About Eschmann

Eschmann may be a new name to you but to hospitals we're as familiar as, say, Glaxo is in the Pharmacy.

As a British company with 150 years of medical background, we've progressed by using modern manufacturing ideas to develop products like operation tables, surgical instruments, catheters, surgical suction apparatus and electrosurgical units.

All of which makes Eschmann one of the world's leading suppliers.

Stomacare the Eschmann way

We're experienced in the field of stomacare through importing the Dansac range of 'ostomy bags. And now we make our own range after (naturally) a thorough research into all the physical and psychological problems associated with stomas. Frankly, what was available for stoma patients left a lot to be desired.

So, our range incorporates many advanced features like a closed bag with automatic flatus filter, a positive but gentle adhesive, rounded shape, soft material which is odour-proof and leak-proof as well as sound-proof.

The closed and drainable bags come in sizes to fit all stomas. There's also a range of bag covers in attractive colours, plus accessories for extra protection if required.

Undoubted demand

A product range as important as this is getting the full promotional treatment. We're letting everyone concerned with stomacare (surgeons, nursing staff and the patients themselves) know about the range's advantages which include a bag with flatus filter, a modern 'cosmetic' look and conclude with attractive packaging.

Because the Eschmann range is so dramatically advanced, you can be sure of a regular demand. And be sure of the supply because the whole range is immediately available from Vestric or the wholesaler of your choice by arrangement.
