Dear Sir

I am greatly obliged to you for your kindness in presenting to this Library a copy of the Catalogue of the R. Coll. of Physicians, and also of the Cairns Coll. edition of the Works of Dr Cairns. Please accept my cordial thanks.

As to our own catalogue, I regret that only a small part of it (Historical) is printed, & that only to 1912, since when there have been many accessions. Such as it is I am glad to.

LONDON:

PRINTED FOR HIS MAJESTY'S STATIONERY OFFICE,
By EYRE AND SPOTTISWOODE, LTD.,
PRINTERS TO THE KING'S MOST EXCELLENT MAJESTY.

1912.

1912 June 1912

This Section, Part I., of the Catalogue comprises all printed books in the Library bearing on Naval History. Part II. will be devoted to Naval and general Sciences, and Part III. to Geography. A later section will be devoted to parliamentary and periodical publications, but a provisional list of some of the more important of those relating to Naval affairs has been appended to this volume.

The compilation of the Catalogue has been undertaken primarily for official purposes, but it is hoped that, concurrently with the re-arrangement of the books and the establishment of a Reading Room, the result will also be to render the collection accessible to Officers of the Royal Navy and Royal Marines.

The Library is open from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. (1 p.m. on Saturday). Subject to the convenience of the Department, Officers of the Royal Navy and Royal Marines desirous of studying Naval History will be admitted on presentation of their visiting cards. Other students of Naval history who desire to make use of the Library should make application to the Secretary of the Admiralty, stating the nature of the research on which they are engaged.

Applications for books are to be made on the prescribed form and should briefly specify author and title and quote the press-mark.

By command of their Lordships,

W. Ashmole

PREFACE.

The principle adopted in arranging this catalogue has been to group first under each subject all works directly connected with the Navy, the remainder being then placed in order according to the degree of their relation to Naval affairs. This method has been modified in the case of Biography.

In each sub-section the books are arranged according to date of publication—or probable date of publication in the case of works without date. Where the date of publication is known, though not given on the title-page, it is placed between brackets. In a few instances where the books are reprints of earlier works they have been placed under the original date as belonging in reality to the earlier period, and the various editions of any work which present no essential differences have been placed together under the date of the earliest edition in the Library.

The more important additions and omissions have been indicated against each issue of the Navy Lists.

Many of the books touch upon more than one of the subjects comprised in this catalogue. Where such books seemed of sufficient importance cross references have been added; in other cases a book will be found under that heading which most closely concerns the Navy, even though this may not be its primary subject.

To avoid confusion in description of size, all books not exceeding seven inches in height have been designated as 12mo, those between seven and ten inches as 8vo, those between ten and twelve inches as 4to, and those above twelve inches as Folio. The index has not been included in the enumeration of the pages.

Victualling.

THE STATE OF THE NAVY consider'd in relation to the Victualling, particularly in the Straits, and the West Indies. With some thoughts on the mismanagements of the Admiralty for several years past; and a proposal to prevent the like for the future. Humbly offer'd to the House of Commons, by an English Sailor.
2nd ed. 16 pp. 8vo. London, 1699. P 323.

REMARKS on the present condition of the Navy, and particularly of the Victualling. In which the notion of Fortifying of Garisons is exploded:
and 'tis clearly prov'd that the only security of England consists in a good Fleet. In a letter from a Sailor to a Member of the House of Commons. 4 + 23 pp. 12mo.

Personnel.

HANWAY (Jonas). Reasons for an augmentation of at least twelve thousand mariners, to be employed in the Merchants-Service, and Coasting-Trade; with some thoughts on the means of providing for a number of our seamen, after the present war is finished; also to support a constant additional Marine-Force, in order to the cheaper and more expeditious decision of our future quarrels; and to render pressing necessary in a less degree. Also to promote the benefit of Ship-Owners and Under-Writers; to extend the Navigation of these Kingdoms, and to take care of the poor who incline to a sea-life. Likewise, to make provision for the boys fitted out by the Marine-Society, when they shall be discharged from the King's Ships. With some remarks on the Magdalen-House. In thirty-three letters to Charles Gray, Esq., of Colchester. 127 pp. 4to.

London, 1759. Da 264.

HANWAY (Jonas). An account of the Marine Society, recommending the piety and policy of the Institution, and pointing out the advantages accruing to the Nation, with the motives for establishing it. Also a full detail of their rules and forms of business; with a list of subscribers . . . Also a proposal for accommodating the boys . . . in the Merchant service, when the war is finished. 243 pp. Illus. 8vo.

London, 1759. Da 166.
