AN
OF THE
VETERINARY COLLEGE.

THE ardour for improving arts and perfecting science in this country, has given rise to many excellent institutions, by means of which, the interests of mankind at large have been eminently served, and the sphere of human knowledge almost incredibly extended.

In adverting to these establishments, we may discern the efficacy of opulence and patriotism united for the publick good; and we may, at the same time, form a very just ground of confidence, that the same faculties will still continue to be exerted for the support of other plans, tending to promote the same beneficial end.

Whatever may have been done to increase the publick stock of knowledge in other departments, the Veterinary Science hath been hitherto little cultivated in this country; nevertheless, if its claims to publick favour were fully stated, there could be no doubt but that our national spirit and benevolence would patronize it equally with every other branch of natural knowledge.

To define this Science, will be sufficient to recommend it in the most effectual manner.

The Veterinary Science, then, is the art of preserving the health of cattle, and particularly of horses, and of curing their diseases; and comprehends a full and just knowledge of those several animals; of their anatomy, physiology, and pathology; a knowledge of the general laws of the animal œconomy, and of the particular ones of each distinct species; a knowledge of the animal structure, and its relation to exterior matter, alimentary, medicinal, and noxious.

Many able and ingenious persons, within these kingdoms, have appeared to concur in the utility of this Science; and wishes have been expressed that means were provided for the cultivation of Veterinary knowledge; which, for want of such means, hath remained unimproved; but, notwithstanding the frequent complaints, which are justified by the losses sustained, the treatment of our cattle, of so much importance to the prosperity of our country, hath been universally restricted to those who are the most remarkably unqualified to undertake the charge. That the shoer of a horse should, by virtue of his trade, become equal to a task which, in order to its being perfectly performed, would require the skill of an Harvey and a Boerhaave, appears a paradox which could have gained credit only in an age of general ignorance and barbarism; when, indeed, medicine had to encounter enemies, not much less formidable than those which have obstructed the advancement of the Veterinary Art. It does however no where appear, that absurdity ever rose to such a height as to consider the care of the human health, as the proper office of the shoemaker. There was a time, indeed, when much was confided to the barber; and at that period, medicine was nearly in the same state in which we see the Veterinary Art at this day.

The incompetency of the persons to whom it has been abandoned, has drawn contempt upon the Art itself; and few have ventured to concern themselves with a profession that seemed incapable of conferring any honour upon those who exercised it. But the benefits of medicine to man, in the state in which it exists at this day, and in this country, are evident to every ingenuous mind. To extend those benefits to those parts of the animal creation that are destined for the use of mankind, is the object of Veterinary medicine; and as the sphere of human medicine is of large extent, and embraces much more than the art of healing alone, so does that of Veterinary medicine likewise comprise many important parts of natural history, and the fundamental principles of natural philosophy: "Sicut animalia post hominem, ita ars veterinaria post medicinam secunda est."

The laws of the animal œconomy of our cattle, are as various and as intricate as those of our own; and if to preserve them alive, and in the most thriving state, be one of our first concerns, we ought in consistency to proceed towards that object, by a path capable of conducting us to it. And here it may be observed, that the arts of surgery, and of human medicine alone, can render very little service in cases of Veterinary practice; while on the other hand, they may be, and frequently are, the sources of error. The Materia Medica, an instrument which the physician can use expertly in cases of human malady, is converted into weapons, to whose power he is almost totally a stranger, when he would employ them against the diseases of brute animals. It is not sufficient to increase the bulk of a dose, in proportion to the bulk of the patient; the operation of simples are different, in systems that have different laws; and there are many things which the human frame may safely receive in large proportions, which must on no account be administered to the horse, even in the minutest. It requires the sacrifice of as many years to become a skilful Veterinarian, as to become a skilful physician: the acquisition of the science and the practice of each is a task sufficient to engage one man's life; and the contrary opinion is a portion of that ancient error, which, while medicine was regarded as the province of the learned and the few, supposed the Veterinary art on a level with the most ordinary capacities. If the Veterinarian is free from the embarrassment, which the varied and violent influence of the mind on the human structure causes to the Physician, he finds an abundant source of trouble and perplexity in the muteness of his subjects, to which the Physician is not subject: which renders it essential that the Veterinarian should add to his professional knowledge, an active and observing mind, and a cautious, accurate, and penetrating judgment.

The advantage of extending the influence of science to our farms, and of applying it to the preservation of our cattle, cannot be made to appear more sensibly, than by considering the ravages sometimes made among them, by contagious and epizootic diseases; the virulence of which might yield to a judicious and scientific treatment, when the only remaining alternative, ruinous in its consequences to the grazier and to the publick, is in the slaughter of the cattle. All that the practice of our hospitals can teach, is unable to qualify for these emergencies, much less can adequate assistance be found, in the worker of a country forge. It is only in the direct experience of the case, and studies properly adapted to it, that relief may be obtained.

As the proper treatment of distempers in horses, and other cattle, is of the highest commercial as well as domestic importance, it is incumbent on this nation to institute and protect, a Veterinary School; in which, their anatomical construction, the diseases to which they are subject, and the remedies proper to be applied, may be regularly taught. Such an Institution cannot fail of becoming generally important to the nation, and every part of it will gradually enjoy the advantage of possessing enlightened practitioners, on whose care and skill they may securely rely.

The treatment of the diseases of animals being taught scientifically, men of liberal education will cease to look on Veterinarian medicine, as a mean and degrading profession. They will be convinced that its inferiority to human medicine, consists not in the arts themselves, but in the relative importance of their respective subjects; and that it deserves to be considered as a distinguished science, occupying an eminent station in the scale of natural knowledge.

If we observe the dangerous practice of farriers, in their surgical operations, we shall see them daily sacrificing horses, by boldly mangling the organized parts of the body, without knowing any thing of its structure. How many muscles, and tendons, divided cross-ways! veins opened! nerves destroyed! membranes torn! and essential organs more or less affected, by the ignorant boldness of these unskilful operators, whose reputation has been supported merely by publick supineness and credulity!

It must be unnecessary to enlarge on this subject, in order to demonstrate the utility of a Seminary for Veterinary studies, in a country wherein horses are so universally used for the purposes of agriculture, manufactures, commerce, and pleasure, and where such immense property consists in cattle. Much, however, as this science hath been hitherto neglected, its importance begins to be generally admitted; and it must give pleasure to every considerate mind to learn, that a theoretical and practical school is established for the instruction of pupils: and it now remains only briefly to state the circumstances which have occurred in forming the Institution.

In August 1785, the Members of the Odiham Agricultural Society resolved, that it should be a consideration for their meeting in October, what were the most likely means to encourage the study of scientific Farriery. Nothing, however, appears to have been done by the Society, until May 1788, when they resolved to advertise their intention of educating two or more young men, in the School of Farriery in the neighbourhood of Paris; and to solicit subscriptions for that purpose: which was not done till after a similar resolution in March or June 1789. In August 1789 they resolved, that 500 copies of their resolutions should be printed, with an address, in which they say, "It is to be lamented that there is not yet in England any establishment adequate to the desired improvement in Farriery, by a regular education in that science, on medical and anatomical principles." And they again express their intention, of sending two or more youths to France for instruction.
August

Early in this same year 1789, Mr. Sain Bel came to England and published proposals for reading Lectures on the general knowledge of the Horse; and in the following year 1790, he presented to the publick a plan, entitled, "Plan for establishing an Institution to cultivate and teach Veterinary Medicine." At the end of May or beginning of June, in the same year, several of these plans were transmitted to the Odiham and other Societies; and in August following, the Odiham Society resolved that a Committee should be appointed to meet in London for the purpose, among other business, of collecting whatever might appear to be conducive to the views of the Society for promoting the improvement of Farriery; and elected Mr. Sain Bel an honorary and corresponding Member, and one of the Committee in London. It does not appear that the Committee made any progress in the business; but they continued to solicit assistance from the publick, and resolved on the 12th January, 1791, to meet once a fortnight, to communicate such information as might be received. At the Meeting of the 11th February, 1791, several Gentlemen, not of the Odiham Society, having been informed of the object of the Meetings, attended the Committee; and at this time the following resolutions were agreed to:—

The resolves of the Odiham Society of the 5th of August and of the 8th October, 1790, whereby is acknowledged the receipt of ten copies of a plan for establishing an Institution to cultivate and teach Veterinary Medicine by Mr. Sain Bel, being read, Resolved, That this Meeting is seriously convinced of the benefits which must result from an Institution to cultivate and teach Veterinary Medicine; that they have observed the effect produced upon the publick by the proposed measure of the Society for the improvement of Farriery, as also by the plan offered by Mr. Sain Bel. That the ultimate view of the Society tends to the same object as the plan proposed to be immediately carried into effect by Mr. Sain Bel; that it is the opinion of the meeting, that it is greatly to be desired the plan of the Odiham Society, and that of Mr. Sain Bel, should be consolidated; that as several Gentlemen had subscribed towards furthering Mr. Sain Bel's plan, four of the Gentlemen present should be desired to consult with Mr. Sain Bel on the subject, and that they should also consider of the best mode of effecting the union: that as soon as this matter should be determined, a Meeting should be held for the purpose of forming a Society for the Improvement of Farriery.

On the 18th of February, the Gentlemen present were informed Mr. Sain Bel had acceded to the plan proposed, when they came to the following resolutions:—

This Meeting having taken into consideration the proceedings on former meetings, and being informed that many respectable persons delay giving in their names as subscribers, while the proceedings of the Committee are subject to be reported to the Odiham Society, and are under under the control thereof, find it expedient to detach themselves from that Society. The work in which they are engaged being of so considerable importance (the Reformation and Improvement of Farriery, and the Treatment of Cattle in general) requires that the attention of the Meeting should be confined to that purpose alone, and be under the sole management and control of its own Members,

That from this day forward this Meeting shall be called, THE VETERINARY COLLEGE, LONDON; that the Secretary do write to the Secretary of the Odiham Society, to inform him of the above resolution, and that the Members of the College conceive that by detaching themselves, they are more effectually forwarding the liberal and laudable intentions thereof for the improvement of Farriery, and that the Members hope the Society will join them in their plan for promoting the so much wished for object.

That Mr. SAIN BEL be appointed Professor to the College.

That a General Meeting of Subscribers be held on the 8th of April,

That the foregoing Resolutions be inserted in the public papers.

That copies be transmitted to the Members of both Houses, and other Noblemen and Gentlemen; as also to the Sheriffs of the several Counties to be laid before the Grand Juries at the ensuing assizes.

Feb.

Feb. 25. Mr. Sain Bel attended and accepted the office of Professor.

April 1. The Duke of Northumberland having expressed his wishes for the success of the Institution, the Secretary was directed to solicit him to become President of the College, to which he consented.

April 8. The College consisting of 64 Members, proceeded to the choice of President, Vice-Presidents, Directors, Treasurer, and Secretary for the ensuing year. They also elected as honorary and corresponding Members fifteen Gentlemen on the continent, eminent for their Veterinary abilities. Regulations for the constitution and organization of the College were read and unanimously approved of, subject however to such alterations as might become expedient.

April 19. A circular letter was ordered to be sent to professional Gentlemen in different parts of the kingdom, requesting the provincial names of diseases incident to horses, bullocks, sheep, &c. with their accompanying symptoms. A letter was also directed to be sent to the Odiham Society, to inform them, that as the College had appointed a Professor of Veterinary Medicine, they did not think it necessary to persist in the plan of sending young men out of the kingdom for instruction.

May 3. An Abstract of the Constitution of the College was ordered to be printed and distributed. A letter was read from the Odiham Society, stating that they had peculiar satisfaction in the establishment of the Veterinary College, College, and that they had directed their Secretary to transmit to the College what papers they possessed relating to the Veterinary Art; that they considered the College as enabled effectually to execute what they had wished, that they therefore relinquished their intentions; and concluded with observing, that they had requested the subscribers to their fund to transfer their subscriptions to the College.

May 17. It was resolved to provide a proper place for the Professor's dissections and lectures.

May 24. A General Meeting was held, the College consisting of 86 Members, when it was resolved to advertise for premises for the purposes of the College. The sum of £.100 was fixed as the salary of the Professor, and the same sum for the Secretary.

July 19. A special General Meeting was held, when it was resolved, that in order to procure the attendance of a sufficient number of Members to transact business, the Meetings should be open to the attendance of every Member of the College; no business having been done since the former General Meeting. The addition of Members to the College was reported to be 32, making in the whole 118.

July 26th. The Secretary was directed to transmit the proposed Regulations of the College to the Army Agents, and to request their forwarding them to the Regiments.

August 9th. The Secretary was directed to transmit the proposed Regulations to the Physicians and eminent Surgical Practitioners in London.

September

September 6th. A General Meeting was held, when the number of Members was reported to be 133. An offer was made by Messrs. Kirkman and Hendy of a parcel of land at Camden Town; the property of Lord Camden, for the purposes of the College; for a term of 99 years; when it was resolved, that the Committee should meet on the 13th instant, to survey the ground offered.— The Secretary reported, that 63 Bankers and other Gentlemen in different parts of the kingdom, had accepted the office of Receivers for the College.

September 13th. At the Meeting of the Committee, at Pancras, for the purpose of viewing the ground offered by Messrs. Kirkman and Hendy, it was resolved to be eligible for the purposes of the College. And a house, with convenient offices, adjoining to the above-mentioned ground, was now engaged as a temporary residence for the Professor.

September 20th. A General Meeting was held. The number of Members was reported to be 138. It was resolved to agree with Messrs. Kirkman and Hendy for the ground proposed by them, belonging to Lord Camden. The Secretary was directed to apply to the President, Vice-Presidents, and Directors, to request five or more of them to be Trustees for accepting a lease of the ground from Lord Camden.

September 27th. Letters were received from nine of the above Gentlemen, approving of the situation for the College, and consenting to become Trustees. Mr. Burton was requested, in conjunction with Mr. Sain Bel, to prepare pare and lay before a future Meeting, a plan of a building for the College; and Mr. Burton was also requested to superintend any temporary erection or alteration in the premises engaged for the College.

October 4th. An advertisement was ordered to be inserted in the papers, containing the terms on which the Professor's Lectures would be delivered at the College.

November 1st. The Secretary was directed to send Abstracts of the proposed Regulations of the College to the Proprietors of the Stage Coaches — An advertisement was ordered to be inserted in the papers directing persons desirous of becoming resident pupils to apply to the Committee.

December 6th. A General Meeting was held; the number of Members was reported to be 179. Mr. Burton produced a plan for the College. It was resolved, that a Collector to the College should be chosen. A letter from Dr. J. Corrie was read, offering his services to the College, during his stay in the East Indies, in collecting information on the Veterinary science; when, on the motion of Mr. J. Hunter, he was elected an Honorary and Corresponding Member.

December 13th. It was resolved, that Peers, Members of Parliament, and Ladies, should be allowed to vote by Proxy at all Elections. The Professor informed the Committee he should commence his Lectures on the 4th of January.

January

January 3d, 1792. A General Meeting was held; the number of Members was reported to be 204. Mr. Reuben Smith was chosen Collector. At this time there were four Pupils in the College.

January 10th. Mr. Arthur Young and Mr. Marshall were elected Honorary and Corresponding Members.

February 14th. Mr. Baynes, Mr. Penn, and Mr. Stone, were appointed a Committee to examine the accounts, and pay all demands on the College. On account of the great number of applications made to the Professor to receive diseased Horses, it was directed to be advertised that there were not conveniences for the purpose; but that as soon as stables were erected, proper notice would be given.

February 21. A General Meeting was held; the number of Members was reported to be 233. It was resolved, that the proposed Regulations should be sent to every Member, with a request, that such alterations as might appear to be necessary should be sent to the Secretary. Regulations for the interior discipline of the College were read and approved.

March 1. A letter from Sir William Fordyce was read, inclosing one from the Earl of Macclesfield, on the Rot in Sheep.

March 22. It was resolved, that temporary Stabling for the reception of 50 horses, and a Forge House, should be forthwith erected; and that such horses only should be received whose disorders were not contagious. That two or

or more young men should be placed at the Forge, as working pupils. Mr. Burton was desired to prepare a plan and estimate for the building of 50 Stalls and a Forge House.

March 27th. It was resolved to agree with Messrs. Kirkman and Hendy for an additional Piece of Ground adjoining to the former parcel engaged, and on the same terms, making together about six acres.

April 5th. Mr. Burton produced a plan and estimate for the Building. A proposal was received from Mr. Barnard, proprietor of the premises now occupied by the College, for letting them on lease, when it was resolved to agree with him. A proposal was received from Mr. Warner, respecting the making bricks for the College, and agreed to. It was resolved, that on any contract being made by the College, the contractors should give security for the performance of their agreements. It was resolved to advertise for proposals from builders for erecting Stables, &c. to be received on Thursday the 19th instant.

It appearing necessary from the numerous applications made to the Professor for the admission of diseased Horses, that Stables should be immediately built, with other necessary conveniences; and as the present funds of the College would not enable the Committee to proceed on so extensive a scale as the importance of the institution demanded, it was resolved, that the friends of the institution should be requested to advance money on interest, at 3 per cent. per ann.—the principal to be repaid as soon as the funds of the College were found sufficient for that purpose, and that nine Subscribers should be Trustees.

April 26th. The Committee having received proposals from six builders, they agreed with Messrs. Howell and Russell to build the Stables for the sum of £.2850.— Mr. Burton was desired to order the necessary implements for the Forge. A Memorial was presented from the Professor, stating that he had been calumniated both with respect to his private character and his professional abilities, and requesting Committees might be immediately appointed to inquire and report on the business: when it was resolved, that Mr. John Hunter, and seventeen other professional Gentlemen, should, in compliance with the memorial, be requested to examine the Professor, as to his abilities for the office of Veterinary Professor, and report their opinion to a General Meeting. It was also resolved, that the Earl of Morton, and twelve other Gentlemen, be requested to inquire into the complaints stated, and report their opinion to a General Meeting; and that the officers should furnish both Committees with such papers as they should have in their possession, and which should be called for.

May 10th. It was resolved, that a Special General Meeting should be held on the 17th instant, to receive the reports of the Committees appointed on the 26th of April.

May 17th. A Special General Meeting was held.— The number of Members was reported to be 425. The Reports from the Committees, appointed in consequence of the Professor's Memorial to inquire into his character and abilities, and the complaints made by him against the Secretary, were read, and the following resolutions unanimously agreed to:

That

That from the Report of the Medical Committee, consisting of John Hunter, Esq. Chairman, Sir George Baker, Bart. Dr. Crawford, Dr. Packwood, Mr. Cline, Mr. Vaux, Mr. Peake, Mr. Home, and Mr. Sheldon, this Meeting is satisfied, that Mr. Sain Bel " is perfectly " qualified" for the office of Veterinary Professor in the College.

That this Meeting concurs in opinion with the said Committee, that it will be necessary, in order to carry on the business of the institution as perfectly as possible, that there should be two Professors appointed; and that as soon as the proposed plan for the College is executed, which, from the encouragement already given, it is hoped will be speedily accomplished, the Members will avail themselves of the offer made by the Committee, and refer the merit of candidates for the second Professorship to their investigation.

That from the Report of the Committee, consisting of the Earl of Morton, Chairman, Lord Heathfield, Major General Murray, Mr. Angerstein, Mr. Baker, Mr. Baynes, Sir John Ingleby, Mr. Butt, Mr. W. Baker, and Mr. Walcot, this Meeting is perfectly satisfied with the character and conduct of the Professor.

It was resolved, that a Special General Meeting should be held on Friday the First of June, for the Election of a new Secretary, (the former having been dismissed): that at the Election no person should be admitted to vote who was not then a Subscriber.

May 24th. The duty of the Secretary was regulated by the Committee, and his salary fixed at £.150 per ann.

A General Meeting was held, when the Duke Northumberland, Lord Rivers, Lord Morton, Sir T. C. Bunbury, Sir H. Mildmay, Mr. Baynes, Mr. Penn, and Mr. Stone, were appointed Trustees for executing the Deeds in the Leases to be granted by Lord Camden to the College; and any three of them were empowered to act.

Also, Lord Heathfield, Lord Kinnaird, General Murray, Mr. Angerstein, Mr. Butt, Mr. J. Baker, Mr. Crane, Mr. Topham, and Mr. Hendy, were appointed Trustees for the Subscribers to the Loan; and any three of them were empowered to act.

The Salary of the Professor was fixed at £.200 per ann.

The Meeting then proceeded to the Election of Officers for the ensuing year; and afterwards dined together. The numbers were declared to be 478.

June 1st. A special General Meeting was held, for the purpose of electing a Secretary, when Mr. William Mounsher was unanimously chosen.

June 7th. The Committee formed Regulations for the Officers and for the Infirmary.

July 5th. The Committee resolved to inclose the whole of the premises by walls, Messrs. Kirkman and Hendy having proposed to join in the expense.

July 19th. The Surveyor was directed to give orders for building a Porter's Lodge, building a Fence, and also to prepare a Plan for the General Building.

July 26th. The Committee resolved immediately to build Lecture and Dissecting Rooms, and to advertise for Proposals from Builders for that purpose.

August

August 2d. The Committee agreed with several Artificers to erect the necessary Buildings. Notice was ordered to be given, that the Forge was completed, and would be opened for the reception of Horses on the 10th, and Regulations were made for that purpose.

August 9th. Regulations were made for the conduct of the Porter, and other Servants.

August 16th. Cards were ordered to be printed and sent with Horses not admitted into the College.

August 30th. The Secretary was directed to advertise that the Professor's Lectures would commence on the first of October; and also the several arrangements in the College hitherto adopted.

September 6th. A General Meeting was held, when a State of the Accounts was produced, and the Medical Experimental Committee appointed, consisting of Sir George Baker, Sir William Fordyce, Dr. Crawford, Dr. Scott, Mr. J. Hunter, Mr. Cline, and Mr. Houlston.—It was resolved, that the Anniversary Meeting should be held on the 18th of February next.

October 11th. The Committee resolved, that one of the rooms in the centre of the building be fitted up for the purpose of a temporary Dispensary.

October 18th. Mr. Kirkman was appointed to treat with the Proprietors of the Hampstead Water Works for supplying the College with water.

October 25th. A letter from the President to Mr. R. Wilson was read, inclosing a draft for £.500 as his Subscription to the Loan.

November 1. At a Meeting of the Council, Mr. R. Wilson was appointed Solicitor to the College.

November 8th. Mr. Burton reported, that the Proprietors of the Hampstead Water-works had agreed to supply the College with water for one year, and then fix a price for a constant supply. Accommodations for the Pupils being much wanted, and Mr. Kirkman having offered to accommodate the College with a house adjoining the College premises, for the Secretary; it was resolved, that his proposal be accepted, and that the Secretary do inhabit the same, as soon as it can be prepared and furnished for that purpose.

November 15th. At a meeting of the Council, the price of the keep of Horses was fixed, and regulations formed for the Infirmary.

December 6th. At a Quarterly General Meeting, the College accounts were presented.

December 13th. The Committee gave orders generally for the providing all kinds of necessaries for the Grooms, Porters, Smiths, &c. &c.

Jan. 1, 1793. The Infirmary was opened for the reception of diseased Horses.

February 14th. A General Meeting was held, and the regulations for the College were determined upon.

February 18th. A General Meeting was held, and the several officers of the College, as also the Committees, were were elected for the ensuing year. At this time the number of the Members of the College was 910 ; and the number of Pupils in the College was 14. The establishment of the College, consisted of a Professor, a Secretary, a Collector, the Professor's Assistant, a Porter, three Smiths, and five Grooms. The number of diseased Horses in the Infirmary were fifty.

Such have been the origin and progress, and such is the present state of the Institution, which, notwithstanding the prejudice of almost every class of men in the kingdom, may be said to have succeeded far beyond the highest expectations of its most earnest friends. From the foregoing statement, every attentive mind must observe what obstacles may be overcome by industry and perseverance ; and that in this country, the utility and benevolence of an Institution need only to be perfectly ascertained, to meet with due attention and encouragement.

The Institutors and Friends of the Veterinary College presume, that to insure the publick patronage, they have only to state the nature and tendency of the Institution; being fully persuaded, that whether it be considered as an object of humanity to animals, or of general utility to the nation, it will excite and receive every degree of attention and support, which its intrinsic merit deserves.

REGULATIONS

VETERINARY COLLEGE.

I. THE Establishment shall consist of a SOCIETY and SCHOOL, to be called the VETERINARY COLLEGE.

II. The business of the Society shall be conducted by a President, Twelve Vice-Presidents, Twenty-four Directors, and a Treasurer, forming a Council; in whom shall be lodged the whole Executive Power of the College, subject to the controul of the Members at large in General Meetings.

III. The President, Vice-Presidents, and Treasurer, shall be chosen annually. The Twenty-four Directors shall be divided into four Classes; one Class shall go out each year, and Six Directors be elected in their place. No Director shall be re-elected till after the intervention of one year.

IV.

IV. Ten Members shall form a Quorum at a General Meeting, Five a Quorum of the Council, and Three a Quorum of a Committee.

V. Five Auditors shall be annually chosen; three of whom shall not be of the Council, nor on any Committee.

VI. The Eighteenth of February, being the day on which it was resolved to establish a Veterinary College, shall be the Anniversary; on which day the several Officers of the College shall be elected, and the Members invited to dine together, unless it shall happen on a Saturday or Sunday, and in that case the Meeting shall be held on the Tuesday following.

VII. Four Quarterly General Meetings shall be held in the year, viz. on the first Tuesday in February; the first Tuesday in May; the first Tuesday in August; and the first Tuesday in November; at which Meetings, the Minutes of the last Quarterly and all subsequent General Meetings shall be read.

VIII. No Regulation shall be altered or repealed, nor shall any new Regulation be enacted, but by the consent of two-thirds of the Members present at two successive Quarterly Meetings; and every proposed regulation, alteration, or repeal shall, after the first meeting, be fairly written, and exhibited in the Council Room, for publick perusal and consideration. This regulation shall extend also to the removal of any of the Officers of the College, whose salary shall amount to 150*l.* per annum or upwards.
College

IX. A discretionary power shall be lodged in the Council, by which they may in cases of emergency, or where the advantage of the Institution is evidently concerned, make orders, which shall have the force of regulations, till the next Quarterly Meeting, when they shall be submitted to the determination of the Meeting.

X. Any sum not less than Two Guineas shall be a qualification for an annual Member, and not less than Twenty Guineas for a perpetual Member.

XI. No person shall be entitled to debate or vote at any Meeting, who has not been a Member six calendar months, nor until his subscription for the current year and all his arrears are paid; and no person shall be entitled to be present at any Meeting whose subscription shall be two years in arrear.

XII. At all elections, Peers and Members of Parliament, and Ladies (having been subscribers six months) shall be allowed to vote by proxy; such proxy being a Member of the College.

XIII. All elections shall be by ballot, and shall be determined in one day between the hours of 12 and 3 o'clock. The President, Vice-President, Treasurer, or such other Member as shall be in the chair at any General Meeting, ing, Council, or Committee, shall in all cases of equality of votes or ballot, have a double or casting vote or ballot.

XIV. No Member who shall in any manner directly or indirectly derive any advantage, profit, or emolument, from the funds of the College, or who shall be charged by the College with any office whence such profit shall accrue, shall be elected into the Council; and any Member of the Council so receiving, shall immediately vacate his place. Nor shall any Member who receives any advantage or emolument from the College be chosen or continue on any Committee.

XV. No Officer or Servant of the College shall presume, under any pretence whatever, to accept of any present or gratuity from any Member, or from any Tradesman or other person having dealings with the College, on penalty of dismission.

XVI. A Volume of the Transactions of the College and School shall be published annually, and delivered to each Subscriber or his order, at the College, gratis.

XVII. A Medical Experimental Committee shall be chosen, who shall meet occasionally for the purpose of suggesting and making experiments, with a view to throw additional light on the Animal Economy, and to ascertain the effect of Medicines upon different animals to be procured for that particular purpose; and for inspecting the drugs and medicines bought for the use of the Infirmary.

XVIII. A Pro-

XVIII. A Professor of Veterinary Medicine shall be appointed, whose appointment shall be subject to Rule, No. VIII.

XIX. A Secretary shall be appointed, whose appointment shall be subject to Rule, No. VIII.

XX. A Collector shall be appointed, whose appointment shall remain during the good conduct of the Officer.

THE COUNCIL.

THE PRESIDENT,

Shall preside at all Meetings of the College, and shall have the power of convening a special General Meeting, giving ten days notice to the Members by advertisement in two or more Morning Papers.

THE VICE-PRESIDENTS,

In the absence of the President, shall preside at all the Meetings of the College, in the rotation of the list; and any three of them are empowered to convene a special General Meeting in the same manner as the President.

THE COUNCIL.

The Council shall meet the first Tuesday of every month, and as much oftener as shall be found necessary.

A Superintending Committee shall be chosen, who shall meet every Tuesday to receive the Reports of the Officers, and to examine into the state of the College. This Committee shall consist of three of the Directors, who shall attend in rotation, and who shall receive notice thereof from the Secretary on the preceding Monday. This Committee shall be open to any Member of the College.

Such

Such Directors as shall not attend in one year, four Councils, or shall not have attended in rotation the Superintending Committees, or engaged other Directors to attend for them, shall vacate their places as Directors; and, at the annual election, others shall be chosen in their stead into the class they belonged to.

Any six of the Directors are empowered to convene a special General Meeting in the same manner as the President or three Vice-Presidents.

If a requisition for a special General Meeting be signed by nine members entitled to vote, and the business be declared in the requisition, the President, Vice-Presidents, or Directors, shall convene the Meeting, and on refusal, the nine Members are empowered to convene it in the same manner as the President, Vice-Presidents, or Directors should have done.

THE TREASURER.

In the absence of the President and Vice Presidents, shall preside at all Meetings of the College, and shall report monthly to the Council the state of the College accounts. He is to pay no bills exceeding twenty pounds without a written order signed by three of the Council.

THE PROFESSOR,

Shall have the Arrangement and Direction of the Studies and Occupations of the Pupils, of the Distribution of his Lectures, and of the Number and Nature of the Subjects required for Dissection. He shall likewise judge of the Kind and Quality of the Forage to be provided for the Infirmary, of the Regulation of the Cattle therein, and of the Remedies to be employed. He shall make a Report every Week to the Committee of the State of the College, viz. the number and condition of the animals admitted into the College; the number and condition of the animals discharged from the College; the conduct of the Pupils; the conduct of the Servants; the different sorts of Forage as well as of stores and materials wanted, including drugs, &c. except such articles as it shall be found necessary to provide between the meetings of the Committee, which is to be reported at the next meeting of the Committee. He shall have a copy of the several articles ordered from time to time by the Committees; and he shall not receive any thing into the College but what is so ordered (except as above), nor without a bill of parcels.

 THE SECRETARY,

Shall reside at the College, and be present at all Meetings, Councils, and Committees. He shall take Minutes of all such Meetings, and shall announce and read all Letters, Papers, Communications, &c. and shall take

take care of the official books and papers belonging to the College. He shall write the letters directed to be sent on account of the College, by any Meeting, Council, or Committee. He shall keep the accounts of the College, which may arise as well from the general business as from the particular departments: this will include the superintendance of the receipts and delivery of what may be brought to or taken from the College, or any of the departments of Shoeing, Pharmacy, &c. He shall produce a state of his accounts every week to the Committee.

THE COLLECTOR.

He shall, within one calendar month after notice is given him by the Secretary of the admission of any Member, call on him for his subscription; and shall call on all annual Members, within one month of the date of their admission, for their subscriptions. He shall have receipt books provided, which receipts shall be signed by the Treasurer, and countersigned by himself when he delivers them. He shall at no time retain more than £.20 in his hands; and as soon as that sum is collected, he shall pay it to the Treasurer. He shall produce his books to the Committee every week, and make his report of Members in arrear every month.

THE SCHOOL AND PUPILS.

I. ANY person desirous of becoming a Pupil on the foundation of the College, must be able to read and to write legibly. Preference shall be given to those youths who shall have received the elements of a good education, and more especially to those who have some knowledge of Surgery and Pharmacy.

II. Candidates qualified according to the preceding article, and not being under the age of fifteen years, nor more than twenty-two, shall apply to the Secretary, to whom they shall deliver a paper, containing their names, age, and place of abode; and the Secretary shall refer the same to the next meeting of the Council or Superintending Committee. The limitation of the age is not extended to practitioners in Medicine or Surgery, or to persons having made some progress in those studies.

III. The

III. The Pupils on the foundation of the College, shall be appointed by the Council; and care shall be taken as much as possible to admit them from different Counties, for the purpose of disseminating the science.

IV. When a Pupil is admitted on the foundation of the College, he shall engage to remain so long in the College as an assistant, as shall be required by the Council, not exceeding two years, and shall give security to the College for that purpose; and for his proper conduct during that time: but he shall be at liberty to retire, on paying to the College so much as he would have done not being on the foundation.

V. Persons qualified according to Rules, No. 1 and 2, will be admitted into the College on paying Twenty Guineas, which will constitute them perpetual Pupils.

VI. Pupils on the foundation who appear to have a taste for drawing, shall have a Master to instruct them. The other Pupils may also attend such Master upon paying for such instruction.

OF THE DISTRIBUTION OF THE STUDIES.

ALTHOUGH the particular distribution of the studies shall be referred to the judgment of the Professor, yet the general order of them shall be nearly as follows:—

The knowledge of the Animal O conomy being indispensable to those who would make any progress in the art of healing, the Pupils shall be first instructed in Zootomy.

FIRST COURSE.

The study of Zootomy shall begin on the 1st of November, and end on the 30th of April of the following year.

SECOND COURSE.

The study of the exterior knowledge of the Horse shall begin on the first of May, and end on the 30th of October. In this course the Pupils shall be taught the good and bad conformation of the animal; as also the external diseases which affect his body and limbs.

THIRD COURSE.

The course of operations shall begin on the first of November, and end the 30th of January of the following year. From the first of February to the 30th of April, the Pupils shall put in practice those surgical operations which they shall have been taught in the preceding course of lectures. This shall employ them the mornings only: in the evening they shall be instructed in the Materia Medica.

FOURTH COURSE.

The Pupils shall attend a course of Pharmacy, to obtain a knowledge of the different preparations; they shall divide their mornings between the Dispensary and Laboratory.

FIFTH

FIFTH COURSE.

A knowledge of the common plants and herbs being necessary to the Veterinary Physician, the Pupils shall attend a course of Botany relative to Veterinary Medicine. This course shall take place in the afternoon, and shall as well as the preceding continue during the summer,

SIXTH COURSE.

It being necessary that the Shoeing of Horses should be perfectly understood, the Pupils shall attend the Forge in the morning. In the evening, Lectures shall be given in Pathology, to prepare them for the practice of the Infirmary.

SEVENTH COURSE.

The Pupils after having gone through every branch of the Veterinary Art, shall be obliged to attend the Infirmary every day, when the Professor shall employ them according to their respective abilities. He shall confide to their care one, two, three, or more animals, whose symptoms they shall be obliged accurately to observe, and note down in a journal, and report the same daily to the Professor. But the treatment of the patients, shall be always directed by the Professor, and strictly adhered to by the Pupil.

EIGHTH COURSE.

The design of the Institution would fail in a great degree, if the Pupils were not to be instructed in the nature of Epizootic diseases to which animals are liable. The Veterinary Physician having before him the Table of Symptoms which characterise diseases, will be enabled to discern the nature of the maladies which he has to encounter, and consequently to make a better choice of remedies proper to remove them. In this course, therefore, the Pupils will be taught the method of distinguishing, preventing, and curing diseases, as they occur in particular animals. The Pupils, having completed their studies, shall undergo a public examination in the theory and practice of every branch of the Veterinary Art; and those who shall be considered as perfectly instructed therein, shall receive a Certificate signed by the Professor, and confirmed by the Council.

It appears from the above division of the studies, that a term of three years is sufficient for a complete education, provided the Pupils are capable, assiduous, and well inclined.

 OF THE INFIRMARY.

AN Infirmary shall be open for the reception of diseased animals belonging to the Members of the College.

No Horses or any animals shall, under any pretence whatever, be received into the College, but those actually the property of Subscribers; and to prevent imposition by servants, no Horse or other Animal will be received that is not accompanied with a cheque signed by the Owner. Blank cheques may always be had on application at the College.

When Horses, &c. are taken from the College, the expenses either of keeping or shoeing shall be paid by the Groom or other person taking the animal from thence, before it shall be delivered to him,

The price of shoeing shall be 1s. per shoe, and the price of keep for horses taken into the Infirmary shall be 2s. per day.

Each Subscriber shall have the privilege of sending one horse at a time to the Infirmary, and when the stalls are occupied, the Horses sent shall be taken in by rotation as the stalls become vacant. A book shall be kept in which shall be inserted the applications for the admission of Horses.

Eight stalls shall be kept vacant for the purpose of admitting Horses in very acute or accidental cases, out of the plan of rotation.

Monday, Wednesday, and Friday shall be the only days of admission into the Infirmary (except in cases of accident) and Tuesday, Thursday, and Saturday the only days of delivery from thence.

When the owner of a Horse or other animal receives notice of his Horse being ready to be discharged from the Infirmary, he shall send for him on the day mentioned in the notice; and shall also send by the Groom or other person, the amount of the keep (which will be specified in the notice) with the notice itself, to prevent any imposition on the College. On neglecting to send for the Horse or other animal on receiving such notice, the price of keep will be advanced double from that time; and on continuance of such neglect, the Committee shall either send the Horse to a livery stable at the expense and risk of the owner, or sell it to pay the charges, as they may think proper; giving the proprietor a week's previous notice of such determination.

No person whatever, the Members of the Council excepted, shall be permitted to go into the Infirmary without the permission of the Professor, nor at any time but between the hours of 11 and 2 o'clock.

If any animal die in the Infirmary, the body shall belong to the College, and the Professor shall open it before the Pupils for their particular instruction.

RULES

RULES CONCERNING THE GROOMS AND HELPERS.

No Grooms, Helpers, &c. shall be retained in the service of the College, but such as are sober and diligent, and approved of by the Superintending Committee.

As the food shall be ordered every day by the Professor according to the state of the patient, the Grooms shall not increase or lessen the portions ordered. This article must be observed with the most rigid exactness.

The Infirmary shall be kept in the greatest degree of cleanliness.

The most gentle treatment of the animals is strictly enjoined. The Groom or Assistant, who shall be convicted of having abused a Horse, &c. shall be instantly discharged:

An Assistant shall be appointed, who will be charged with the care of the Dispensary and Laboratory, under the direction of the Professor.

A Steward shall be appointed, who will be charged with the care of the Forage, &c. belonging to the College.

A Smith shall be appointed, who will be charged with the care of the Forge, subject to the Professor, by whom he shall be appointed or dismissed, with the approbation of the Committee.

Other servants shall be hereafter appointed, as occasion may require.

CONCERNING

THE HOURS OF RISING, RETIRING TO BED, AND MEALS.

I. THE Pupils are to rise at six in the morning, from Lady-day to Michaelmas; and at seven from Michaelmas till Lady-day.

II. The hour of breakfast is eight, of dinner two, and of supper in the summer nine, and winter eight o'clock.

III. Immediately

III. Immediately after supper, the Pupils are to retire to the common sitting room till ten o'clock, at which hour each is to retire to his bedchamber,

IV. No Pupil will be permitted to burn candle in the night under pretence of study; the lights are to be extinguished before the Pupils go to bed, and none are to remain up after eleven o'clock.

V. The Pupils are to take their places at table according to the order of precedence in their several classes.

VI. No commons are to be carried into any private room but in case of sickness, and with leave of the Professor.

VII. No provisions but the commons, are to be dressed in the kitchen for any of the Pupils, nor to be introduced into their apartments from any other quarter. Wine and spirits are absolutely prohibited.

CONCERNING THE STUDIES.

I. Every Pupil is required to attend his studies and the Lectures regularly, according to the appointment of the Professor.

II. The studies of the morning are to commence at nine o'clock and conclude at one o'clock; and in the afternoon afternoon are to commence at four o'clock, and conclude at seven o'clock; the afternoons of Thursday and Saturday excepted.

III. The Professor is to keep a book, in which he is to record the attendance or non-attendance of the Pupils in their respective classes, which book is to be produced to the Committee at their meetings.

IV. There will be a vacation, commencing the fifteenth of August, and ending the thirtieth of September, except with those Pupils who are in the third year of their studies.

CONCERNING THE LIBRARY.

I. Every Pupil who takes a Book out of the Library for his private use, is to make an entry of it in the Library Book, and is to be accountable for it.

II. Every Pupil is to return the Books to their proper places in the Library by four o'clock on Saturday afternoon.

III. No Book belonging to the Library is to be left in any public room, or passage; but must be carefully kept in the possession of the Pupil who takes it from the Library.

IV. No

IV. No Pupil shall take Pens, Ink or Paper, the Library Book, or the Catalogue of Books, out of the Library; nor write in any book belonging to the Library, except the entry of the Books he takes from thence.

CONCERNING

ABSENCE FROM THE COLLEGE AND RETURN, AND TIME OF SHUTTING THE GATES.

I. Nothing but illness will be admitted as an excuse for any of the Pupils absenting themselves from some place of public worship.

II. No Pupil will be permitted to go to London, except by the desire of a Parent, Guardian, or persons properly authorised by them, expressed by a letter to the Professor, unless on some particular emergency, of which the Professor shall judge and report to the Committee at their next meeting.

III. No Pupil is to go beyond the boundaries of the College after the gates are locked in the evening, without permission from the Professor; and every Pupil who has leave of absence in the day, is to return to the College before the gates are locked.

IV. The

IV. The gates are to be locked from Lady-day till Michaelmas at eight o'clock, and from Michaelmas till Lady-day at seven o'clock.

V. Every Pupil who leaves or enters the College premises, by any other way than the gates, is guilty of a misdemeanour; and if this offence be committed after the gates are locked, it will be considered as a high aggravation.

VI. Every Pupil who passes the night out of the College, without leave from the Committee, (except as requested in No. II.) will be expelled, or suffer such other punishment as the circumstances may require.

MISCELLANEOUS.

I. There shall be no intercourse between the Pupils and the domestic servants; nor shall they go into the kitchen, or those parts of the house where the servants are occupied in their necessary employments.

II. Whoever breaks, or in any respect injures, the utensils or furniture belonging to the College, shall pay for or replace the articles.

III. No visitors shall be admitted but in the intervals of study, and the Pupils shall not be allowed to entertain them, or each other, with any thing but tea and coffee.

IV. No

IV. No Pupil shall on any pretence whatever take from the College, or lend to any person, any copy of the Professor's manuscripts; or any notes or memorandums of his Lectures.

V. No Pupil shall interrupt the studies of the other Pupils, by quarrelling or playing; nor will any improper language or conversation be tolerated on any account, either in the hours of study, or at any other time; and the only distinctions in the College will arise from regular behaviour, and diligent application.

VI. Every Pupil shall punctually attend to the foregoing Regulations, and also to the directions of the Professor. Every act of disobedience will incur, on the first offence, the reprimand of the Professor; on the second offence, the Professor is required to make a report to the Committee, who may either impose a fine, or, if they think proper, report the matter to the Council at their first meeting, with whom remains the power of expulsion.

Payment of fines is not considered as in any degree an adequate compensation for an habitual breach of any of the laws; and as the Professor is expected to make a regular report to the Committee, with regard to the observance or violation of them: they will be strictly supported, as well for the reputation and improvement of the Pupils, as for the general credit and benefit of the Institution.

The money arising from fines to be appropriated to the purchase of books for the Library.
