January
1781

right where is her equal and so dear Friends lose no liberty my decency willing to be useful in my in the house and when labours that I can do for all be very welcome to valuable Friends Worthy for this Money two t And they thought I was I not be fit for it & As no time should be lost durable Friend is Dear

When difference <sup>is</sup> risen and then there is difference risen between Samuel Lay and John Richardson I Lay locks the <sup>door</sup> from John Richardson Whereby I am <sup>deprived</sup> of Sustenance and Insulted and <sup>locked</sup> at his Conduct towards me does, I think George Jepson, that Samuel Lay has a right to lock up the beer without thy Orders he to move upon him than thou does thyself will thou George Jepson take notice of & stop his Carriage or else who knows but he will lock the <sup>door</sup> up also

Must John Richardson, George Jepson and Samuel Lay meet face to face I R to know what Samuel Lay has against or will thou George Jepson speak to Samuel Lay that the difference may be ended & that I may partake of Sustenance quietly as I wish to support a dignified and irreproachable Character written by John Richardson to George Jepson the 6 Day of the 8 Month 1816
