PREFACE.

T. & W. & W. SOUTHALL have pleasure in submitting herewith their enlarged Illustrated Catalogue, issued in connection with their recently reorganised department for the sale of Nursery and Invalid Requisites and Surgical Appliances.

The rooms of the new department are well stocked with Ladies' Specialities and the most modern requisites for the Nursery and Sick Room, and the management is in the hands of a Lady, who has a thorough acquaintance with their use.

Permission has been granted for stating that the Knapkettes for Infants in the New Nursery Department are Patronised in H.R.H. the Duchess of York's Nursery.

T. & W. & W. Southall venture to suggest that though there may be no immediate use for this list, it, having been made as comprehensive as possible, should be preserved for future reference. It will be found that the prices are as low as possible, consistent with the quality.

Ladies wishing to correspond with the department are requested to address—

Improved Invalids' Bed Bath and Portable Bidet.—

This invention is particularly adapted for the use of Ladies after accouchement, and supplies a want so long felt by Nurses. The bath is invaluable in Surgical Operations or Dressings, and it is particularly available in such cases as Hemorrhoids, Prolapsus, &c. ; likewise to apply Fomentations, Ice, or for washing invalids in bed. It is so constructed that water cannot be spilt when in use, and this alone is a very important desideratum and comfort to invalids who cannot be moved from their beds.

BEEF TEA AND GRAVY EXTRACTOR.

(DOLBY'S PATENT.)

Fig. 24.

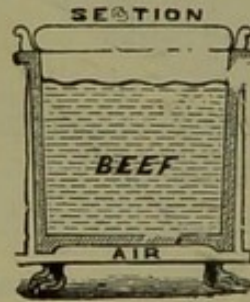

Fig. 25.

The arrangement of this most useful apparatus is such that the heat maintained is exactly the right degree to insure the extraction of nourishment from meat of all kinds, and the result is a true, rich, and highly nourishing preparation, which is much to be preferred to the Beef Tea made from Extract of Meat, now often resorted to for want of a simple apparatus to make rich fresh Beef Tea and Gravies at home. The inner vessel is of Porcelain, and between it and the outer one is an air chamber, which prevents the contents of the Porcelain vessel rising to a higher temperature than 120° Fah. whatever heat is applied to the outer vessel.

ELASTIC HOSIERY.

The Articles made of this beautiful Material possess the following Desirable Properties, viz. :—

- 1.—They maintain a uniform pressure, do not lose their elasticity by change of temperature, or washing in luke-warm water.
- 2.—They in no wise check the free escape of perspiration.
- 3.—They do not require lacing, and being elastic only one way, retain their shape, are more easily drawn on than others similar in appearance, but elastic both ways alike.

DIRECTIONS FOR MEASUREMENT.

For a STOCKING.—Circumference at A B C D E, and length down the side to the ground.

For a KNEECAP.—Circumference to A F G, and length down front.

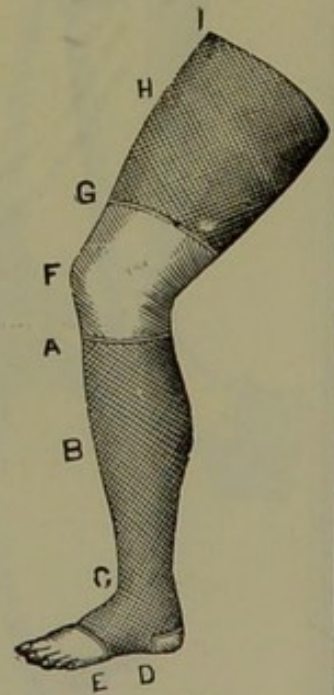

For a SOCK or ANKLET (at the small of the Leg).—Circumference at C D E, and length to the ground.

For a LEGGING.—Circumference at A B C and length.

For a THIGH PIECE.—Circumference at G H I and length.

In measuring the length of articles above the Knee, it is necessary to make a division and give the proper length above and below the centre of the patella.

In all cases allowance will be made for compression, unless ordered to the contrary.

FILTERS.

The "Pasteur" Filter.—Believing that the results to be obtained by the system adopted in this Filter arrive as nearly as possible to perfection, T. & W. & W. SOUTHALL have secured the Agency for the Midland District. The Filters are supplied in a variety of forms, either for table use or for the pressure system, in which the Filter is attached direct to the main. The Filter may be seen in working order at 17, Bull Street, and circulars with prices and all information will be forwarded upon application.

Professor Sir Henry Roscoe, M.P., Ph. D., states: "Ordinary filters are no good at all. The only filter that protects the water-drinker is the Pasteur Filter."

Bichromate Bottle Batteries in various sizes.

Improved Combined Constant Current and Faradaic Apparatus.

Price £20 0 0

This Apparatus is the best and most perfect of its kind ever made, and will be found in practice the most useful it is possible to obtain. It is fitted with our new Registering Pole Reverser, which shows at a glance which terminal is Positive and which is Negative. It has a Circular Cell Selector, also a row of terminals so that intermediate cells may be used (this is a great advantage). There is a Galvanometer for showing the current going through the body, and by means of a plug the Galvanometer can be cut out of the circuit when desired; there is also a Circular Contact Breaker for breaking contact by hand.

The left hand end of the case contains the Faradaic Apparatus, which has a Primary and Secondary Current and a Regulator for increasing the power, there is a Lever for turning on the Primary or Secondary without removing the Reophore Cords from the terminals. The whole Apparatus is contained in a solid Walnut Case, French Polished, with lock and key.

Medical Coils.—These are made in six sizes.

They will work with a Grove's, Bunsen's, Smee's, or Bichromate Battery; the latter is a good and convenient cell to use with them 11/-, 13/-, 17/-, 21/-, 25/- & 31/-

NURSES' BAGS.

Southalls' Handy Basket for District Nurses.

(REGISTERED.)

This consists of a well-made and neat Wicker Basket, about 14 inches long, which can be conveniently carried. It is lined throughout with American Cloth, and fitted with two partitions. In the bottom of the central division, which is intended for the reception of any nourishment required for the patient, is a Japanned Tray, to catch any leakage which might take place from vessels containing beef tea, &c. This tray can be removed for cleansing.

The right hand division contains—

- | | |
|--|-----------------|
| 1 Higginson's Enema, complete with Vagina Pipe and Shield, in a slide cedar box. | Bandages. |
| A Medicine Glass and Minim Measure, in case. | Mustard Leaves. |
| A Bottle of Sal Volatile, in case. | Strapping. |
| | Lint. |
| | Pins. |

The left hand division holds—

- | | |
|--------------------------------------|----------------------|
| Stoppered Bottle of Carbolic Lotion. | Vaseline. |
| Stoppered Bottle of Carbolic Oil. | Gutta Percha Tissue. |
| Zinc Ointment. | Catheter and Tube. |
| | Absorbent Pads, &c. |

Secured by loops in the lid are—

- | | |
|-----------------------|-----------------|
| Scissors. | Spatula. |
| Syringe. | Iodine. |
| Clinical Thermometer. | Styptic. |
| Dressing Forceps. | Menthol. |
| | Smelling Salts. |

The whole forms the most compact and useful Nurse's Basket ever produced, and is confidently offered to the notice of the profession as being a decided advance on the appliances usually provided for District Nurses. All unnecessary weight has been avoided, and a style of basket selected which can easily be carried, and has a nice appearance.

Price complete 30/- each.
