P R E F A C E .

The Buxton mineral water is discharged from several openings in very large quantities, at the temperature of 82 degrees, Farenheit. It is charged with nitrogen gas in, probably, a larger degree than any other mineral water; being estimated by Dr. Lyon Playfair to contain at the moment of issue no less than 206 cubic inches of nitrogen gas per gallon; and by Dr. Sheridan Muspratt, the most recent analyst, to contain no less than 504 cubic inches per gallon. This gas is presented in water, which has, otherwise, alkaline, earthy, and saline properties; and is remarkably detergent and softening to the skin when used as a bath; while it is free from odour or disagreeable taste, is clear and bright in its appearance, and of a singularly beautiful faintly blue colour.

The medicinal action of the water, whether used as baths, or drank, has been from time immemorial known to be great in relieving or curing all conditions of a rheumatic or gouty character. It is stated by Dr. Jones, so long ago as in the year 1572, that it was then used for the relief of the same ailments as it is at the present time.

Dr. Jones says that, in his time, Buxton was much resorted to by poor afflicted persons; and towards the end of the sixteenth century this was considered to be so serious an injury by the inhabitants of the adjoining chapelry of Fairfield, as to render them unable to provide funds for the maintenance of their chaplain, by reason of the urgent and continued claims of the many poor sufferers resorting to the Buxton Baths, as set forth in a petition on this matter addressed by them to Queen Elizabeth. These poor persons had been from time immemorial so far aided, as to have had gratuitous baths of the mineral water provided for them; and there seems to have been a fund called the "Treasury of the bath," by which their pecuniary necessities were more or less ministered to. Dr. Jones writes, in reference to this fund, what may be quoted in this place: "If any think this magisterial imposing on people's pockets, let them consider their abilities and the sick poor's necessities, and think whether they do not in idle pastimes throw away in vain twice as much yearly; it may entail the blessings of them who are ready to perish upon you, and will afford a pleasant after-reflection. God has given you physic for nothing; let the poor and afflicted (it may be members of Christ) have a little of your money,—it may be the better for your own health: Heaven might have put them in your room and you in theirs; then a supply would have been acceptable to you."

Beyond this somewhat vague earlier history, there is no record of the Buxton Bath Charity until the year 1785, of which date there is extant at the Hospital, a document (vide page 20), apparently an annual report of the Institution; from which time the use of the baths and waters and pecuniary aid had been regularly given to the poor patients until the year 1859, when the Devonshire Hospital was provided for the reception of the patients.

It has been gathered from the annual reports that in the eighteen years from 1820, 14,906 patients were admitted to the benefits of the Charity, of which number 12,608 were discharged as cured or much relieved.

In the twenty following years, from 1838 to 1858, 23,319 patients were admitted; and of these, 16,575 were cured or much relieved; 5,859 were relieved in some degree; and 885 were no better at the time of discharge.

The Devonshire Hospital was opened for the reception of the patients of the Charity in the year 1859. It is the successful result of the conversion of a very extensive range of building, erected and used as stables since the commencement of the present century. The structure, which is of important and substantial character, surrounds a parterre of considerable extent, and contains a colonnade of handsome proportions, is situated on a commanding eminence, presenting views of the town and valley of Buxton, and is near to the baths, the railway stations, and the principal buildings.

From the year 1820, then, to the beginning of September, 1858, when the Hospital was opened, or in 38 years, the Institution had received 38,225 patients; of which number, 35,042 were beneficially treated, and 2,183 were very partially if at all relieved. During those 38 years the Buxton Bath Charity received, on an average, upwards of 1,000 patients every year, and afforded cure or marked relief to 922 of that number. To a very large proportion of this important number of poor sufferers, chiefly from chronic rheumatism, the charity gave a weekly allowance of 6s. during their stay in Buxton, in addition to all other benefits; until the funds became so seriously impaired that the weekly money allowance was necessarily reduced to 5s., at which sum it remained until the opening of the Hospital. From the time of reducing the weekly money allowance, the pecuniary prosperity of the Buxton Bath Charity may be dated. The funds accumulated year by year, until the time of rebuilding the Buxton baths on the part of the Duke of Devonshire, when a capital of nearly £3,000 had been gathered together by the scrupulous management of the Trustees. The names may be mentioned, first and particularly, of the late Bishop Spencer, at one time trustee, and incumbent of Buxton, and more recently one of the Vice-Presidents of the Hospital; of Mr. Heacock and Mr. Smithers, its successive Treasurers; and of Sir Charles Scudamore, Mr. Page, Mr. Cumming, Dr. Carstairs, and the Rev. R. P. Hull Brown,—as being no longer alive to witness and take part in the present development of the Charity; and also in order of seniority as to connection with the Institution, of Dr. Robertson, and the Hon. and Rev. F. R. Grey, as still living to rejoice in the well-doing of the Buxton Charity and its Hospital. Of these £3,000, £500 was judiciously expended on the rebuilding of the Charity Natural Baths; the large remaining sum which those baths cost, and the whole cost of the Hot Baths of the Charity, having been paid by the munificence of the late Duke of Devonshire. Again, in 1853—4, when the proposal of an hospital to receive the patients of the Institution was brought before the public by Mr. Smithers and the other Trustees, the sum of £1,000 from the accumulated fund was given towards the Hospital; leaving a residue of £1,500 consols, which sum remains thus invested. (See Estate Account.)

The history and doings of the Buxton Bath Charity have thus been summarily brought down to the time of forming the Hospital, the expenses of which were defrayed by the individual and collective liberality of the Trustees; by special subscriptions from the public; by the proceeds of a bazaar, that was bountifully supplied and supported, &c.;—a total sum of £6,000 having been thus got together, and expended on the conversion of this valuable building to hospital purposes. This conversion with its anxious details and successful results, was mainly due to the untiring exertions of the late Mr. Wilmot, aided by the architectural skill of Mr. H. Currey, and the liberal consideration of the late Duke of Devonshire.

It forms an interesting episode in this history, that, in the winter of 1862—3, during what will be long remembered as the Cotton Famine, a special fund was obtained, chiefly by the exertions of the late Mr. Wilmot; and 100 young women, under 30 years of age, selected by the Relief Committees of their respective towns, as being most likely to be benefited by the change of air and the comforts of the Hospital, were received, and taken care of, as to food, and as to medicines, and restored to their homes in the subsequent spring, with renovated health and strength, and full of gratitude for what they had received. The balance of the subscriptions, amounting with interest to £256, was invested as a separate fund for ever, to enable poor female operatives from factory towns to be received into the Hospital.

A very important circumstance in the history of the Hospital is that the grounds in front of it have been, with much kind consideration, made over to the Institution, on the part of the Duke of Devonshire, maintaining the detached position of the building, enhancing its appearance, and adding to the out-door advantages of the patients.

The building is the property of his Grace the Duke of Devonshire; and the conversion of it to the use of the Hospital for ever, on the payment of the rent of £5 yearly, was benevolently granted by the late Duke of Devonshire, as testified on the stone over the principal entrance, on which is inscribed: "The last munificent Charity of William Spencer, 6th Duke of Devonshire, K.G., who allowed these buildings to be converted to the use of the sick poor, January, A.D. 1858." A considerable sum of money that had been collected for the construction of the Hospital was expended upon the work. The walls and roof of the structure were fortunately found to be in good preservation; the interior was entirely removed and re-arranged; the sub-soil carefully taken away; and about two-thirds of the building occupied for the purposes of the Hospital, by a chaplain's house, a dispensary and dispenser's apartments, a house for the master and matron, kitchen, day-rooms, dining-hall, and spacious dormitories affording separate beds for 120 patients, in addition to the beds provided for cases of accident, and in addition to the rooms required for the servants of the establishment.

During the year 1868, a legal Conveyance of the buildings and grounds of the Hospital was given to the Trustees by the present Duke of Devonshire, at the nominal rent of five shillings yearly, on the condition that they shall be used exclusively for the purposes of the Charity.

During the year 1872, the duties of Chaplain to the Hospital were kindly undertaken by the Vicar of Buxton, and the Chaplain's House was converted to the general purposes of the Hospital; the number of beds for patients was raised to 150; and better accommodation afforded to the Out-Patients, Dispensary, &c.

During the eighteen years since the Hospital was opened, there have been 22,714 patients under treatment, of which number 19,627 have been treated beneficially; and 2,616, or about one-eighth of the whole, were not suffering from any of the forms of rheumatism, but were such cases as are ordinarily met with in hospitals. On the average of the eighteen years, the patients remained under treatment 24.15 days; and 20,098 cases of rheumatism, embracing every conceivable variety of this obstinate disease, were thus extensively relieved by the remedial agency of the Buxton mineral waters.

This prefatory account has seemed to be needful for the information of those not already acquainted with the nature and merits of this Institution.

REPORT
COMMITTEE OF MANAGEMENT,
FOR THE YEAR 1876.

The members of the Committee of Management are enabled to report that the Hospital continues to be increasingly useful, year after year; and they do this with great thankfulness. The Hospital has been added to the means of usefulness of the Buxton Bath Charity during eighteen years, affording board, lodgings, &c., to a much larger number of in-patients than the total number of the patients of the older institution, with which it was incorporated in the year 1859.

The number of in-patients admitted to the Hospital has been nearly trebled since the first and second years of its existence; and the number of in-patients received continues to be somewhat greater year after year. The season of the year, and the kind of weather which may prevail, influence the pressure of patients to be admitted to the Hospital. During the past year the total number of in-patients admitted has been 1579, being an increase of 12 upon the number received in 1875, and 37 upon the number in 1874, and 172 upon the number in 1873, and so on, until we arrive at the vast difference of numbers between 622 in 1859, or 691 in 1860, and 1579 in 1876.

The beneficial result obtained by this increasingly large number of in-patients has been in an adequate proportion to these larger and larger numbers. Of the 1,579 in-patients, 1,368 were discharged as having been relieved; 147 as no better; 22 were discharged at their own request; 7 were discharged for breach of rules; 4 were found to be unfit cases for the Hospital; 4 died; and 27 remained on the books at the end of the year.

The number of out-patients admitted during the year was 220. It is only right to repeat, that the comparatively small number of the out-patients is evidence as to the high estimation in which the internal comfort and appliances of the Hospital are held by the patients and by the subscribers. It is remembered how general was the sense of anxiety, lest patients should prefer the freedom from control, and the comparative privacy of lodgings in the town and neighbourhood of Buxton, and lest only the more necessitous, or the more helpless, might be ready or willing to avail themselves of any possible advantages which could be offered to them within the walls of the Hospital, then about to be provided. It is very gratifying to find how entirely the contrary holds good. The patients, with scarcely an exception, are most anxious to enjoy the great and obvious advantages of residence within the Hospital; and the out-patients consist almost entirely of those who cannot obtain the privilege of an in-patient's recommendation. Nevertheless, the number of the out-patients is of much importance, supplementing and extending the work of the Hospital, and affording results which are entirely satisfactory. Of the 220 out-patients received during the year, 159 were discharged as having been relieved: 23 were no better at the time of discharge; 34 left Buxton without having been discharged; and the results of their treatment cannot therefore be reported; and there were 4 out-patients on the books at the end of the year. It is probable, as has been stated again and again in these reports, that of the 34 out-patients who were not sufficiently impressed with the sense of the duty of presenting themselves before leaving Buxton, a considerable proportion had derived benefit. The subscribers who send the out-patients to the Hospital should endeavour as far as may be, to impress on the minds of these poor persons before they are sent to Buxton, and should make enquiries of them, after they return home, as to the fulfilment of this easy duty, the neglect of which necessarily occasions some sense of dissatisfaction, renders the returns so far incomplete, and cannot but be a matter of some regret to all concerned.

An anxious feeling had been repeatedly expressed as to the amount of benefit ultimately derived by the patients of the Hospital. With a view to ascertain this as far as might be, a form, printed on a post-card, has been given to every patient on leaving the Hospital, to be filled up and returned six weeks after discharge. Of these reports 1,072 have been received during the past year, and 47 are reported to be well; 780 improved; 240 no better; and 5 as having died after leaving the Hospital. The chronic and aggravated character of the cases of a large proportion of the patients will be admitted to render this return very satisfactory. Rather more than seven-tenths of the patients are shown to have derived lasting benefit, and the progress of rheumatism may be inferred to have been checked in a certain number of the remainder. The medical report of the individual cases at the time of discharge is known to be often more satisfactory than the statements of the patients. A crippled joint may remain crippled, and be the salient circumstance in the patient's mind; whereas all the other circumstances of the case are necessarily considered in the report of the medical man. The account, however, as supplied by the patients themselves, six weeks at least after leaving the Hospital, and necessarily uninfluenced, needs no allowance for this consideration, and speaks for itself.

The average number of patients daily resident in the Hospital throughout the year has been 102 and sixty-four decimals; and the average number of days in the Hospital of every in-patient has been 23 and seventy-five decimals.

The average cost of every in-patient for three weeks has been £2 2s. 0 $\frac{3}{4}$ d., being again an increase upon the cost during the previous year amounting to 1s. 1 $\frac{1}{2}$ d. The average cost per head per day has been two shillings, also again an increase upon the previous year. It needs no explanation, that these yearly differences are chiefly owing to the increasing or varying prices of food and of coals; and they will be admitted to supply proof of good management, when the comparatively unrestricted dietary is considered, as well as the high prices of all articles of domestic consumption.

The greater number of patients, and consequently greater amount of benefit afforded year by year, is so far evidence that the subscribers are becoming more alive to the duty of sending as many patients as possible during the winter months. But even in the past year, the average number of patients in the Hospital during the month of January was only 18 and 45 decimals, and during February only 37 and 20 decimals, and during March only 62 and 32 decimals, and during April only 88 and 66 decimals, and during November only 114 and 90 decimals, and during December only 36 and 20 decimals, shewing how much more of hospital work might be done in this direction. It is sufficiently well known on the other hand, that during June, July, August, and September, from 200 to 400 have been waiting at one time for their turn to be admitted, and that sometimes a patient has had to wait eight weeks before a bed could be obtained. And yet, notwithstanding this, the Hospital cannot be said to have been filled during more than six months of the year. The house is so well built, warmed, and ventilated, and affords such conveniences and comforts, and enjoys from its locality such high and sanitary advantages, while the baths and waters of Buxton are known to be quite as curative during the winter months as at any other time, that the subscribers might regulate their recommendations in such a way that all the beds should be constantly occupied, and its value utilised to the fullest degree.

The great pressure upon the Hospital during six months of the year must, nevertheless, be regarded with much regret; and the more so as about one-third of the great building of the Hospital is still occupied as stables, &c. The Committee of Management have been much urged from time to time to solicit the concession of the remainder of the building for the purposes of the Hospital; and it will be remembered that they were able to state in previous reports, that the noble owner of the property and his professional advisers were disposed to give the subject their favourable consideration, when certain engineering difficulties as to the supply of mineral water to the Hot Baths had been surmounted. These difficulties have now been entirely removed. The Committee would very thankfully accept this most important concession in the interest of poor sufferers from rheumatism, who are now sent to the Hospital from no fewer than 300 different towns or districts. The new Hot Baths and the new Natural Bath, in exchange for those previously used by the patients of the Hospital, rendered necessary to allow of the extension of the baths for the general public, have now been completed and in use by the Hospital patients during the greater part of the year. It should be gratefully remembered that the sum of £1,500 towards this has been contributed by His Grace the Duke of Devonshire. It is submitted that the primary difficulty as to the extension of the Hospital has been removed. The conversion of the remainder of this great building for the uses of the Hospital would of course involve the expenditure of a very large sum of money; but the extension would be simply a fulfilment of the primary Christian duty of granting to the suffering poor the utmost opportunity of using the healing waters of Buxton, while it must indirectly benefit all the vested interests of the neighbouring freeholders and inhabitants, increasing the value of property in direct proportion to the increasing celebrity of the mineral waters. Moreover, such an extension would not only enable a larger number of patients to be received, but would entirely isolate all the buildings of the Hospital, surround it with open and ornamental grounds, and embellish all surrounding property. This is a case in which the interests of the Hospital and of visitors and residents go hand in hand, it is the most important concession that could be asked for or granted, and the Committee of Management of the Hospital would receive it with thankfulness. As has been mentioned in the quarterly reports to the subscribers, a grant in aid of the extension of the Hospital may shortly be made by the governors of the Cotton Districts Convalescent Fund, subject to certain reasonable conditions. Such an offer might possibly secure the privilege of effecting the extension of the Hospital without any delay, and be most helpful.

The cost of the patients' diet, &c., always requires the explanation in these reports, that it is owing to an unrestricted allowance of animal food of the best quality at dinner every day; and the average consumption of meat per head per day is accordingly two-thirds of a pound. The consumption of bread and potatoes, entirely unrestricted, is necessarily very large. The amount of benefit afforded must be partly referred to the aid thus given to the medicinal effect of the air of the mountain limestone, and to the restorative and curative power of the Buxton mineral water. It is a necessary statement in these reports that a large proportion of the patients are not only relieved from rheumatism, and the wearing and disabling consequences of the disease, but are sent back to their several homes and occupations in a condition as to health and strength, much better fitted to perform their labours and earn the means of subsistence for themselves and their families.

The financial position of the Hospital at the end of the year affords continued reason for thankfulness, and probably shews in some degree the amount of assistance to be expected from the public whenever the full extension of the Hospital may be conceded. There has been a receipt from annual subscriptions amounting to £109 7s. 0d. more than in 1875; the receipts under the head of Casual Subscriptions have been less by £5 9s. 0d. than in the previous year; while the receipts under the head of Extra Time for In-Patients have been more by £57 14s. 0d. than in the previous year, and for extra out-patients have been more by £5 12s. 0d. than in the previous year; while the donations received at the Hospital have been more by £21 3s. 5d. than in the previous year, those from the hotels and lodging-houses having been less by £19 6s. 5d. than in the previous year; the total sums received under the several heads having been greater than in any preceding year, and greater than the receipts in 1875 by £228 12s. 0d.

There have been no legacies received during the year. It has often been mentioned in these reports as matter of surprise, that so many friends and supporters of the Hospital should have left no record beyond the grave of the interest taken in its prosperity during their lives. Invested capital must be the only security for the future usefulness of such an institution: empowering extensions, justifying improvements, and enabling prompt payments to be made, and the best sources of supply to be had recourse to. The advantages of pecuniary competence are so obvious, that it might seem to have been superfluous to have stated them, were it not that the opposite opinion is expressed from time to time, as a plea for relaxation as to rules and conditions of management.

The total sum obtained from collections in churches during the year has been more than it was in 1875 by £37 19s. 1d. Collections have been only granted in the Buxton churches on one Sunday during the year; but it should be thankfully added that the collections on that day amounted to £105 11s. 8d. An effort has been made by the unanimous wish of the members of the Committee of Management to obtain a united action in aid of the Hospital from all the churches and chapels of Buxton and its neighbourhood on a given Sunday of the year. This wish has been readily and kindly responded to by the clergy and ministers of Buxton, Burbage, Wormhill, and Earl Sterndale, Trinity Church, Malvern House Church and Hartington-street Chapel, Buxton; and considering the unanimity of the wish on this behalf by so large a number of Buxton residents, consisting of men of all phases of religious opinion, and simply anxious for the well-doing of a public institution which recognises no differences of religious opinion in those on whose behalf it was founded, and to whose relief it ministers, a Hospital Sunday should surely be supported by one common spirit of Christian charity. Collections have been kindly sent from five other churches, namely,—Mansfield Woodhouse, Barlborough, Bottesford, Belvoir Castle, and Astbury, and also from Highfield Independent Chapel at Earlsheaton, giving a total from these collections of £22 11s. 0d. The total collection from all churches and chapels in Buxton and elsewhere amounts to £151 17s. 2d. It is a subject of necessary regret that collections have not been obtained from any other churches or chapels. It is felt that much more might be expected to be received from these great sources of benevolent action, and especially when situated in the great manufacturing centres of population, obtaining, as these towns and districts do, such a very large proportion of the benefit derived from the operations of this Hospital.

Notwithstanding the receipt of £1,500, under the kind action of the Duke of Devonshire, a considerable expenditure has been occasioned by the construction of the new Natural and Hot Baths for the patients of the Hospital. The total sum required for this purpose has not yet been ascertained; but will not be less than an additional £1,500. It has been a natural anxiety that none of the invested money of the Hospital should be thus expended, and it is hoped that this may be avoided. It should be mentioned, under this head, for the further satisfaction of the supporters of the Hospital, that the site and buildings of the new baths are to be at once legally conveyed to the Trustees of the Hospital by His Grace the Duke of Devonshire, on the same condition as that on which the remainder of the Hospital buildings is held, namely:—that they are held for ever, subject to being used exclusively for Hospital purposes.

The Trust and Committee of Management of the Hospital have lost during the year one of its original and most kind and active members, Mr. Samuel Turner. Mr. Turner had been the painstaking and excellent Treasurer of the Hospital during the last twelve years; also, a most efficient member of the House Committee; and, also, most regular and conscientious in his attendance at all the meetings.

The Sheffield and Rotherham Banking Company have kindly undertaken the duties of Treasurer to the Hospital.

Three of the Vice-Presidents of the Hospital have died during the year. The Rev. R. P. Hull Brown, formerly incumbent of Buxton, and during many years one of the most active members of its Board of Management, whose sermons and other exertions on its behalf still live in the grateful memory of the surviving Trustees, deserves a full record of his services to the institution. W. P. Thornhill, Esq., of Stanton, in the Peak, formerly M.P. for North Derbyshire, and Sir William Jackson, Bart., who also formerly represented the Northern Division of the county in Parliament, were kind friends and supporters of the Hospital.

The three vacancies thus occasioned have been filled up by the appointment of Sir Richard Wallace, Bart., M.P., F. Cooper, Esq., Inspector General of Hospitals, and Edmund Ashworth, Esq., of Egerton Hall, Bolton, as Vice-Presidents. These gentlemen have been earnest and kind friends of the Hospital.

It will be remembered that the increasing work of the Hospital, and the increasing labours of the Honorary Medical Staff, were found to necessitate the appointment of a Resident Medical Officer, to see all the patients at the time of admission, prescribe any treatment immediately necessary, act in all emergencies in the absence of the Medical Officers, keep the Case Books, prepare a tabulated account of the cases, and assist in such chemical and microscopical observations as would facilitate the medical work of the Hospital. Dr. Lorimer now holds this appointment. The result is highly satisfactory. The whole internal medical work of the Hospital, including the supply and prompt dispensing of the very best medicines, is believed to be most satisfactorily as well as economically discharged.

Mr. Sykes, who had acted as Honorary Meteorologist to the Hospital during the five years of his residence in the Hospital, kindly continues to perform these duties without payment.

The duties of Chaplain to the Hospital, kindly undertaken by the Rev. S. R. Eddy, M.A., Vicar of Buxton, an ex-officio trustee, and member of the Committee of Management, have been efficiently discharged, with the kind assistance of the Curates of Buxton.

Dr. Robertson has again been unanimously re-elected Chairman of the Board of Trustees and Committee of Management.

Mr. Josiah Taylor and Mr. E. C. Milligan have been unanimously elected members of the Committee of Management.

The Chairman is ex-officio a member of the House Committee, and Mr. J. W. Taylor, Mr. R. R. Duke, and Mr. I. Walton, have again been unanimously re-elected members of this Committee; and Mr. P. Le Gros and Dr. F. K. Dickson have been elected to fill the vacancies that have occurred during the year.

Mr. A. Schofield and Mr. Samuel Taylor have been unanimously elected Auditors.

The thanks of the Committee are hereby tendered to the Clergymen and Ministers who have allowed sermons to be preached in their churches and chapels, on behalf of the Hospital, and also to the Clergymen and Ministers who have preached the sermons.

The sermons preached on behalf of the Hospital in the churches and chapels of Buxton and the neighbourhood, were by the Rev. Canon Baynes, BUXTON BATH CHARITY, A.D. 1785.

COPY OF REPORT OF THE CHARITY

FOR THE YEAR 1785.

The Original is in the Hospital, and was presented by Dr. Robertson, December 29th, 1871.

BUXTON.

RESOLUTIONS by the Stewards of the several Houses at Buxton, on behalf of the Contributors to the Charitable Fund Established here, for the better regulation of the Charity, made September 13th, 1785.

1st. As to the Contribution.

WHEREAS, at the Commencement of this Charity, in the Year 1779, instituted for the purpose of rendering the Beneficence of the noble Proprietor and his Ancestors, (in setting apart a Bath for the Use of the Poor,) more extensively beneficial; two Stewards were appointed in each House kept open for the Reception of Company to receive a Contribution of One Shilling only, from each Person residing in such Houses, for the Benefit of the Charity. And upon the Departure of one of the Stewards, the departing Steward hath nominated a Successor; and in order to ascertain the Sums contributed, the Stewards for the Time being, at each House, have kept a Subscription Book, in which the Contributors have respectively written their Names and the Sum of One Shilling opposite thereto; and as the Subscriptions have amounted to competent Sums, the Stewards have paid over the same to Mr. Samuel Buxton, Apothecary, in Buxton, as Treasurer, to be applied by him towards the Aid and Support of the Poor, whose Infirmities have caused them to come to Buxton, for the Use of the Waters; for which sums the said Mr. Buxton hath signed Receipts in the Subscription Books. Resolved, that such practice be continued, and that no Person be permitted to subscribe a greater Sum than One Shilling in the Books; and that the Receipts of Mr. Buxton, or the Treasurer for the Time being, in the Subscription Books, be sufficient Discharges to the Stewards for what they receive.

Resolved, That it be recommended to future Stewards to hold an Audit on the 13th of September yearly, to inspect the Accounts of Mr. Buxton, or of the Treasurer for the Time being, and to state the Accounts of the preceding Year in like manner as the Accounts are this Day stated in the Subscription Book at the Hall. And it is declared, that the Allowance of a Duplicate of the Account by any two of the Stewards, under their hands, shall be a sufficient discharge to Mr. Buxton, and all future Treasurers.

Resolved, that all future contributors to the Charity do subscribe thereto upon the Terms of these Resolutions.

2nd. As to the Admission of the Objects of this Charity.

Resolved, That no Inhabitant of Buxton, Fairfield, or of any Place within Seven Miles' Distance from Buxton, be admitted to partake of the Charity; nor any Person be relieved during the Months of November, December, January, February, March, or April; and that during the remaining Six Months of the Year, not more than sixteen Objects, at one Time, be relieved by the Charity. And that no Person shall be admitted on any other Day than Monday in every Week, between the Hours of eight and twelve in the Forenoon; on which Day, during such Hours, the weekly Allowance to each Individual shall also be paid.

Resolved, That before the Patient intending to take the Benefit of the Charity be removed from where he or she dwells, Mr. Buxton, or the Treasurer for the Time being, be applied to by Letter, Postpaid, signifying such Intention, mentioning the Patient's Name, Place of Abode, and Nature of the Disorder; and that no Person be admitted, unless there be a Vacancy in the Number of Sixteen, and unless he or she first produces to the Treasurer his own Letter written in answer to such Application, and also a Letter of Recommendation from some Lady or Gentleman, resident in the Neighbourhood, certifying, whether the Patient is relieved by his or her Parish, or not, and if not, whether he or she is a proper Object, with Respect to Circumstances; and in case he or she is a Pauper, relieved by the Parish, then also a Certificate signed by the Churchwardens or Overseers of the Poor, that the Pauper's Settlement is in the Parish from which he or she is sent; and also a Certificate from a Physician or Apothecary, that the Case is proper for the Buxton Waters.

Resolved, That the Names and Places of Abode of the Objects admitted, be entered by Mr. Buxton, or the Treasurer for the Time being, in a Book (of which Book each Contributor is to have free Inspection), with a Description of the Patient's Disorder; and after his or her Discharge a Minute of the Consequence of the Use of the Waters.

3rd. As to the Application of the Charity Fund.

It being the Intention of the Contributors, that the Money arising from the Contributions, be in every Case applied for the Purposes of supplying the Patients during their Stay at Buxton, with Board, Lodging, and Medicines only; all Ladies and Gentlemen recommending Patients, and all Churchwardens and Overseers giving Certificates, are therefore particularly desired to take Notice, that in Case the Patients shall be admitted to partake of the Charity, and shall die in the Parishes of Buxton or Fairfield, or in any Place, within seven Miles' distance from Buxton, before he or she shall have actually returned to his or her own Parish, such Persons recommending, and such Churchwardens and Overseers certifying, shall be liable to pay the Expenses of the Funeral of such Patients respectively; and that the Charity Money, on no Account whatever, shall be suffered to be applied to defray Travelling Expenses, either to or from Buxton.

Resolved, That no Patient be admitted more than once during a Season, nor be relieved, by the Charity, for a longer Space of Time than five Weeks, from the Date of his or her Admission, nor with a greater Sum than Six Shillings per Week. But for how long a Time he or she shall be relieved less than five Weeks, or what Allowance shall be made him or her less than Six Shillings per Week, shall be at the Discretion of Mr. Buxton, or of the Treasurer for the Time being, taking the Advice of the resident Physicians, or Physician, on the Case, who it is hoped, will kindly consent to give gratuitous Assistance, when necessary.

Resolved, That Mr. Buxton, or the Treasurer for the Time being, be at liberty to retain all his necessary Expenses, occasioned by the Administration of the Charity, over and above what shall be expended in Board, Lodging, and Medicines.

Resolved, That if any Object receiving the Benefit of this Charity, shall beg or receive Alms, during his or her Stay at Buxton, or be guilty of prophane Swearing, Drunkenness, Impertinence, or any gross misbehaviour, he or she shall be instantly (on complaint made) discharged from the Charity.

Ordered, That these Resolutions be printed, and hung up in as public a manner as possible, in the several Houses in Buxton kept open for the Reception of Company, and wherever Contributions are received; and that the said Resolutions be sent by Mr. Buxton, or the Treasurer for the Time being, to every Person recommending a Patient, as a proper Object to partake of the Benefit of this Charity.

 Recommendations are available only during the year for which they are issued.

THE METEOROLOGICAL REPORT FOR 1876,

FROM THE OBSERVATIONS TAKEN AT

THE DEVONSHIRE HOSPITAL, BUXTON.

The commencement of the year 1876 was more in accordance with the features usually expected, namely, cold severe weather; the first day of January was particularised by a fall of snow, which remained on the hills several days afterwards; the temperature during the middle portions of the first four or five days attained a degree scarcely expected at that inclement season of the year; there were several days on which snow and fog prevailed; strong winds were recorded to an average amount; the latter half of the month was much milder, and it was during this period that the thrush was first heard. The weather of February appeared to be a continuation of that of the previous month, gradually increasing in temperature, interspersed with many sudden changes, but of short duration; rain and snow were more abundant than in January; fog and hail were observed on several occasions; strong winds were more frequent; a thunderstorm occurred on one occasion, and the buds on the guelder rose, lime, and broom were becoming rapidly developed towards the end of the month. The weather during March presented many meteorological phenomena; on the first evening a lunar rainbow was seen; afterwards came a stormy and tempestuous period, continuing till the middle of the month; during this time rain, hail, and snow fell abundantly; the temperature fluctuated very much, but on the whole it increased; on the 6th a heavy thunderstorm passed over; the average amount, for March, of boisterous winds prevailed; the greatest amount of ozone was found during this month; in the early part of the month the buds of the lilacs, sycamores, &c., were expanded, and before the end of the month they were in leaf; the mezereon was in flower about the 2nd or 3rd. April commenced with very fine, warm, genial weather; no rain fell during the first week; afterwards there were several days on which small quantities of snow or sleet, and occasionally a little hail, fell; fog once or twice appeared; there was thunderstorm towards the latter portion of the month; in the earlier part primroses were out; the hawthorn and mountain ash were in leaf; wind was less boisterous than in the previous months. The month of May was most noticeable on account of the general absence of rain; the smallest amount of rain was collected during this month; the temperature still increased with little interruption, being rather in excess on several days during the middle of the month; a small quantity of rain fell on four or five days at the end of the month, but of small amounts; rough winds were rarely present. June commenced with showery weather, which was continued in varying amounts throughout the month; the temperature increased at its beginning, and maintained a high degree without interruption; there were several thunderstorms during the month; moderate amounts of ozone were noticed on most days; strong winds often prevailed, and hail fell on one occasion. During the first-third of July rain fell occasionally; the next portion of the month was almost free from any downfall; the latter portion had a few showers of small amounts; thunderstorms occurred on several occasions; hail fell on one day; boisterous winds were not frequent; ozone was frequently registered, and the temperature still continued very high. There were some very heavy showers in the first part of August, but after the 6th a period of fine weather prevailed; the high temperature of the preceding two months became further increased; strong winds prevailed on several occasions; ozone was plentiful; lightning without thunder was registered several times; a thunderstorm occurred towards the end of the month; hail fell during one day; in the middle portion of the month showers of meteors were observed during the evenings; and the swallows began to take their departure about the 24th. The temperature, although high for September, began to decrease by slight gradations; rain was more abundant than in several of the previous months; thunderstorms occurred on several occasions; on two days lightning was seen, but no thunder heard; a decrease in the amount of ozone was observed; there were seldom any very strong winds; and the leaves on most of the trees began to show a yellow tint about the 14th. In October the temperature still remained above the average height for the first three weeks; rain fell frequently, some of the showers being heavy; it was during this month that the maximum fall in 24 hours was collected; ozone was found in an average amount; strong winds became more prevalent, and fog was present several times. The decreasing temperature of the latter part of the previous month received at the commencement of November a slight increase, which was continued through the month; a few heavy showers of rain occurred; snow and fog were present several times, also strong winds; and ozone was frequently noticed, but in small quantities. December began with heavy showers of rain, which were continued periodically to the end of the year; during this month the greatest monthly total was collected; strong winds prevailed; snow fell on several days; the temperature remained high until the end of the month.

The Barometer.—The mean height of the barometrical readings for the last seven years was 29·864 inches; the mean height of the readings for 1876, when reduced to the sea level, and corrected for temperature to 32° F., was 29·890 inches, or below that of last year by ·003 of an inch. The barometer recorded its maximum height 29·595 inches (unreduced) on January 15th, being ·036 of an inch above that of 1875; and its minimum 27·423 inches (unreduced) on the 4th of December, below the minimum of last year by ·412 of an inch. The range between the maximum and minimum was 2·172 inches, or ·448 of an inch more than that of the previous year; the mean average range for the year 1876 was 1·119 inches, or ·017 of an inch above that of 1875.

The Temperature in the Shade.—The average mean temperature of the air for the last seven years was 45°2; the mean temperature of the air for 1876 was 45°3, or 0°4 more than that of last year. The maximum degree of temperature in the shade was 86°9 on the 16th of July, or 14° above that of the previous year; the minimum 10°0 was registered on the 11th of February, being a decrease of 5°5 on the amount of the former year. The total annual range is 76°9, or 14°5 more than that of 1875; the mean monthly range is 37°8, or 4°4 more than that of the previous year. The mean diurnal range 12°9 shows an increase of °3 on that of 1875. The greatest range of temperature that occurred on one day was 39°1, on the 13th of August, and the least 1°8 on the 29th of March.

Radiation.—The maximum degree of solar radiation was 132°5 on the 22nd of July, which was 3° above that of the previous year; the minimum degree of the terrestrial radiator was 10°5 on the 22nd of February, below that of the previous year by 9°2. The total annual range between the maximum and minimum radiators was 122°0, showing an increase of 12°2.
