BOURNE PUBLIC HEALTH INSPECTOR

Under the Local Government Act, 1972, there is now no statutory requirement to publish an Annual Report. Additionally, as from 31st March, 1974, the Aylesbury Borough Council ceased to exist, so that, in fact, there is no corporate body to whom the Report can be presented.

It is considered, however, that the very useful statistical information that has been collected during 1973 and for the first quarter of 1974 should be recorded.

This Report, therefore, is basically statistical information covering the period 1st January, 1973 to 31st March, 1974.

MILK AND DAIRIES

There are sixty-one retailers of milk in the Borough registered under the above Regulations.

ICE CREAM

There are one hundred and twenty-one premises in the town registered for the sale of ice cream, in addition, a number of vendors, who are not subject to registration, tour the streets in mobile vehicles selling ice cream and ice lollies. Most of the mobile ice cream vendors now sell soft ice cream, and the majority of the bacteriological sampling of ice cream, in the Department, is directed towards this outlet.

The following table shows the grading which was given to the various bacteriological samples submitted for examination. Grade 3 and 4 samples are considered to be unsatisfactory, and the principal reason for an unsatisfactory sample being obtained is the inadequate cleansing of the equipment.

Out of a total of nineteen samples of ice cream which were examined bacteriologically during the period, seven were unsatisfactory.

The ice cream samples examined during the period were graded as follows:-

Grade 1	...	11 samples
Grade 2	...	1 sample
Grade 3	...	6 samples
Grade 4	...	1 sample

Thirty-five visits were paid to ice cream dealers premises and premises from which mobile vans operated during the fifteen months covered by the report.

OFFICES, SHOPS AND RAILWAY PREMISES ACT, 1963

One hundred and twenty-three inspections and re-inspections under the provisions of the above Act were made during the fifteen months under review. Ten informal notices for contraventions of the Act were served. Generally speaking, however, the notices were for contraventions of a minor nature.

Sixteen accidents were reported during the period under review.

One of these accidents involved a 16 yrs old boy, who lost the tops of three fingers of his left hand whilst cleaning a hand operated slicing machine. Although the legal notices were displayed near the machine, this apprentice had been in the habit of cleaning it.

A prosecution was taken against the Company under sections 18 and 19 of the Offices, Shops and Railway Premises Act, 1963. However, the Magistrates dismissed the summons on both counts, being satisfied that so far as section 18 was concerned, the Company had exercised due diligence, and so far as section 19 was concerned, it was considered that the apprentice was under adequate supervision.

The following table gives a number of statistics in connection with visits to offices and shops:-
