URBAN DISTRICT COUNCIL OF FAREHAM

TELEPHONE :
Fareham 2431.

PUBLIC HEALTH DEPARTMENT,
130 WEST STREET,
FAREHAM, HANTS.

June, 1970.

TO THE CHAIRMAN AND COUNCILLORS OF THE URBAN DISTRICT
COUNCIL OF FAREHAM

Mr. Chairman, Ladies and Gentlemen,

I have the honour to submit the Annual Report of the Public Health Department for 1969.

Once again the Registrar-General's estimated population 79,740, has shown a steady increase, this time of 2,410 on the number for 1968. Natural increase or excess of births over deaths was 566, so that most of the increase has come from immigration to this district. The number of births registered, 1,290, gives a birth rate of 16.2 per 1,000 population and is lower than that of 16.3 per 1,000 population for England and Wales.

The crude death rate of 9.1 per 1,000 population and the corrected death rate of 10.2 are well below that of 11.2⁹ per 1,000 population for England and Wales. The infant mortality rate of 15 per 1,000 live births is more satisfactory for 1969 and is lower than the figure of 18 per 1,000 live births for England and Wales. In each Annual Report I include a table showing the principal vital statistics for the Urban District covering a ten-year period and it gives some interesting figures. Diseases of the heart and blood vessels caused 378 deaths and 176 were attributed to Coronary disease. Malignant disease accounted for 148 deaths with 37 deaths from Cancer of the Lung and Bronchus providing a large proportion. Some of the Infectious diseases, thanks to large-scale immunisation are no longer a major problem in public health, but there can be no let up in the vaccination programmes. Diphtheria, Whooping Cough, Tetanus, Smallpox, Tuberculosis and Anterior Poliomyelitis have been largely controlled but Influenza can still cause major disruption in the public services and in industry. The Council Staff were offered vaccination against Influenza and 55 were vaccinated.

Although Funtley Abattoir is no longer a public slaughterhouse the throughput there is still very large. Following a number of meetings with the new owners, times for hours of slaughtering and meat inspection were settled amicably. All meat leaving the Abattoir has been fully inspected and stamped and the meat inspection staff situation is satisfactory.

I should like to express my gratitude to Mr. D. E. C. Hayward, Chief Public Health Inspector, both for the details of the work carried out by the Public Health Inspectors and for his very valuable assistance at all times.

In conclusion, I wish to thank the members of the Council, in particular the Chairman and Members of the Health Committee, for their keen interest in the Department, the Chief Officers for their co-operation, and all the staff of this Department for their high standard of work throughout the year.

I have the honour to be,

Mr. Chairman, Ladies and Gentlemen,

Your obedient servant,

M. CROWLEY,

Medical Officer of Health.

- (c) Portsmouth Water Company—supplying Crofton
2,949 houses — 8,554 population.
- (d) Southampton Waterworks—supplying Locks Heath,
Sarisbury, Titchfield and Warsash
5,879 houses — 23,500 population.

The Portsmouth Water Company take frequent water samples for both bacteriological and chemical analysis at their laboratory, and this Department also takes regular weekly samples of water for bacteriological examination. The Laboratory reports show that a very high standard of bacteriological purity in the water is maintained.

2. Drainage and Sewerage

The Sewerage Works at Salterns, Fareham, is grossly overloaded. This has resulted from the population increase in the district and also from the increased water consumption per head of population. A complete breakdown in the drainage system of the district served has not occurred owing to the location of the works. Sited alongside Fareham creek, some of the excess flow is passed untreated into the creek, some is passed in after partial treatment and the remainder after full treatment. The pollution of the creek has led to numerous complaints and as these are well-founded, radical measures for sewerage disposal are urgently required.

3. Refuse Collection

The refuse collection service provided is very satisfactory.

6. Shops Act, 1950

Ninety-five visits were made to new shops or to premises where a change of occupier had occurred. Stocks of the relevant notices are retained in the Department for sale to shop occupiers.

7. Offices, Shops and Railway Premises Act, 1963

REGISTRATIONS. The number of registered premises has remained much the same as last year and approximately 70% of the premises have been inspected during the course of the year.

NOTIFICATIONS. Only one complaint from an employee is on record ; concerning inadequate temperature during a particularly cold period. The firm concerned complied with a written request to provide more heating. Thirteen accidents were reported, fortunately none of them serious, and all those resulting from falls were investigated without finding any particular cause. Although this year most of the accidents happened to men, in all five accidents involving women, a fall was the cause in four cases and stepping on glass the cause of the fifth. While men injure themselves in a variety of ways, the women seem invariably to fall or damage their feet, which is probably attributable to inadequate footwear.

8. Caravan Sites and Control of Development Act, 1960

Nine licences were in operation during the year in respect of sites in the area, permitting the siting of 168 residential caravans and 256 holiday caravans.

Nineteen individual site licences are in operation. There are, in addition, a number of caravans in the area which are, by virtue of exemptions provided in the Act, not subject to planning permission or site licence.

9. Pet Animals Act, 1951 and Animal Boarding Establishments Act, 1963

During the year six licences were issued under the Pet Animals Act. Ten licences were renewed under the Animal Boarding Establishments Act.

10. Riding Establishments Act, 1964

Two premises were licensed under this Act during the year.

INSPECTION AND SUPERVISION OF FOOD

(1) MILK SUPPLY

Milk (Special Designation) Regulations, 1963

The following licences were in operation during the year :

Dealers' (Pasteurisers') Licences	1
Dealers' (Pre-packed Milk) Licences	53

Sampling

Samples were taken regularly from milk dealers and the two dairies to ensure that the milk was satisfactory, as follows :

Pasteurised Milk	82
Sterilised Milk	1
Untreated Milk	32
Ultra Heat treated Milk	7

Three samples of Pasteurised Milk failed the methylene blue test.

Antibiotic Testing

Twenty-six samples submitted for examination, penicillin traces were present in one sample.

Biological Testing

Three samples of raw milk were submitted and Br. Abortus was isolated in all three samples submitted for testing. No tuberculosis was present.

Brucellosis.

Five cultures for brucella were negative and three were positive.

Liquid Egg (Pasteurisation) Regulations, 1963

There are no egg pasteurising plants within the Urban District and no samples were taken. Liquid egg from the two egg-packing stations are used for animal feeding only.

Poultry Inspection

There are no poultry processing premises in the district.

The Public Analyst criticised twelve labels of the samples submitted, in most cases the manufacturers agreed to alter or reprint the labels. Consultations with the Analyst and the manufacturer helped to resolve some of the difficulties caused by the complexities of the Labelling of Food Orders. Other samples criticised included meat pasties deficient in meat, and the department was able to assist the baker by examining cooked and uncooked products to determine the weight of meat required to comply with the regulations. Brown rice which had an unpleasant smell when cooked was not abnormal and apparently was acceptable to the immigrant population for whom it is mainly imported. A complaint of glass in processed cheese proved to be harmless emulsifying salts, much to the relief of the housewife who had used it for her husband's sandwiches. Another resident was alarmed to find that potatoes bought from a door-to-door salesman were packed in pig-feed bags printed with warnings of poisonous substances. Examination of potatoes and bag failed to find any poisonous residues, but unfortunately the salesman could not be traced to warn him of the malpractice.

Section 13 — Food Hygiene Regulations

Regular visits to food premises continue to be made, but continuity of inspection is made difficult by the constant change of occupiers of the smaller shops. Frequently the new owner is completely unaware of any regulations and a lot of time can be spent explaining his responsibilities. The public continue to be on the alert for bad food handling practices and visit the office to report what they have seen. One such case involved smoking by a food-handler and it was decided to print "No Smoking" notices informing food-handlers of the regulation forbidding smoking whilst handling open food or in a room where open food is exposed.

Section 16 — Registered Premises

ICE CREAM: Three applications were made during the year for registration of premises for the sale and storage of ice cream. The total number of premises registered is 211.

Forty-seven visits were made for sampling purposes and eighty-one samples obtained with the following results:—

Grade I	48
Grade II	22
Grade III	6
Grade IV	2

Grades I and II are satisfactory results. The retailers of the Grades III and IV samples were advised on handling and storage and the registration authorities notified. Repeat samples were taken at the delivery vehicles and the registration authority co-operated by sampling at the factory.

Three samples of ice-lollies were satisfactory.

(3) EDUCATIONAL ACTIVITY

Talks on food hygiene and allied subjects were given during the year and the annual invitation by the Council to young voters provided the opportunity to display the work of the department in a small exhibition

MEAT INSPECTION

The senior Meat Inspector reports as follows :

The Government experimental slaughterhouse which was constructed and designed by the Ministry of Food in 1952 and then operated by the Wessex Slaughterhouses Board became a privately owned slaughterhouse during the year and it was necessary for the local authority to agree with the occupier the hours of slaughter and inspection. Meat inspection staff give a service for 56 hours a week and are always present when slaughtering is in operation, maintaining one hundred per cent inspection.

The number of animals slaughtered in 1969 showed an increase over the previous year. Increases in throughput over the past years are mainly due to the export of meat to the continent, where higher prices are obtained for most classes of meat.

With the increase in the number of animals slaughtered, difficulties were often experienced in providing adequate chilling accommodation and consideration will have to be given to the provision of additional chilling facilities if the premises are to comply with the standards required by the European Economic Council's regulations. Overloading of the premises was caused by holding of beef carcasses for a number of days. The capacity of the chillers is sufficient for approximately two days' kill.

The handling and disposal of waste materials and by-products from the premises are not entirely satisfactory, particularly the number of containers used to collect this material, and also the vehicles used for collection, which are not in some cases of the required standards. Firms responsible for the collection and processing of unsound meat and offal have been approached on this matter and it is hoped that an improvement will materialise when certain legal definitions of the Meat Sterilisation Regulations have been clarified.

The number of cases of cysticercosis continues to fall : the majority of cysts found have been of a degenerate type and carcasses have not been sent for cold storage treatment. Carcasses with viable cysts are, however, recorded and treated in cold storage.

2. Diphtheria Immunisation

No confirmed case of Diphtheria was notified here in 1969. The antigen against Diphtheria is combined with that against Whooping Cough and Tetanus and the age recommended for immunisation is six months. Parents are invited to take their children to their nearest clinic or, if they prefer, to their family doctor. In both cases the service can be carried out free of charge under the National Health Service.

Immunisation was carried out during 1969 at the Child Welfare Clinics at Fareham, Hill Park, Locks Heath, Portchester, Sarisbury, Stubbington and Warsash. Immunisation clinics giving reinoculations were also held at eight local authority schools.

In all, 4,079 children were immunised during the year, as follows :

5. Measles Vaccination

During the year 2,727 children were immunised against Measles. Twenty clinics were held in schools in the District.

6. Influenza

The Council Staff were offered vaccination against Influenza and 55 were vaccinated.

7. Dysentery

An outbreak of Sonne Dysentery occurred in a private school during the early part of the year. Advice on personal hygiene and washing facilities was given and acted on, and helped to control the outbreak in a comparatively short time. Twenty-one cases or carriers were discovered and of the 246 faecal specimens submitted for bacteriological examination thirty-six gave positive results. We are deeply indebted to Dr. D. J. Payne, Director of the Portsmouth Public Health Laboratory and his staff, for carrying out all the bacteriological examinations.

Sewer Maintenance

Testing of the public sewers in the Fareham, Portchester and Crofton Wards was carried out between the 21st April and the 8th May, 1969. Two hundred and ninety-three manholes were tested with negative results in two hundred and eighty-four cases. The areas indicated by the nine "takes" were poisoned at thirty-three points.
