A Day Conference on Young People, Contraception and HIV

Date: Friday 15th January 1993

Venue: Lodge Moor Conference Centre, Sheffield

Cost: £60.00 - Statutory Organisations

£40.00 - Voluntary Organisations

Over the past decade the HIV epidemic has had a strong impact on young people and workers who offer them contraception, sexuality advice and counselling.

The challenge we currently face is to enable young people to claim the positive right to healthy and happy sexual activity. In order to achieve this, those working in the field must develop skills in offering relevant information, support and opportunities to make informed choices.

The essential work of HIV prevention and risk reduction needs to exist in a context of affirming young people's rights whatever their sexual choices.

This Day Conference aims to explore the complex but rich relationship between contraception, HIV and sexuality drawing from experiences in Sheffield.
