Girls on top

1997

We all know that fucking without condoms is the riskiest sex when it comes to HIV...

But sometimes - when we're feeling particularly butch - some of us convince ourselves that it's OK not to use condoms if we're doing the fucking - like we're not putting ourselves at risk. Well it ain't true girlfriend.

HIV can enter your bloodstream through the lining of your arse or through the hole in the end of your cock. We're not going to lie to you - getting a wad of cum deposited up your arse makes it easier to get infected than the other way 'round. But look at it this way:

Getting fucked without a condom is like falling from the 30th floor of a building. Doing the fucking without a condom is like falling from the 20th floor. Either way you're dogmeat.

Being the active partner in unprotected fucking is not a low risk - you're taking a big chance.
