CAUTION.—Beware of Counterfeits.

MESSRS. BEACH AND BARNICOTT,

Executors of the late Dr. ROBERTS,

Beg to caution the public against the extreme danger to health, and even to life itself, of purchasing any of those spurious imitations of their justly celebrated Ointment and Pills (THE POOR MAN'S FRIEND AND PILLULÆ ANTISCROPHULÆ) and other invaluable Medicines, which may be offered for sale by impudent and needy pretenders and adventurers.

No Medicines sold under the above names can possibly be genuine unless Beach & Barnicott, late Dr. Roberts, Bridport, is engraved and printed on the stamp affixed to each package. Each pot of the Ointment has "Poor Man's Friend, prepared by Beach & Barnicott, Successors to Dr. Roberts, Bridport," BURNED IN; and each direction signed with the fac similes of the late Dr. Roberts's and the present proprietors' hand-writing.

Read the following Wonderful Cures.

The utility of these Medicines is fully testified by the thousands of persons who have been benefited by their aid. Amongst the numerous testimonials received the following Extracts are given:—

To Messrs. BEACH & BARNICOTT, Bridport, Successors to the late Dr. ROBERTS'

ANN SCADDEN, of Little Cheney, had a Bad Leg from knee to toe for 16 months. Was cured by using one Pot of the Poor Man's Friend, after using other remedies without effect.

Mr. NORTHWAY, Chemist, Great Tower Street, London, says, "The Ointment is much valued by Soldiers on Foreign service."

Blind Piles.—The Rev. CHARLES LYNE, Rector of Roche, and one of the Magistrates for the County of Cornwall, writes—I can bear a grateful testimony to the value of that excellent Ointment, the Poor Man's Friend. I was painfully afflicted with the Blind Piles—consulted four medical gentlemen without permanent relief—was induced to try your Ointment, which effectually cured me. A parishioner of mine, called RICHARD OLIVER, had a running wound in his leg for upwards of Twenty Years—completely cured by using the Poor Man's Friend. I deem a pot of this Ointment to be one of the most necessary ingredients in my medicine chest.

JOHN LONDON, in the employ of Messrs. Reeve & Barmer, Wharfinger, Norwick, had a Bad Leg for seven years. It originated in a hurt received in unloading a cart, it ultimately became so bad as to leave five large holes, which he had in vain tried to heal. A friend advised him to try the Poor Man's Friend, which he bought of Mr. J. E. Watson. One pot quite healed the places, and he has been better able to follow his employment the last twelve months than for a long period before.

JOHN SMITH, Mansfield, was for several years affected with a Scorbutic Eruption which covered his face and the greater portion of his body. After spending a considerable amount of money in trying various medicines, without any benefit, he was persuaded to try the Poor Man's Friend and Pills. After taking one box of Pills, and using one pot of Ointment, the disease appeared to be considerably increased: however, he persevered with both, and after taking three boxes of the Pills and using five pots of the Ointment, he was completely cured, the scaly eruption being quite cleared off, leaving his face smooth and free from blotches.
