It is the duty of the Head Attendant to devote his time to promoting the comfort and welfare of the patients under his charge; to engage them in walks and amusements; to take his meals with them; to see to their personal cleanliness and that of their clothing, & generally to superintend his own department.

To see that the under attendants perform their duties properly in keeping the apartments clean & orderly, preparing the meals in proper time, & that they conduct themselves in every way in a becoming manner. And it is also his business to make up the medicines in the Surgery.
