Dear Colleague

Effective Purchasing of HIV/AIDS-Related Services

I am pleased to introduce the BMA Foundation for AIDS, a charity which specialises in education about ethical, social and public policy aspects of HIV and AIDS for professional groups and opinion formers. As the enclosed flyer indicates, we are holding a seminar on 27 November 1992 to enable purchasers to examine their role in planning and shaping HIV/AIDS prevention, treatment and care services. We hope that you or an appropriate member of your purchasing team will take the opportunity to participate.

Although the focus will be on HIV and AIDS, many of the issues are equally relevant to other conditions, so the seminar will be a key occasion to explore the challenges and opportunities of purchasing and commissioning health and social care services as the market develops. We look forward to receiving your registration.

Yours faithfully

Hilary Curtis
Executive Director
