Northern Expedition!

JUST ARRIVED

From Baffin's Bay.

TO BE SEEN AT

No. 183, PICCADILLY,

(Opposite Burlington House,)

THE ONLY TWO

ESQUIMAUX

INDIANS,

(MALE AND FEMALE.)

Brought to England; from the FROZEN REGIONS of the NORTH, Where Capt. PARRY is now making Discoveries)

RESSED IN THEIR NATIVE COSTUME,

composed of Seal Skin, very curiously arranged and neatly sewed together with the Sinews of the Rein Deer.

A Canoe of Seal Skin,

and Implements made use of in that Country for Hunting and Fishing.

A COLLECTION of NATURAL & ARTIFICIAL CURIOSITIES,

TOGETHER WITH

A Panoramic View of their Country,

on many hundred Square Feet of Canvas.

Shilling.—PERPETUAL TICKETS, Five Shillings.

Different from all other NORTH AMERICAN INDIANS, demand the particular attention of the great National Interest which has been manifested in fitting out the Discoveries, and from their being a race of beings until lately very little known, only two ever brought into this country, and are universally acknowledged as such.—The following short description may not be uninteresting:
their countenances pleasant, their Hair is a jet black, and nearly as short as the Rein-Deer, Fox, Wolf, Otter, Beaver, Porcupine, Seal, Salmon, Trout &c; they have no places of abode, but rove from place to place; they use the sinews of draught to draw their Sledges from one place to another; in the interior part of the country; in the Summer they come to the Sea Coast to hunt for Salmon-Trout. They will perform a DANCE peculiar to their country which they make use of. Also the Male will throw his Park, in the presence of the company; and the Capt. will be obliged to bring them particulars of their manners, and a description of their country.
