UNIVERSITY COLLEGE HOSPITAL DENTAL SCHOOL.

(NATIONAL DENTAL HOSPITAL.)

Great Portland Street, London, W.1. (Teleph., Langham 1001.)

Established 1861.

Anæsthet., C. J. Ogle, J. Maughan, C. T. W. Hirsch, R. Wade, S. Hutchinson, R. R. Watts; Dent. Surgs., A. E. Relph, A. B. G. Underwood, J. L. D. Buxton, A. T. Barritt, S. H. Olver, G. Jack, B. Samuel, B. Mendleson, A. Shefford.

The National Dental Hospital was established in 1861; the College in May, 1877; removed to corner of Devonshire Street in October, 1893, and became University College Hospital Dental School in 1914. The Building contains a Students' Common Room, a Mechanical Laboratory with room for thirty benches, and Stopping Rooms with accommodation for thirty chairs.

The Hospital is open for the reception of patients every week day from nine till eleven o'clock a.m.; the House Surgeons are in attendance until one o'clock. Clinical Demonstrations are given by the Medical Officers on cases of particular interest; also Demonstrations upon the Preparing and Filling of Cavities, and other operations upon the Teeth and contiguous parts. Each student on entering passes through a preliminary course under the care of a Demonstrator. Students are entered as Students of University College Hospital and, as such, attend the Classes in Anatomy & Physiology in University College, which is a few minutes' walk from the Dental Department in Great Portland Street. They thus enjoy the same educational & social advantages as the other students of University College Hospital.

Dental Anatomy & Physiology, A. B. G. Underwood. Dental Surgery & Pathology, J. L. Dudley Buxton. Dental Mechanics, S. H. Olver. Bacteriology of the Mouth, K. W. Goadby. Orthodontics, B. B. Samuel. Anæsthetics, A Course of Lectures is given by one of the Anæsthetists. Demonstrators, C. Stacey, J. J. Chiappa-Sinclair, S. Fisk. Tutor, A. B. G. Underwood.

Sub-Dean for Dental Students, A. B. G. Underwood.

Clerk, M. P. Collings.

For further particulars, see p. 254.

BIRMINGHAM UNIVERSITY DENTAL DEPARTMENT.

LECTURERS:—Dent. Surg., W. T. Madin; Dent. Anat. & Physiol., H. F. Humphreys; Dent. Mechan., A. E. Donagan; Dent. Histol. & Path., A. W. Wellings; Orthodon., G. F. C. Matthews; Dent. Metall., T. Turner; Med. for Dent. Students, L. Ball; Surg. for Dent. Students, A. Lucas; Dent. Mat. Med. & Therap., F. W. Richards; Dent. Bact., R. A. Broderick.

The School of Dentistry, in conjunction with the General, Queen's and Dental Hospitals, affords a complete curriculum for the Dental Diplomas and Dental Degrees of the University and all other Licensing Bodies. For further information apply to the Dean of the Medical Faculty, University, Edmund St., Birmingham, or to the Dean of the Dental Hospital, Gt. Charles St., Birmingham.

UNIVERSITY OF BRISTOL (Dental Department).

The Curriculum of the University leads up to the Degrees of B.D.S. and M.D.S., and to the qualification of L.D.S. of the University, and is equally available for degrees and diplomas elsewhere. Both courses and qualifications are open to men and women alike. The Curriculum for L.D.S. extends over four years from date of passing Examination in Physics and Chemistry.

Clinical and Operative instruction is given in the Dental Departments of the Bristol Royal Infirmary and the Bristol General Hospital by the members of their Dental staffs. A Dental House-Surgeon is in continuous daily attendance at both Institutions for instruction in Prosthetics.

The University possesses ample laboratories of Mechanical Dentistry and Dental Metallurgy, in which the students are instructed by skilled teachers.

For additional particulars apply to Professor Edward Fawcett, M.D., F.R.S., Dean. (See also p. 254.)

LEEDS UNIVERSITY SCHOOL OF DENTISTRY.

The School provides full dental training and clinical instruction for students of the University. The courses of study are especially designed to meet the requirements of the examinations for the Degree and the Diploma in Dental Surgery of the University of Leeds, although students are trained in preparation for the examinations of other licensing bodies.

The Dental Hospital is carried on within the walls of the General Infirmary, and ample material is available for practice in all the branches of dental surgery and dental prosthesis. The close association of the work of the Dental Hospital with that of the General Infirmary enables a fuller insight into the position dental surgery holds in relation to general medicine and surgery, especially with regard to the major diseases and injuries of the head and neck.

Special courses are held in Dental Radiography, in Orthodontics (in conjunction with the local education authority), in General and Local Anæsthetics, and in Prosthetics.

Prizes are offered annually for competition amongst the pupils and students in their respective years.

For prospectus and information as to fees, etc., application should be made to the Warden, School of Dentistry, the University, Leeds.
