WHITE-BREASTED BARN OWL

Dequadin Paint

Trade Mark

containing 0.5 per cent dequalinium chloride BP in propylene glycol

- has an exceptionally wide antibacterial spectrum and inhibits, at low concentration, nearly all the bacteria pathogenic to man
- is active against organisms resistant to antibiotics
- is antifungal and rapidly effective in the treatment of oral thrush
- is an antiseptic—therefore no antibiotic sensitization reactions
- is not diminished in activity by the presence of serum
- is retained on tissue, thus ensuring prolonged local anti-microbial activity
- is easy to apply and does not give rise to pain or other side effects
- is the certain means of effective, topical treatment for infections of the mouth and throat, such as: sore throat, tonsillitis, Vincent's angina, oral thrush and infected ulcers of the gums, buccal membrane and the throat

MODE OF APPLICATION

Apply the paint by means of a brush or pledget of cotton wool wound round a suitable holder or applicator. The paint should be applied every three hours and the patient instructed not to swallow for a few moments after each application.

CAUTION

Dequadin Paint is intended for intra-oral use only.

PRESENTATION

Dequadin Paint is supplied in bottles of 28 ml. The basic price to the NHS per bottle is 5/10.
