PREFACE.

The Buxton mineral water is discharged from several openings in very large quantities, at the temperature of 82 degrees, Farenheit. It is charged with nitrogen gas in, probably, a larger degree than any other mineral water; being estimated by Dr. Lyon Playfair to contain at the moment of issue no less than 206 cubic inches of nitrogen gas per gallon; and by Dr. Sheridan Muspratt, the most recent analyst, to contain no less than 504 cubic inches per gallon. This gas is presented in water, which has, otherwise, alkaline, earthy, and saline properties; and is remarkably detergent and softening to the skin when used as a bath; while it is free from odour or disagreeable taste, is clear and bright in its appearance, and of a singularly beautiful faintly blue colour.

The medicinal action of the water, whether used as baths, or drank, has been from time immemorial known to be great in relieving or curing all conditions of a rheumatic or gouty character. It is stated by Dr. Jones, so long ago as in the year 1572, that it was then used for the relief of the same ailments as it is at the present time.

Dr. Jones says that, in his time, Buxton was much resorted to by poor afflicted persons; and towards the end of the sixteenth century this was considered to be so serious an injury by the inhabitants of the adjoining chapelry of Fairfield, as to render them unable to provide funds for the maintenance of their chaplain, by reason of the urgent and continued claims of the many poor sufferers resorting to the Buxton Baths, as set forth in a petition on this matter addressed by them to Queen Elizabeth. These poor persons had been from time immemorial so far aided, as to have had gratuitous baths of the mineral water provided for them; and there seems to have been a fund called the "Treasury of the Bath," by which their pecuniary necessities were more or less ministered to. Dr. Jones writes, in reference to to this fund, what may be quoted in this place: "If any think this magisterial imposing on people's pockets, let them consider their abilities and the sick poor's necessities, and think whether they do not in idle pastimes throw away in vain twice as much yearly; it may entail the blessings of them who are ready to perish upon you, and will afford a pleasant after reflection. God has given you physic for nothing; let the poor and afflicted (it may be members of Chist) have a little of your money,—it may be the better for your own health: Heaven might have put them in your room and you in theirs; then a supply would have been acceptable to you."

Beyond this somewhat vague earlier history, there is no record of the Buxton Bath Charity until the year 1785, of which date there is extant at the Hospital, a document (vide page 17), apparently an annual report of the Institution; from which time the use of the baths and waters and pecuniary aid had been regularly given to the poor patients until the year 1859, when the Devonshire Hospital was provided for the reception of the patients.

It has been gathered from the annual reports that in the eighteen years from 1820, 14,906 patients were admitted to the benefits of the Charity, of which number 12,608 were discharged as cured or much relieved.

In the twenty following years, from 1838 to 1858 23,319 patients were admitted; and of these, 16,575 were cured or much relieved; 5,859 were relieved in some degree; and 885 were no better at the time of discharge.

The Devonshire Hospital was opened for the reception of the patients of the Charity in the year 1859. It is the successful result of the conversion of a very extensive range of building, erected and used as stables since the commencement of the present century. The structure, which is of important and substantial character, surrounds a parterre of considerable extent, and contains a colonnade of handsome proportions, is situated on a commanding eminence, presenting views of the town and valley of Buxton, and is near to the baths, the railway stations, and the principal buildings.

From the year 1820, then, to the beginning of September, 1858, when the Hospital was opened, or in 38 years, the Institution had received 38,225 patients; of which number, 35,042 were beneficially treated, and 2,183 were very partially if at all relieved. During those 38 years the Buxton Bath Charity received, on an average, upwards of 1,000 patients every year, and afforded cure or marked relief to 922 of that number. To a very large proportion of this important number of poor sufferers, chiefly from chronic rheumatism, the charity gave a weekly allowance of 6s. during their stay in Buxton, in addition to all other benefits; until the funds became so seriously impaired that the weekly money allowance was necessarily reduced to 5s., at which sum it remained until the opening of the Hospital. From the time of reducing the weekly money allowance, the pecuniary prosperity of the Buxton Bath Charity may be dated. The funds accumulated year by year, until the time of rebuilding the Buxton baths on the part of the Duke of Devonshire, when a capital of nearly £3,000 had been gathered together by the scrupulous management of the Trustees. The names may be mentioned, first and particularly, of the late Bishop Spencer, at one time Trustee and Incumbent of Buxton, and more recently one of the Vice-Presidents of the Hospital; of Mr. Heacock and Mr. Smithers, its successive Treasurers; and of Sir Charles Scudamore, Mr. Page, Mr. Cumming, and Dr. Carstairs,—as being no longer alive to witness and take part in the present development of the Charity; and also in order of seniority as to connection with the Institution, of Dr. Roberson, the Hon. and Rev. F. R. Grey, Mr. Darwin, and the Rev. R. P. Hull Brown, as still living to rejoice in the well-doing of the Buxton Charity and its Hospital. Of these £3,000, £500 was judiciously expended on the rebuilding of the Charity Natural Baths; the large remaining sum which those baths cost, and the whole cost of the Hot Baths of the Charity, having been paid by the munificence of the late Duke of Devonshire. Again, in 1853—4, when the proposal of an hospital to receive the patients of the Institution was brought before the public by Mr. Smithers and the other Trustees, the sum of £1,000 from the accumulated fund was given towards the Hospital; leaving a residue of £1,500 consols, which sum remains thus invested. (See Estate Account)

The history and doings of the Buxton Bath Charity have thus been summarily brought down to the time of forming the Hospital, the expenses of which were defrayed by the individual and collective liberality of the Trustees; by special subscriptions from the public; by the proceeds of a bazaar, that was bountifully supplied and supported, &c.;—a total sum of £6,000 having been thus got together, and expended on the conversion of this valuable building to hospital purposes. This conversion with its anxious details and successful results, was mainly due to the untiring exertions of the late Mr. Wilmot, aided by the architectural skill of Mr. H. Currey, and the liberal consideration of the late Duke of Devonshire.

It forms an interesting episode in his history, that, in the winter of 1862—3, during what will be long remembered as the Cotton Famine, a special fund was obtained, chiefly by the exertions of the late Mr. Wilmot; and 100 young women, under 30 years of age, selected by the Relief Committees of their respective towns, as being most likely to be benefitted by the change of air and the comforts of the Hospital, were received, and taken care of, as to food, and as to medicines, and restored to their homes in the subsequent spring, with renovated health and strength, and full of gratitude for what they had received. The balance of the subscriptions, amounting with interest to £256, was invested as a separate fund for ever, to enable poor female operatives from factory towns to be received into the Hospital. This fund may be increased by special donations.

A very important circumstance in the history of the Hospital is, that the grounds in front of it have been, with much kind consideration, made over to the Institution, on the part of the Duke of Devonshire, maintaining the detached position of the building, enhancing its appearance, and adding to the out-door advantages of the patients.

The building is the property of his Grace the Duke of Devonshire; and the conversion of it to the use of the Hospital for ever, on the payment of the rent of £5 yearly, was benevolently granted by the late Duke of Devonshire, as testified on the stone over the principal entrance, on which is inscribed: "The last munificent Charity of William Spencer, 6th Duke of Devonshire, K.G., who allowed these buildings to be converted to the use of the sick poor, January, A.D. 1858." A considerable sum of money that had been collected for the construction of Hospital was expended upon the work. The walls and roof of the structure were fortunately found to be in good preservation; the interior was entirely removed and re-arranged; the sub-soil carefully taken away; and about two-thirds of the building occupied for the purposes of the Hospital, by a chaplain's house, a dispensary and dispenser's apartments, a house for the master and matron, kitchen, day-rooms, dining-hall, and spacious dormitories affording separate beds for 120 patients, in addition to the beds provided for cases of accident, and in addition to the rooms required for the servants of the establishment.

During the year 1868, a legal Conveyance of the buildings and grounds of the Hospital was given to the Trustees by the present Duke of Devonshire, at the nominal rent of five shillings yearly, on the condition that they shall be used exclusively for the purposes of the Charity.

During the thirteen years since the Hospital was opened, there have been 14,791 patients under treatment, of which number 13,007 have been treated beneficially; and 1,779, or about one-eighth of the whole, were not suffering from any of the forms of rheumatism, but were such cases as are ordinarily met with in hospitals. On the average of the thirteen years, the patients remained under treatment 24.51 days; and 13,012 cases of rheumatism, embracing every conceivable variety of this obstinate disease, were thus extensively relieved by the remedial agency of the Buxton mineral waters.

This prefatory account has seemed to be needful for the information of those not already acquainted with the nature and merits of this Institution.

W. H. R.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE OF MANAGEMENT FOR THE YEAR 1871.

The members of the Committee of Management are thankful to be able to report the increasing usefulness of the Hospital, year after year; and they do this with great thankfulness. The Hospital has now been in active work during thirteen years, affording board, lodging, &c., to the In-Patients of the older institution with which it was incorporated: the Buxton Bath Charity. The number of In-Patients admitted to the Hospital has been more than doubled since the first and the second years of its existence; and the number of In-Patients received is greater year after year. During the past year—1871—1318 In-Patients have been admitted to the Hospital, or 45 more than in 1870, or 103 more than in 1869, or 172 more than in 1868, and so on until we arrive at the vast difference of number between the In-Patients of 1859, viz., 622, and the In-Patients of 1871, viz., 1318.

The beneficial result obtained by this increasingly large number of Patients has been in adequate proportion to these larger numbers. Of the 1318 In-Patients, 1116 were treated beneficially; 149 were no better; 16 were discharged by their own request; 5 had to be dismissed for breach of rules; 3 were found to be unfit cases for the Hospital; 3 died; and 26 remained on the books at the end of the year.

The number of Out-Patients admitted during the past year was 264, or 36 more than in 1870. The comparatively small number of the Out-Patients is evidence of the estimation in which the internal comfort and appliances of the Hospital are held by Patients and Subscribers. It is remembered by most of those interested in the Hospital that there was a general sense of anxiety lest Patients should prefer the freedom from all control, and the comparative privacy of being lodged in the town and neighbourhood of Buxton, and that only the more necessitous or the more helpless would be ready and willing to avail themselves of any advantages which could be given to them within the walls of the Hospital, then about to be provided. The contrary holds good. The Patients, with few exceptions, are most anxious to enjoy the advantages of residence within the Hospital, and the Out-Patients are mainly made up of those who cannot obtain the great privilege of an In-Patient's recommendation. Nevertheless, the number of Out-Patients is substantially very important, and the results of their treatment are entirely satisfactory. Of the 264 Out-Patients admitted during the year, 196 were beneficially treated; 29 were no better at the time of discharge; 37 left without having been discharged; and one was discharged at the Patient's own request. It is probable, it has to be again and again said in these reports, that of the 37 Out-Patients who were not sufficiently impressed with a sense of duty to present themselves before leaving Buxton, a considerable proportion had derived benefit. The Subscribers who send the Out-Patients to the Hospital, should endeavour as far as may be to impress on the minds of these poor persons, before they are sent to Buxton, and make enquiries of them after they return home, as to the fulfilment of this easy duty, the neglect of which necessarily occasions some sense of dissatisfaction, renders the returns so far incomplete, and cannot but be a matter of some regret to all concerned.

The average number of Patients daily resident in the Hospital throughout the year has been 85 and 8 decimals, or one more Patient daily in the House; and the average number of days of every In-Patient in the Hospital has been 24 and 16 decimals, being a slight increase on the previous year. This is always matter of gratification, as the time during which the Patients stay in Buxton is generally felt to be less than might be desirable, if their return home were not commonly imperative in the interests of their families, and the ability to retain them in the Hospital were not limited by the amount of subscription as set against the cost of maintenance, and by the constant pressure of other Patients waiting for vacant beds during the whole of the spring, summer, and autumn months.

The average cost of every In-Patient for three weeks has been £1 11s. 3 $\frac{1}{2}$ d., or 1s. 11 $\frac{1}{2}$ d. less than in the previous year; and the average cost per head per day has been 1s. 5 $\frac{1}{2}$ d., or 1 $\frac{1}{2}$ d., less than in the previous year. This is a simple question of the varying prices of the different articles of food, and may be taken, when the comparatively unrestricted dietary is considered, in confirmation of the good management of the establishment.

The greater number of Patients, and consequently greater amount of benefit afforded year by year, is evidence that the Subscribers are more and more alive to the duty of sending as many Patients as possible to the Hospital during the winter months. Even in the past year the average number of Patients in the Hospital during the month of January was only 11 and 9 decimals, and during February only 19 and 3 decimals; and during March only 53 and 2 decimals, showing that so much more of Hospital work may be done in this direction without any increase in the number of the beds. It is sufficiently well known, on the other hand, that during the summer months 200 or more Patients are waiting for their turn to be admitted, and that sometimes a Patient has to wait 8 or 10 weeks before a vacant bed can be obtained. The Hospital is well built, well warmed, and well ventilated, affords every convenience and comfort that can be wished, and is placed in a locality having such high sanitary advantages, and the baths and waters of Buxton are quite as curative during the winter as at any other time of the year, so that the Subscribers have only to secure that all its beds shall be constantly occupied, in order to render it as useful as it ought to be.

The great and increasing pressure upon the Hospital during at least two thirds of the year is, nevertheless, regarded with constant regret and anxiety by the Committee of Management; and the more so, as above one third of the great building of the Hospital is otherwise occupied. It had been urged upon the Committee that the concession of the remainder of the building for the purposes of the Hospital should be solicited; and they had the satisfaction of stating in the last Report that the noble owner of the property and his professional advisers sympathise with them as to the desirability of extending the Hospital. The proposals were so far favourably received that they are allowed to be brought forward again when certain engineering difficulties as to the supply of mineral water to the Hot Baths shall have been satisfactorily surmounted. When this great concession shall have been obtained, the conversion of the remainder of the building to the uses of the Hospital may probably involve the expenditure of at least five or six thousand pounds. But it is felt that to extend the Hospital to the utmost that the entire structure will admit, will be not only to fulfil the great duty of Christian Charity, by granting to the suffering poor the utmost opportunity of using the healing waters of Buxton, but will indirectly benefit all the vested interests connected with Buxton, by increasing the value of its land and houses in direct proportion to its increasing celebrity.

The cost of the Patients' diet, &c., always requires the explanation in these reports, that it is owing to an unrestricted allowance of animal food of the best quality at dinner every day; and the average consumption of meat per head per day is accordingly nearly three quarters of a pound; the consumption of bread and potatoes is also very large; and all the Patients not forbidden by the medical attendant have beer at dinner. The large amount of benefit afforded must be partly referred to the aid thus given to the medicinal effect of the air of the mountain limestone, and to the restorative and curative power of the Buxton mineral water. It is a necessary statement in these reports, that the majority of the Patients are not only relieved from rheumatism, and the wearing and disabling consequences of the disease, but are sent back to their several homes and occupations in a condition as to health and strength, much better fitted to perform their labours, and earn the means of subsistence for themselves and their families.

The financial position of the Hospital at the end of the year again affords reason for much thankfulness, and is a satisfactory earnest of the assistance which will be given whenever the fullest extension of the Hospital may be conceded. There has been a larger receipt from Annual Subscriptions, amounting to £149 19s. 0d. more than in the year 1870, and £260 5s. 0d. more than in 1869; but, on the other hand, the donations received at the Hospital, as well as those received by the kind agency of the Hotels and Lodging-Houses of Buxton, have been considerably less than those received during several preceding years.

It has again to be stated that no legacies have been received during the year; and that if this were due to the survival of all the wealthy friends and benefactors of the Hospital, it could not be matter of regret. But it is an unavoidable subject of surprise that so many friends and supporters of the Hospital should leave no record beyond the grave of the interest that has been taken in its prosperity during their lives. It must be borne in mind that invested capital is to such an institution the most obvious security for future usefulness: empowering extensions, enabling prompt payments to be made, and the best sources of supply to be had recourse to, and justifying improvements as soon as suggested. Indeed, the advantages of pecuniary competence to such an institution, as has been urged repeatedly in these reports, are so obvious that it might seem superfluous to have stated them, were it not that an opposite opinion is expressed from time to time, as a plea for relaxation as to rules and conditions of management.

There is a liability under the powers of the recommendations possessed by the Life Subscribers which varies somewhat from year to year, but which must be the multiple of existing Life Subscribers by the cost of every In-Patient, or probably £1 11s. 3½d. multiplied by more than 300. There is also a liability to the Annual Subscribers of 10s. 3½d. beyond the guinea subscribed, which represents a very large yearly sum if the powers of recommendation were to be always made use of. These two great and constant liabilities are only mentioned to demonstrate the importance, and indeed necessity, of a large capital sum of invested money, to insure the solvency of the institution. It is a great satisfaction to the Committee to feel that the gradual accumulation of a moderate capital, invested in consols as promptly as it may accrue, not only serves to secure the future stability of the Hospital as far as may be, but involves the other advantages that have been mentioned.

The total sum obtained from collections in churches and chapels during the year has been rather less than it had been in 1870. But it must be gratefully mentioned that a large sum was obtained by the collections in St. John's Church, Buxton, although not quite so large as in the preceding year ; and that a very unusually large sum was obtained by the collections in the Buxton Wesleyan Chapel. It is still felt that much more might be reasonably expected to be received from churches and chapels situated at a distance from Buxton, and especially from churches and chapels situated in the great manufacturing centres of population, which obtain such a very large proportion of benefit from the operations of this Charity. Patients are received from not fewer than 150 different towns and districts ; and during the past year only four collections were received from outlying churches and chapels.

The establishment of the dispensary in the Hospital continues to furnish satisfactory financial results, in addition to valuable assistance given by the Dispenser to the Secretary in the office during any greater pressure of office work, and in addition to the usefulness of the Dispenser as clerk to the members of the Medical Staff during their visits. The total cost of the Dispensary during the year, including the salary and board of the Dispenser, has been £146 19s. 8d., or as 2s. 1½d. per Patient; 6,432 prescriptions having been dispensed at an average cost of 5½d. per prescription: a clear gain of £98 5s. 7d. having been thus obtained, in addition to more prompt service, and other sufficiently obvious advantages. The Dispenser, moreover, continues to perform very satisfactorily, as a gratuitous labour, the valuable duties of Meteorologist to the Hospital; the records are published without charge in many influential public journals, with the immediate result of a useful publicity to the Hospital, and the probable ulterior gain of an important recognition of the merits of Buxton and its district as an inland and upland sanatorium of high character.

The Rev. E. T. Mason, B.A., resigned the Chaplaincy of the Hospital at the end of September, in consequence of his appointment to the chaplaincy of the Manchester Royal Infirmary. It had been long felt that the considerable portion of the Hospital buildings devoted to the Chaplain's house could be used with great advantage in supplying room for a larger number of Patients, and in giving more satisfactory accommodation for the Dispensary, Board Room and Secretary's Office, Storeroom, &c., and in providing an office for the Master, a consulting room and waiting room for the Out-Patients, &c. This important conversion of the house to the purposes of the Hospital is now being carried out under the architectural direction of Mr. R. R. Duke, at a probable outlay of £800; with an increase of 20 beds for Patients, or a total number of Patients' beds in the Hospital of 145. Contributions in aid of this outlay will be thankfully received.

The duties of the Chaplaincy have been most kindly undertaken, as Honorary Chaplain, by the Rev. S. R. Eddy, M.A., Vicar of Buxton, an ex-officio Trustee and member of the Committee of Management.

A most kind and liberal benefactor of the Hospital, and one of its Vice-Presidents, the Rev. J. Armitage Rhodes, has died during the year. This gentleman has been a large contributor to the funds of the Hospital during many years, and has befriended its interests in many ways, and the interests of the Charity must suffer much from the death of so old and kind a friend.

Dr. Robertson has been again unanimously re-elected Chairman of the Board of Trustees and the Managing Committee of the Hospital.

Mr. Samuel Turner has been again unanimously re-elected Treasurer of the Hospital.

The members of the House Committee have been again unanimously re-elected.

Mr. Josiah Taylor and Mr. Schofield have been unanimously re-elected Auditors for the year.

The thanks of the Committee are hereby tendered to those Clergymen and Ministers who have allowed sermons to be preached in their churches or chapels on behalf of the Hospital, and also to the Clergymen and Ministers who have preached the sermons.

The thanks of the Committee are hereby tendered to the Proprietors of the hotels and lodging-houses of Buxton, and also to the Presidents at the public dinner tables of the several hotels who have exerted themselves to obtain support for the Hospital. The powers of the institution depend much on these exertions. The interests of Buxton are so greatly promoted by the prosperity and usefulness of the Hospital, that the claims of the institution are urged upon the inhabitants as being identical with the interests of the town.

The thanks of the Committee are hereby tendered to the Proprietors of the newspapers in which the weekly reports and meteorological reports from the Hospital are inserted. In no way can the interests of the Charity be more effectually promoted.

The thanks of the Committee are hereby tendered to the ladies and gentlemen who have acted as Visitors to the Hospital during the several months of the year. The value of such services may be obviously very important. It is hoped that it will be increasingly felt that these official visits shall be frequent, and that the visits shall not be of merely formal character, but that details should be enquired into, and any suggestions and remarks be entered in a book kept for that purpose.

The thanks of the Committee are hereby tendered to the members of the Medical Staff for their arduous and gratuitous services to the Hospital. Any adequate pecuniary compensation for these services must be always beyond the means of the institution, and would probably not be received from the Charity if it could be offered. The duties of the Medical Staff become more onerous year by year, as the work of the Hospital increases, and as the character of the cases becomes more severe in consequence of the railway facilities; cases of aggravated character being now sent to the Hospital which could not have borne the fatigue of travelling otherwise than by railway. It is only right that the additional duty thus imposed upon the members of the Medical Staff should be gratefully acknowledged.

The thanks of the Committee are hereby tendered to the Chaplain, to the Treasurer, to the Auditors, and to the various Officials, whether honorary or otherwise, who in their several capacities have served the Hospital most satisfactorily during the year. The Secretary, the Dispenser, and the Master and Matron deserve and are hereby offered the thanks of the Committee of Management.

It will be noticed that the Annual Meeting of Subscribers is to be held on the first Saturday in April, at three o'clock in the afternoon. It is wished that the later period of the year may induce some of the Subscribers who reside at a distance from Buxton to attend the Meeting.

The statement is submitted of receipts and expenditure for the year ending December 31st, 1871, and also of the Estate Account and General Balance Sheet, together with the Annual Statement of the Wilmot Relief Fund Account.

There is a nucleus for a Samaritan Fund, kindly contributed by Mr. Challis and Miss Hall, intended for the relief of urgent cases of distress on being discharged from the Hospital; the interest or the principal of which might be available at the discretion of the officials under the authority of the House Committee.

At the Annual Meeting of the Trustees and the Committee of Management, held at the Hospital, January 6th, 1872, after the consideration and adoption of the Annual Report, it was moved by Capt. Darwin and carried unanimously, "That the thanks of the Trustees and Committee be given to the Chairman, Dr. Robertson, for the Report, and his assiduous attention to the business of the Hospital."

The Original is in the Hospital, and was presented by Dr. Robertson, December 29th, 1871.

BUXTON.

RESOLUTIONS by the Stewards of the several Houses at Buxton, on behalf of the Contributors to the Charitable Fund Established here, for the better regulation of the Charity, made September 13th, 1785.

1st. As to the Contribution.

WHEREAS, at the Commencement of this Charity, in the Year 1779, instituted for the purpose of rendering the Beneficence of the noble Proprietor and his Ancesters, (in setting apart a Bath for the Use of the Poor,) more extensively beneficial; two Stewards were appointed in each House kept open for the Reception of Company to receive a Contribution of One Shilling only, from each Person residing in such Houses, for the Benefit of the Charity. And upon the Departure of one of the Stewards, the departing Steward hath nominated a Successor; and in order to ascertain the Sums contributed, the Stewards for the Time being, at each House, have kept a Subscription Book, in which the Contributors have respectively written their Names and the Sum of One Shilling opposite thereto; and as the Subscriptions have amounted to competent Sums, the Stewards have paid over the same to Mr. Samuel Buxton, Apothecary, in Buxton, as Treasurer, to be applied by him towards the Aid and Support of the Poor, whose Infirmities have caused them to come to Buxton, for the Use of the Waters; for which Sums the said Mr. Buxton hath signed Receipts in the Subscription Books. Resolved, that such Practice be continued, and that no Person be permitted to subscribe a greater Sum than One Shilling in the Books; and that the Receipts of Mr. Buxton, or the Treasurer for the Time being, in the Subscription Books, be sufficient Discharges to the Stewards for what they receive.

Resolved, That it be recommended to future Stewards to hold an Audit on the 13th of September yearly, to inspect the Accounts of Mr. Buxton, or of the Treasurer for the Time being, and to state the Accounts of the preceding Year, in like manner as the Accounts are this Day stated in the Subscription Book at the Hall. And it is declared, that the Allowance of a Duplicate of the Account by any two of the Stewards, under their Hands, shall be a sufficient Discharge to Mr. Buxton, and all future Treasurers.

Resolved, That all future contributors to the Charity do subscribe thereto upon the Terms of these Resolutions.

2nd. As to the Admission of the Objects of this Charity.

Resolved, That no Inhabitant of Buxton, Fairfield, or of any Place within Seven Miles Distance from Buxton, be admitted to partake of the Charity; nor any Person be relieved during the Months of November, December, January, February, March, or April; and that during the remaining Six Months of the Year, not more than sixteen Objects, at one Time, be relieved by the Charity. And that no Person shall be admitted on any other Day than Monday in every Week, between the Hours of eight and twelve in the Forenoon; on which Day, during such Hours, the weekly Allowance to each Individual shall also be paid.

Resolved, That before the Patient intending to take the Benefit of the Charity be removed from where he or she dwells, Mr. Buxton, or the Treasurer for the Time being, be applied to by Letter, Postpaid, signifying such Intention, mentioning the Patient's Name, Place of Abode, and Nature of the Disorder ; and that no Person be admitted, unless there be a Vacancy in the Number of Sixteen, and unless he or she first produces to the Treasurer his own Letter written in answer to such Application, and also a Letter of Recommendation from some Lady or Gentleman, resident in the Neighbourhood, certifying, whether the Patient is relieved by his or her Parish, or not, and if not, whether he or she is a proper Object, with Respect to Circumstances ; and in case he or she is a Pauper, relieved by the Parish, then also a Certificate signed by the Churchwardens or Overseers of the Poor, that the Pauper's Settlement is in the Parish from which he or she is sent, and also a Certificate from a Physician or Apothecary, that the Case is proper for the Buxton Waters.

Resolved, That the Names and Places of Abode of the Objects admitted, be entered by Mr. Buxton, or the Treasurer for the Time being, in a Book (of which Book each Contributor is to have free Inspection), with a Description of the Patient's Disorder ; and after his or her Discharge a Minute of the Consequence of the Use of the Waters.

3rd. As to the Application of the Charity Fund.

It being the Intention of the Contributors, that the Money arising from the Contributions, be in every Case applied for the Purposes of supplying the Patients during their Stay at Buxton, with Board, Lodging, and Medicines only ; all Ladies and Gentlemen recommending Patients, and all Churchwardens and Overseers giving Certificates, are therefore particularly desired to take Notice, that in Case the Patients shall be admitted to partake of the Charity, and shall die in the Parishes of Buxton or Fairfield, or in any Place, within seven Miles distance from Buxton, before he or she shall have actually returned to his or her own Parish, such Persons recommending, and such Churchwardens and Overseers certifying, shall be liable to pay the Expenses of the Funeral of such Patients respectively ; and that the Charity Money, on no Account whatever, shall be suffered to be applied to defray travelling Expenses, either to, or from Buxton.

Resolved, That no Patient be admitted more than once during a Season, nor be relieved, by the Charity, for a longer Space of Time than five Weeks, from the Date of his or her Admission, nor with a greater Sum than Six Shillings per Week. But for how long a Time he or she shall be relieved less than five Weeks, or what Allowance shall be made him or her less than Six Shillings per Week, shall be at the Discretion of Mr. Buxton, or of the Treasurer for the Time being, taking the Advice of the resident Physicians, or Physician, on the Case, who it is hoped, will kindly consent to give gratuitous Assistance, when necessary.

Resolved, That Mr. Buxton, or the Treasurer for the Time being, be at liberty to retain all his necessary Expenses, occasioned by the Administration of the Charity, over and above what shall be expended in Board, Lodging, and Medicines.

Resolved, That if any Object receiving the Benefit of this Charity, shall beg or receive Alms, during his or her Stay at Buxton, or be guilty of prophane Swearing, Drunkenness, Impertinence, or any gross misbehaviour, he or she shall be instantly, (on complaint made) discharged from the Charity.

Ordered, That these Resolutions be printed, and hung up in as public a manner as possible, in the several Houses in Buxton kept open for the Reception of Company, and wherever Contributions are received ; and that the said Resolutions be sent by Mr. Buxton, or the Treasurer for the Time being, to every Person recommending a Patient, as a proper Object to partake of the Benefit of this Charity.

THE METEOROLOGICAL REPORT FOR 1871,

FROM THE OBSERVATIONS TAKEN AT

THE DEVONSHIRE HOSPITAL, BUXTON.

The year 1871 was ushered in by the most inclement weather that occurred during the year. In January snow and hail frequently fell; fog also prevailed on several days. Frost continued throughout the whole month. During February the frost still prevailed; snow, fog, and hail, which were frequent, were confined to the earlier part of the month; rain fell in an average amount towards the end. March was, with rare exceptions, calm and mild; no downfall of any magnitude disturbed these unusual features of the month; slight falls of snow, with a variable amount of frost, characterized the latter part of the month. The rainfall was less in March than in any other month during the year. April was much warmer than the previous month, with more downfall and less wind. May was warm, calm, and moderately dry; frost occurred on several occasions. June had an average amount of downfall, chiefly of a showery character; the middle part of the month was warm; several very heavy thunder storms happened also during this period; frost was apparent on several occasions. July was one of the most rainy months of the year: its commencement was marked by unseasonable coolness, hail and thunder storms were present on several occasions; the weather during the latter part of the month was more seasonable, being productive of a considerable amount of heat, with fewer showers. August was sultry, or mild, in about equal proportions; the greatest degree of heat was attained during this month; thunder storms were frequent, accompanied by hail on one occasion, and by boisterous winds on several. September was calm, mild, or warm, with heavy falls of rain; also, several frosty nights were registered. October was unusually warm, more especially during the earlier parts of the days, becoming cool and dull towards the evenings, which during the former part of the month were generally productive of more or less frost; heavy showers were frequent, which enabled this month to be regarded as the wettest month of the year; a general calmness prevailed, hail and fog appeared on one occasion only. November was cold, frosty, and calm, with two exceptions; frequent falls of snow and hail were chronicled, and fog appeared on several occasions. December was considerably warmer than the previous month, and although frost occurred during most nights, it was with less severity; boisterous winds were prevalent; there were also variable amounts of snow and rain, and occasionally fog.

THE BAROMETER.—The mean height of the readings of the barometer, reduced to sea level, and corrected for temperature to 32° F. for the year 1871, was 29·968 inches, which exceeded that of 1870 by ·002 of an inch. The instrument recorded its maximum height, 29·467 inches (unreduced) on the 1st of March, lower than that of 1870 by ·120 of an inch; and its minimum, 27·684 inches (unreduced), on the 16th of January, below the minimum of last year by ·055 of an inch; the range between the maximum and minimum was 1·783 inches, or ·065 of an inch less than that of the previous year; the mean average range for the year 1871 was 1·030 inch.

THE TEMPERATURE.—The mean temperature of the air for 1871 was $44^{\circ}5$, or 4° higher than that of 1870. The maximum degree of temperature in the shade was 84° , on the 11th of August, a similar degree being also registered on the following day, which exactly corresponded with the maximum of last year. The minima, $2^{\circ}5$, occurred on the 3rd and 4th of January, being 4° above that of the year 1870. The annual range was $81^{\circ}5$, or 4° less than that of last year. The mean monthly range was $41^{\circ}8$, or $\cdot7$ less than the previous year. The mean diurnal range was $15^{\circ}9$, showing a decrease of $\cdot4$ on that of 1870. The greatest range of temperature which occurred on one day was $35^{\circ}3$, on the 25th of March; and the least, $3^{\circ}5$, on January the 22nd: a similar range happened on the 9th of December.

RADIATION.—The maximum degree of solar radiation was $99^{\circ}5$, on the 9th of August, being $2^{\circ}5$ above that of the previous year; the minimum of the terrestrial radiator was 2° , on the 3rd of January, which was 4° above that of the past year. The range between the maximum of the solar radiator and the minimum of the terrestrial was $97^{\circ}5$, showing a decrease of $1^{\circ}5$. The greatest range of radiation in one day was 58° , on the 25th of March; and the least 4° , on the 23rd of December. There were 147 nights on which the temperature was at 32° , or below, which is a decrease of 14 nights on the previous year.

HYGROMETRICAL CONDITION OF THE ATMOSPHERE.—The mean temperature of the dew-point was $41^{\circ}9$, or $\cdot2$ lower than the mean of 1870; the mean degree of humidity ($\cdot852$) was higher than that of 1870 by $\cdot023$, that is, assuming 1·000 as a standard when the atmosphere is thoroughly saturated with moisture. The mean average amount of the elastic force of vapour was $\cdot271$ inch, or $\cdot010$ of an inch less than that of 1870; the mean weight of vapour in a cubic foot of air was 3·1 grains, nearly the same amount as that of the previous year; the mean amount of additional vapour required to saturate a cubic foot of air was $\cdot7$, which was slightly above the amount required for the same purpose in 1870.

THE RAINFALL.—The rainfall collected at Buxton during the year 1871 was 47·123 inches, being 1·744 inches in excess of that of 1870. The greatest fall of rain which occurred in twenty-four hours was 1·465 inches, on the 14th of November. Rain or snow fell on 230 days during the year, 41 days more than in 1870. The rain gauge erected near Poole's Cavern, although it has only been in operation eleven months, has already furnished very satisfactory results; the amount registered by this gauge was 47·341 inches, which is slightly above the yearly total of the Buxton gauge. The greatest fall of rain in twenty-four hours was 1·600 inch, on the 23rd of May. The number of days on which rain fell was 184. The rainfall on Axe Edge was 36·350 inches, or an increase over last year of 2·433 inches.

WIND.—The average of the mean directions of the wind may be proportionately represented by the following numbers, viz.—W. 11, S. 7, N. 6 and E. 6. The mean estimated force of the wind was 1·4, being $\cdot2$ less than the mean of the former year.

CLOUD.—The mean estimated amount of cloud was 7·3, slightly above the average of last year. March, August, and November, were the least cloudy months of the year.

THUNDERSTORMS occurred on March 24th, April 17th, June 15th, 16th, 17th, and 20th, July 4th, 7th, 8th, and 23rd, August 16th, 17th, 18th, and 25th.

LIGHTNING was seen, but thunder not heard, on June 25th, August 13th, 14th, and 15th, and September 7th.
