What is OASIS ?

Chalk Farm OASIS is a drop in centre for people who are HIV positive, their partners, friends and families.

No names are required and there is no membership. People can come and go as often as they like and no questions are ever asked.

Why OASIS?

An oasis is a place to which people resort on a journey. An oasis provides refreshment, peace and rest. It can also provide a place for friendship, sharing and support from others who use oasis.

What happens at OASIS?

Nothing, if you wish. Tea, coffee, soft drinks and food are always available when OASIS is open.

The comfortable lounge has television, newspapers and music.

There are, in conjunction with other London OASIS centres, organised trips to theatres, other events and party nights. OASIS publishes a regular newsletter and back copies are freely available.

Who organises OASIS?

Chalk Farm OASIS is run by a small voluntary team which includes users and helpers, some of whom could be HIV positive.

Who funds OASIS?

Many people donate equipment and money to maintain and expand the service - and you are welcome to do likewise! The Salvation Army at Chalk Farm, of which we are an integral part, allows us the use of their facilities and the local congregation fully supports our work.

How can OASIS help?

By being supportive and helpful to those who are living with HIV and AIDS as well as their partners, families, friends and carers. Confidential advice is at hand and contact is maintained with other AIDS care organisations. Help can be given in many practical ways, as is support to those unable to visit OASIS.

A warm welcome to all who are concerned with HIV and AIDS with their partners, friends, families, carers
