*looking for a new and better iron
prescription*

With a high ferrous iron content — approx.
65 mg. per tablet.

That normally gives optimal haemoglobin response
on three tablets a day.

That is smaller, so easier to swallow, and can be chewed.

That is excellently tolerated even by many intolerant
of existing compounds.

That is stable yet uncoated.

That is economical — one tablet t.d.s. costing slightly less than one penny a day.

You'll find all this in FERSAMAL
