

Hopkin Hopkins : the wonderful and surprising little Welchman.

Publication/Creation

1757.

Persistent URL

<https://wellcomecollection.org/works/p9qs4yv4>

License and attribution

This work has been identified as being free of known restrictions under copyright law, including all related and neighbouring rights and is being made available under the Creative Commons, Public Domain Mark.

You can copy, modify, distribute and perform the work, even for commercial purposes, without asking permission.

Wellcome Collection
183 Euston Road
London NW1 2BE UK
T +44 (0)20 7611 8722
E library@wellcomecollection.org
<https://wellcomecollection.org>

HOPKIN HOPKINS,

The Wonderful and Surprising Little Welchman,

Who has given general Satisfaction to all the Curious that have seen him, insomuch that they all agree that he is the greatest Prodigy in the known World, hitherto exposed to public View, being far beyond the expectation of all those that come to see him; and that no Idea can be formed without seeing him, yet so very agreeable and proportionable, that all the Spectators are generally highly pleased and delighted with him.

He is to be seen at Mr. John Cafe's, Carpenter, facing Salisbury Court, Fleet Street, being shortly to leave Town.

Servants and Common People may see him for 6d. each.

[March 7, 1757.]