Gentlemen,

We are much obliged for your sample order to our Mr. S. Woodhead, and rest assured of your commands always receiving our prompt attention. We note that he has induced you to try our B. P. S., and in addition to being an improvement when added to Ginger Ale, it acts as a preservative, and produces that back taste, so characteristic of the high class Belfast Ginger Ales. It is also useful as a preservative in all sweetened drinks, and the quantity used in this case should be  $\frac{1}{2}$  dram to the gallon, but in the case of Ginger Ale, the amount should be from 1 dram to 1 dram and a half to the gallon of Acidified Syrup. Now that we have had the pleasure of opening an account with you, we trust that it will be a mutually advantageous one, and lead to continuous and satisfactory business relations between us. It is needless to say that we hope to have the pleasure of meeting you person-

P. T. O.
