Many HIV-negative men believe that if someone is willing to have unprotected sex with them, they will also be HIV-negative.

And many HIV-positive men believe that if someone is willing to have unprotected sex with them, it's because they are also HIV-positive.

If someone you're going to have sex with doesn't mention HIV, it doesn't mean that he has the same HIV status as you. It just means he's chosen not to talk about it.

Many gay men have HIV but have not been diagnosed. The Health Protection Agency estimates that there are about 32,000 gay men with HIV in the UK, with at least one in four of these unaware of their infection.

You can protect yourself and your partners by using condoms when you fuck.
