TWENTY YEARS after his death, London Lighthouse proudly present the most star-studded Coward Gala since the "Talent to Amuse" concert which celebrated his seventieth birthday in 1969.

Nöel Coward; Mad about the Boy

"THE PLAY-BOY of the West End world..." jack of all its entertainment trades (and master of most) will be recalled in words and music from his own songs, shows and poems by an all-star cast... including many who worked with him and many more who have grown up to the sound of his classic songbook.

"...the playboy of the West End
world..."

Caricature of Noel Coward by Clive Francis

About

London Lighthouse

London Lighthouse is based in a specially designed building off Ladbroke Grove in west London. It is committed to providing the best possible care, support and facilities so that people affected by AIDS can live their lives to the full.

The project was set up in 1986 by a group of people who were living with HIV and AIDS or who knew others who were. They saw the need for a centre where people affected by HIV or AIDS could be supported to live well, having control over their lives, and make key decisions about the organisation and its range of services. People affected by HIV and AIDS are involved at all levels of the organisation.

London Lighthouse also gives support to the partners, friends and family of people affected by HIV and AIDS.

London Lighthouse is committed to equality of opportunity and to challenging prejudice and oppression.
