STIs can be cured

- Early treatment makes STIs (sexually transmitted infections) easier to cure. Finish your treatment.

- You and your partner both need to be treated. Think about going for treatment together.

- High quality treatment is available at government clinics and hospitals at no cost.

- Don't be shy to speak to a doctor or health worker about STIs – they treat them almost every day.

Untreated STIs increase your risk of getting HIV, and also lead to serious illnesses and infertility.
