The RIGHT to EDUCATION

Deaf children have the same fundamental right to education as all other children.

But this right cannot be achieved unless they also have the right to attend nursery or other pre-school education; the right to choose to be educated in both British Sign Language and English by teachers proficient in both languages; the right to be taught by qualified teachers who are themselves Deaf; and the right to progress to further and higher education, supported by the special services and courses that are needed to ensure equal access.
