Philosophy from the Trenches, World War I "When you are a soldier, you are one of two things, either at the front or behind the lines. If you are at the front, you are in a danger zone. If you are behind the lines, you are in a danger zone. If you are in a danger zone, you are one of two things: either you are wounded or you are not. If you are wounded, you are one of two things: either you are seriously wounded or slightly wounded. If you are seriously wounded, you need not worry. If you are slightly wounded, you are one of two things: either you are getting well or you are not. If you are getting well, you need not worry. If you are not getting well, you need not worry. If you die, you cannot worry. So there is no need to worry about anything at all."
