Love the scene respect the diversity

Though we may use it in a variety of different ways, most of us love the scene as somewhere to go and have a good time without fear of prejudice. So why can it sometimes seem so unfriendly?

The scene should be our place to be ourselves and to have fun - so why do we so often give off attitude and put up barriers? We can all go elsewhere to get treated like that...

Why should anyone have a problem with what the guy next to them on the dancefloor or in the darkroom is wearing? Or the colour of his skin, his age, HIV status, or shape? Surely it's possible to treat those around us with the respect that we all deserve?

If you ever feel that the scene isn't quite what you'd like it to be, don't just whinge about it - do something. Be a part of the solution, not the problem.

We can all make a difference if we respect the diversity.
