NEW AND BESTSELLING GUIDES FOR COUNSELLORS

HIV and AIDS in Mothers and Babies

A guide to counselling

Lorraine Sherr

NEW

One in three people infected with HIV are women and the majority of these are in their childbearing years. If HIV is vertically transmitted both mother and child are affected, in many cases fathers and siblings are also ill and the family group may require an unprecedented level of care.

This unique new book deals with

- pre- and post-test counselling
- the choice whether to terminate a pregnancy or not
- future pregnancy decision making
- childbirth
- dealing with an ill baby in the presence of a potentially ill mother and father

Essential reading for all counsellors working in HIV, drug use or family planning and health care professionals involved in pregnancy and children

232 pages, paperback, £14.95
