BHAN'S TRAINING APPROACH

BHAN's training is based on an integrated equal opportunity approach which recognises the diversity of issues relevant to all sections of the black communities. BHAN's approach is to create an environment which is safe, non-judgemental and non-discriminatory and which assists trainees to participate and contribute fully. Training is geared to relevant and practical issues which will enable participants to take away and implement what they have learned.

Courses are non residential. All courses are open to all interested people, except HIV/AIDS Awareness for Black Voluntary Organisations, which is open to black workers in the voluntary sector. Places are strictly limited and early booking is advised. All courses take place in London.
