PREFACE.

The Buxton mineral water is discharged from several openings in very large quantities, at the temperature of 82 degrees, Farenheit. It is charged with nitrogen gas in, probably, a larger degree than any other mineral water; being estimated by Dr. Lyon Playfair to contain at the moment of issue no less than 206 cubic inches of nitrogen gas per gallon; and by Dr. Sheridan Muspratt, the most recent analyst, to contain no less than 504 cubic inches per gallon. This gas is presented in water, which has, otherwise, alkaline, earthy, and saline properties; and is remarkably detergent and softening to the skin when used as a bath; while it is free from odour or disagreeable taste, is clear and bright in its appearance, and of a singularly beautiful faintly blue colour.

The medicinal action of the water, whether used as baths, or drank, has been from time immemorial known to be great in relieving or curing all conditions of a rheumatic or gouty character. It is stated by Dr. Jones, so long ago as in the year 1572, that it was then used for the relief of the same ailments as it is at the present time.

Dr. Jones says that, in his time, Buxton was much resorted to by poor afflicted persons; and towards the end of the sixteenth century this was considered to be so serious an injury by the inhabitants of the adjoining chapelry of Fairfield, as to render them unable to provide funds for the maintenance of their chaplain, by reason of the urgent and continued claims of the many poor sufferers resorting to the Buxton Baths, as set forth in a petition on this matter addressed by them to Queen Elizabeth. These poor persons had been from time immemorial so far aided, as to have had gratuitous baths of the mineral water provided for them; and there seems to have been a fund called the "Treasury of the Bath," by which their pecuniary necessities were more or less ministered to. Dr. Jones writes, in reference to this fund, what may be quoted in this place: "If any think this magisterial imposing on people's pockets, let them consider their abilities and the sick poor's necessities, and think whether they do not in idle pastimes throw away in vain twice as much yearly; it may entail the blessings of them who are ready to perish upon you, and will afford a pleasant after-reflection. God has given you physic for nothing; let the poor and afflicted (it may be members of Christ) have a little of your money,—it may be the better for your own health: Heaven might have put them in your room and you in theirs; then a supply would have been acceptable to you."

Beyond this somewhat vague earlier history, there is no record of the Buxton Bath Charity until the year 1785, of which date there is extant at the Hospital, a document (vide page 17), apparently an annual report of the Institution; from which time the use of the baths and waters and pecuniary aid had been regularly given to the poor patients until the year 1859, when the Devonshire Hospital was provided for the reception of the patients.

It has been gathered from the annual reports that in the eighteen years from 1820, 14,906 patients were admitted to the benefits of the Charity, of which number 12,608 were discharged as cured or much relieved.

In the twenty following years, from 1838 to 1858 23,319 patients were admitted; and of these, 16,575 were cured or much relieved; 5,859 were relieved in some degree; and 885 were no better at the time of discharge.

The Devonshire Hospital was opened for the reception of the patients of the Charity in the year 1859. It is the successful result of the conversion of a very extensive range of building, erected and used as stables since the commencement of the present century. The structure, which is of important and substantial character, surrounds a parterre of considerable extent, and contains a colonnade of handsome proportions, is situated on a commanding eminence, presenting views of the town and valley of Buxton, and is near to the baths, the railway stations, and the principal buildings.

From the year 1820, then, to the beginning of September, 1858, when the Hospital was opened, or in 38 years, the Institution had received 38,225 patients; of which number, 35,042 were beneficially treated, and 2,183 were very partially if at all relieved. During those 38 years the Buxton Bath Charity received, on an average, upwards of 1,000 patients every year, and afforded cure or marked relief to 922 of that number. To a very large proportion of this important number of poor sufferers, chiefly from chronic rheumatism, the charity gave a weekly allowance of 6s. during their stay in Buxton, in addition to all other benefits; until the funds became so seriously impaired that the weekly money allowance was necessarily reduced to 5s., at which sum it remained until the opening of the Hospital. From the time of reducing the weekly money allowance, the pecuniary prosperity of the Buxton Bath Charity may be dated. The funds accumulated year by year, until the time of rebuilding the Buxton baths on the part of the Duke of Devonshire, when a capital of nearly £3,000 had been gathered together by the scrupulous management of the Trustees. The names may be mentioned, first and particularly, of the late Bishop Spencer, at one time Trustee, and Incumbent of Buxton, and more recently one of the Vice-Presidents of the Hospital; of Mr. Heacock and Mr. Smithers, its successive Treasurers; and of Sir Charles Scudamore, Mr. Page, Mr. Cumming, and Dr. Carstairs,—as being no longer alive to witness and take part in the present development of the Charity; and also in order of seniority as to connection with the Institution, of Dr. Robertson, the Hon. and Rev. F. R. Grey, Mr. Darwin, and the Rev. R. P. Hull Brown, as still living to rejoice in the well-doing of the Buxton Charity and its Hospital. Of these £3,000, £500 was judiciously expended on the rebuilding of the Charity Natural Baths; the large remaining sum which those baths cost, and the whole cost of the Hot Baths of the Charity, having been paid by the munificence of the late Duke of Devonshire. Again, in 1853—4, when the proposal of an hospital to receive the patients of the Institution was brought before the public by Mr. Smithers and the other Trustees, the sum of £1,000 from the accumulated fund was given towards the Hospital; leaving a residue of £1,500 consols, which sum remains thus invested. (See Estate Account.)

The history and doings of the Buxton Bath Charity have thus been summarily brought down to the time of forming the Hospital, the expenses of which were defrayed by the individual and collective liberality of the Trustees; by special subscriptions from the public; by the proceeds of a bazaar, that was bountifully supplied and supported, &c.;—a total sum of £6,000 having been thus got together, and expended on the conversion of this valuable building to hospital purposes. This conversion with its anxious details and successful results, was mainly due to the untiring exertions of the late Mr. Wilmot, aided by the architectural skill of Mr. H. Currey, and the liberal consideration of the late Duke of Devonshire.

It forms an interesting episode in this history, that, in the winter of 1862—3, during what will be long remembered as the Cotton Famine, a special fund was obtained, chiefly by the exertions of the late Mr. Wilmot; and 100 young women, under 30 years of age, selected by the Relief Committees of their respective towns, as being most likely to be benefitted by the change of air and the comforts of the Hospital, were received, and taken care of, as to food, and as to medicines, and restored to their homes in the subsequent spring, with renovated health and strength, and full of gratitude for what they had received. The balance of the subscriptions, amounting with interest to £256, was invested as a separate fund for ever, to enable poor female operatives from factory towns to be received into the Hospital. This fund may be increased by special donations.

A very important circumstance in the history of the Hospital is, that the grounds in front of it have been, with much kind consideration, made over to the Institution, on the part of the Duke of Devonshire, maintaining the detached position of the building, enhancing its appearance, and adding to the out-door advantages of the patients.

The building is the property of his Grace the Duke of Devonshire; and the conversion of it to the use of the Hospital for ever, on the payment of the rent of £5 yearly, was benevolently granted by the late Duke of Devonshire, as testified on the stone over the principal entrance, on which is inscribed: "The last munificent Charity of William Spencer, 6th Duke of Devonshire, K.G., who allowed these buildings to be converted to the use of the sick poor, January, A.D. 1858." A considerable sum of money that had been collected for the construction of the Hospital was expended upon the work. The walls and roof of the structure were fortunately found to be in good preservation; the interior was entirely removed and re-arranged; the sub-soil carefully taken away; and about two-thirds of the building occupied for the purposes of the Hospital, by a chaplain's house, a dispensary and dispenser's apartments, a house for the master and matron, kitchen, day-rooms, dining-hall, and spacious dormitories affording separate beds for 120 patients, in addition to the beds provided for cases of accident, and in addition to the rooms required for the servants of the establishment.

During the year 1868, a legal Conveyance of the buildings and grounds of the Hospital was given to the Trustees by the present Duke of Devonshire, at the nominal rent of five shillings yearly, on the condition that they shall be used exclusively for the purposes of the Charity.

During the year 1872, the duties of Chaplain to the Hospital were kindly undertaken by the Vicar of Buxton, and the Chaplain's House was converted to the general purposes of the Hospital; the number of beds for patients was raised to 150; and better accommodation afforded to the Out-Patients, Dispensary, &c.

During the fourteen years since the Hospital was opened, there have been 16,194 patients under treatment, of which number 14,158 have been treated beneficially; and 1,920, or about one-eighth of the whole, were not suffering from any of the forms of rheumatism, but were such cases as are ordinarily met with in hospitals. On the average of the fourteen years, the patients remained under treatment 24.39 days; and 14,271 cases of rheumatism, embracing every conceivable variety of this obstinate disease, were thus extensively relieved by the remedial agency of the Buxton mineral waters.

This prefatory account has seemed to be needful for the information of those not already acquainted with the nature and merits of this Institution.

W. H. R.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE OF MANAGEMENT FOR THE YEAR 1872.

The members of the Committee of Management are able to report the increasing usefulness of the Hospital, year after year; and they do this with much thankfulness. The Hospital has now been added to the means of usefulness of the Buxton Bath Charity during fourteen years, affording board, lodging, &c., to a much larger number of In-Patients than the total number of the Patients of the older institution, with which it was incorporated in the year 1859.

The number of In-Patients admitted to the Hospital has been more than doubled since the first and the second years of its existence; and the number of In-Patients received is greater year after year. During the past year—1872—1403 In-Patients have been admitted to the Hospital, or 85 more than in 1871, or 130 more than in 1870, or 233 more than in 1869, or 257 more than in 1868, and so on, until we arrive at the vast difference of number between the In-Patients of 1859, viz., 622,—and the In-Patients of 1872, viz., 1403.

The beneficial result obtained by this increasingly large number of In-Patients has been of adequate proportion to these larger and larger numbers. Of the 1403 In-Patients, 1151 were treated beneficially; 167 were no better; 37 were discharged by their own request; 13 had to be dismissed for breach of rules; 3 were found to be unfit cases for the Hospital; 2 died; and 30 remained on the books at the end of the year.

The number of Out-Patients admitted during the year was only 180, or 84 fewer than in 1871. It has always been felt, that the comparatively small number of the Out-Patients is evidence of the estimation, in which the internal comfort and appliances of the Hospital are held by Patients and Subscribers. It is remembered by most of those interested in the Hospital, that there was a general sense of anxiety, lest Patients should prefer the freedom from all control, and the comparative privacy of being lodged in the town and neighbourhood of Buxton, and that only the more necessitous or the more helpless would be ready and willing to avail themselves of any advantages, which could be given to them within the walls of the Hospital, then about to be provided. The contrary holds good. The Patients, with few exceptions, are most anxious to enjoy the advantages of residence within the Hospital; and the Out-Patients are mainly made up of those who cannot obtain the great privilege of an In-Patient's recommendation. Nevertheless, the number of the Out-Patients continues to be substantially of much importance; and the results of the treatment are entirely satisfactory. Of the 180 Out-Patients admitted during the year, 147 were beneficially treated; 16 were no better at the time of discharge; 16 left Buxton without having been discharged, and the results of their treatment cannot therefore be reported; and one remained on the books at the end of the year. It is probable, it has to be again said in these reports, that of the 16 Out-Patients who were not sufficiently impressed with a sense of the duty of presenting themselves before leaving Buxton, a considerable proportion had derived benefit. The Subscribers who send the Out-Patients to the Hospital should endeavour, as far as may be, to impress on the minds of these poor persons, before they are sent to Buxton, and make enquiries of them after they return home, as to the fulfilment of this easy duty, the neglect of which necessarily occasions some sense of dissatisfaction, renders the returns so far incomplete, and cannot but be a matter of some regret to all concerned.

The average number of Patients daily resident in the Hospital throughout the year has been 88 and two decimals, or 2.4 more Patients daily in the house; and the average number of days of every In-Patient in the Hospital has been 22 and 9 decimals—being a slight diminution on the previous year. This has been owing to the pressure of applications for admission, and the consequent necessity of limiting as far as might be the stay of Patients in the Hospital.

The average cost of every In-Patient for three weeks has been £1. 18s. 4½d., or 7s. 1d. more than in the previous year; and the average cost per head per day has been 1s. 9½d., or 4d. per day more than the previous year. It cannot need explanation that this difference is owing to the increased prices of fuel and of all the articles of food; and that there should not have been a greater increase in these charges will be taken, when the comparatively unrestricted dietary is considered, as proof of the good management of the establishment.

The greater number of Patients, and consequently greater amount of benefit afforded year by year, is evidence that the Subscribers are more and more alive to the duty of sending as many Patients as possible to the Hospital during the winter months. But even in the past year the average number of Patients in the Hospital during the month of January was only 21 and 8 decimals, and during February only 34 and 2 decimals, and during March only 57 and 9 decimals,—shewing that so much more of Hospital work may be done in this direction without any increase in the number of beds. It is sufficiently well known, on the other hand, that during the middle of the summer some 200 Patients are constantly waiting for their turn to be admitted, and that sometimes a Patient has had to wait five weeks before a vacant bed could be obtained. The Hospital is well built, well warmed, well ventilated, and affords every convenience and comfort that can be wished, and is placed in a locality having such high sanitary advantages, the baths and waters of Buxton being quite as curative during the winter as at any other time of the year, that the Subscribers have only to take care that all its beds shall be constantly occupied, in order to render it as useful as it ought to be.

The great and increasing pressure upon the Hospital during at least six months of the year is nevertheless regarded with regret; and the more so as about one-third of the great building of the Hospital is otherwise occupied. It will be remembered that the Committee of Management had been urged to solicit the concession of the remainder of the building for the purposes of the Hospital; and were able to state in the previous reports that the noble owner of the property and his professional advisers were disposed to give the subject their favourable consideration, when certain engineering difficulties as to the supply of mineral water to the Hot Baths shall have been surmounted. The conversion of the remainder of the building to the uses of the Hospital would involve the expenditure of a very large sum of money, but it is felt that such an extension would be not only to fulfil the primary Christian duty of granting to the suffering poor the utmost opportunity of using the healing waters of Buxton, but would indirectly benefit all the vested interests of Buxton, by increasing the value of its land, houses, &c., in direct proportion to its increasing celebrity.

The cost of the Patients' diet, &c., always requires the explanation in these reports, that it is owing to an unrestricted allowance of animal food of the best quality at dinner every day; and the average consumption of meat per day is accordingly nearly three-quarters of a pound; the consumption of bread and potatoes is also very large; and all the Patients not forbidden by the Medical Attendant have beer at dinner. The large amount of benefit afforded must be partly referred to the aid thus given to the medicinal effect of the air of the mountain limestone, and to the restorative and curative power of the Buxton mineral water. It is a necessary statement in these reports, that the majority of the Patients are not only relieved from rheumatism, and the wearing and disabling consequences of the disease, but are sent back to their several homes and occupations in a condition as to health and strength much better fitted to perform their labours, and earn the means of subsistence for themselves and their families.

The financial position of the Hospital at the end of the year affords sufficient reason for thankfulness, and is so far an earnest of the assistance which may be expected from the public when the fullest extension of the Hospital may be conceded. There has been a larger receipt from Annual Subscriptions, amounting to £75. 17s. 0d. more than in 1871; and the Donations received at the Hospital have been £81. 13s. 4d. more than in the preceding year; and the Donations received by the kind agency of the Hotels and Lodging-houses of Buxton have amounted to £110 11s. 1d. more than in 1871.

The sum of £130 has been received from legacies during the year. It cannot but be a matter of surprise, that so many friends and supporters of the Hospital should leave no record beyond the grave, of the interest that has been taken in its prosperity during their lives. Invested capital is the most obvious security for the future usefulness of such an institution: empowering extensions, justifying improvements, and enabling prompt payments to be made, and the best sources of supply to be had recourse to. The advantages of pecuniary competence are so obvious that it might seem to be almost superfluous to have stated them, were it not that the opposite opinion is expressed from time to time, as a plea for relaxation as to rules and conditions of management.

There is a liability under the power of recommendation possessed by the Life Subscribers, which varies somewhat from year to year, but which must be the multiple of existing Life Subscribers by the cost of every In-Patient, or £1. 18s. 4½d. multiplied by more than 300. There is also a liability to the Annual Subscribers of 17s. 4½d. beyond the guinea subscribed, which represents a very large yearly sum if the powers of recommendation were to be always made use of. These two great and constant liabilities are only mentioned to demonstrate the importance, and indeed necessity, of a large capital sum of invested money, to insure the solvency of the institution.

The total sum obtained from collections in Churches and Chapels during the year has been rather less than it was in 1871, and still less than it was in 1870. But it must be gratefully mentioned that the receipts have been obtained from a larger number of Churches and Chapels. It is felt that much more might be reasonably expected to be received from Churches and Chapels situated at a distance from Buxton, and especially from Churches and Chapels situated in the great manufacturing centres of population, which obtain such a very large proportion of benefit from the operations of this Charity. Patients are received from not fewer than 150 different towns and districts; and during the past year only five collections were received from outlying Churches and Chapels.

The establishment of the Dispensary in the Hospital continues to furnish satisfactory financial results, in addition to valuable assistance given by the Dispenser to the Secretary in the office during any greater pressure of office work. The total cost of the Dispensary during the year, including the salary and board of the Dispenser, has been £172. 0s. 11½d., or as 1s. 8½d. per Patient; 7704 prescriptions having been dispensed at an average cost of 5½d. per prescription: a clear gain of £75. 14s. 1½d. having been thus obtained, notwithstanding that 1272 more prescriptions were dispensed than in the previous year; and this pecuniary gain is supplemented by the more prompt service, and other sufficiently obvious advantages. The Dispenser, moreover, continues to perform very satisfactorily, as a gratuitous labour, the valuable duties of Meteorologist to the Hospital; the meteorological records are published without charge in many influential public journals, with the immediate result of a useful publicity to the Hospital, and the probable ulterior gain of an important recognition of the merits of Buxton and its district as an inland and upland sanatorium of high character.

The duties of Chaplain to the Hospital, kindly undertaken as Honorary Chaplain by the Rev. S. R. Eddy, M.A., Vicar of Buxton, an ex-officio Trustee, and member of the Committee of Management, have been most satisfactorily discharged; and the additional assistance of the Curates of Buxton has been most kindly afforded.

The increasing work of the Hospital, and the increasing labours of the members of the Honorary Medical Staff, have long been felt to necessitate the appointment of a resident Medical Officer in the Hospital, who would see the Patients at the time of admission, prescribe any treatment immediately necessary, and act in all emergencies in the absence of the Medical Officers, keep the case books, prepare a tabulated account of the cases, and assist in such chemical and microscopical investigations as would facilitate the medical work of the Hospital. This appointment was made in the beginning of August; and, it is hoped, must be attended with satisfactory results far beyond the pecuniary expenses incurred.

The house that had been occupied by the Chaplain, and was no longer needed for this purpose, has now been converted to the purposes of the Hospital, under the architectural direction of Mr. R. R. Duke; by which the total number of beds for Patients has been raised to 150, and more satisfactory accommodation has been afforded for the Out-Patients, the Dispensary, the Board Room and Secretary's Office, store room, &c. This extension has required a total outlay of £1419 16s. 4d., of which nearly £1100 has been expended in the construction, and rather more than £300 on the beds and other necessary fittings and furniture. It should be stated, that the friends and subscribers of the Hospital were appealed to for separate donations in aid of this extension, and that the sum of £43 only was obtained in answer to the appeal. It is still hoped that this may be favourably considered, when it is made more widely known to the supporters of the Hospital.

The members of the Committee of Management have to express their regret at the recent death of Mr. John Milligan, of Buxton, one of the Trustees of the Hospital, a kind and active member of the Committee of Management, and a practical and energetic member of its House Committee.

The name of Capt. Arkwright, R.N., M.P., a kind friend and supporter of the Hospital, has been added to the list of Vice-Presidents.

Dr. Robertson has been again unanimously re-elected Chairman of the Board of Trustees and the Managing Committee of the Hospital.

Mr. Samuel Turner has been again unanimously re-elected Treasurer of the Hospital.

The Chairman is ex-officio a member of the House Committee, and Mr. Samuel Turner, Dr. Dickson, and Mr. J. W. Taylor, have been re-elected members of this Committee, and Mr. R. R. Duke, and Mr. I. Walton, have been elected to fill vacancies occasioned by the resignation of Captain Darwin, and the death of Mr. Milligan.

The Rev. Gordon Robertson, M.A., Vicar of Earl Sterndale, The Rev. J. G. H. Stamper, Vicar of Burbage, Mr. H. A. Hubbersty, Burbage, and Mr. H. C. Renshaw, J.P., Bank Hall, Chapel-en-le-Frith, have been elected members of the Committee of Management.

Mr. Josiah Taylor and Mr. Schofield have been again unanimously re-elected Auditors for the year.

The thanks of the Committee are hereby tendered to the Clergymen and Ministers who have allowed sermons to be preached in their Churches or Chapels on behalf of the Hospital, and also to the Clergymen and Ministers who have preached the sermons.

The thanks of the Committee are hereby tendered to the Proprietors of the hotels and lodging-houses of Buxton, and also to the Presidents at the public dinner tables of the several hotels who have exerted themselves to obtain support for the Hospital. The powers of the institution depend much on these exertions. The interests of Buxton are so greatly promoted by the prosperity and usefulness of the Hospital, that the claims of the institution are urged on the inhabitants as being identical with the interests of the town.

The thanks of the Committee are hereby tendered to the Proprietors of the newspapers in which the weekly reports and meteorological reports from the Hospital are inserted. In no way can the interests of the Charity be more effectually promoted.

The thanks of the Committee are hereby tendered to the Ladies and Gentlemen who have acted as Visitors to the Hospital during the several months of the year. The value of such services may be obviously very important. It is hoped that it will be increasingly felt that these official visits should be frequent, and that the visits should not be of merely formal character, but that details should be enquired into, and any suggestions and remarks be entered in a book kept for that purpose.

The thanks of the Committee are hereby tendered to the members of the Medical Staff for their arduous and gratuitous services to the Hospital. Any adequate pecuniary compensation for these services must be always beyond the means of the institution, and would probably not be received from the Charity if it could be offered. The duties of the Medical Staff become more onerous year by year, as the work of the Hospital increases, and as the character of the cases becomes more severe in consequence of the railway facilities; cases of aggravated character being now sent to the Hospital, which could not have borne the fatigue of travelling otherwise than by railway. It is only right that the additional duty thus imposed upon the members of the Medical Staff should be gratefully acknowledged.

The thanks of the committee are hereby tendered to the Honorary Chaplain, to the Treasurer, to the Auditors, and to the various officials whether honorary or otherwise, who in their several capacities have served the Hospital most satisfactorily during the year. The House Surgeon, the Secretary, the Dispenser, and the Master and Matron deserve and are hereby offered the thanks of the Committee of Management.

It will be noticed that the Annual Meeting of Subscribers is to be held on the first Saturday in April, at half-past three o'clock in the afternoon. It is wished that the later period of the year may induce some of the Subscribers who reside at a distance from Buxton to attend the meeting.

The Statement is submitted of receipts and expenditure for the year ending December 31st, 1872, and also of the Estate Account, and General Balance Sheet, together with the Annual Statement of the Wilmot Relief Fund Account.

There is a nucleus for a Samaritan Fund, kindly contributed by Mr. Challis, Miss Hall, and Mr. Hebson, intended for the relief of urgent cases of distress on being discharged from the Hospital; the interest or the principal of which might be available at the discretion of the officials, under the authority of the House Committee.

At the Annual Meeting of the Trustees and the Committee of Management, held at the Hospital, January 4th, 1873, after the consideration and adoption of the Annual Report, it was resolved, "That the thanks of the Trustees and Committee be given to the Chairman, Dr. Robertson, for the Report, and for his assiduous attention to the business of the Hospital."

BUXTON.

RESOLUTIONS by the Stewards of the several Houses at Buxton, on behalf of the Contributors to the Charitable Fund Established here, for the better regulation of the Charity, made September 13th, 1785.

1st. As to the Contribution.

WHEREAS, at the Commencement of this Charity, in the Year 1779, instituted for the purpose of rendering the Beneficence of the noble Proprietor and his Ancesters, (in setting apart a Bath for the Use of the Poor,) more extensively beneficial; two Stewards were appointed in each House kept open for the Reception of Company to receive a Contribution of One Shilling only, from each Person residing in such Houses, for the Benefit of the Charity. And upon the Departure of one of the Stewards, the departing Steward hath nominated a Successor; and in order to ascertain the Sums contributed, the Stewards for the Time being, at each House, have kept a Subscription Book, in which the Contributors have respectively written their Names and the Sum of One Shilling opposite thereto; and as the Subscriptions have amounted to competent Sums, the Stewards have paid over the same to Mr. Samuel Buxton, Apothecary, in Buxton, as Treasurer, to be applied by him towards the Aid and Support of the Poor, whose Infirmities have caused them to come to Buxton, for the Use of the Waters; for which Sums the said Mr. Buxton hath signed Receipts in the Subscription Books. Resolved, that such Practice be continued, and that no Person be permitted to subscribe a greater Sum than One Shilling in the Books; and that the Receipts of Mr. Buxton, or the Treasurer for the Time being, in the Subscription Books, be sufficient Discharges to the Stewards for what they receive.

Resolved, That it be recommended to future Stewards to hold an Audit on the 13th of September yearly, to inspect the Accounts of Mr. Buxton, or of the Treasurer for the Time being, and to state the Accounts of the preceding Year in like manner as the Accounts are this Day stated in the Subscription Book at the Hall. And it is declared, that the Allowance of a Duplicate of the Account by any two of the Stewards, under their Hands, shall be a sufficient Discharge to Mr. Buxton, and all future Treasurers.

Resolved, That all future contributors to the Charity do subscribe thereto upon the Terms of these Resolutions.

2nd. As to the Admission of the Objects of this Charity.

Resolved, That no Inhabitant of Buxton, Fairfield, or of any Place within Seven Miles Distance from Buxton, be admitted to partake of the Charity; nor any Person be relieved during the Months of November, December, January, February, March, or April; and that during the remaining Six Months of the Year, not more than sixteen Objects, at one Time, be relieved by the Charity. And that no Person shall be admitted on any other Day than Monday in every Week, between the Hours of eight and twelve in the Forenoon; on which Day, during such Hours, the weekly Allowance to each Individual shall also be paid.

Resolved, That before the Patient intending to take the Benefit of the Charity be removed from where he or she dwells, Mr. Buxton, or the Trea-suror for the Time being, be applied to by Letter, Postpaid, signifying such Intention, mentioning the Patient's Name, Place of Abode, and Nature of the Disorder; and that no Person be admitted, unless there be a Vacancy in the Number of Sixteen, and unless he or she first produces to the Treasurer his own Letter written in answer to such Application, and also a Letter of Recommendation from some Lady or Gentleman, resident in the Neighbourhood, certifying, whether the Patient is relieved by his or her Parish, or not, and if not, whether he or she is a proper Object, with Respect to Circumstances; and in case he or she is a Pauper, relieved by the Parish, then also a Certificate signed by the Churchwardens or Overseers of the Poor, that the Pauper's Settlement is in the Parish from which he or she is sent, and also a Certificate from a Physician or Apothecary, that the Case is proper for the Buxton Waters.

Resolved, That the Names and Places of Abode of the Objects admitted, be entered by Mr. Buxton, or the Treasurer for the Time being, in a Book (of which Book each Contributor is to have free Inspection), with a Description of the Patient's Disorder; and after his or her Discharge a Minute of the Consequence of the Use of the Waters.

3rd. As to the Application of the Charity Fund.

It being the Intention of the Contributors, that the Money arising from the Contributions, be in every Case applied for the Purposes of supplying the Patients during their Stay at Buxton, with Board, Lodging, and Medicines only; all Ladies and Gentlemen recommending Patients, and all Churchwardens and Overseers giving Certificates, are therefore particularly desired to take Notice, that in Case the Patients shall be admitted to partake of the Charity, and shall die in the Parishes of Buxton or Fairfield, or in any Place, within seven Miles distance from Buxton, before he or she shall have actually returned to his or her own Parish, such Persons recommending, and such Churchwardens and Overseers certifying, shall be liable to pay the Expenses of the Funeral of such Patients respectively; and that the Charity Money, on no Account whatever, shall be suffered to be applied to defray travelling Expenses, either to, or from Buxton.

But for how long a Time he or she shall be relieved less than five Weeks, or what Allowance shall be made him or her less than Six Shillings per Week, shall be at the Discretion of Mr. Buxton, or of the Treasurer for the Time being, taking the Advice of the resident Physicians, or Physician, on the Case, who it is hoped, will kindly consent to give gratuitous Assistance, when necessary.

Resolved, That Mr. Buxton, or the Treasurer for the Time being, be at liberty to retain all his necessary Expenses, occasioned by the Administration of the Charity, over and above what shall be expended in Board, Lodging, and Medicines.

Resolved, That if any Object receiving the Benefit of this Charity, shall beg or receive Alms, during his or her Stay at Buxton, or be guilty of prophane Swearing, Drunkenness, Impertinence, or any gross misbehaviour, he or she shall be instantly, (on complaint made) discharged from the Charity.

Ordered, That these Resolutions be printed, and hung up in as public a manner as possible, in the several Houses in Buxton kept open for the Reception of Company, and wherever Contributions are received; and that the said Resolutions be sent by Mr. Buxton, or the Treasurer for the Time being, to every Person recommending a Patient, as a proper Object to partake of the Benefit of this Charity.

THE METEOROLOGICAL REPORT FOR 1872,

FROM THE OBSERVATIONS TAKEN AT

THE DEVONSHIRE HOSPITAL, BUXTON.

The year 1872, very unlike its predecessor, commenced with a temperature almost equal to that of Spring. The frost, which usually forms one of the most prominent features of a new year, was very slight. In proof of this it may be stated, that the buds of some of the harder shrubs were almost wholly expanded before the end of January; many of these of course became failures, by the sudden check they received from the severe frosts of March. In January, the general mildness was scarcely to be accounted for; fog and mist prevailed on several days; snow, hail, and rain frequently fell; slight frost was observed on about two-thirds of the nights. In February the frost still continued in a modified degree, as in the former month; showers of rain were frequent and plentiful; hail and snow occasionally appeared, and fog and mist were observed on several days; the weather still continued mild and warm. During the earlier portion of March, general mildness and warmth prevailed, with little downfall of any kind; in the latter portion of the month showers of rain and snow were the ruling phenomena; the average amount of wind was small and similar to that of previous month. April was showery at its commencement; frost and snow also occurred during this period; a few days of very fine weather followed; and afterwards a repetition of the former period, with more wind than the average of any of the previous months. During this month the smallest quantity of rain fell, when compared with the total rainfall of any other month of the year. In May there were several very heavy thunderstorms; frost appeared during the middle portion of the month; snow and hail fell on several occasions; rain fell also in about the average quantity.

June produced a much larger quantity of rain than is usually expected in this month, and it was during this month that the maximum fall of rain in twenty-four hours was collected, being nearly the same amount as the largest fall during eight years; strong winds were prevalent; there was also several thunderstorms; the temperature was below the average, and frost was unexpectedly registered on one night. July commenced with a fair promise of a change, but on the 6th and nine following days, several very heavy thunderstorms completely changed the character of the weather. From the 15th to the end of month about one inch of rain fell. This month possessed the highest temperature during the year, and fog was observed on two occasions. August was showery at its commencement, but gradually improved in this respect towards the end; the wind was below the average; the temperature ranged very high on several occasions; several thunderstorms occurred; and the rainfall was slightly below the average. During September, thunderstorm again present; frost and snow appeared; otherwise the temperature was very warm; the rainfall slightly exceeded the average, which was maintained throughout the month with very few exceptions. In October, heavy fall of rain were registered on several occasions; fog, hail and frost were observed on several days; there was a great diminution in the amount of wind; the temperature continued mild. During November, phenomena of several kinds were prevalent; frost, snow, fog, mist, and rain being the chief constituents; hail and lightning occurred on one occasion; and the wind acquired a greater velocity than in the previous month. December was more like its usual character at its commencement, there being plentiful falls of snow and rain, with an equivalent amount of frost; fog and mist often appeared; the latter part of the month was chiefly mild; and, for that season of the year, most unexpected heavy winds were noted on several days during this latter period.

THE BAROMETER.—The mean height of the barometrical readings for the last four years, was 29·873 inches. The mean height of the readings for 1872, when reduced to sea level, and corrected for temperature to 32° F., was 29·718 inches, or below that of last year by ·250 of an inch. The instrument recorded its maximum height 29·498 inches (unreduced) on the 6th of April, or above that of 1871 by ·022 of an inch; and its minimum 27·435 inches (unreduced) on the 24th of January, or below the minimum of last year by ·249 of an inch. The range between the maximum and minimum was 2·054 inches, or ·271 of an inch more than that of the previous year; the mean average range for the year 1872 was 1·015 inch, or ·015 below that of 1871.

THE TEMPERATURE.—The average mean temperature of the air for the last four years was 45°; the mean temperature of the air for 1872 was 45°·9, or 0°·3 higher than that of any of the preceding years. The maximum degree of temperature in the shade was 85°·5 on the 22nd of July, or 1°·5 above those of the two previous years; the minimum 15°·5 was registered on the 25th of March, or 13° in excess of that of last year. The annual range is 70° or 11°·5 less than that of 1871; the mean monthly range was 37°·5, or 4°·3 less than that of the previous. The mean diurnal range shows a decrease of 1°·4 on that of 1871. The greatest range of temperature that occurred on one day was 40° on the 25th of March, and the least 2° on the 15th of December.

RADIATION.—The maximum degree of solar radiation was 97° on the 22nd of July, being 2°·5 lower than that of the previous year: the minimum of the terrestrial radiator was 16° on the 4th of December, which was 14° above that of the preceding year. The range between the maximum of the solar radiator and the minimum of the terrestrial radiator was 81°, showing a decrease of 18°·5. The mean monthly range for the year was 47°·9. The greatest range of radiation on one day was 48° on the 22nd of July; and the least 4° on the 4th of December. There are 119 nights on which the temperature was at 32° or below, which shows a decrease of 28 nights below that of the previous year.

THE HYGROMETRICAL CONDITION OF THE ATMOSPHERE.—The average mean temperature of the dew point for 1872 was 42°·3, or 4° above the mean of 1871; the mean degree of humidity (·845) was lower than that of 1871 by ·007 of a degree, that is: assuming 1·000 as a standard point when the atmosphere is thoroughly saturated with moisture. The average mean amount of elastic force of vapour was ·278 inches, or ·007 of an inch more than that of 1871; the mean weight of vapour in a cubic foot of air was 3·11 grains, or ·01 more than that of the previous year; the mean amount of additional vapour required to saturate a cubic foot of air was 0·67 grains, or 0·3 grains above the quantity required in 1871.

THE RAINFALL.—The average mean amount of rainfall at Buxton for the last eight years was 60·191 inches. The amount collected at Buxton for the year 1872 was 70·351 inches, or 23·228 inches more than in 1871. The maximum fall of rain which occurred in 24 hours was 2·51 inches on the 18th of June, being nearly equal to that collected on the 28th of July, 1866, which was the largest fall of rain in one day during the eight years. Rain or snow fell on 275 days during 1872, being 45 more than in 1871, or 69 more than the average for the eight years. The rain-gauge at Poole's Cavern furnishes as a total for the year 1871, 76·647 inches, and the greatest fall in 24 hours occurred on the 18th of June, measured 2·25 inches; rain or snow fell on 243 days, being 37 above the average for the eight years.
