About AVERT

AVERT, the AIDS Education and Research Trust is clear the real breakthrough against AIDS will only come when research reveals the facts we still don't know and when education ensures that the knowledge gleaned is universally understood.

This, AVERT believes, is the one sure path to drugs which can alleviate the effects of AIDS and lead, one day, to its elimination.

AVERT funds many research projects including vital work on pregnancy and childbirth, and education programmes, the results of which will bring forward the day when we can find a cure for AIDS.

However, medical research is very expensive and to obtain accurate information can take years. So, the need for financial support is continuous and one of the easiest ways to help is through payroll giving.

About Payroll Giving

Payroll Giving is the simplest and easiest method of donating a small proportion of your wages on a regular basis to AVERT.

By completing the attached form, an amount of your choice can be deducted regularly from your pay and sent through an agency charity to AVERT.

As your donation is deducted from your pay cheque before your pay is taxed, your contribution goes to AVERT tax-free.
