Dear Sir,

I enclose 1/- in stamps which I am sorry I forgot about when writing last night.

There is another thing I think I should mention.
When he went to lodgings he worried a good deal about the partition between the room he slept in and the kitchen which the family occupied being so thin.- He could hear every thing that went on and everything that was said. It seemed to disturb him a good deal.

He stopped reading the bible which he had always been accustomed to do morning & night since he was a boy.

Yours faithfully
Wm Crain

Dear Sir,

My brother came here from Peeblesshire last May.
He cycled to his work, 6 miles, during the summer. In September he went into lodgings, and cycled home every Saturday.
He has been worried since then. We noticed the depression more particularly about three months ago. He has been both eating and sleeping well during that time. He was worried with cycling in the dark nights. He did not seem to have any other cause of worry except being in lodgings. - He did not seem to be happy and often said he thought he should never have left Peabosshire. He has always been extremely nervous. Before he was born his mother when on the way home from church got a shock on receiving a letter informing her of the sudden death of a beloved sister. -

He was never depressed before.
If you would like any further particulars you could write if you think necessary to Dr. Ritchie, Kibbey, West Linton, Peeblesshire, who has occasionally attended my brother previously. -

I am glad to hear he had a good night.

Yours faithfully,
John Craik.

P. S. So far as I know there is nothing peculiar about other members of the family.

Dear Sir

I know from ur kindness to my brother omas. J. Freeborn that u will excuse the erty I take in writing his letter. I regret to say that shortly after his return home. my brother again got very strange & unmanagable & in fact Violent

On the 12th inst. I had a letter from Mr. A. J. S. & L. have got no account of him & do not know where he is. I thought that if he were placed in an Asylum you might have been written to about him & could tell me where he is. If you have not been written to about him you might very kindly give me the address of the Asylum in Edinburgh that he would have been placed in

On the 26th May he left home for Edinburgh.
the day that he left I had got an order to bring him before a Magistrate that he might be confined in an Asylum but he had departed before I had the order. I heard from my Aunt in Glasgow that inquiries were made from her about him as he had been arrested in Edinburgh & thought to be insane.
Since end of May?

Have got no account of him & do

I will indeed be very grateful for any information you can give me -
and thanking you for your past kindness

My Dear Sir,

Many thanks for your long letter. Only one fault to me more & I am on before a house. I am not sure I have to speak to the Mayor. I am not sure that I hope to see you I wish to thank you very much - I am his Majesty. I am not sure I am not sure.

I am not sure I am not sure I am not sure.

I am not sure I am not sure I am not sure.

I am not sure I am not sure I am not sure.

I have just spoken to the Duke of Norfolk - a very pleasing young Man - Gallant & charming companion - I am exceedingly happy & am asking the attendant to bring dinner -

This letter is not a business letter - I began with no intention to sending this to any one - But at second thoughts - I am not sure I am not sure I am not sure.

CRICHTON ROYAL INSTITUTION, DUMFRIES.

19th November 1909.

To His Majesty,

The King,

Windsor Castle,

England.

Your Most-Gracious Majesty of Great Britain and Ireland

Yc, Yc, Yc,

Sire,

I, your most obedient and humble servant, take the liberty of troubling Your Majesty with these few lines.

I am a sick man on a sick bed, but able to be up and about for an hour or so each day; in point of fact I am convalescent - having lately lately been treated by the Medical men here for Dysentery and Peritonitis, with no complications. I am well able to travel and am anxious to resume my duties in London.

I am known to General Sir William H. Knollys, and Admiral Charles Beresford; also Admiral Chatfield and his Grace the Duke of Norfolk.

I wish two years ago to take up my residence in Chesham where I have made application to the Master, the Revd Mr. Jeff M.A. &c.
I am also known to the Revd H.A.
Spooner M.A., Warden of New College, Oxford; and the Revd Teignmouth House M.A.

I was formerly in the Ceylon Civil Service and left the island when I was the Carooner at Dewera Elzija, the Sanatorium.
I am an old Apple & Cinchona Planter, and

and was known to Sir Greame Elphinstone Baronet, and to Major General Sir John Campbell Baronet C.B. R.A. who knew me in Ceylon when he was stationed in Demerara Eliza. I left the latter office here when I retired from the island.
He knows me well, as also does Sir J. Russell-Reynolds, Bart. F.R.S. M.D.
Lond.; and Mr. Marcus Beck, M.B. M.S.
Lond.:

I regret to add the weather has been most tempestuous here, and the crops somewhat of a failure. There is a shortage in many articles - particularly good Kavaiah and Manilla Luffs and Cheroots, which I long for.

I am simply wretched here doing nothing but think of my many sins; and I desire the comforts of my sister (Mrs. J. W. Hylor) home, and the the attendance of my nieces as nurses.

I was born of Scotch parents at Coblence on the Rhine, S. Germany in the year 1844 - 28 April.

Her Imperial Majesty the Empress Eugenie, I doubt not, remembers my name; as does His Serene Majesty the Imperial Emperor of the Grand Country where I was born. I trust - Your Majesty is in good health, and Her Majesty the Queen also. Sir,

I have the honour to be,
Your Majesty's most obedient and humble servant,

just as he pleased. For the cup Rushcuter was all the rage, but the moist surroundings were in favour of Cargill, who scored by a length and a half from Persimmon's son, the latter looking as if the distance was not far enough for him, and never thoroughly warning to his work. Sir Archibald, with over 9 stone in the saddle, readily accounted for the Salford, and as Glenesky and Prospector, to say nothing of Desespoir with a trivial burden finished behind him, the first was a good one. Lewes was pleasant if not exciting, and both Telbedde and Toyshop acquitted themselves with credit on the Sussex Downs. Of Royal Ascot it is difficult to write with moderation, for the cream of the three-year-olds was in evidence, the handicaps were worthily contested, nothing could be alleged against the quality of the juveniles, and any falling off, if falling there were, was to be discovered only in the candidates for the long weight for age prizes. Tuesday from end to end was full of attraction. To begin, St. Michan just got the better of Dean Swift in the Trial, and Amadis, a colt belonging to Lord Falmouth, prevailed over Jackson in the Vase. In the Coventry we were introduced to an unnamed own brother to Pretty Polly, and he won in hollow fashion from Yellow Slave, galloping in much the same style as his distinguished sister, whom he greatly resembles, though he does not possess such powerful quarters. Good was the muster for the Stakes and great was the support accorded to Sir Harry, but the Border colours never showed prominently, and Rushcuter, appreciating the lengthy journey, gained the verdict by a couple of lengths from the Metropolitan victress, Laughing Mirror. Bayardo had not much to overcome in the Prince of Wales, but he did it with ease, and Dibs was responsible for a Triennial. The Hunt Cup Caroline as his sire, and his grandsire on the dam's side is the great St. Simon. The New Stakes afforded Lemberg, a half brother to Bayardo, an occasion for his debut, and the style of his triumph suggests that he will be at least a formidable rival to the Admiral colt. And Minoru and Llangwn achieved the events in which they were respectively engaged without any undue exertion. Friday continued the surprises Thursday had inaugurated. Foresight, who took the same race last year, disposing of Hallaton and Hillside III. in the King's Stano Plate, Pure Gem vanquishing Yentoi and company in the Alexandra; while Primer, in a wonderfully fast run struggle, overthrew Valens and Sir Archibald in the Hardwicke. Louviers, however, and Charles O'Malley, a smart son of Desmond, come to the rescue of backers, and Portland Bay was well betried for the Wokingham. Newbury was quiet after the Berkshire festival, the most important event being the Foal Stakes, wherein Greenback took his revenge on Yellow Slave. Poor Boy in the Empire Stakes afforded consolation for his failure in the Wokingham, and Lischana found the mile and a half of the cup more to her liking than the stiff two miles of the Ascot Stakes. Newcastle was bright from start to finish, and it was a colt of some promise in Mirador that annexed the North Derby. We had fancied, and the stable had fancied, Sir Harry on the Royal Heath for the Stakes, where his jockey seemed to have delayed with him too long. Here, however, vastly different tactics were adopted, and being quickly sent to the van he defeated Laughing Mirror and Wedding Ring, the first and second at Ascot, in a canter by six lengths. The penalised Charles O'Malley accounted for the Seaton Delaval, and Sandy Acland, a colt of some merit, bore off the Gos-

Father George Richmond Fisherman drowned about 26 years ago

Mother Annie Richmond died about 20 years ago Brother Henry Richmond seaman with the New Zealand Shipping Coy.

Sister Maggie Richmond died about 17 years ago from pleurisy & influenza

John Richmond left school at the age of 13 & started work with a Mr Smithers Smack Owner Grimsby first as a spare hand then latterly as Cook. He then went to London & joined the Navy as a Stoker his Depot was Portsmouth he was on board the Nelson & Camperdown while in the service he got a blow on the top of the head caused by something falling from aloft he has always had pains in the head since then, sometimes they become very violent, when in this state he becomes very depressed refuses food & attempts to commit suicide. once when in this condition he jumped overboard & was rescued after considerable difficulty. He was then invalided home from Calcutta confined in an Institution for Mental Diseases for 6 months & finally discharged from the Service after having served 7½ years. He then entered the Merchant Service as a Stoker & has been at sea continually up till the time of being arrested on 25th March when he was on his way from Newcastle to Glasgow in search of a boat. He left the train at Carlisle & walked to Maryport but did not get a job there he then came away towards Dumfries on the Saturday but stayed in Annan overnight. On the Sunday afternoon while on the road from Annan to Dumfries he was apprehended and taken back to Annan & charged with indecent behaviour towards a young boy the act was committed on the Saturday forenoon previous but he denies all knowledge of the affair he says he never arrived in Annan until the evening & this happened in the forenoon so that it couldn't possibly be him. He also says that the boy is the only witness they have got against him but he could not tell me if the boy identified him again or not he was locked up in Annan that night & brought on to Dumfries the next day & lodged in prison. He was admitted here on the 14th April as a determined suicidal case we were told by the Warders who brought him that he had twice attempted to take his life while in Prison but this he emphatically denies. He talked quite freely that night he came here but I saw a change on him next day. He could not be induced to speak & he seemed greatly depressed & refused his food. He continued in this state up till the night of the 27th April never being known to speak once during that time. On the morning of the 28th he seemed quite cheerful and it was then that I got this information from him. He continued quite cheerful all day until about 5 in the afternoon when a change seemed to have come over him again. He would not speak & became depressed. In fact the depression seemed to be more marked than it had been formerly. He has never given us any trouble nor yet has he tried to do himself an injury.

D. Wallace,
 New Sir,

With reference to your enquiry regarding the abovementioned, D. Fraser instructs me to reply as follows.

He was admitted here on 10th Nov^r 1904 in a low state of bodily health. He was poorly nourished & anaemic. Muscular system wanting in tone. Heart sounds soft. Slight dragging of knee jerks.

The admission certificates gave a history of excitement & incoherence, & on one of them it is stated that he threatened suicide.

In the case books the following points are noted:

"Patient has not done any work for 3 years.

blaming him, persecuting him, & saying he was a danger to the community as he was in consumption.

Since that time has become dull & apathetic, does not sleep at nights, is morbid, suspicious, & moody.

Latterly has developed hallucinations of hearing & delusions of persecution & imagines he is wanted by the Police for some crime and that his enemies are trying to come in thru the ceiling.
His intelligence is of a low order & he admits masturbating frequently.

with regard to the question of suicide, patient, on admission was stated to be suicidal and his mental type was such that we looked on him as suicidal during his residence here, although he committed no overt act.

I hope the foregoing will be of some service to you.

re Patrick McKay

PATRICK MCKAY
VOL 15/2 p 437

1st February 10.

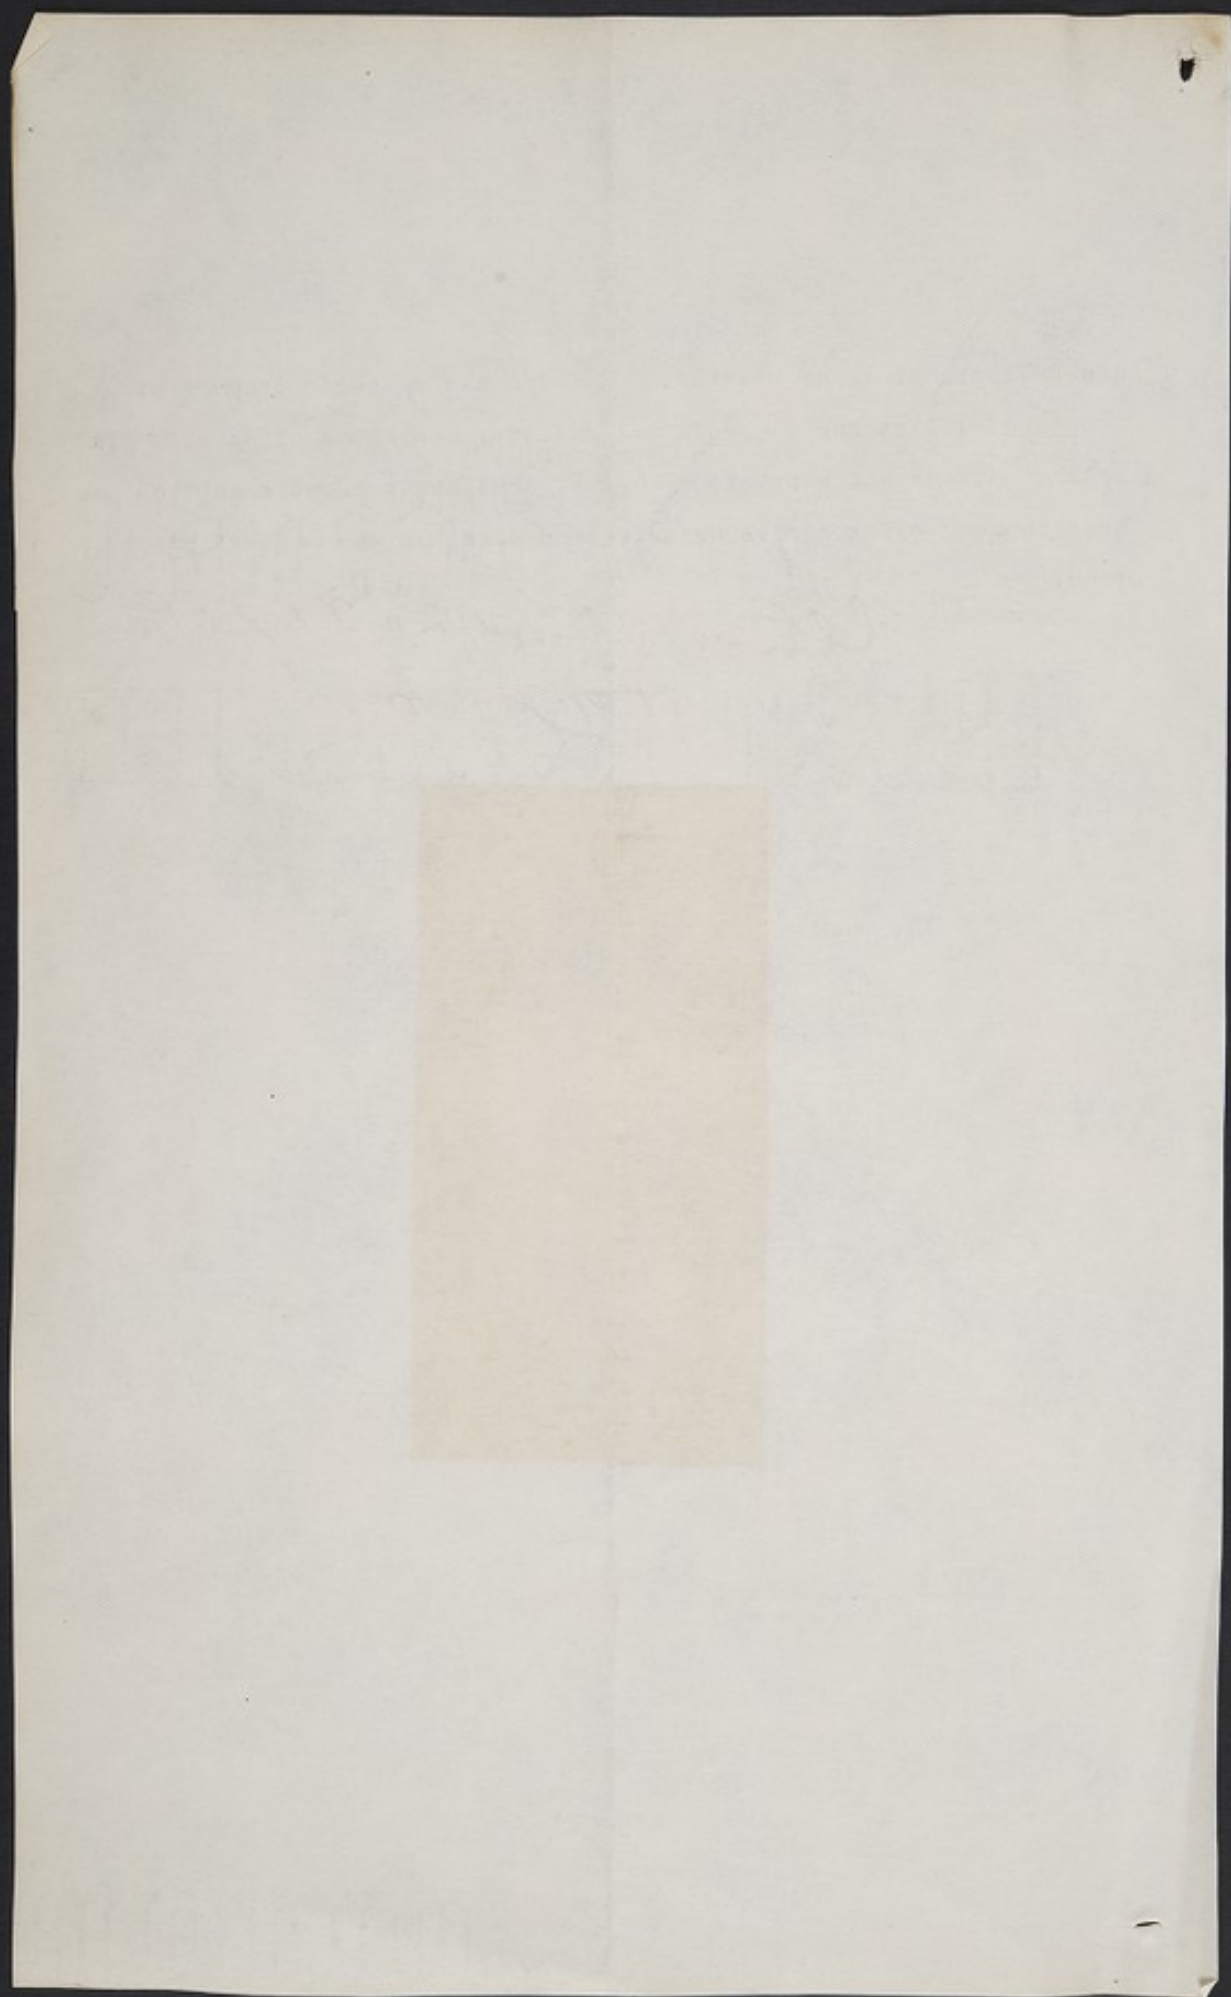

I hereby certify on soul and conscience that I have this day seen and personally examined Patrick McKay, who was admitted on the 28th January 1910 from H. M. Prison, Dumfries, to the Crichton Royal Institution under terms of 34 and 35 Vict. Cap. 55, Sect. 6, and has been under my observation since that date. In my opinion Patrick McKay is insane. His appearance, demeanour and conversation are those of a man who is mentally defective, and he is morbidly suspicious and confused. He is unable to give a clear account of his former life, and his conversation is rambling and disconnected, but he states that he comes from Ireland and does odd labouring work. His articulation is defective, and he is apparently unable to read or write. He says, in reply to the direct question, that for some time past he has been taking too much drink, viz. rum. His facial expression at times is furtive, and he tells me that there is a conspiracy against him which has been got up by the Priests, and that a reward of £10,000 has been offered by them to anyone who can read his thoughts. He says that he hears voices telling him this. He also states that on the day of the fire-raising he saw a big flame running along the road across the moor like a motor car, and that he tried to chase this flame. He is inclined to be reticent on the matter of the fire-raising, but does not deny that he did it, and says that it was an accident owing to the lid of his pipe being off.

From what I have seen of Patrick McKay, I am of the opinion that he is an Irishman of the vagrant class, that he is a man of a low order of intelligence, uneducated and superstitious, though to some extent cunning and suspicious, that his mental defects are characteristic of the milder type of congenital mental deficiency, and that he is at present confused in mind and has delusions of suspicion and fear, and hallucinations of hearing. He also has muscular tremors of the tongue, lips and other facial muscles, and these along with his hallucinations and suspicions suggest that his present condition has been induced by excessive drinking and possibly the want of proper food.

Dear Sir,

Mr. Scott tells me that her husband, who is a patient in your Institution, will not survive very long.

She has considered the matter and thinks it better that the funeral be private at Dumfries. The Hearse and one Coach will be sufficient, there being no relations about Dumfries and it is unlikely that any one but myself will travel

Male Hospital.
June 14th 1909.

Dear Sir, I have been writing to Mr. Richardson and suggesting to him that I would be glad to know of some light employment that he thought would be suitable for me: and with reference to my letter he has spoken to Dr. Wallace about how that he thought I would like to get away from here soon. Today, the doctor was speaking to me and enquiring if I knew of anything to do in the event of my being discharged, and recommended that I should write you a few lines and put before you what I thought of doing, and to have your opinion about the advisability of making a start for myself soon.

2/ You are quite aware that I have now been some length of time a patient in these Institutions.
And you will also be aware that I receive 5/- weekly from my Sister, which she has been in the habit of paying up every 6 months, and at the same time deducting from it the Commission on the orders Postages & Carriage for an occasional parcel I have had from her; I was admitted to Barnhill Poorhouse on 22 Feby 1904.
On 30th June she sent me postal order for £6. 8. 9 or thereby, which I handed over to Mr. Henderson. Governor.
On 31st Augst I was removed to Woodilee; When I found where I was landed, and came to myself as it were. What other could I do but write our Friend Dr. Marr, and state to him how things stood; and offering at same time to make myself generally useful to the Institution to the best of my ability.

Assure you I got on splendid, and was always fairly well contented living in the hope that some way of doing might turn up for me;

After the money above mentioned, my sister has paid up to 30th Dec^r 1908, the orders I handed over to Dr. Mann immediately after receiving them, they would amount to about £19. 7. 6 or thereby.

Now that the 30th June is almost here, do you think that I ought to write the sister? I have formerly been accustomed to do so.

Not knowing how affairs stand, and not being certain but the payment of this small alimant is stopped; it will just be as well to be advised by you what to do; if it is not stopped, I ought to be thankful that there is yet some chance of doing well for myself, and to earn a livelihood for myself: that could be done by obtaining a Pedler's Certificate from the Police keep myself respectable, —

But what is the use of my writing such a parcel of nonsense when I do not know where the wherewith all to come from. I have nothing & I doubt if anybody would have any confidence in trusting me anything, after being so long idle in an institution.

Hoping that you will be

A LUNATIC'S WANDERINGS.

Saturday last a Manxman escaped from the Salford Lunatic Asylum. Yesterday he was discovered on the steamer Viking on a passage from Liverpool to Douglas. A marconigram was sent to Liverpool and cabled to Douglas, where the police were in waiting, and detained the man on landing. He had walked from the Asylum to Liverpool, subsisting on turnips and water.

Sir

I apply to you as regards to my liberty from the asylum as i am alright in my mental power but i do not feel as i ought to be in my body as the are playing tricks on me in my cell which is causing a thick flude to be on my toung every morning and my food to be eveduated from my body as i eat it which is done by fumes which cooks the body in side with a hot food upon it i had to burst my cell door open as i could not get my breath both by fumes and electric heat which is the cause of cooking the body and weaking the mind as i spoke to the doctor on the matter but there is no notice taking of it only asking me to take a touch what is the use of taking medicine on a stomach that is cooked with fumes the fluids on my tongue proves it every morning i have been going quite since i have come here but the way the are doing they do not want to let me go out of here a sound man and clear of all delusions i am willing to go out to work till you relieve me from here but the are working a Battery on me which is causing great pains all through my body trying to settle me in which i think there is no cause for when a man is going staight and causing no bother in the place i was speaking to the committee and the told me to apply to the governor so i which you to appear only that as but former the words entrenching comes here as sound as a lunatic side beca me now put me on i prefer to personally whether i speaking my mother see me and write to in here a of volume no right that if a

to appeal for me as i am all right in my mind only they are trying to suck me in and not only that but lamenting if they could to commit my self with the words about my wife and my mother with the enticing of making me play up to her when she comes here but they have been mistaken as i am as sound as any body in douglas at present not as a lunatic as i was put down from the other side because they could not do as they liked with me now they are on the same trick here either to put me on a sick bed or derange my mind which i prefer holding i only wish i could speak to you personally so then you would see for your self whether i was sound and know what i am speaking about would you be so kind to tell my mother to come up here next Thursday and see me and let her know if you will might write to the governor for me as i am not contented in here as i had no rights to be sent to any cogolun as i done my full time a thing i had no right to do as there is rules there to prove that if a man earns his senission full on part of it he has a right to be released out-on a ticket which i did and made a bother about it then the said i was barney because i stuck up for my rights which the home office grants to all prisoners but the officials takes on there own heads to do there tricks on them send them to there country asylums and make out the are mad and so on but there was noting about me which the publick could see when i landed here on the Island and as the doctor said in Waltham that i was a perfect-man in my mind that will show for myself there is many a man that does not take notice of any thing but knows all the time that is the way i did always then i was put down as a lunatic but i am not one yet ~~unwell~~ kindly do me this good turn and get me out of here as i want to go out to my half brother in America

ESCAPED CRIMINAL LO LUNATIC IN DOUGLAS.

Exciting Capture on the Victoria Pier.— Smart Work by Inspector Duke.

Considerable excitement was caused on the Victoria Pier on the arrival of the Viking from Liverpool yesterday by the news of Andrew Moore, an escaped criminal inmate from Dumfries Criminal Lunatic Asylum, where he has been an inmate for two years. Moore some years ago was known in Douglas as a dangerous character, and had on more than one occasion caused considerable trouble to the Douglas Police. During the first week in July, 1924, he made a murderous attack on his wife, Catherine Moore, and attempted to cut her throat. He was arrested on Douglas Pier by Sergt. King on July 6th of the same year, and on the 12th of the following December he was sentenced to four years imprisonment on a charge of unlawfully and maliciously wounding and causing grievous bodily harm to his wife. Shortly after he was despatched to one of the big penal prisons on the mainland, but two years ago he was sent back to the island as a dangerous criminal lunatic. He was brought from Fighurst Prison to Wallon Gail, and from there conveyed to the island by Sergt. King and P.C. Mathias Cobben, and lodged in the late of Man Lunatic Asylum. He was, however, not allowed to remain in the Manx Asylum, and as soon as arrangements could be made he was removed to the Dumfries Criminal Lunatic Asylum, an institution specially erected for the detention of such characters. Nothing more was heard of Moore until Sunday, when his wife was advised by telegram from Dumfries that her husband had escaped during patrol on the previous day. Mrs. Moore, who has had abundant cause to fear the return of her husband, at once took the precaution of informing the Douglas police of the occurrence, and this notification was followed up by a personal call at the Douglas Police Station by one of the Asylum officials on Monday. In consequence a careful lookout was kept for Moore, and the Douglas Pier Police were also instructed to watch the passengers arriving by incoming steamers. Nothing was seen of the escaped lunatic until yesterday, when his capture was brought about under rather peculiar circumstances. Inspector Duke happened to be a passenger from Liverpool by the s.s. Viking, and during a stroll round the boat while in mid-Channel, he saw a man whom he identified as Moore, sitting in the steerage portion of the vessel. It is many years since Inspector Duke saw Moore, and to make sure of his suspicions, he sought the confirmation of a Douglas man who was a fellow passenger, with the result that Moore's identity was completely established. He was dressed in the Asylum regulation clothes, which consist of a dark grey suit, but he was wearing an ordinary cap. Inspector Duke, fearing that Moore might resort to desperate means of escape, did not take any action at the moment, but despatched a wireless message from the ship acquainting the Douglas police of his discovery, and giving instructions for a couple of constables to meet the steamer. After sending the message, Inspector Duke kept his man under close observation, but he continued to remain quietly seated on a seat on the second deck of the vessel, paying little attention to what was going on around him, and entirely ignorant of his discovery. The message in question was only despatched from the Viking at 1.45 p.m., and was not received at the Douglas Police Station until two o'clock, and in consequence Sergt. Joe Carr, along with two constables—P.C. Herbert Corlett and P.C. Theo. Cringle—were only in time to get as far as the Power Hotel, when they met Moore already in charge of Inspector Duke and Pier Policeman R. Kneen. On the arrival of the Viking at the Pier, Inspector Duke rushed off the boat and had just time to acquaint P.C. Kneen of the fact that Moore was a board, when the escaped lunatic came off the ship. He was then promptly arrested by Inspector Duke and P.C. Kneen. Moore at once became very violent, and, struggling desperately to get free, shouted, "I am no lunatic," and told Inspector Duke, "Why did you not let me on the boat?" The officers had to request assistance to control their charge, but he was eventually overpowered, and placed in a cab and taken to the Douglas Police Station, Sergt. Carr and the two constables meeting the conveyance, as stated, at the Power Hotel. The arrest caused an exciting scene on the landing pier, and a great crowd assembled, one old man being knocked down in the crush, and had to be driven to the Hospital for treatment. Communication was at once made with the Lunatic Asylum, and during the afternoon Moore was removed to the Manx institution. During his detention at the Police Station, Moore voluntarily stated that he escaped from the Scotch asylum on Saturday during patrol, and, evading his pursuers, walked, via Carlisle, Barrow, Lancaster, Preston, to Liverpool, where he arrived at nine o'clock on Thursday evening, the total distance being nearly 160 miles. During his long tramp, Moore had nothing to eat but some turnips, and only had some water to quench his thirst. On arrival at the Mersey port, he sought the assistance of a member of the Liverpool Manx Society, which unsuspectingly assisted him and secured him a pass for the voyage, which had for him such an unfortunate termination.

Amber Moore

Admitted to C.R.S. on 1st March 1909. Private pat.

Male. 38 years. Married. Butcher. From Dale of Man Asylum.

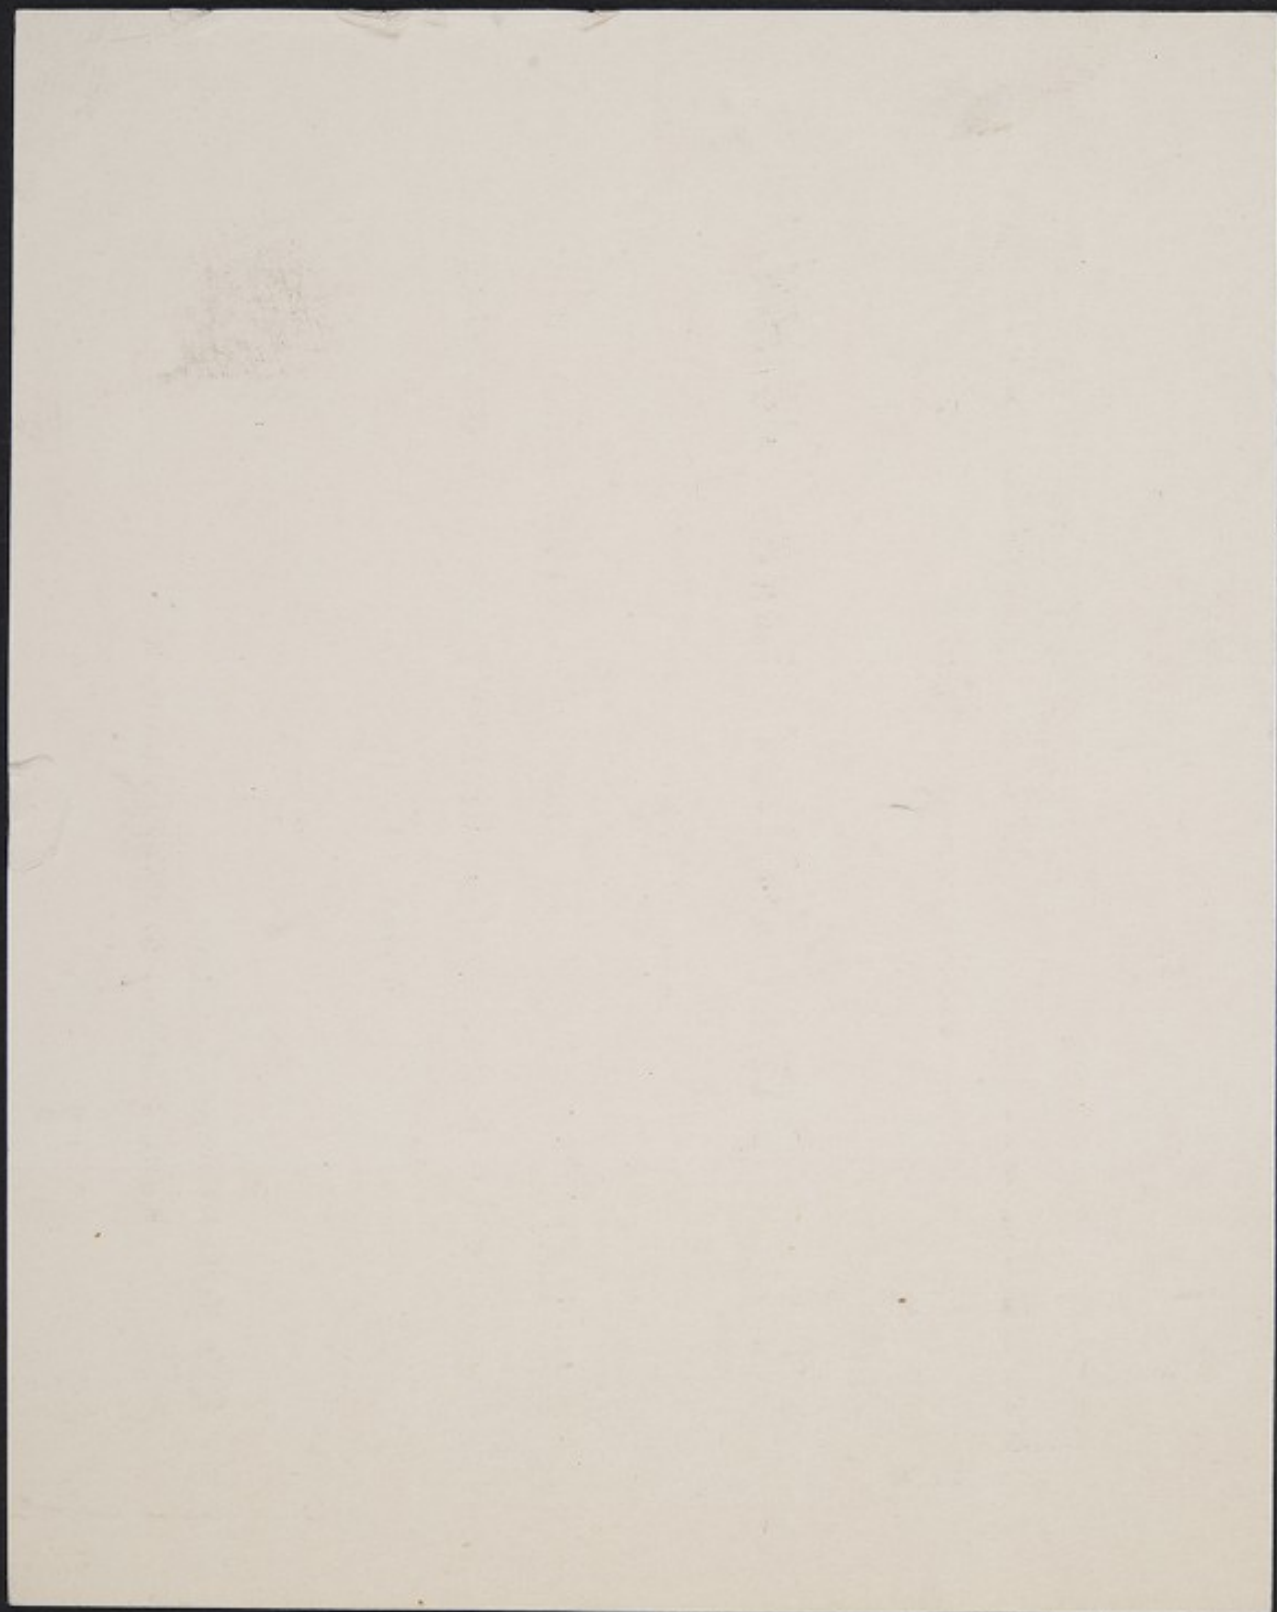

Family H. Not ascertained. (one son alive & one child still born)

Personal H. Alcoholic. Possibly Venereal excesses.

Recent Illness. In December 1904, was convicted of serious assault (cutting & wounding) to his wife, and sentenced to 4 years penal servitude at Portland Prison. In September 1907, sent to Brixton Prison. In December 1908 sent to Dale of Man jail, and was there certified as suffering from Insanity of Persecution, Suspicion and Poisoning, and conspiracy, with accompanying excitement and confusion and at times refractory conduct and threats of violence. While at Dale of Man Asylum he was a good garden worker and as a rule gave little trouble, but one day he escaped to the great consternation of his wife and friends. For this reason it was thought desirable to have him detained in an asylum farther from his home, and by arrangement with Dr Richardson (Med. Sup't. of S. of M. A.) who ~~sister~~ is petitioner and obligor, he was removed to the C.R.S., on 1/3/09. During his residence he has been in fair bodily health, and he has suffered from Chronic Delusional Insanity of Persecution and unseen agency, poisoning and conspiracy, with hallucinations of hearing and smell. The latter probably explained his delusions about the poison in his food etc., although it is necessary to give him Bromide or sulphonal ^{etc} in his food - when his hallucinations are more vivid than usual - as he will not take medicine. He objects even to simple opiates, as he interprets their action to the "drugging" of his persecutors. During 1909 he was tried for a time in the garden but without success. In spring 1910, he became much more tractable and was given parole ^{of the grounds} in May 1910, and enjoyed this for 4 months. In September 1910 he broke his parole, walked to Liverpool, took steamer to Douglas S. of M., where he was met on landing and brought back to C.R.S. He has not had parole since, but, so far, has been fairly good humoured and not specially troublesome. At times, however, his hallucinations & delusions are more active and under the influence of these, he is very profane, obscene and ~~retardation~~ ⁱⁿ his talk, ^{irritable and impulsive} & ^{reckless} in his demeanor especially to the officials. "His bark however is worse than his bite", as he is somewhat of a bully and coward by nature. On a few occasions ^{he has struck} ~~not seriously~~ patients who are smaller than himself. During his mental relapses, he has generally been treated with rest in bed in the verandah, supplemented with bromide and sulphonal etc. as required, and as a rule there has been no difficulty in carrying out this treatment. Owing to his occasional violent tendencies, he has always slept in an observation single bedroom at nights. For some months past, he has been in fairly good humor, and there are indications of supervening facility and ennoblement of mind.

Dear Sir,

J. W. W. Gay.

Mr. W. Gay has handed me a Memo. dated 11th January, which he received from you asking him to send forward certain articles of clothing for Mr. Gay.

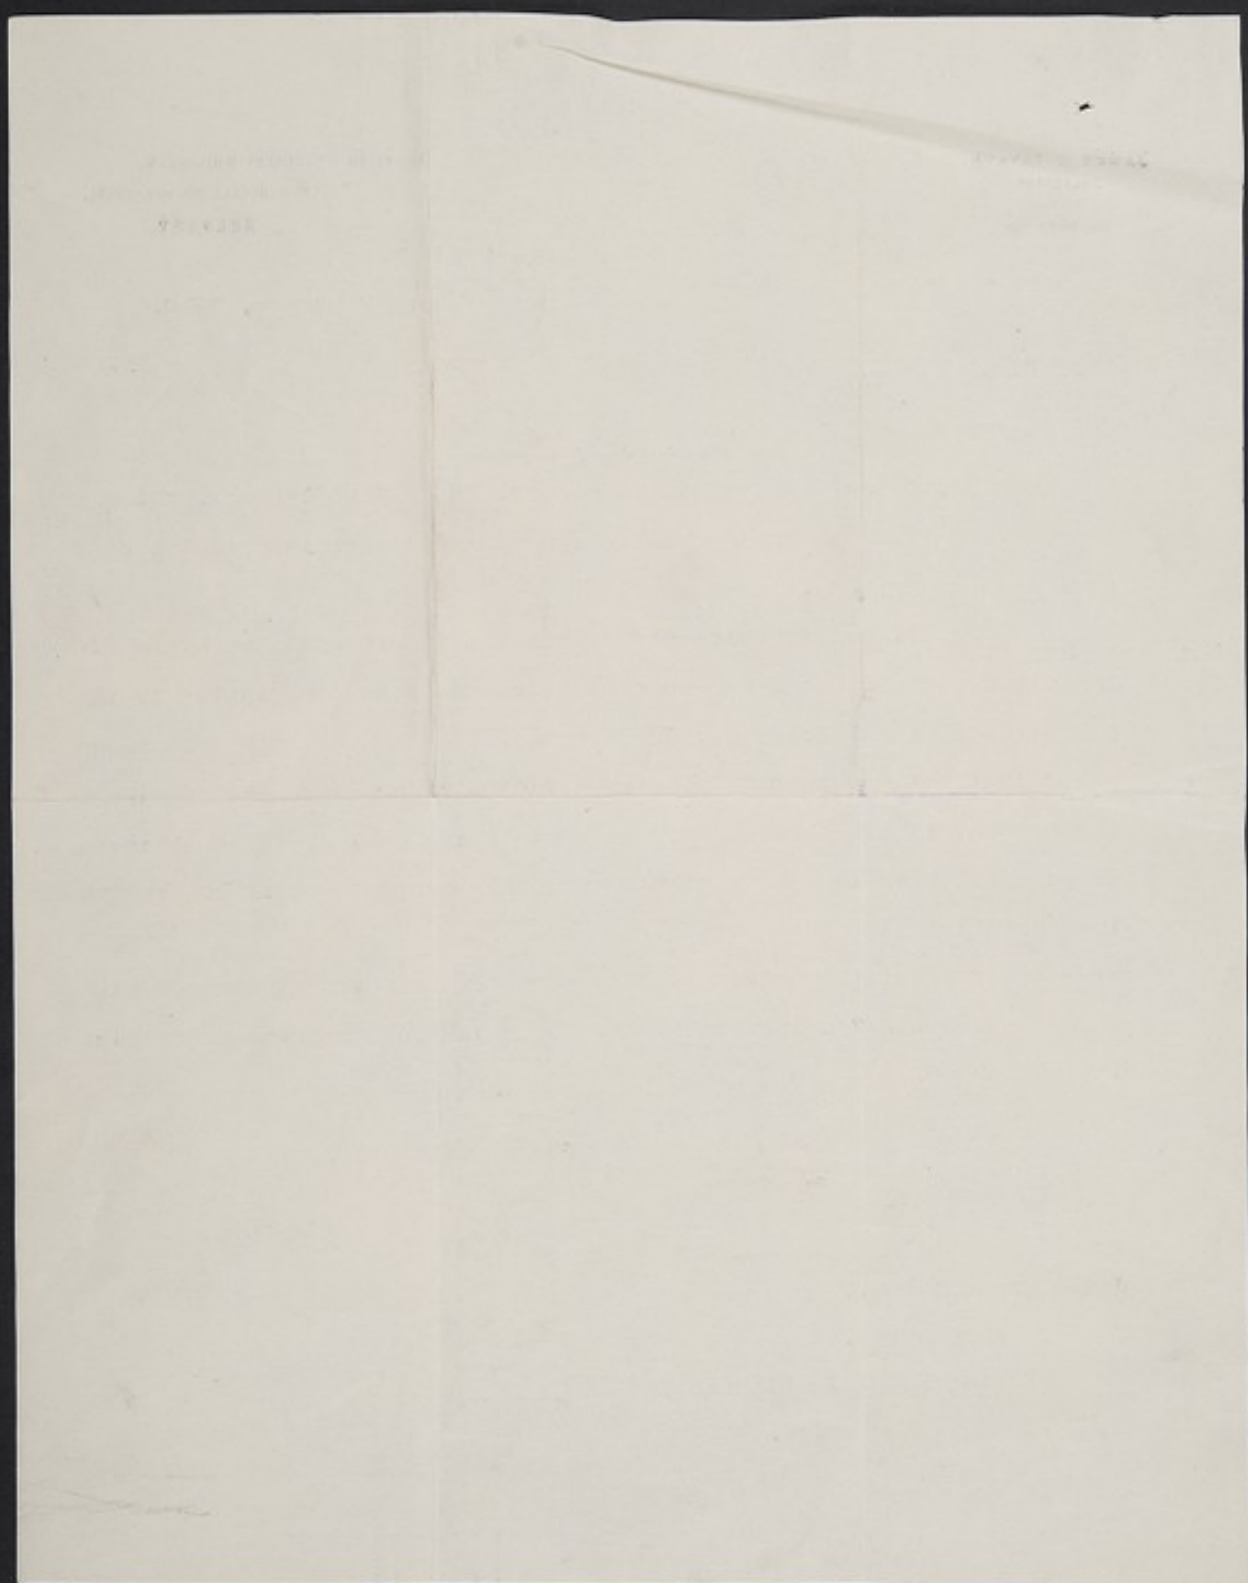

Mr. W. Gay is going abroad and I think it would be better if in future you will send any communications of this description to the Committee of the Estate, Mr. John Martyn. The latter has asked me to instruct you to purchase the articles referred to and furnish the account to him through me. In doing so I shall be obliged if you will bear in mind that the strictest economy has to be observed in connection with this estate.

I herewith enclose your account for the current quarter with cheque value £13/7/6 in settlement, for which you can send me receipt in due course.

Yours faithfully,

Dear Sir,

James Gay.

Mr. Martyn has handed me a letter which Mr. Willie Gay has received from the above named, asking him to go to Dumfries to take him away from your institution.

There is a foot note to the letter signed by Dr. Wallace, and stating that the Doctor did not advise Mr. Gay to leave the institution, but that Mr. Gay could do so after giving three days notice to that effect.

I shall be obliged if you will give me a report as to Mr. Gay's condition, so that if necessary my client could place the matter before the Lord Chancellor.

wire me if Mr Gay gives notice

You will, of course,

Dear Sir,

One of our employees, George Hamilton, was in your excellent institution some six years ago & received so much benefit by the treatment that he resumed his work shortly after leaving, & has continued with us until a week ago. The nervous debility from which he formerly suffered has shown symptoms of returning, and his people are getting anxious about him.

He wd like himself to return to yr institution for at least a quarter and try the treatment again. Can you find an opening for him? Last time £10 per quarter was paid for him. I forget what precise steps had to be taken last time in the event of yr finding an opening for him, but you will guide us. I may say the Doctor approves of the course.

Dear Sir,

Enclosed please find inquiry form filled up. Tell he met with the accident to his arble patient was a sober hardworking man always in the open air. He used to buy & sell cattle in a small way & by thrift saved a little money. Some of this he appears to have lent & as far as his friends know without proper security. He was very secretive about his private affairs apparently his friends do not know the names of his debtors nor the amounts they owe. No doubt this has preyed on his mind latterly.

He has latterly taken it into his head that he was going to die & he has been studying his prayer book too much. I could not get him to read or interest himself in any thing about the house or the work of the little dairy. Constipation has been very troublesome too & I'm afraid, from their having so many things to attend to, his friends did not look after him so well as was desirable. I think he may have some suicidal tendencies: he took an idea the day before leaving to go up the street in the direction of the Sea a direction in which he never went when well owing to his retreating disposition.

He also appeared anxious to get on to the railway which runs behind their yard but he did not get the chance of going alone.
Then he appears to have made an attempt to suffocate himself in bed with the clothes. He told me so himself some time after & he said he had injured "his swallows" permanently ^{that} ~~and~~ he could not take food in consequence.
He has had no serious illness at any time that I know of; certainly none during the last 10 years.
There is a small amount of albumen in the urine; I should have tested for sugar also but did not.
For some time he has had so many complaints - a new one every day - that it was difficult to distinguish whether they were genuine & a good many certainly were imaginary.

If there is any further information you desire I will be glad to supply it.

I am
yours faithfully
J. L. Hopp.

20 WELL ROAD
MOFFAT

Sept 22. 08.

Dear Dr Wallace

Many thanks for your letter about Brydon. I return the form filled up.

I hope it contains most of what you want.

I answered some of the questions on the form, the others on the annexed sheet.

The father evidently wanted to make the best of things but I think that for some time they have always dreaded another outbreak.

They were afraid to ask friends to the house, & evidently feared crossing Brydon in any way.

I should be very glad to hear how he is getting on as his parents are very anxious about him.

MOFFAT

8. The father ascribes ^{epileptic} the first fit to a blow with a stone 13 years ago, but the first fit did not occur for $1\frac{1}{2}$ - 2 years after the blow. The father says there is still the mark above the eye.

9 & 10.
9. Brydon was at a show with merry-go-rounds etc a week before the attack. He came back very excited & had two slight fits. On Sunday he threatened to ~~slay~~ ^{slay} a glass at his mother. His father & mother lay down in their clothes as they were afraid he might do something. He was pretty well till Friday night when he complained of pain in the bowels & vomiting. His parents again did not undress.

He was all right on Saturday & was sometimes 3 or 4 months interval.

I don't know where to put the following:-

18 months ago he told his sister to left potatoes with a spoon instead of a fork. As she did not do it he got up & she ran out of the house. He locked the door Her mother followed. He locked the door & his parents stayed out all night. Next morning he was very abusive till his father spoke to him. Since then he has been polite.

He has had epileptic fits since 14 or 15, about one a week. They have gradually become less frequent & less severe. For the last 3 or 4 years they have always been a bright, with working. He fell asleep about 8, woke up about 8.30 groaning, went upstairs to bed. $\frac{1}{4}$ hr later he was groaning more his father went up to tell him to keep quiet. He rose up in bed & threatened him & very soon he came down. His parents went out & when they went to go in again he locked & barricaded the door & armed himself with an axe & poker.

The door had to be broken open & Brydon overpowered.

11. His father says he had an enormous appetite, but that he would spit out a mouthful for no reason.

He also says he was always dosing himself with gregory or castor oil unnecessarily.

Special Points of Hereditary History:-

No mental trouble in Family: Father says "I myself had a breakdown about 27 years ago, I worked myself clear of it. I was probably in a low state of health - altho' I always had my wits about me."

Patient's Paternal Grandmother, also his maternal Grandfather had strokes of paralysis when bet. 60-70 years of age & died from that no epilepsy, cancer, consumption or gonorrhea. Pat. Grandmother was troubled with rheumatism; Father is probably litigious, (been involved in lawsuits)

Patient's mother has been laid up last 20 years "should think it was due to heavy labours". She hasn't been able to sit upright - has displacement of the womb". There are 3 girls & 1 boy in family - girls all healthy. Patient is the 2nd oldest. Mrs. Stillson used to lecture on Temperance & was prominent in Women's Liberal Association.

mental enfeeblement.

For a week or two he slept badly apparently trying to keep awake under

There has been little change in his mental state during his stay here, although he is now sleeping well, and able to do a little work outside, such as helping to pull the mowers. He is still however impulsive, restless and inclined to interfere with other patients.

His physical condition has improved considerably and he has admission.

Dear Sir,

Mr. Macvie left this forenoon and I trust he will be none the worse of the journey. His wife decided to accompany him to Dumfries so you will get any further information regarding his family history from her.

X The present outbreak started about eight weeks ago, since when he has been nipping almost constantly and ending as the former ones have done with an epileptiform seizure followed by a state of collapse such as you now see him. The jaundice came on a few days ago, which is the first attack of the kind he has had. It may be well to note that his left shoulder has a habit of coming out of joint whenever he stumbles.

Dear Dr. Easterbrook,

I am greatly obliged to you for your kind letter regarding John Purdes. It is rather more than six years since I came to Winton, & I have had numberless opportunities to note that Purdes is naturally reticent & suspicious.
For some time after he was placed under your care, he

Among others, Purdes imagined that the people of the district believed the girl to be pregnant. He assured me that if this were the case, he could not possibly be the father of the child, but nevertheless, he suspected that the girl's father was about to raise an action for breach of promise against him. Mr Purdes tells me that a recent letter forwarded to John contained a casual reference to his sweetheart's family. Do you think this can possibly account for his silence?

the great disappointment of his father, there has been no more than a week. In this connection, I may remark that before his eccentricities assumed a morbid shape,

I wish he could be induced to

Sir.

As far as I can piece circumstances together, the occurrence at Moffat was on the 14th November but I am not positive; neither do I know how long I was at Moffat but fancy it was the day following that I was removed to Dumfries.

The Police or the Medical Officers of the Court would be able to give the correct dates.

If you would kindly allow me to proceed to the 34th Reg^t District ^{hospital} on the 15th prox, I could pass the Doctor the following day (Sunday) & get the Form completed & signed by the Commanding Offr. on the Monday & proceed direct to London.

I will have sufficient money to keep me until embarking at Southampton for India.

I am sure you will do what you can
