Taking the time to talk about how you feel

Can you take three pricks?

Had your jabs for hepatitis B yet? You can get a vaccination to protect you against getting hepatitis B in the future at Axis or any GUM clinic. Hepatitis B is a virus that can make you feel very ill and can cause serious permanent damage to your liver. Hepatitis B can be caught from oral sex and from fucking and is far more infectious than HIV. Someone may be able to pass on hepatitis B without even knowing they are a carrier.

The vaccination is a course of three injections, over 6 months, which can be done free at Axis or any GUM clinic. It is such a simple, safe and harmless way of avoiding a really nasty illness. If you want to find out more about hepatitis B and getting your vaccination why not talk to a health adviser at Axis? And while you're there you could take the opportunity to discuss any worries you may have about sex and how you can make it safer?
