Queen Margaret College, Glasgow.

QUEEN MARGARET COLLEGE, which in 1893 ceased to be a separate institution, and became the Women's Department of the University of Glasgow, was the result of a movement for the higher education of women begun in Glasgow by Mrs. Campbell of Tullichewan, about 1868. In that and subsequent years, at her request, short courses of lectures were delivered to ladies by Professors Young, Edward Caird, Nichol, and Grant. In 1877, at a public meeting presided over by Principal Caird, the Glasgow Association for the Higher Education of Women was formed, H.R.H. the Princess Louise, Marchioness of Lorne, being its president, and Mrs. Campbell of Tullichewan its vice-president; and arrangements were made for courses of lectures to women on University subjects. These were given, by permission of the Senate, by University Professors in University class rooms; and the Association also rented an office, a class room, and a reading room in St. Andrew's Halls. In 1883 the Association was incorporated (under the Companies' Act) as a College, which was named "Queen Margaret," after Margaret of Scotland, the wife of Malcolm Canmore, and the earliest patroness in Scotland of literature and art. The College was governed by a council of twenty-one members, two of whom were appointed by the Senate of the University. The classes were organised on University lines, and the subjects for the M.A. course were taught, though degrees were not then open to women.

In 1883, shortly after the incorporation of the College, Mrs. Elder, widow of the eminent shipbuilder and engineer, John Elder, generously offered to the Council as a gift the buildings and grounds now known by the name of Queen Margaret College, on condition that £20,000 should be raised as an endowment fund and provision for carrying on the work of the College. In 1884 the classes were removed thither, and steps were taken for raising the endowment fund stipulated for. In 1888, and again in 1890, additions to and alterations on the buildings were made to provide laboratories for teaching in Science and Medicine; and in 1890 a Medical School was organised, in addition to the classes in Arts and Science which, as time went on, had been gradually developed on the model of the University Classes; so that by 1892 the College was giving such a curriculum as would have met the requirements of University Degrees in Arts and Medicine. The endowment fund collected by Mrs. Campbell (including £3000 given by Messrs. Alexander and William Smart for a lectureship in Philosophy), and the proceeds of a bazaar held in 1892, amounted to nearly £25,500.

In February, 1892, the Universities Commissioners issued an Ordinance (No. 18), empowering the Scottish University Courts to make provision within the Universities for the instruction of women, either by admitting them to the ordinary classes, or by instituting separate classes for their instruction. The Council of Queen Margaret College, having considered the provisions of this Ordinance, came to the conclusion that the purpose for which the College had been instituted would be best served by making over their work to the University of Glasgow. They, accordingly, with the concurrence of Mrs. Elder, the proprietrix of the buildings and grounds hitherto occupied by the College, offered to transfer to the University Court these buildings and grounds, and the endowments (present and prospective), on condition that these should be devoted to the establishment and maintenance of University Classes for women exclusively. The University Court, after consultation with the Senate, having resolved to exercise the power conferred by Ordinance No. 18, and to provide University instruction for women mainly by the institution of separate classes, agreed to accept the offer made by Queen Margaret College, and remitted to a committee to take the necessary steps for completing the transfer. In virtue of this arrangement the teachers in Queen Margaret College were appointed by the University Court, and in Session 1892-93 the students were admitted matriculated students of the University. In 1893, the College having been dissolved, the buildings and grounds, which had cost over £15,000, and the endowment funds, amounting to £25,482 17s. 6d., were handed over to the University Court; but the name "Queen Margaret College" survives as designating the part of the University buildings and grounds which is devoted to the education of women.

The number of women students who matriculated in session 1907-8 was 631.

MATRICULATION AND ENROLMENT IN CLASSES.

Attendance upon the Classes in Medicine qualifies for the Degrees in Medicine of the University of Glasgow.¹

By Ordinance No. 50 of the Commissioners under the Universities Act of 1889, every student is required at the beginning of each Session to matriculate by enrolling her name in the University album before joining any class. The Secretary's office at Queen Margaret College will be open for the purpose of matriculation on and after Friday, 9th October. The Matriculation Fee is One Guinea for the Academical year; for the Summer Session alone, 10s. 6d. Matriculation ends for the Winter Session on Thursday, 22nd October, and for the Summer Session on 29th April.

¹ The Classes held in Queen Margaret College being University Classes, certificates of attendance thereon may be used by those who propose to become Candidates for the Degrees of the other Scottish Universities, and for those of London University, the Universities of Manchester, Liverpool, Leeds, and Sheffield, and the Royal University of Ireland, as well as for the Qualifications of the Scottish Corporations.

Students entering on a course of Medical Study should note that they must have previously passed the Preliminary Examination, and be registered in the books of the General Medical Council as Medical Students (see footnote, p. 35).

Women students are entitled, after matriculation, to the privilege of borrowing books from the University Library, to the use of the Reading Room in Queen Margaret College, and, under certain conditions, to admission to the Hunterian Museum; they are also entitled to vote in the election of the Lord Rector of the University.

Strict order and silence must be observed in the Reading Room; an adjoining room is provided for students who wish to wait between two classes.

Medical students have access, for the usual attendance in the wards and on the Clinical Lectures, to the Royal Infirmary, the Glasgow Maternity Hospital, the Royal Hospital for Sick Children, the Royal Asylum, Gartnavel, and the City of Glasgow Fever Hospitals, Belvidere and Ruchill; they also have facilities for Dispensary work at the Royal Infirmary and Royal Hospital for Sick Children.

The Winter Session of the Medical Classes begins on 12th October and ends on 18th March, and the Summer Session of these Classes begins on 20th April and ends on 29th June.

Class Tickets will be obtained and Fees paid at Queen Margaret College, Kelvinside, Glasgow. All Fees must be paid on enrolment.

The Secretary's office at Queen Margaret College will be open during the Winter Session from 10.30 a.m. till 5.30 p.m., except on Saturdays, when it will not be open after 1 p.m. During the Summer Session the office hours are from 11 a.m. till 5 p.m., except on Saturdays, when the office will be closed.

PRACTICAL BOTANY.

This Class will be held in the summer session, 9-11 a.m. or 1-3 p.m., on Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays. The work will consist principally of the dissection and microscopic examination of the various plants dealt with in the lectures. Special attention is paid to methods of microscopic observation, drawing, etc.

Text-Book—Practical Botany for Beginners, by Bower and Gwynne-Vaughan.

ZOOLOGY AND PRACTICAL ZOOLOGY.

Lectures on Elementary Zoology will be given during the Winter Session, five days weekly, at 9 a.m., before Xmas. In these Lectures an outline will be given of the more important features of the main groups of the Animal Kingdom, particular attention being paid to such groups as are of special importance either from their morphological characters or from their including important parasitic forms.

The Laboratory Class will meet at 3 p.m. daily, before Xmas, for the purpose of studying practically examples of the groups treated in the lectures.

In addition to the above, courses of instruction of more advanced character, consisting of lectures and illustrative practical work, will be given during the latter half of the Winter Session ("General Zoology" and the Zoology of one or more sub-divisions of the Invertebrata), and the Summer Session (Comparative Morphology of the Vertebrata).

Text-Books: Elementary students—Shipley and MacBride's Zoology, Marshall and Hurst's Practical Zoology, Jordan and Kellogg's Evolution or Kellogg's Darwinism.

PHYSICS AND PRACTICAL PHYSICS.

This Class will meet daily during the Summer Session, at 11 a.m., in the Natural Philosophy Department, Gilmorehill. The course includes the fundamental principles of the Dynamics of Solids, Liquids, and Gases, and the rudiments of Sound, Light, Heat, Magnetism, and Electricity. A detailed programme of the subjects of the course, containing the titles of books recommended for use by students and of works which may be consulted, is given to each student at the beginning of the course.

Two Written Examinations are held during the session, and weekly exercises on the work are set.

A Class of Practical Physics meets twice a week, 9 to 11 and 1 to 3.

CHEMISTRY.

WINTER SESSION.

LECTURES ON SYSTEMATIC CHEMISTRY.

This Class will meet daily at 12 noon. In this course about 75 lectures are devoted to Inorganic and about 25 to Organic Chemistry.

In the Inorganic part of the course the scope of the subject will be delineated. Some of the non-metallic elements will be studied, and from the knowledge thus gained the principles of the science will be deduced. The other non-metallic and the commoner metallic elements will then be considered in detail.

In the Organic part of the course some of the more important typical carbon compounds will be discussed.

Tutorial Class—In addition to attendance at the lectures students are required to attend the Tutorial Class, at which additional instruction, by means of oral examination and exercises, is given.

PRACTICAL CHEMISTRY.

A Class specially intended for Medical Students is held after Christmas daily from 2 to 5.

CHEMICAL LABORATORY.

The Laboratory is open daily during the winter session between the hours of 9 a.m. and 1 p.m., and between 2 and 5 p.m. Students may enrol at any stage of advancement, as each one works independently at a separate table.

ANATOMY.

WINTER SESSION.

I. Lectures for Junior Students.

Five days weekly, 11 a.m. to 12.

The structure of the human body will be studied systematically. The Bones, the Joints and their mechanism, and the Muscles will be studied in detail; and a general sketch will be given of the Vascular and Nervous Systems.

II. Lectures for Senior Students in Regional Anatomy.

Five days weekly, 3.15 to 4.15 p.m.

This Course will chiefly take the form of a series of Demonstrations on recent dissections. Special attention will be given to the Anatomy—Macroscopic and Microscopic—of the Thoracic and Abdominal Viscera, and lectures will be given on the Brain, Spinal Cord, and Sense Organs.

The bearings of Anatomy on Surgery and Medicine will be specially emphasised.

Text-Books—Human Anatomy, Professors Cleland and Mackay, or Professor Cunningham's Text-Book of Anatomy. For Practical Work, Professor Cleland's Guide to Dissection; Professor Cunningham's Dissector's Guide; or Ellis' Demonstrations of Anatomy, Addison.

SUMMER SESSION.

During the summer session a Course of Embryology will be given.

Text-Book—Quain's Elements of Anatomy, 11th edition, vol. i.: Embryology, by T. H. Bryce.

Tutorial Classes are given in winter for the 3rd year, and in summer for the 2nd year students.

PRACTICAL ANATOMY.

The Laboratory will be open from 9 a.m. till 5 p.m.—on Saturdays 9 a.m. till 12 noon—under the personal superintendence of the Lecturer.

PHYSIOLOGY.

I. SYSTEMATIC LECTURES.

The Lectures of this Course are delivered daily at 12 noon during the winter session. They are devoted to an exposition of the main principles and facts of the Physiology of Man.

Examinations are held during the session.

II. PRACTICAL PHYSIOLOGY.

During the summer session, Practical Instruction in Histology is given in the Laboratory, by the Professor, Assistants, and the Muirhead Demonstrator, at such hour or hours as may be found convenient. Each section of the class will meet thrice a week from 9 a.m. to 11 a.m. This Course includes instruction in the use of the microscope, and in the microscopical examination of the various tissues and organs with the aid of modern methods of hardening, staining, cutting, and mounting preparations. During the winter session practical work is carried on in the Laboratories by the class in sections of convenient size. Each section meets twice a week for two hours in the afternoon, and studies the experimental methods used in Physiology and their results, and the methods of chemical analysis of the fluid and solid constituents of the body.

III. ADVANCED CLASS OF PRACTICAL PHYSIOLOGY.

This class is intended to meet the requirements of candidates for the Degree of B.Sc. It will meet during the winter session at a suitable hour, on three days weekly, and the course will comprise about fifty-four meetings, each of at least two hours' duration in winter, and about thirty meetings of two hours each in summer. Students will be taught (a) the more advanced methods of Physiological Chemistry, (b) special methods in advanced Histology, and (c) the more advanced methods of experimental investigation. This course is wholly practical, and is designed to supplement the instruction given in the ordinary class of Practical Physiology, and to lead the student into the higher departments of physiological science.

IV. THE LABORATORY.

The Laboratories at the University are open daily, under the superintendence of the Professor, to whom application should be made by those who may wish to pursue original investigation.

Text-Books: Noël Paton, Essentials of Human Physiology; Howell, Text-book of Physiology.

V. GRIEVE LECTURESHIP ON PHYSIOLOGICAL CHEMISTRY.

The Course of lectures for the winter session 1908-1909 will deal with certain Abnormalities of Metabolism, with special reference to the products of excretion.

This course may be regarded as an extension of the Physiological Chemistry taught in the advanced practical class, and will deal with the higher aspects of the subject. The lectures will be illustrated, as far as possible, by means of experiments.

The Laboratory for Physiological Chemistry will be available for special research.

Students who have already attended a full course in pathology may attend these on payment of a fee of £1 1s.; (c) Meetings for practical work in Special Histology and Bacteriology. Of these there will be about thirty. Tutorial Classes are also held during the session.

Post-graduate or Laboratory Courses in Practical Pathology and Bacteriology are held in October. These courses are open also to senior students. Particulars may be obtained from the Professor.

GRADUATION IN MEDICINE AND SURGERY.

The Degrees in Medicine and Surgery conferred by this University are all recognised by the Medical Acts as qualifying for practice throughout the British dominions, and for admission to the Army, Navy, and Public Medical Service.

Every student who began medical studies previous to 1st January, 1892, is entitled to graduate under the system in force before or after that date, according as he shall comply with the regulations in force in the University before¹ or after that date. All others must fulfil the requirements of the new ordinance—(Ordinance No. 14, Glasgow No. 1—Regulations for Degrees in Medicine)—the principal provisions of which are as follows :—

I. Four degrees in Medicine and Surgery are conferred by the University of Glasgow, viz., Bachelor of Medicine (M.B.), Bachelor of Surgery (Ch.B.), Doctor of Medicine (M.D.), and Master of Surgery (Ch.M.). The Degree of Bachelor of Surgery shall not be conferred on any person who does not at the same time obtain the Degree of Bachelor of Medicine, and the Degree of Bachelor of Medicine shall not be conferred on any person who does not at the same time obtain the Degree of Bachelor of Surgery.

II. Subject to regulations to be made from time to time by the University Court, the University may also confer diplomas in Special Branches of Medical and Surgical Practice on graduates of the University in Medicine and Surgery.

III. Before commencing his medical studies, each student shall pass a Preliminary Examination in (1) English, (2) Latin, (3) Elementary Mathematics, and (4) Greek or French or German: Provided always that, in the case of a candidate whose native language is not English, an examination in the native language of the candidate may be substituted for one in either French or German, and an examination in any other classical language for one in Latin or Greek.¹

IV. The extent and standard of the Preliminary Examination shall be determined by the Joint-Board of Examiners constituted under Ordinance No. 13 (Regulations as to Examinations) in accordance with the terms of that ordinance.

Under this section the Joint-Board have directed that for the Medical Preliminary Examination the papers set in Latin, Greek, and Mathematics shall be the same as those set on the lower standard in these subjects in the Arts and Science Preliminary Examination.²

In English, no set books shall be prescribed, nor shall a general knowledge of the life and works of the greater authors be expected of candidates, but one or two questions may be set, giving an opportunity to candidates to show a knowledge of famous literary works. The historical questions shall not be confined to any one period, but shall cover the whole of British History, and shall be set in such a way as to give an opportunity to candidates who have confined their studies to a single period to show their knowledge. A single three hours' paper shall be set, containing an Essay, a Paraphrase, two questions on History, two on Geography, four on Grammar (including correction of sentences, parsing, analysis of sentences, and derivations), two of a literary and general kind. Eight answers shall be required. The Essay, the Paraphrase, one answer on History and one on Geography shall be compulsory.

One paper shall be set in French and one in German. The papers shall be of a lower standard than those set in these subjects in the Arts and Science Preliminary Examination. The time allowed for each of these papers shall be three hours. The paper in each subject shall comprise questions in Grammar, translation into English, a

It shall be in the option of any candidate for the Medical Preliminary to take the papers set on the higher standard for the Arts Preliminary in any of the subjects.

Candidates who, having taken English, Latin, Greek, or a Modern Language, on the higher standard, as prescribed by the Arts Ordinance for the Arts and Science Preliminary, have obtained a satisfactory percentage of marks, shall be held to have passed the Medical Preliminary in these subjects; and on the higher Mathematics paper an intermediate pass in Mathematics is granted: Provided that all the required subjects are passed at no more than two examinations.

It shall be at the Board's discretion at all times in the case of any candidate for the Medical Preliminary who professes all his four subjects at one time, and who has obtained in all a number of marks equivalent to the sum of the marks required for a pass in each, to allow such candidate a pass in the whole examination, provided that in no single subject he has obtained less than half of the marks required for a pass, and that the pass-mark be reached in the English paper.

V. The Preliminary Examination shall be conducted in accordance with the provisions of Ordinance No. 13 (Regulations as to Examinations), and, subject to the provisions of the immediately succeeding section hereof, *a candidate shall be obliged to pass in all the required subjects at one or not more than two examinations; Provided that he may offer himself for re-examination as often as may be necessary to satisfy this condition.*¹

5. All candidates, not Matriculated Students of the University, availing themselves of the permission to attend the Lectures of Extra-Academical Teachers in Glasgow, must, at the commencement of each year of such attendance, enrol their names in a

The University Court shall not recognise as qualifying for examination in any of the subjects specified in Section VII., sub-section 4, the class of any teacher who is at the time a teacher of more than one of the said subjects, except in those cases where Professors in the University are at liberty to teach two subjects: Provided always that a Professor or other teacher in any endowed public College or institution, who by the terms of his appointment is required to teach more than one subject of medical study therein, may be recognised under sub-section 2 of this section, as a teacher of any one of the subjects which he teaches.
8. ¹ Doubt being entertained as to the construction of this Section, the question was submitted to the Universities Commissioners, and evoked from them the following deliverance:—

It is not intended to require of the Professor a complete course of instruction by lectures during each session, or to limit the examinations for degrees to subjects which shall be discussed in the lectures of the Professor at the time that the student attended the course. The word "instruction," as used in this Section, is to be held to include lectures upon such parts of the subject as the Professor may be able to overtake, supplemented by directions as to the use of text-books or other sources of information for the remainder of the subject: and it is also intended that the examinations may be taken over the whole field, even when the Professor has not been able to include it all in his course of lectures.

PROFESSIONAL EXAMINATION FOR THE DEGREES OF BACHELOR OF MEDICINE AND BACHELOR OF SURGERY.²

XI. Each candidate shall be examined both in writing and orally, and also clinically where the nature of the subject admits, in the following divisions, viz.:—First, in Botany, Zoology, Physics, and Chemistry; Second, in Anatomy, Physiology, and Materia Medica and Therapeutics; Third, in Pathology, and Medical Jurisprudence and Public Health; Fourth, in Surgery and Clinical Surgery, Practice of Medicine and Clinical Medicine, and Midwifery.

In subjects which admit of practical instruction, the examination shall be such as to test the practical acquirements of the candidate.

Provided always that if a candidate have obtained in a University of the United Kingdom, or other University specially recognised for the purpose by the University Court, a degree in Science or in Arts, granted in either case after a course of study and an examination in Botany, Zoology, Physics, and Chemistry, he shall be held to have passed his examinations in the said subjects.

Provided also that if a candidate have completed in a University of the United Kingdom a course of study and passed an examination in Botany, Zoology, Physics, or Chemistry qualifying for a degree in Science or in Arts, he shall be held to have passed the examinations in such subject or subjects.

If a candidate have obtained a degree in Science or in Arts in any University other than a University of the United Kingdom, granted in either case after a course of study and an examination in Botany, Zoology, Physics, or Chemistry, it shall be in the power of the University Court to exempt such candidate from the examinations in such subject or subjects:

¹ The proviso in italics is taken from Ordinance No. 54, Section V., issued by the Universities Commission on 18th July, 1894, which came into operation on 11th May, 1895, having been on that date approved by Her Majesty in Council.

XIX. After the candidate has satisfied the Examiners, the Dean of the Faculty of Medicine shall lay the proceedings before the Senatus, by whose authority the candidate shall be admitted, on such day as the Senatus may from time to time appoint, to the Degrees of Bachelor of Medicine and Bachelor of Surgery, on payment of the required fees.¹

XX. Candidates for graduation shall produce evidence of their having conformed to the regulations which were in force at the time they commenced their medical studies: Provided that any student who began his medical studies before 1st January, 1892, shall be entitled to graduate under the system in force before or after that date, according as he shall comply with the regulations in force in the University before² or after that date.

For information as to Endowment by the Carnegie Trust of Post Graduate Study and Research, see the University Calendar, pp. 181 to 191.

The following excerpt from a letter written by Mr. Carnegie to the Earl of Elgin, Chairman of the Trust, will explain the intention of the Founder :

“ LONDON, 7th June, 1901.

“ MY DEAR LORD ELGIN,

“ As your Lordship is aware, my desire throughout has been that no capable student should be debarred from attending the University on account of the payment of fees. I believe that the conditions of application ensure a sufficient standard of merit, and I hope that the honest pride for which my countrymen are distinguished will prevent claims from those who do not require assistance, and that the invidious task of enquiring into the circumstances of each candidate need not be imposed upon the Trustees. But, to further mark my personal belief and hope in this matter, I have made provision in the Trust Deed that the Trustees may receive funds from others to be administered along with the funds placed by me. I consider this a valuable clause, believing, from my own experience with young men, that some students in after life may value the privilege of repaying advances received from the Trustees, although these are free gifts. I hope the Trustees will gladly welcome such repayments, if offered, as this will enable such students as prefer to do so to consider the payments made on their account merely as advances which they resolve to repay if ever in a position to do so, and that this will protect and foster the spirit of manly independence so dear to the Scot.

“ Very truly yours,

“ ANDREW CARNEGIE.”

PRELIMINARY EXAMINATION IN ARTS.¹

To be passed by beneficiaries of the Carnegie Trust entering on study in the Faculty of Medicine (see p. 55).

III. (1) Before entering on the Curriculum (subject to the proviso contained in Section IV., Sub-section 1) each student shall pass a Preliminary Examination in the following subjects:—

1. English.
2. Latin or Greek.
3. Mathematics.
4. One of the following:—Latin or Greek (if not already taken), French, German, Italian (or such other language as the Senatus Academicus may approve), Dynamics.

Under this sub-section the Senate has approved of (1) Japanese, (2) Spanish, (3) any of the Celtic languages. Any candidate who proposes to be examined in Japanese or Spanish or in any other language than the six mentioned in the Ordinance is required to make intimation to the Senate before 1st Feb. or 1st July for the Spring and Autumn Examinations respectively.

(2) The examination must be passed in the matters and on the standards hereinafter defined; but there shall be a higher and a lower standard in Latin and in Greek, and a higher, an intermediate, and a lower standard in Mathematics.

Candidates must pass on the higher standard in at least one of these three subjects, and may pass on the lower standard in either or both of the remaining two; subject always to the conditions relative to attendance contained in Section IV. hereof.

(3) English shall include Grammar and Composition, and the outlines of Geography and British History, and the standard shall not be lower than that presently adopted for the Higher Grade Leaving Certificate of the Scotch Education Department.

In the case of a foreign student, whose native language is other than English, the standard required in English in the Preliminary Examination shall be such as the Joint-Board of Examiners may deem sufficient.

The Joint-Board has issued the following directions showing the character of the papers to be set in English:—

English will include (a) Grammar, (b) Composition, (c) Literature, (d) History, and (e) Geography.

(a) Grammar will include Analysis, Parsing, Derivation, and Correction of Sentences.

(b) Composition will include an Essay and Paraphrasing.

(c) Literature will comprise a knowledge of certain prescribed books of two or three writers. Questions requiring a general knowledge of the life and works of the greater writers will not be set; but one or two questions may be set, giving an opportunity to candidates who have read widely in English Literature to show their knowledge. The prescribed books will be:—For 1908, Shakespeare, Macbeth; Scott, Quentin Durward; Golden Treasury (1st series), Books II. and III.; Macaulay, Essay on Addison. For 1909, Shakespeare, Richard II.; Byron, Childe Harold, III. and IV.; Addison, The Spectator (first fifty Essays).

In 1909 the papers in English will be modified to the following effect: The first paper to consist of—1, Essay; 2, a question in the paraphrasing or the interpretation or the discussion of a passage or some passages in prose or verse; 3, 4, 5, 6, Questions in Grammar and Etymology. In the second paper the only changes will be in the questions in History. There will be no prescribed period, but the paper will contain general questions on the history of Britain from B.C. 55.

- (d) History will include a knowledge of one of the three following periods, questions in each of which will be set in each examination, viz.: The outlines of the History of both England and Scotland (a) from the Roman Occupation to 1603; (b) from 1603 to the Union of the Parliaments in 1707; (c) from the Union of the Parliaments to the Reform Bill of 1832.
- (e) Geography will include a general knowledge of the Geography of the World, and a special knowledge of the Geography of the British Empire.

(4) Latin and Greek shall comprise grammatical questions, translation into English from Latin or Greek authors not previously prescribed, and translation of plain passages or easy sentences from English into Latin or Greek. The higher standard shall not be lower than that presently [before October, 1892] adopted in the examination for a Curriculum of three sessions, or for the Higher Grade Leaving Certificate of the Scotch Education Department, and the lower standard shall not be lower than that presently adopted for the Lower Grade Leaving Certificate of the said Department.

The Latin examination on the higher standard will include Translation, Prose Composition, Grammar, and Sentences.

The Greek examination on the higher standard will include Translation, Sentences (or an easy passage of continuous English Prose, set either as an alternative or as a substitute), and Grammar.

The passages for translation both from Greek and Latin will include Prose and Verse.

The Latin examination on the lower standard will include Translation and Parsing, Prose Composition, Grammar, and Sentences.

The Greek examination on the lower standard will include Translation, Sentences, and Grammar.

In the Latin and the Greek papers both on the higher and lower standards, candidates are required to satisfy the Examiners both in Composition and in Translation.

Candidates who, having taken in Latin or Greek the examination on the higher standard, have failed to pass on that standard, but have obtained a percentage of marks equivalent to a pass on the lower standard, may be held by the Board to have passed the examination on the lower standard. But those to whom it is important to obtain a lower pass in the event of failure for the higher, are advised to take the lower paper.

(5) French, German, and Italian shall comprise grammatical, literary, and easy philological questions, translation into English from French, German, or Italian authors not previously prescribed, and translation from English into French, German, or Italian; and the standard shall not be lower than that presently adopted for the Higher Grade Leaving Certificate of the Scotch Education Department.

In the examinations to be held in 1908:—

Two papers will be set in French and two in German, two hours being allowed for each; the first paper to contain a passage for translation from English into French or German, and a test in free composition on some easy subject; the second paper will contain two unseen translations into English (one in prose, one in verse), three grammatical, one philological, and one literary question. Of these five questions the candidates will be allowed to choose three.

Literature will comprise a general knowledge of the life and works of at least one of four standard writers (for French literature, two at least from the 19th century, and one at least from the 17th century), with special reference to one particular work by each of them. Two of the authors will be changed from year to year.

The authors prescribed for literary questions (in 1908) will be as follows :—

FRENCH.—Molière, Le Bourgeois Gentilhomme; Victor Hugo, Hernani; Jules Sandeau, Mlle de la Seiglière (the play); Daudet, Lettres de mon moulin.

And in 1909 :—

FRENCH.—Sandeau, Mlle. de la Seiglière (the play); Daudet, Lettres de mon moulin; Molière, L'Avare; Mérimée, Colomba.

GERMAN.—Freytag, Die Journalisten; Wildenbruch, Das edle Blut; Buchheim, Deutsche Balladen; Schiller, Maria Stuart.

(6) Mathematics on the lower standard shall comprise—(a) Arithmetic, including Vulgar and Decimal Fractions, Proportion, Percentage, Square Root, Simple Interest; (b) Algebra, including Fractions, Factors, Square Root, Equations of the First Degree, Simultaneous Equations of the First Degree, Easy Quadratic Equations, Problems leading to the above Equations; (c) Geometry: Euclid, Books I., II., and III. (or their equivalents), with easy deductions. Demonstrations other than Euclid's will be accepted if they assume no propositions which in Euclid's order are subsequent to the proposition under consideration.

(7) Mathematics on the intermediate standard shall include the following, in addition to the subjects included in the lower standard, viz.:—(a) Euclid: Book VI., Propositions 1—19, or Geometry equivalent thereto. (b) Algebra: Quadratic Equations, Ratio and Proportion. (c) The Trigonometry of Right-angled Triangles.

No candidate can pass on the intermediate standard who either does not, at the same time, pass on the lower standard, or has not previously passed on the lower standard.

(8) Mathematics on the higher standard shall, in addition to what is included on the lower standard, comprise Euclid, Books IV., VI., and the first twenty-one propositions of Book XI. (or their equivalents), with Deductions, Quadratic Equations, Trigonometry to the Solution of Triangles inclusive, and the use of Logarithmic Tables.

In the examination in Mathematics on the higher and intermediate and on the lower standards each question in Geometry will consist of two parts, of which one will be an easy deduction or illustrative exercise on the proposition set as bookwork.

There will be two papers in Mathematics on the higher and on the intermediate standard. The first paper will consist of questions on Geometry, and on Trigonometry, in the proportion of four-fifths Geometry and one-fifth Trigonometry. The second paper will consist of questions on Algebra (including Arithmetic), and on Trigonometry, in the proportion of four-fifths Algebra and one-fifth Trigonometry, and shall contain two or more questions on Arithmetic, of which one at least shall be taken by all candidates.

Candidates for the higher standard may obtain full marks by doing correctly about two-thirds of the questions set in each subject; but the Examiners will be entitled to reject a candidate who makes in any subject less than a certain minimum of the marks allotted to that subject.

The pass-mark for candidates on the intermediate standard is fixed with reference to the total number of marks assigned to questions which fall under the syllabus of the intermediate standard; but such candidates will receive credit for any question they may answer.

The paper in Mathematics on the lower standard will be devoted to the various subjects comprised in as nearly as possible the following proportions: four-ninths to Geometry, three-ninths to Algebra, and two-ninths to Arithmetic.

Candidates may obtain full marks by doing correctly about two-thirds of the questions set in each subject; but the Examiners will be entitled to reject a candidate who makes in any subject less than a certain minimum of the marks allotted to that subject.

(9) Dynamics shall mean the Elementary Statics and Kinetics of Solids, Liquids, and Gases.

The paper on Dynamics will be directed to test the candidate's knowledge of the fundamental principles of the subjects included in it as defined above. Questions may be set which involve the Trigonometry of right-angled triangles.

Candidates may obtain full marks by doing correctly about two-thirds of the questions set in each section of the paper.

(10) A candidate shall be obliged to pass in all the required subjects at one or not more than two examinations; provided that he may offer himself for re-examination as often as may be necessary to satisfy this condition.¹

IV. (1) Attendance on any class shall not qualify for graduation, unless the whole Preliminary Examination has been previously passed. *Any student who has passed in Latin, Greek, or Mathematics on the higher standard may attend a qualifying class in such subject or subjects without having passed in the other subjects of the examination, provided always that (a) no candidate shall be allowed to present himself for examination in any subject qualifying for graduation until he has passed the whole Preliminary Examination; and (b) no student shall be admitted to a degree in Arts unless he has attended qualifying classes in the University granting the degree, or in another Scottish University, as provided by Section xxv. hereof, for three academic years after he has completed his Preliminary Examination.*²

(2) Attendance on a class in any language included in the Preliminary Examination shall not qualify for graduation, unless the candidate, before entering the class, has passed the Preliminary Examination in that subject, and on the higher standard where a double standard is provided. He may, for that purpose, attend any Preliminary Examination held during the course of his study, taking only the paper set in that subject; provided always that the provisions of the sub-section immediately preceding shall have been satisfied.

(3) Attendance on a class in any language not included in the Preliminary Examination shall not qualify for graduation, unless the candidate has previously passed an examination in that language on a standard as nearly as possible equivalent to the higher standard of the languages included in the Preliminary Examination.

(4) Attendance on a class of Mathematics or Natural Philosophy shall not qualify for graduation unless the candidate, before entering the class, has passed in Mathematics on the higher standard or on the intermediate standard.

V. (1) The Preliminary Examination shall be held at each University twice in each year, under such regulations as the Senatus, with the approval of the University Court, shall from time to time determine, and shall be conducted in writing.²

¹ The words in italics are taken from a supplementary Ordinance No. 44, which was approved by Her Majesty in Council on 28th May, 1894, and came into force on 1st October, 1894. The ordinance provides that the alterations on Sections III. (10) and IV. (1) shall be held to have come into force on 1st October, 1892.
