir,—Agreeable to my promise, I acquaint you that I am the person who received so much benefit from your Nervous Cordial, when in Queen's-Square, Bath. Being now entirely recovered, I inclose you a draft on La Touche, and with my case to be published for the satisfaction of others.

Yours.

Longford, Ireland.

Lady M'LEAN.

CHARLES HOBBS, of Upper Green-Street, Blackfriars Road, cured of the EVIL, by taking the Botanical Syrup.

Witnesses, George Chapman, Scrub's-square, Blackfriars; Henry Hart, Hill-street, Blackfriars; Giles Hancock, Sadler, No. 12, Blackfriars Road; and J. W. Myers, Printer, No. 2 Paternoster-row.

Sworn before us, at the Public Hall, Union-street, Southwark.

B. ROBERTSON, and W. HILL, Esqrs. Justices of the Peace.
Sept. 10, 1796.

T. WITHAM, of Rosomond street, Clerkenwell, cured of a VIOLENT NERVOUS DISORDER, by taking the Nervous Cordial.

Witnesses, Richard Hilton, (No 40) John Long, Eli Baylis, (No. 39) Rosomond-street.

THE DIPLOMA, OR THE
 DEGREE of DOCTOR in PHYSIC,
Granted to WILLIAM BRODUM,
 AT THE
 MARISCHAL COLLEGE and UNIVERSITY of ABERDEEN.

(Translated from the Latin Copy, viz.)

To all and singular Persons, who may read, peruse, and to whose knowledge this PRIVILEGE of the DEGREE of DOCTOR in PHYSIC, by us granted, may come—We, ALEXANDER DONALDSON, Doctor in PHYSIC in the Marischal College and University of Aberdeen, Doctor and Professor, with HEALTH:

SINCE it has been an ancient and laudable Custom that such as have with much Labour, Industry and Study, made eminent Proficiency in Learning, should be honored with some singular mark of distinction, as a reward for their extraordinary merit, as an excitement for the rising generation to pursue the arduous and excellent acquisitions which are the recompence of improvement in Learning: for which reason, We have hereby signified to all persons whatever, that the Learned Gentleman, WILLIAM BRODUM, had acquired so great a proficiency in the salutary ART OF MEDICINE, that he is deserving of the highest honors we can confer upon him.

Therefore, We, ALEXANDER DONALDSON aforesaid, and all others, the DOCTORS, MASTERS of ARTS, and PROFESSORS, in the above-mentioned University, do unanimously consent, that the above WILLIAM BRODUM should have full authority of delivering LECTURES, Teaching and Explaining the ART of PHYSIC, as well as practising the same in every part of the World: And We have nominated, declared, and conferred upon Him, the DEGREE of DOCTOR in PHYSIC, and have granted him all and singular privileges, exemptions and honors, according to the intention, force, and meaning of the Statutes and Privileges granted by the said College and University: and We do hereby grant him full power to enjoy them, according to the Tenor of this Instrument.

In testimony of the above mentioned privilege, We have affixed the GREAT SEAL of OUR UNIVERSITY to his DEGREE by Us granted, as well as our several Names and Signatures. Given at our Marischal College and University of Aberdeen.

GEORGIUS CAMPBELL, Gymnasarca, S. S. T. P.

J. BEATTIE, L.L. D. M. or P.P.

PAT. COPLAND, Math. P.

JO. STUART, Lit. Gr. P.

RO. HAMILTON, LL.D.P.P.

J. BEATTIE, Jun. P.P.

ALEXANDER DONALDSON, M.D. P.P. Professor Promoter.

SIGILLUM
 REGIUM
 MAJUS.

The Syrup is in Tin bottles.—The Nervous Cordial in Flint bottles, with the Doctor's Arms, viz. Three Dolphins, Crest a Bear.

A CAUTION.

Observe, the Doctor does not travel the country again as he has entirely re-established his health, and in consequence of his presence being continually necessary at his House in London, where he gives advice.

* * No other person of the name of Brodum is in England.

The Medicines may be had at all hours; personal advice as usual. A proper allowance to Merchants and Captains of Ships, by giving three days notice.

The Botanical Syrup and Restorative Nervous Cordial to be had at the Doctor's House, No. 9, Albion-street, near the Leverian Museum, Surry-side of Blackfriars Bridge, in Bottles at 1l. 2s.—11s. 6d. and 5s. 5d. (duty included).

Advice to Sea-Bathers, Bath and Hot Wells.

Dr. BRODUM begs leave to recommend the Botanical Syrup (the virtues of which are acknowledged by persons of the first fashion and distinction) to Bathers immediately after quitting the Bath, and one hour before, and in particular to those who are subject to eruptions arising from vitiated Humours, Scurvy, &c. the quantity taken each time three table spoonfuls.

To Nervous and Debilitated Constitutions in general, owing to an irregular course of life—as hard drinking, excessive grief, and those debilities brought on by not knowing the dangerous tendency of a certain vice, contracted at an early age; the Doctor recommends the Nervous Cordial, two tea-spoonfuls, which is to be taken an hour before bathing, and one after. Ten minutes walk after is necessary.

* * A number of cures performed at Southampton, Haslings, Portsmouth, Isle of Wight, Margate, Ramsgate, Dover, Bath, Bristol, Harrogate, Cheltenham, and Tunbridge Wells, in the course of the last season, on several Ladies and Gentlemen, who, from their elevated situations in life, will not permit of their names being published.

Persons who do not know the cause from which their complaints originate, the Doctor, to relieve anxiety, informs those who wish to receive benefit without a conference, that on their sending a Guinea, and their morning Urine in a box, may derive equally the same benefit; his scientific knowledge of various disorders, by means of urine, has established his fame. Those not wishing to receive medicines of his agents, may receive them from his house in London, by addressing a line, post paid.

§§ To those Ladies and Gentlemen bordering on the state of matrimony, the Doctor would particularly recommend the Botanical Syrup, prior to their appearance before the Altar of Hymen, who are in the smallest degree apprehensive of the system not being entirely sound, or subject to relaxations of the solids.

+++ The cures contained in this pamphlet are given in as short a way as possible, for want of room, but they may be seen at full length in the Guide to Old Age, which the Doctor recommends to persons of both Sexes, who, whether Single or Married, ought not to be a moment without.

Just Published, a new Edition, in German and in English, of A Guide to Old Age, being the two Volumes comprised in One, price 3s. 6d.

J. MCGOWEN, Printer, 15, Church Street, Blackfriars road.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION To YOUTH of BOTH SEXES.

A certain vice which both sexes are strongly addicted to, and is general practised in Boarding-Schools, which rages at the present period with dreadful violence, and that which renders it more lamentable is, its being of so particular a nature, that it will not permit the unhappy sufferers to discover their disorder; and often precipitates them at a very early age silently to the grave. ii. e. (Onanism) Genesis Chap. xxxviii. Verse. 9, and 10. The Lord smote Onan with instant death.--This pernicious vice is the total destruction of the whole system, introduces nervous and consumptive disorders, palsy, lassitude and causes a weakness in every part of the human frame, especially towards the loins, and is often treated by the most eminent physicians, as a disorder of a different tendency, as venereal obstruction, &c. through the timidity of the patient they are prevented from relief, not discovering the real cause of their complaint.

An instance occurred to me a few months since. A captain from the East Indies being on the point of marriage, who laboured under a dreadful consumption, and was apprehensive matrimonial engagements would be detrimental to the restoration of his health--informed me that previous to his going to the Indies, he had been injured by the venereal disease, and at the time of his applying to me, was under the direction of an eminent physician, but found himself every day weaker and more relaxed. After a strict examination, I found not the least symptom of a venereal taint, which induced me to enforce the question to him, whether he had been ever addicted to that baneful vice. Onanism, to which he candidly acknowledged he was--I recommended to him the Nervous Cordial, which he took for six weeks, and is now perfectly restored.

A lady of family and fortune, and whose disorder was treated as a cancer, which in fact was not, it being an inflammation brought on by the above practice, and through the very great danger of the complaint, and the wish of being restored, she was prevailed on by the intreaties of a favoured servant, to own her indiscretion and discover the real cause of her complaint; she acknowledged being addicted to that pernicious vice for several years, by being initiated to that practice at a Boarding-School--by my advice she took the Nervous Cordial, used fomentations, and was in two months recovered to perfect health.

The Doctor begs leave to notice that he never publishes any cures except at the request of persons. Secrecy observed.

This Day is Published in one Volume, Price 3s. 6d.

A NEW EDITION OF
A GUIDE to OLD AGE,
Or a Cure for the Indiscretions of Youth,

Wherein are laid down the means to obtain a radical cure for nervous, hypochondriac, and consumptive complaints, &c. &c. with an Essay on Venereal Complaints, Gleets, and Seminal Weaknesses, and a certain destructive vice of a secret nature. neither single nor married, of either sexs, should be a moment without having this publication in their possession.

The high estimation in which this Work is held by the public, its great utility, and the unprecedented Sale it has met with, is fully proved by the following testimony—

“I hereby certify, that I have printed THIRTY THOUSAND of Dr. BRODUM's GUIDE to OLD AGE, since its first publication.”

“J. W. MYERS, Printer.”

No. 2, Paternoster-Row, Nov. 20, 1793.

From on Board the Princess Royal East-Indiaman.

Sir,

I consider it is doing an injustice to Mankind, and the Public in general, to withhold the efficacy of your celebrated Botanical Syrup, in several cures that happened on board the Princess Royal East-Indiaman: Several of the soldiers and seamen were ill with that dreadful malady the scurvy, and in the last stage; every remedy the ship could afford was tried without effect; several bottles of your Botanical Syrup was on board the ship which was taken out to India for a venture, and, wonder! the late, a few bottles was given to the afflicted, which has happily recovered them, and they have all attested in a paper written by me, the effects of your Syrup; and those poor mens prayers were daily offered up for the author of their recovery.

Wishing you, worthy Sir, every happiness,

I am, Sir, your most obedient humble servant,

Dear,

February 27, 1799.

ALEX. McNABB, late Surgeon of the Princess Royal East-Indiaman.

To Dr. BRODUM, No. 9, Albion-Street, Blackfriars Bridge.

MARY LEARNER of Rash's Green, East Dereham, Norfolk, aged eleven years, was afflicted with the Evil for two years; by taking Dr. BRODUM's Botanical Syrup, it made a perfect cure of her.

There are many more great cures performed by Dr. Brodum; but they concern people of considerable rank and reputation, and it is not their desire to have them publicly known. The Doctor can produce letters of recommendation.

