Safer fucking for gay men

Why use a condom?

HIV can be passed on when blood or semen get into the bloodstream.

But remember ...

Condoms can sometimes slip off, or break.
Check it now and then, and change it if you need to.

Getting a condom on (and off):

As soon as the penis gets hard
place a rolled up
condom on the tip.

Squeeze out the air
from the end of the condom (to make room for any cum),
and unroll the
condom to the base of the penis.

Use plenty of water-
based lubricant such as KY jelly or Bodywise Liquid Silk on the outside of the condom.

After cumming, hold onto the base of the condom firmly (to stop any cum leaking), then pull
out. Use each
condom only once.
