

Just arrived at this place, and to be exhibited in a large and commodious caravan, during the fair : that wonderful American youth, Mr. Leach ... the shortest person in the world!.

Publication/Creation

[between 1816 and 1818?]

Persistent URL

<https://wellcomecollection.org/works/amrdhaxe>

License and attribution

This work has been identified as being free of known restrictions under copyright law, including all related and neighbouring rights and is being made available under the Creative Commons, Public Domain Mark.

You can copy, modify, distribute and perform the work, even for commercial purposes, without asking permission.

Wellcome Collection
183 Euston Road
London NW1 2BE UK
T +44 (0)20 7611 8722
E library@wellcomecollection.org
<https://wellcomecollection.org>

Just arrived at this Place,
And to be exhibited in a large and commodious Caravan, during the Fair,

THAT WONDERFUL
American Youth,

Mr. Leach,

Who has had the honour of performing before the most distinguished Personages in the United Kingdom. He is 18 years old, of a very pleasing Countenance, possessed of great accomplishments, and is, of his Age,

The Shortest Person in the World!

Allowed, by all who have seen him, to be one of the greatest Curiosities now in existence.
HE CHALLENGES THE WHOLE WORLD FOR

1000 GUINEAS,

To produce any other Person equal to him, either in Person or Performances.

The beauty, sensibility, performances and activity of this youth, are not only astonishing, but they give pleasure and delight to every beholder, who retires with wonder and amazement. When he stands upright upon his feet, he can touch the floor with his fingers, and can sit on the floor in a different manner from any other person. He can walk down a pair of stairs on his hands, with his feet upwards, as fast as any other person can on his feet. He will take a pin out of the wall with his mouth, standing on one hand, and his feet upwards, higher by twenty inches than any other Man that can be produced. He will balance himself on his hands on the top of a chair back, and will jump off the chair back, and alight on his hands, walking off on them in a very superior manner. He will throw a pin on the floor, and take it up with one hand, standing on the other, put it into his mouth and walk away with the same. He will lay himself down on the floor by the strength of his arms, and raise himself up, feet foremost, and walk away on his hands. He will also walk in an horizontal position on his hands, under a table, without touching the table or floor with his feet. He will likewise, when standing on a chair, throw it backwards, alight on his hands, and in that posture walk away, and numerous other things which cannot be inserted in this paper. It is indeed, unknown whether he can best walk on his hands or feet, and he has a particular and surprising way of running, totally different from any other person.

This young Man is not exhibited because he is little but on account of his performing these wonderful exploits.

Admittance from One o'Clock till Nine in the Evening,—Ladies and Gentlemen may have an exhibition at their own Houses, at a short Notice.

Boxes, 1s.—Pit 6d.—Standing Places, 3d.

Mr. LEACH has had the honour of performing in the principal towns in the kingdom, and meeting with such liberal encouragement, he means to exhibit to the inhabitants of towns of Wakefield, Leeds, &c. &c. He has been the admiration of numerous crowds of spectators.

[R. Hurst, Printer, Northgate, Wakefield]

between 1816 to 1818

A Balle Paper