Dear Madam/Sir

Impact 8: Women and AIDS

I have pleasure in enclosing the latest copy of Impact, the journal of the National AIDS Trust. This will be the first edition of Impact since I was appointed as Director of Policy and Campaigns and, for those of you I have yet meet, it may be our first introduction.

The theme of the World AIDS Campaign for 2004 is Women, Girls, HIV and AIDS. One of the strongest messages of the campaign is that women are central to any effective strategy to fight HIV, yet all too often they bear the biggest burden whilst having the least power. We all have an important part to play in enabling women to assume more responsibility for their own, and others, sexual health.

I hope that you will find this edition of Impact interesting and informative.

If you have any suggestions for topics that you may wish for us to cover in future editions of Impact, please let us know. We would welcome your feedback.

Yours faithfully

David Coulthread
Director of Policy and Campaigns
