PREFACE.

The Buxton mineral water is discharged from several openings in very large quantities, at the temperature of 82 degrees, Farenheit. It is charged with nitrogen gas in, probably, a larger degree than any other mineral water; being estimated by Dr. Lyon Playfair to contain at the moment of issue no less than 206 cubic inches of nitrogen gas per gallon; and by Dr. Sheridan Muspratt, the most recent analyst, to contain no less than 504 cubic inches per gallon. This gas is presented in water, which has, otherwise, alkaline, earthy, and saline properties, and is remarkably detergent and softening to the skin when used as a bath; while it is free from odour or disagreeable taste, is clear and bright in its appearance, and of a singularly beautiful faintly blue colour.

The medicinal action of the water, whether used as baths, or drank, has been from time immemorial known to be great in relieving or curing all conditions of a rheumatic or gouty character. It is stated by Dr. Jones, so long ago as in the year 1572, that it was then used for the relief of the same ailments as it is at the present time.

Dr. Jones says, that, in his time, Buxton was much resorted to by poor afflicted persons; and towards the end of the sixteenth century, this was considered to be so serious an injury by the inhabitants of the adjoining chapelry of Fairfield as to render them unable to provide funds for the maintenance of their chaplain, by reason of the urgent and continual claims of the many poor sufferers resorting to the Buxton Baths, as set forth in a petition on this matter addressed by them to Queen Elizabeth. These poor persons had been from time immemorial so far aided, as to have had gratuitous baths of the mineral water provided for them; and there seems to have been a fund called the "Treasury of the Bath," by which their pecuniary necessities were more or less ministered to. Dr. Jones writes, in reference to this fund, what may be quoted in this place; "If any think this magisterial imposing on people's pockets, let them consider their abilities and the sick poor's necessities, and think whether they do not in idle pastimes throw away in vain twice as much yearly; it may entail the blessings of them who are ready to perish upon you, and will afford a pleasant after reflection. God has given you physic for nothing; let the poor and afflicted (it may be members of Christ) have a little of your money,—it may be the better for your own health: Heaven might have put them in your room and you in theirs; then a supply would have been acceptable to you."

Beyond this somewhat vague earlier history, there is no record of the Buxton Bath Charity until the year 1785, of which date there is extant a document, apparently an annual report of the Institution; from which time the use of the baths and waters and pecuniary aid had been regularly given to the poor patients until the year 1859, when the Devonshire Hospital was provided for the reception of the patients.

It has been gathered from the annual reports that in the eighteen years from 1820, 14,906 patients were admitted to the benefits of the Charity, of which number 12,608 were discharged as cured or much relieved.

In the twenty following years, from 1838 to 1858, 23,319 patients were admitted; and of these, 16,575 were cured or much relieved; 5,859 were relieved in some degree; and 885 were no better at the time of discharge.

The Devonshire Hospital was opened for the reception of the patients of the Charity in the year 1859. It is the successful result of the conversion of a very extensive range of building, erected and used as stables since the commencement of the present century. The structure, which is of important and substantial character, surrounds a parterre of considerable extent, and contains a colonnade of handsome proportions, is situated on a commanding eminence, presenting views of the town and valley of Buxton, and is near to the baths, the railway stations, and the principal buildings.

From the year 1820, then, to the beginning of September, 1858, when the Hospital was opened, or in 38 years, the Institution had received 38,225 patients; of which number, 35,042 were beneficially treated, and 2,183 were very partially if at all relieved. During those 38 years the Buxton Bath Charity received, on an average, upwards of 1,000 patients every year, and afforded cure or marked relief to 922 of that number. To a very large proportion of this important number of poor sufferers, chiefly from chronic rheumatism, the Charity gave a weekly allowance of 6s. during their stay in Buxton, in addition to all other benefits; until the funds became so seriously impaired, that the weekly money allowance was necessarily reduced to 5s., at which sum it remained until the opening of the Hospital. From the time of reducing the weekly money allowance, the pecuniary prosperity of the Buxton Bath Charity may be dated. The funds accumulated year by year, until the time of rebuilding the Buxton baths on the part of the Duke of Devonshire, when a capital of nearly £3,000 had been gathered together by the scrupulous management of the Trustees. The names may be mentioned, first and particularly, of Bishop Spencer, at one time Trustee and Incumbent of Buxton, and more recently one of the Vice-Presidents of the Hospital; of Mr. Heacock and Mr. Smithers, its successive Treasurers; and of Sir Charles Scudamore, Mr. Page, Mr. Cumming, and Dr. Carstairs,—as being no longer alive to witness and take part in the present development of the Charity; and also in order of seniority as to connection with the Institution, of Dr. Robertson, the Hon. and Rev. F. R. Grey, Mr. Darwin, and the Rev. R. P. Hull Brown, as still living to rejoice in the well-doing of the Buxton Charity and its Hospital. Of these £3,000, £500 was judiciously expended on the rebuilding of the Charity Natural Baths; the large remaining sum which those baths cost, and the whole cost of the Hot Baths of the Charity, having been paid by the munificence of the late Duke of Devonshire. Again, in 1853-54, when the proposal of an hospital to receive patients of the Institution was brought before the public by Mr. Smithers and the other Trustees, the sum of £1,000 from the accumulated fund was given towards the Hospital; leaving a residue of £1,500 consols, which sum remains thus invested. (See Estate Account.)

The history and doings of the Buxton Bath Charity have thus been summarily brought down to the time of forming the Hospital, the expenses of which were defrayed by the individual and collective liberality of the Trustees; by special subscriptions from the public; by the proceeds of a bazaar, that was bountifully supplied and supported, &c.,—a total sum of £6,000 having been thus got together, and expended on the conversion of this valuable building to hospital purposes. This conversion, with its anxious details and successful results, was mainly due to the untiring exertions of the late Mr. Wilmot, aided by the architectural skill of Mr. H. Currey, and the liberal consideration of the late Duke of Devonshire.

It forms an interesting episode in this history, that, in the winter of 1862-63, during what will be long remembered as the Cotton Famine, a special fund was obtained, chiefly by the exertions of the late Mr. Wilmot; and 100 young women, under 30 years of age, selected by the Relief Committees of their respective towns, as being most likely to be benefitted by the change of air and the comforts of the Hospital, were received, and taken care of, as to food, and as to medicines, and restored to their homes in the subsequent spring, with renovated health and strength, and full of gratitude for what they had received. The balance of the subscriptions, amounting with interest to £256, was invested as a separate fund for ever, to enable poor female operatives from factory towns to be received into the Hospital. This fund may be increased by special donations.

A very important circumstance in the history of the Hospital is, that the grounds in front of it have been, with much kind consideration, made over to the Institution, on the part of the Duke of Devonshire, at a nominal rent; maintaining the detached position of the building, enhancing its appearance, and adding to the out-of-door advantages of the patients.

The building is the property of his Grace the Duke of Devonshire; and the conversion of it to the use of the Hospital for ever, on the payment of the rent of £5 yearly, was benevolently granted by the late Duke of Devonshire, as testified on the stone over the principal entrance, on which is inscribed: "The last munificent Charity of William Spencer, 6th Duke of Devonshire, K.G., who allowed these buildings to be converted to the use of the sick poor, January, A.D. 1858." A considerable sum of money that had been collected for the construction of the Hospital was expended upon the work. The walls and roof of the structure were fortunately found to be in good preservation; the interior was entirely removed and re-arranged; the sub-soil carefully taken away; and about two-thirds of the building occupied for the purposes of the Hospital, by a chaplain's house, a dispensary and dispenser's apartments, a house for the master and matron, kitchen, day-rooms, dining-hall, and spacious dormitories affording separate beds for 120 patients, in addition to the beds provided for cases of accident, and in addition to the rooms required for the servants of the establishment.

During the year 1868, a legal Conveyance of the buildings and grounds of the Hospital was given to the Trustees by the present Duke of Devonshire, as stated in the Report of the Committee of Management, at the nominal rent of five shillings yearly, on the condition that they shall be used exclusively for the purposes of the Charity.

During the eleven years since the Hospital was opened, there have been 12,226 patients under treatment, of which number 10,776 have been treated beneficially; and 1,516, or about one-eighth of the whole, were not suffering from any of the forms of rheumatism, but were such cases as are ordinarily met with in hospitals. On the average of the eleven years, the patients remained under treatment 24.6 days; and 10,710 cases of rheumatism, embracing every conceivable variety of this obstinate disease, were thus extensively relieved by the remedial agency of the Buxton mineral waters.

This prefatory account has seemed to be needful for the information of those not already acquainted with the nature and merits of this Institution.

W. H. R.

Report of the Committee of Management For the Year 1869.

The Committee are most thankful to be again enabled to report that the Hospital has not only maintained its character for usefulness and efficiency during the past year, but has been useful in even a greater degree, and to a somewhat larger number of Patients, than was detailed in the Report for the year 1868.

The number of In-Patients admitted during the year 1869 was 1,215, or 11 more than in 1868, or 85 more than in 1867, or 91 more than in 1866, or 123 more than in 1865, or 230 more than in 1864, or 341 more than in 1863. Of the 1,215 In-Patients, 1,074 have been beneficially treated, 95 were no better at the time of discharge, 3 died, 12 were discharged at their own request, 3 cases were found to be unfitted for the Hospital, 10 were discharged for breach of rules, and 18 remained on the books at the end of the year.

The number of Out-Patients admitted during the year was 246, or 13 more than in 1868, of whom 189 were beneficially treated, 24 were no better at the time of discharge, 31 left without having been discharged, and 2 remained on the books at the end of the year.

The average number of Patients daily in the Hospital throughout the year has been as 76 and one-tenth; and the average number of days in the Hospital of every In-Patient has been as 22 and eight-tenths. These averages are rather below the averages of the preceding year, which is probably referable to the circumstance that in the month of September when the demands upon the Hospital were very great, one of the Patients was found to be suffering from scarlet fever, necessitating an entire isolation and the disuse of all the other beds in one of the wards during eight weeks, equivalent to a loss of 8 beds in the Hospital. By the rigorous system of isolation, and the free use of disinfectants, the immunity from infection of the other inmates of the Hospital was secured.

The average cost of every In-Patient has been £1 12s. 9½d. per three weeks, or 1s. 4½d. less than the previous year; and the average cost per head per diem has been 1s. 6½d., or ¾d. less than the previous year.

The disadvantage which has been constantly brought under notice in these reports, that a comparatively small number of Patients are sent to the Hospital by the Subscribers during certain months of the year, still presses disadvantageously on its power of usefulness; and one-third of the beds are practically empty during the year, inasmuch as there are only from 12 to 30 Patients in the Hospital during the winter months, although from 100 to 200 Patients have to wait for vacancies at other times of the year, and sometimes have to wait during six weeks or two months. It does seem to be a matter for serious regret in the interests of Patients, that they should not be sent in equal proportions at all times of the year, to a house which is well-built, well-warmed, well-ventilated, which affords every convenience and comfort which could be wished, and which is situated in a locality possessing sanitary advantages of the highest character; and whereas the baths and waters of Buxton are known to be quite as influential in relieving rheumatism and its allied ailments during the winter as at any other time. Moreover, during the last summer, there was so great a pressure on the baths and waters of Buxton, as to render it impossible at one period to provide baths of the artificially heated mineral water for all applicants; and the number of baths permitted to the use of the Patients of the Hospital had to be limited, during two or three weeks, for the first time in the history of Buxton or of this Hospital. It is reasonably urged that with these facts before them, the Subscribers who can do so should either use their powers of recommendation before the middle of July, or withhold them as far as possible until after the middle of September, so as to equalise the operations of the Hospital, and possibly to extend its operations; and so as to lessen the risk of interference with the general interest of Buxton and its invalided visitors.

The cost of the Patients' diet, &c., requires the explanation that it is owing to an unrestricted allowance of animal food of the best quality at dinner every day, and to the general excellence of the food which is provided. The large amount of benefit afforded to the Patients must be partly referred to the aid thus given to the medicinal effect of the air of the mountain limestone, and to the restorative and curative power of the nitrogenous and saline thermal waters. The majority of the Patients, it cannot be too often repeated, are not only relieved from rheumatism, and the wearing and disabling consequences of the disease, but are sent back to their several homes and occupations in a condition as to health and strength much better fitted to perform their labours and earn the means of subsistence for themselves and their families. And it should be again and again stated that the returns of relief afforded by the Hospital—large and important as these returns are—represent very inadequately the amount of benefit that is eventually derived. As a rule the Patients are placed at so great an advantage as to strength, and ailment, and power of restoration, that they continue to become less and less invalided for a considerable time after leaving the Hospital. The returns would in general represent a much greater result if they were obtainable six months after the Patients have left the Institution.

The financial position of the Hospital at the end of the year is a matter for much thankfulness and hope. There has been a larger receipt from Annual Subscriptions, amounting to £89 4s., than in the year 1868, and amounting to £193 14s. more than in 1867. The receipts from Casual Subscriptions have been £44 12s. less than in 1868, but were somewhat in advance of 1867. The Donations received at the Hospital, as well as those received through the kind agency of the Hotels and Lodging-Houses of Buxton, are larger than they were in 1868. The amount of the Collections after sermons preached on behalf of the Hospital in churches and chapels is greater than in the previous year by £43 1s. 1d.

In addition to the legacies mentioned in the last Report, and either then recently paid or since paid, a legacy of £100 free from legacy duty, has been received under the will of Mrs. J. A. Pearson, the widow of a gentleman who was formerly one of the surgeons of the Hospital; and also a legacy of £45, under the will of Mrs. Ann Greenwood.

The whole of the legacies which have been received, and as much as could be spared from the other receipts, have been promptly invested in consols, to provide for the liabilities under the powers of recommendation possessed by the Life Subscribers, amounting to 283 recommendations, involving a possible outlay, if incurred, amounting to more than £450 per annum. There is moreover a liability to Annual Subscribers of 11s. 9½d. beyond the guinea subscribed, representing a liability of more than £750 per annum. It need not be said that such a liability of more than £1,200 is not likely to be incurred in its full extent. But the possibility justifies the wish on the part of the Committee of Management to be enabled to add to the invested money, until the future solvency of the Institution shall have been placed upon as secure a basis as may be attainable. The statement, moreover, justifies caution as to any extension of privileges of recommendation beyond those already allowed, until a larger amount of invested capital is secured. The Committee has been urged to extend the privileges of recommendation to the presidents at the public tables of the Hotels and Lodging-Houses of Buxton, They will be glad to adopt any such suggestions as soon as the investments are large enough to justify such a course.

The establishment of the Dispensary in the Hospital continues to furnish satisfactory financial results. In addition to valuable assistance given by the Dispenser to the Secretary in the office during any greater pressure of office work, and in addition to the usefulness of the Dispenser as Clerk to the members of the Medical Staff during their visits, the total cost of the Dispensary during the year, including the salary and board of the Dispenser, has been only £124 10s. 9d., or as 2s. 0½d. per patient; 5,394 prescriptions having been dispensed, at an average cost of 5½d. per prescription: a clear gain of £48 7s. 9d. having been thus obtained, in addition to more prompt service, and other sufficiently obvious advantages. The Dispenser has, moreover, performed very satisfactorily, as a gratuitous labour, the duties of Meteorologist to the Hospital; the records are published without charge in many influential public journals, with the immediate result of a useful publicity to the Hospital; and the probable ulterior gain of a valuable recognition of the merits of Buxton and its district as an inland and upland sanatorium of important character. The midland situation of the Hospital, nearly midway between the Mersey and the Humber, almost in the centre of the mountain elevations of secondary limestone and millstone grit, and at the height of some thousand feet above the level of the sea, may be expected to render this one of the most interesting and important meteorological stations in the kingdom.

The Committee have to mention with great regret the loss by death of the amiable and benevolent noble President of the Hospital, the Marquis of Westminster. A benefactor to its building fund, and the munificent donor of large sums of money during several successive years, and shewing in many ways much interest in the advancing usefulness of the Hospital, it is difficult to say too much in this Report as to the loss which the death of Lord Westminster has occasioned to the general interests of the Institution. It is a great satisfaction to the Committee to have been kindly permitted by Lord Overstone to place him in the important position of President of the Hospital.

Dr. Robertson has been again unanimously re-elected Chairman of the Board of Trustees and of the Managing Committee of the Hospital.

Mr. Samuel Turner has been again unanimously re-elected Treasurer to the Hospital.

The members of the House Committee have been again unanimously re-elected.

Mr. James Wardley and Mr. John Dawn have been unanimously re-elected Auditors for the year.

The thanks of the Committee are hereby tendered to those Clergymen and Ministers who have allowed sermons to be preached and collections made in their churches and chapels on behalf of the Hospital, and also to the Clergymen and Ministers who have preached the sermons. It is anxiously felt that, while gratitude is due to those who have thus helped the Institution, the number of instances of such kind consideration might be reasonably expected to be multiplied many times, and more especially in the neighbouring towns and districts, and in those great industrial centres from which a large proportion of the Patients of the Institution are sent. While attention is called to the condition that a Subscriber's recommendation is given in return for every such collection as amounts to three pounds, or upwards, it is necessary to mention the stipulation that such collections, or any part of them, should not be sent as ordinary subscriptions, and involve a power of recommendation as if from individual Subscribers. Such a power would place the finances of the Hospital in serious danger, and will be generally admitted to be unreasonable.

The thanks of the Committee are hereby tendered to the proprietors of the Hotels and Lodging-houses of Buxton, and also to the Presidents at the public tables of the several Hotels, who have exerted themselves to obtain support for the Hospital. The powers of the Institution depend much on these exertions. The interests of Buxton are so greatly promoted by the prosperity and usefulness of the Hospital, that the claims of the Institution are urged upon the inhabitants as being identical with the interests of the town.

The thanks of the Committee are hereby tendered to the proprietors of the newspapers, in which the weekly reports and the meteorological reports from the Hospital are inserted. In no way can the interests of the Charity be more effectually promoted.

The thanks of the Committee are hereby tendered to the ladies and gentlemen who have acted as visitors to the Hospital during the several months of the year. The value of such services may be obviously very important. It is hoped that it will be increasingly felt that these official visits should be frequent—not less frequent than once a week—and that the visits should not be of merely formal character, but that the details of household management should be inquired into at the visits, and any suggestions and remarks should be entered in the book kept for the purpose.

The thanks of the Committee are hereby tendered to the members of the Medical Staff for their arduous and gratuitous services to the Hospital. Any adequate pecuniary compensation for these services must be always beyond the means of the Institution, and would probably not be received from the Charity if it could be offered. The duties of the Medical Staff become more onerous year by year, as the work of the Hospital increases, and as the character of the cases becomes more severe in consequence of the railway facilities, cases of aggravated character being now sent to the Hospital which could not have borne the fatigue of travelling otherwise than by railway. It is only right that the additional duty thus imposed upon the members of the Medical Staff should be gratefully acknowledged.

The thanks of the Committee are hereby tendered to the Treasurer, to the Auditors, to the Chaplain, and to the various Officials, whether honorary or otherwise, who in their several capacities have served the Hospital most satisfactorily during the year. The Secretary, the Dispenser, and the Master and Matron, deserve, and are hereby offered, the thanks of the Committee of Management.

The great importance of legacies and donations, as contributions to the funds of the Hospital without consequent pecuniary liability, is again urged by the Committee upon the friends and well-wishers of this charitable Institution. Financial stability, if not as necessary in the case of public charities as it is in ordinary commercial undertakings, is of constant value and importance in the details of management, enables the best markets to be had recourse to, empowers prompt payments with all their immediate and contingent advantages, and justifies additions and improvements whenever suggested to be made without doubt or delay. The advantages of such a condition of pecuniary competence are so obvious, that it may seem to be hardly necessary to have stated them, were it not that an opposite opinion is expressed from time to time as a plea for lax regulations.

It will be noticed that the Annual Meeting of Subscribers is to be held on the first Saturday in April, at three o'clock in the afternoon. It is wished that the later period of the year may induce some of the Subscribers who reside at a distance from Buxton to attend the meeting.

The Statement is submitted of receipts and expenditure for the year ending December 31st, 1869, and also of the Estate Account, and general Balance Sheet; together with the annual statement of the Wilmot Relief Fund Account.

There is a nucleus for a Samaritan Fund, kindly contributed by Mr. Challis and Miss Hall, intended for the relief of urgent cases of distress on being discharged from the Hospital, the interest or the principal of which might be available at the discretion of the officials, under the authority of the House Committee. Such a fund has been found to be very valuable in other institutions, and might be wisely increased to such a degree as to supply from the interest of a small capitalised fund a very useful means of relief to necessitous cases.

THIS INDENTURE, made the 22nd day of June, 1868, between the Most Noble William, Duke of Devonshire, of the first part; and William Henry Robertson, of the Square, Buxton, in the county of Derby, M.D.; Reginald Darwin, of Fern, Buxton, aforesaid, Esq.; William Parker Shipton, of the Square, Buxton, aforesaid, surgeon; Samuel Turner, of Sylvan Park, Buxton, aforesaid, surveyor; John Milligan, of Winster Place, Buxton, aforesaid, draper; Robert Rippon Duke, of Spring Gardens, Buxton, aforesaid, surveyor; Robert Bennet, of Hardwick Street, Buxton, aforesaid, M.D.; Thomas Dickson, of Wye House, Buxton, aforesaid, M.D.; Robert Broome, of Burbage, near Buxton, aforesaid, Esq.; Marmaduke Walter Vavasour, of North Wood House, Buxton, aforesaid, Esq.; Edward Levett Darwin, of the Park, Buxton, aforesaid, Esq.; John William Taylor, of Hardwick Terrace, Buxton, aforesaid, Esq.; Frederick Turner, of the Quadrant, Buxton aforesaid, surgeon; Francis Kennedy Dickson, of the Square, Buxton, aforesaid, physician; the Rev. And it is hereby declared that if the Trustees hereby constituted, or any or either of them, or any Trustee or Trustees, appointed as hereinafter provided, shall die, or desire to be discharged, or refuse or become incapable to act, then, and in every such case, it shall be lawful for the surviving or continuing Trustees or Trustee for the time being, and for this purpose refusing or retiring Trustees shall, if willing to act in the exercise of this power, be considered continuing Trustees, or for the acting executors or administrators of the last surviving or continuing Trustee, to appoint a new Trustee, or Trustees, in the place of the Trustee, or Trustees, so dying, or desiring to be discharged, or refusing or becoming incapable to act as aforesaid, and upon any such occasion, if it should be thought proper, the number of Trustees for the time being may be reduced, but so that the number of the surviving or continuing Trustees, together with the new Trustees, shall not be less than five; and upon every such appointment the trust estate shall be so conveyed that the same may be vested in the surviving or continuing Trustee, or Trustees, jointly with such new Trustee or Trustees, or in such new Trustee or Trustees solely, as the case may require. Provided, nevertheless, that no person shall be appointed a Trustee under the preceding power who is not a member of the Committee of Management, for the time being, of the said Hospital. And this Indenture also witnesseth that the said parties hereto of the second part do hereby, for themselves, their heirs, executors, administrators and assigns, covenant with the said William, Duke of Devonshire, his heirs, executors, administrators, and assigns, that they, the said parties hereto of the second part, their heirs or assigns, shall not nor will, without the previous consent in writing of the said William, Duke of Devonshire, his heirs or assigns, erect or build upon the premises hereby granted and conveyed any house or building whatsoever other than those now standing and being thereon; and will keep the buildings now standing and being thereon in good repair, and will keep in a condition similar to the present all such part of the said land as is now used for garden or pleasure grounds. In witness whereof the said parties to these presents have hereunto set their hands and seals, the day and year first above written.

The Meteorological Report for 1869,

FROM THE OBSERVATIONS TAKEN AT

THE DEVONSHIRE HOSPITAL, BUXTON.

THE BAROMETER.

The mean height of the barometer, reduced to the sea level and corrected for temperature to 32° F., is 29·851 inches. The barometer appeared at its maximum on the 6th of December, reading (unreduced) 29·517 in., accompanied by fog and south-easterly wind; and at its minimum on the 1st of February, reading (unreduced) 27·853 in., accompanied by heavy rain and wind from the south. The absolute range for the year being 1·664 in., and the monthly mean range 1·158 in.

TEMPERATURE.

The mean of the adopted monthly mean temperatures for the year 1869 is 45°6. The mean diurnal range of temperature is nearly 14°4, and the mean monthly range is 39°4. The temperature in the shade, the bulbs being raised 4 feet above the ground, was at its maximum on the 17th of July and on the 28th of August, 88° having been registered on each day; and at its minimum on the 2nd of December, when 11°, or 21° below the freezing point were recorded; the absolute annual range has, therefore, been 77°.

RADIATION.

The solar radiator, 4 feet above the ground, with blackened bulb, and exposed to the influence of the rays of the sun, registered as its maximum degree of heat 101°7 on the 26th of August. The reading of the terrestrial radiator, with the bulb half an inch above the grass, was at its minimum, 8°, on the 2nd of December. The difference between the two bulbs shows a range for the year of 93°7.

THE DEW POINT.

The mean temperature of the dew point for the year is 39°7.

HYGROMETRICAL CONDITION OF THE ATMOSPHERE.

The mean of the monthly results, deducible from the hygrometer, shows the degree of humidity to be ·737, assuming 1,000 as the maximum point of perfect saturation of the atmosphere with moisture.

THE WIND.

Wind from the westerly direction appears to have been most prevalent, after that, wind from the north, next from the south, and lastly from the east, and may be represented proportionately by their respective numbers, 12, 7, 6, and 5.

THE RAINFALL.

The rainfall at Buxton during the year 1869, amounting to 54·058 inches, was considerably below the average for the last five years, showing a diminution of 7·678 inches, or at least 767 tons weight of water less per statute acre, although the number of days on which rain fell exceeded the quinquennial average by 17. The greatest fall of rain in 24 hours, within the five years, happened on the 28th of July, 1866, and amounted to 2·513 inches, which was exactly half the amount of rainfall for the whole month. The amount of rainfall in 1869 was 12·171 inches, or 1,222 tons weight of rain less per acre than in 1868. The greatest fall of rain in 24 hours in 1869, was on the 15th of September, which measured 1,263 inches, or 121 tons weight of rain per statute acre. The number of days on which rain fell during the past year was 209. The total amount of rainfall on Axe Edge appears from the monthly readings to be 47·500 inches.

A curious deduction has been made by G. J. Symons, Esq., the author of the "British Rainfall," which may be interesting to many. He writes—"Assume a flower garden 22 yards square (1-10th of an acre), how many cans of water are required to equal half an inch of rain—a very moderate amount for a thunder shower? If the can hold four gallons (i.e. 40lbs. of water) it will require to be filled 282 times, or to put it in weight, five tons of water would have to be supplied."

Such notice to contain the name and age of the Patient.
- 7.—In-Patients are admitted into the Hospital every day between the hours of 9 a.m. and 6 p.m. (Sundays excepted.)
Out-Patients will be attended by one of the Medical Staff every Wednesday and Saturday, at 3 p.m.

General Rules and Regulations for Subscribers.

- 1.—A Donation of Twenty Guineas shall constitute a Subscriber for Life, with power to recommend One In or Four Out-Patients annually.
An Annual Subscription of One Guinea shall entitle a Subscriber to recommend One In or Four Out-Patients ; but no annual Subscriber shall send a Patient until he has been a Subscriber for at least three months ; nor until his Subscription for the current year is paid.
All Subscriptions shall be considered as due in advance on the 1st January in each year. Subscriptions not paid until after June 30th in each year, shall be considered to be in default, and shall not entitle to the recommendation of a patient unless by an extra payment of nine shillings. The Annual Subscription if paid before June 30th is One Guinea, as heretofore ; and if paid afterwards, Thirty Shillings. This does not apply to new subscribers.
- 2.—Persons, not being Subscribers, may recommend an In-Patient on payment of 30s., subject to the same rules as Patients recommended by Subscribers.
Subscribers of One Guinea per annum are allowed to send, in addition to the Patient eligible from the subscription, Three Out-Patients per annum, by paying 7s. with each.

Any Clergyman or Minister kindly preaching a Sermon or Sermons, on any one day, in aid of the Funds of the Hospital, and contributing therefrom not less than 3*l.*, shall be entitled to one In or four Out-Patients' recommendations.

No money shall be received as a Subscription which can in any way be regarded as the proceeds of any public collection, or offertory, in any place of worship; but all such sums shall be received as donations, with the privileges defined in this rule.

All Cheques and Post Office Orders to be made payable to the Treasurer, Mr. Samuel Turner, Sylvan Park, Buxton; or Subscriptions may be paid into the Sheffield and Rotherham Bank, Buxton.
