

Testimonials in favour of Geo. Henry Edington.

Contributors

Edington, George Henry.
University of Glasgow. Library

Publication/Creation

[Glasgow] : [MacLehose], [1894]

Persistent URL

<https://wellcomecollection.org/works/yhta6agd>

Provider

University of Glasgow

License and attribution

This material has been provided by This material has been provided by The University of Glasgow Library. The original may be consulted at The University of Glasgow Library. where the originals may be consulted. This work has been identified as being free of known restrictions under copyright law, including all related and neighbouring rights and is being made available under the Creative Commons, Public Domain Mark.

You can copy, modify, distribute and perform the work, even for commercial purposes, without asking permission.

Wellcome Collection
183 Euston Road
London NW1 2BE UK
T +44 (0)20 7611 8722
E library@wellcomecollection.org
<https://wellcomecollection.org>

TESTIMONIALS
IN FAVOUR OF
GEO. HENRY EDINGTON.

---

James MacLehose & Sons,

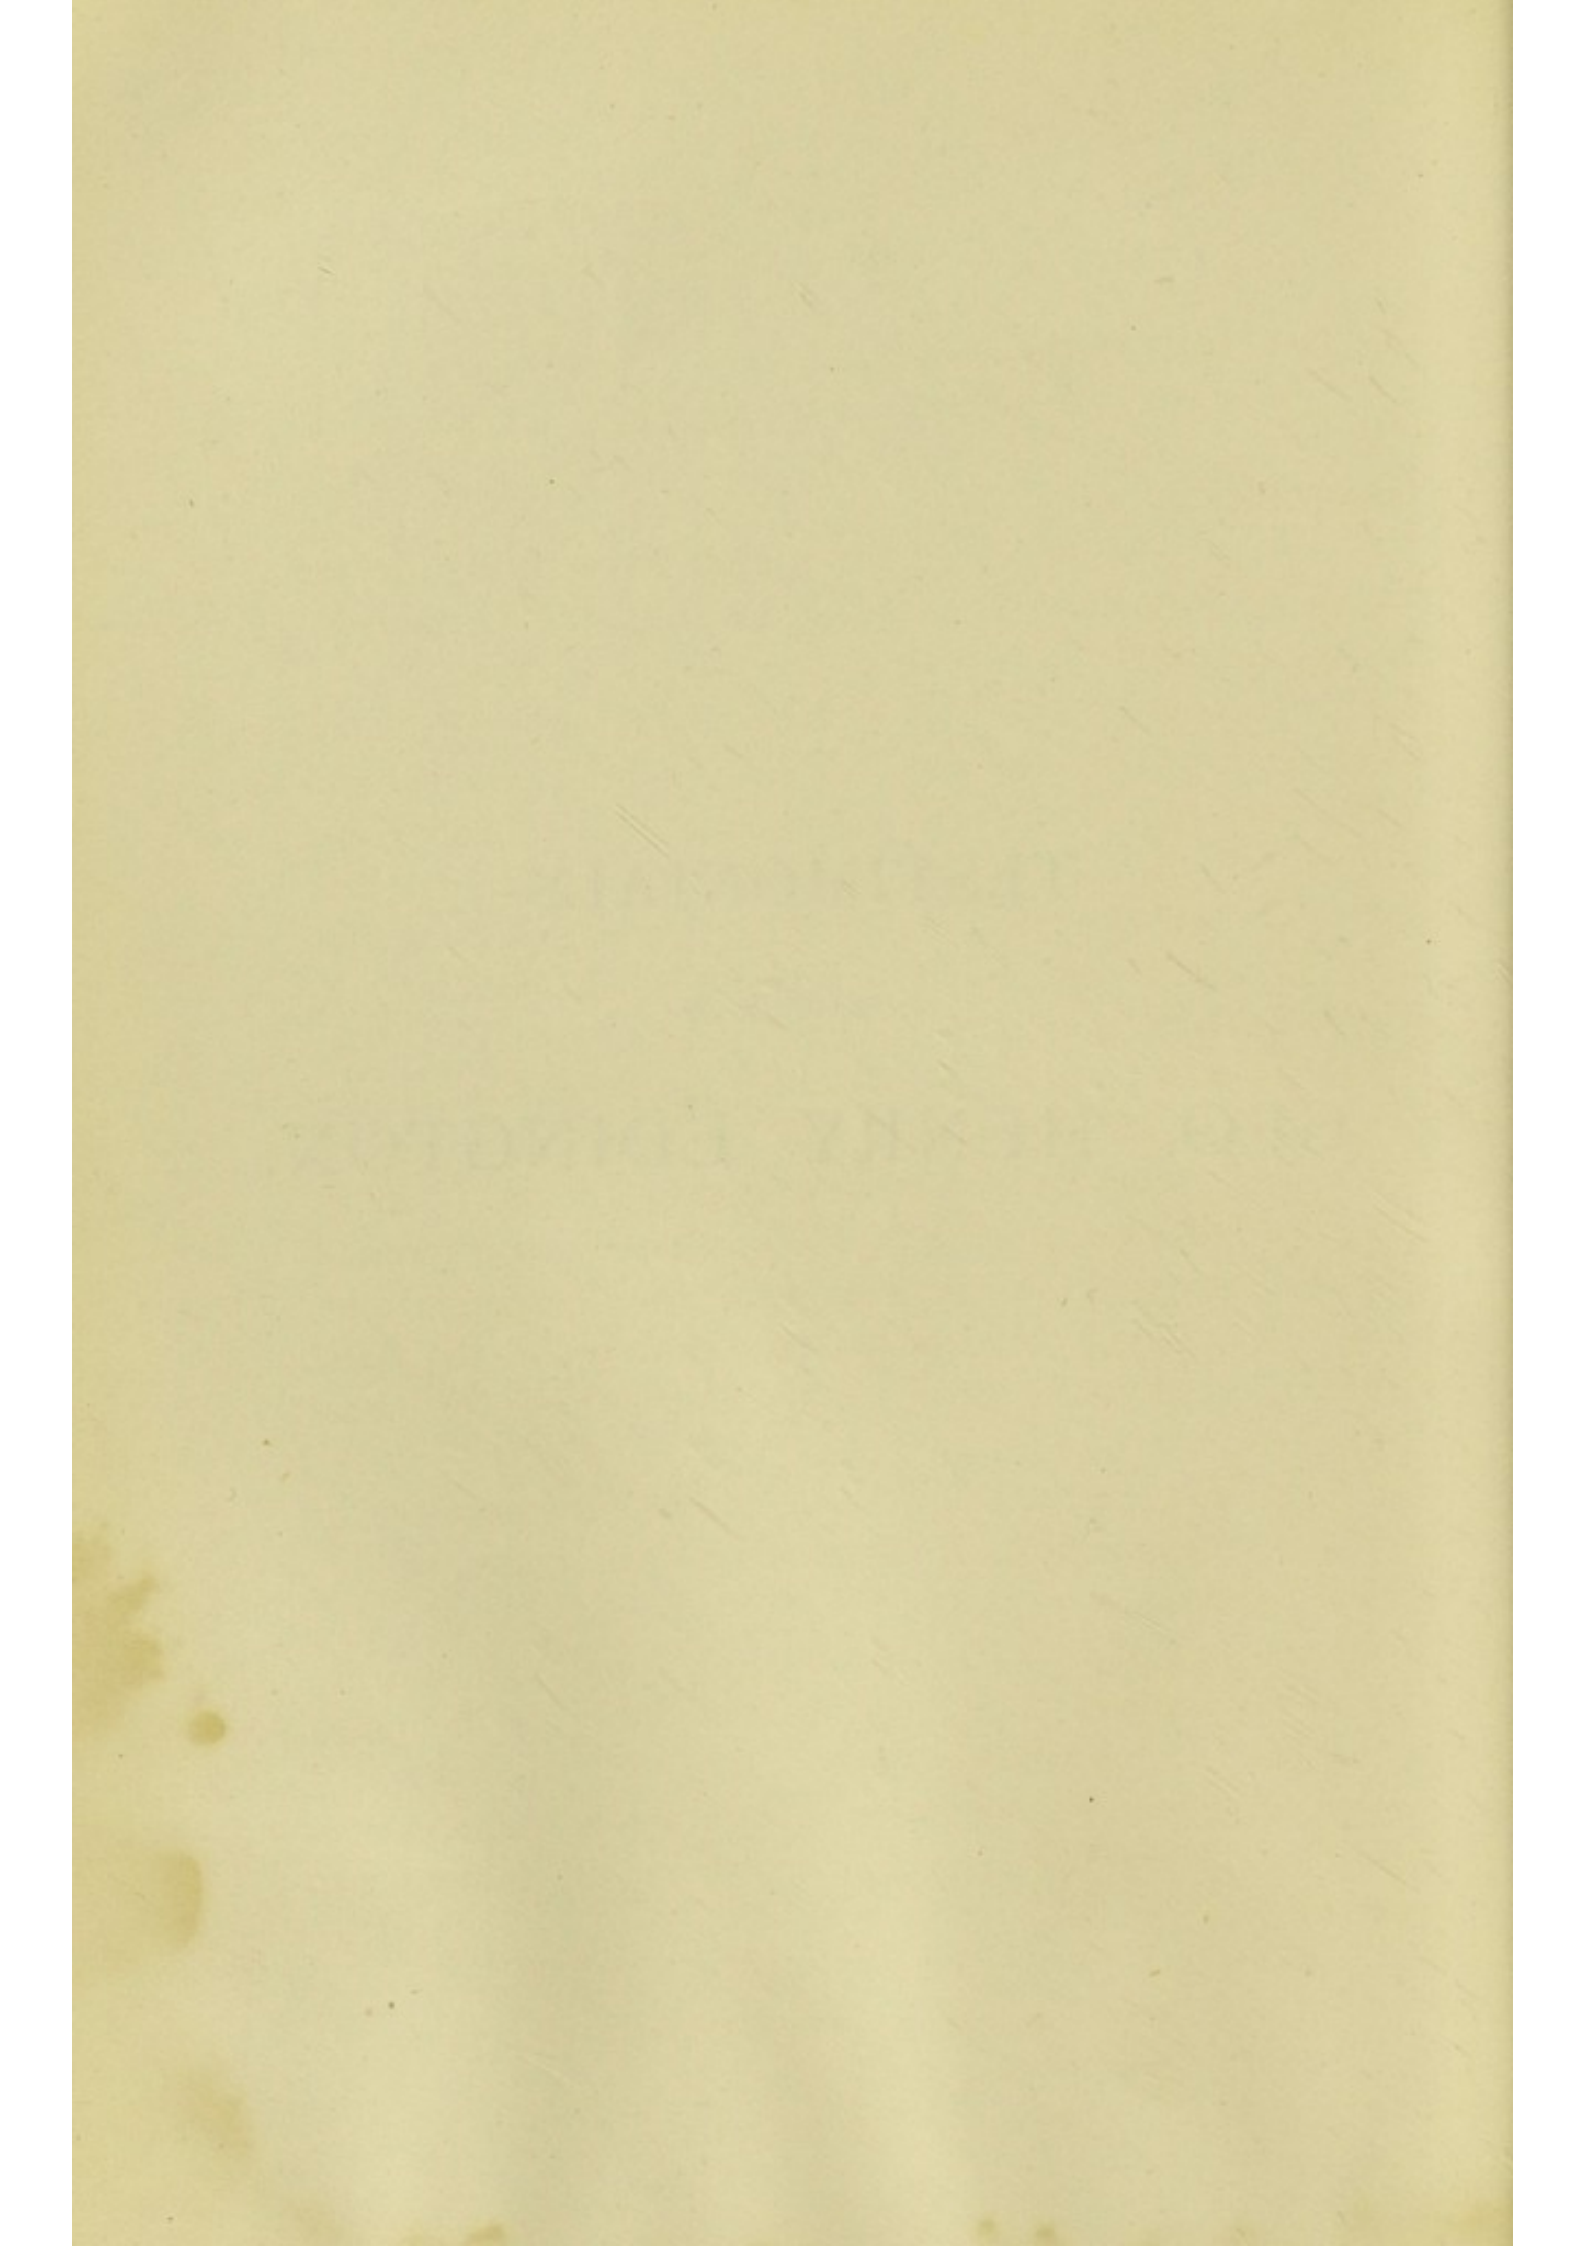

17.10.21.

17.10.21.

TESTIMONIALS

IN FAVOUR OF

GEO. HENRY EDINGTON.

14 BUCKINGHAM TERRACE,
GLASGOW, W., 18th October, 1894.

*TO THE DIRECTORS OF THE
ROYAL HOSPITAL FOR SICK CHILDREN, GLASGOW.*

GENTLEMEN,

I beg to offer myself as a candidate for the post of Extra Honorary Surgeon to the Dispensary of the Hospital.

I graduated at the University of Glasgow in January, 1891, taking the degrees of Bachelor of Medicine and Master in Surgery "with commendation." Though a student of the University, part of my curriculum was passed in the then Royal Infirmary School of Medicine, and subsequent to graduation I studied Bacteriology in King's College, London.

I have had experience in surgical work as House Surgeon in both the Royal and Western Infirmaries of this city, serving for six months each with Dr. Fleming and Dr. Hector Cameron. I was also for six months with Professor M'Call Anderson in the Western Infirmary, and during this time had charge of the late Professor Leishman's ward, in which operative work was done.

I have also resided in the Children's Hospital for eighteen months, first as junior and latterly as senior House Surgeon.

Should you do me the honour of appointing me, it will be my endeavour to perform the duties of the post to the best of my ability.

I append testimonials from my former hospital chiefs and some of my old teachers, and have the honour to remain,

Yours respectfully,

GEO. HENRY EDINGTON.

Glasgow, W. 1897

THE DIRECTOR OF THE
ROYAL HOSPITAL FOR SICK CHILDREN, GLASGOW

GENTLEMEN,

I beg to offer myself as a candidate for the post of Extra-Medical Officer to the Dispensary of the Hospital.

I graduated at the University of Glasgow in January, 1897, taking the degree of Bachelor of Medicine and Master in Surgery "with commendation". Though a student of the University part of my curriculum was passed in the then Royal Infirmary School of Medicine, and subsequently I studied Bacteriology in King's College, London.

I have had experience in medical work as House Surgeon in both the Royal and the Infirmary of this city serving for six months each with Dr Fleming and Dr Hector Cameron. I was also for six months with Professor McCall Anderson in the Western Infirmary, and during this time had charge of the late Professor Leishman's ward in which operative work was done.

I have also served in the Infirmary of Glasgow for three years and in the Infirmary of Edinburgh for two years.

I have been in the service of the Glasgow and Edinburgh Hospitals for a total of ten years and have been in the service of the Glasgow and Edinburgh
Hospitals for a total of ten years.

Yours respectfully,

GEO. W. EDINGTON

CONTENTS.

	PAGE
From HECTOR C. CAMERON, M.D., Surgeon and Lecturer on Clinical Surgery, Glasgow Western Infirmary ; Consulting Surgeon to the Royal Lunatic Asylum, Gartnavel ; Vice-President of the Royal Hospital for Sick Children in Glasgow, etc., - - - - -	7
From WILLIAM JAS. FLEMING, M.D., Surgeon to Glasgow Royal Infirmary ; Lecturer on Surgery, Queen Margaret College, Glasgow, etc., - - - - -	8
From HENRY E. CLARK, F.F.P.S. and M.R.C.S., Senior Surgeon, Glasgow Royal Infirmary ; Professor of Surgery, St. Mungo's College ; formerly Professor of Anatomy and Dean of the Medical Faculty, etc., - - - - -	9
From T. M'CALL ANDERSON, M.D., Professor of Clinical Medicine, University of Glasgow ; Physician to Western Infirmary, etc., - - - - -	9
From JOHN G. M'KENDRICK, M.D., Professor of the Institutes of Medicine in the University of Glasgow, - - - - -	10
From M. CHARTERIS, M.D., Professor of Materia Medica and Therapeutics, University of Glasgow, - - - - -	11
From the late WILLIAM LEISHMAN, M.D., Regius Professor of Midwifery in the University of Glasgow ; Physician for Diseases of Women to the Western Infirmary, Glasgow, -	12
From the late Sir GEORGE H. B. MACLEOD, M.D., LL.D., etc., Regius Professor of Surgery in the University of Glasgow ; Surgeon in Ordinary to H.M. the Queen in Scotland ; Surgeon to the Western Infirmary, Glasgow, - - - - -	13

Digitized by the Internet Archive in 2016

<https://archive.org/details/b24932991>

TESTIMONIALS.

From HECTOR C. CAMERON, M.D., Surgeon and Lecturer on Clinical Surgery, Glasgow Western Infirmary; Consulting Surgeon to the Royal Lunatic Asylum, Gartnavel; Vice-President of the Royal Hospital for Sick Children in Glasgow, etc.

200 BATH STREET,
GLASGOW, 13th October, 1894.

GEORGE HENRY EDINGTON, M.B., C.M., has been well known to me for several years.

He came much under my observation while he was a student, and after graduation he acted as my House Surgeon in the Western Infirmary for six months, viz., from May till October, 1892.

Subsequent to this he studied infectious disease clinically at Belvidere Hospital, and, proceeding to London, attended a class of Bacteriology at King's College. During the last eighteen months he has been resident in the Royal Hospital for Sick Children in Glasgow, first as junior and latterly as senior House Surgeon.

Speaking from intimate personal knowledge, it gives me great pleasure to say that I esteem Mr. Edington very highly. He has taken the best possible means of learning his profession, and consequently possesses a sound knowledge of it, while he may always be relied upon to perform all duty incumbent on him to the best of his ability. In private character he is equally to be commended.

In short, Mr. Edington is one who, I expect, will take a good place in his profession, and whose claims will deserve the best consideration when he applies for appointment to a vacancy in the out-door staff of one of our hospitals.

HECTOR C. CAMERON.

---

From WM. JAS. FLEMING, M.D., Surgeon to Glasgow Royal Infirmary; Lecturer on Surgery, Queen Margaret College, Glasgow, etc.

3 WOODSIDE PLACE,
GLASGOW, 13th October, 1894.

I HAVE known MR. GEORGE EDINGTON, M.B., C.M., during the whole course of his student and hospital career, and had the advantage of his assistance as my House Surgeon in the Royal Infirmary during six months.

Since then he has had large surgical experience as Resident in the Western Infirmary and the Royal Hospital for Sick Children.

He has thus had an admirable training for the position of Extra Surgeon to the Dispensary of the Sick Children's Hospital, to which he now aspires. In addition, his personal qualifications leave nothing to be desired. He is an assiduous student of his profession, and is possessed of sound surgical judgment and resource. Should the Directors confer the appointment upon him, I feel sure he will perform the duties to their satisfaction and his own credit.

WM. JAS. FLEMING.

From HENRY E. CLARK, F.F.P.S. and M.R.C.S., Senior Surgeon, Glasgow Royal Infirmary; Professor of Surgery, St. Mungo's College; formerly Professor of Anatomy and Dean of the Medical Faculty, etc.

ST. MUNGO'S COLLEGE,
GLASGOW, 15th October, 1894.

DR. GEORGE H. EDINGTON has been well known to me from his earliest student days, at which time he was a member of my Anatomy class, and took the prize in the junior division of the class. Since that time he has distinguished himself in most of the classes of the curriculum, and has held several important hospital appointments. He is so well known to the Managers of the Royal Hospital for Sick Children that I cannot suppose that any word from me is necessary to recommend him to them.

Dr. Edington has been well trained in scientific observation of disease, and is acquainted with medical and surgical modes of treatment. He is earnest, painstaking, and intelligent; has an enthusiasm for medical work, and especially for the surgical part of it; and has sufficient solidity of character to avoid the extremes of timidity and rashness.

HENRY E. CLARK.

From T. M'CALL ANDERSON, M.D., Professor of Clinical Medicine, University of Glasgow; Physician to Western Infirmary, etc.

2 WOODSIDE TERRACE,
GLASGOW, 17th October, 1894.

IT affords me very great pleasure to state that I have formed the highest opinion of the abilities and promise of MR. GEORGE H. EDINGTON, M.B., C.M.

He distinguished himself very highly as a student in the University of Glasgow, and, in my own class of Clinical Medicine, he carried off the medal in the senior division. In January, 1891, he graduated "with commendation."

The favourable opinion which I formed of him led me to recommend his appointment as Resident Medical Officer in connection with my wards in the Western Infirmary, the duties of which office he discharged in such a manner as to merit my highest approbation.

Since graduation he has likewise been House Surgeon both in the Western and Royal Infirmaries, and has paid particular attention to special departments of medicine, having attended clinics on fevers and on diseases of the eye, ear, skin, and throat.

He has also paid special attention to the subject of diseases of children, and was for eighteen months House Surgeon at the Children's Hospital, Glasgow, where he gained much insight into that class of diseases.

I consider that there is no medical appointment to which he may not reasonably aspire, and I heartily wish him success.

T. M'CALL ANDERSON.

---

From JOHN G. M'KENDRICK, M.D., Professor of the Institutes of Medicine in the University of Glasgow.

UNIVERSITY OF GLASGOW,
26th August, 1892.

DR. GEORGE HENRY EDINGTON has been well known to me during his curriculum as an able and zealous student of this University, taking an excellent place in his classes, and embracing every opportunity of acquiring a sound knowledge of his profession.

He has also had the advantage of holding house appointments in both the Royal and the Western Infirmaries of Glasgow, and thus has gained more experience in the actual treatment of cases than usually falls to the lot of one so young in the profession.

There is every reason to expect that Dr. Edington will acquit himself well in the future, as he has done in the past, and I am therefore able to recommend him to the favourable consideration of members of the profession and of the public.

JOHN G. M'KENDRICK.

---

13th October, 1894.

DR. EDINGTON'S career since graduation, and the exceptional opportunities he has had of acquiring experience and of preparing himself for the higher kinds of professional work, warrant me in strongly emphasizing the foregoing testimonial, and in expressing the hope that he will soon find a post in such a public institution as the Children's Hospital.

JOHN G. M'KENDRICK.

---

From M. CHARTERIS, M.D., Professor of Materia Medica and Therapeutics in the University of Glasgow.

THE UNIVERSITY,
GLASGOW, 16th October, 1894.

MR. GEORGE HENRY EDINGTON, M.B., C.M., was a distinguished student of the University of Glasgow, and obtained his degrees with commendation. He has also had the advantage of acting as House Surgeon at the Royal Infirmary, and as House Surgeon and House Physician at the Western Infirmary.

He has studied Bacteriology at King's College, London, and for the last eighteen months has been resident in the Children's Hospital, Glasgow, first as a junior and latterly as senior House Surgeon. He has thus obtained a sound and thorough practical knowledge of his profession.

In every sense of the word I consider him an accomplished physician and surgeon, and can cordially and confidently recommend him for the appointment he desires as Extra Dispensary Surgeon to the Children's Hospital.

M. CHARTERIS.

---

From the late WILLIAM LEISHMAN, M.D., Regius Professor of Midwifery in the University of Glasgow; Physician for Diseases of Women to the Western Infirmary, Glasgow.

11 WOODSIDE CRESCENT,
GLASGOW, 25th November, 1892.

I HAVE much pleasure in certifying that MR. G. HENRY EDINGTON, M.B., was, when a member of my classes, one of the most distinguished students of his year. He also acted as Resident Assistant in the ward under my care for Diseases of Women for a period of six months, when he discharged his duties with conspicuous ability and in a manner entirely to my satisfaction. Having had the fullest opportunities of forming an opinion, I do not hesitate to say that I have the highest opinion of him as an able and promising member of the profession.

WILLIAM LEISHMAN.

From the late SIR GEORGE H. B. MACLEOD, M.D., LL.D., etc., Regius Professor of Surgery in the University of Glasgow; Surgeon in Ordinary to H.M. the Queen
in Scotland; Surgeon to the Western Infirmary, Glasgow.

UNIVERSITY OF GLASGOW,
April, 1892.

I HAVE much satisfaction in very strongly recommending MR. GEORGE HENRY EDINGTON, M.B., for the post in the Glasgow Fever Hospital he is desirous of obtaining, as I have known him during his undergraduate career as a most careful, attentive, and excellent student. Mr. Edington has always employed his opportunities (which have been unusually good) to learn his business, and I have every reason to believe that he possesses a sound and practical knowledge which has prepared him in every way for such an appointment as he now seeks.

GEO. H. B. MACLEOD.

