OFFERED AT THE NET PRICES AFFIXED BY

BERNARD QUARITCH, 15 Piccadilly.

LONDON, February, 1895.

B. Q. is an Agent for the sale of the Publications of the British Museum, of The Society of Antiquaries, of The India Office, of the Surtees, and many other Societies, English and Foreign.

LONDON, 15 Piccadilly, 1895.

TO BOOK LOVERS IN ALL PARTS OF THE WORLD.

I AM desirous of becoming recognized as their London Agent by all men outside of England who want books. The need of such an agent is frequently felt abroad by the heads of literary institutions, librarians, and book-lovers generally. They shrink from giving trouble to a book-seller in matters which require more attention and effort than the mere furnishing of some specific article in his stock; and they must often wish that it were possible to have the services of a man of ability and experience at their constant command. Such services I freely offer to any one who chooses to employ them; no fee is required to obtain them; and not a fraction will be added to the cost of the supplies. The friendly confidence which is necessarily extended to one's agent at a distance will undoubtedly in time bring an ample return for my labours; but so far as the present is concerned, I ask for nothing but the pleasure of attending to the wants of those who are as yet without an agent in London. Whether the books to be procured through my intervention be rare or common, single items or groups, the gems of literature and art, or the popular books of the day,—I shall be happy to work in every way for book-lovers of every degree. Commissions of any kind may be entrusted to me; I will venture to guarantee satisfaction in every case, even in the delicate matter of getting books appropriately bound. It may likewise be well to state that my offer of agency extends to the selling of foreign books here, as well as to the supply of English books hence.

BERNARD QUARITCH.

PREFACE

“AS TO BOOKS, I DARE SAY QUARITCH HAS PRETTY WELL FERRETED THEM OUT OF SPAIN.”—Extract from a Letter from Edward Fitzgerald to J. R. Lowell, dated Woodbridge, April 17th, 1878.

PUNIC and Greek colonies had occupied the south and east coasts of Spain for many centuries before the Romans entered the Peninsula. At the time of this event, the native populations are described as forming three divisions. From Santander, along the northern and western coast down to Algarve, pure Celts occupied the maritime regions; from Algarve, along the south and east up to Barcelona, and taking in the line of the Pyrenees as far as Bilboa, the population (with the exception of the Greek colonists) was Iberian. All the middle of the country was occupied by the fused people named Celtiberians. Nothing is known concerning the language of the Iberians, but it is usually concluded, from a certain resemblance between the names of places in the Basque country and in Southern Spain, that the old Iberian was practically identical with the modern Basque, notwithstanding the fact that the word Iberian is not known to the Basques, who call themselves Euscara. This name is possibly akin to that of the old town of Osca, in North Aragon (now Huesca), and to that of the Vascones of Navarre, but the Euscara prefer to be identified with the ancient Cantabrians (Asturians), who were the last of the tribes subjugated in Spain (by Augustus), and who were probably a mixed frontier people. The root of the word Iber seems to be Ber or Br, and is traceable in the names of Barbary, Britain, and Hibernia. We are accustomed to look upon the Iberians as a small dark people who once occupied all the west of Europe, and whose descendants are still to be recognized in the British islands as well as in France and Spain. This is perhaps one of the causes which have given rise to the Irish tradition that the Spaniards were their ancestors.

The name Iberia is comprehensible as expressing the country of the Iberi; but no proper explanation has been given of the name Hispania, which in Strabo's time was considered exactly equivalent to Iberia. As the Hisp appears likewise in Hispalis, we are inclined to think that Hispania was originally the name of the district round Seville.

After the legions had been for forty years fighting and garrison-keeping in Spain, a considerable number of sons of Romans were born in the country, and the first Roman colonia was established, formed from these creoles, in the south of Andalusia. Many settlements of agriculturists from Italy followed in rapid succession, and before long there were several centres of population from which the Latin language was diffused among the Celtic and Iberian tribes. This was the first step towards the creation of the Romance language and of modern Spanish history. The schools which Sertorius is said to have established during his eight or nine years of rule in Spain must have gone far to increase the Romanising tendencies which had begun a hundred years before. When the Lusitanians—the purest of the Celtic population—sent to Africa to invite Sertorius to join them, they must have been able to express their wishes in Latin. The rapidity of the conversion of the Andalucians into Romans was so great that when Strabo wrote (about the beginning of the Christian era), they had already lost the memory of their native speech, and were little different from Romans. The same writer speaks of the improved manners of the people throughout Spain except in the northern mountains, and when he wrote all the wars had ended. Within three centuries from that time, the Latin language was dominant in the peninsula. Only in Cantabria and Vasconia, an ancient language survived in general use. Elsewhere throughout the country, no doubt, there were little groups of population in which some Celtic or Iberian dialects lingered on (as is shown from an incident related by Tacitus); but when the northern Barbarians began to appear in Spain soon after A.D. 400, it is probable that, besides the Basque, no other language than Latin was spoken by the people. The Romanisation of the whole country during the first three centuries of our era was so great, that it seemed as though the Hellenico-Roman civilisation had transferred its chief seat to Spain. Of the Latin writers who were

Spaniards by birth it is sufficient to name Pomponius Mela, Seneca, Lucan, Martial, Quintilian, Columella. The coming of the Barbarians had the same effect in Spain as in other Latin-speaking countries. It precipitated the formation of a new dialect based on the rustica Romana. The lingua rustica had nowhere been so nearly related to the language of Latin literature, as the speech of Whitechapel is to-day related to the language of the Court of England. In fact it may be readily assumed that spoken Latin was never the same as written Latin, and that the people who spoke Latin throughout Italy and Spain used a form of speech much nearer in its ordo and its idioms to that of modern Italy and Spain than to the artificial structure of classical Latin. It is almost admitted that even the best of the Romans said dominu' for dominum, and thus created a colloquial resemblance between accusative and ablative which led to a careless use of prepositions. Even in the written Latin of Spaniards in the Gothic time, the most remarkable barbarism is the irregular government by prepositions and the confusion of the oblique cases. We can easily trace in this popular use of Latin the growth of the Romance language, and although the oldest written specimens of modern Spanish are not earlier than the twelfth century, we know that it must have been spoken for centuries before. Indeed it is not at all unreasonable to believe that as far back as the time of Sertorius he may have been addressed as "Domn" by his Lusitanian and Celtiberian followers, and that the word mulier of the Roman forum, while dwindling into múlie (moglie) in the speech of rustic Italians, had remained mulyèr (molher) among the Edetani of Aragon, and became muyèr (muier) among the Carpetani of Castile. (The change from muier to mujer and muger was easy, but the alteration in the pronunciation to muhèr is a comparatively modern one.)

The Goths and the other barbarians who entered Spain early in the fifth century have left their memory in the history of a dynasty, and the names of the people, that is, in many of the Christian names and the derived surnames, such as Rodrigo, Rodriguez. They founded an aristocracy, and for that reason it became fashionable to trace descent from the Goths. Even the Basques are among the foremost to claim such an origin, and to find a confirmation of the theory in the fact that light complexions prevail among them. After all, the Gothic dynasty was only Gothic in name after a few generations had passed away, and King Roderic probably knew not a word of Gut-thiudisk, or Theotisc. The warriors were absorbed among the people they had conquered, and they do not seem to have left any perceptible dash of Teutonic blood in the veins of the modern Spaniards. The results of the Arab invasion were very different. The tide of Saracen conquest had been flowing towards Mauritania, and when the armies of Tarik and Musa joined with Count Julian, the Byzantine Exarch of Africa, in an attack upon the Gothic monarchy, it was only the first outpouring of a stream that flowed for centuries into Spain. The women accompanied the warriors, and a new element of nationality was created. The Christians who could fight fought and were beaten, and gradually gave way before the advance of the Arabs, retiring ever northwards. Those who could not or would not fight acquiesced in the new domination, and mingled with their conquerors. The Romance language was never extinguished, although in Andalusia Arabic became the general tongue, and there was a considerable Arabisation as far into the heart of Spain as Toledo. A narrow line of independent Christian people extended over the whole north, the chief elements of resistance being in the Asturias, Biscay, and Navarre. Within half a century of the invasion, there was a kingdom in the Asturias with Oviedo for its capital, and another principality in Navarre. The one was the nucleus of the future monarchy of Castile, the other of the future monarchy of Aragon. They grew in strength, and gradually pressed their conquerors back. Early in the tenth century the kingdom of the Asturias became a kingdom of Leon, with a county of Castile annexed to it, and Galicia was attached soon after. The county of Aragon, which had been a part of Navarre, became a monarchy in the eleventh century; and in the twelfth the united kingdom of Castile and Leon arose. It was for Castile that Portugal was conquered, but the prince who led the victorious army converted it into a kingdom for himself, and the Castilian King unwillingly acquiesced, when the new Prince married his daughter. From that time the fate of the Muhammadans was sealed; their complete destruction was only a question of time. The recovery in 1085 of Toledo by the Castilian King, and the conquest of Zaragoza some thirty years later by the Aragonese monarch, had furnished the two kingdoms with their natural capitals, and henceforward their advancement in power and wealth was continuous.

The greatest Christian warrior of the eleventh century was Ruy Diaz of Bivar, a Castilian lord, who spent his life in fighting, chiefly against the Arabs on the southern frontiers of Aragon and Castile, but also, with great impartiality at times, against his Christian kinsmen. This robber-chief, called by the Arabs and the Arabised Spaniards Sídi (my Lord), or Es-Síd (the Lord), has lived in song and story from his own time down to the present day in the unhistoric renown of a Christian patriot and soldier of the most perfect character. His nickname has become synonymous with nobleness and gallantry, and, what is of more importance in the history of Spanish literature, his life was recorded in a poem, which is the earliest known example of its kind in the language of Castile.

The word Spanish, in reference to language, implies only Castilian ; geographically and historically it might be applied to the languages of Aragon and Portugal, but it has attached itself completely to the superb tongue which is now spoken throughout the greater part of the Peninsula. There were four varieties of speech in Hispania at the time when the Christian kingdoms began to struggle with the Moslems ; namely, (1) Galician, differing but little from (2) Asturian or Old Castilian, (3) Basque, (4) Provençal, and (5) Arabic. The Galician Romance tongue was polished in Portugal into the language of Camoens, but has remained in Galicia itself a rough dialect. The Basque is still what it always was, and continues to occupy the mountain regions in which it has been found since the beginning of history. The Provençal tongue, which ruled over all the countries from Piedmont to Aquitaine, and from Limoges to Valencia, was spoken in the lands we call Catalonia, Aragon, and Valencia. The political changes by which the kingdom of Paris was gradually extended over France helped to check the growth of the Langue d' Oc in Gaul, and to weaken the development of the southern branch of that tongue. By degrees the Limosin of Spain gave way before the Castilian, and decayed into the dialects of Catalonia and Valencia, of which only the former has now any virtual existence. It is not to be regretted ; for although as a literary speech the Provençal was ahead of its kindred, there can be no question that the Castilian tongue is at once more musical and more virile, more exact and more elegant, than any other of the Romance languages can pretend to be.

The Cid poem is not later than A.D. 1200, and it might perhaps be half a century older. We may take for granted that among a ballad-making and ballad-loving people like the Spaniards such an adventurous career as that of Ruy Diaz was sung in lays very soon after his death.

Unfortunately, none of the numerous ballads that exist can claim to be as old as the poem; and yet the poem must have been preceded by ballads. It is a Spanish parallel to the Chanson de Roland, but at least a century later; and we must regard it as a most creditable opening for the magnificent literature which followed, and which reached its heyday between 1480 and 1630.

The next great event was the production, about 1260, of the Cronica General, and about 1270, of the famous Siete Partidas, both in Castilian prose. Of the former, Alfonso el Sabio was the sole author; of the latter, he was the promoter, and, to a large extent, the author. Such a book as the Siete Partidas, serving at once as a Legal Code, and as a literary monument, is not to be paralleled in any other country of Europe. The same wise and learned King is said to have caused the Bible to be translated into Castilian; and it is not too much to believe that, independently of its own merits, the language of Castile was raised by the genius of Alfonso el Sabio to a position of eminence which ensured its final triumph over all its rivals in the Peninsula. He wrote scientific treatises which attest his mastery of the science of Astronomy as then known; and various other books. Amongst them is a collection of Hymns in the Galician dialect, which was regarded by the people of Old Castile as the early poetic tongue of their ancestors in the days before New Castile was conquered and the capital of the kingdom transferred to Toledo. Although, in the King's own time, Toledo was the metropolis which set the fashion in language, old ballads were probably still extant in the language of Galicia reminiscent of the days when the warriors of the Asturias and Galicia began to move southwards against the Moslem; before Galicia was left to become an outlying province with a rustic dialect. The Galicising tendency is apparent, also, in the spelling of the Chronicle, in which we find such words as fabrar, ygresia, diabre, home, prata, pracer (for fablar, yglesia, diable, hombre, plata, placer). Alfonso was also acquainted with the Provençal language, and capable of enjoying it, since he was accustomed to invite troubadours to his Court, and to listen to their love-ditties. (This word suggests at once another observation upon Provençal literature. It never produced any great works like Italian and Castilian, notwithstanding its superior standing, and its wide circulation and cultivation as a literary vehicle long before any attempt was made to refine the other two languages.) The General Chronicle, above referred to, was the first in that grand series of prose Chronicles which do honour to Spanish historical literature. Its account of the history of Spain during the preceding five centuries was professedly based upon serious histories and chronicles of ecclesiastical origin; but the romantic and legendary stories, of which it is full, can only have been drawn from popular ballads, and are in themselves sufficient proof of the prior existence of such materials. Alfonso was a poet, a philosopher, a legislator, a great prose writer, and a warrior—a personage to whom no parallel can be found among European monarchs since the time of King Alfred. His father-in-law Jaime, the Conqueror of Valencia, wrote his own commentaries about the same time, that is soon after the middle of the thirteenth century—a work which is the first remarkable example of literature in the Spanish Provençal tongue. He also was a man of interesting character, as a king, a warrior, and an historian; but far inferior, except in military skill, to Alfonso el Sabio.

There was another personage of royal blood who wrote Castilian books, one of which is a literary monument that has gained enduring popularity in many lands. This was Don Juan Manuel, Alfonso's nephew, whose greatest work, called the Conde Lucanor, is a collection of Fables derived chiefly from Oriental sources. It was the earliest substantially original book of the kind in a vernacular European tongue.

The Chronicle of the Cid (of which the first edition will be found in the following catalogue) is supposed to have been written about the same time as the General Chronicle of Alfonso, and the amount of indebtedness of either work to the other—in so far as they are concurrent—has often been discussed. The spirit of chivalry, or in other words “religious faith and knightly loyalty,” which Ticknor regards as the chief characteristic of the Cid Chronicle certainly belonged rather to the thirteenth than to the fourteenth century, and furnishes a good reason for doubting the assumption of Ticknor himself that it was compiled at a later date than the King's book. This quality is, however, not its chief merit; for there are many things in the special Chronicle which will not be found in the General.

When in the fourteenth century we arrive at the period of the internecine struggle for the throne of Castile between the two brothers Pedro the Cruel and Henry of Trastamara, with the expedition of the Black Prince to the help of the former, and that of Bertrand Duguesclin to the aid of the latter, we come upon Pedro Lopez de Ayala, the Chancellor of Castile, as an author and chronicler of high merit. He was for some time a prisoner in England and is believed to have written in this country the very poem in which he speaks of having wasted his boyhood in idle romances of chivalry such as Amadis. This is a sufficient proof that the famous romance which was first published in 1508 (augmented from three books to four) was not a late production of Castilian literature, but in its original form as early as the first part of the fourteenth century. (The only known copy of the first edition will be found described in the ensuing catalogue.) Lopez de Ayala was one of the successive chroniclers officially appointed to continue in each king's reign the records of his predecessor; a line of historians which took up the story of Spain from the time at which Alfonso's Chronicle ends, and went on to the close of the fifteenth century.

The origin of the Spanish Ballads, the Romances of the Cancioneros and Romanceros which were not printed till the sixteenth century, cannot be traced; but it is evident from King Alfonso's Chronicle that such things existed and were old towards the middle of the thirteenth century. This is shown in the stories of Spanish warriors during the first three centuries of Arab domination. The details of the adventures of Fernan Gonzalez and the Cid could neither have been invented by Alfonso, nor found in any monkish record, in the romantic form in which they appear in the Chronicle. Still more striking is the account of Bernardo del Carpio, a hero unmentioned by the older Latin writers, and of whose story no earlier intimation is known than the chapters in the Cronica (written about 1250). Alfonso even alludes to the fact that some men in their cantares de gesta represented Bernardo as nephew of Karl the Great, while the true historians showed him to be nephew of Alfonso the Chaste. The whole narrative proves that Alfonso el Sabio was acquainted both with the French Chansons de Geste of the Charlemagne cycle, and with Castilian or Asturian ballads in which the Roncesvalles catastrophe was treated as a Spanish victory. Roland is one of the slain, but it is the Emperor who blows the famous horn. According to Ticknor and others, all the existing ballads relating to Bernardo, Fernan Gonzalez and the Cid, are of later date than the Chronicle and derived from it. It would be much more reasonable to allege that many of them must have been inspired by the Chronicle, and that others were founded on the same early poems as had been used by King Alfonso. There is no difficulty in believing that ancient ballads extant in 1250 may have remained extant for another century or two; and then perished because of the rise of a new school of Spanish poetry in Juan de Mena. The date of the first publication of such literature as popular songs and ballads has little to do with the history of their circulation and of their influence upon the graver poetic literature of the country. All the writers of the fifteenth and the first half of the sixteenth century laboured under that influence, and the numerous ballads written in the old style by men whose names are known were a valuable addition to the stock of Castilian literature. The Songs (Canciones) which are akin to the ballads (romances) were naturally not so old nor so enduring. There may have been songs in every age, but each generation has its own favourites, and the older ones passed out of memory, to be lost altogether unless preserved in writing. The sentiment that forms the soul of a song will not be saved by the beauty of its form, since taste is constantly changing; but the simple and picturesque ballad is like a national tradition gaining strength and charms with age. A few ballads were incorporated in the Cancionero General, and some of them were printed as separate leaflets between 1520 and 1540, but the first real collection of them was printed by Martin Nucio at Antwerp in 1550-55, under the title of CANCIONERO DE ROMANCES. Successive gatherings or supplements made their appearance between that date and 1600; and at last the Romancero General compiled by Pedro de Flores and forming a thick small quarto volume in nine sections, was published in 1602 at Medina del Campo. It reappeared at Madrid in 1604, augmented to thirteen parts. The latter (and its reprint in 1614) was the final and complete form of the Romancero General embracing, as it was supposed, all the popular ballads that had been printed singly or otherwise down to that date. But a supplementary "Segunda Parte" was compiled by Miguel de Madrigal and printed at Valladolid in 1605. This is extremely rare, as only the one edition was produced, notwithstanding that the reimpression in 1614 of the main volume offered a good chance for the republication of the supplement also. All of those important editions of the Romanceros will be found described in the ensuing catalogue.

A distinguished name in the early part of the fifteenth century is that of the Marques de Villena, whose essay on the Trabajos de Ercules is included in the catalogue, in its second edition of 1499, "one of the rarest books in the world"; as well as his curious treatise on Carving at Table which reminds one of the duties of the Knight's son in Chaucer. Another was the statesman Iñigo Lopez de Mendoza, Marquis of Santillana, who as a man of learning, a patron of letters, and a writer, did much to raise the standard of Castilian literature. He was the first man who openly recognised the worth of the proverbial sayings of the country; and he selected a hundred of them which he turned into verse. Juan de Mena, a friend and client of the Marquis, was the foremost poet of his time. His works are various and important, and form in their totality the first elaborate monument of the classical literature of Spain. Many editions have been printed. He and some others of his noteworthy contemporaries were born in the fourteenth century, although their lives belong to the fifteenth. Hernan Perez de Guzman was born with the latter century, and became a great historical writer in prose. Juan de Lucena wrote about 1450 the Vida Beata, which Ticknor describes as one of the most remarkable literary monuments of that age; and another prose classic was the Vision Deleytable of Alfonso de la Torre. First editions of all these writers are in the present collection.

Castilian literature was now in the full vigour of its adolescence, and the language was illustrated by works of great merit in many departments of intellectual effort. No other modern tongue was so far advanced towards a classical standard, or so rich in examples of permanent influence; and very soon Spain was to take the lead of all countries in the realm of dramatic art. The religious plays called Miracles, Mysteries, or Rappresentazioni, which were, throughout Europe, the only mediæval imitations of the Greek and Roman drama, had little more than a formal affinity with the work of modern playwrights. The incomparable tragicomedy of Celestina has all the qualities which distinguish the plays of the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries in France and England—plot, development of character, appropriateness of dialogue, wit, and subtlety of thought; and it is a fairly correct picture of real life. Although it was never acted, it was written as a stage-play should be written; and it is a literary masterpiece. The author of the first act is unknown; he drew the characters and set the plot in movement, but proceeded no further. This was about 1480. Fragmentary as it was, the work affected so powerfully the imagination of Fernando Roxas that he took up the broken thread of the composition, and finished it with such a marvellous dexterity that the play might easily be regarded as the production of a single mind, were it not that Roxas himself tells the tale of its construction. The Celestina was printed at Burgos in 1499, and the only extant copy of that first edition will be found described in the following catalogue. Roxas enlarged it in 1500 from sixteen acts to twenty-one (the first act is by far the longest, and modern writers would treat most of the others as scenes rather than as acts). The augmentation was not unhappy or ineffective, but on the whole it was not an improvement. The original form was, from the very nature of the play, liable to the charge of immoral tendency; but the gross indecencies which have stigmatised the text of the play and rendered it a forbidden book, were introduced in the second edition; and that second edition contains the text which has been followed in all the numerous reprints and translations of the book.

Besides a long row of editions of the Celestina (as well as the first edition of the Italian translation—a book of excessive rarity) the catalogue contains also an early edition of the works of Juan de la Enzina, a poet whose dramatic pieces (first acted in 1492) are regarded by Ticknor as the earliest fruits of the Spanish drama. They do not, however, really correspond like the Celestina to our modern notions of a play. There is no plot, and no distinctive characterisation; they are really pastoral poems in dialogue-form.

At the close of the fifteenth century, after the conquest of Granada and the discovery of the New World, the union of the crowns of Castile and Aragon, and the consolidation of Spain into a single monarchy, the Augustan age of Spanish literature began—a century of extraordinary splendour and fruitfulness. The great fictions of chivalry and the Cancioneros, plays and poems in rich profusion, the Balladbooks and Novels, succeeded one another in innumerable editions from the presses of all the Spanish cities; and the Castilian language was recognised everywhere as the language of Spain. The last great productions of the Provençal literature were the romance of Tirant lo Blanch, printed at Valencia in 1490, and the poems of Ausias March, not printed till 1539; but Valencia, and more frequently Barcelona, continued to print editions of old texts in the same tongue. In the following catalogue examples are given which include not only the Tirant, but also the Consolat del Mar, the Chronicles of Muntaner, Tomich, and others; the Catalan Ovid, the Libre de Consells of Roig, and the curious Peacador Remut—all books of signal rarity. But in every city Castilian texts were printed and popularly read, and the day of Spanish Provençal literature was over. The continued production even down to our time of Catalan books has not availed to restore that dialect to anything like a literary standing, and Aragon had been quite Castilianised long before Valencia.

A new style in poetry began after the establishment of Spanish domination in Italy. Although there were still several independent sovereignties in Italy, they were all, except Venice, virtually subject to the Spanish King who was likewise Emperor, and Spanish garrisons occupied the chief towns from Lombardy to Sicily, while Spanish presses were at work in Milan, Venice, Naples, Messina, and Palermo. The smooth and measured movement of Italian verse exercised a charm upon the young soldiers Boscan and Garci Laso. They applied the Tuscan metres to their own Castilian compositions, and at once denationalised the classical poetry of Spain. The novel art fascinated all the poets at home, but the prose writers had no such temptation. They continued to refine the stately Spanish without the aid of any foreign model; and among them was the secret heretic Juan de Valdes, who was in the imperial service in Italy at the same time that Boscan and Garci Laso were rhyming in their new Castilian. Sweet and splendid poetry resulted from the blending of new fashion and old material, but the charm of the older Spanish rhythms was lost, or only preserved in occasional examples; and one turns for consolation to the prose writers and the dramatists, or to the old ballads.

About the middle of the sixteenth century, a novel, different in its kind from all previous works of fiction, was written by Hurtado de Mendoza. It was the Lazarillo de Tormes, and hundreds of imitations and translations have since given a world-wide notoriety to the book. The same wise statesman and scholar who wrote this life of a scoundrel, wrote twenty years later the celebrated history of the rebellion which led to the final expulsion of the Moors from Spain. First editions of both works will be found in the catalogue. His novel experiment in fiction is a proof that the interest of the Romances of Chivalry was flagging; the popularity they had enjoyed for two centuries was on the wane; just as the later books of the Amadis and Palmerin cycles were issuing from the press. At the same period the works of Guevara were popular; their chief attraction being an affected style that prevailed long after him and which also became a fashion in England and France. The last book that could be regarded as a Romance of Chivalry, but which is far superior to all but the earliest books of that class, was the historical romance of Perez de Hita on the Guerras Civiles de Granada; a story of the last days of Granada under its Saracen Kings, which is enriched with some of the finest Moresque ballads that exist, genuine old ones from the south which had not yet come into the hands of the publishing collectors. When Perez de Hita wrote his book (i.e. the one which at a later time he called his First Part) the Romancero General was in process of compilation.

Historical literature received a fresh stimulus when Mexico and Peru were conquered; the letters of Cortes himself leading the line, and the more artistic works of Oviedo, Gomara, Cieça, and Zarate following. The striking narrative of Bernal Diaz is contemporary with these last, although it remained unprinted for three quarters of a century. They appear in a distinct section of the catalogue, although it were perhaps better to arrange them in the general alphabet of standard literature to which they pertain. Torquemada and Herrera belong to the later years of the century.

Cervantes, Lope de Vega, and Calderon are fairly represented in the following catalogue. Of the first part of the Don Quixote there are the Valencia edition of 1605, the Brussels of 1607, the Madrid Editio Parens of 1608, and the Milan edition of 1610. Of Avellaneda's continuation, I have the first edition, a book of extreme rarity. Lope de Vega's first printed volume of Comedies, which appeared in 1603, is also a remarkable book, having been quite unknown to the bibliographers until Ticknor, before the issue of his last edition, discovered a copy in the Ambrosian library at Milan. It will be found in the catalogue.

The books of the seventeenth century are numerous; those of the eighteenth are generally of an inferior type; those of the nineteenth indicate a revival.

All early Spanish books on Music, and Games and Sports, are rare. Some remarkable examples will be found in the following catalogue. They include Lucena's Arte de Axedres, printed about 1495, which was probably the first practical book on the subject ever printed; the musical Treatises of Bermudo and Milan; as well as works on Hunting by Nuñez de Avendaño, Mateos Ballestero, Argote, and others.

Among Portuguese books, the Cancionero of Resende is a volume of such prodigious rarity and of such intrinsic value, that it is sufficient merely to allude to the copy in this catalogue. The great histories of the East by Barros and Couto, and by Castanheda, will be found in perfect original copies in the class of "Indias."

The study of Spanish literature in England began at the time of the marriage of Philip and Mary, but it is not till the later years of Elizabeth that we find distinct tokens of any considerable reading of Spanish books in England. Political relations, and the enormous extent of the Spanish empire, with which English arms were at many places in contact, led to a familiar acquaintance with the Castilian language among many of the statesmen and soldiers of Drake's time, and during the reigns of James and Charles I down to 1625. Few English books of importance produced during the period between 1580 and 1630 are without Spanish citations, or some other mark to shew that Spanish literature was on the same footing as the Italian studies of the earlier part of Elizabeth's reign. Among the chief causes of this popularity was the publication of Don Quixote, a work which achieved immediate success, and was recognised, before the author had been twenty years in his grave, as one of the few great books in the literature of the whole world. Many Spanish books were introduced into France from about 1620, as a consequence of the marriage of Anne of Austria with Louis XIII, and books in both Spanish and Portuguese were brought into England by Catherine of Braganza and her suite. Lord Sunderland had a large number of Spanish volumes in his grand library, and in the eighteenth century there were three great collectors of such books in England—the Rev. Thomas Croft, the Rev. John Bowle, and Col. Thomas Stanley. Croft's collection was particularly valuable, and included several very rare books. The War of the Succession at the beginning of the last century, and the war in the Peninsula in the early part of the present century, helped to spread the vogue of Spanish books. English travellers flocked into Spain when the Napoleonic War was over. Spanish exiles were to be found in considerable numbers in this country some seventy years ago, and a stream of political refugees made their way to England during the thirty years that followed. Vicente Salvá introduced a large quantity of rare and standard Spanish books in the time when he was obliged for his livelihood to keep a bookshop in London and in Paris. He was a man of great literary standing, but his son Pedro had business tastes and kept the bookshops going. The famous Salvá collection was begun, after the father's death, and the retirement of Don Pedro from business, by grouping the unsold volumes in the shop as a nucleus, and by adding to them gradually everything rare and interesting which fell in Salvá's way. Rich, who held an American consulate in Spain in the eighteen twenties, but afterwards settled in London as a bookseller, collected all the Spanish books he could obtain relative to the discovery and settlement of America, and aided others, such as Ticknor, to acquire the rare books of Castilian literature. Lord Stuart de Rothesay at the same time (1828-45) made a vast collection, and Richard Ford, the author of the famous Handbook, used his excellent opportunities to good purpose. W. B. Chorley, Archdeacon Churton, (Sir) William Stirling Maxwell, were all on the same pursuit; and, not far behind them, the late John Forster and the late F. W. Cosens helped to swell the number of Spanish books accessible in England. Mr Henry Huth's library was also enriched with many Spanish gems, and Mr. Robert S. Turner was a rival collector. All of these four bibliophiles were largely under the influence of Don Pascual de Gayangos, who is virtually half an Englishman, and whose own collection, renowned throughout the world, is full of unparalleled rarities. On the Continent, during the last forty years, the bankers, Salamanca and Miro, and the millionaire Baron de Seillière, were all devoted to the gathering of rare Spanish books, and the alienation of the Sapienza library at Rome enabled the last-named to become possessor of the unique first Amadis that figures in the following catalogue. The Conde de Benahavis (better known as Don Ricardo de Heredia) bought the Salvá library in 1873, but decided upon selling his whole collection in 1891. The dispersion of this library and of so many others since the middle of the last century has enabled me to acquire gradually a rich collection of literary treasures, of which the catalogue itself is the best picture. I think it is no more than just to say that no catalogue of valuable Spanish books issued by a bookseller, in or out of Spain, has ever contained anything like so many rarities, or important volumes, as will be found in this.

Of the Arabic letters, Pedro de Alcala says there were only four of which the sounds did not exist in Castilian. Those four were the kha , the tha , the thal , and the ain ; the first of them being the modern Spanish J, the second, the modern Spanish Z. Thus the two most characteristic sounds in the modern Spanish language were unknown to educated Castilians in the early part of the sixteenth century; and two other sounds (as much used by Spaniards formerly as by Italians now) have utterly passed away, or survive only in Catalan speech.

| The Chevalier Delibéré of Olivier de la Marche was translated by Charles V, in secret, into Spanish prose. He handed his work over to Acuña, with the request that the latter would improve it into Castilian verse and say nothing about the labour of the monarch. The poem became a great success, partly because of the woodcuts in the first and succeeding editions. It was rare in 1591, and Muretus took care that the Plantin edition should be an ouvrage de luxe, finely printed on stout paper, with handsome copperplate illustrations. | | | |

| First edition. The dedication from the translator to Juan Vazquez de Molina is dated 1 July, 1549. He claims with justice to have made the book read like an original Spanish work in Spanish and Tuscan metres. Bernardino Daza was an elegant versifier, and did his work well; preferring to give his book a true Castilian air rather than to be merely an exact translator. | | | |

| This great book, in its admirable and nervous prose written between 1256 and 1265, is in itself the sufficient reason which accounts for the triumph of the Castilian language over all its rivals in the peninsula. It was not only, as Ticknor calls it, "far the most important legislative monument of its age"; it was also the first modern Code of Laws in a vernacular tongue, and has remained a living power to the present time in every land in which Spanish is spoken. It is said that a different edition was printed two months earlier in the same city. Brunet speaks of such an edition, but assigns it to the four printers who produced this one; Gallardo also mentions it, but assigns it to the press of Ungut and Lançalao Polono in Sevilla. Neither bibliographer specifies the copy he has seen, and Gallardo makes no mention at all of the December edition. Both those writers, and Salvá too, had no other knowledge of the matter probably than they could derive from Mendez. In the midst of this obscurity, only one fact is clear: the extraordinary rarity of the edition (or editions) of 1491, in which year the book was printed for the first time. | | | |

morocco, richly gilt-tooled to an elegant Grolier design, gilt edges, by Marius-Michel and Chambolle-Duru, with the Seillière arms on sides; in a neat case (Zaragoza, 1508) 200 0 0

UNIQUE. The first edition of the famous Amadis was utterly unknown till this single extant copy was discovered at Ferrara in 1872, and sold by Tross to Baron Seillière for 10,000 fr. I have been told that a second (but imperfect) copy exists, but I am unable to discover where.

The authorship of the romance—which is undoubtedly an imitation of the Lancelot—and the date of its composition, have not been satisfactorily ascertained. The details, so far as known, may be tabulated here:—

- A.D. 1350. The romance of Amadis was known in Castile, as proved by the fact that on or about
- 1360, Pero Ferrus (born about 1325-30) in a poem printed in Baena (Cancionero) addresses Pero Lopez de Ayala, recommending him to follow the example of Amadis, whose deeds of chivalry are contained in three books. (When Garcírodriguez de Montalvo was preparing his edition of the four books, about 1490-1500, there were only known, he states, three books; and the fourth was a new discovery—i.e. his own composition.) To confirm and establish the fact suggested by Ferrus, it is shown that, about
- 1367-70, Pero Lopez de Ayala mentions the Amadis and the Lancelot in his poem el Rimado de Palacio as having been a fruitless study of his youth. That implies that the Amadis was popular about 1350.
- 1403 is the date of the death of Vasco de Lobeira, a Portuguese knight (knighted in 1385), to whom by all Portuguese writers and by most others the authorship of the Amadis is ascribed, notwithstanding the circumstances that no Portuguese text has ever been seen, and that Lobeira was born about 1360—too late for him to have been the author of the Amadis in three books, known in Castile about 1360. The earliest assertion of Lobeira's authorship was made about
- 1454, when Gomez Eannes de Azurara, the faithful chronicler of Portugal, mentioned it as a fact discreditable to Lobeira that he coined the Amadis romance from his imagination in the reign (1367-83) of King Fernan. This is irrefragable proof that a Portuguese Amadis was in existence in 1450.
1490. Alfonso of Portugal ("el señor infante Don Alfonso de Portugal") married Doña Isabel Infanta of Castile, and died the same year. Great rejoicings took place at Seville and Evora; one of the most conspicuous persons at Evora being Doña Briolania Anriquez (whose name is suggestive in this connexion). The prince was almost certainly the Alfonso referred to in the next paragraph; although people usually suppose that Alfonso, a natural son of John I of Portugal, was the man (about 1390).
1494. Garcí-Rodríguez de Montalvo was at work about this time on his Castilian Amadis. In book I, cap. 40, he narrates how Amadis preserved his chastity against the importunate love of Briolana; and then states that pity for the lady's disappointment had caused the Infante Alfonso of Portugal to order a modification in the story at this part so as to gratify Briolana without detriment to the conscientious scruples of the hero. "But I," he pursues, "tell the history truly: Briolana gave up her desire, and had no child by Amadis."—The Alfonso mentioned cannot have been the Alfonso of 1390, because, if the Portuguese book of that period were still in existence in 1490-94, Montalvo would have known nothing about the little love case in question. A matter like that, referred to in 1494, could only have been a personal reminiscence on the part of Garci-Rodriguez de Montalvo, and shows that he may have encountered in 1490 the Affonso who was married and died in that year.

1502. Isabel la Catolica died. Garci-Rodriguez had finished his work before or by this date.

CONCLUSION: The Amadis in three books, current in the peninsula, in 1350, was probably in verse, whether its language was Castilian or Limosin. Vasco de Lobeira reduced it to Portuguese prose about 1400, and (although we have no trace of such a thing) we may conjecture that someone else worked it into Castilian prose quite as soon. All such texts are lost now, but they all probably existed in 1490, and Garci-Rodriguez de Montalvo made use of them to re-write the three books in the language of his own period. He then added the fourth from materials adapted and improved by himself. He states in the preface that he corrected the vitiated text of the three books, that he discovered and translated the fourth book and the fifth book (the Sergas de Esplandian). As the Sergas was not printed till 1510, it is evident that Montalvo was still at work upon it in 1508 and unable to add it to the first edition of Amadis.

As he calls himself Garcia Rodriguez de Montalvo in this volume (of 1508) we must assume that Garci-Ordoñez, as all the later editions have it, is not his proper designation. (See also Esplandian below.)

The preliminary notes by Francisco Delgado are very curious. They deal with Spanish and Italian pronunciation, and allude to the romance itself as a work of so much beauty and interest that it would be read eagerly not only by Spaniards, but by Italians, Tuscans, Germans, French, English, Hungarians and Portuguese.

No continuation was ever printed. After a few years of sudden fame, the author died in 1595 admired and regretted by his friend Cervantes, and by Lope de Vega, who entered into rivalry with him on the subject of the Angelica. Of this celebrated poem (in ottava Rima), suggested by Ariosto's Orlando, the least that can be said is that it is written in most musical and harmonious verse. | | | |

| A rival edition, without the Latin Concordance; with similar licences, etc., but all of them dated a few days later than those of the 4to. book. Thirty-eight of the couplets near the end are omitted; but there is a dedication by Barros himself, and a prologue by Mateo Aleman, which are not in the other. There is an extraordinary statement in the Spanish Ticknor that the Proverbs of Barros had little of original Spanish work in them, being principally translated from Latin and Greek. This must have arisen from the circumstance that Ximenez Paton took the trouble to find Latin parallels from ancient writers, in an unworthy depreciation of Barros. The latter poet died in 1604. | | | |

A gloria y loor de nuestro Señor se acabo la presente Biblia e lengua
Española traduzida dela verdadera origen Hebrayca por muy excelentes

estampada en Ferrara a costa y despesa de Jeronimo de Vargas
Español: en primero de Março de 1553
Small folio, gothic letter; old calf, the binding mended Ferrara, 1553 45 0 0
EXCESSIVELY RARE. It is the edition of the Bible in Spanish (or Judeo-Spanish) commonly known as the "Jew's Bible" or the "Ferrara Bible," and contains just so much of the sacred text as is contained in all Hebrew editions. It commences with the title, which is printed within a curious woodcut border, and has on its reverse the dedicatory epistle of Jer. de Vargas and Duarte Pinel to the Duke of Ferrara. It is succeeded by "Al Letor" 2 pp.; Table 6 ll.; text 400 numb. ll. Then follows "TABLA DE LAS HAPHTAROTH DE TODO EL AÑO." 2 ll. (WANTING IN NEARLY ALL COPIES). The vol. concludes with the register and imprint 1 leaf. A few leaves at the beginning are slightly wormed; but the body of the book is in excellent condition.
In the preface "Al Letor," the writer (who was no doubt Jeronimo Vargas) says:
"I caused the Bible to be translated into our Spanish, as the other nations cannot blame their sons in regard to this blessing, since Italy, France, Flanders, Germany, and England are not without the Bible, and even in Catalonia in our Spain, it was translated and printed in the Catalan tongue." He goes on to say that it had been found impossible, in making the translation exact and verbal, to employ a different mode of language from that which had been used by the old Spanish Jews. It is this statement, and the peculiar antique style of the translation which have led to a suspicion that the Ferrara Bible was really printed from early Hispano-Judaic MSS.
and that the "varios letrados" performed nothing more than revision and correction.

- (about 1590), small 4to. fine copy in the original gilt calf (mended), stamped in gold on the upper cover, and with his signature (as below) on the fly-leaf (Basil) 1569 5 0 0
- The preface is signed C. R. (i.e. Cattiodoro Reyna, the Spanish Reformista) and the text is of course Calvinistic. This is the well-known "Bear Bible" so-called from the printer's woodcut device on the title. Some copies have three leaves of Anotaciones at the end, which are not in this copy.
- The old owner's inscription runs thus:—"Quien al cielo escupe a la cara se buelve. Robt. Kemp. Julio 6026. Por mejoría mi casa dexaria." He was Robert Kemp of Gissing in Norfolk and died in 1549.

- Small folio, gothic letter, the title printed in red within a woodcut border and bearing an illustration of a king receiving two philosophers; with 123 woodcuts throughout the book; limp vellum Sevilla, 1534 20 0 0
- EXCESSIVELY RARE: in fact, no other copy is known of this first Cromberger edition.
- 183 ——— EXEMPLARIO CONTRA LOS ENGAÑOS Y PELIGROS DEL MÛDO . . 1547. Colophon: Acabase . . Fue impresso en la insigne e muy noble ciudad de Çaragoça de Aragon: en casa de Bartholome de Nagera. Acabose . . Mil quinientos y quarenta y siete Años.
- Sm. 4to. gothic letter, 120 rude woodcuts; the paper discoloured and having a few wormholes in the margins; hf. bd. Zaragoza, 1547 4 0 0
- There is a slight variation in the first prologue by which we get the words Yo Juan de Capua, which were not in the edition of 1534. The woodcuts here are from blocks which had already been used in Germany.
- The name of the Spanish translator is not known; his work is rendered from the Latin Directorium Humanæ Vitæ, which was the mediæval version by Joannes de Capua, that first made Europe acquainted with the book now known under so many names (Panchatantra, Hitopadesa, Kalila Dimna, Anwar Suhaili, Iyar Danish, Fables of Pilpay, Fables of Bidpai, Destructorium Vitiorum, and Buch der Weisheit).

Sm. folio, gothic letter, xylographic title and numerous curious woodcuts (including that of Pope Joan) with xylographic inscriptions, a small wormhole in some few of the margins; old calf Zaragoza, 1494 100 0 0
First Edition. A volume of extraordinary rarity. No copy of it is in any public library in England; and even in Spain, no copy was known to Salvá, who mentions it simply on the authority of Mendez.
- 198 BOCCACCIO. FIAMMETTA, First Edition in Spanish. Title: a large woodcut with a xylographic intitulation LA FIOMETA DE JUAN VOCACIO. Colophon (on obverse of folio 44): Fue impresso ãla muy noble z leal ciudad de Salamanca en el mes de enero del año de mil z quatrociētos z noventa z siete años. DEO GRATIAS.
Small folio, gothic letter, green morocco extra, gilt edges (by Charles Lewis), from the Chorley and Salvá libraries Salamanca, 1496 35 0 0
Only one other copy recorded, of which the present whereabouts is unknown. The extraordinary rarity of all the Spanish Fiammettas has been attributed to the severity with which the book was suppressed by the Inquisition.

VERY RARE; so rare indeed, that this copy was regarded by Salvá as unique. It is so described in his catalogue.
Pedro Rocha of Tarragona is supposed to have been the translator, according to Gallardo.
- 200 — LABERINTO DE AMOR: q hizo ã toscano el famoso Juã bocacio: agora nueuamēte traduzido en nuestra lengua castellana. Año de . Small 4to. gothic letter, calf extra, gilt edges (by Derome le jeune), from the Salvá library Sevilla, 1546 4 4 0
In this edition, which is usually described as the first, there is no mention of the translator. In the Toledo edition of the same year, a preface by Blasco de Garay appeared, in which it was hinted that Diego Lopez de Ayala had done the prose and Diego de Salazar the poetical portions of the book. It is an extract from the Filocopo.

| FIRST ISSUE, with the original states of leaves, 126, 127, 202 and 203. The book properly consists of four preliminary leaves, and leaves numbered 1-204. The Tabla, with some extra preliminary matter, comprising altogether eight leaves more, was not printed till the preparation of the SECOND ISSUE; but those eight leaves are added to this copy to make it a really desirable one. | | | |
| 258 ——— the same, SECOND ISSUE, with the whole twelve preliminary leaves, and the reprints of folios 126, 127, 202, and 203; limp vellum wrapper, from the Lakelands library Valladlid, 1605 | 12 | 12 | 0 |
| The headings and numeration of the four reprinted leaves are in a smaller type than the originals, corresponding in character with that of the eight leaves of Tabla, etc. The proof that these eight leaves did not form part of the First Issue is shown by the fact that the Table does not specify in its list of contents some of the pieces which were omitted from the reprinted leaves.
The changes that were made are as follows:—On folio 126, 127 (numbered in the First Issue 129, 127), one piece by Lope de Vega, and two by Gongora, were omitted; and in their place we find substituted in the Second Issue, two pieces by Juan Geronimo Serra and one by Juan de Valdes y Melendez. On leaves 202, 203, there were various corrections made in punctuation and spelling, and a piece by Quevedo was omitted as irreligious, one by Juan de Valdes being substituted. In the Second Issue the foliation of leaf 202 is misprinted 127.

| 262 | CANCIONERO DE OBRAS DE BURLAS, PRINTED ON VELLUM; red morocco extra, gilt edges, from R. S. Turner's library (1841) | 10 | 10 | 0 |
| Two hundred copies were printed on paper, and four on vellum.
Reprinted and edited by Luis de Usoz y Rio from the unique original (Valencia, 1519) in the British Museum. The forty-two preliminary pages are an interesting introduction, and pp. 207-246 are additions from ancient Spanish writers. The last seven pages are a Glossary.
The indecency of this work is very unlike the morbid obscenities of French literature. There is something of a healthier and more virile character in its coarseness.
Of the collection intitled "Cancionero de Obras de Burlas provocantes a Risa," Valencia, 1519, 4to. there is only one copy known, which is in the British Museum. It begins with one very long poem, and ends with another; the last being a brutal parody of the "Trescientas" of Juan de Mena. The shorter poems are by well-known names, such as Jorge Manrique and Diego San Pedro. The general tone of the work, which is attributed to ecclesiastical origin, is as coarse as possible.
The above edition of it, printed at London in 1841, has a curious and well-written preface, and a short, but learned, Glossary. From page 207 to the end page 246, are a few poems not found in the original Cancionero de Burlas; one by Garci Sanchez de Badajos, one by Rodrigo de Reynosa, etc.— Ticknor , 1849, Vol. I, p. 404. | | | | |

the text; superbly bound in crimson morocco (having a rich dentelle pattern in gold), lined with blue morocco (tooled after an exquisite Eve pattern), by Hardy-Mennil, the Seillière arms on the sides Sevilla, 1534 60 0 0

THE ONLY COPY KNOWN. It was formerly in the Sapienza library at Rome, and has been since then in the ownership successively of Salamanca the banker and of Baron Seillière.

This was, according to Ticknor, the most popular of all the Romances of Chivalry in Spain, notwithstanding its foreign origin. The translator, Nicholas de Piemonte, names himself in the Prologo, which is printed on the reverse of the title. The original romance from which he derived his Hystoria is the one which usually passes in French under the name of Fierabras.

COLLATION: 46 numbered leaves (the last marked lxvi by a typographical error); with signatures a—c in eights, and f in six leaves.

276 CARRASCON (Thomas) CARRASCON . . . Con Licencia, y Priuilegio . A costa del Autor . Por Maria Sanchez . Nodriza . Año 1633. 12mo. title partly engraved, partly letterpress; fine copy in olive morocco extra, gilt edges 1633 10 0 0

A book of extreme rarity; printed perhaps at Amsterdam or Leyden. The author says himself that he had been a monk; an address to him, on the reverse of the seventh preliminary leaf, shows that he was now Dr. T. C., Canon of Hereford and Vicar of Blakmer (Blackmere) in England. These particulars agree with the known career of Fernan Texeda, who was in high esteem in England in James I's reign, and have led Wiffen and others to identify T. C. with Texeda, reading those letters as Texeda Canonicus. But the pun in the four verses engraved beneath an evergreen tree on the title would lead one to believe in Carrascon. ". . . aunque parezco Carrasco soy mas pues soy Carrascon." The word "Thomas" is printed in the field, and "Carrascon" in the encircling border of the oval cartouche.

VERY RARE. This curious book is supposed to have been the first production of the press at Toro, a town of small size but of some importance in Leon. Deschamps believed that it was printed at Turin, because, as he pointed out, the Spanish translator excuses faults of impression on the ground that "en estas partes se habla mal castellano z los emprimidores son mal platicos . ." Now if those parts were Turin, it would not be true that they spoke bad Castilian since they spoke none at all; and as for unskilled printers, they were much more likely to be found at Toro than at Turin. The fount of type is decidedly Spanish and comprises the ñ which was a letter unknown to typography outside of Spain.

UNICO EJEMPLAR CONOCIDO. This first edition of one of the most important works in dramatic literature is a precious book from every point of view. The Celestina was the first real play written in any of the modern languages; and it has never lost the fascination attaching to a composition in which intense dramatic power is blended with great literary skill, and comic scenes are mingled in Elizabethan style with the more pathetic movement of the tragic love-story. The coarseness that appears in the dialogue is frequently criticised by over-fastidious persons who forget that the English stage presented an exact parallel in the days of "Eliza and our James," a hundred years and more after the Celestina. It is simply marvellous that such a masterpiece should have come into existence at a time when the only models were the classical dramatists of antiquity and the dull mysteries of the middle ages. It has all the character of an Elizabethan tragedy, full of passionate love and intense horror, relieved by loose, fanciful, humorous and satirical dialogue. The personages are all well drawn and distinctly marked, and each one preserves his appropriate and individual type throughout the play. The language throughout is pure and nervous Castilian.

The absence of the first leaf has, perhaps, deprived us of the acrostic verses in which "Fernando de Rojas acabo la comedia de Calysto y Melybea e fue nascido en la puebla de Montalvan." He states in the address "El Auctor a un suo amigo" prefixed to the editions of 1501 and 1502, that the first act had been written by Juan de Mena or Rodrigo Cota, and left (in manuscript, no doubt) as an unfinished work. He had read it over and over again with great admiration, and had been tempted to write the continuation. His first labour was the best: the play hurries to an end with the death of Calisto, which takes place immediately after his retirement from the scene of illicit pleasure, and is followed by the resolve of Melibea, her confession and suicide, and the grief of her father. The fourteenth act is that of gratified love and the sudden catastrophe; the fifteenth contains the heroine's fate, and the sixteenth her parents' lamentation. In the second edition Rojas made changes not for the better, and protracted the end unnecessarily. Calisto goes home safe, soliloquises half remorsefully, and sleeps. New characters are introduced in the substituted fifteenth act, a scheme of vengeance upon Calisto is prepared by the daughter and friends of Celestina (who had been murdered by her associates in the intrigue); in the sixteenth, there are projects of a marriage for Melibea by her parents; in the seventeenth and eighteenth the vulgar plot is strengthened; in the nineteenth, Calisto is again in Melibea's garden, and the scene of love is repeated more voluptuously than before, as though the author had forgotten the events of the fourteenth act. Then Calisto hears his servants attacked by the bravos, rushes to the wall, falls from the rope-ladder, and is killed. Finally the twentieth and twenty-first acts contain the same matter as the fifteenth and sixteenth of the original edition.

The differences of a minor kind, here and there, between the first edition and those that followed, are so numerous that it ought to be reprinted.

The last leaf, which is taken in facsimile from, perhaps, the only other known copy, contains the colophon as follows, above the printer's mark of S. Polonus (Stanislaus Polonus at Seville):

Describe el tiempo en que la obra se imprimio.

El carro phebos despues de auer dado

A dios gracias.

On the back of the title is the address "El Auctor a vn suo amigo" which contains all that we know concerning the original first act and the continuation by Rojas.—On the second leaf, and the first page of the third, are the eleven stanzas "El autor escusandose de su yerro," etc., in which Rojas goes metrically over the same ground, but reveals his name and the particulars acrostically as cited above in the description of the first edition.—On the reverse of leaf 3 begins a prose preface which ends midway on the front of leaf 5. In that preface, Rojas states that the original author called his work a Comedy, while he himself preferred to name it a Tragedy, and that for a compromise he had styled it a Tragicomedy.—The text then ensues and proceeds on its twenty-one acts as far as the 81st leaf on which it ends; followed by the leaf of colophon. The book is in signatures A-T in fours, and U in six leaves.

The preliminary matter is the same as in the edition of 1501. The book is in signatures of a—h in eights. The last leaf contains nine (not ten) stanzas of verse, of which the first three are by Rojas and begin with the heading "Cõcluye el auctor aplicãdo la obra al pposito por que la acabo." The other six (not seven) are by

"Alōso de paza [Alonso de Proaza] corrector de la impression al lector." In his fifth stanza he reveals the secret of the acrostics at the beginning, and in his sixth stanza he "descriue el tiempo," etc., that is, he gives the metrical colophon already quoted.

The play is in the regular twenty-one acts, as in the 1501 edition. That is, it has the interpolated five acts between acts 14 and 15 of the original. That addition was probably first made at Salamanca in 1500, and it is to be assumed that Alonso de Proaza was the corrector of the press in that city. He wrote seven stanzas for that edition (not six) as will be remarked in the description of the 1518 edition below; but one of them, "Penados Amantes," was omitted for some unknown reason in the Seville edition of 1502 and all that followed its text.

 This edition (although it corresponds in all but one respect with the early ones which followed the Seville book of 1502) is valuable as reprinting and giving proof of the former existence of the lost Salamanca edition of 1500; thus showing that the latter contained the whole twenty-one acts, and was the first publication of Rojas's complete text. The particular referred to in the parenthesis in which it differs from the rest, is the circumstance that the verses of Alonso de Proaza are in seven stanzas, there being a sixth beginning "Penados amantes" between the regular fifth and the ordinary sixth (El carro phebeo).

 pretty little edition in crimson morocco extra, with a crimson morocco

 Salvá has started the theory that this rare edition was printed at Venice, and bases his notion on the types and the woodcuts, these latter being identical with those of the Venice edition of 1531. As for the types, however, it is a poor and misleading argument; while the woodcuts were probably supplied from an Italian source, as in many other instances.
 The contents are the same as in the editions of 1502; but it is curious that the fifth stanza of Alonso de Proaza at the end, revealing the acrostical mode of discovering the authorship, is omitted, no doubt intentionally. Thus there are only five stanzas of his composition; as in this, and all the following editions, the "Penados

Sixteen preliminary leaves, including title; and 722 numbered pages.
A dedication (in Spanish) by the printers to the young "Conde Vitaliano Vizconde," is substituted for the original dedication of the author. In it the Castilian language is said to be "agora muy familiar a los Caualleros de esta Ciudad," and the printers excuse themselves for not publishing a Tuscan translation "por no le quitar su gracia, que mas se muestra en su natural language, que en qualquiera trasladado."

The first Don Quixote in English; the work of Thomas Shelton (whose name appears at foot of the dedication to Lord Walden). He there pretends to have translated the book "some five or six yeares agoe," in the space of forty days, "out of the Spanish tongue." The falsehood of that statement becomes evident even in the preliminary pages. In the last few lines of the seventh paragraph of the Prologo of Cervantes, we read the words "anotaciones y acotaciones, que yo os voto á tal de llenaros las margenes, y de gastar quatro pliegos en el fin del libro." Shelton has it, "I doe promise thee that I will both fill up the margent, and also spend foure or five sheetes of advantage at the end of the booke." The words I have underlined are not in the Spanish and have no meaning in English. They are evidently translated with foolish literalness from a French version which had davantage in the sense of "four or five sheets more." Unfortunately we know of no French or Italian version as early as the English, but that a MS. in one or the other language existed in 1606-7, is rendered nearly certain by the phrase just quoted.

This book is so rare that it is undescribed by Mr. H. E. Watts and all writers on Cervantes bibliography. It is quite a different edition and impression from that which appeared with the second Part in 1620. In Vol. I of 1620 there were thirteen preliminary leaves (including a printed title with the date of 1620; and an engraved title), pages numbered 1-572, and two leaves unnumbered. In the volume of 1612, there were twelve preliminary leaves (including a printed title dated 1612), pages numbered 1-594, and two unnumbered leaves. All the pages of the book were framed within black lines in the 1612 volume; in the 1620 volume, only the head-lines were so ruled.

In 1612 there existed no more of Don Quixote than the volume which we now call Part I, and that volume was divided into four parts. In the English head-lines of 1612 we have those parts indicated; while the word was turned into Lib. in the edition of 1620, after the continuation produced in 1615 had stamped the name of Parte Primera upon its predecessor.

The dedication of Vol. II is signed by the bookseller Edward Blount, and there is no allusion to Shelton. There is, however, no apparent difference in the style of the volumes, which remain, in spite of all drawbacks, the most natural and spirited English version of Don Quixote. It is curious to observe how much Mr. Watts is indebted to Shelton for idiomatic turns of speech. | | | |

 Small 4to. four preliminary leaves including the title, 257 numbered leaves, and one leaf of colophon, entirely printed upon thick coarse paper; fine copy in limp vellum Madrid, 1615 25 0 0
 This is the first time that the existence of two issues of the original Comedias of Cervantes has been pointed out. The change of the paper constitutes in itself a notable variation; but, as far as the type-setting is concerned, the only difference is in the preliminary leaves. The four leaves in one and the two leaves in the other are different in their composition. The alterations on the title page have been noted above. In both copies the Aprouacion occupies eight lines at the top of the second leaf reverse. Below it, in the thin paper copy, there is nothing but a list of the titles of the pieces, with the catchword "Come-". In the thick paper copy, that list and catchword occupy the whole reverse of the fourth leaf; the greater part of leaf 2 reverse, and both pages of leaf 3 being filled with a Prologo al Lector; and the front of the fourth leaf containing a Dedicatoria al Conde de Lemos.

FIRST EDITION of the unabridged Chronicle of the Cid, and a BOOK OF SUCH EXTRAORDINARY RARITY that since Heber's imperfect copy was sold sixty years ago, only the copies above described have appeared in the European market. There was no copy in the wonderfully rich Salvá collection; and Huber, in his reprint of the Chronicles of the Cid, confessed that he had been unable to see either this edition or that of 1593.

At the end of the Chronicle, there follows (preceded by a full-page woodcut) the "Breue tratado dela genealogia dl Cid" which, with some small concluding paragraphs, occupies folios 103-116, and which Salvá imagined to have appeared for the first time in the edition of 1552. The prologue of the work informs us that it was published by Juan de Velorado, Abbot of San Pedro de Cardena, at the desire of the young Infante Fernando (afterwards Emperor in succession to his brother Charles V), who had visited the Abbey and seen there the tomb of the hero and the ancient MS. of the Chronicle. The matter which concludes the Genealogia consists of an account of the Cid's tomb and of those of other great personages buried in the same monastery, and finally the royal privilege dated 1511, and the Pregon del dicho Preuilegio which is stated to have been proclaimed at the request of Fray Pedro de Velorado the mayordomo del dicho monesterio. He was evidently, therefore, a different person from the Abbot, and should not be confounded with him, as Salvá and others have done.

- 450 CID. Chronicle, second edition. Title page: Over a woodcut of a mounted knight, the words in red: Don Rodrigo de Viuar, and beneath it, in red and black: Cronica del famoso ⁊ inuencible cauallero Cid Ruy Diaz campeador. Agora nueuamente corregida y emendada. En Medina del Campo, por Juan Maria de Terranoua, y Jacome de Liarcari. M. D. LII. Colophon at end: Fenesce la Cronica . . . impressa en la muy noble villa de Medina del câpo en la emprêta de Francisco del câto . . . M. D. liij.
 Small folio, gothic letter; very fine and large copy in red morocco extra, gilt edges, by Bedford Medina del Campo, 1552 35 0 0
 This contains precisely the same matter as the edition of 1512, except that the Preuilegio and the Pregon at the end are omitted.
- 451 ——— Chronicle. CHRONICA DEL FAMOSO CAVALLERO CID RUY DIEZ CAMPEADOR. Con Licencia. En Bvrgos. En la Imprimeria de Philippe de Iunta y Iuan Baptista Varesio. 1593.
 Small folio, Roman letter; a few leaves stained and mended; old calf, £5; or, a good copy, bound Burgos, 1593 6 10 0
- 452 ——— the same, a large copy in limp vellum wrapper 1593 8 8 0
- 453 ——— another copy, sm. folio, red morocco extra, gilt edges, by Hardy, from the Didot and Seillière libraries Burgos, 1593 10 10 0
 The only addition in this edition is the account, on seven pages at the end, of the Translacion del cuerpo del Cid, an event which took place in 1541. It was simply the removal of the tomb to a newer part of the Monastery.
- 454 ——— Chronicle. Chronica del Cid, nueva edicion con una introduccion historico-literaria por Huber, royal 8vo. red morocco extra, gilt edges Stuttgart, 1853 1 0 0
 The introduction contains large extracts from the Poema.
 "It is overflowing with the very spirit of the times when it was written, and offers us so true a picture of their generous virtues, as well as their stern violence, that it may well be regarded as one of the best books in the world, if not the very best, for studying the real character and manners of the ages of chivalry."—Ticknor.
- 455 ——— Popular Chronicle. Title: (under a woodcut and within a woodcut border): CORONICA DEL MUY ESFORÇADO ⁊ INUENCIBLE CAUALLERO EL CID RUY DIAZ CAMPEADOR DE LAS ESPAÑAS. Reverse of title: Aquí comienca vn libro llamado Suma delas cosas marauillosas que hizo en su vida el buê cauallero y esforçado el Cid ruy diaz . . . Segun mas largamente las historias delas coronicas lo recuentan . . . quise principiar su historia dende que començo a reynar en España el muy noble rey don Fernando primero . . . Colophon on reverse of the fifty-first leaf: . . . Aquí fenesce el breue tratado delos nobles fechos y batallas que el buen cauallero Cid ruy diaz vencio . . . El qual se acabo . . . por Miguel de Eguia: en la muy noble y leal ciudad de Toledo. En el año . . . de mil ⁊ quinientos ⁊ veynte ⁊ seys Años. On the fifty-second leaf a woodcut of a battle outside a fortress, with a border. Small 4to. gothic letter; fine copy in red morocco extra, gilt edges, by Trautz-Bauzonnet Toledo, 1526 31 10 0
 The only copy known. This popular Chronicle was first printed several years before the editio princeps of the large Chronicle, at least as early as 1498, but all the early editions are of excessive rarity. Between the edition of 1498 and the present one, there is record only of a single edition printed in 1509 which has disappeared.

| The Chronicle was written about 1460 by one of the faithful followers of the Constable, and it is full of striking and pathetic narrative, the only fault of which, in Ticknor's eyes, was the stately march of the language. The heading of the chapter in which the execution is told runs thus—"Of the death of the best knight of his time in all Spain, the greatest uncrowned lord, the good Master of Santiago." The MS. of the work was carried to Milan by Alvaro de Luna, the namesake and great-grandson of the Constable, when he was sent to take command of the Spanish garrison in that city; and it was printed for him there. | | | |

Oliva is the sister of King Pipin, and is repudiated for infidelity (through the tricks of a traitor, Tomillas, father of Ganelon). Her son Enrique is born in the monastery to which she retires, becomes a great warrior, and wins the imperial crown of Constantinople.—As this book was first printed in 1498, it belongs to the earliest Spanish productions of its kind and stands midway between Tirante and Amadis. | | | |

| "Todas las ediciones del Cancionero de Juan del Enzina son tan | | | |

extraordinariamente raras que Nicolas Antonio creyó existia solo manuscrita esta obra."

This copy of the edition of 1516 is the only one in which the perfect sheet of six leaves is found at the end. The copy described in Gallardo had only four leaves and wanted the last twenty-two stanzas of the Tragedia besides the Romance and the Villancico mentioned above.

The Seillière copy, which I sold for £36, ended with folio 98, and was therefore without the last six leaves.

The Eclogas and Representaciones which are found in the latter part of this volume are pieces of dramatic interest with speaking characters; which began to be acted in public in 1492. Ticknor treats these compositions as "the foundation of the Spanish drama," because the Celestina cannot be placed earlier than 1499.

There is nothing rarer or more interesting in Spanish (as in English) literature than the poetical pieces which were printed in the sixteenth century in single leaves or sheets, most of which have perished. It is questionable whether a second copy of the above is now surviving. Salvá remarks that the Disparates and the Almoneda are to be found in the Cancionero de Enzina; not so the Villancico. It is nevertheless almost certainly by Juan del Enzina.

| EXCESSIVELY RARE. The first edition of Vol. I is scarcely to be had at any price; and the two volumes are usually composed of the dates of 1550-52. The second volume was only printed once; the first volume several times. In the year 1545 alone there were three editions of Part I; the princeps being the one described above dated 8 July, Valladolid. The second and third were printed (without licence) at Zaragoza on the 12 September and the 16 September of the same year. | | | |
| The author, whose name was never manifested in any of the editions, but who made it acrostically discoverable in the rhymed invocacion preceding the Letania de quinientos Proverbios near the end of the volume, was Luis de Escobar, a bed-ridden Franciscan friar of literary tastes. To him the Almirante de Castilla and his friends had forwarded four hundred questions, humorous, whimsical, serious, religious, or | | | |

- frivolous, upon any or every subject that happened to arise, including a number of popular old riddles. Escobar rewrote the questions in verse, and then replied to them in verse, thus constructing a book which at once commanded general favour. In 1552 he took up the matter again, and produced a continuation. The result of the acrostic mentioned above is "Fray Luys Descobar hyzo esta Letanya."

UNIQUE; from the Sapienza library at Rome. It contains the 3 books of the 1st part, and the collation is as follows: 1st book, title and prologue, 4 leaves, pp. 1-203; 2nd book, pp. 1-216, including title-page; 3rd book, pp. 1-218, including title-page. Brunet gives the following note concerning this volume: "Cette édition fort rare que cite Antonio, à l'article Didacus Ortuñez et qui nous avait paru apocryphe, existe bien à Rome dans la bibliothèque de la Sapienza."

On the last page appears the following notice: "Aqui se acaba la primera parte del libro intitulado Espejo de Principes y Cavalleros. La segvnda parte esta ya tradveida la qual no tardara de salir a luz."

This is the romance which became so great a favourite in England under the name of the Mirror of Knighthood. In France it was known as Le Chevalier du Soleil.

Notwithstanding the circumstance that two copies are here described, this first edition was so rare that Salvá had none in his rich collection. He describes it, however, as a book which he had formerly possessed.
There are eight preliminary leaves including the title; the text occupies leaves numbered 1-187, on the back of the last being the colophon . . Then follows a final leaf, of which the face is blank, and the reverse contains a statement of the law against importing or selling (in Castile) books in Spanish printed in Aragon, Valencia, Catalonia, and Navarre. This seems to show that Juan de la Cuesta had heard of the production in Barcelona of the following article.

12mo. calf extra, gilt edges, from the Salvá library Valencia, 1562 | 21 | 0 | 0 |
| FIRST AND ONLY EDITION; EXCESSIVELY RARE. The poet, who is otherwise known through his contributions to the Cancionero General, had been dead about fourteen years before this collection of his works was made. The only copy that has hitherto been recorded was that of Conde, and it may have been identical with this, which has come from the Salvá library. There was none in the Heber, Miro, Seillièrre, and Cosens collections; and the book is unmentioned both by Brunet and his continuator, and by Gallardo. Salvá emphatically stated—"Considero el presente libro como uno de los mas raros de mi biblioteca."
There are several pieces in the volume, in the Valencian language. | | | |

morocco, which is gilt with a superb Grolieresque pattern; enclosed in a cloth case Lisbona, 1545 100 0 0

This is one of the rarest of all the romances of chivalry. Besides this perfect copy, only one other (and that imperfect) has been recorded. The whereabouts of the imperfect copy is now unknown.

The author was not a Portuguese, as Brunet's continuator supposed from a misinterpretation of the preface. He simply happened to be in Lisbon in 1545. The story is feigned to have been translated from an English original at a time when he was resident, for purposes of business, "in this . . . noble and, for-most-famous-deeds-of-knights-errant-renowned-in-arms, celebrated isle of England." Of the language of the country he thought little, as he uses the phrase "barbara lingua como la Inglesa." The Florando may be assigned to the Palmerin cycle, simply as a supposed English chronicle; but the only connexion which the book itself suggests is with the romance Palladien d'Angleterre (Lyons, 1555), a work professedly derived from the Spanish, but usually supposed to be an original composition of Claude Colet. The first chapter-heading in Florando runs thus: "Capitulo primero de vna marauillosa auentura que al nacimiento del principe Paladiano aparecio. En la cibdad de Londres: entre los palacios del rey Milanor su padre." In the last chapter of the primera parte, Florando is born to Paladiano; and we may fairly conclude that this first part of Florando, dealing wholly with the hero's father, was the real original of Claude Colet's romance.

Small 4to. 28 leaves, gothic letter, title printed within a woodcut border; beautiful copy in red morocco gilt, lined with citron morocco extra, gilt edges, by Thibaron-Joly Burgos, 1562 42 0 0

No other copy recorded. Both Salvá and Brunet seem to have been ignorant of the existence of a Burgos edition. The story itself was first printed in its Spanish form, and may therefore claim to be a Spanish book, but it is nearly certain that a Provençal poem on the subject preceded all the texts in Spanish, Italian, and French.

 Zaragoza, 1530 12 10 0
- EXCESSIVELY RARE; so rare, indeed, that no other copy is recorded save one that was Heber's and one that had been Meerman's.
 Fernan de Vasurto (or Basurto), supposed to be an Aragonese, is said to have been the author. Brunet gives a description of it which differs considerably from the above, and states that Vasurto's name appears in a Privilege on the back of the title. Here there is no privilege at all; the dedicatory prologue beginning immediately on the reverse of the title, and containing neither the author's name nor that of the person to whom it was addressed. From the text of the prologo, however, we learn that the work was dedicated to an unnamed nobleman descended from Juan Fernandez de Eredia.
 A continuation is promised at the end of the book. It was never published.

- 638 FUEROS DE ARAGON. Fol. 1: a large woodcut of the arms of Aragon. Reverse of fol. 1: Prohemia fororū . . . i.e. a table which ends on the reverse of leaf 6. Fol. 7 blank. Fol. 8 (numbered II): Rex Jacobus. INCIPIŪT FORI EDITI PER DOMINUM JACOBUM REGĒ ARAGONUM . . . The numeration ends with the 238th leaf, numbered CCXXXII. Then follows a second part consisting of 58 leaves, beginning with the words Liber Primus I. On the fifty-sixth of these fifty-eight leaves is a colophon: Felici placidaqz flante aura . . . opus vniuersorū fororū, tam anti-quorum q' nouissimorū . . . Impressum in inclyta ciuitate Cesar-Augustana: arte ⁊ industria largisqz expensis circumspecti viri Georgij Coci teuthonici: anno christiane salutis millesimo quingentesimo decimo septimo. Leaves 57 and 58 are an index of rubrics. Next follows an appendix of the Fueros promulgated at Monzon in 1510-12, beginning Rex Ferdinandus scds. Montissoni . . in two sheets bearing the signatures a and b which ought to make 16 leaves, but here the leaf a 3 is missing. The last Appendix follows, containing the Fueros promulgated by the Emperor in 1532, and begins Carolus Imperator et Aragonñ rex. Fori editi per Cesarem . . in two sheets, A and B, of six leaves each, the first of the twelve leaves being a large woodcut escutcheon

| A book of considerable rarity and of still greater literary interest. The question is still unsolved whether it was a thorough forgery in all respects, perpetrated by some one after the year 1600, or whether that some one had not really a MS. of the fifteenth century before him which he may have manipulated a little. The choice of old-faced type for his book was singular but not necessarily deceitful, the date is possibly a typographical error for MDCXLIX. | | | |

Small folio, gothic letter, the title printed in red within a woodcut border, a full-page woodcut on the back of the title, and another woodcut on the last page; very fine copy in crimson morocco extra, gilt edges, by Bozérian jeune [Zaragoza, Jorge Coci] 1529 | 10 | 0 | 0 |
| First edition of a famous book; extremely rare. The name of Guevara appears nowhere in it, and there is no printer's colophon, but it is in Coci's beautiful type and his monogram appears in the woodcut ornamentation of the title. The style of the book is extravagantly praised in the prologue and the editorial colophon, and the future rarity of the book predicted. It consists of 84 leaves of which the last is blank; with signatures a-i in eights, k and l in sixes.
The original text was enormously changed and augmented by the author in later editions. They look wholly unlike this. The Vida and the Cartas constitute the two sections into which the text is divided here. | | | |

| The history is followed by what are called Dialogues, concerning the Christian slaves in Algiers. The interlocutors are real personages, and in the second discourse Dr. Sosa hands to Captain Ramirez certain documents on the subject. Among these, on folio 185, there is an account of the heroic doings of "Miguel Cervantes un hidalgo principal de Alcala de Henares" which gives a better picture of the man than any other we possess. It must have been taken down from the recital of captives in or soon after the year 1577. | | | |

731 HURTADO DE MENDOZA. Obras del insigne cavallero Don Diego de Mendoza . . recopilados por Frey Ivan Diaz Hidalgo . . Año 1610 . . En Madrid, Pór Juan de la Cuesta . . Small 4to. orange morocco extra, gilt edges Madrid, 1610	5	5	0
"There is but one edition of the poetry of Mendoza. It . . is a rare and important book."— Ticknor . These "Obras" consist only of his poetical works.
732 [——] LA VIDA DE LAZARILLO DE TORMES, y de sus fortunas y aduersidades. En Anuers, En casa de Martin Nucio. 1554. Con Preuilegio Imperial. 16mo. blue morocco extra, gilt edges, from the Heredia library 1554	10	0	0
FIRST KNOWN EDITION. With this is bound up the Segunda Parte as it is called—an anonymous continuation unfit to accompany the original work, but which Nucio evidently regarded as a genuine second part. It is without its title and begins on leaf A 2, folio 2. But the Lazarillo of Hurtado is complete, and is, if not the first edition, at least of the same year as the edition said to have been printed at Burgos. No one has ever seen that Burgos impression, nor the one alleged to have been printed in 1553.
733 ——— Vida de Lazarillo de Tormes . . corregida, y emendada por I. de Luna . . MDXX—Segvnda Parte . . por I. de Luna . . MDCXX—2 vols. in 1, 12mo. vellum Paris, 1620	2	2	0
The second part here is entirely a new work by Juan de Luna himself, and the last chapter of the first part is also new, added on to Mendoza's work so as to announce the continuation.
734 ——— Vida de Lazarillo de Tormes . . aumentada con dos segundas partes anonimas . . 8vo. with numerous illustrations by Spanish artists Madrid, 1844	0	7	6
The one second part is that of the Anvers edition mentioned above, and the other is that of Juan de Luna.
735 ——— The Pleasant History of Lazarillo de Tormes . . Drawne out of Spanish by David Rowland of Anglesey . . . Printed by E. G. for William Leake, 1639—The Pursuit of the Historie of Lazarillo de Tormes . . by Iean de Luna . . E. G. for William Leake, 1639—2 vols. in 1, 12mo. red morocco extra, gilt edges, by Belz-Niedrée 1639	5	0	0
A dedication by J. de Luna is given in the original Spanish, and contains an assertion that it was he who had caused the book to be translated into English. This dedication is addressed to Robert Car Earl of Ancram. The translator (?) T. W. dedicates the second part to Lord Strange, Albert Stanley, and Anne Carre.
736 ——— Lazarillo: or the excellent History of Lazarillo de Tormes, the witty Spaniard. Both Parts. The first translated by David Rowland, and the second gather'd . . by Iean de Luna . . and done into English by the same Author, 2 parts in 1 vol. 12mo. old calf, with the engraved bookplate of Charles Viscount Bruce of Amphyll (about 1720) 1655	2	8	0
A reprint of the preceding. The dedication by T. W. in the second part is omitted; and a new dedication to George Lord Chandos, Baron Sudeley, at the beginning of the book, is signed by James Blakeston.

	One of the most remarkable books in old Spanish literature. The author, who lived from 1282 to 1347, was a prince (nephew of Alfonso el Sabio) and a mighty warrior; yet was he also a writer of books. This one alone, a collection of fables and tales from various sources, told in a simple and vigorous Castilian style, will preserve his fame as long as Spanish remains a spoken tongue.
	Argote de Molina prefixed a life of the Prince and a genealogy of his family, and added a discourse on old Spanish poetry at the end.

full page) are printed with the text on folios 23, 26, 28, 31, 32, 37, 47, 49, 51, 52, 54. SEPARATE PLATES: the triumphal arch of America, at fol. 16; the triumphal arch of the Flemings, at folio 38. The portrait is perhaps additional. Salvá's copy wanted the two separate plates of triumphal arches, but he speaks of a separate plate of disembarkation which is not here. Brunet's continuator mentions 15 engravings; and Nagler, without specifying any number, alludes to a view of Lisbon. The book is very rare.

The English engraving by Elstracke of a portrait of King Philip is added as a frontispiece.

SUPPOSED TO BE UNIQUE. This is the copy which was formerly in the Sapienza library at Rome; afterwards in the possession of Salamanca the banker, and next in the collection of Baron Seillière.

Antonio Salazar or Juan de Molina wrote this romance between 1510 and 1520. It was first printed in 1521, with the name of Antonio Salazar as author (i.e. as professed translator from the Arabic original of Xarton). In the editions above described the translator's name is not mentioned. We have no right to assume that it was a pseudonym, although Don Pascual de Gayangos ascribes the book to Juan de Molina. It is a book in the style of the Amadis.

This First Edition of a celebrated book is rare in any state; but the engraved frontispiece is so rare that even Salvá was unaware of its existence.
All the critics seem to agree in crediting Andres Perez with the authorship; but as the book bears the name Francisco de Ubeda on the title, and Francisco Lopez de Ubeda in the Privilege, Approbation, and dedication, we are not justified in placing the book under the name of Perez. | 10 | 10 | 0 |

The Solar copy fetched 152 francs.
Near the end of part 3 of libro segundo, the earliest contemporary reference to Don Quixote is found in the following lines (rhymed by the truncation of final syllables):— | 1 | 16 | 0 |
| "Soy la Reyn de Picardi
Mas que la Rud conoci,
Mas famo que doña Oli
Que don Quixo y Lazari." | | | |
| It is curious that these lines should be found in a book printed in the same year as the first edition of Don Quixote, and written earlier than August 1604 (the date of the privilege). | | | |

| But one other copy is known, which was in the Salamanca library. Salvá only knew the reprint of 1588, which he calls EXTRAORDINARILY RARE. The difference between the two issues is that there are 209 numbered leaves in the one of 1582, and 210 in that of 1588; and that the latter contained a privilege of the later date, while the former has only the privilege of Lisbon, 1581. | | | |
| The first 65 leaves are headed "Cancionero," but the book, although a cancionero by its form and character, differs in contents (except in a few instances) from the "Cancionero General de Lopez de Ubeda" of 1586. | | | |

| EXCESSIVELY RARE. Ticknor's copy, and the one in the British Museum (Grenville library) are the only two (besides this one) to which I can refer as having been specifically recorded by bibliographers. The present copy wanted the last four leaves when it was in Salvá's possession, but they were afterwards supplied by Jose Sancho Rayon to the Count of Benahaves (who bought the Salvá library). These four leaves appear to be in facsimile, but it has been asserted that they are genuine. The book consists of 23 leaves: A and B, eight leaves each; C, 7 leaves. | | | |
| The work, which is thrown into the form of a dialogue between the Marques de Santillana, Alfonso de Cartagena, Juan de Mena, and the author himself, is described by Ticknor as one of the most important books in Castilian prose written in the fifteenth century. It is, in fact, a great Spanish classic, and, in this first edition, one of the rarest productions of the peninsular press in that century. | | | |

| "RARISIMO LIBRO"—Salvá. There was no copy in the Miro library. Ticknor sets Maldonado as a balladist far above all the writers of his time, and Cervantes praised the Cancionero highly, not only in the Don Quixote, but also in two poems which are here included among the preliminary pieces of the book.
Gallardo gives four pages to his description of Maldonado's Cancionero, which was really one of the most important volumes of Spanish poetry produced in the second half of the sixteenth century. | | | |

The first work in this volume is an unpublished Nobiliario of the highest intrinsic value. It was compiled about 1580, by Aponte, who by his official rank, his antiquarian tastes, and his exact and immense knowledge, may be regarded as a Spanish parallel to our English Dugdale. The information contained in his work was recognized as equivalent to legal evidence.

The second work was written in the early part of the sixteenth century. The author was a vassal of the kindred houses of Andrade and Sotomayor. The third work is the complete history of the noble houses of Biscay, Guipuzcoa, and Asturias, which formed the final section (Books 21-25) of the author's great general work, written 1490-1500.

RARE. It is a well written story, evidently giving a true picture of the horrible but inevitable ending of the Moors in Spain. | Probably THE FIRST EDITION of the Coronacion; in any case a fifteenth century edition. The only other copy known is in the Grenville library, and it consists, like this, of 102 leaves; the fact being that each of the two is deficient of a leaf. - EXTREMELY RARE; so rare in fact that no other copy than this, and the one known to Gallardo, besides the imperfect one which was formerly Heber's, will be found cited in the bibliographies.
- The Trecientas and the Coronacion are the two masterpieces of Juan de Mena; the latter being the first dated edition of the poem, and the former the first glossed edition (absolutely the second edition) of the text. The two books ought to be found together, but they were not united in the copy described by Brunet (probably in the Bibliothèque Nationale).
- This copy has been successively in the Miro and Heredia libraries. There was none in the Salvá and Seillière collections, and Salvá had evidently little expectation of ever meeting with a chance of buying it.
- 911 — another copy of the TRECIENTAS only, in sound condition, but having folios 45 and 190 in facsimile, and the marginal notes of some leaves cropped; green morocco, gilt edges, from the Conde, Heber, and Lakelands libraries 1499 5 5 0

- From the Seillière collection, but without the usual arms of the owner. Salvá possessed only the Coronacion part of this edition; and had never seen the Trecientas of 1512, the existence of which was only known to him from the statement in Brunet. This is sufficient to prove the great rarity of the volume.
- 913 — another edition of the Trecientas, agreeing exactly in title, text and arrangement with the preceding, but having the last seven words of the colophon changed to dezisiete a veynte τ quatro de setiembre . 1517
 LA CORONACION—another copy of the identical edition above described 1512

| Unmentioned by Brunet, Salvá, and Gallardo. The book must be a very rare one. It is really anonymous, although here placed under Mesue. The author commented on the ancient works of Mesue and Nicolaus, adding fresh matter of his own, and caused the whole to be revised by three doctors of repute whom he names. He was himself a Franciscan friar. | | | |

| Only two other copies known of this curious volume. The copy which belonged to Gallardo was the only one known to the translators of Ticknor . . . Ticknor himself was ignorant of its existence, but the Spanish translators give two pages of description in note-type to this "obra rarissima" as they call it. The work is a set of dialogues, partly in Valencian, between several persons who carry on a combat of wits in the company of the Duke of Calabria. It comprises a number of poetical compositions by Don Francisco Fenollet, J. Fernandez de Heredia, and others, including several Romances which are said to be in much simpler and more archaic style than the prose of the volume. | | | |

in Spain, and is known to very few of the students of the subject. Neither the author nor his work is mentioned in Grove's Dictionary of Music. The title-page bears the words "Folio ii", but as the few extant copies are all alike, it is supposed that there may have been a preliminary blank leaf which was torn away in every instance. | | | |
| The words of a number of pretty Spanish and Portuguese romances and villancicos are given with the music, and are of independent literary value, being unquestionably popular songs which are not included in the recognized Cancioneros. | | | |

"Notes on early Spanish Music.' By Juan F. Riaño. (B. Quaritch.) A treatise which will be invaluable to students of musical history on account of the mass of information which Señor Riaño has laboriously brought together from various out-of-the-way sources on a department of musical history hitherto somewhat neglected. In his preface, after commenting on the absence of information on 'the ancient school of Spanish music before Palestrina,' Señor Riaño says: 'This reason has induced me to think that a real service will be done by facilitating information to those who have undertaken the study of music in the Middle Ages in Spain. I have collected the bibliographical information in the different libraries to which I have had access, so that students may be aware of the existence of a great number of Spanish manuscripts from the tenth to the sixteenth century which have musical annotations. I also give a catalogue of early printed books on music up to 1600 by Spanish authors, which, owing to their extreme rarity, are bibliographical treasures, and constitute a group of works of the greatest interest for the history of the development and progress of European music in the Middle Ages and beginning of the Renaissance.' The volume is, in fact, a catalogue raisonné of old musical manuscripts, profusely illustrated both with specimens of the music and with pictures of old musical instruments. There is a charming series of quaint, angular figures playing on a variety of ancient instruments, from the celebrated 'Cantigas' of King Don Alonso el Sabio (13th century), which will interest any one. But for the most part the treatise is for serious students only; and they owe a debt of gratitude to Señor Riaño for his painstaking, unpretending labour; for this book, small as it is, represents research and hard work."—Pall Mall Gazette, September 16th, 1887.

"The work is one relating to Spanish Church Music, a subject on which hardly anything has been written, and of which very little is known. Señor Juan Riaño, in his Notes on Early Spanish Music, gives us a catalogue of MS. Musical Liturgical works, now existing in Spain, and by his most excellent illustrations we can get a good idea of the curious musical signs appearing in these early Spanish MSS. Of course, they nearly all illustrate the peculiar rite used down to the present day at Toledo, and known as the Mozarabic rite. At page 25 we have a facsimile of a Mozarabic Breviary of the tenth or eleventh century, and on page 29 a facsimile of a Gothic Missal of the eleventh century, which shows the Visigothic musical notation. There are also a large number of illustrations of Spanish musical instruments. One is a little disappointed that Señor Riaño gives no account of the splendid Liturgical MSS. in the library of the British Museum; they are full of Visigothic neumes, dated about the tenth century, and, of course, of the Mozarabic rite. It is a pity no one has paid, as yet, any attention to these important works, possibly the only Spanish MSS. in England."—The Weekly Register, October 1st, 1887.

Small folio, numerous diagrams and several hundred of printed bars of Music; fine copy in vellum

RARE. The value of the book as a scientific treatise on Music has been fully related by Fétis. Its interest for us lies largely in the number of first lines (or first and second lines) of the Spanish ballads and songs which he gives and of which he adds the corresponding musical notes.

This copy is so large that the prolonged diagram-lines which appear on several pages have remained perfectly safe from mutilation. The editions of 1577 and 1592 are identical; only the title was reprinted for the latter.

THE FIRST AND THE RAREST OF ALL PRINTED BOOKS TREATING UPON THE GAME OF CHESS . . . (The work of Jacobus de Cessolis which is so well known in early texts, Latin, Italian, French, and English, was merely a moral treatise in which the pieces of the Chess-board were used to personify abstractions.)

Apparently no perfect copy exists. This one, which is the best, has its title-page in facsimile; and Gallardo's copy, which is the next best, wants e2 and e3 in the first set of signatures. A third copy was described by Santander (whose description is copied by Brunet), but where that copy is now, or whether it was actually perfect or not, I cannot learn.

The date of the book is ascertainable approximately from the printing, and from the fact made evident by the dedication that Juan, the Prince of the Asturias, son of Ferdinand and Isabella, was alive. Lucena calls him John the Third, which he would have been, if he survived his parents, but he died in 1497 in his nineteenth year. The Salamanca student would certainly have changed his dedication if the prince had died before the book was ready for press.

First Edition of a famous Chess book, and EXTREMELY RARE. Thousands of persons have talked of Ruy Lopez, and made use of his celebrated gambit, but few have had the chance to see the original book by which he made his name immortal in the annals of chess.

We learn from the dedication to Garcia de Toledo that "many lords and people of eminence were giving themselves to this so excellent manner of enjoyment," and that young Don Carlos (the hapless son of Philip II) took pleasure in seeing the game played.

"MUY RARO. De esta obra . . . se pueden sacar noticias sumamente curiosas de varios juegos antiguos, y de las fullerias y tretas que usaban los tahures."—Salvá.

He discusses with amusing earnestness the character and the lawfulness or illegality of betting and gambling in all sorts of ways. Of the numerous "dodges" he describes, the following curious case: "Thus if any priest should leave his property to some friend, to the intent that the latter shall hand it over to the priest's son, to whom he himself cannot leave it, etc. etc.," is brought forward to illustrate the question as to whether a debt of honour may be lawfully accepted, as of the nature of a free gift, by any man who had won it in play. The fact that women, at the time, were heavily addicted to gambling is frequently made manifest in this singular book.

One of the rarest and most valuable Spanish works on Hunting. Baron Pechon's copy fetched 1500 francs, and was afterwards priced by Bachelin 2000 francs. Salvá had only an imperfect copy.
The plates are as follows: 1, frontispiece; 2, portrait of the Count-Duke, with his arms in the left-hand corner, surmounted by the words "Philippi IIII muniticenta" (this is after Velasquez). 3, Hunting of the Wild Boar, one mounted horseman close to the boar, two others in the distance, and two dogs at the left-hand side below. 4, Escape of the Boar, the hunters dismounted, one of the horses injured. 5, Renewal of the Boar-hunt, two mounted huntsmen close upon the boar, without any other figures. 6, Boar-hunt within an enclosure. 7, Boar-hunt (this is from the same plate as No. 3, altered by the engraver, the dogs omitted, and five horsemen instead of two in the distance). 8, Deer-shooting. (In the morocco copy, 9, Duplicate unsigned proof of the portrait of the Count-Duke.) The signature of "P. Perete" as engraver appears upon 1, 2, 5, 6; and No. 6 has also an inscription with the designer's name "Franco. Collantes inbentor 1634."

 An unknown edition, of which perhaps no other copy exists. The edition of 1552 was the earliest known to Salvá, in whose catalogue an extract from the text is given, which shows that this Spanish horse-doctor was acquainted with the scientific fact of the Circulation of the Blood, nearly a hundred years before Harvey discovered it. It appears in the present copy on the reverse of leaf 49, and the concluding words may be quoted: "La sangre anda en torno y en rueda por todos los miembros." It is a statement concerning the function of the veins and arteries, which arises in an answer to a supposed question about the branding or barring of a horse's legs.

| I have not had a copy of this excessively rare book for twenty-seven years. It was the first general collection of genuine popular proverbs and proverbial locutions that was made in Spain. They amount to six thousand in number, and comprise not only Castilian refranes, but also Catalan, Valencian, Asturian, Galician, and Portuguese, with a few Italian and French, all in a single alphabetical arrangement; with Castilian explanations appended to those which are in the other languages. The original owner drew his pen through all the indecencies, but not so as to render them illegible. His pious action has simply made them more remarkable than they would otherwise have been. | | | |

| The last sentence of the 1525 edition (in which the production of the Primaleon as a second book is announced) was omitted in this; but here, on the last page, we find the Latin verses of "Jo. Auger transmeren," which are not in the 1525 edition. These silly and pompous verses are important for the history of the book, as they allege that it was written by a learned woman greater in merit than all Spanish men. There is also a hint of assistance rendered in the more warlike passages by a "filius altisonans." In the catalogue of Ferdinand Columbus' library, an edition of 1511 is mentioned, with a statement that Francisco Vazquez was the author. In the colophon of the Primaleon of 1524, the editor's name is given as Francisco Vazquez of Ciudad Rodrigo. From these scraps of information Don Pascual de Gayangos has supposed that this Vazquez was the son referred to above, and that he was part author at least of the Primaleon. | | | |

Small folio, Roman letter, title printed in red and black beneath a woodcut; fine and large copy in green morocco extra, gilt edges, from the Salvá library Medina del Campo, 1563 12 10 0
VERY RARE. Six stanzas of verse at the end (a sort of imitation in Spanish of the Latin verses of Auger which appeared in the 1526 Palmerin) comprise in the fifth octave a clear statement as to the origin and authorship of the Primaleon:—
En este esmaltado ay muy rico dechado
Van esculpidas muy bellas labores
De paz y de guerra y de castos amores
Por mano de dueña prudente labrado.
Es por exemplo de todos notado
Que lo verisimil veamos en flor.
Es de Augustobrica aquesta labor.
Que en Medina se ha agora estampado.
There cannot be much hesitation in accepting as a fact that the author of the Palmerin and the Primaleon was a lady, and that she came from Ciudad Rodrigo. Whether her name was Vazquez or not must remain questionable.

| First edition of one of the great Spanish historical classics of the fifteenth century, that is, of the Generaciones y Semblanzas or original Memoirs of his own time, by Hernan Perez de Guzman, which occupies the last eighteen leaves of the volume. The first part of the book is his condensed adaptation of the narrative contained in the still unpublished Mare Historiarum of Guido Colonna. | | | |
| Brunet only mentions the edition of 1531 of this Spanish Chronicle, and even that he had never seen. There was no copy of either in the Miro or the Seilliére collection; and the copy which Salvá had was imperfect. It is not incorrectly described in the Salvá catalogue as "Libro de estraordinaria rareza." | | | |

| | First edition of a great Spanish historical classic; and at the same time one of the finest typographical masterpieces of the early press. It was compiled by Perez de Guzman from the work of several elder contemporaries; and thus, as Salvá says, the most distinguished writers of the fifteenth century contributed to its composition and improvement. | | | |
| | COLLATION: † 10 leaves; A, B, 8 leaves each; a, 9 leaves; b—z, and aa—hh, in eights; ii, six leaves. The peculiarity of 9 leaves in signature a has not been remarked by the bibliographers. It is to be presumed that a leaf was intercalated to supply some error made by the type-setters. | | | |

| | EXCESSIVELY RARE. Each volume is the second edition of its text, and the two united form a set which many collectors are likely to sigh for in vain. | | | |
| | The list of editions given by Duran and Salvá is erroneous. There was no edition of Part I in 1588. The above first volume bears the words second edition , and the royal privilege, which is included in the preliminary pieces, proves that the first edition must have been printed for Angelo Tavano at Zaragoza at the end of 1595. With regard to the Second Part, we have the following details: Gines Perez finished the writing of the manuscript on the 22 November, 1597, at Murcia. Juan Dorado, of Murcia, bought it, and obtained the royal licence to print it on 4 June, 1610. Doctor Molina saw it in three sections, the first and third in MS., the second in print, dated Alcalá 1604, on the 10 of April, 1610, and approved it for publication. After June, 1610, there is no further information till 1619, in the April of which year the Tassa and a further approbation were dated at Madrid. Consequently, it seems likely that the first edition was printed at Madrid in 1619, and immediately afterwards reprinted at Cuenca and Barcelona. | | | |
| | The allusion to a printed portion of Alcalá, 1604, by Dr. Molina, may simply be an error on his part, caused by having seen the Alcalá edition of the First Part in 1604. Ticknor boldly asserts that the second part was first printed at Alcalá in 1604, but he and others probably relied upon the word of Dr. Molina. This personage, | | | |

- however, in his approbacion, speaks only of the book in the following fashion, as "el libro de las Guerras Civiles . . y de las batallas particulares . . entre Moros y Christianos, y de la rebelion de la dicha Ciudad . . tiene tres partes . . la primera y tercera parte estan escrito de mano . . y la segunda impressa en Alcalá de Henares por Juan Gracian, año de 1604." Ticknor laments the loss of the third part which he had never seen; but it is quite evident that the Doctor's segunda parte is the batallas particulares, and refers to the published Part I, while he has split up Part II into Guerras Civiles (his part 1), and Rebellion (his part 3).

Small folio, gothic letter, fine copy in old calf Sevilla, 1544 | 2 | 16 | 0 |
| The translator's name is unknown. Salvá gives some reasons for supposing that he may have been Diego Henriquez del Castillo. | | | |
| 1136 QUESTION DE AMOR . Y, CARCEL DE AMOR. En Paris, En casa de Hernaldo Caldera, y de Claudio Caldera su hiyo . 1548.
2 vols. in 1, narrow 12mo. very fine copy in the original stamped binding of smooth black morocco (probably done at Brussels) Paris, 1548 | 10 | 10 | 0 |
| The second volume has a distinct title, foliation, and signatures. The title is "Carcel de Amor del complimiento de nicolas nuñez," and the prologue indicates that the Carcel had been composed by Diego de Sant Pedro. The complement of Nicolas Nuñez begins on folio 75 of the second volume.
The Question de Amor was written at Ferrara in 1512. The author's name is unknown. It is a singular discussion, in mingled prose and poetry, as to which of two lovers had the worse fate. The lady of the one had died, the other served his lady without hope of guerdon. | | | |

| The Question de Amor ends on folio 104. On fol. 105 "Al Lector." On fol. 106, begin the "Treze Questiones," translated by Diego Lopez de Ayala from the Philocopo, and called by him "Liberinto de Amor." On the reverse of leaf 155 begins "Introdvzione che mostra il Signor Alfonso de Villoa a proferire la lingua Castigliana," which ends on the obverse of 158. | | | |

| 1139 QUEVEDO. Obras de Don Francisco de Quevedo Villegas . . 3 vols. sm. 4to. fine portrait; calf Brusselas, por Francisco Foppens, 1660-70 | 1 | 0 | 0 |
| The first volume has a beautiful engraved title (besides the letterpress half title); Vol. III has the title "Poesias" instead of "Obras." This last volume ends properly on page 488, followed by a list of contents, "Summarios de las Poesias," of 9 unnumbered leaves. A supplement to the Works is printed in this copy, and consists of 86 numbered pages inserted between pp. 488 and the Summarios. | | | |

| This is the volume of "Poesias," and seems to have been printed apart from an edition of the Obras in two volumes, if we may judge from a note on the fourth preliminary leaf, "Adviertese que la Dedicatoria y Aprobaciones de todas las obras . . se hallaran en el primer tomo de dichas Obras." | | | |

| 1146 ——— Discurso contra los Gitanos, sm. 4to. with a plate of the royal arms between the title and the text; calf neat Madrid, 1631 | 2 | 16 | 0 |
| An extremely curious account of the Gipsies in Spain, addressed to the King, and recommending, not their extinction by death as outlaws, but their expulsion from the country. Quiñones had just returned from Sepulveda, where as judge he had hanged five of them, and sent several to the galleys. | | | |

| EXTREMELY RARE. There is probably not more than one other copy in existence. The only one known to Brunet and Gayangos was the present copy, which at that time was in the Sapienza library. They both gave an incorrect description. The book consists of 230 leaves, namely, title and one preliminary leaf, followed by the text numbered folios 1-128. The heading of the first page of text reveals that the Tuscan original was called El Enamoramiento del Emperador Carlos Magno, and gives the name of the translator as Luis Domingues. | | | |

| A very curious book, one of the parts of which is a mira prognosticatio for the year 1524. The author, who was a doctor, had lived in Naples, and boasts here of the verified prophecies he had communicated to the Viceroy. In this volume he bids the French King beware of coming trouble. A rare slip of Errata (in eighteen lines) is pasted in front of the last leaf. | | | |

| The single ballads "printed on one or more sheets, in black letter, for popular use" (as Ticknor describes them), are amongst the rarest and the most precious pieces of old Spanish literature. It was out of tracts of this kind that the Romanceros were built up gradually between 1550 and the close of the century. | | | |

16mo. beautiful copy in black morocco extra, gilt edges, by Bauzonnet, with the book-label of Charles Nodier Anvers, 1555 36 0 0
EXTREMELY RARE. The earliest attempt to collect the popular ballads of Spain was made by the man for whom this work was published at Antwerp in or before 1550. This, his third edition of 1555, represents the final recension of the text of the First of the Romanceros. Further collections made towards the end of the century led to the compilation of the Romancero General described below.

Small 4to. fine, very large, and perfect copy, in red morocco lined with green morocco extra, gilt edges; from the Salvá library Medina, 1602 72 0 0
 One of the most precious volumes in the Salvá collection. Copies of this edition are rare in any state, but as a rule they are imperfect. This was the only perfect copy known to Salvá, for when he had it the British Museum copy was deficient of four leaves. I have had a copy perfect with the exception of one leaf only, and a copy made up with facsimiles is described below.
- 1234 ——— ROMANCERO GENERAL . . small 4to. having the eight preliminary leaves, and the two leaves numbered 161 and 177, supplied in admirable facsimile; calf gilt, from the Cosens library Medina, 1602 20 0 0

These Romances, which are divided into four parts, the last of the parts relating chiefly to the conquest of Granada, were written or collected in the early part of the sixteenth century. They were handed over to Alonso de Fuentes, that he might write a prose gloss upon them. Before he had finished his work, his anonymous patron (un Señor a quien yo tenia gran obligacion para servir) died, and the book was published by or for Fuentes in 1550 at Seville, appearing at Zaragoza in 1564 for the second time. Both editions are of the utmost rarity.

Best Edition of the book. It omits eight of the pieces in the editions of 1551 and 1580, but it has twenty-one additional ballads which are not in them.
1261 FACTITIOUS COLLECTIONS. ROMANCES VARIOS DE DIVERSOS AUTORES. Madrid and Zaragoza, 1699-1705, etc.	21	0	0
The contents of this volume are sufficiently old to have become rarities of a high order. They are all on single sheets of a few leaves each, and having been printed for popular and ephemeral use, the preservation and the combination of so large a number are remarkable, considering that even the ballads and broadsheets printed a hundred years later have become very rare.
All the pieces are in fine condition.

Such a large collection of Spanish chap-books is extremely rare and interesting. The productions of the catchpenny presses of the last century are already very scarce; as most of these gems of street-literature were easily destroyed.

| 1272 SALAZAR (Pedro de) Hystoria de la Gverra hecha contra la ciudad de Africa . Con la destruycion de la villa de Monazter . z Isla del Gozo, y perdida de Tripol de Berberia . Con Privilegio Real. Colophon on leaf 120: Fue impresa esta obra en la noble Ciudad de Napoles . . . mil y quinientos y cinquēta y dos Años: en case de maffre Matia impresor a la Vicaria Vieja. Small folio. gothic letter, with woodcuts and woodcut borders; a singularly fine and sound copy of the rare original edition; in limp vellum Napoles, 1552 | 25 | 0 | 0 |
| The title is partly in Roman, partly in Gothic letter, under the woodcut escutcheon of Don Pedro de Toledo, Viceroy of Naples; the dedication to whom "Prologo dirigido al Illustrissimo Señor don Pedro de Toledo," etc., occupies the obverse of the second leaf. The Tabla begins on the reverse of the second leaf and ends midway down the page on the reverse of the fourth leaf. Then the text follows on 120 numbered leaves (r-cxx). | | | |
| This is the original issue, as made in Naples, and is excessively rare. In the copies which were sent to Spain, the four preliminary leaves were reprinted, the words of intitulation vary, the escutcheon on the title is that of the Emperor, and the dedication is addressed to Prince Philip. | | | |

| | This story (which was printed for the first time about 1490) is usually classed among Romances of Chivalry, and called Leriano y Laureola . San Pedro made his lover die at a distance from the lady, because, through a punctilio, she would not marry him, although they loved each other. Nicolas Nuñez did not like such an ending, so he brings them together in order that the disappointed lover shall die in his lady's presence. | | | |

| | FIRST EDITION. ONLY ONE OTHER COPY IS KNOWN, namely that which belonged to Salvá and in which at least nine leaves in the middle were deficient. All the bibliographers were ignorant of the existence of this first edition, until Salvá's imperfect copy was seen by Brunet. It is in signatures a-q of eight leaves each. The final sheet of poetry Nueva Coronacion contains eight leaves with the signature a. It does not perhaps belong to the book, but it was evidently printed at the same time by the same printer in uniform style.
This comedy was considered so licentious that it was at once suppressed by the Inquisition, and nearly every copy of this original edition seems to have been destroyed. It was reprinted two years later at Salamanca, but that edition underwent the same fate, and the book was never again reprinted in Spain, until our own days. | | | |

Lisboa, 1631
An enthusiastic eulogy of everything Portuguese, written in excellent Castilian and dedicated (with probably little affection) to Philip IV King of the Spains. The author was only twenty-three years of age then; fourteen years later he wrote rejoicingly of Lusitania Liberata. | 1 | 5 | 0 |

| ORIGINAL EDITION. Very correctly printed with a good fount of Spanish types; marked by few typographical errors, among which I see in a couple of places scrivia and Spañoles . It is therefore tolerably certain that this excessively rare book was printed in Italy, and either at Naples or at Milan, more probably in the former city. The second part is an excuse for the siege and sacking of Rome, and a defence of the Emperor as not responsible for it. The author says, however, in his address Al Lector that if he is anywhere in error, it is through ignorance not malice, "pues en todo me someto a la correction y juyzio dela santa yglesia, la qual confieso por madre." | | | |
| Both Dialogues are in the same type and have 34 lines to the page. There is no foliation. The signatures of the Mercurio are A—I in eights, and K 2 leaves of which the second is blank. Of the second Dialogue, a—c in eights, and d in ten leaves. It is the circumstance of the signatures being mostly octaves, that induced Boehmer to call this book a large 8vo., and he is perhaps technically right. But the shape of the book is undeniably quadrate. Only three other copies seem to be known, all in Germany, and one of the three imperfect. | | | |
| The vellum cover of the above copy is the original one, and it bears a faded inscription on the outside, written about 1580, which seems to be "A xeres qui est d'aquesto libro vero possessore." The name is Spanish; the language is mixed Latin, Spanish, and Italian. | | | |

Two volumes of excessive rarity, both bearing on the title the curious wood-cut device of a Y, with the figure of a man toppling off the broad arm, and a standing figure pointing to the crown which rests above the narrow arm of the letter. The motto is "Estrecho el camino de la vida y es ancho el de la perdicion." The place and printer's name are considered to be pseudonymous, and to indicate the press of Jean Crespin at Geneva (—the man who printed the original edition of Foxe's Martyrs in 1557). | 9 | 9 | 0 |

FIRST EDITION, EXCESSIVELY RARE. In fact no other copy than this has ever been seen in the book-auctions except Lord Stuart de Rothesay's, which was sold in 1855 and fetched £47. The present example is a very fine one, and so large that Salvá suspected it to be a real Large Paper. It consists of 183 leaves (a blank leaf having been cut away either at the beginning or end of sheet +, or the beginning of sheet A). The signatures are + 10 leaves, A 7 leaves, B—X eight leaves each, Y six leaves.

This copy fetched £29. 10s at the Seillière sale in London in 1877. Only one other copy (Sobolewski's) is known, and in it the title was wanting, besides two leaves of the table.

The name of Dionys Clemente is unrecorded not only by Ticknor and Antonio, but also by Ximeno in his Dictionary of Valencian writers. From this, the extraordinary rarity of the book may be easily inferred.

VERY RARE. The glimpse of the book's history as told in the intitulation on fol. ii is curious, since it reminds us of a parallel instance in English literary history. Urries was in Bruges at the same time as Caxton ; and while one was translating the Troy Book from French into English, the other was rendering Valerius Maximus from French into Spanish.

 Small folio, Roman Letter, First Edition; light brown morocco, gilt edges (Zaragoza, 1555) 8 8 0
 Consisting of 6 preliminary leaves and 156 leaves of text (numbered 1-159 erroneously). The signatures are A, 6 leaves; a-n in sixes; o, 7 leaves; p-z in sixes, A eight leaves, B four leaves, and C five leaves. The book is so rare that I am unable to ascertain whether there was a final leaf of colophon or not.
 Brunet describes the edition of 1562, and, in his note upon it, says that the first edition of "Valladolid, 1555" is very rare. In the Spanish Ticknor there is a similar but still briefer allusion; but the date is evidently taken from that of the Privilege, which is signed by "Yo la Princesa" at Valladolid in 1555. The privilege was, however, granted to the Zaragoza printer "Por quanto vos Miguel de Çapila librero vezino de Caragoça haveys hecho recopilar de latin en romance al Maestro Valles el libro." Consequently the first edition was printed at Zaragoza, not at Valladolid, as described above. Amongst the preliminary pieces there is "El autor al pio Lector," which was not reprinted in the 1562 edition; also six columns of Errata, and a statement that "Quedan se recopilando las guerras que succedierõ en Italia. . ."

| | THE FIRST PRINTED COLLECTION of any of Lope de Vega's Comedies. It is unmentioned by Salvá, Brunet, and Gallardo; and it came to Ticknor's knowledge only in time to be referred to in his last English edition. (It was a single copy found in Germany which he described.) The names of the writers besides Lope are not given in the book; but No. 6 is the Carlos el Perseguido of Lope (with numerous passages in the text which were altered in the edition of 1604)—No. 4, "Comedia de la libertad de Castilla por el Conde Fernan Goncales, en lengua antiga," is not the play of the same name by Lope, but totally distinct. No. 5, "Hazañas del Cid y su Muerte, con la tomada de Valencia," is not the second Cid comedy of Guillen de Castro. As to the Amigos Enojados, and the No. 1 and No. 2, their titles are not to be found in Salvá's list. According to Ticknor, at least three of the Comedies are by Lope. The book consists of title and leaves numbered 1—272. On the title is an autograph, "Jes de Jamet a Seville ce 24 d'Avril, 1604." | | | |

The fact that the second part was twice printed or partly printed, was evidently unknown to Ximeno (Escritores de Valencia, 1747), but he says: "Este tomo no se halla entero por aver impedido la Real Audiencia continuar su impresion por querellas que pusieron muchos nobles."

In this copy Vol. III is precisely like the one in the Killigrew copy. Vol. II is a MS. copy of the complete Second Part; probably "con mucha variacion," as Ximeno says. Vol. IV is an exact copy of the printed Barcelona volume.

1464 — the same, Vol. III separately, sm. folio, fine copy in limp vellum, £3. 3s; or in red morocco extra, gilt edges, by Bedford 1564 3 16 0

Very few books have such a history as this. The author worked on it for more than forty years before he began to print. It is absolutely certain that the first volume was issued by Navarro in 1564, with all the necessary licences, etc., but not a single copy is known. Of Vol. II, we have plain proof that he printed two editions, both done in 1564, the second intended to correct or supplement the first; and yet, as Ximeno declared a century and a half ago, no complete printed copy of either is known. Of Vol. III, the edition which Vicyana himself calls the first, was printed off rapidly so as to be presented to the King on his entrance into Valencia on the 14th April, 1564; while of the second edition, which as he says he was even then progressing with, Ximeno seems to have had a knowledge that it was completed in 1564, but I know of no copy. Vol. IV was printed no doubt in Barcelona so as to escape the hostility of the Valencian nobles, but even it is rare.

75 pieces, bound together in 1 vol. sm. 4to. limp vellum 1648-76 20 0 0

A highly valuable collection of Spanish poetry, written in the popular metres, and including a good many dialectal forms of language. Such a large series of rare pieces could only elsewhere be found in public libraries if indeed anywhere.—Four pieces of later date are added to the 75 above mentioned, and bear the imprints of Cervera, Gerona, and Barcelona, 1727-38.

| THE FIRST BOOK KNOWN TO HAVE BEEN PRINTED IN TOLEDO; EXCESSIVELY RARE. There is another work dated 1480, which is alleged by Gallardo to be in similar types, and to derive, therefore, from the first Toledo press, but the argument is insufficient. The Confutatorium bears its own evidence of place and time, and it would be a singular thing if Vasquez printed his first book in 1480 and his second in 1486. | | | |

| This volume contains ten stories, which the lady augmented by a second part of ten more in 1647. Salvá, who had no edition before that of 1647, knew nothing of the bibliography, and cited Brunet for a statement that the first edition of the first part had appeared at Madrid in 1635, and been followed by reprints in 1637, one at Madrid and one at Zaragoza. But from the preliminary pieces of the latter we see that Jos. de Valdivielso gave his Aprobacion at Madrid on 2nd June, 1636, and Juan de Mendieta his, also at Madrid, on the 4th June, 1636 (printed by evident mistake 1626). The Licence is dated Zaragoza, May, 1635. We are therefore left in uncertainty and find it difficult to take Brunet on trust. | | | |

The tale of the Prevenido Engañado in the first part of these Novels is sufficient in itself to stamp Doña Maria as one of the most licentious writers in the Spanish language. It contains a succession of lascivious adventures ingeniously strung together to prove that women can always succeed in betraying their lovers and their husbands, and that no precaution can frustrate their indecent desires. | | | |

- From a close comparison of this book with the Certamen Poeticum (Obres y Trobes) printed at Valencia (in 1474) and the Salustio printed in the same city in 1475, Salvá was enabled to assert that the Rabbi Samuel was also printed at Valentia in either of those two years. It is consequently one of the first books produced by the press in Spain. No other copy is known.

- The extraordinary rarity of these highly important volumes arises from the limited and private nature of the impressions. It is stated upon good authority that only fifty copies were struck off by order of the great Cardinal Ximenez.
- In these two volumes we have what is virtually the most ancient liturgy of the Latin Church, originating not with SS. Isidore and Ildephonsus, to whom the compilation is assigned, but with earlier times when Christian Rome was still Greek, and the bishoprics of Numidia, Spain, Gaul and Lombardy constituted the Latin Church.

In it the New Testament in Greek was printed for the first time, but was only allowed to be sold after the Death of Leo X in 1522, he having strictly prohibited the sale of the Bible. The death of Cardinal Ximenes, November 8th, 1517, may also have caused a delay in the publication. Sir J. Thorold's copy sold for £176; Rt. Hon. Both the above volumes are fine specimens of Spanish ornamental bookbinding. Their historical interest is considerable, as they were published for a political purpose to show the ancient and confirmed rights of the Catalan people by way of remonstrance against the evident intention of the Castilian crown to suppress them, which led to the insurrection of 1640.

EXCESSIVELY RARE. I have never before had this book in a perfect state; and only once in an imperfect state, namely when I possessed a very defective copy twenty-six years ago.

The Consolat del Mar was the foundation of all modern laws relating the sea, and as such it is an important landmark in the history of the growth of great maritime powers.

(Valencia? or Castello de la Plana?) about 1495-1500 | 15 | 0 | 0 |
| This collection of twenty-four unpublished Valencian poems is perhaps the work of LUIS CATALA, one of the trobadores of Valencia, who contributed Coplas to the "Obra de la Concepcio de la Mare de Deu" of 1486, and who had already (according to Fuster) contributed to the "Obres y Trobes" of 1474. My conjecture is based on the fact that Luis Catala wrote work of the kind, and that a couple of notes in the volume itself show that it belonged to the Catala family in the sixteenth century. One of these notes is as follows:—
"Jo Viscent Catala, cavaller, confese aver rebut de vos Pere Miquel cavaller y abitador de la vila de Castello de la Plana vin llires de preu de una casa que esta en lo carer magor, de front de casa de Giner . . ."
This was written about 1590. The other note is a little later, and seems to read "moneginis Català, cavaller de La Plana." Castellò de la Plana is a little to the north of Valencia. | | | |

Dedicated by the printer to Don Ferrando Folch de Cardona y D'anglasola, Duch de Soma.
Muntaner's Chronicle was written in 1325-1328. Ticknor praises the exact yet animated character of the narrative, and compares it to that of Froissart. The Catalan knight was, however, a warrior, not a priest, and wrote in the spirit of a man who had fought in thirty battles and suffered wounds and captivity. His work refers more to the three successors of Don Jaime than to the Conquistador himself, as it is a record entirely of personal experiences, and he had only, as a boy of nine, seen that King a few years before his death. | 12 | 0 | 0 |

- Excessively rare. The only copies of which I have any note are Heber's (probably identical with the present); another which was sold at Sotheby's in 1825 for £59; and the Thorpe-Tross-Seilliére copy which I bought in Paris in 1890 for 1450 francs, plus expenses.

 The Sinner Redeemed is a curious religious romance or vision in which great numbers of speakers argue pro and con on the subject of the immolation of Christ. Among the characters are Plato, Moses, Isaac, Solomon, Eve, and Lucifer. The affair is debated in a court in which the Almighty presides; and in the last chapter of this first book (no more was printed) the Virgin refutes the speech of Orpheus, and consents voluntarily to the death of her Son.
 No other copy is known.

THE FIRST ROMANCE OF CHIVALRY PRINTED IN SPAIN.

Original edition, of extraordinary rarity. Only three other copies are known—one in the British Museum, a second (imperfect) in the library of the University of Valencia, and a third which had belonged to the Royal Library at Lisbon before it came (somehow) into the hands of the banker Salamanca, and which is probably once more in its original home.

The author, Jehannot de Martorell, a knight, dedicated his work to Dom Ferdinand of Portugal (son of the King, Dom Duarte) in 1460. He professes to have rendered it from English into Portuguese, for the prince's behoof, and thence into Valencian for the benefit of his compatriots. There is a certain amount of truth in the statement of an English original since the incidents of the early chapters are derived from Guy of Warwick, and the central figure in that part of the story is called Guilhem of Waroych, an Earl who emerges from a monastery to conquer heathen invaders of England and then returns to it after having revealed himself to his wife. The origin and laws of the Order of the Garter are given, differing somewhat in the account of its creation from the ordinary story. After Tirant appears on the scene, the romance seems to be independent of any original, and incidents of love and war are thickly crowded in the record; which deals henceforward chiefly with the Empire of Constantinople rescued from the Turks by the hero. Tirant is engaged to the Emperor's daughter, but his courtship is protracted, and other ladies tempt him in a great many warm passages. He wins, however, the renown of a chaste and valiant warrior, and finally dies without his reward. The mourning princess dies upon his dead body, and the tale is ended. Martorell would perhaps have finished it differently, but he died when only three parts of the work had been written. The fourth part was composed at the request of Doña Isabel de Loris by the magnificent knight Masti Johan de Galba. Cervantes did not know the story in its original Valencian form, but only in its Spanish translation (printed in 1511). He makes the Curate save it from the holocaust of romances, and declare that "Por su estilo es este el mejor libro del mundo."

- 1581 TOMICH. Page 1: Ati comēçen les histories e conquestes dels Reys de Arago e Comtes de Barcelona compilades per lo honorable mossen Pere Tomic caualler les quals trames al molt Reuerēd Archabisbe de Saragossa . . . Table ends on page 6. On page 7 (foliated II): Capítol primer. Qui tracta de la generacio de Adā e dela creacio del mon . . . From henceforward the text is foliated down to folio lxxviii, the last three leaves being supplied in a transcript of about 1720 (Barcelona, about 1493) 25 0 0
- This original edition of Tomich's Chronicle is apparently unknown to all bibliographers, and has survived probably in this only copy. There are 49 chapters in the text (called 48 because the matter comprised in caps. 13 and 14 of the reprint runs unbroken under the rubric of cap. 13 in this) and the work ends with the death of Ferdinand's predecessor in 1479.
- The title is absent (if there was one); leaf a 1 is missing, but it was apparently a blank leaf. The signatures run in eights and extend here to ii 6, which is followed by the three manuscript leaves referred to.
- 1582 ——— Historias e Conquestas dels excellentissims e Catholichs Reys de Arago . . . les quals trames al Reuerendissim senyor Dalmau de Mur Archabisbe de Caragoça: . . . affegida la historia del excellentissim e catholich Rey de Hespanya don Ferrando. Any. 1534.
- Small folio, gothic letter, title printed in red and black within woodcut border, numerous woodcuts throughout the text; fine copy in limp vellum
Barcelona, Carles Amoras, Mil.D.xxviij (1534) 20 0 0
- In this edition—itsself a rare book, and the only one known to the bibliographers—the chapter xiii was divided into 13 and 14, and thus the number of chapters increased by one. This was further increased by an additional chapter 50 giving a short account of the reign of Ferdinand from 1479 to 1515.
- There was no copy of either edition of Tomich in the Miro, Seillière, and Salvá-Heredia libraries.

- Catalan words are only found here and there in the headings and the index, but as the book is a judicial commentary upon a Catalan text, it has its fitting place here. It is very rare. The author flourished in the fourteenth century.

| When Barros wrote this Romance he was little over twenty years of age. The first edition was printed at Coimbra in 1520. In the eighty-second chapter, Fanimor is made to deliver a set of prophecies in verse in which he foretells the triumphs of the Portuguese arms in the eastern oceans, giving a great number of geographical names now familiar enough, but which in 1520 would have been utterly strange to most people. | | | |

2 vols. in 1, sm. folio, woodcut on the first title, and folding table; calf gilt, from the Salvá library Lisboa, Antonio Alvarez, 1643-1641 | 3 | 3 | 0 |
| FIRST EDITION. It was produced in four parts (although, in accordance with the 1643 title-pages, only two are mentioned above): Autos do Levantamento, 1641; Chronica de Joam I, 1642; Cronica de Dom Dvarte, 1643; Cronica de Affonso V (1643); all with separate pagination. In Joam I, there are 4 preliminary leaves, and pp. 1-406; in Don Duarte, pp. 1-61 and a leaf of table; Affonso V, pp. 1-250, with two postliminary leaves and a folding table; in the Autos, 26 leaves unnumbered.—These works are by Duarte Nunes do Leão, and serve as a continuation of his Chronicas dos Reis which relate to an earlier period. | | | |
| 1677 CHRONICA DEL REY D. IOAM . I . . . primeira parte . . composta por Fernam Lopez . . ; . . Segvnda parte . . composta por Fernam Lopez; . . Terceira parte . . composta por Gomez Eannes d' Azvrara;—3 vols in 1, sm. folio, a little water-stained; limp vellum , RARE Lisboa, Antonio Alvarez, 1644 | 1 | 16 | 0 |
| These three parts are the original official chronicles out of which was compiled the Chronicle in the preceding compilation made for Rodrigo da Cunha. Fernam Lopez was the first official historiographer of Portugal and lived between 1380 and 1460. Azurara was his immediate successor.
A speech of the Queen Leonore at the beginning of the book is worth quoting: "By Saint Mary! what a goodly custom have the English, who, in time of peace, carry no arms nor care to go armed, but wear good white raiment on their hands, like maidens; and when they are at war, then they put their arms on, and use them all the world knows how!" | | | |

Small folio, First Edition; fine copy, ruled throughout, in a French sixteenth century binding, gilt edges, with centre and corner pieces impressed in gold Lixboa, 1557 | 45 | 0 | 0 |
| | This first edition is so rare that only some three or four copies are known, and this one is probably the finest of them all, with its blank leaf at the beginning and blank leaf at the end. Mr. Walter de Grey Birch, at the time when he translated the commentaries for the Hakluyt Society, confessed that he had "never been sufficiently fortunate to see the first folio edition of 1557." The British Museum has, however, acquired a copy since then. | | | |

Small folio, calif, £5; or, in red morocco extra, gilt edges, from the Salvá library Lisboa, 1576 | 7 | 10 | 0 |
| | This is the edition, usually considered the better of the two, which was used in translating the book for the Hakluyt Society. It is also so rare that the number of existent copies may be counted on the fingers. | | | |
| | There is a considerable difference in arrangement and in language between the two editions. As a small example, in the dedication to Prince Sebastian in the issue of 1557 the writer gives the name (Pero Gomez) of the soldier who apostrophized over the grave of Alboquerque, while in the dedication to King Sebastian in the issue of 1576, the old warrior is merely hum soldado . | | | |

First Edition of the first history of the New World. It is a book of equal rarity and importance, and is to be found in very few libraries. I have never had it but once before, about seventeen years ago.

As a production of the Spanish press, as a history of Spanish doings, and as containing the five-years privilege of Doña Juana, in the Castilian language, on the reverse of the second leaf, the First Decade of Peter Martyr has its fitting place here. The letterings on the map are in Spanish.

This map is a most interesting and valuable early specimen of cartography. It gives Bermuda in the right upper angle with a glimpse of Gibraltar to the east. The West Indian Islands are given with nearly approximate correctness in their shape and relative position: Cuba, Jamaica, Hispanola, and San Juan (i.e. Puerto Rico) with the Lucaios (to the number of nineteen islets lying north of eastern Cuba and the western half of Hispaniola). North of Cuba, at a distance apparently intended to represent some three hundred miles, there is a coast which seems to be a combination of the southern shore of Florida with that of the island of Bahama, and is marked Isla de Beimeni parte. The coast of South American runs correctly from Cape Gracias de Dios to the Cape of Santa Cruz (a little east of Cape San Roque) in Brazil. To the west of Gracias de Dios it trends erroneously towards the N.W., but the outline is fairly true as far as the Gulf of Honduras.

In the description of the above copy the dedication to Ximenez (with the map), and the first list of Errata are reckoned as folios 21, 22, because their position in the book is such; and Salvá in describing the volume by its signatures took them to be the fifth and sixth leaves of signature c. The fact of the matter is that they were printed as a single sheet of two leaves after the conclusion of the Decas, that is between f 8 and g 1; evidently as an addition to the text. The dedication to Ximenez was written by Peter Martyr; the list of Errata was made by his friend Antonio de Nebrija who edited the work in its passage through the press. His first remark is "The unskilfulness of the typographers, who know scarce any Latin, has caused me to benefit but little by having supplied them with a correct copy of these works of my friend the author." The preparation of the map was probably therefore an afterthought. This would account for its absence in most copies of the book.

COLLECTION BY SIGNATURES; a, b, eight leaves each; c, four leaves; the two leaves of map and errata; d, e, f, eight leaves each; g, six leaves; h, i, eight leaves each; and k in six leaves.

- (COUTO X) Da Asia de Diogo de Couto . . Decada Decima . .
Lisboa . . MDCCLXXXVIII (1788)
 In two small 8vo. (12mo.) volumes. (This Decade was never printed except as part of the small edition in 24 vols. Lisboa, 1788.)
- (DECADA XI) Decada Undecima da Asia . . .
Lisboa . . MDCCLXXXVIII (1788)
 This Decade was supplied by compilation in the small edition of 1788, so as to take the place of Couto's lost MS.
- (COUTO XII) Cinco Livros da Decada Doze . . Tirados a luz pello Capitão Mel. Frz. de Villa Real . .
Em Pariz . Anno M.DC.XLV (1645)
 Only five books of the twelfth Decade were recovered by Manoel Fernandez de Villa-Real, who published them for the first time in 1645, at Paris, where he was then residing as Portuguese Consul and Minister. (He was rewarded seven years later by being put to death at an Auto-da-Fe for supposed Judaical heresy.)
- together, 11 vols. folio and small folio, uniformly bound in olive morocco, gilt edges, and 3 vols. 12mo. bound in red morocco, with royal arms on the sides; from the Salvá library

 The three missing Decades were intentionally omitted by Lord Crawford, as never having been separately printed, and as having only appeared in distinct editions of the work.
 Richard Heber expended upwards of £400 in making up his complete set of the original editions. With the exception of the copy in the Grenville library there is no record to be found of any other copies comprising all the original decades, except the two sets above described. The other copies Brunet mentions, as well as one offered by Thorpe some fifty years ago, wanted the twelfth decade.

"Le catalogue des ouvrages de Beristain est fort nombreux. Il passa toujours pour un ami des lettres, mais d'un servilisme extravagant. Une note manuscrite à son article, dans l'exemplaire de ma collection, dit de lui ces mots: Beristain fué el hombre mas servil que parió madre! Lastima que fuera mi paisano! L'auteur de cette note, Juan Evangelista Guadalajara, ainsi qu'il se fait connaître dans cet exemplaire qui lui appartient avant moi, en a surchargé les marges, aussi bien que les pages blanches, en tête et en queue des trois volumes, d'un grand nombre d'annotations, de rectifications et d'articles supplémentaires que seraient des plus utiles pour une seconde édition du Beristain. Ces annotations, faites par un homme parfaitement au courant des hommes et des choses de son pays, en font un exemplaire non seulement précieux, mais unique. Il s'y trouve en outre quatorze portraits gravés ou lithographiés tirés de différentes publications."—Brasseur de Bourbourg.

An important volume. This MS. of Bernaldez belonged to the man who was Archbishop of Seville in 1682, and was transcribed by or for him from the copy of Rodrigo Caro's MS. which had formed part of the library of Don Juan Suarez de Mendoza.—It fell afterwards into the possession of Baron Taylor, and in 1848 passed into the Delmonte Library which has recently been dispersed.

An invaluable work, written by an eye-witness of the events which he describes with vivid and picturesque simplicity. Bernaldez gave the hospitality of his house to Columbus in June, 1496, when the great navigator had returned from his second voyage. This is the better of the two editions which have been printed.

Bustamante was the son of a Spaniard, but, more Mexican than the Mexicans themselves, he talked of "our three hundred year's captivity and sufferings," cursing the nation from which he derived his blood and the language that he used with such fiery energy.

OF EXTRAORDINARY RARITY. Even the first volume, printed at Barcelona, in 1639, is a very scarce one; but this second volume is so rare that the extant copies may be reckoned on the fingers of one hand. In fact, there are probably not four copies in Europe (Salvá knew of the existence of a single copy only, and that was in America). The leaves of which the volume is composed are title, 1 leaf, Protestacion del Autor, 1 leaf; Aprobaciones y Licencias, 2 leaves; Razon de la Obra y Vida del Autor, por Bernardo de Torres, 2 leaves; Dedicatoria á la Virgen, 1 leaf, that is, altogether, 7 preliminary leaves. The text follows, the first fourteen leaves foliated 1-14, the sequel paged 15-268. Then a leaf, "Libro Segvndo Advertencia al Letor," signed by Bernardo de Torres. Next follows the text of the Libro Segundo ("las cosas que sucedieron desde el año de 1594 hasta el de 98 . . ") paged 1-42 where it breaks off imperfectly with the words "azer barro, i otros." Then begins "Libro Qvinto . . y Svcesos egenplares . ." paged 1-92, and ending with the words "Fin de la Obra." Two leaves of "Tabla de lo que contienen los capitulos de este Tomo Segundo" finish the volume. Such was the book as Calancha had left it in MS. incomplete, when he died on March 1st, 1654. It was given to the press in its defective state by his friend Bernardo de Torres, who was employed to bring out a more satisfactory Vol. II, a task he accomplished in 1657. Strange to say, in this latter volume, entirely his own work, he makes absolutely no mention of the volume of 1653(-4); and we may conclude that it had been already suppressed by the authorities of the order, either as being defective, or because it contained objectionable matter. Its chief subject is the miracles which had been accomplished by the aid of the Virgin, amongst which the chastity of women is an important part, illustrated by deeds of rape. Calancha quotes and approves of the opinion of Aquinas that "no pierde la virginidad la que por violencia . . fue corrompida, aunque tuviese en el acto delectacion, con tal que no la desease."

Five preliminary leaves; pp. 1-680; pp. 1-50; seven unnumbered leaves of Protestatio and Indice. The first 680 pp. are solely the work of Torres, serving as a satisfactory Vol. II to Calancha's Vol. I of 1639. The succeeding 50 pp. are an Epitome of that Vol. I, made by Torres, and printed with his own work, so that this volume should serve as a complete History. It is extremely curious that no reference whatever is made to the Tomo Segundo (all of Calancha's writing) which Torres himself had already published in 1653(-4).

California—continued.

	£	s.	d.
account or diary, begun at La Paz in 1734 and ended at Santiago in 1737, bd.
California, 1737	50	0	0

The author gives at the beginning an outline of the establishment of the first Missions in Lower California in 1697, and a description of the several nations which inhabited the Peninsula, with a sketch of their habits, customs, and religion. The narrative of his personal experiences may be regarded as a necessary Supplement to Venegas, whose account of the Mission of La Paz ends in 1734. The exciting incidents which took place between that year and 1737 are described with a singleness of purpose and a simplicity of manner beyond praise, reminding the reader of Defoe.

This is a text of great importance in Californian history, and ought to be printed and translated. The writer's name, although not appearing in his book, can be identified from Clavigero.

Fetches £55 at the Ramirez sale.

3 vols. small folio, MSS. consisting of over 2000 pp. containing transcripts of missionary reports concerning the settlements in Northern California, of which only some portions have been published; in vellum wrappers, from the Ramirez collection

These transcripts of the scattered original reports were made in one corpus, by or for the historian Manuel de la Vega, and were intended to take their place as documents in the archives of the Franciscan convent at Mexico. They comprise exceedingly valuable matter, and ought to be preserved in some public library in San Francisco. The dates of the pieces extend from 1767 to 1782.

So RARE that only one other copy in Europe, and one in Mexico, have been described by the bibliographers. It is a book of considerable intrinsic value with regard to the natural productions and phenomena of New Spain. The author was an enthusiastic admirer of the sancta yerva, Tobacco, and says that, if its smell were not so horrible, it would supersede all the herbs used medicinally in Europe. He describes the method of rolling it, wrapping it in another leaf as a tube, then lighting one end, and sucking the smoke from the other, as a beneficial practice used by the Indians, which the negroes and many Spaniards, and even women, had adopted.

One of the most important publications ever produced in Spain. The documents include precious original letters and other pieces by Columbus, Vespucci, Las Casas, Bernal Dias, and others.

CARTAS DE JESUITAS:

- 1867 COPIA DE ALGUNAS CARTAS que los padres y hermanos de la compañía de Iesvs, que andan en la India, y otras partes orientales, escriuieron a los de la misma compañía de Portugal. Desde el año de M.D.LVII. hasta el de lxxj. Trasladas de Portugues en Castellano. Impressas en Coimbra Por Ioan de Barrera. 1562. Small 4to. green morocco, gilt edges, from the Salvá library, VERY RARE Coimbra, 1562 10 0 0

Four preliminary leaves, followed by 103 numbered leaves of text. On folio 47 there is an imprint, and folio 48 is entirely blank.

The second collection of Jesuit Letters in Spanish. The first had appeared one year before at Zaragoza (see Alvarez, No. 1815).

This Coimbra volume (of which there seems to have been no issue in the Portuguese language) is extremely rare, so rare, indeed, as to have been unknown to Brunet and his continuator, and Graesse. The preface is by Manuel Alvarez, and states that the number of letters received from the East and West, had become too great for copying by hand to send to all the houses of the Company throughout Europe. It had, therefore, been found advisable to print them. The letters in this volume are 25 in number, and begin with events of the year 1556 (those in the Zaragoza collection having embraced the year 1554 and 1555). There are ten from Goa, four from Japan, three from Africa, one from Malacca, and seven from various places in India, dated from 1557 to 1561. The best known name among the writers is that of Luys Froes.

- 1868 COPIA DE LAS CARTAS que los Padres y hermanos de la Compañía de Iesvs que andan en el Iapon escriuieron. desde el año de M.D.XLVIII. que comêçaron, hasta el passado de LXIII. Trasladas de Portugues en Castellano. En Coimbra. Por Iuan de Barrera, y Iuan Aluarez. M.D.LXV. Colophon: Enpressas e Coimbra. . . año de 1564. Small 4to. red morocco, gilt edges, from the Salvá library, EXTREMELY RARE Coimbra, 1565-64 10 10 0

Four preliminary leaves, followed by pp. 1-478 of text. The preface by Cypriano de Soarez declares that it had been considered useful to combine all the letters received from Japan since 1548, and print them in a volume; and that the Spanish language had been chosen for that purpose, because of its being generally known throughout Europe. He calls Japan "some oriental islands of white people, now newly discovered by the Portuguese." The text begins with a letter from Pablo Japon to Ignatius Loyola, written from Goa in November, 1548.

The number of letters is very considerable (forty odd), and comprises two by Francis Xavier. They are all from, or about Japan, and comprise the four which appeared in the 1562 collection. The value of the book of 1564-65, is great, because of its going back to the beginning, and thus forming the first entire collection of Letters from Japan.

- 1869 CARTAS QUE LOS PADRES y Hermanos de la Compañía de Iesus, que andan en los Reynos de Iapon escriuieron. desde el año de mil y quinientos y quarêta y nueue, hasta el de mil y quinientos y setenta y vno. En Alcalá En casa de Iuan Iñiguez de Lequerica Año 1575. Small 4to. red calf gilt, from the Salvá library Alcalá, 1575 5 0 0

Eight preliminary leaves; text, 315 numbered leaves, imprint, 1 leaf; Tabla, 4 leaves.

This is a new edition of the Coimbra volume of 1565, with a continuation comprising the letters of 1563-1571. A life of Xavier, by Manuel de Acosta, is added at the beginning.

There are nearly 90 letters in this edition.

| This was the first act of homage to the Pope performed in the name of Joao II (King of Portugal and Lord of Guinea) after the first discovery of the Cape of Good Hope by Bartolomeu Dias. The orator expresses the expectation that as in the previous year the Portuguese fleet had girdled the greater part of the circumference of Africa, and had reached almost as far as Cape Prassum (Ptolemy's Cape Prassum, corresponding to that which the Portuguese afterwards reached and named Cabo dos Corrientes), where, as they supposed, the Arabian Gulf begins, they would soon be able to announce the discovery of great nations towards Asia. He thought that the remainder of the way would be only a matter of a few days (paucorum dierum) for the seamen. The allusion is to the distance from the Cape of Good Hope to Guardafui, although neither of them is mentioned by name. | | | |

| | Sevilla, 1551 | 40 | 0 | 0 |
| | EXTREMELY RARE FIRST EDITION. It is a book of grand and sumptuous appearance, printed in very large Gothic type with 32 lines to the page. This work revolutionised the science of Navigation, and was the first to point out the deflection of the needle. The date at which it was written appears in some of the passages of the earlier part of the book as 1545, but a year or two probably elapsed before the author could finish it and get it ready for the press. | | | |
| | The instructions for map-making are not the least interesting part of the text, and would be found useful by many persons who are unable to understand the principle of the wind-roses and rhumb-lines which cover the surface of old hydrographic charts. But even here the acute intelligence of Cortes indicated the defects of the plane system long before Mercator. | | | |

| All editions of this important work are of great rarity. It is one of the most valuable sources of information for the history of the Spanish conquest and settlements in America; as well as of the manners, language, and religions of the aborigines. | | | |
| Davila is the earliest writer who mentions the establishment of Printing in the New World, and the fact that the Scala Coeli of St. Joannes Climacus translated by his namesake Juan de Estrada from the Latin version, was entitled to the distinction of being the first book printed in America (about 1535-6). | | | |

| The French original was by Louis Du Broca, but his work is considerably enlarged by the translator and editor, and the curious illustrations render it almost entirely a Mexican book. | | | |
| 1942 DIAZ (Bernal). Historia verdadera de la Conqvista de la Nveva-España . Escrita por el Capitan Bernal Diaz del Castillo, vno de sus Conquistadores . Sacada a lvz por el P. M. Fr. | One of the most delightful books ever written: a soldier's story rendered marvellously picturesque by the simplicity and sincerity of its telling. | | | |
| There are six preliminary leaves including the title; followed by leaves numbered 1-254; concluding with six unnumbered leaves of Table.—There is a different edition bearing the same date, in which the title is engraved (not letterpress, as here); but the question of priority has never been solved. | | | |

| Privately printed for the use of the Council of the Indies, but not published. It is the best statistical account that exists concerning the Spanish Empire in New Spain, California, and Central America, embracing also short historical summaries, and was considered by the King and Council to be a document of singular value for their own information. It is to be presumed that only so many copies were printed as were needed for official reference. | | | |

I. MEMORIAL DE LOS INDIOS DE TLASCALA AL VIRREY.

A contemporary copy of a petition which the Indians presented to the Viceroy, setting forth in the most touching language the manner in which they had aided Hernan Cortes in the conquest, the non-fulfilment of the promises which they had received, the consequent miseries of their lot and the heavy contributions under which they were groaning, etc., and begging relief from their burden. The date is marked by a passage referring to the epidemic of "los años pasados de 76 y 77," and the fact that the Tlascalcan population had been reduced by that plague from over 200,000 persons to 24,000.

II. COPIA DE CEDULA REAL EN FAVOR DE DOÑA ISABEL MOCTEZUMA, 1590, three leaves, sec. xvii—III. INFORME DEL LIC. BERNABE RUIZ VENEGAS ACERCA DEL DESAGUE DE HUEHUETOCA. Vol. I. Acts of the Municipality of the city of Mexico from March, 1524, to June, 1529, copied by Don J. F. Ramirez, pp. 644. Ramirez has added 169 notes to this volume, illustrating some historical points, and has made an ample Index in his own handwriting in two leaves.

Vol. II. Copied under the care of the Lic. Don MANUEL OROZCO Y BERRA, containing the Acts from June, 1529, to September, 1532, in 649 pp., and two leaves of Index by Ramirez.

Vol. III. Copy also made by OROZCO, containing the Acts from January, 1533, to December, 1535, and extracts for the years 1536-1543, in 637 pp., and two leaves for the Index by Ramirez.

Vol. IV. Containing the Acts from Dec. 1550, to June, 1559, in 489 unnumbered leaves.

Vol. V. Containing the Acts from June, 1559, to Dec. 1561, in 431 unnumbered leaves.

Vol. VI. Containing the Acts from Jan. 1562, to April, 1564, in 317 unnumbered leaves.

This was one of the most important articles of the Ramirez collection, and ought to be secured by a Public Library in America.

At the end of the volume we learn that there is found in the original books a note in the handwriting of the eminent scholar Dn. Carlos Sigüenza y Gongora, in which he states that during the tumult which took place in Mexico on the 8th of June, 1692, when the mob burned both the national and the municipal palace, he saved the original Actas.

The value of these six volumes as historical documents cannot be exaggerated, and anyone who has dedicated himself to the study of the years immediately following the conquest, and who knows the important part which the Municipal Councils of those times took in all public affairs of consequence, will at once recognize their utility, because they form not only the foundation of Colonial history, but to a certain extent the foundation also of the history of a society and a civilization that were disappearing.

The volumes contain also copies of a great number of "CEDULAS REALES," letters from important personages, such as Cortés, Alvarado, and others.

A small part of these Acts has been printed in the Boletín Municipal de Mexico, but merely in extracts, which have been edited in such a careless manner, and issued in such a small number of copies, that these volumes lose in consequence nothing either in value or importance.

The letterpress title which was used for the first and second volumes was taken or reprinted from the edition of part of the text prepared by Ygnacio Rayon. On that of Vol. II, Ramirez altered in writing the name of Rayon to that of Orozco; he did not make a similar change on the title of Vol. I, although that volume is, without doubt, entirely in his own handwriting.

This collection of MSS. fetched £140. at the Ramirez sale.

1953 INQUISITION OF MEXICO. MSS. from 1571 to 1802, folio, hf. bd.

Some parts of this volume are in MSS.; others are printed. The contents are:—

1. MS. dated Mexico, Nov. 3 de 1571. Edicto general del Dr. Pedro Moya de Contreras. ORIGINAL, 2 leaves. It is the first document issued on the establishment of the Holy Office in New Spain. It condemns all the followers of the "lei muerta de Moisen de los Indios . . . la malvada de Mahoma . . . la seta de Martin Lutero," and prepared the New World for the glorious celebration of the first Auto which took place in 1574, with twenty-one Lutheran heretics for the performers. This is the original counterpart of the Edict deposited in the archives, and is signed by Pedro de los Rios, secretary of the Archbishop Pedro Moya de Contreras.
 2. Edicto general de los Inquisidores de Mexico, 25 de Sept. 1745, 6 leaves.
 3. Edicto general, 14 de Enero, 1698.
 4. Edicto general, 4 de Mayo, 1802.
- These three documents are all signed and bear the great seal.
5. Edict of the Inquisidor Genl. Francisco Perez, 1747, 4 printed leaves.
 6. Six different orders, 6 separate leaves, manuscripts, with seals.
 7. Another Edict of the Inquisidor-General, Dr. Francisco Prado, Junio 27, de 1747, 4 printed leaves.
 8. Ten original orders of the Inquisition, MSS. signed and sealed, 1640-1780.
 9. Seven copies of the Compendio de las Indulgencias concedidas a los Ministros de la Inquisicion, each consisting of 4 printed leaves, and all of different dates and editions.

10. Instrucciones del Santo Oficio, 12 leaves; MS., a document of which a copy had to be given every year to the officials of the Holy Office About 1680
11. Reglas y Constituciones de los Inquisidores, the title and two leaves of woodcuts, from the edition of Mexico, 1559, followed by two other printed leaves which bear the autograph signatures of the Inquisitors of 1745, and this written date; the text of the Reglas written as a copy from the old printed book, with the intentional omission of Cap. VIII, with official certificate, dated 1787, of Fr. Manuel de Lejarza the "Notario Revisor y Expurgador."
This, from its peculiar composition, is a very curious document.
12. Two copies of a printed "Instruccion que han de guardar los Comissarios del Santo Oficio," printed in Mexico, 8 ll. (About 1670)
13. REGLAS Y CONSTITUCIONES que han de guardar los Señores Inquisidores . . . del Santo Oficio de la Inquisicion de esta ciudad de Mexico, four preliminary leaves including the two large coloured woodcuts, and 16 numbered leaves of text, VERY RARE Mexico, 1659
14. INSTRUCCIONES del Santo Oficio de la Inquisicion sumariamente, antiguas y nuevas, puestas por abecedario por Gaspar Isidro de Arguello Oficial del Consejo, 2 vols. in 1, 18 unnumbered and 38 numbered leaves Madrid, 1630
15. A general Edict of the Inquisition of Mexico, July 17, 1801, signed and sealed, 2 printed copies, pp. 28.

1955 MISIONES Y VIAGES [una coleccion de documentos historicos originales sobre la California, Sonora, Nuevo Mejico y Tejas, é Yucatan], MSS. of the 17th and 18th centuries, mostly originals and some of them autographs, bound uniformly in 3 vols. folio, half calf, from the Ramirez collection Sec. XVII-XVIII 120 0 0

This splendid and all important collection relating to the principal missions from New Spain was formed by the late Don J. F. Ramirez at the cost of much labour and money, and comprises all he was able to gather on this subject during forty years. It contains over 300 pp. relating to California, about as many on the subject of Sonora, and nearly 1000 on New Mexico and Texas. The contents will speak for themselves.

Vol. I: 1. Diario autografo del Padre Morfi a las Misiones de Texas y Nuevo Mexico en 1777, 290 leaves (published in the 3rd series of the "Documentos para la historia de Mexico")—2. Noticias sobre el Parral, in the handwriting of Father Morfi—3. Informe del Padre Morfi sobre el viage de los P. P. Dominguez y Escalante á California, 7 leaves.

Vol. II: 1. Relacion del P. Garces de su Mision a Sonora, 1762, 7 leaves (copy)—2. Varias Cartas del Pe. Garces sobre lo mismo, 5 leaves—3. Diario de la Ruta y Operaciones que el Capitan Juan Ba. de Ansia practico en solicitud de abrir comunicacion desde Sonora hasta la California, Sept. 17 de 1774, 25 leaves—4. Carta del Pe. Velez sobre el camino del Nuevo Mexico a Monterey, 2 leaves—5. Informe del mismo sobre las Misiones al Padre Morfi, 7 leaves (published in "los Documentos")—6. Diario del mismo, 35 leaves—7. Carta y Memorial al Rey de España sobre las Misiones; Chihuahua, Oct. 26 de 1777 por Bernardo de Miera y Pacheco, 5 leaves—8. Diario de Jose Anto. de Vildosola del Nuevo Mexico a Sonora, 1780, 17 leaves—9. Relacion del Padre Zarate Salmeron de todas las cosas que en el Nuevo Mexico se han visto 1538-1626, 130 leaves (published in "los Documentos")—10. Relacion del Pe. Zarate Niel, 2 leaves (published in the same work).

Vol. III: 1. Relacion de las dos entradas para la conversion de los Gentiles Ytzaex y Cehaches de Yucatan, 1696, 66 leaves—2. Expedicion a California en 1769, 19 leaves—3. Diario historico de los viajes de mar y tierra hechos al Norte de la California de orden del Exmo. Sr. Marques de Croix, y por direccion de D. Joseph de Galvez, executados por la tropa de Don Gaspar de Portola, y los paquebots S. Carlos y S. Antonio [escrito por Miguel de Costanso], printed in Mexico, 1770, pp. 56 and 3 unnumbered leaves—4. Costanso, sobre las nuevas Misiones de Monterey en California, 4 leaves—5. Noticias de la expedition Militar a Sonora y Sinaloa, printed in Mexico, 1771, 12 pp. fol.—6. Misiones de Sonora, 1772, 9 ll.—7. Informe del Padre Pinella sobre las Misiones del Norte, 3 leaves—8. Carta del Pe. Escalante sobre las Misiones de Sonora, 1775, 5 ll.—9. Informe del Fr. Beleña sobre Sonora y Cinaloa y los tributos que se pagan, 21 leaves—10. Noticias sobre las Misiones de California, 1771, 2 leaves—11. Informe sobre Sonora y sus Misiones, 78 ll.—12. Licencias del Virey al Jesuita Goehler para que vuelva a Europa, 2 leaves.

Costanso's account of the S. Carlos and S. Antonio expedition along the coasts of Northern California is excessively rare. Junipero Serrá was with the expedition. This printed piece and the annexed MS. sobre las nuevas Misiones, form the first account of the Spanish settlements in Upper California.

- 1956 DOCUMENTOS para la Historia Eclesiastica y civil de la NUEVA VISCAYA, 3 vols. folio, neatly written MS. containing altogether over 2000 pp., calf, gilt back (Mexico, 1846-50) 3 3 0

This valuable collection consists of copies, from unpublished documents by Manuel de la Vega and others in the last century, made for the late Jose de Ramirez. A portion of the contents has since been printed in the Documentos para la Historia de Mexico.

This collection fetched £7. 15s at the Ramirez sale.

- 1957 OPUSCULOS VARIOS: MS. in folio, 305 leaves, containing a collection of miscellaneous documents, some originals and some transcripts (a few printed), ranging over different epochs, but relating mostly to the last and present century, hf. calf, from the Ramirez library 14 0 0

Sec. XVIII-XIX
The high official positions which the late Don J. F. Ramirez occupied at different times, as a member of the several Cabinets and also of the Supreme Court of Mexico, afforded him ample means of obtaining the documents which form this interesting collection, in which an immense amount of historical and statistical information is contained. It includes thirty interesting autograph letters from political personages and diplomatic agents in Europe—such as PASCASIO, ECHEVERRIA, ARRANGOIZ, VALDIVIELSO, OSEGUERA, JOSE MARIA LUIS MORA, ZAVALA, COMONFORT, MARIANO RIVERA, and others—which are interesting for the modern history of Mexico. It also comprises a MS. copy of Tapia Zenteno's "NOTICIA DE LA LENGUA HUASTECA" on 41 leaves.

| One of the most valuable modern publications on the Discovery and Colonization of America, and the condition of the Indian peoples at the time of the Conquest of Mexico. The documents had been unpublished and the first two volumes have nearly all been printed by the personal labour of the Editor. Only 12 copies of the former of these handsome books, and 26 of the latter, were printed on Large Paper. | | | |

| The author of the three important treatises which constitute this work was born in Mexico in 1538, son of a Spanish father and a Mexican mother. The publication, commenced by Ramirez, was interrupted after the appearance of Vol. I, by the fall of Maximilian, and was only resumed and completed several years later. | | | |
| From the nature of the composition, and the writer's exceptional possession of sources of information, closed to others,—Fray Diego Duran's history must take a foremost place among books of its kind. It is an indispensable companion to Sahagun, Torquemada, and Ixtlilxochitl. | | | |

| | There is nothing in any of the early books on America to compare with Enciso's narrative of his colloquy with some chiefs in Tierra Firme, from whom he claimed the possession of their lands as having been bestowed by the Pope upon the King of Spain. They were not satisfied with the argument, saying that the Pope must have been drunk when he gave away what did not belong to him, and the King must have been an idiot to accept such a gift. So they fought Enciso and killed a couple of men, but the Spaniards triumphed. | | | |

| The first work upon the New World, in which the subject was treated by the pen of an able writer. Although published by order of the Emperor, it quickly became so scarce that we must suppose there was an intentional suppression on the part of the authorities, as soon as it was found that the book afforded too much information to the rivals of Spain. | | | |

| Although there are occasional imperfections caused by the tearing of leaves and the occurrence of wormholes, this is an unbroken set of all the volumes published from the beginning in 1784 down to the middle of 1817. In 1810 the title was changed to Gazeta del Gobierno de Mexico . From 1784 to 1793, there were 5 vols. produced, at the rate of a volume for every two years. 1794 and 1795 had a volume for each year. In 1796-1805, five volumes came out, at the old rate of production. 1806, 1807, 1811, had one volume for each year. During 1808, 1809, 1810, 1812-17 there were two volumes printed for each year. | | | |
| Such a set as this is of extreme rarity and of great value. | | | |

| EXTREMELY RARE. It is a very curious work, containing an account of the first Church Establishments in Spanish America, and other important matters relating to its early history, as the introduction of arts and letters, printing, etc. The accounts of the various races of Indians, their creeds and manners, etc., are also highly valuable. At p. 23 of the first volume, Davila notices the introduction of printing into Mexico in 1532, mentions the first printer, Juan Pablos, and states that the first book printed was the well-known Scala Paradisi of Joannes Climacus. | | | |

| An important book, written as the report of a Commission between 1735 and 1740 for the information of the Home government concerning the abuses of Spanish rule in Peru. It was kept secret as a State paper, and remained fruitless because the authorities at Madrid found the task of reformation too vast for their abilities ; and it was not till the colonies had become separated from the mother-country that a foreigner obtained the chance of seeing and publishing the Memorias Secretas .
Most of the copies were circulated in America, and eagerly read. | | | |

With autograph signatures of Castanheda; and a MS. note by Damião de Goes at the end, explaining that the Queen had stopped the printing of the work beyond the Eighth book.

- 2070 ——— the same, divided into 3 vols. sm. folio, a large and fine copy in old calf gilt, with the Sunderland arms on the sides 1554-52-61 85 0 0

Although two copies are described here and offered for sale, the work is one which is and always will be included in the lists of very rare books. Its intrinsic historical value has been recognized by all students of the Portuguese history in India.

- 2072 LOPEZ DE GOMARA (Francisco) Primera y segunda parte de la historia general de las Indias con todo el descubrimiento y cosas notables que han acaecido dende que se ganaron ata el año de 1551. Con la cōquista de Mexico y de la nueva España . En Caragoça . 1553 . A costa de Miguel Capila . . Colophon: Fue impressa . . en casa de Agustin Millan . . Año de Mil y quinientos y cinquenta y dos en la muy noble y leal Ciudad de Caragoça.

2 vols. in 1, sm. folio, Editio Princeps, with the large woodcut MAP OF THE WORLD occupying the two open pages of a single sheet; a very large and fine copy in a seventeenth-century hf. morocco binding Zaragoza, 1552-53 85 0 0

In the map the design is continued from one side of the world to the other by the north, just as though the sheet were to be placed upon a globe, and fall in equal divisions from the Arctic Pole. Thus the extreme North-west of America joins the extreme North-east of Asia, and the extreme North-west of Europe is attached to the extreme North-east of America. The conception is a remarkably bold one, and better calculated (notwithstanding the natural errors of the Arctic portion) to give a true idea of the world than the right and left double-hemisphere maps of other cartographers.

This is a great historical work, indispensable to the student of Spanish affairs in America after the conquest, notwithstanding the charges made by Bernal Diaz against Gomara of occasional inaccuracy.

The dedication to Charles V begins with these remarkable words: "The greatest event which has happened since the creation of the world (leaving aside the incarnation and death of Him who created it) is the discovery of the Indies."

Gomara prefixes a curious address to intending translators, warning them to be accurate and to measure the full significance of the pregnant Spanish phrases, also to pay special attention to proper names. He further declares that he is writing the book in Latin, so that the translators may take no trouble in that language. His Latin version has never appeared.

THE TWO WOODCUT LEAVES PRECEDING THE TEXT, CONTAINING MAPS, ONE OF THE WESTERN AND THE OTHER OF THE EASTERN HEMISPHERE, SEEM TO HAVE SURVIVED ONLY IN FOUR OR FIVE COPIES, yet the book is imperfect without them; and the author in his address "a los Impresores," by whom he meant future reprinters of his work, begged them to omit nothing which he had taken care to insert in his original edition, maiormente las tablas de la tierra. It was this warning which induced Bellerio in Antwerp to issue a small Traça dela Tierra with his edition of 1554, but this is also a rare map now. The difference between Bellerio's map and Gomara's proves that the Spanish Government had effectually suppressed the latter, and that the Antwerp publisher was obliged to have a new design prepared, which is in some respects decidedly inferior to the original in geographical accuracy.

In the same volume, there is bound up at the end the rare first edition of Cieça's Chronica del Peru, Parte Primera, 1553; but as its two ultimate leaves are torn and defective, the value of the Cieça is not considered in the price of the Gomara.

The "Prologo del Interprete" and the "Introductoria" both show that Maestre Rodrigo was in advance of many of his contemporaries. In the former he mentions the various translations of Marco Polo and alludes to the work of exploration being carried on in the West, South, and East, by Spanish and Portuguese seamen. The Introduction is a piece of over seven columns of print and well worthy of careful reading. His object is to inveigh against the false notions and deductions flowing from the improper use of the word "Indies" as applied to the islands discovered by

- Columbus and others in the Western Ocean, and a good deal of curious information is incidentally thrown in. One stray piece of gossip is not without humorous interest; it was customary to call negroes Juan Blanco, and negresses Margarita. As the book was first printed at Seville in 1503, it is an earlier addition to the Bibliotheca Americana than Mr. Harris has made it. He puts it down, at second hand, under 1529. £ s. d.

 Small folio, gothic letter, with numerous diagrams and a full-page map of the "Nvevo Mvndo"; vellum binding Valladolid, 1545 20 0 0
 EXTREMELY RARE FIRST EDITION. The map represents a flat surface, extending from 65 degrees North to 18 degrees South Latitude, and from the West Coast of Mexico to the Gulf of Guinea in Longitude. This is not only a rare book, but it has the advantage of the first production of this map, which was repeated in Martin Cortes' treatise on the same subject. The work of Cortes is, however, still rarer, and its text is more important than that of Medina.
- 2085 MEMORIAS DE LOS VIREYES que han gobernado el PERU, durante el tiempo del Coloniaje Español, 6 vols. large 4to. map and plates, cloth Lima, 1859 2 10 0
 Very few copies of this great national work have reached Europe. It is a collection of the Relations made by the Viceroys (in obedience to a wise mandate of the crown) in which each outgoing governor informed his successor of the nature and duties of his post, of the distribution of offices and presidencies, of the privileges of the natives, their hereditary customs and character—in short, statistics of everything that could be needed.

| After four preliminary leaves (General Title, two leaves of introduction, and title of Explanations) the Office of the Mass and a liturgical commentary follow on pp. 1-137. The Horæ Minores occupy pp. 1-36 of a new pagination; and the Commune Sanctorum pp. 37-198. The first plate represents the fire-ordeal in which the Mozarabic Liturgy conquered the Roman, and faces page 1 of the Missa part. The third plate represents the combat-ordeal, and faces p. 1 of the Horæ. The second plate is a Crucifixion facing p. 53 of the Missa. All three are signed by the engraver, "Josephus Nava Angelopoli." The title on the fourth preliminary leaf referred to above is "Explanaciones Universæ Apologiæ et Dilucidationes . . elaboratae . . fuerunt ab Illmo. D. D. Francisco Antonio Lorenzana . . Archiepiscopo Mexicano . . operam adjunxit . . Franciscus Fabian et Fuero . ." Both prelates had been previously dignitaries of the Cathedral at Toledo. | | | |

Sine nota [Salamanca, 1498] | 20 | 0 | 0 |
| This extremely rare treatise was issued at the same time as the Pomponius Mela of Salamanca, 1498, in order to serve as an introduction to that and to other ancient cosmographical books—Strabo, Pliny, Mela, Ptolemy, Solinus, and others, as indicated in the verses on the title page. On the second leaf, Nebrija alludes to the newly discovered lands in the west, and says, "Such is the daring spirit of the men of our time, that they will soon bring us a true description of that land, both of the islands, and of the continent, of a great part of the sea-coast whereof the sailors have given us an account; that part chiefly which lies opposite to the newly discovered islands (Hispana, Isabela, and the others adjacent to them)." | | | |

| 2122 [ORTEGA (Padre José)] APOSTOLICOS AFANES de la Compañia de Jesus escritos por un padre de la misma sagrada religion de su provincia de Mexico, sm. 4to. fine copy in vellum Barcelona, 1754 | 7 | 7 | 0 |
| EXCESSIVELY RARE, and of considerable importance to the Californians. Some passages on p. 220 make it appear that the writer was identical with the Jesuit Jose Ortega, who published a Cora Dictionary at Mexico in 1732; but the prologue shows that he incorporated in a continuous narrative the reports of others besides himself. He laboured for thirty years in Lower California, and in the regions between the Colorado and the Gila rivers; and on page 242 we learn that he had the use of the MS. papers of Eusebio Kino, in which "están coordinados sus viajes, empresas, y descubrimientos." The author enlarges upon purely historical events and anthropological facts to a greater degree than most ecclesiastical writers. | | | |

| Small folio, red morocco extra, gilt edges, by Bedford [Puebla, about 1650] | 4 | 4 | 0 |
| This was apparently printed privately in support of the rights of the secular Clergy as against the grasping encroachments of the Frayles and the Padres. Palafox had attempted to make things right in 1640, and the Home government was in agreement with him, but the religious orders always contrived to arrest the hand of authority. | | | |

| This is not merely a religious biography, but a most interesting account of the Travels of this zealous Missionary and his companions in Mexico and California. | | | |
| Serra was born in the Isle of Mallorca, in 1713. After visiting Mexico he went to California in 1771 and founded several Missions there, but finally returned to Mexico, where he died in 1789. Palou succeeded Serra in the Presidency of the Californian Missions. | | | |

PERFECT AND EXCESSIVELY RARE. Probably no more than two or three copies are extant, and one of them, at least, seems to have been imperfect. COLLATION: 8 preliminary leaves, including the title; pp. 1-108; a blank leaf; pp. 109-183 (with many faults of pagination, the last page being really 174). By signatures, the book is collated thus: preliminaries, 8 leaves; A-L in eights. The only correct bibliography of this little volume is given by Mr. Field (Indian Bibliography) with the mistake however of describing it as small 4to. instead of small 8vo. In Brunet's continuation Mr. Field's description is copied and the error emphasized. In the same volume there is, bound up with the Arenas, "Summa . Novi Testamenti distichis . . comprehensa . . Oxonia, 1586."

teen original pieces in MS. and three printed ones; the MSS. occupy-

| AN INTERESTING AND VALUABLE COLLECTION chiefly of official papers in cases of legal process, etc., but including also three Miracle-Plays (Las Almas y las Albacás, El Nacimiento de Ysaac; S. Elena y la Santa Cruz) of the seventeenth century, in Mexican with Spanish translations. One document of remarkable interest is a beautifully written Mexican letter or protest addressed by the notables of Mexico, Tezcuco, etc. to Philip II. The blank space above the text on p. 1 is filled with a long account by one of the monks at whose request it had been prepared for transmission to the King, after passing through the hands of Miguel Navarro, Geronimo Mendieta, and Alonso de Molina. It failed to reach the monarch, and the kindly monk says bitterly "Bien se colige de aqui como estos nuestros hijos son inayudables." A modern Spanish translation is added. There are further the two following printed documents which we have not seen mentioned by any bibliographer. The first is—MOTA. Alabado en Mexicano, que contiene los principales Misterios de nuestra Sante Fe, compuesto por el Br. Dn. Jose de la Mota, Cura . . . de Tepecoacuilco . . . reimpresso en Mexico por Zuniga, 1809. 2 leaves in 8vo. The other is a Proclamation in Mexican and Spanish, signed F. S. Tepca, dated Toluca, Sept. 25, 1847, in which he calls upon the Indians to rise against the North American invader: a single sheet broadside. "Nosotros estamos destinados á ser presa del infernal Yanquee." | | | |

 VERY RARE. The Fischer copy is apparently the only other copy—and that a bad one, wanting the two leaves of Index—which has hitherto turned up in the London market. None of the bibliographers has mentioned the book, except Brunet's continuator, and he, having only seen the Fischer copy, gives an imperfect description.
 Three old Mexican prints are inserted loosely. One is "V. F. de la Milagrosa Imagen de Jesus Nasarreno . . . Antho d Castro sculpebat"; another the Ascension of a Franciscan Saint "Sylveiro ft."; the third a tonsured boy, naked amid the flames (of devotion?) praying before a crucifix "Joseph Amador." They are all three of the seventeenth century and of Mexican execution.

| 2230 SAHAGUN (Bernardino de) Sermones en Mexicano, folio, neatly written, Original Manuscript on paper made by the Indians from the Agave, such as they used before the discovery of their country by the Spaniards, 98 leaves, bd. from the Ramirez collection, in red morocco case Mexico, 1540 | 200 | 0 | 0 |

On the first page it has the following title in the handwriting of Father Sahagun, the lower half of which is torn away:—

"Siguense unos sermones de dominicas y de sanctos en lengua Mexicana: no trazudidos de sermonario alguno sino compuestos nuevamente a la medida de la capacidad de los Indios: breves en materia y en language congruo venusto y llano facil de entender para todos los que le oyeren altos y baxos principales y macegolas, hombres y mugeres. Compusieronse el año de 1540; anse comenzado a corregir y añadir este año de 1563, en este mes de Julio infra octavam Visitationis. . . . fray bnardio. de Sahagun." Some pages are absent at the beginning, and a few pages further on we meet with another note in the handwriting of Father Sahagun:—"Siguense unos sermones breves on la lengua Mexicana: fray bnardio. de Sahagun." It should be remarked here that the imperfections, whatever they may be, are not of recent origin; the book seems to be now precisely as it was when Sahagun began to revise it and wrote the headings I now quote.

On folio 91, the dominical sermons conclude with another note in Mexican in Father Sahagun's handwriting, and signed by him; then follows a blank leaf, and on the following commences a "Sanctoral" on six leaves, the end wanting. This MS. is undoubtedly one of the most curious and interesting volumes in the Mexican language ever offered for sale. In his knowledge of the Aztec language and literature, Sahagun has probably never had an equal. The historical work which he wrote concerning the Mexican empire, and which has been published by Bustamente, brought down upon him the abuse of his fellows, both lay and clerical, for aiding, as they said, to perpetuate the idolatry of the nation.

- 1231 SAHAGUN. Exercicios quotidianos en lengua Mexicana, sm. 4to. MS. plainly written, 86 pp., sd. Mexico, 1574 (—1590) 9 9 0

The MS. begins thus:—"Comienza un exercicio en lengua Mexicana, sacado del sancto Evangelio y distribuido por todos los dias de la semana contiene meditaciones devotas muy provechosas para cualquier xpiano que se quiere llegar a Dios." At the end, there is the inscription: "Este exercicio halle entre los yndios, no se quien se le dio; tenia muchas faltas e incongruidades. Mas con verdad se puede dezir que se hizo de nuevo que no que se emendo. Este año de 1574, fray Bernardino de Sahagun."

The MS. is in perfect preservation, and the handwriting is clear and legible—in fact, too boldly written to be the autograph of Sahagun. This is probably identical with the single MS. of the work which is mentioned by Beristain as being in his time in the College of St. Gregory at Mexico, and which he seems to have considered the original, just as Ramirez believed this to be.

| The Huasteca or Cuexteca language belongs to the Maya class, and is spoken in Tamaulipas and Vera Cruz.
The above preliminary discourse and geographical description were omitted when the book was printed in 1767, to avoid, as the author said, an unnecessary expansion of the volume. | | | |

- 2240 GAONA (Juan) Colloquios de la paz y tranquilidad christiana. Interlocutores: Un Religioso y un Collegial [traduzidos en lengua Othomi] —[Doctrina Christiana y Catechismo en lengua Otomi]—2 vols. in 1, 12mo. finely written MS., 458 pp., in the original stamped binding
Vera Cruz, about 1600 14 0 0

Both these works are in the OTOMI LANGUAGE, written about the end of the sixteenth century, in a small, clear, and beautiful handwriting, with titles and initials in red. The first work is translated from Gaona's Nahuatl text printed at Mexico in 1582; the second is anonymous, but may be a translation from some well-known work. The value and interest of this little volume, from a linguistic point of view, are very great.

- 2241* ——— the same, sm. 4to. with the very rare broadsheet "Epitome de lo que debe saber," hf. calf 1785 3 0 0

The Epitome of this Compendio, printed on a broadsheet for school use, is some times found folded at the end of the volume, but does not belong to it.

- 2242 LOPEZ YEPES (Joaquin) Catecismo y Declaracion de la Doctrina Cristiana en lengua Otomi, con un Vocabulario del mismo idioma, sm. 4to. hf. bd. Mexico, 1826 1 2 0

- 2243 NEVE Y MOLINA (LUIS DE) REGLAS DE ORTHOGRAPHIA, DICCIONARIO, Y ARTE DEL IDIOMA OTHOMI, 12mo. with an engraved table of errata, vellum Mexico, 1767 1 4 0

Leclerc describes a frontispiece which is not in this copy, and which possibly does not belong to it. A much more important item is the engraved list of Errata, which is probably missing in nearly every copy.

- 2244 VOCABULARIO OTOMI, folio, MS., over 700 pp., containing a copious Spanish-Otomi Dictionary, hf. bd. [ca. 1800] 10 0 0

Pimentel, who examined this MS., asserted that the language was Mazahua (there being no specification in the book itself of the speech it refers to), and it was so considered until Icazbalceta declared his belief that it was Otomi, and a comparison of the text of the Lord's Prayer, which is given by Bancroft in both those tongues, makes it almost indisputable that the vocabulary here is Otomi, not Mazahua. Its interest and value are in any case very great. The state and condition of the MS. leave nothing to desire. We have been unable to discover anything respecting the author.

Speaking of etymological affinities Prescott (Conquest of Mexico) says, "a remarkable exception is found in the OTOMI or OTOMIE language, which covers a wider territory than any other but the Mexican, in New Spain; and which, both in its monosyllabic composition, so different from those around it, and in its vocabulary, shows a very singular affinity to the Chinese. . . . It stands alone among the idioms of the New World, as the Basque—the solitary wreck, perhaps, of a primitive age—exists among those of the Old."

There is a hint in Ludewig of the existence of an edition of Torres Rubio, printed at Seville in 1603: he had no doubt heard of the preceding anonymous book and supposed it to be a Torres Rubio. This work has been in fact known only through the edition of Lima, 1614, which is always described under the name of the printer, Francisco del Canto, and supposed to be his own production. From a comparison with the larger book, which bears Holguin's name, and from some words in the latter which make reference to a previous essay,—we are enabled to conclude that the present Grammatica y Vocabulario, 1603, is simply the unrecognized first edition of the large work printed and published by Del Canto in 1607-8, with Holguin's authorship revealed on the title-pages. [There is of course a possibility that the work of 1603 may be a modified edition of the Arte y Vocabulario of Domingo de San Tomas, published in 1560, but there are several reasons against it.] | | | |

The preface "al Lector" is signed by Francisco del Canto, and contains the words, "He hecho est Vocabulario", which have hitherto been taken as sufficient warrant for assigning the authorship of the work to him. Although he had already in 1607-8 printed Holguin's quarto Dictionary and Grammar, he reprinted this original anonymous work of Holguin in 1614 as a cheaper and handier work for common use, but, notwithstanding the words "he hecho," he can hardly have been ignorant of its true authorship. | | | |

One of the most magnificent books on the Art-Monuments of Spain, and probably superior to any other in the accuracy and learning of its author. The series of illustrations was selected from works of art which were excellent by reason of their historical character or the beauty of their execution. Only 275 copies were printed, of which about 150 were absorbed by subscribers among the aristocracy of Spain. The book may therefore be regarded as virtually unpublished, and as likely before long to become a costly rarity.
"His great work, the 'Iconografia Española,' published in 1853 and 1864, contains seventy-four 'portraits, statues, and mausoleums,' dating 'from the eleventh to the seventeenth centuries.' Not only the original drawings, but the text in Spanish and French, were his own work. Amongst the gems of this collection may be named the bas-reliefs of Charles V and his Empress, attributed by Cean Bermudez to Pompeo Leoni, and now in the Museum at Madrid; portraits of Philip II when young, and in his old age; the unhappy Don Carlos, Don Juan de Austria, Philip's wives, and the famous 'one-eyed' Princess of Eboli. That of Hernan Cortés is exquisitely finished."— Athenæum , April 10th, 1890.

| Of the old masters, there are 29 specimens of Velasquez, 5 of Jose Ribera, 4 of Murillo; Coello, Tristan, Mazo, March, Pereda, and Zurbaran, are represented in single pieces; there are 26 by Goya. Amongst the modern, there are Martinez Espinosa, with 16 examples, Francisco Torras with 21, and Galvan, Fortuny, Rosales, and others. From the unfinished condition of the third volume, and the absence of a list of the plates which that volume should contain, it seems likely that the work was suspended. Such as it is, the collection is a splendid achievement of Spanish Art. In the copy above described, beyond the number of 36 plates (1-32, and 4 unnumbered) in Vol. III, three engraver's-proofs of three of the etchings are added, raising the number to 39. | | | |

| 2313 MADRID GALLERY, Engraved. CUADROS EN EL REAL PALACIO Y EN EL MUSEO DE MADRID: a collection of 54 magnificent Copper-engravings after pictures by Velazquez, Murillo, Ribera; Titian, Giulio Romano, Guido, Vandyck and others, by artists of the highest standing, Selma, Muntaner, Henriquez, Vasquez, Carmona, Ribera, etc. bound in 1 vol. elephant folio, hf. red morocco Madrid, etc. 1787-1858 | 36 | 0 | 0 |
| This superb series of plates was never completed upon any settled plan so as to form a regular Gallery, but it was to all intents and purposes the first Madrid Gallery. Some of the plates were engraved in Rome and Paris, probably as far back as 1770, but all the coppers were done for the King of Spain and kept in the Calcografia de la Ymprenta Real, in which institution they were printed and issued as separate prints. Most of the engravers' work was done in Madrid between 1792 and 1799, but it still went on occasionally till 1858. The greater ease and rapidity with which Madrazo had lithographed the Royal collection put an end to the fine but tedious process of copper-engraving. | | | |

| So excessively rare that it was unknown, even by hearsay, to Salvá, who, when citing at second hand the edition of 1550, said that that was probably the first edition of the work. COLLATION: A 2 leaves; B-I in eight leaves each. The missing leaves are G 1, G 5, G 7, and there is a slight defect in D 5. | An exquisite volume, inside and outside. Besides being one of the most beautiful books ever produced in the department of ornamental art applied to calligraphy, it is also perhaps the very rarest when perfect. The following is a collation of this edition.—Title, with engraved intitulation (it is letterpress in the first edition) and engraved borders; dedication, 3 leaves, the author's portrait occupying the reverse of the third leaf; text, 8 leaves of letterpress framed within woodcut borders; Siguense las Tablas, letterpress intitulation within fine woodcut designs (not in first edition); 16 pp. of engraved examples; the seventeenth page "Practica del Alphabeto cancelleresco" intitulation within border; 11 pp. of specimens; "Trata de letras antiguas," 2 pp. of text within borders; 14 pp. of specimens; 2 pp. letterpress "Trata de letra Aragonesa" within borders; 12 pp. of specimens; 1 page of text "Trata . . . de las Cifras"; 3 pp. of Ciphers; 2 pp. of letterpress "Trata de la Letra Gotica"; 9 pp. of specimens; "Trata de . . . cosas necessarias a un escritor," 3 pp. of letterpress; 19 pp. of specimens; 4 pp. letterpress "de la Letra gruesa"; 10 pp. of specimens; 18 pp. of letterpress, within woodcut borders; 1 leaf with colophon and printer's mark.—The engraved borders to the letterpress are all added in this edition; as well, also, as several of the engraved pages, which bear date 1550. The letterpress also is augmented in this edition, but on the other hand a few of the recipes for varnish, etc. are omitted. The inscription round the author's portrait shows that he was born in 1523. | | | |
| 2329 YCIAR, Libro subtilissimo por el qual se enseña a escreuir, y contar pfectamçte, etc. sm. 4to. half morocco, from the Miro library
Caragoça, Miguel de Suelves, 1564 | 9 | 0 | 0 |
| COLLATION: A 4 leaves, B 10 leaves; C-G eight leaves each; H 4 leaves. In this copy B 1 is missing (which corresponds to C 1 in the 1550 edition) for which a duplicate of D 4 is inserted. At the end there are added, from the 1550 edition, 14 leaves, chiefly of text, concerning the materials to be used in writing.
The calligrapher, Juan de Yciar, of Biscay, was ably seconded and assisted by the engraver, Jean de Vingles, a Frenchman; and their united labour achieved a masterpiece of fine decoration. Vingles' initials and mark occur in several places, and his full name appears in the first woodcut border of the second edition; but his name is not given on the title-page of any but the first edition. | | | |

| 2378 | DOZY, Recherches . . seconde édition, 2 vols. sm. 8vo. sd. 18s; or, in
bright calf extra, gilt edges, by Bedford
Leyde, 1860 | 1 | 10 | 0 |
| | This edition is an augmentation to some degree of the single volume published in 1849, but it omits the greater part of the merciless exposure of Conde and his followers. | | | |
| 2379 | ——— Histoire des Musulmans d'Espagne . . (711-1110), 4 vols. sm. 8vo.
