The bottom line is both HIV positive and HIV negative men have equal responsibility for safe sex.

Don't blame others.

Bottom line

OPEN PACKAGE CAREFULLY—don't tear the condom. Testing the condom will only make it weak. Do not unroll it until you put it on.

1. Put a drop of water-based lube inside the tip of the condom. This will make the cock feel better during sex. Be sure the shaft of the cock is free of lubricant. This will help to keep the condom from slipping off.

2. Squeeze any air out of the tip of the condom.

3. Put the condom against the head of the erect cock.

4. Roll the condom all the way down to the base of the cock.

5. Hold on to the base of the condom when pulling out.

Remember:

always use water-based lube.
