My dear Dr Watkins

Write this in case you do feel inclined to shew my letter to my dear Son, & I can trust this,

It occurred to me that as in my opinion he appeared happy & kind to me with him, & appeared to watch for my visit every morning, & was faithful whilst walking with me, it might be desirable for you at the 1st Dec & remain until Spring when his Mother & God willing join me, I wrote to my dear Wife to that effect and begged of her, my son and daughter to think of it, & said, If it please God to enable me to act as I did then in York, it might be of use, they wish to me saying, in their opinion I ought not.

Now my dear Doctor, will you tell me what you wish me to do, perhaps I am moved by selfishness, & having the utmost reliance upon you, I feel that you will only consider my dear fellow and not, in the least, my safety, & whatever you decide shall be done.
I shall only add, if you say, come over, by God's help, I shall act as I did and not in fright, upon your rules more than I did, I know I ought not be too much with him without doing injury, he is twice of mine.

I should feel much obliged if I knew I could learn one word of thy opinions of the State of my dear Sister Caroline and if any perceptible improvement had taken place in her mental capabilities I had not to hope from thy last communication that more vigour had indicated and I shall if I had not diminished I have written her a few lines which she can reply to at leisure and which I should thank Mrs Lee to have conveyed to her

At first his mental derangement appeared of an extreme nature on religious subjects, but gradually his ideas have taken on a more correct direction so as to take in general principles & to which he has been for several years strongly attached

He placed him at a private Establishment for the insane & has his health became restored his mind improved so that after his being there four months there seemed so little amiss with him that it was considered desirable to take him to a friends house

Dear Friend

The remainder of the clothing which I think required for my dear husband we intend forwarding per mail on 2nd day morning - Should any other articles be needed will thou please inform me - Most of this package of clothing have been at the Brooks and I should prefer that the 2nd & 3rd should be in present use, and those which were sent with the patient reserved till needed -

Four of the night-shirts are very thick and had better not be used now — Four thinner new ones and one old one will do for present use —

Three pairs of drawers now sent, one pair of woolen (the newest) with the new ones sent in the list of the provisions should be removed — leaving four for use —

12 pairs of Knitted Yarn hose. Should four pairs be found sufficient to wear, reserve the 2 new pairs — They are not at all mended —

28th Shane received the letter containing the interesting postscript — Calars Dear Dustan'd — and I am obliged for them — Shane discovered this morning that some Collars have been left out of the parcel — Should they be required I can send them after —

Clothing &c.

L. Martindale has been used to wearing the thin flannel waistcoat at night in winter - The thick ones in the day - The new ones will not be required at present - Shelving -

Cease to have only so many articles in the patients drawers as is consistent with use - Those articles in the aid of the Voluntaries are such as I think may be held in reserve -

Cease to keep the older coats best and trousers in use until done

The cotton pocket handkerchiefs the patient has not been used to - but if he does not object to use them it might be as well to obtain - provided the cotton is not against the exemption on his own Linen ones will be sent

Several more articles will be sent in the course of a week

Please return the Portmanteau by John Dean —

If any thing is needed which is not sent please say —

A few lines saying how my dear husband fillies in a few days will much oblige — M. A. Nathersole

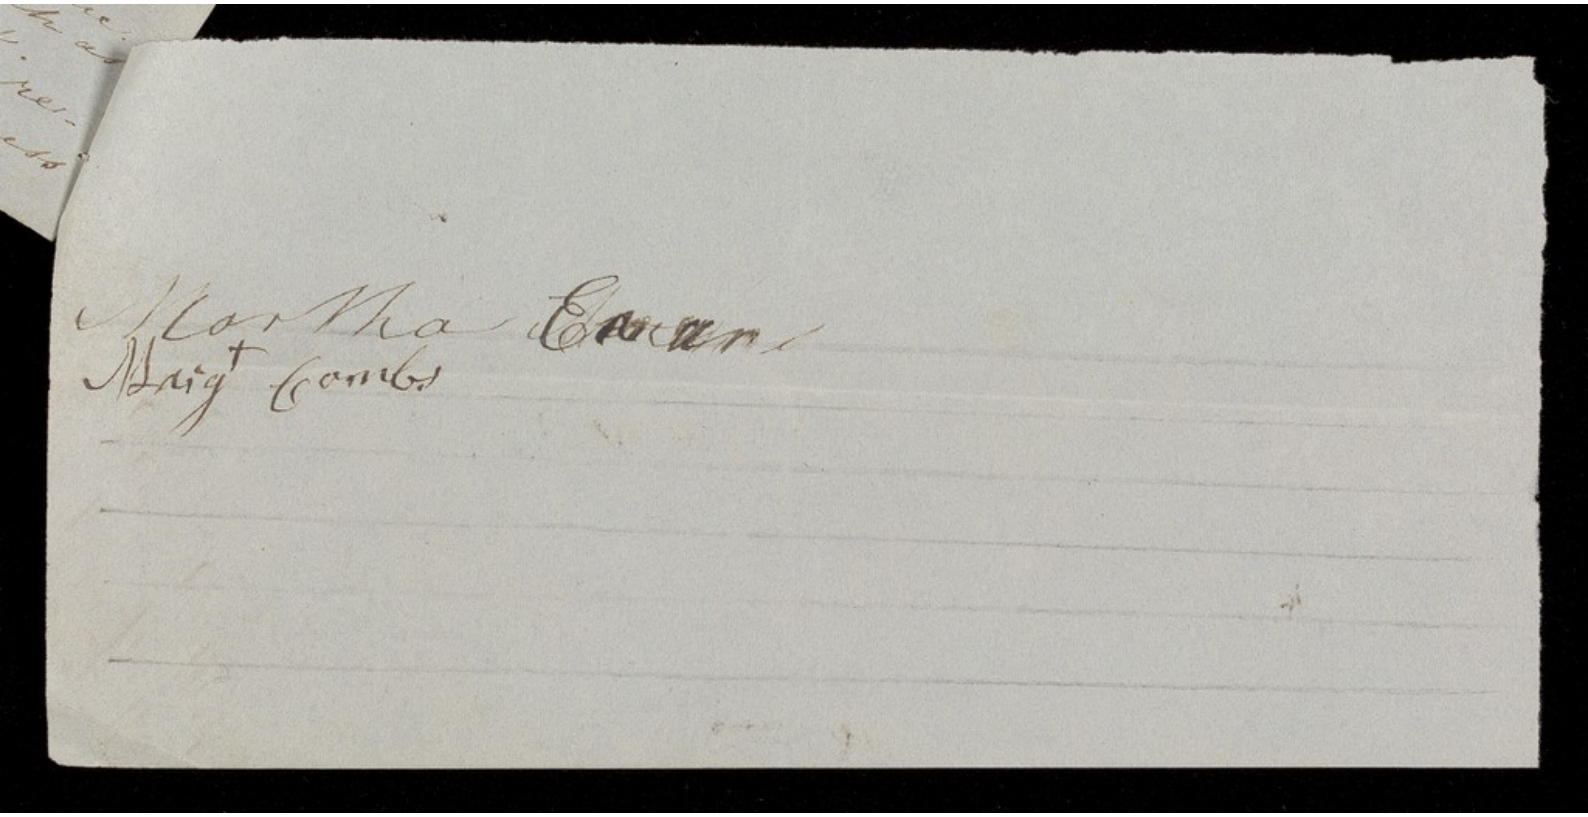

So much objection was made to informing the patient that he was going to the Retreat that M. N. voluntarily did not like him more than that he was going to York to see Caleb Williams and remain in his care — But believing when they get to York the whole truth will told him —

My dear Sir,

Your last communication, having caused us considerable anxiety concerning our fair sister Bridget, we should be glad to learn from you that she is now recovering her health, as you seemed to have reason to hope she would do soon.

We wish it to be fully understood, that although we are quite convinced that the dear sisters, will receive the greatest kindness and attention from you, and all those about her, yet, should any serious illness occur, we should not like to deprive her, of the pleasure of having some of her own relatives with her; and trust implicitly to your informing us on this subject.

We hope she received some fruit which he sent, thinking it would be desirable for her to have some; and begging you to inform us, if there is anything he could send that would gratify her, believe me,

Fifteen pounds, which I believe has been his usual half yearly Payment for his daughter Marian Thompson in the Retreat. My Co Executor & some other Relations have proposed that we should Endeavour to make some arrangement with the institution, by payment of a certain sum down, to undertake the Charge of her for life, in order that we may make a final division of his property, a certain part of which must otherwise remain invested on her Accot to be divided at her decease — I would therefore ask whether the Committee Can Entertain such a proposal or not, and on what terms they would be likely to undertake the Trust

Dear Friend

My Brother in law Isaac Harrison wrote to the Retreat respecting a relation of his who it was thought would have to be placed under restraint & as it was thought best to try him at an asylum near home for a while, he was sent there where he remained about 7 Wks, and it was thought he was so much better as to be able to resume the management of his affairs again, but on leaving the asylumb even on his journey home his delusions appeared to be as strong as ever and as he continues in this very state it is now considered to place him under the care of those connected with the Retreat at York should the committee consent to take him into their establishment.

My friend John Candler saw him while and was fully aware of his situation and wished me nearly two Years ago to send him to the Retreat. but he got better although not free from the delusions which have haunted him for Years. I also saw him a very short time before he sailed and informed me he was quite sure we should learn to send him from home. and as thy letter being dated 11mo 11. 1849. requested information I now forward it. - the name & residence &c. is -

Daniel Richardson, Great Leighs nr Chelmsford aged about 45 years. Farmer. in moderate circumstances a member of the Society of Friends and I should from what I know of his circumstances feel justified in paying 20/- 0/0/0.

His delusions are varied. - he has an Idea he has done something by which Parties in London and indeed almost all Classes of Persons are in league against him, and soon come and take possession of all he is worth - & that he and all his friends wherever his name appears amongst their writings or have had any thing to do with or for him will be hung - that his hands & feet &c are all in a state of mortification. - that some one has concealed the body of a child in his house and he frequently examines the beds Closets &c to find it -

Indeed his delusions are so varied it would be difficult to describe them all -

I think I have stated sufficient to shew the state of his Mind — he has said the Lawyer will settle all and then we shall know all about the London Parties &c — when he allows his Mind to turn to Matters of Business he appears as rational and capable of managing his affairs as any one —

He has Relations but his Parents are both dead and have neither Brother or Sister his home since the death of his Mother has been a very lonely one and not at all suited for his state of Mind.

Should the Committee consent to his coming to the Retreat — I hope they will furnish me with the Certificate to be filled up — with particulars of what Clothing &c it will be required to be sent with him — and I should hope a Person might be sent from the Retreat to accompany him as the distance & responsibility would be great — I will furnish them with any further information if they require it.

With love I am Dear Friend

I have been waiting in Expectation of hearing of and receiving some amount of my wife M. Stone: but on enquiry made of Thos. Newman the Worcester Agent, I find he has an amount of one Worcester patient, but no amount of my wife. The why and the wherefore of this I am at a loss to know, and feel disappointed at not receiving after a three months silence some official account of her present condition I have paid over to Thos Newman to be remitted to the Retreat on my wife's amount for the current quarter

£14-3-0. viz: £13-13-0 for 13 weeks board &c and 10/- for washing but having no account of any other charge that may have arisen for clothing &c. I was not prepared for meeting such. Perhaps Thos or someone whose proper concern it may be will favour me with a line to explain, and at the same time say how Mary Stone is getting on. If she has any recollection of me, and continues to manifest any interest in me, Give my dear love to her. Tell her that my winter cough, and Asthmatic affection, confines me much indoors, and sometime since I have been near being quite laid up. I am a little relieved from my cough, but find every attempt at exertion makes my breathing painfully suffering.

I was quite rejoiced to have my dear Amelias letter, the most satisfactory one that has been forwarded to us since she left home.

It is always a comfort to receive a letter from her, even when it does not give us favorable indications as the last did, of an improved state of mental health.

My dear Sir

I am sure that it would be a pleasure to you if I could convey with my warm thanks an adequate idea of the comfort your communication imparted to my dear husband & to myself and family. I hardly need say how great the trial is to us, as it regards the mental aberration of our dear Amelia; it is a living sorrow that accompanies us every where, pressing more or less, according to circumstances, and the greatest alleviation under this heavy calamity is the sweet assurance that we have placed under those whose skill & kindness prompt them to give every attention, & adopt every measure that can soothe and meliorate the affliction which God has in his infinite wisdom seen fit she should labour under.

We could not but feel some regret that Dr Thurnam whose kindness to our dear child & ever ready willingness to meet & satisfy, our anxious enquiries should have left the Retreat, while the prompt friendly sympathy which gave us such early intelligence of our dear child's amendment, and that improvement hardly expected by us, after the previous amount we had received of her painful relapse after apparent gradual restoration, give us a confidence in your professional judgment, & friendly sympathy which alloys our regrets, & causes us to feel grateful that we may think of you not only as a valuable Physician to The Retreat, but as a friend on whose sympathy we can depend & in whose welfare we feel a lively interest. Should any thing bring you to London we shall hope for a personal

Esteemed Friend

I shall be obliged to thee for a little information respecting Joseph C. Bale a Patient at the Retreat, under the following circumstances. — A few years before his illness he insured his life in the Friends Provident Instn for £1000 and although his family ~~was immediately~~ have been unable since his illness to continue the premiums they have been hitherto paid by the Secretary of a relation & a few other friends, but his relations unwilling to continue the payment and it becomes needful to consider what can be done for the best under the circumstances — I believe it would help those who have to decide on the if they could have the opinion of Thyself & any other medical attendant of S. C. B as to the probability of his complaint continuing stationary or making progress and terminating his life — Of course nothing more than an opinion liable to error from unseen causes could be expected but I think there with me it is important the £1000 should not be lost if there is great probability that Joseph Bale's life will be much shortened by the complaint under which he is suffering and will be glad to render any assistance in thy power to forward this object or to enable his friends to decide for the best — It may be as well to state that he has made a will leaving the said sum to Trustees for the benefit of his wife & children —

Any suggestions which the consideration of this case may give rise to will be acceptable & oblige

I conclude the journey may be accomplished in two days. as Thou hast made no remark on the point. I apprehend a female, altho' unaccustomed to the care of those under similar circumstances, will be sufficient. If Thou have any suggestions with regard to her travelling, I shall be glad to receive it.

I feel sensibly the kind consideration of the committee relative to the charge of Mary Ann's conveyance & wish to express my acknowledgments thereof, whether I have need to claim help from them or not, in this respect.

On looking again at thy letter, I observe that thou hast noticed, so far as to mention the assistance of a "regular attendant" to accompany our patient to town, but as it is in contrast to her being taken care of by any one who might happen to be coming up. Dear Friend.

It is unexpected to me to receive the conclusion the Committee has come to, relative to Mary Ann Ward, but as I doubt not they have grounds for their decision I am not disposed to call it in question, all the I have taken some pains to bring about an arrangement which would settle her where I am satisfied she would be well cared for.

My case now is, to get her up to town as soon as practicable & I should be glad if something offered suitably on this head. The expense of sending a person for the purpose, I shall be glad to avoid, but, unless some one offers with you, who was desirous, or had occasion to come to town, & thus to spare the charge of conveyance to & fro, there would be no advantage in one being provided at York.

I scarcely like to allude to the last resort for her removal, supposing such a course would not be acceptable to the Committee, neither could I wish it, yet who is to provide the funds for bringing her here, besides myself. I do not see.

If you can help in the matter or suggest any course respecting it, I shall be glad to hear from thee.

Mr Ketchum
Sir,

I received a letter from my brother John Polglase, which induces me to address a few lines to you. He states, that you desired him to write, in order to obtain a definite statement as to where he would be located in case of his discharge (not stating however, that the subject of his discharge had yet become one of medical discussion) It struck me, that if his letter had been officially suggested, it would have been addressed to my brother William; who, as his only brother, is, of course his natural guardian; and would certainly expect that the person consulted, when it might be judged proper arrangements for Johns removal. I am somewhat at a loss how to answer Johns letter immediately, as he has requested, on account of not understanding clearly his present prospects- besides which, my brother William has interdicted my husbands interference respecting the arrangements at present in existence on behalf of my brother John. The affair, therefore, as a matter of business, must be referred to my brother William.

Perhaps you will, however, oblige me by dropping a line on receipt of this, just to say if there is a prospect of Johns speedy liberation, and good grounds to hope that his recovery may be permanent - as well as if he is now in a state to bear such an annoying personal application as would be required in business engagements generally.

I shall esteem as a favour a few lines in reply to the above, and am Sir,

Very respectfully yours,

Thos Fabius

I write to you under the auspices of my good friend Mr Samuel Gurney, respecting my eldest Daughter, about 22 years of age whose mind has been disordered for about 18 months. She has been for more than a year residing at Moorcroft House, Bucks, under the care of Doctor Stillwell; and although we all agree she is much better, & quite tranquil & tractable, yet from a natural indolence, and aversion to steady occupation her Mother & myself, are both inspired with the fear, that permanent imbecility may supervene, upon what we hope, is still nervous derangement, unless more stringent measures are shortly adopted, to induce exertion, than those that have hitherto been pursued. Her health is now very good, and we hope the state of her mind has improved in the course of the last three months, and the chief object in writing to remove Her, on the part of the Mother & herself, is to endeavour, or to force our Child to occupy Herself —

She is a good Musician, and we should wish Her to be allowed to play & sing; that having been a great resource for Her, whilst at Manchester —

Have the goodness to inform me, whether there is a necessary for a Patent, in your Establishment — if the Females are kept quite Separate from the Male Patients — and what are the Expences per week, Month or Quarter — it is at present our hope, that they should not be necessary — Supposing that She were placed under Your care, could You conveniently send a trusty Nurse or Person to convey Her down to York — Yours faithfully

I Take Up

The unexpected and affecting account of the decease of my dear Daughter Mary Ann I duly rec.d — It is felt to be an awful event, whilst it is cause for thankfulness on account of the poor Invalid, that it liberates her from her long protracted affliction; and we humbly trust she has been permitted to enter that state of Happiness, where no more suffering can be forever felt.

I wish to take this opportunity to acknowledge the kind care and attention that I believe the dear Departed had always extended towards her whilst in the Retreat; and it appears astonishing her having struggled through so many years — I have been so poorly for some little time past, that I believe it would be scarcely prudent for me to attempt to attend on the solemn occasion — But one of my Daughters from London means to be at the Retreat tomorrow, & I suppose she will be met there by her Brother John from Darlington; also probably her Brother & Sister Wilson from Sunderland, or one of them, but whether tomorrow or next morning is uncertain.

"March 1st 1850

Inspected the Retreat Asylum this day, and have to express the greatest satisfaction with the admirable management of the Institution, particularly since the period of the appointment of the Superintendent Mr. Moss, who appears to devote all his energies to the care and treatment of the inmates, who I found under the most humane and judicious management. The House is altogether greatly improved, the new additions have afforded the greatest accommodation, the neatness of the Apartments, Ventilation, and mode of heating, &c, are all greatly to be praised

Six months before I left the Dublin Retreat I was allowed a key to go out where I pleased by myself, to go to the Royal Society's museum Sculpture room & anywhere else I could obtain information & entertainment. Next monday will be the Regular committee day of the York Retreat & I would be much obliged if the Superintendents would sanction with his approbation & lay before the Committee my wish to be allowed the use of keys to go to York by myself & to have it arranged that I might go to the Philosophical Society's museum & grounds: and also be allowed to read &c. at the great Library S.t Leonards place I would esteem it a favor: & the Superintendents may be assured if such privileges are allowed me that I will make a careful use of them, & I would then feel that I was not as I now am totally secluded from general Society. Some years ago Samuel Tuke & Thomas Allis both told me that they had no objection to have my name taken off the Retreat books as a patient but still to remain at the Retreat York: but the arrangement I now solicit might be carried into effect without my name at present being removed from the books.

I have delayed writing longer than I intended in order to furnish thee with the particulars thou wished to have and also to get the clothes in ready for forwarding which I shall most likely send on / day

I find on inquiry that the Grandfather of my relation was very singular & eccentric that his sister married a friend of the name of Hicks and died insane - also a daughter of the sister was in the same state - so that the disease may be traced very clearly. I am truly glad to hear that he arrived safe & I shall never forget his leaving home — I should be glad to be remembered with love to him in which my Wife unites — and could he be induced to write to me I should be glad to hear from him —

When he left home for the Asylum at Haddonne it was with great difficulty that they could get him to say much about the delusions which at Home continually haunted him - his attention or mind dwelt more upon the cruelty of taking him from his home and consequently annoyed him from dwelling upon them whether such is now the case or not - should like to be informed —

To get at his delusions often sitting quietly with him and condoling with him as to his trials and what he has had to go through he will generally converse in a low tone of the delusions - sitting quietly by him assuring by a nod or otherwise he will continue for a length of time to converse upon them —

I merely mention this as strangers have found a very great difficulty of clearing any thing from him.

I now conclude with the

Dear Sir,

I enclose a letter received from my brother but as I have not heard of the probability of his leaving except from himself I have not noticed it in my reply to him - he appears much better & reasonable but from former experience of the difficulty of managing him I should think him under much better care than he can get elsewhere, where he now is, as long as he can be legally detained - It would be very difficult to know what employment he could be fit for or to get any one to take him & unless engaged in some way he would no doubt soon get worse -

Were he likely to leave I could not propose his coming to Bristol having too vivid a remembrance of his former attacks & of their effects on my nerves from which I have never fully recovered -

I fear if he went to Manchester he would soon be for coming on to Bristol & that his sister there would not be able to manage him - he was very restless & raving after his last recovery & after giving up the Scotland scheme to Texas much against the wishes of friends & stood but a short time there — You will excuse my giving with these particulars but as the question of his leaving would perhaps depend partly on the circumstances he would be placed in I thought it best to name as much as this - although not having heard that he is likely to go to Texas I have no reason to suppose it is contemplated but from what he himself says Robt Millard tells me he saw him a few weeks since & found him reasonable but considered him not in a fit state to encounter with the difficulties of life which I suppose I am about the case -

Edeemed Friend.

I have taken my pen not because I have much to say, but to thank thee for thy kind Intimations respecting my poor dear suffering wife. Notwithstanding thy description of her almost insensate State I feel that I could like to see her one more alive; but my own feeble health, together with the distance, and yet chilly state of the weather, (after keeping close indoors,) it appears a risk on my account, the prudent mode-taking of which is at present very questionable. Feeling a confidence that her comforts are better secured where she is, than could possibly have been the case had she been at home, I feel thankful that she is, where she is, and hope and trust that those her kind attendants will be rewarded with that peace and satisfaction that arises from their labours, tending at once to her relief and mine.

Thou mentioned in thy letter about quarter day the balance of £3 due to me as being probably forgotten. Thy children it seems have been visitors too, and a source of pleasure to my poor wife, and to hear of any thing that gave her pleasure has been indeed a pleasure to me, I should like thy wife to buy something for the children as a keepsake for M. Stone with that balance. I trust thy little ones have felt a pleasure in visiting M. Stone and that trifle may prolong their pleasure and which they will accept from me as a little thank offering for their kind visits to M. Stone.

I write to apprize thee that we have been under the necessity of coming to the conclusion to place our Son Robert again under the care, for which purpose it is arranged for him to leave Nottingham to morrow morning at 8 O'clock, by Train, in charge of a Nottingham Police Constable, who are instructed to obtain accompany him to the years to Darnall Hall.

Now with an great alteration in our Son, who seems inclined to imitate

He has occasioned us much trouble of late, staying out all night & getting intoxicated, which renders him disorderly in the obtain certificates from his insanity, for, indeed, he is a most dangerous

Dear Friend,
D. H. Tuke,

In reply to thine of yesterday, enquiring about J. C. Browne, I may inform thee that he is a Farmer & Member of this Mo. Mtg. residing at Landrake abo.t ten miles from hence. He has four or five Sons & a good Farm, but like others of that class, he is feeling just now rather severely the depression of prices, & therefore would be glad to have his Son admitted on as easy terms as may be. The Latter has for a year or two past been growing more & more eccentric, till at length, 6 or 8 mos ago, he became decidedly insane.

He is said to be rather better of late. Formerly he was very scrupulous, made more religious profession than many, & had perhaps too good an opinion of himself, now he has thrown off the views of Friends, goes into an opposite extreme, & says he wants no other religion than philosophy, &c. &c.
He has practised in Drawing &c. as an Engineer~~in~~ & is said to possess good abilities . I hope you will be able to receive him, as it is not suitable for him to be at his Father's house, & proper treatment may tend to restore him.

Shouldst thou have occasion to write again, I shall feel obliged by thy mentioning particularly how my poor Relative Martha Rundell is in body & mind; as the formal report sent half yearly does not convey as much as her aged Parent is anxious to hear.

With kind regards

Thy sincere Friend

I hope thy dear Father improves.

I should not have allowed your very friendly note to remain so long unacknowledged, but that I have been in daily expectation, ever since its receipt of hearing from my brother William, without whose concurrence we are unable to act in the case of my brother John. We were in hopes, that if we understood the personal case of John, of which William is much afraid, / till some adequate and suitable employment could be found for him, my brother William, whom I shall only endeavor to assist the present pecuniary requirement, which I have proposed doing so - but I am kept in the perplexity by his silence, & thought I should like at least to express our intentions & do what seemed. I should have written to John Glenny but feared lest my letter should dominish, by being suspected of more than the might be able to accomplish. We may yet hear to the point from William, in which case I may be glad to have to keep you with a few lines again.

I am Sir, with thanks for your obliging and candid letter,

In the case of our I D Beamish respiting which my Brother Johnstone wrote to thee yesterday, the medical man attending him is now anxious that no time should be lost in placing him under proper care. Once during last night he became rather violent. and the doctor fears that altho he is again very quiet, there may be an increasing tendency that way.

He has therefore requested us to enquire (without waiting thy reply to my Br's letter) whether, in case a vacancy exists you could at once despatch a suitable person to take charge of him to York -

My dear Brother,

I was truly gratified by the expression of your kind sentiments respecting John, as conveyed in Emily's letter; and trust we are all prepared to act in unison with your view of the matter — regarding it to be an experiment for John's good. We shall be quite happy to undertake the personal care of the poor fellow, on his liberation from his long imprisonment: only, as the wharf cottage is now in other occupation, we shall be obliged to get a lodging for him near it — somewhere between the wharf and our residence, so that either will be readily accessible. With regard to employment, the object of which is mere occupation, it may be furnished almost unlimitedly in a business resembling that of the Sick & Burial Society. There are, for instance, little matters, such as paying sick allowances, now undertaken without remuneration by the collectors, which would furnish John with employment, and [illegible] some of the members being out of town on pleasure, and visits. This might be varied by his acting occasionally as [illegible] as an overlooker of the men there, in Mr Morris's absence. I suppose the idea of taking Mr Morris's place, as a sort of commander, will not be unpleasing to him.

The counting-house is commodious, and therefore which is a square tasty one; where, when he seems tired of more moveable employment, he may have as much leisure for reading &c. as may appear to be good for him. Indeed, if the [illegible] of concurrent circumstances, in reference to matters which have been made the subject of prayer, may be viewed as providential ones, I think those of the present crisis, in relation to John, may be judged to be so. I should say, that some time ago, when John's being located in Mr Morris's shelter was first suggested, Mr Morris & Ipedhe might be able to furnish him with the means of doing something for himself; as in undertaking the coal-business, he was obliged to leave his labours in other matters.
That employment he was then obliged to give into other hands: but should anything present itself suitable, perhaps John should be capable, undoubtedly

Mr Moore would be glad to give him a preference. He has always evinced a most kind concern for John and I think Maggie John is prepared to see Mr Moore as his friend. I am sorry to hear Sarah is ill - had been wondering why did not hear from her or Mary - Love to them both & to Emily from us all - Thank Ed. for her letter. Hope her eye will be benefited by rest. Enclosed I hand thee a draft at 7 days date for £ 8. 10. 0 the amount of demands against the Mo. Mg of Gloucester on acct of Alice Hayes.

I should have replied to thine of 15th before, but as the medical men did not consider the bodily health of the individual attended sufficiently established as to risk a removal I left it for a few days. It is a member of our Society & will I expect be recommended by the Mo. Mg. —

The mental disease has come on from a severe attack of Rheumatic fever - at the same time I fear there has been rather a tendency to it inherently - and reverses of fortune & kind have much troubled him for some time before his illness. —

How does not state what further particulars they wishes – but as I expect some steps must be taken immediately they will be kind enough to write me per return & I will furnish every information required. Yours sincerely

In reply to thine of 22d. — we have no one here we could send with the invalid that would be suitable. — If convenient to you we thought of his going next 6th day morning the 29th inst.
and thought you could let the person you send come here 4th day evening and be with him one clear day before they go — if you cannot spare him for that time, we must do as well as we can, in which case the attendant could not come before 5th day evening. — We think the arrangement proposed by us to be preferred if not very inconvenient to you — as the patient would be glad a little acquainted with his intended companion before setting off. — But I presume I should hear from thee again before you send him.

I believe the name of the patient has not yet been mentioned to thee — he is a brother in law of mine, John Fowler, of this place — and I sincerely hope under your kind care he will soon recover.

Some allusion has been made to him, by his medical attendant, as to his going to the Retreat — if it should be thought needful and he said he should like to go. it was a nice quiet place — he had had two aunts there &c — I hope he will continue in the same willing state of mind to the time of leaving.

Hoping to hear again I am thine truly

P.S. If thou sent me the name of the attendant I would try & meet him, if I knew the train he came by — or if not he must better come to my house first — at the Spa, Ghoster. —

Bristol March 20 - 1850

Dear Sir

I should have replied earlier to your favor but was only yesterday enabled to do so Respecting any plan that can be proposed to make it desirable to make trial of my Brother's release from York as far as am concerned I have not nerve enough to take in any way the personal care of him in Bristol I should be very timid at his being in this neighborhood & at the same time if thought prudent to liberate him I am willing to maintain him if he would be willing to live at a distance until he may be able to obtain a situation to make this unnecessary — My Sisters reply as to her plans for his employment I enclose — you will observe the employment is without pay, but being such help as Mr. Moore requires — whether this would make it less desirable in his case as lacking the main stimulus to exertion (remuneration) you can best judge — At the same time it is improbable that any one would engage him in any responsible & lucrative situation after so many years cessation from business — My Sisters idea would be that he should board with them & have a sleeping room in the neighborhood, but there not be able to lodge him appears undesirable — She does not state that the Counting house employment at Mr Moore's Wharf is to attend to whatever may be necessary in connexion with the Coal trade which Mr M. carries on in a small way in addition to his superintendance of a Benefit Society ——

I have given all particulars to guide your judgment as to the suitability of the thing as a commencement —

It is rather of importance to know whether Solon wrote in case the plan was approved but himself inclined to settle at Manchester in his employment as on former occasions he was very restless & unsteady — Although at first the prospect of his liberation must induce him to think well of any plan that promised him liberty, unless it meets his views & inclinations as an occupation until his friends think it best to find him something else, his going to Manchester may only prove a stepping stone to his going beyond the reach of any of his relatives ——

Do not enlarge but at your convenience give your opinion of the matter before any thing decisive is resolved on. will oblige ——

I suppose it would not be possible to make an experiment at Manchester without his actual discharge from the control of the Retreat so that if it was found injurious he could be speedily returned

I have thy note this morning respecting the Old Debt due on account of Wrychesley Store. I cannot just now go into particulars respecting it, but will do it my more fully at the earliest time I can; and I think it probable that a little delay will enable me to speak to Henry Stone (late Henry Junior) on the subject — The Father is deceased; Edward failed long since, and after a long delay has obtained a situation in some Railway Office; Henry has long been most exemplary in dutiful attention to his Father & Mother, and I consider their almost entire support for years, as well as furnishing a Home for his two Sisters, one of whom has lost nearly all her little property: he will do all he can for the family, but I often fear the pressure is too much for his means. I hope I shall be able to comply my dear Friend J Alexander, who like me is well acquainted with family circumstances in this case—

My Letter to Thee a year or two since related only to the sadly increasing debt on account of Waverley in later years— I hoped the Family had paid up the Interest on the £100, altho' I was aware some few years since that it pressed uncomfortably on the present Henry Stone.

The friends here are desirous of knowing the terms on which a patient can be admitted to the Retreat who has no resources of his own, and also what course should be pursued for his admission whether any further is required than the medical Certificates.—

I am also requested to enquire whether you have a person at liberty who could be sent here at any moment to convey him to your institution and to stay a day or two here should it be necessary, before the individual's health is established sufficiently

John Kilching

I have been several days comparing the papers of questions sent to York than I expected to be when I was there -

Will you please send me any other papers which are required to be filled up, and inform me. If you are able to do so, when it is likely there will be a vacancy?

Several of the last questions have been answered by the Owners of the Institution where my dear husband now is - and, I think he does not entertain any more favourable opinion of his case. I hope his removal to the Retreat may have a beneficial influence upon the disorder, and I do feel very desirous that the change be made as soon as it can be.

Can be.

Hoping to hear soon from thee Dear

Dr Sir.

Enclosed is a letter I received some time ago from my brother John. It seems to me to be written in a very hasty & perhaps exaccerated way. I even doubt my self whether it is not wholly unfounded in which case it is quite possible that he might imagine things that are not really existing. It would give all his friends & myself very great pleasure to be able to set him at liberty. were he in a fit state. but before taking such an important step, it is at the same time quite necessary to be prudent & act with caution for he has already been confined before in an establishment of the same description at Burnspee. but some time after he was liberated he broke out in the same violent way in which he was before entering & remained in that state till he was sent to the "Retreat". I would feel Exceedingly obliged to you if you would write informing me of his state. Whether it is your opinion that he really is in an unsound state of mind? or what are his peculiarities?

business. We are aware of the desirableness of circumstances as pleasant and easy as possible, but we hope that, as John may be free from anxiety respecting his maintenance while unable to obtain it by his own exertions, his liberty may not be injurious to [illegible] boarding with [illegible] set in Bristol. John had a lodging at a short distance from us without any unpleasant result. His disorder returned while in a situation on the railway quite out of our reach, the responsibility of board, lodging &c, all devolving on himself. We do not wish to be accessory to his removal from the Retreat, if his present condition makes you apprehensive of danger in submitting him to the arrangements proposed, and shall feel satisfied with the judgment of the committee respecting his case. My Brother William has much personal fear of him, which I believe greatly tends to frustrate his judgment towards his comin the open air. He seemed pretty well generally which he has now to work hard for the College. A few days previous to his coming here I had been in London where I staid about a week, during which time Saml. arrived in Town. We all dined at a Hotel together at Enfield, a very unusual occurrence. I am now left again to my former solitude. I am glad to find by the change of air. My dr little girl is well & has enjoyed many a play with her Uncle A. She much wants society. I wish my dr little E. could pay her a visit, they would be nice companions. My dear Brother

Thy note of the 26th & 27th ult. enclosing a letter &c from my ch F. came to hand this morning which I am very glad to receive, as I cannot but think they evince some little advances towards a conquest over that utter inability, which some time back seemed to prevail, of fixing her attention to, & accomplishing any little performance either in writing or working. I hope she will endeavour to persevere in fixing her attention to various pursuits of amusement & pass time, which I doubt not will be of service to her.

I shall be glad of the promised sketch, it has been a task unperformed for a very long time. Want of resolution is still very apparent, & the present change of purpose shews too clearly that her poor mind is still the abode of much disease, but dost thou not think there is some improvement visible since I was there? I cannot divest myself of the idea that some change has taken place — if so perhaps it may lead to some marked & decided improvement, but dare not to indulge any sanguine hope. The note enclosed in thine addressed to "M. Marriage" I suppose is to be forwarded.
I think it a much better performance than the one addressed to me the week before.
I shall be obliged if thou will address me a line pr time to time & not no great interval between, informing me what thou thinks of her state.

Perhaps thou art not aware that Bro. Alfred has been paying me a visit he left this morning. Has spent little more than 2 wks not find altogether loss of time, as I trust it has been of some service to his health, having

Lady B^{t} is very glad to hear her son takes walks in the Country & wishes him to have any thing he wishes for that is consistant with the rules of the establishment. if Pocket money is allowed she wishes him to have some. 5^{s} at once would be sufficient he may wish to make little purchases at York & the shops might amuse him. it may not be the custom of the Establishment to advance money to Patients in which case Lady B would send a Draft for any sum her son may require, he is remarkably musical & when in his senses would have enjoyed the music of the Cathedral but at present it might not be advisable

Lady Blackett will be much obliged to Dr Stitching to send her a line to say how her Son is going on once every month she also begs to say that her Sister was much pleased with everything she saw at the Retreat & found her Nephew as comfortable as circumstances will admit

If I have been slow in availing myself of your kind offer, it has not arisen from any want of appreciating your kindness, or from not attaching much value to your communications, but rather from a fear of intruding on your time when so many claims must present themselves requiring your attention: but as I have begun to feel somewhat impatient

It is only the confidence that we have in his Truth & faithfulness, that enables us to go cheerfully forward attending to the duties that daily present themselves, without murmuring & without despondency; still there are periods when the remembrance of what was her early promise, placed by the side of what she is now, casts its shadow over us, but I try to banish these thoughts, in a grateful sense of that mercy which has enabled us to place her where we feel the surest comfort that she has the best medical skill & every indulgence that her state admits of.

Respected Friend

I will thank thee to inform my sister E Beakbane of the decease of her brother Thomas, which event took place at about 2 o Clock on first day morning the 14th Inst, he had Brather a lingering illness ac= =companied by great suffering the doctors thought his heart was affected in consequence of his breathing being so very laborious, his stomach was also affected towards the commencement of his illness, he for several weeks vomiting allmost incessantly, the disease at last attained a dropsical form, his limbs and body swelling enormously, his limbs and back being punctured, there was for several days a discharge of about six quarts of water, this operation gave him relief for a time, but the water increasing in his body the doctors came to the determination to tap him as the only chance of saving his life, they drew a considerable quantity of water from him but he gradually sank after the operation, until death in a very few days closed the scene, during his illness he often spoke very feelingly of his sister Elizabeth, his attachment to her was very strong, and the love her brother dearly, I know well she will feel his loss deeply, with those as feelingly and cautiously we hope this improvement

(1) To the Committee of the Retreat.

I understand that a question came before you at the last Committee respecting the use of the carriage belonging to the Institution; and whether any other kind of ~~chaise~~ vehicle could be made more efficient in promoting the comfort of the patients: As I believe the subject is likely to be named at your next meeting I am desirous of submitting to you a few thoughts which have been long before me, not equally on this question but on the whole subject of the moral manage-ment of our patients.

Ever since I became connected with the Retreat and interested in the welfare of its inmates, I have been strongly impressed with the conviction that the monotony which prevails within its walls, is one of the greatest impediments to its curative treatment; and though my earlier impressions on the subject have been modified by subsequent observation, and I cannot now entertain the opinion that there are ~~not a very few~~ patients to whom that monotony may be beneficial and at any rate to whom ~~a forced or strongly urged dyet of~~ continued systems of forced or strongly urged action would be decidedly unfavourable, my impression remains the same that the extent to which monotony prevails in our and in most other establishments for the insane, is a great evil. We are not to assume when we read the Reports of great entertainments or theatrical exhibitions within the walls of an asylum, in which the patients are the actors, that the remedy has been found and the evil removed. These great and very occasional efforts to occupy and amuse the patients even if no objection could be taken to their character, are very transient in their pleasurable effects. and if not followed up by any corresponding efforts to please, may probably only induce a stronger feeling of restlessness and discomfort under the requisite restraints

What we want in Asylums is not (except in a few cases) the violent excitement of pleasurable feelings, but the engagement of the mind in the pursuit of some rational object in which it can feel an interest or in which, without much painful effort, it can be induced to engage. Dr Beddoes said that all exciting pleasures are debilitating. The philosophy of human comfort for those who are in a state of health, does not lead us to seek it amidst scenes of exciting pleasures, but rather in the walks of quiet industry and domestic endearments. and when sickness interferes with active toil, the greatest amount of satisfaction will be derived from the kindly looks and words and attentions of friends & relatives: and by the use of measures likely to promote the restoration of health -

The comparison between the circumstances of parties in a healthy condition of mind with those who are insane, can only be made with many modifications or exceptions; but there are great principles of action and mental influence in which the sane and insane may be said to be one. The patient whose perverted judgment spurns the kindness of his nearest friends, will be fully sensible of any act of sympathy or consideration for his condition when placed under restraint and though wordy professions might be distasteful, he will appreciate the expression of real kindness in the voice & manner of his attendant. The root of all successful moral treatment is to be found in that real sympathy which induces an unselfish course of action on the part of those who have the charge of the insane; and it was this feature of character combined with a calm masculine reason which constituted the greatness of George Jepson in in that department.

If the insane be thus, notwithstanding his disease, within the range of the kindly influences of human nature, he is hardly less susceptible of other influences operating through his understanding & bodily feelings. Even a superficial observation of the aspect and conduct of the insane when watching any transaction of interest or engaged in endeavouring to attain an object will convince us that they are to a very large extent subject to the same influences as the sane. Such considerations have been the foundation of Moral treatment at the Retreat from its rise ~~[illegible]~~ common foundation to the present time. ~~[illegible]~~

The recital of all the experiments we have made and abandoned ~~in the Retreat~~ would be too long a narrative for this occasion; but I will just remind you that when

Dr Delarive visited the Institution in 1797 the year after its opening, he found the superintendent earnestly engaged in endeavouring to promote the active employment of the patients both in and out of doors. At a later period I know that George Jepson thought it impracticable with the class of patients he then had to carry out any systematic course of employment but he was careful to avail himself of any opportunities to direct individual patients to some pleasant or useful pursuit and was eminently successful in several of his experiments. Agricultural labour has been of late years carried on to some extent and I believe with decided advantage among the men patients chiefly of the incurable class But it is far from providing a general remedy for the evil which exists within our walls. The long country walks which the patients are and always have been in the practice of taking are no doubt serviceable, but if they are to be judged of by the appearance of pleasure when you happen to see them on the road, or their expression of it when they return, the ~~pleasure~~ enjoyment they afford would I believe be not very highly estimated. They want what we all want to make a walk pleasant; an object - Even the old lady or gentleman who lives to preserve health and who ~~takes~~ paces every day so many times over the accustomed path, has an object (whether worthy of living for or not) which occupies the mind: the maintaining of the uniformity of his course supplying a constant object of interest - So sedulous is nature in providing us in almost all circumstances (when her course is uninterrupted by force) with the sources of gratification Nor perhaps is it absolutely ~~necessary~~ excluded from the walls of any asylum, still less from such an one as ours: but the objects of pursuit are so limited that the patient is rarely drawn out of the unhealthy moods of his own mind, but more frequently finds his chief pleasure in a perpetual reiteration of his diseased thoughts.

But it may with be asked, can we change or divert these unhappy tendencies which have sprung up probably among the healthy engagements of life? I answer we cannot do this in an absolute sense, but relatively we may - The disease is an entity of which we do not know the seat with any degree of precision, but we do know a great deal about its habits & the things which influence it. We know there are few so lost in their own bewilder ments as not to be attracted by novelties, & capable of having their curiosity excited. Incidents are frequently occurring among the patients which for the time make one hopeful of the remedial means at our disposal — & which ought to forbid despair. I am reminded here of a circumstance which interested me much more than 30 years ago - A patient who had been a little farmer in one of our Yorkshire dales had fallen into a low way & become a hypochondriac — George Jepson endeavoured to find means to divert his thoughts, but was very unsuccessful till it happened that in a field immediately adjoining the Institution's property & now possessed by it, were some Ewes, just dropping their lambs and requiring care - It was just the thing to interest the poor man, and the Superintendent at once availing himself of it obtained for him from the owner the care of his little flock — The result was that so long as the office continued he attended to it from morning to night — his megrims were forgotten — and before it was quite Ended he might almost have been reported recovered - But the cure lasted no longer than the particular means which had been so happily ~~influential for the time~~ effected. Walking & gardening failed to supply the particular interest of the Ewes & lambs and as he had fallen into his present state whilst in the midst of his own rural occupations such efforts as the Institution could supply were not likely to have any peculiar charms -

It has long struck me that in such & in many other cases we might advantageously keep up more than we do the genuine idea of our establishment, that ~~it is~~ a hospital for the treatment of mental affections, which at least we believe to be at least intimately connected with the state of the body - I have often wished that we could avail ourselves of the benefits both thro' the body & mind which are derived by many invalids from a temporary residence at some of our watering places - but I well know how great are the practical difficulties, not to say dangers, of such an experiment. For several years I have come to the conclusion that the object we are seeking might in a considerable degree be attained by giving a similarity to our Institution in several of its features to the character of a modern hydropathic Establishment.

Those medical men who most strongly object to the exclusive claims of water as a healing agent, would freely accord to it an important place in the art, & if it were compatible with private practice would probably avail themselves of it to a much greater extent than they do. I would not ~~propose~~ exclude the use of drugs, or in any way interfere with the exercise of the skill of my profession but, whether quite ~~consistent~~ or not, I would place the patients generally more or less under the operation of a systematic course of water ~~treatment~~ — and quite as much under a system of exercise as of water ~~application~~. Walks before breakfast as well as in the other parts of the day ~~should be taken~~ particular instructions given to each patient as to the quantity of water he should take and the ablutions he should perform within a specified time.

A visit of a few days to a hydropathic establishment would suggest more practical hints as to ~~the adaptation~~ whether any & what parts of the system are adapted to our circumstances — ~~and as to the part of it most likely to be useful to us~~ — than any description which I could give. Its great recommendation I take to be that it gives an object of attention & of exertion — something to do for the sake of health — which in some cases may properly be called a medical means — in others a hygienic one, and in some perhaps not more than an inoffensive one — which is a good word to speak for anything

The supply of water which we are likely to have shortly makes such a project as is here given, practicable for the first time. Many years ago we had a plan for greatly increasing the means of bathing in the establishment which we were obliged to abandon pon the want of sufficient water. How we can have it taken with great facility to every part of the house or grounds. A pipe might be pleasantly taken into the middle of the Old Mill Hill which will perhaps ere long have a summ hut upon it, enclosing a Camra Obscura as well as the sanitary waters. Whether the men as well as the women should come to the Hill to drink and whether any extension ~~enlargement~~ of walks through the grounds should be made - with many other matters of detail - need not be considered till you have concluded whether to entertain the proposition or not. If it have any feasibility in your view I would suggest that in the first place you call the attention of our Superintendent to the subject & desire him to confer upon it with ~~suitable~~ Mrs Gilliam ~~matter is in the hands of your Superintendent~~

I know few persons from their knowledge and skill, equally capable of carrying out such an experiment as ours of it accorded with his judgment; and of it does not, or on any account he cannot enter into it with Zeal, I am persuaded we had better not profess to make the attempt=

With respect to the carriage I would just observe, if we assimilate ourselves in any reasonable degree to the Character of a modern sanitary establishment, we shall doubtless want riding as well as walking variety for our patients, at least for the females, but I doubt whether in that case anything less than a two horse carriage adapted to a good days excursion would answer the desired purpose

I am requested on behalf of the Friends of James Walton to inform thee he has recently had a relapse of his mental affliction and it is thought best for him to go to the Retreat

It appears to be a kind of religious excitement and he has had little rest or sleep for the last 2 Weeks — He is not a Member of our Society and his Friends accept

If this petition be readmitted some Friend must be responsible for payment by a clear agreement — If he was to be committed before ab 4 perhaps the Township will be exempt If he was at the time will be Friends have no objection if the Com: have been satisfied — J.T.

Witness his mark

his Circumstances seem to entitle him much to expect his Board of Council to inform me of a Subscriber who is entitled to send him on the lowest terms as a Subscriptant will most likely have the right to his account

I am aware that he left the Retreat last in an irregular manner, but hope this will not disqualify him for admission

Dr White has seen him and signed a paper which states that Watson is a proper subject, and it is the intention of the Council to have a Certificate from another Medical man

An early reply will oblige

Retreat April 17th 1850.
Abele Cabel

Sir,

An eyewitness has just informed me that he has seen Miss Maria Tuke go thro' the ceremony of a Quaker marriage at York meeting house. I am very glad of it, as it brings the matter to a conclusion by convincing me as I mentioned in I think the last paper I gave you, that if she married she could not be the high spirited Friend or Quaker maiden I was seeking, & whom I will yet obtain; if she had been such she would have come up & spoken to me on one of the many occasions when she came out to see you. I once mentioned in one of my communications that I was not sure I could recognise Miss Maria Tuke without an introduction if I met her, as I had but one conversation with her for a few minutes when I accidentally met her in the Retreat garden when walking with Mrs Candler; & that I opened the matter again after her return from the South altho' I was aware of her engagement with Mr. Tyler for the reasons I stated in my communication my previous letters communications &c. having been accepted & retained. And now I distinctly state that the last song that I sent her was not composed for her, she was neither the theme, nor the inspiration of it. The end of last June a young lady arrived on a visit at the Retreat I met her in the garden & having had a previous introduction spoke to her & reminded her of a pleasant walk we had had on a previous visit one morning before breakfast, & mentioned my frequently thinking of it, she replied she very well remembered it; & the following morning as I hoped & expected altho' I did not ask she came out & spent nearly an hour with me. We conversed on various subjects & amongst others on the curious fact discovered in Botanical science "Inoculation" that is that by gently removing with a Camel hair pencil the pollen from the anthers or male part of the flower & laying it on the pistil or female organ of plants of the same genus but different species new & beautiful varieties were propagated from the seeds. After she had gone in to breakfast the impression made on me by the young ladys beauty & attractions the courtesy & interest with which she entered into the subject without evincing any undue bold or vulgar mockmodesty & her telling me she well remembered our previous sweet morning walk so roused my feelings & sensibilities, that many hereafter the noble elegant plant which had been examining together Campanula persicifolia the Peach-leaved Bell-flower composed the somewhat warm & voluptuous song alluded to, & not choosing to give it to her clandestinely offered it to her before a relative who from not acting with the propriety & delicacy due in my opinion to a young lady & from some ungraciousness shewn me by the lady herself subsequently I never gave it to her, nor did any one ever see it except the pencil copy I sent sealed to Miss Tuke with only I simply changed the heading & substituted Lilium album for Camp. pers. & Maria for X — the verses are exactly verbatim On my word Thomas as a gentleman of one of the most ancient families in the British dominions this is the true history of the Song which I have by memorial name & date

You may shew this letter to Mrs Tyler, & also to your father who has fallen from his high estate & seat at the top of York Friends meeting to the bottom, for want of faith in that Power that could & would have sustained him, but that's no reason he should fancy he must fall lower he has sunk low enough already. And I will give a copy of it to Mrs Whitten the matron who kindly procures me anything I may want that I ask her for, & I will also enclose her a copy of the Song with the original date & flower named she may shew it to the Superintendent & any one else she thinks proper.

Respected Friend,

I have received thy accounts this morning, but which are not quite intelligible — In my last remittance, I overpaid the accounts £4. 18. 10 — The accounts just received commence with a Debit balance of £6. 5. 9 — which appears owing & thy having omitted to give the particulars of John's quarter 12 Mo. 31 1849 — I shall therefore be obliged by thy sending a corrected account, giving both quarters for John, the same way as Maria's is made out, and then from the total, deducting the £4. 18. 10 overpaid last time; the result will no doubt be the same, but it shews the account more correctly, and explicitly — as it is, I have to guess at, or presume upon the first quarter in John's account.

It appears from thy communication, that there are changes in the management of the Institution, which I was not aware of. Have Dr. Thurnam, and Daniel H. Tuke both left, and is John Kitching now the Superintendent, in the place of Dr. Thurnam? Please excuse these inquiries, and awaiting the favour of thy early reply,

I remain, thy friend, Edward Fisher.

Dear friend

I am obliged for thine which I received two days ago.
Does thou think any hints of mine in writing to my L. M. will be of use to him? - In the note I sent him I particularly wished him to write to me, and to tell me how he was - intimating that then I would write again.
The amount I gave him of my own father was not a very good one - It was difficult & painful to write to him in the condition I know him to be in.
And I fear his mind was not equal to gather the little I did say - If I write again I intend to leave it for them to close that them may be able to see his Capacity better.

In writing to his family a few days ago. I requested them to send poor Dy: a Spoon however and that his brother showed find it — Perhaps he may recognize her hand-writing I much fear to trouble them with so many trifling wishes of mine but I thought these little matters would furnish them with subjects on which I know my dear Dy: would be interested were he capable — Fairfield is not called "new" altho' the houses which comprise it are all of very recent erection.
There is much correctness of idea in calling it new — The house and garden were both new and the latter very much unformed when we went to live there.
Can Dy: think pleasingly now of his father & bro: whom at the Brook he uniformly thought some sort of ill of them Do his ideas shew that he feels himself very important and is he nice in his food? wanting little soups &c — I apprehend Thyself & C. Williams will deem it too soon for me to see Dr Dy: to his benefit — and I do not desire it unless you think it might do good.

Greenhill, Fry & Co

We beg to submit for your inspection a sample of our improved Bedding Protector.

This Sheeting is quite impervious to water, grease, acids, or other fluids—has no effluvium whatever—can be sponged and rubbed dry immediately: It is, therefore, well adapted for the preservation of Bedding under all circumstances, but more especially in Surgical and Medical cases, and can be advantageously employed for operators' or nurses' aprons. It is calculated to supersede every description of Oilskin, on account of superior softness, pliancy and durability—not being subject to crack or shrivel, and requiring no other care than the avoidance of punctures.

It may be cleansed with soap in the ordinary manner, and is not affected by boiling water.

It has been extensively patronized by Her Majesty's Honorable Board of Ordnance, for Hospital purposes, and many of the leading Hospitals, Infirmaries, Asylums and Union Workhouses, in the Metropolis and elsewhere, with complete success.

It would be a valuable addition to a camp equipage, affording a perfect protection from damp soil or atmospheric vapours, and is in no way influenced by either extreme heat or cold.

Referring you to the accompanying certificate from Dr. Henry Davies and Mr. Benjn. Brookes, of the British Lying-In Hospital for Married Women, Endell Street, Long Acre,

We remain,

Sir

Your obedient Servants,

Dear Friend Thomas Fidde

J Kitching

I feel obliged by thy note respecting my poor brother in law's health, and had not been without my fears as to the probability of an unfavourable change sooner or later taking place, as he has did not seem to get on as one could have hoped. — My dear sister is now with her relations in Oxfordshire and I have forwarded thy letter to her, which she will not get till tomorrow. - Thy letter of today will come to me, but should thou find it needful to write again on 3rd day, would thou be kind enough to write to my sister direct as it would reach her a day earlier.

Her address will be "D Bowles, Robert Sefton's, Charlbury, Oxfordshire." If a change for the worse, I should be glad if not troubling them too much to have a line as well. — Mine yesterday did not say how is mind was - if in a state to receive it - we should like to have one here to be given to him.
Thy sincere fd.
Jesse Sefton.

Dear Friend

We have concluded to comply with our deceased Father's request, and write to acknowledge the receipt of thy favour of the 22nd. In the same parcel thou will find the Key which appears to be the one that was missing. We quite approve of thy arrangements and will thank thee to have our Horses brought to him when he may want them.

I have, when he was at home, always been anxious for him to eat an abundance quantity of them, for I consider them a very wholesome fruit. We quite agree with them in thinking it best for him to have no money at his own disposal.

My wife has sent a few lines to Robert: we shall be glad to hear of the safe arrival of the parcel.

My wife unites with me in kind regards to Mrs Newman.

I have just received thy letter enclosed with one from Thos Harrison which I have read and find thereby that it his intention to visit Cousin Daniel without thy previous knowledge thought best to return it- thee as there is no time to lose - from the tenor of the letter it is quite certain that with the views he entertains of my case in health an altogether unsuitable for him to receive I intend have seen him but time will not permit I feel I think it undesirable he should have an interview without thy knowledge opinion of the situation of my Cousin's Mind and I think if

Danl. H. Tuke

I have this morning received the account of James Wrigley with the Retreat: a short note accompanied the account signed by W Wood Secretary; but as I have mostly corresponded with thyself since the departure of John Candler I prefer doing so on the present occasion.

In the first month 1849 I remitted 30 pounds (at three) to the Retreat on account of Jas. Wrigley, which remittance paid up Lake arrears and left a Balance in our favour and I then hoped and expected, that the income arising from James Wrigley property would be equal to his maintenance at the Retreat; the annual cost of which was for many years covered by about fifteen pounds per annum. The account now sent includes disbursements to an amount far beyond what has been usual and is greater than his income has ever been, and to the extent of which only, I am accountable. I cannot therefore pay, from any Balance in my hands the required quarters board in advance; nor shall I receive any more on James Haigtons account until next year when his rent about 22£ & more will I hope be applicable to his use. I think it need not take place explicit that the case may be fully understood by your Committee

Dear Sir

I am in receipt of yours enclosing H. B. Pectover's account, but before I can take any measures towards getting the money for its payment from the office of the Accountant General, I must trouble some one of your Establishment to furnish me with an affidavit sworn (or affirmed) before a master extraordinary in Chancery, that the said Henry Bosley Pectover was alive on the 31 March & that he is now living.

And early in July I shall be obliged by Mr. Kitching sending me a short certificate as before signed by himself in reference to the state of his health.

The property from which H B Pectover's income arises is under the care of the Court of Chancery, and the offices connected with it are extremely particular in their forms, & unless you comply exactly with their regulations they give you a deal of trouble.

The two documents just refered to are each wanted half yearly. The one ~~is~~ signed by the medical attendant in January & July for the satisfaction of the "Lunacies Visitors office" — and the affidavit the enable the "Committee" to get payment from the accountant General, in April & October

It is satisfactory to find he continues improving — his wife inclines to write him a few lines, which if suitable I can send to him —

It is of course a difficult matter to form a judgment as to the ultimate result in any case — but hoping he may so improve as to be fit to come home again, we shall endeavour not to fill up the place he filled in our establishment for the present.

I suppose to ask the opinion

I inclose you the value of £25-0 and a post of £4-0-0, not knowing your

On looking over John Harris's bill it occurred to us from the amount of the tailor's bill that you had got him some new clothes - perhaps thou may not be aware that we have hitherto furnished them from home and should like to do so in future except shoes and hats and some other small ware if it be no inconvenience to you his shirts & stockings are made in our own family and we should like to know when he is in want perhaps when acknowledging the receipt thou will be kind enough to oblige

I hope I shall not unsuitably intrude on you by these lines respecting an Indictment Joseph Forgye, had I supposed that either James Bartlow or Joseph Rountree were here I would have addressed my note forgoing to one of them. Joseph Forgye is again unwell, perhaps much in the same state as when he left Canton for York — if friend should conclude on the prosecution of him again becoming an inmate at the Retreat, might he be re-as formerly, & would there be

Since receipt of your note I have handed John's Resignation to Joseph Fry he thinks it doubtful whether he shall present it to the Monthly meeting, but expressed a wish to hear from you respecting him you were kind enough to propose addressing a line on the subject I should esteem it a favor your doing so, to Joseph Fry, Union St, Bristol

I told him I thought John had a morbid dislike to Friends not improbably connected with his being confined at York & that did not imagine his resignation arose from any change in religious views —

From the kind interest you have shewn in my brothers welfare I know you will excuse my troubling you with the enclosed letter Rec.d from my sister at Manchester – it appears pretty clear to my mind that he will soon be off from their care as he manifests precisely the same restlessness as on former occasions, or perhaps even more — within a week of his reaching Manchester he wrote that he did not think it healthy for me to get a situation for him at some seaport & it seems now that he will not do what (employ) he found him at as he is totally unfit to confine his attention to any thing for long & strangers with whom he must keep steady at his work & not not humour him in this particular he has also sent me his resignation to hand to the Friends I enclose copy — I believe this is a step as he thinks to prevent his return to York as he was continually writing me that he was not a friend wished to be sent to a County asylum — I shall delay sending his resignation until I hear from you & it may be necessary to trouble you to address a line as to his mental state to one of the overseers here whose name I will give you after ~~as~~ hearing you although I suppose they hardly would accept it —

I hope you will excuse my thus troubling you & should be glad of your early opportunity to receive a line on the subject as to how it will be best to act respecting him —

I fear he will be telling his wife again & sorry I am he imagines he's not employment —

With your reply I shall be glad of the enclosed letters — without Esteemed Sir- King St.

Owing to the late alteration in the delivery of letters, Mine was not recieved till this morning. I am pleas'd to find that J D Beamish is thought sufficiently recovered to return home — Not having had any experience in such cases, I do not know whether he needs any friend to accompany him home, or only to meet him in London: As we know nothing about the Trains leaving York, we must request to be informed when he leaves, and what time he will be likely to reach London — his Wife may probably go to meet him, and accompany him home —

With respect to the rate of weekly charge, I wish to leave it to you, as it will not be needful now to procure any recommendation As I before stated he is not in a situation to have paid £ struck for a continuance — but the time being short, it is not of so much consequence.

His travelling expences you will please pay and charge in his acct — Owing to the probability of my absence upon this reaches York, I cannot fix any day for his leaving — but it is quite immaterial if we are advised of the time you conclude on —

Yrs sincerely

Esteemed Sir

Thy letter of the 10th is received — the amount there mentions was paid by me on ap of Hawkesmish being the amount of the Account sent some weeks ago —

I have subsequently received a letter stating it, being a mistake that only 4/- Hawk was charged for him — this being received in London during the Yearly meeting was postponed answering, and has not since engaged attention —

I knew not the regulations respecting patients, — but if there is any mistake I am quit willing to ratify it —

I mentioned HB being many years in my service and he has saved a little property during the time, but not equal to pay the double amount without leaving his wife and boy unprovided for in great measure. but in this case they must be assisted —

As I hope he may soon be well enough to return home from the amount I have had of his progress to recovery, it makes the amount of little moment than if it was likely to be a lengthened case — I will leave it to thy decision,

As we have annually to obtain a certificate that my sister E C. Tuckett is still living in order to receive her dividend from the Government Fonline, I enclose a form, the first half of which is to be signed by the Minister of the parish (or in his absence as painted out at the head) and which I shall be obliged to procure & to return to me at the first Convenient opportunity within the current month – I am aware my sister is not always sufficiently well, for it to be desirable to ask the Clergyman to visit her, but I believe he has hitherto been quite willing to do so when asked by D. T.

The giving such certificates is required by the Government of parochial ministers, altho it is supposed that the party will call upon him. We shall be glad to receive from thee a report of Esther's present state – I hope to learn she has passed thro the Cold weather without suffering from it – a fire in her Chamber in former winters has appeared to render her more comfortable, & induce sleep & quiet.

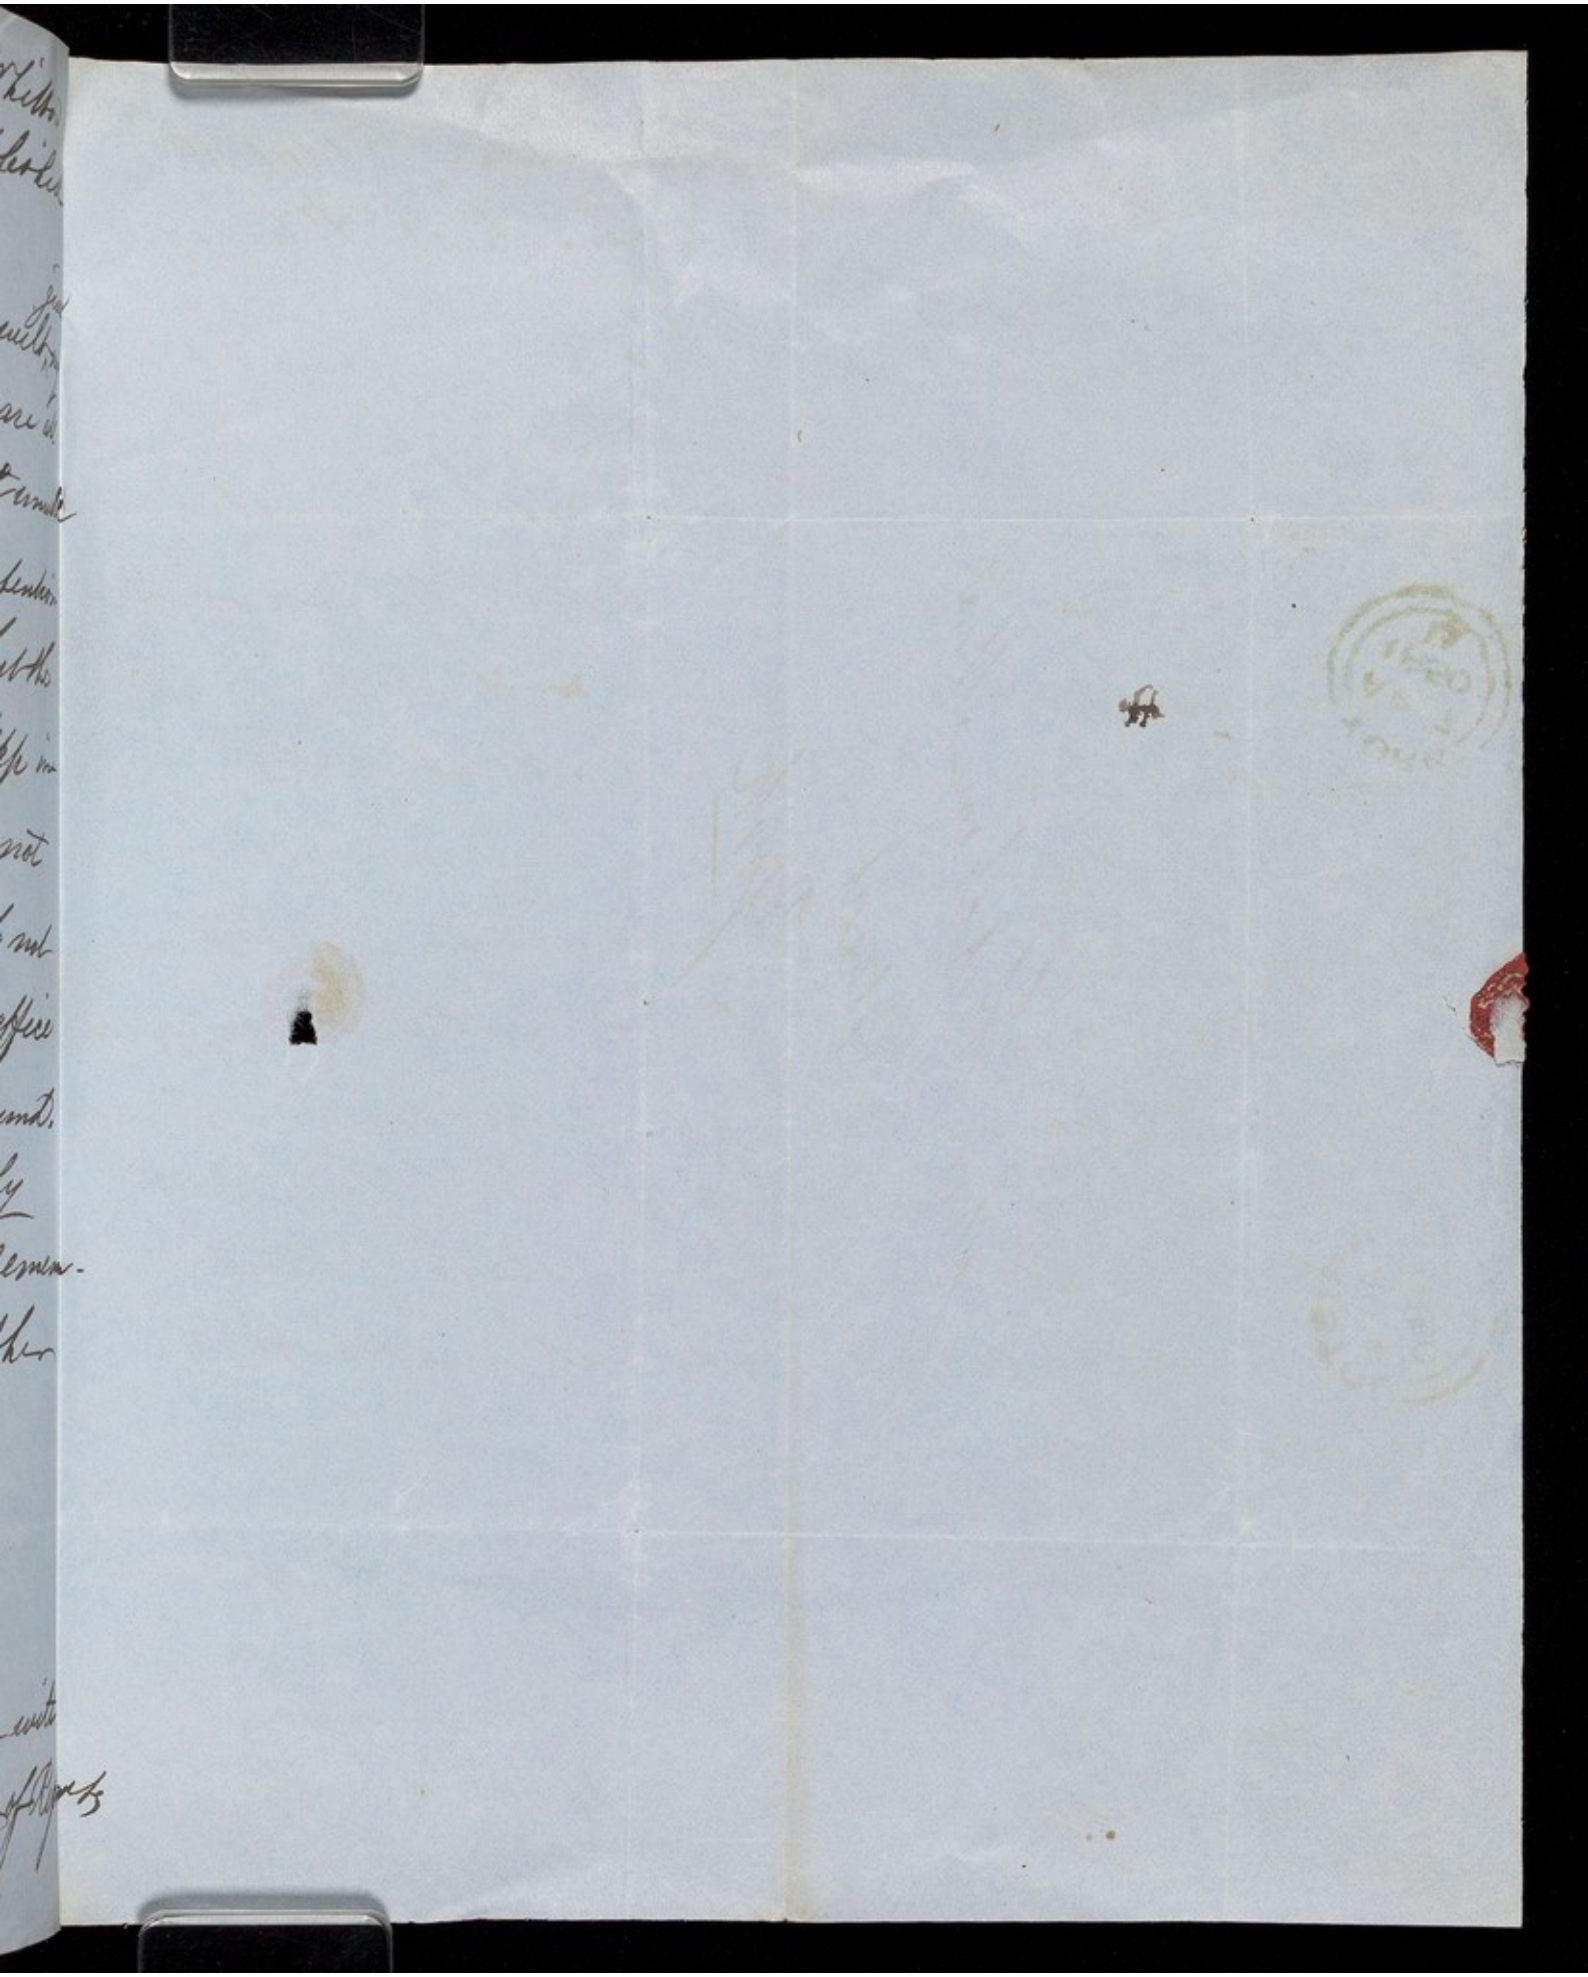

We have not unfrequently heard of her thro E. Wilson, whose own health will I hope become so reestablished as to enable her to return to Frenchay.

Should Esther be at her best, perhaps than will you give my wife's & my love to her, & inform her her brother & we are all now pretty well — my brother Henry has been quite unwell but is now much better. It was fully my intention to visit the Retreat in the 10th month, but the unexpected decease of thy valued Aunt E. Shipp induced me to defer it — I hope the summer will not advance very far without my doing so — I do not know if our friend Daniel Tuke yet retains his office in the Institution or whether a successor has been found.

We shall be glad to hear of the welfare of thy family — My wife joins me in a message of kind remembrance to thy Wife & self — also to Maria Wilson & her daughter — Thy sincere friend

Dear Friend

As day after day passes and I do not receive any letter from thee to say how my poor Henry is. I cannot forbear longer telling thee that the weekly letters are always anxiously looked for by me - and. how several mornings have passed without any, my anxiety is not lessened although I may conclude that if there was any particular change thou wouldst let me

P.S. will Henry have any recolection that this day (by the day of the week) a year ago his little girl died - about noon on the 3rd of 7th mo 49 - I shall be disposed by thy saying.

Know without delay - My engagements should know are very numerous - and I will endeavour to be patient - and wait - - was there any remark made by my dear husband when he re-ceived my last note. some words also - and does that excited state of dislike to his being in an Asylum continue ? - Does it - extend to sullenness to those around him - Is he ever cheerful and happy feeling in himself ? - If thou thinks it suitable give my dear love to him and tell him I intend to come to see him soon - I understood through my Bro: J. Firth that C. Williams had a poor opinion of my poor dear Sam's case -

I have this morning rec a letter from Jl Beakbane saying if thou thought it best he would gladly go over to York for Eliz, but he wished I would first write, and request thou wouldst be kind enough to say whether thou thought it needful, or whether it would be prudent for her to come alone.
I shall be truly glad to see her for a few weeks & she can then decide on her future residence,

It is a great comfort to us she is able to return and whenever she decides to remain all will be done that can to keep her mind peaceful.

Henry Beakbane will be very glad to have her at his house if she inclines, he wished me to say this, but of course I expect her to visit me first. Perhaps thou will kindly write respecting her being met, and should that not seem needful the time she will reach Liverpool we will meet her there but I expect thou will deem it needful for her to have company all the way. Dear Friend

I feel truly sorry to hear from thee so poor an account of my afflicted relative and am very fearful now whether his malady has not obtained so great a hold upon him as not to give way to any medical treatment thou will find as my poor cousin puts confidence in thee that he will be more communicative to thee of his delusions than has been the case and by quietly sitting with and seem to hold with him in the belief of his sorrows that the state of his mind will be developed - I have always found it so with him.

I have one great consolation in this heavy trial and great responsibility to, in the belief that the steps I have taken in sending him under thy care (and indeed in all previous steps taken by me) have been undertaken solely for his benefit whether they may be crowned with success or not

For Yopside the friend who wrote thee is one deeply interested in his welfare any communication I receive from thee is shewn him and the same would be the case with him to thee so thou canst write as thou art inclined

If thou canst persuade my dear Cousin to write I should be glad to receive a few lines from him as we might renew our correspondence again and which has been stopped by my sheing their his letters when at York to those unacquainted with this distressing case; but, we judging from the painful experience of past years quite despair of being able in any way to influence or guide her in future. It has been thought requisite that an interview should take place between thee, and some members of the family - perhaps an engagement may summon thee to London if such is likely to be the case I should feel particularly obliged by thy informing me escaped my memory, but such I assure thee was not the case, & I very much fear it is too indelibly engraven thereon ever to be forgotten.

I think of the future with such dread that I feel quite at a loss to act or speak on the subject, and that has been the true cause of the delay.

I hope it is not thought likely that I shall again find her a permanent home, no consideration shall ever induce me to undertake such responsibility decided practical improvement must be afforded before I'd even consent to receive her as a visitor & the several members of the family I have consulted have likewise come to the same determination.

I must admit I have a strong feeling in favour of the treatment combined with hydropathy & should be glad to see Mr Terry submitted to a regular continued course of operation. but this rests with Brother C.H.

Dr Lewis is a man of recommendation & long notice by Lords of Manchester & Liverpool at both of which places he has Lectured very successfully & I know that I have personally two friends of his whom I quite believe that I had the privilege of an occasional interview with a patient or two, that favoured his views good, would result from it.

I have no doubt he will thoroughly appreciate the opportunity of attending some of his Lectures & viewing his operations upon subjects selected from a mixed audience. there would I also be pleased with him.

Dear Brother

Enclosed I forward a few lines for my dr F. which I will thank thee to give to her. My absence from her was a discouraging one, more so than I expected to bear as I was inclined to hope there was some improvement & that this might be permanent, but it appears I was hoping without much warrant for so doing, & her case seems to be one with regard to which it is not safe to indulge any lively anticipations, for if these do at times venture upon the mind, how soon are they blighted; it appears as if I must give up hope, for hoping against hope is hard work for so long a time.

The excitement that mention's Fear has long troubled her, it shows the great need there is for a vigilant care being exercised over her, but in her present situation I cannot doubt but that she is safe in that respect.
I am obliged for thy prompt attention to my wish, & tho' as thou says it may be no pleasing task to have to say over again such dull statements, yet I am glad to hear, dull as the reports may be, since to know exactly

Will thou reply to this note by return of post— I have thought it just possible that friends of the poor lady referred to might be inclined to pay a quarters board at 2.2— per week, if we have a room in the upper class, in the hope that being a recent case, it might, under proper treatment, be speedily restored—

The parties will write to thee if they wish to act on this suggestion — It might perhaps be ~~not~~ best to them to mention the York Asylum / not the pauper one / as

as a respectable alternative at from Frenchay — 5th mo. 1850.

Dear friend

Not being able to call upon thee after my visit to the Retreat on 7th day, when the farm had been fully shown & explained to me by James Beason & W. Wood, I incline to offer one or two suggestions — On the whole the state of the land & its management appears very satisfactory — the produce is certainly very great, especially that of milk; 130 gallons per week (showing 6787 for the year ending 3 mo. 1849) is a very high average for 6 Cows, even tho the Stock be often renewed — The mode of measuring it does not appear to me quite satisfactory, & as a model easy & simple daily test of the milk mans accuracy occurred to me, which I mentioned to the above named officers, I also suggest to thee that, as accuracy in all our statements is very desirable, the Com^te would do well to adopt it — I was shown in the dairy or milk room, 3 oblong lead pans, into one of which the whole morn^gs milk, & into another the whole evenings milk, is always put as it comes from the Cows — the 3rd pan is always empty to be cleaned & wait the next milking — Now if each of these pans was graduated, the servant who has the care of the milk could report to the house-keeper or enter in a milk book twice a day the whole quantity brought in — As the quantity is generally 8 or 10 gallons at each milking — there would appear no occasion for the scale to commence lower say than 5 or 6 gallons —

Suppose a piece of hard wood or white metal be placed against one ~~the~~ inclined side of each milk pan & pint gallons of water poured in, & a line drawn, & so on for each additional quart that the pan would contain — marking the gallons only in figures, & ticks the intermediate lines each as one quart. The price of 8 per gallon, if full imperial measure, is quite reasonable —

The charges with which the Pharmacist is debited appear to me generally very liberal (much greater than any common farmer would incur) with one exception that of £8 only for "Swill" or what we call 'pigs-wash' — on examining the tubs containing it near the Piggeries, the quality of it, (being much of it good food rejected I conclude by many of the ~~patients~~) & the quantity so far as I could ascertain with from inquiry & from the number of pigs then feeding on it (I think 11 or 12) lead me to suppose its value to the farm is greatly underrated in the acct — It is impossible no one at a distance would give its full value & agree to remove it as often as you required, but that appears to me no reason why the full value to the farm ascertained by the number of pigs it will keep well when no other food is given, should not be credited to the House.

Except the two items of milk on the one side, & the swill on the other, I see nothing to object to, and I think the result (allowing for some difference on these two items) is highly satisfactory, & goes far to prove that high farming is the most remunerative — It is true you have peculiar advantages in the large supply of manure not only arising from the high feeding of so many animals, but also from the drains of the establishment containing 140 or more persons.

I think I understood from Mr that the recent Communication from our valued friend Samuel Tuke & also the observations of the Medical men, were to be lithographed — if the circulation be not limited to the Managers of the Institution I should feel much interest in obtaining Copies, & if allowable I will make free to not & thee to supply me with the same for past

I have transmitted to the York City and County Bank, payable to thee the sum of £10. 16. 2, on account of my late dear mother, Deborah Reynolds; in acknowledging the receit, will thee kindly mention whether the sum £4. 2. 2 under the head disbursements to the amount for Funeral Expenses, is right as stated, & if not please to have it specified, to insert it correctly in the settling of affairs.

In thus closing our corresp-

-ter with the Institution I feel inclined to add we have gratefully appreciated the benefits of it under the deep trial permitted to come upon us. The placing a beloved mother there afforded to me a great relief. I feel entirely satisfied & the kind care evinced to her by those connected with the Institution, and her being there I hope has been a means of lessening the suffering, and promoting the quiet of her last days, and that it has been indeed a "Retreat" when all earthly objects failed to afford comfort even her once dear children, a very teaching lesson has thus been. My very kind remembrance is to Anne Whitten, and John Stitching, not excepting Thyself.

Esteemed Friend

John Hutching.

My letter addressed to Cousin D.R has been perused by him and elicited the following enclosed letter / which I thought best to forward thee; if thou hast seen the one I sent him thou will find, so at least I thought nothing in it to call for such a reply — there is not a subject contained in his letter but has been the theme of his conversation to me for a long time and even respecting the retreat and thyself he expressed himself in the same way when I was with him at York — I am now quite of the opinion & with which thou concurs by thy last note. that his delusions are not to be eradicated easily I am fearful they never will - I now subthose him to be in the same state as when he left home the novelty of the retreat and change of situation no doubt tended in measure to divert in her attention from the delusions under which he now and for a so long a period had laboured under —

Should he continue in this state I shall have to decide as to the best steps to be taken to get rid of the responsibility and any information as to the best way to be pursued under such circumstances would prove thankfully acceptable —

My Cousin wishes me to come down again to York before harvest to see him if I thought it would be of any real service or benefit to him I would make the attempt I fancy whether it would be of any use — The Testament mentioned in my Cousin letter has not been opened he having the Key with him which he promised me I should have when I was with him at York as his Bank Book is in there with other things which I told him ought to be attended to and which he fully concurred whether he will be induced to forward it I know not perhaps if mentioned to him he may suspect- thou hast my letters and as this way of thy seeing them will be the only safe way; I should be sorry he should know thou hast seen them - Perhaps when I write him again I had better make the application to him for it-

Thou'll be kind enough to return me the letters as they may be of great consequence

With love to my afflicted Cor to thyself & Family

I remain thy sincere Friend

Wm Hicks

Since the above was written I may inform thee that the amount of the Quarters pay has been remitted and will shortly be remitted I have also received a letter which D R sent to John Harrison & which I enclose for thy perusal & con -

I am quite convinced that the correspondence which has been stopped is much for the best - Tom Harrison talks of coming down to York it would become us better to see him

Dear friend

If I am not mistaken in understanding the note received this morning I think thou hast not included that only one of the two first checks requires poor Henry's signature — The Goshen Head-Castle & Berwick paper was given when he was at the Brook & and was sent in order to have it cashed at the Union Bank & Goshen with the two last sent checks — The Lancaster & Goshen should be returned to me when the signature has been obtained – I was quite apprehensive there might be considerable difficulty in getting Henry to write his own name – Has he really written his ideal name upon the half sheets or upon another piece of paper? I hope that there may be an opportunity in a little time of getting him to sign them properly –

If Mine and his attendants attempts fail, perhaps Caleb Williams might succeed better

I am very sorry to trouble them so very much as I seem to be doing.
But as the Rail Shut of York Newcastle & Berwick Shares could only be called by being sent through a L'pool Bank to London, and we prefer to have it done at once when we can. I shall be much obliged if to Holbrook will take it with the others to your Union Bank in York and then remit me £16 in notes and the 7/6 in postage stamps - The Lancaster and York Nine paper should be returned, as it cant be cashed with the others -

Thou hast sounded better than I was hoping to think either C. Williams or Dr Thomas would have done - in getting so clear a signature - It must be considered soon (I fear) necessary to take some other way of having these matters transacted.

If thou writes again or the west is up just say if your Dy is again pretty comfortable in his feelings - not bed'd with fever or any particular one, when he signed those papers A year ago he told Dr Thomas "that he did not need to attend to these matters - that S. Ferguson

I do indeed feel greatly obliged. I came here yesterday on a visit to

It is now 40 or 5 Years since Mr Candler was very pressing, to get my consent to release my Brothers Money for his benefit, which I complied with., as Mr Candler intimated that the expense would be about 20 £ but I am fearful that it will be greatly augmented by the long delay in the Attorneys Hands, whom you have employed, and your silence on the subject shows no concern about it; but to me it seems very extraordinary that it should be so, and a few lines

In the 3d Month last I had a Note of enquiry addressed to me by D H Tuke respecting the Principal and Interest due to the Retreat on a promissory Note given several years since by the late Henry Stone of Banbury and two of his Sons, Edward and Henry. I acknowledged the receipt of D H Tukes letter and expressed my intention of seeing H Stone on the subject. I have been so very much away from home since the time I wrote to D H T as not to be able until lately to see much with particulars with H Stone respecting the Debt, although I last on time in speaking to him thereon. Henry Stone is aware of his liability as one of the parties who gave the Note, and he expresses much concern that such a Debt should be owing to the Retreat, and I believe he would willingly discharge the Obligation he has contracted if it were in his power to do so. Any Interest that has been paid on account of the Note has been contributed entirely by Henry Stone except some little portion which was furnished by the Father in the year one two or three after the Note was given — H Stone the Father failed many Years since, and his Son Edward in later Years; and the charge of supporting the Father, Mother, and at least one Sister has long fallen almost entirely on the present Henry Stone of Banbury; besides a large amount of assistance which he has seemed under the necessity of rendering in one way and another to other members of the family.

H. S has been in Trade several Years in Banbury as a Bookseller, and altho' I consider he has met with encouragement in getting together a tolerably good Business, expenses are altogether too heavy for him, and he states to me that it is not in his power to keep the Interest of the Loss due to the Retreat paid up; neither can he pay off the principal — I may here add that H. S has lately removed to smaller Premises in Banbury with a view to making a considerable reduction in his Rent rates and other expenses; and more than a Year since he parted with his Shopman, and has since conducted his Trade with the assistance of a boy only — Friends in this part feel an interest in H. S, and they are concerned at the weight which rests upon him, and consider his kind care for a long period to his Father Mother and other very near connexions to be most exemplary — The Father has been deceased about seven months —

When I have made remittances to Thos Ellis and D. H. Tate towards Wycherley Jones's maintenance I have at different times stated that the charge for his Board with disbursements from time to time so considerably exceeds his Income that a Debt is continually increasing against him; and as I understand that there is now Secretary to the Institution,

I think it best to repeat for thy information some particulars before stated by me to thy predecessors in office. Weybridge Town's Income arises from a Half share in the Basingstoke Canal, and from 3¼ per cent Stock; and it amounts only to £20-9-0 per year — from the charge for his boarde is £20-16-0 per year, and disbursements more or less every Quarter; for instance to 3rd Dec 31 £1-1-9, to 6th Mar 30 £2-7-7, and in some earlier quarters much higher — it therefore is needful to have the expenditure for Clothing &c kept as low as possible. His Canal Dividends I get regularly every half year; but as the Stock stands in the name of the Accountant General of Chancery I receive the Dividends thereon but frequently to avoid the trouble of frequent applications to the Accountant Gen^l — I earnestly desire the Dividends on this part of Weybridge property once in eighteen months

I am respectfully Thy friend

Henry Beesley.

I think the whole income of W Stone should be taken by the Retreat for his board & clothing ~~in addition~~ as a contract patient or that W.S. should be placed at 4/ a week under recommendation & his clothing and charged to him & the overplus if any go towards interest on the debt. Disbursement would probably amount to nearly £10 ~~a annum~~ however, which with ~~£10.~~ the charge at 4/ £10.8 would take nearly if not quite all his income.

It is therefore desirable to suggest whether the promissory note for £100 could not be paid off by a Subscription among some kind friends of ability. Perhaps if that were done quickly the Retreat might give up some part or the whole of the annual interest. ~~I should suppose that~~ ~~the whole sum~~ ~~would likely be obtained~~ If such friends as Margaret Pope Elizabeth Gurney & not to mention Sr Gurney & Barclay is applied to on all hands by a suitable person in London I think the matter might be done

Could not the reversion of W. Stones little property be secured to the Retreat so far as the liquidation of his debt is concerned indeed without any such security I presume it would be chargeable with his debts. The proof however might not be easy as it was incurred prior to the bonds of Lunacy being taken out.

Esteemed Friend

I am obliged by thine of the 26th and my Dau.r has received a Letter from Thomas, stating his safe arrival at Lilling;— where I hope he will be satisfied, for some time at least.— —— I dont know that thy Letter needed a Reply, excepting, that I may mention the probability of my having said to Thomas Allis, that I almost regretted his Son having left the Retreat, as he had never appeared to content since;— I have said so to one or more of our Friends here; especially since his leaving Lilling in the way he did; but then,— if I understood aright Your Letter from the Retreat, — it was — that as the Law upon the Case now stands, no Institution for Persons affected with aberration of Mind can retain the Government of them beyond a certain Period of their comparative Recovery: —— consequently the Retreat was obliged to cease caring for my Son. —— —— I presume I am correct in this, otherways,— if he should again (whilst I live) be placed under Your very kind Care, I should decidedly prefer his remaining under it. —— At the same time, I & our Friends here, have been satisfied with E & A. C's attention. —— I am with much regard

Dear friend,

I was in measure comforted by hearing through thy letter to my brother, that my beloved husband accomplished his long journey pretty satisfactorily on the whole; I do not wonder at his having been very restless during a part of it, as there was a portion of the day at home, & late, when he was greatly excited, and I am thankful on his own account that he did not appear sensible to his trying position, and the otherwise painful separation from those most dear to him, still my mind is greatly oppressed under the apprehension that from this very circumstance his recovery is very doubtful – I shall feel grateful if thou will do me the favor as often as thy arduous duties will permit, to give me as minute particulars as thou canst relating to my beloved husband's state – I will also thank thee to let me know the amount of the expenses of the journey as well as the quarters payment, which I am aware ought to be paid in advance – I am grieved to hear my beloved sister is more than usually excited –

If thou thinks it right and my beloved husband is capable of receiving it please give to him my tenderest love – Hoping to hear from thee very soon, I remain

I am obliged by thy note of the 5th Inst: and should have remitted the amount of travelling expenses, but thought it might be as well to defer it until I hear from thee what the other charges may be, when I thought I might send a Banker's Bill for the whole. - With regard to my beloved husbands position at the Retreat, I should wish him to be as comfortably situated as on a former occasion, and it may be that his present state will require even more attention than before, still

I think it right to say that I trust the Committee will kindly consider our circumstances, and make the change as easy as they possibly can, when I mention, that our business not only suffers from the want of my beloved husband's services & influence, but we are obliged to pay heavily for other assistance, and the increased competetion in trade here during the last 3 years causes much anxiety and renders it needful to be as economical in expenditure as possible; still I would rather make any possible personal sacrifice, than my dear husband's comforts should be curtailed. —

I shall feel obliged when Thou writes again to mention how my dear husband is, and I will also thank Thee to tell Dr Ritchie with my kind regards that I am grateful for his prompt & kind reply to my letter. Hoping to hear from Thee again soon I remain

I arrived once more at this place last Evening - And if my father-in-Law continues to improve in health as he has done during the last fortnight; it is probable I may be home pretty much for a while to come. My last two visits were of a very pleasing character to me, although very bad-melancholy besides —

The increased quiet & comfort thou hast to bestow both for the nights and days. Hope is considered very favourable — If thou couldst inform me besides that my poor Henry was also able to converse a little rationally, and would read sometimes. Then I think you would consider there was some improvement —

I shall be obliged if thou will mention whether he is inclined to grow stout — To take much exercise? And whether his Appetite is any thing unnatural?

I have some idea of again visiting Yorkshire — but whether or not I have an intire confidence with my dear husband. I intend to be entirely guided by him & Dr. Williams's judgment. Should Henry be requiring any articles of clothing for the coming winter I wish thou would kindly inform me — I thought that perhaps another pair of shoes might be required. and perhaps another Hat.

May God bless my dear

She is with him, I implore you not to think of the expense, however it may be, for that purpose, or any other, which you think may be advisable, I shall most cheerfully pay and omit you for, whenever you call upon me, it may be you think of going to some other place, I do, by all means arrange for it, I leave it altogether to you,

Sailing assured you will do whatever lies in your power for my dear patron, and I pray the Lord bless your efforts, all else I seek, I will cheerfully do my part, & trust it not to be thought of.

As my old friend of his died last week, Mr Watson, I have prepared him for it by some of my communications, he was eighty seven or eight, & has been failing fast for some time, I shall tell him in my letter this day to him,

Respected Friend

I am happy to inform thee that I am very comforta= ble in my snug new home and that I continue to improve in health and spirits. I really feel my strength nearly re= stored. How much is my debt of gratitude increased within the last month! May I dwell under an humbling sense thereof deeply feeling my unworthiness and the gracious condescension of a merciful God.

I hope my kind friend C K is nearly recovered and that the little change goes on well. Please to give my dear love to thy wife and if agreable to her and thyself I shall be very glad to receive your little girl as my visitor and I will do all I can to promote her comfort. If you decide for her to come I shall be obliged by a line to apprize me of it. I went to Meeting three yesterday which I much enjoyed. I am invited by Jane Rowntree to take tea with her this afternoon. which I intend doing. I have not written to my dear Uncle neither shall I until I have a little conversation with thee. I must express my feeling of obligation to thee in thy election on my behalf a grateful sense of which I hope ever to retain. I hope our Party arrived at home quite safe and well and that they obtained a sight of Castle Howard. My love to Maria Whitten and all enquiring friends. Rachel Rowntree has been at Bey from home

Sir

Yours of the 12th inst. I rec'd in due course and return you my best thanks for your courtesy – I cannot account for the letter being so long delayed as they were both posted the same afternoon. Some time since I understood from a medical man that all letters directed to the patients were opened by the Superintendent that he also examined all letters sent out by them now I think I must have been misinformed for had that been the case in this instance the mistake would have been discovered, but I am happy to hear it has passed off so well, I was afraid it would have made an unfavourable impression in her mind against me.

I shall write to my sister in a day or two but I shall not notice I have heard from you but merely allude to the first letter I sent, & you need not mention you heard from me now. ———

I remain

I feel much delicacy in thus encroaching on thy valuable time, but the time has passed so nearly since thou last favoured me, I shall esteem it a great favour if thou will inform me of my beloved husband's present condition, if his health remains in the improved ~~state~~ state thou last gave, whether he is still able to enjoy out doors exercise and walk without aid, I fear the cold winds which have lately prevailed with us, will have an unfavourable effect on one afflicted as my dearest husband is, and prevent his being in the air which appears (as far as I can judge) the only thing he is capable of deriving any pleasure from.

I trust thou will excuse my having taken the liberty of writting rather before the usual time, and believe me with much respect to remain,

Dear friend

With this I send thee a letter received this morning from Lpool — My dear Dis father has been very unwell for two weeks from increased uneasiness about the heart and great difficulty in breathing — When I left them last week he was thought to be a little improved, and we fain hoped that the attack would subside —

My dear Henry being quite incapable of Comprehending the state of anxiety his near Connexions are at present under, renders this trial yet more trying to some of us - I thought it best to inform thee how things are with us - but I do not desire that poor Henry should be acquainted at all with them, unless a real good to himself might be anticipated in informing him -

If thou does not write me until after the receipt of this, please address to Nicholas Waterdale Pelham Lane Stool, for me - as I expect to leave my dear parents here for a short time tomorrow afternoon - And will inform thee if I return here before another of thy letters is due -

Will thou please remember me kindly to our dear friend C. Williams and acquaint him with Father's state - I have often thought I should be glad of a few lines from him, respecting

Dear Friend

John Hitching

It is 7 weeks to day since the date of thy last letter to me respecting my dearly beloved Husband but I do have thought probably thou might have been from Home and remembering this is the quarterly meeting week I thought it would be a busy time and may have hindered thee writing — to morrow I learn there is a cheap train leaves Darlington for York it is to leave at a quarter to 10 o,clock now hoping I may not be much trouble to you for a few hours I intend embracing the opportunity as my health is so uncertain it does not seem likely as well as my dear J. T. was last year to suit my staying long at present and although I well know from painful experience that my beloved Husband will hardly notice me yet it will be a satisfaction to see him once more before the winter sets in, I shall leave for home I fully intend by the 1/4 to 5 o.clk p.m. same day the last time I went in this way my dear H walked about the front with me a while I hardly know on considering whether thou will get this before I get to the heteredat but as my Husband is generally only to be a few minutes on a very short while before, perhaps it will not be very material Maria Whitby perhaps will be kind enough to let me speak with her as I know you, with kind love to her thy Wife & self believe me very affectionately thy obliged friend

My dear Brother,

As the time is approaching at which I generally pay my annual visit into the North & as my little girl is to go into Lancashire on a visit I had thought, on her account of going rather earlier than usual & of leaving home in abt 3 weeks time, which would probably bring me to York in abt a month, but having recd a letter this morning from J. Wright, in which he informs me that he has heard by a friend (for Rowntree) that my dr F. is in so very excitable a state, that he thinks it not likely to be very advisable for me to see her at present. I thought I would drop thee a line on the subject to ascertain thy opinion, ~~which~~ if thou canst judge from her present condition whether or not it might be suitable for me to see her in abt the time above named – and I am induced to write now, (in case of its not being thought desirable for me to come), that I might avail myself of another opportunity of seeing my S.A. in Lancashire – in this case, it would most probably be several months before I went myself. – Pray by silence I fear indicates there being no good news to send, but hope thou will write me a few lines, if convenient, by return of Post, & let me know how things are. A letter from Alf. this morning informs me that our dr Parents are thinking of paying you a visit next week, which I trust they will enjoy – the weather being so favorable for country excursions – I shall hope they will be at Eton 2 o'clk.

Have I not to congratulate thee (or rather Sister Elizabeth) on an increase of your possessions, in the way of a Son or a daughter?

With love to self, Sister & little ones

I remain thy affect Bror

Dear friend

R. A. Brown

As thou art Agent for York Retreat, I write to request thou will procure the necessary papers from the Retreat, that they may be in readiness if wanted to be filled up for Ann Kentish it is the opinion of several friends who have seen her, that it is, or soon will be, right to place her there, and we have been looked to by some, to do the needful preparations towards effecting it. I have been spending 3 or 4 days with her, and truly she is in a most distressed and distressing state of mind, but it feels with me and my husband a matter of the greatest difficulty and responsibility, also delicacy to place the poor distressed friend there. I have consulted our medical attendant, and we were about taking her to London for other medical advice, and as a second to testify to her unsoundness of mind, but her present medical man thought it would be better to be provided with the certificates, and that they should be obtained without delay, there appears every symptom of the disorder encreasing, and has done this last two weeks, but we think and wish thyself and some other Luton friends would visit her and give an opinion of her or perhaps, as she has no relations to see to her, to bring it before the next monthly meeting, that whatever undertaken they trying part of separating her from her family, may be strengthened by the visits of other friends. I think Anna can have no idea of her state, and the sensibility to every circumstance and thing about her, which renders it more difficult to do any thing with her. Her two daughters are much to be felt for, they are too unwell to do any thing and grieve much to see their mother in such a state.

My son Henry C Brown has seen her, and wrote to us on the subject. In love to self and Emma I remain My friend

Esteemed Friend!

I received thy letter only yesterday, being, by the earnest desire of my beloved Children now on a visit to my married daughter in Cornwall believing a little change essential in my present tried position - With regard to the Reports thou speaks of - I believe my dear husband used to receive them. I do not know that he was an appointed agent, but having lived in York some years since, friends probably knowing him, sent them to him: as far as my memory serves, we had about a half a dozen, which be distributed (the number of members here now being very small) but perhaps a few more might not be amiss if they can be spared. I should think Jonathan Rees of Neath (an Elder of our Br.Br.) would be a very suitable person to send them to, if he be willing to circulate them. I feel grateful to them for thy kindness to my dearest husband, of whom it was some comfort to me to hear. although it would be some encouragement could thou have given an improved report. when either thyself or Dr Kitching writes again, have the kindness to say whether he has received any degree of consciousness as to his position, or any improvement in memory.

with kindest regards,

In reply to thy Letter of the 28th Ulto. it has been usual to send to the care of the agents a Copy of the Report of the Retreat Directed to each of the few Friends who were subscribing to that Institution, with a number of Copies in addition; but we have always had more than were required. — Some of the individuals to whom I have alluded are deceased; I therefore enclose a list of Friends, to whom they would be acceptable — ~~XXXXXXXXXXXX~~ if it was thought desirable to send so many as 30 Copies. — E.P. Gurney is in America.

If they are sent here in time for our 2d. Mee[t]. the 26th. Inst they could be distributed. — I suppose you are aware that Camb. & Hunts, 2. Respected Friend 1880

Thou will perceive by the date above that I am not yet returned home (to Berkhamsted) but I have this morning received thy communication and as an early reply is wished, I thought I would not delay it till my return — with respect to the number of copies of the Reports for Appendix Mo's Meeting I do not exactly remember the precise amount, but the Mo's Meeting being a very small one I should think about 1802. would be sufficient

The Balance due on the Ye of the late Isaac White I will take the earliest Opportunity of remitting and perhaps the better mode may be of paying it to James Bowden as usual—I think the Reports have usually reached us through our Quarterly Meeting, which will be held at Leighton Burzard on the 26th Inst.
if there should be tending some from other Monthly Meetings, ours might be inclosed with them addressed to J. D. Baskett Leighton which might save the some trouble—

Tuckett & Philips

On the 26th ult. I found the parcel of Retreat Reports at Tuckett & Rakes' Warehouse Baldwin St Bristol, altho the note is dated the 5th/9mo: had they been addressed to care of Samuel Bowly, Gloucester prior to our 2d meeting there on the 17th ult. they would have been circulated at once without delay — Another year, if ready for circulation early in the 9th mo, it will be well to send all to Gloucester, in 4 parcels, for the several mo. meetings — Gates Barton has now removed his residence to Gloucester.

I am pleased to observe the farm acct against shows a fair balance on the right side — I still think the quantity of milk we yield, & should be glad to know that the very simple test of the measure, by guaging the lead pans in which it is placed, had been adopted, so that the house acct might check the farm acct.

I am respectfully Thy sincere friend

I have personally, or by letter consulted members of the family respecting S.R's future residence on leaving the Retreat & after maturely reconsidering the subject in all its bearings we do not feel disposed in any way to depart from the determination expressed in my letter of the 7th to thee. We feel obliged by thy suggesting the propriety of taking lodgings in the neighbourhood of York - the thought had occurred to us before thy letter arrived - we quite think that a most favourable chance would thereby be afforded her to again establish herself in a respectable position in society, & regain the confidence & esteem of her friends & family.

I feel that I shall trespass much on thy kindness by asking thee to conduct the needful enquiry in this matter, but, if thee would undertake the troublesome & difficult task we should indeed be gratefully obliged.

Respected Friend,

A Woman Friend something above 30 years of age, of a respectable family, and fair education, and of a decidedly religious mind, is desirous of a situation where she can be usefully employed. — She has been for sometime past under a little religious excitement, but not by any means such as would be generally understood to constitute insanity. — She is residing in her father's family, who having other daughters, she has but little to do.

With her father's approbation, a few friends who feel much affectionate interest on her behalf have conferred together, and they are unitedly of opinion that it is desirable she should have regular employment, and that if such can be obtained in the Retreat, it is probable that it may meet her views, and be beneficial to her.

The friends alluded to wished my friend Richard Fry and myself to apply to thee to know if you kindly could take her with a view to employing her in any way for which you might consider her best suited, and no remuneration would be expected until you found her services to be of value.

If room can be found for her as an Officer, perhaps for a time a supernumary, in the Retreat, we think you will be conferring a kindness, which may prove highly beneficial to the object of our interest

A reply at thy early convenience will oblige

The error occurred in this way. I paid to J Bowden (Thelma in 9mo 1849) £8.0.10 which in posting his books he made £8.10.- & forwarded the latter sum. Respected Friend John Pitching

I trust thou will excuse my troubling thee so soon again, but the declining state of my beloved Husband, makes our fast approaching sepera tion exceedingly distressing to me, Although I cannot expect an improved account it will be some alleviation to hear of the dear sufferer Is he wholly confined to his bed? Can he take nourishment or appear to suffer much bodily pain? the latter I do most earnestly hope is not the case ~~I beg leave~~ Asking thy kind indulgence for thus intruding on thy valuable time, With much respect

Thy sincerely obliged Friend

My Sister / Lady Blackett / being very unwell I write in her name to say that Mrs Blackett who is now under your care having expressed a wish to her Mother to be removed from the Retreat she has made arrangements to have him placed near London in the course of this month. — this change of abode will be more convenient to Lady Blackett being sufficiently near her residence to enable her to see her Son more frequently than she could do at York

Lady Blackett begs me to thank you for the care and kindness that has been shewn him during his residence in your establishment of which Mr Blackett seems perfectly sensible; I am requested to add that it is Lady Blacketts wish her Son should not be made acquainted with the change that is about to be made in his place of residence as the exact Day cannot yet be fixed; We are anxious to know how Mr Blackett does at this time and I will thank you to send me line to inform me Directed to

Dear Friend.

I have written to my poor Cousin and enclosed in this a letter in which I hope will set his mind a little at rest —

I should have been glad to have received a better account —

The directions to the newspaper as sent by them I have returned him one which is George Woodgates writing I am not quite certain who wrote the other but will send him

word in my next letter after I have seen the party who I believe wrote it - but that any one could suppose for a moment - they are both one hand writing is surprising

I write shortly for and then a letter of thankfulness on my part.

It seems to me that the time of my going to see him is now very indefinite.
The Railway shuttle Scheme has passed and got cashed.
The shoes sent by Cousin Wm Hartley are some which have been worn a little - but are not easy ones - If they are not now easy will you please procure a pair - Henry has always been measured for them and now will know what number will be most likely to make them - Have got them done at home. did I know a short time prior to his wedding

My Dear Friend

My pen has been long silent since my return from Liverpool to this place - It is very probable that my Cousin Wm Hartley of Shelton will have called upon them, and informed them that my own dear father died very suddenly on the 15th He was seized with apoplexy during our scripture reading after breakfast and ceased to breath at a few minutes before eleven at night - He had seemed greatly improved in health latterly - was very well and hearty in general health and able to walk better than this time last year - We think he was mercifully spared suffering and even any pang of separation from his family - For this very sudden seizure both my dear parents and his dear Connexions have been measurably prepared for near two years - Yet the blow which has so long threatened to deprive us of so justly beloved and honored a parent is very keenly felt by us all - The interment of the dear remains took place last Tuesday morning - During this time of excitement and commotion I have often wished for a few quiet moments to send them the mournful information - and I hope my precious Henry will hear of his father in Cary death first from Mrs Dr C. Williams - - My letter saying how poor Henry had been afflicted by my Brothers visit was most welcome - The knowledge that he can pass his hours more comfortably and calmly I consider gives cause for humble them, and should prefer his having them from his own accustomed traders.

I should like then to give my dear love to my husband and say to him that we are all pretty well - I shall be glad to hear how soon Henry receives the intelligence this bears to him and am my dear Mrs.

Yr. affte
Mansfield

P.S. I think it may be interesting to our friend Caleb Williams to see the intelligence this bears as he was a little acquainted with my dear father - Myself will be pleased to hear that my sister Martha Woldsworth had a third son born this morning - - And both Mother and Child doing well.

Dear Friend

Mr Hitching.

Accidently by request I have written the enclosed letter to Mr Fowler indeed I do not probably have written before had I seen his letter to me, but it came while I was from home & was sent to his wife who kept it so that I did not see it till to day. We are all glad to hear he is improving, but of course do not build too much upon it. I thought it was best not to enter into any particulars as to his affairs his wife's position &c that can be done gradually & he entirely disinherit.

I see by his account he still continues the use of wine, I deeply regret that his physical condition is be such as to call for the use of an article so dangerous as I fear to his mental welfare. a knowledge of the fact makes me tremble for the future, but perhaps they will think I exaggerate the Danger & I sincerely hope I do but entertaining such fears I am sure they will excuse my stress simply stating them.

I am with love

I have left my letter to J.P.

Dear Friend
Jos Rowntree

I make free to address thee on a subject which tho' thou art not immediately concerned, I imagine thy kind intercession may be useful, especially if thou be one of the Committee of the Retreat — I addressed to the Asst. which I had given to Wm Woods respecting a little economy in furnishing clothing for poor boys, very needful on my part on whom the cost falls — but I suppose it is not his department nor do I know who it is or would not trouble thee — I have just secured the quarters I am in which among the disbursments are charged — 26/ for a new pair of Boots 16/ for repairing old ones 15/ for Cigars — my observations upon which are that they just correspond with his habits bits of unbounded extravagance and which in his present situation I think ought to be restrained — a pair of good Shoes 10/ or 12/ & mending 5/ — is what I should deem all the needful & 15/ per quarter for years I must serious ly protest against — the whole being quite beyond my ability prudently to support & then be indulged with a balance to the amo of 5/ per quarter when he is in want of clothing an application to me will be attended to his Brother here, has got his mea sure & will probably furnish them on behalf of the Lord — these observations make not I hope be considered impertinent — they arise not from covetousness but from the necessity of close economy on my part — not needful to make any public but they felt, I doubt not thou will kindly use thy influence as far as prudence may dictate —

I repeat heard the result of your last visit to our way but sincerely hope your labours have been effectual if not may I not exclaim woe be unto us!

I remain with sincere regard thy friend

Dear Friend

I believe it is later by a day or two than the time I proposed in my last to S. K — in which I stated to him, that I should be writing to him for a similar sum to the last, which I think will do at present, as that will answer my present wants, especially as the last is so convenient to increase the amt - should indeed purchases require it — which trouble I hope, with thy ready pen, will not be much felt as such, but for which I feel obliged — I left it that to be looked on as a complaint, I scarcely can allude to the circumstance of not having rec'd any York papers since the 26th of last mo. nor the N.C. papers, excepting to day, apparently direct from N.C. — I now frankly mention it, from the possibility of their being mis carried — the light I am now in is very limited for reading & having indulged with Lizzie & more than what I intended I cannot tell them, it has been of no great inconvenience or loss — and the intervening papers had better remain if not lost and also after ones in case it be at all troublesome & or disappointing to change or usual readers of them

I thought must like to make a few remarks, but the days being so short & wanting to use the remaining light out of doors, I must conclude hoping you are in usual good health & with love to my friends as it named lease a portion of the Grave but his state makes it awkward, because if not able to sign, he will not be able to do it for a new deed to convey Sr Dan. Conveyancer Bristol says in respect to it . . .

"In the present case it is " needful to make the Lease " unobjectionable for Mr Sibberey " to join; or that an order should " be obtained from Chancery, which " last I cannot recommend on " the present occasion – Probably
" W S is not so bad but that the " Officers of the Retreat would " permit him to execute the after some further remarks he says – "If it were to pass

Copy of a Letter addressed to Saml Tuke 21-11th 1850 by Henry Beesley respecting some members of H Stone's family.

Esteemed Friend Saml Tuke. Ridderminster 21-11th 1850

The subject to which thy letter dated 21st 7th mo relates has had my careful attention at times since I received it, and I have on several occasions named it to our Friend Jos A Gillett — I may here remark that long before the proposition for raising by subscription a portion of the debt owing by the late Henry Stone and his family to the Retreat was suggested in thy letter I had consulted our Friend Jos A on the suitability of making such an attempt amongst some Friends confidentially; but no way has appeared to open for realizing this plan. In this case, as in most others, those few who can be termed private Friends to the family, have in one way or other, and at one time or other, been applied to as far as appears right. I can speak to this point with confidence as respects my late Brother Samuel Beesley, our Friend J A Gillett, and myself. The two latter have lately been engaged as Trustees of some Premises left to their care by the late Mary Barnett for Henry Elizabeth Stone; on these Premises there was a Mortgage for £300, nearly the worth of the Property at the present time, and the Mortgagee being dissatisfied with the security called in the money — as a part of the Premises furnished a residence for E Stone and a daughter she was exceedingly unwilling to have them sold; indeed we could see no Person to purchase — at this we made an attempt to sell by Auction in the 12

Month of last Year — under these circumstances I have paid off the Mortgage, and shall hold the Premises for the present: the portions now left will raise just about a 4 per cent return for the sum I have advanced — in addition to this, we have after much difficulty succeeded in raising about £80, to discharge some debts with which the Trustees were encumbered, as well as to pay the charges attending an Answer to the Will, and the Deed on passing the Property which is copyhold.

I am not aware of any Friends at a distance from this Post to whom application can be suitably made for assistance. Those Liberal Friends named in my letter are I have no doubt very freely applied to from many Quarters: they have been recently called on by some Friends in this Post on account of a special subscription for our Lodge School — In years past the Tylers of London were rather particular Friends to H Stone's family, and many years since, (when the late Henry Stone failed) the late Henry Tyler kindly paid the price at which H Stone's Household furniture was valued, in order to enable Eliz Stone to retain it to help something of a Boarding House: but this attempt to help the family entirely failed, and I fear no doubt was attended with much loss to H Tyler and his family. The claim on this account has not long been settled, for about the year in which Desmond from Banbury (1846) Charles Tyler visited the latter place, and with J Aylett called on one or the subject. The result was that Chas Tyler's Mother took some articles of Plate which E Stone was advised to part with, and cancelled the debt, for the Goods had mostly been sold some years before, and the proceeds paid to Mr Taylors family as I was informed — I mention these particulars in order to show that the family have met with friends who have endeavoured to assist them, and that some Creditors have not left about — E Stone and a daughter are now mostly residing in a part of the premises in this Village which I have before alluded to, for sale. Hay removed to a smaller House on Banbury Hill, but has not been considered sufficient for all the family to continue under his roof; but there, as well as at Banbury, they are nearly dependent on him.

I think it will now be well to give some attention to the circumstances under which the Promissory Note for £100 was given, and I refer to my Notes of that period.

When Wroxhall was declared a Lunatic the Bank held for him by the Trustees of his Grandfather's Will was transferred to the Court of Chancery — The Bank Shares in the Canal was continued in the Trustees Names because the Canal Company do not transfer part of a share — In the Spring of 1839 the Trustees of the Grandfather had in hand for Wroxhall £199:9:4 and there were two Bank Dividends due, but not received £9:6:8 together £208:16:0. My orders from Chancery were to pay Lunatic before named accord "Costs of Commission of Lunacy and proceedings as taxed and ordered to be paid £155-4-6" leaving a balance of £53-11-6 for payment of Debts proved against the estate

The Debts so proved were

"Returned to 31-12-1838	135-18-6
Edwd Stone, Dock Head, London	59-11-10
	195-10-4

Deficiency £141-18-10

Application was then made to the Court of Chancery for the sale of some of the Estate for Payment of the Debts, and refused on the ground, that the Income of the then remaining Property would not be sufficient to maintain the Lunatic — Henry Stone felt pained at the circumstance of the Institution in which his Son was placed being so great a Loser, and the gaining partaking of the Speculation, Edwd Stone consented to withdraw his Debt altogether, and to have the Return paid £35-18-6 if the Managers of the latter were willing to take a Note for £100 from H Stone to Trustees; which was agreed to, and brought about, 30 of June 1839.

I have always understood that in case of Wyckeham's decease the family were looking to his Property as a means of paying off the sum for which the note of Hand was given; and Henry Stone has lately expressed to me, that as respects himself, it would be more agreeable to give a security on that, if they could do so, than to have anything of an appeal to Friends by way of Subscription. The Parties beneficially interested in the Property after Weyshenby, are I suppose the Mother and the Brothers & Sisters — I have reason to believe that the last application to the Court of Chancery to which I have referred in this letter has not yet been paid for; and I have a memorandum from the late Joseph Lamb and John Atkin Trustees under the Will of Weyshenby Stone's Grandfather that the Legacy Duty on Weyshenby's share of the Property was not deducted before the Principal was paid to the Court of Chancery; so that on his decease accounts these claims will probably be made — If the Managers of the Retreat should think it best under all circumstances to agree to take an engagement from the Mother and Brothers and Sisters of Weyshenby for the Payment of the Principal Sum of £100 by them in the events of their having Property from Weyshenby after his decease I will endeavour to obtain their consent to such engagement being prepared. I wish I could suggest better terms for your Institution, but I am unable. I may just remark that one Friend to whom I applied for assistance in case a subscription had been brought about, said to me, that the Uncle John Stone was so good a customer to be Retired that it was much more reasonable for that Institution to lose Wrysbury debt than it was for me to ask him to contribute towards its liquidation.

For your guidance as respects future expenditure on account of Wrysbury I stated in a late communication which this present is a sequel is — there has not been any very late reduction in the Canal Dividend that I am aware of: I have not by me the account of the one due in 10 days; but from information from J.A. Gillett as to the small amount of Tonnage paid thro' his Bank lately, I fear the Dividends will be lower; arising from the opening of one of the Railways in this part

I am thy sincere friend

Es Samuel Fox Wood

I have now copied the letter I addressed with the Ills to our Fr Samuel Fox and which appears not to have reached him – since I wrote it I have ascertained that the Canal Divs are for Wyrley stone with 3 Divs is of the same amount as those rec for about 2 Years past – up to 3 Divs there does not seem the any reduction in this Income – how far railway will operate on Canal Divids in 3rd Div next I cannot say

Respected Friend

Thy name being unknown by me, I intend to direct this to the "Superintendent of the Retreat" and as such I trust thou will excuse my writing on behalf of a peculiarly distressing case. — It is that of a young man or perhaps I should say one about 40 years of age, who from a succession of afflictions has become the subject of insanity — he has a wife and one child an interesting boy of 11 years of age who are now suffering from the effects of their present any lapses – What I particularly wish to know is whether not being a member of our Society he can be admitted into the Retreat if so whether he could go as a pauper, and if not what would be the lowest terms of admission for him – I should state that for the last two or three months he has been at St Lukes but his wife last night received the information of their not being able to keep him there any longer with notice to remove him next fifth day – His case is pronounced the paralysis of the brain and they do not allow such forms of disease to be continued there – His wife has no means whatever of providing for him and if there is no possibility of getting him into the Retreat the fears of no alternative but her husband being passed as a pauper to Northampton – They have been in highly respectable circumstances kept a school for ten years at Northampton – She thinks however there might be those found who would be willing to contribute a few shillings a week if it is not practicable to get him admitted as a pauper –

Respected Friend

I think from thy reply to our friend G Penney that thou didst not exactly understand the case he alluded to - It is that of a particular friend of ours, and at whose own request we make the enquiries - one who has always been brought up, and mixed amongst "Friends" using our language and attending our Meetings, but who, from his Father having married out of the Society is not really a member.

We cannot say that he is Insane in the general acceptation of the room, but he is in a very low, desponding way, arising in a great measure we believe from want of a little regulation, as to medicine and diet, as wife as being quite secluded from cheerful society & from the description my late dear friend Katherine Morgan (who was for many yrs Matron at the Appendage) has often given of your management with such as do not absolutely need entire controul, we have thought it would be just the place to restore him, could he be taken to your own table as a boarder, he is perfectly harmless, kind and gentlemanly He has met with heavy losses which have partly brought him to this state of depression & as his means are in consequence very limited, thou wouldst greatly oblige us by saying as soon as possible, whether he could be received in this way, & what would be the lowest terms – & please to be kind enough not to allende to ye Penny letter, as perhaps I may have to shew him thy reply.

Respected Friend

A relation of mine a man about 50 years of age has been for many months past in a low desponding state of mind, accompanied by some disease of the Stomach & Chest & altho' not deranged, is in that low state which is commonly termed Nervous so much so as to be incapable of attending to any Business, or indeed to any ordinary pursuits & for some time past he cannot be prevailed on to take any exercise or leave his House - He has no relation that can reside with him & is a Bachelor. Under these unpleasant circumstances it is thought by a few of his Friends that a residence of about six months in your establishment with the Regimen & Medical treatment which he would there receive, would most likely restore him to health - With this view I am desired to write them to ask whether he could be received, and the charge which would be made for his maintenance, Medical treatment &c &c. I may mention that he has resided here all his life excepting a few Years which he spent in Newfoundland

His Business has been that of a Merchant, in which of late he has not been successful & since he has been in the dispirited state I have described he has abandoned it - But he is not in destitute circumstances - I should be glad to have a reply (if it can be) within a post or two -

I am respectfully

George Penney

Dear Sir.

A gentleman Mr Renaud Goldsmith has called upon me for an opinion respecting his wife who is, I understand, under your care at Peckham. Would you be kind enough, when you have a leisure moment, to drop me a few lines to assist me in the history I present of the case. Should wish to be informed as to the duration of the disease, as well as the probability of there being an hereditary predisposition to the malady, the form & symptoms whether accompanied by Dementia or attacks of Excitement (maniacal violence,

Whether there are any symptoms in connection (apart from the wounds) with the case, to medical Writers

I am afraid I am giving you much trouble.

Not wishing to be troublesome has prevented me from writing to thee before now; but having had the inexpressible pleasure of hearing that my dear Sister is better, we should be agreeable to thee, wish to send her a few lines every two weeks believing that it would be of benefit to her. Also to dear Mother, who of course is doubly anxious on account of not being able to write herself — Canst thou think there is any probability of dear Sister's returning in the 5th month — We do not wish her to come home sooner than you think suitable but would not wish her to remain an hour longer than you think needful — as to her feeling a little low when she gets our letters we have always thought that she would feel less if she heard oftener and one reason may be that she thinks she ought to be at home — I

I feel deeply indebted to thee for the great care thee hewe taken in Hannah Ringer's case; and to know that thy Wife takes an interest in my Sister's welfare is a source of much

I have not had an opportunity to confer with any member of the family in this instance; but I feel quite sure they will unite in all that I have said.

Consolation to me, and whilst I earnestly desire that H.R. may profit by the kind notice & judicious counsel thus unexpectedly extended to her, I hope I shall continue to hold such proofs of disinterested kindness in grateful remembrance.

I quite coincide in all thee have said respecting pecuniary resources; indeed, I have long seen, and keenly felt, how difficult it is to deal with the question.

I expect R. Dix informed thee that H. Ringer's income scarcely reaches £60 per Ann^m.

I very much fear that it will be impossible to make this meet the necessary outlay — under the peculiar circumstances of the case; for lodgings & other incidental & personal expences; however, if suitable lodgings can be found I think it will be highly desirable to take them; even by him & his compliance with your advice, and I am sure he will hear me and 'in his own good time' restore him to health.

May I entreat of you not to allow him to want for anything you think comfort will do for him.
& present my kind regards to Mr Ketchen & Mr Wood.
I expect Will to remain

Respected Friend

John Kitching,

In answer to thy note of the 20th Inst. say that I pay 12/6 per week for lodgings, in addition to other unavoidable expences, is more than H. Ringer's income will meet; but as the accommodation of which I see speak is likely to prove comfortable, & what is far more important, if is in thy opinion otherwise suitable, I quite think it will be right to engage the lodgings for H.R's use, & I shall feel obliged by thy concluding the needful arrangement.

Allow me to remark that I suppose the 2/- per wk for fire will only be charged during the winter months, or rather during the time a fire is required. As to the means it may be right to adopt to supply H.R- with cash;- I think it will be well to forward it every quarter in advance,- this can be safely done by a Bankers bill payable seven days after date, & there will be no difficulty in cashing it at any Bank.

I would suggest the propriety of forwarding the first payment to thee - this will cause thee additional trouble - but I venture to propose this further

I have been applied to, as agent for Bristol, by my friend Henry Hunt to write thee respecting his son Francis who is about to be sent to the Retreat — The needful testimonial signed by two Medical men has been obtained, and it is probable Francis Hunt will leave here for the Retreat in the course of a few days — Whether it is Customary to enquire beforehand if there be room for a patient I do not know but it seems desirable to give a little notice and also a few particulars of the case —

About a Year ago, in consequence of a particular circumstance, producing an overwhelming shock to his feelings, he manifested decided symptoms of insanity — The state of his mind for some time previous, had also been such as to occasion uneasiness respecting him — being subject to great depression or elation of mind without any adequate cause — After his release from Confinement at the time referred to — he spent some time at Jersey and afterward accompanied a family to America , whence he abruptly returned about two months ago — His friends have not yet been able to confront him and after his arrival at Bristol, his conduct as had been anticipated, assumed a highly excited character — Great care will be needful to prevent any intercourse with persons in the Neighbourhood of York, his acquaintance being rather extensive especially in connexion with Schools — he has also a strong desire to make known his own view of his case by writing & otherwise when an opportunity is allowed — I am requested further to state that the case is not one that will require any particular personal indulgences, and his friends do not incur needless expense, but at the same time desire to meet his full cost to the Institution His having been so long from under their care must apologize for the deficiency in his outfit — — T. H. is not a member of our Society; about a year ago he sent in his resignation which was accepted —

If there be any printed instructions for agents I should wish to have a copy — as I know nothing of your order and my name was put down as agent without my being informed of it — about three or four weeks from home I think there should be another friend and I propose Richd Fry to whom I have spoken
Thy friend sincerely

Dear Friend

I had looked with some anxiety for the coming of this week's report of thy poor Lucy — On the coming of the day thy letter was written, it was 12 months since he was seized with epilepsy, and that he was so violent and had to leave his home — I have all along had a fear that they might occur again about the same period of the year — but I hope that it may not be the case — although the state from has deteriorated in my last letter is not favourable — Poor Henry's ordinary weight I believe was about 160 lbs — but I do not quite know — He was more stout than I had before seen him when I last saw him — In that respect I can tell when I see him if he is still stouter — At present it is arranged that Emily & my sister & Brother Fish at your Quarterly Meeting next week. I know that Anne is frequently much company at the Retreat at that time — and, as I prefer a quieter season for seeing my poor Harry I intend to go to Ballston until the beginning of the week following the 2d. It is very probable I may go up to the Retreat on the day, nevertheless —

There is one little subject I wish to mention to them, which is the liberty you give visitors — Strangers, to see your poor patients — I have twice heard of my poor H. seeing persons that he knew — and I cannot help wishing that he should be spared that —

William Harrison left Poole this night, under the care of James Ainsworth, a respectable Agriculturist, residing at Tarrant, near Blandford, Dorset, who marries his cousin, and has been very attentive to him for a long time past.

Earlier notice should have been given of the time of his leaving Poole, but he has been so capricious and obstinate of late, that we were uncertain when we should prevail on him to take his departure for Good.

I should thank thee to request your Secretary Wm Wood early in the new year to send me a statement of poor James' account that I may remit him the balance then due. Jno Kitchin /

I am quite willing to accede to the Terms proposed by the Committee, as communicated in thine of the 21st — now before me —

I could hardly expect that any material change had taken place in my poor Son's state of Mind; & this has subsequently been confirmed by a reply to his Sister A's Letter (& wch letter he has returned to her) — I fear that the various circumstances connected with his late School difficulties, have made so deep an impression on his Mind, as will never be eradicated — The last few weeks previously to his leaving Bristol, tended greatly to strengthen these apprehensions. As to going into the subject again, it is quite out of the question — There are no charges brought against him, as I have against him, even whilst he was in America & had he kept away from Bristol, the sad affair would have pretty much died away.

L. is so prejudiced against his best friends, that perhaps I had better not send a message of Love just now — Please to send us a few lines occasionally

To Dr Kitching

Dear Friend /

It seems such a very long time since I heard of my beloved husband. that I hope thou will not think one troublesome, if I request thee to let me know how he has been since the former report: dost thou think his general perception of things improves, or is his mind still in the almost childish state, as when he left his home, are his seasons of excitement frequent, and does he seem capable of amusing himself in any way — can he read his Bible, which used to be such a source of pleasure to him, and dost thou think he could even sign his name?- I greatly long to see him, and form my own opinion how far he is able to pass his time comfortably - I do not by this, wish to infer by any means, that I am not perfectly satisfied but having for so long studied his wants & wishes prior to his disease increasing, a person is apt to fancy they could understand better than others what would contribute most to his comfort, and thou will readily believe, how earnest my wishes are, to have him in such a condition as to be able to do all I can for him instead of being thus widely separated. Is he able to wait upon himself? I thus query, because there were times, a short period before he left, when he was unable even to dress himself, but this helplessness did not continue - I hope, my kind friend, thou will bear with me, for being so troublesome with my questions, and hoping to hear very soon, and with kindest regards, believe me,

Thy very sincere friend Elizabeth Sibbering

I earnestly hope my beloved husband is able to receive a message of tendered love from me, and his dear little boy, if thou thinks best to deliver it.

My dear Brother,

. . . Well I to tell thee that it is seven weeks or more since I was at York it might perhaps be some information as to time, but when I add that during this interval I have not received a line from thee respecting the state of my poor Fanny it will be only telling thee what thou already knows, and for asking is, that when at York she mentioned to me having been subjected to some kind of watery treatment which she much disapproved of — I could not make much out of her meaning, but supposed it might be something in connection with her bathing. I found she also mentioned the same thing to Mother. I believe I forgot to name it to thee when present, or to enquire what her meaning could be.

With love to Self, Sister, & our little flock

I remain My affecte Bror.

-quently no news. Monthly silence I expect may infer that thou hast nothing fresh to communicate as to her state, but yet be only a repetition of the sad intelligence, that there is no improvement it is nevertheless a satisfaction to hear something. May I therefore ask thee to favor me with a few lines of information on this melancholy subject. From the deeply-diseased state in which I saw her when last at York I can not look for much if any amendment. I then thought her in a deplorable condition, & shall not soon forget the painful parting scene.
Herewith enclose her a note which please present to her tho' I know not whether she be in a state to feel any interest in hearing from me. Does she ever enquire about me, or our dear children? The latter is now at Bootham School, where I hope she is very comfortable, & from her own ale "happy" - this change I trust will be a great advantage to her - tho' the distance is greater than I like, her absence occasions me to be sufficiently lonely, but this I suppose I must submit to with what patience I can muster - Has Fanny been accustomed to the use of a bath? My reason

Our Robert has written to say that the Ginger beer does not agree with him; and as he suffered severely from an obstruction in the Bowels some time ago, which we thought was occasioned by the use of ginger beer, I have thought it necessary to apprize them thereof. He says he is weaker and has lost 6 lbs in weight. Thus being the case we shall feel very much obliged to them to allow him a glass of ale, instead of the ginger beer, 2 or 3 times daily, and hoping to hear a more favorable account of him I remain

Thy Letter of the 2nd Inst. with its enclosure was forwarded to me at this place, where we have been staying for a few Weeks on account of Health — The Printed Paper is herewith returned having been previously filled up in the best way that it was in our power to do; furnishing you with a pretty full history of my Poor Son's Case. Thou will readily perceive that the chief cause of his first plunge took its origin at the large School for poor Boys in Bristol, under the care of Friends — To this establishment, Nine of Life, Frad was almost incessantly devoted, quite beyond prudence & against the Judgment of his best friends. Whilst this circumstance, some decided imprudencies occurred, which brought Frad into collision with the Committee appointed by the Mo Meeting, & terminated in the resignation of his appointment as Superintendent, which, together with some misconduct on his part towards some of the Boys, - had an over-whelming effect on his Mind (his Bodily-powers being also greatly overstrained) - Perhaps I hardly need hint to thee the extremely unpleasant effect of anything amiss in the conduct of the Head of an establishment where there was not less than 500 Boys - Such was the effect on my poor Son, that I was obliged to have him watched till he could be safely removed from Bristol. - He was very much liked by the lower Class, & by very many young people who had been more or less under his notice & care.

Yet thou must see the probable ill effects of his return to Bristol; - fully anticipated by his best friends. Now however his Mind was elevated beyond measure, thro' the imprudence of kindly-disposed & attached friends; - but who were only partially acquainted with the case as it stood 2 years ago.
I am fully of the Opinion that there is no human probability of his Mind ever remaining free from hurtful excitement & delusion, unless he keeps entirely clear of Bristol - From thy remark respecting the weekly payment, I am inclined to conclude that our Fr.d Jos: Eaton omitted to forward to thee certain particulars furnished to him 11/25" - (a duplicate of w.h I just now enclosed) By those memorandums thou will observe "The case is Not one which will require any particular personal "indulgences" – This fr. I would not incur needless "expense; but at the same time desire to meet his full "Cost to the Institution" – This is just the state of the case – Fr' habits were always common & rather rustic; & are probably more so from his 12 mon. sojourn in America – He has been one way or another a great expense to me – I expect some of his Clothing will be sent to thy care from Cheltenham, where he had been visiting – Thou will be kind enough to get him a suitable common Hat & anything else necessary –

I hope & trust you will have but little serious difficulty with Fra! – a watchful care will be necessary as he is pretty adroit & cunning

I shall be glad to hear from thee when suitable – Perhaps it will hardly be prudent for me to send a message of Love just yet ~~as much~~ We much want to hear of them – Thy Sincere Fr'd

Henry Hunt

I may just mention that Our fr'd Jon: Rowntree is pretty well acquainted with the case of my poor Son & might afford thee some useful information for thy government

I am sorry to be obliged to be thus troublesome to Thee, but the disappointment of not going at once and the suspense since, has operated so unfavourable on our friend that we really fear the consequences — Is it not possible for you to make some arrangement to receive him at once in the best way you can leaving better arrangements to the first opportunity? I have delayed writing hoping to have been able to leave home ere this to have paid a visit to the Institution but my engagements prevent my so doing. Herewith forward a letter of Credit for the Amt of my Board Tuition & salary for Braid — I wish thus to inform him the reason of my not writing has been as stated above but will very shortly write him ~~again~~ hope he will not delay writing me when he feels inclined. — I have seen his letter addressed to Thos Gosnell which does not appear to us to show any improvement which is very trying —

I have understood that either Wm or Henry Marriage of Broomfield is likely to be at York ere long and wish much to see Cousin D. B. Hope he will see him and that his report will have a great influence upon the minds of Friends & others in the immediate neighbourhood of my dr Cousin. and therefore I hope he may be informed of his real situation —

I thought it best to give thee this information. I shall be glad to hear from thee & my dr Cousin and hope the time is not far distant when I shall be able to pay you the visit. I have had so long in prospect ——

With dr love to my Cousin and a share for thyself

On receiving your Note this Morning, I was much dis-appointed, to find that my dear husband, had not received my note. as I feel sure that the few lines it contained would have been a comfort to him if he would have accepted it — but as he refused it through the manner it
