Neal's Yard cosmetics are designed, manufactured and packed by a qualified and trained group of people, many of whom are practitioners in the various fields of natural medicine and health care. Our range is packed in recycleable blue glass, and the labels give information on every ingredient that we use.

We have created these cosmetics with great care and respect as a complement to our natural medicines. What goes onto our skins can be absorbed into the body. We make every effort to ensure that our products remain as natural and effective as possible. Wherever possible we use organically grown herbs. Our products are only naturally fragranced and coloured with pure essential oils and herbal extracts. All our products are cruelty free.
