June. 27th 1913

Dear Sir,

Will you please send me on a letter, saying how you think my brother is getting on, what improvement has been made, whether we may look for him to be back again with us at an early date, and also the possibilities with regard to the future.

When last I was over and saw him I was delighted to find him in such good form, and like his old self, but the few minutes that I had with you, left me with a rather peculiar feeling, and especially with regard to the future outlook.

Three months has gone by and I was hoping to see him back with us by now, but during the last month I cannot say that my expectations have been realized, and now ~~although~~ I feel somewhat disappointed I know the best that could be done has been done for him. Still I am anxious to know the ground on which I am treading and now the three months have expired, you will by now have arrived, in your own mind, at the conclusion of this matter stand exactly with him, and it is only fair to him and to us, to try and face the situation, whatever it may be, pleasant or otherwise.

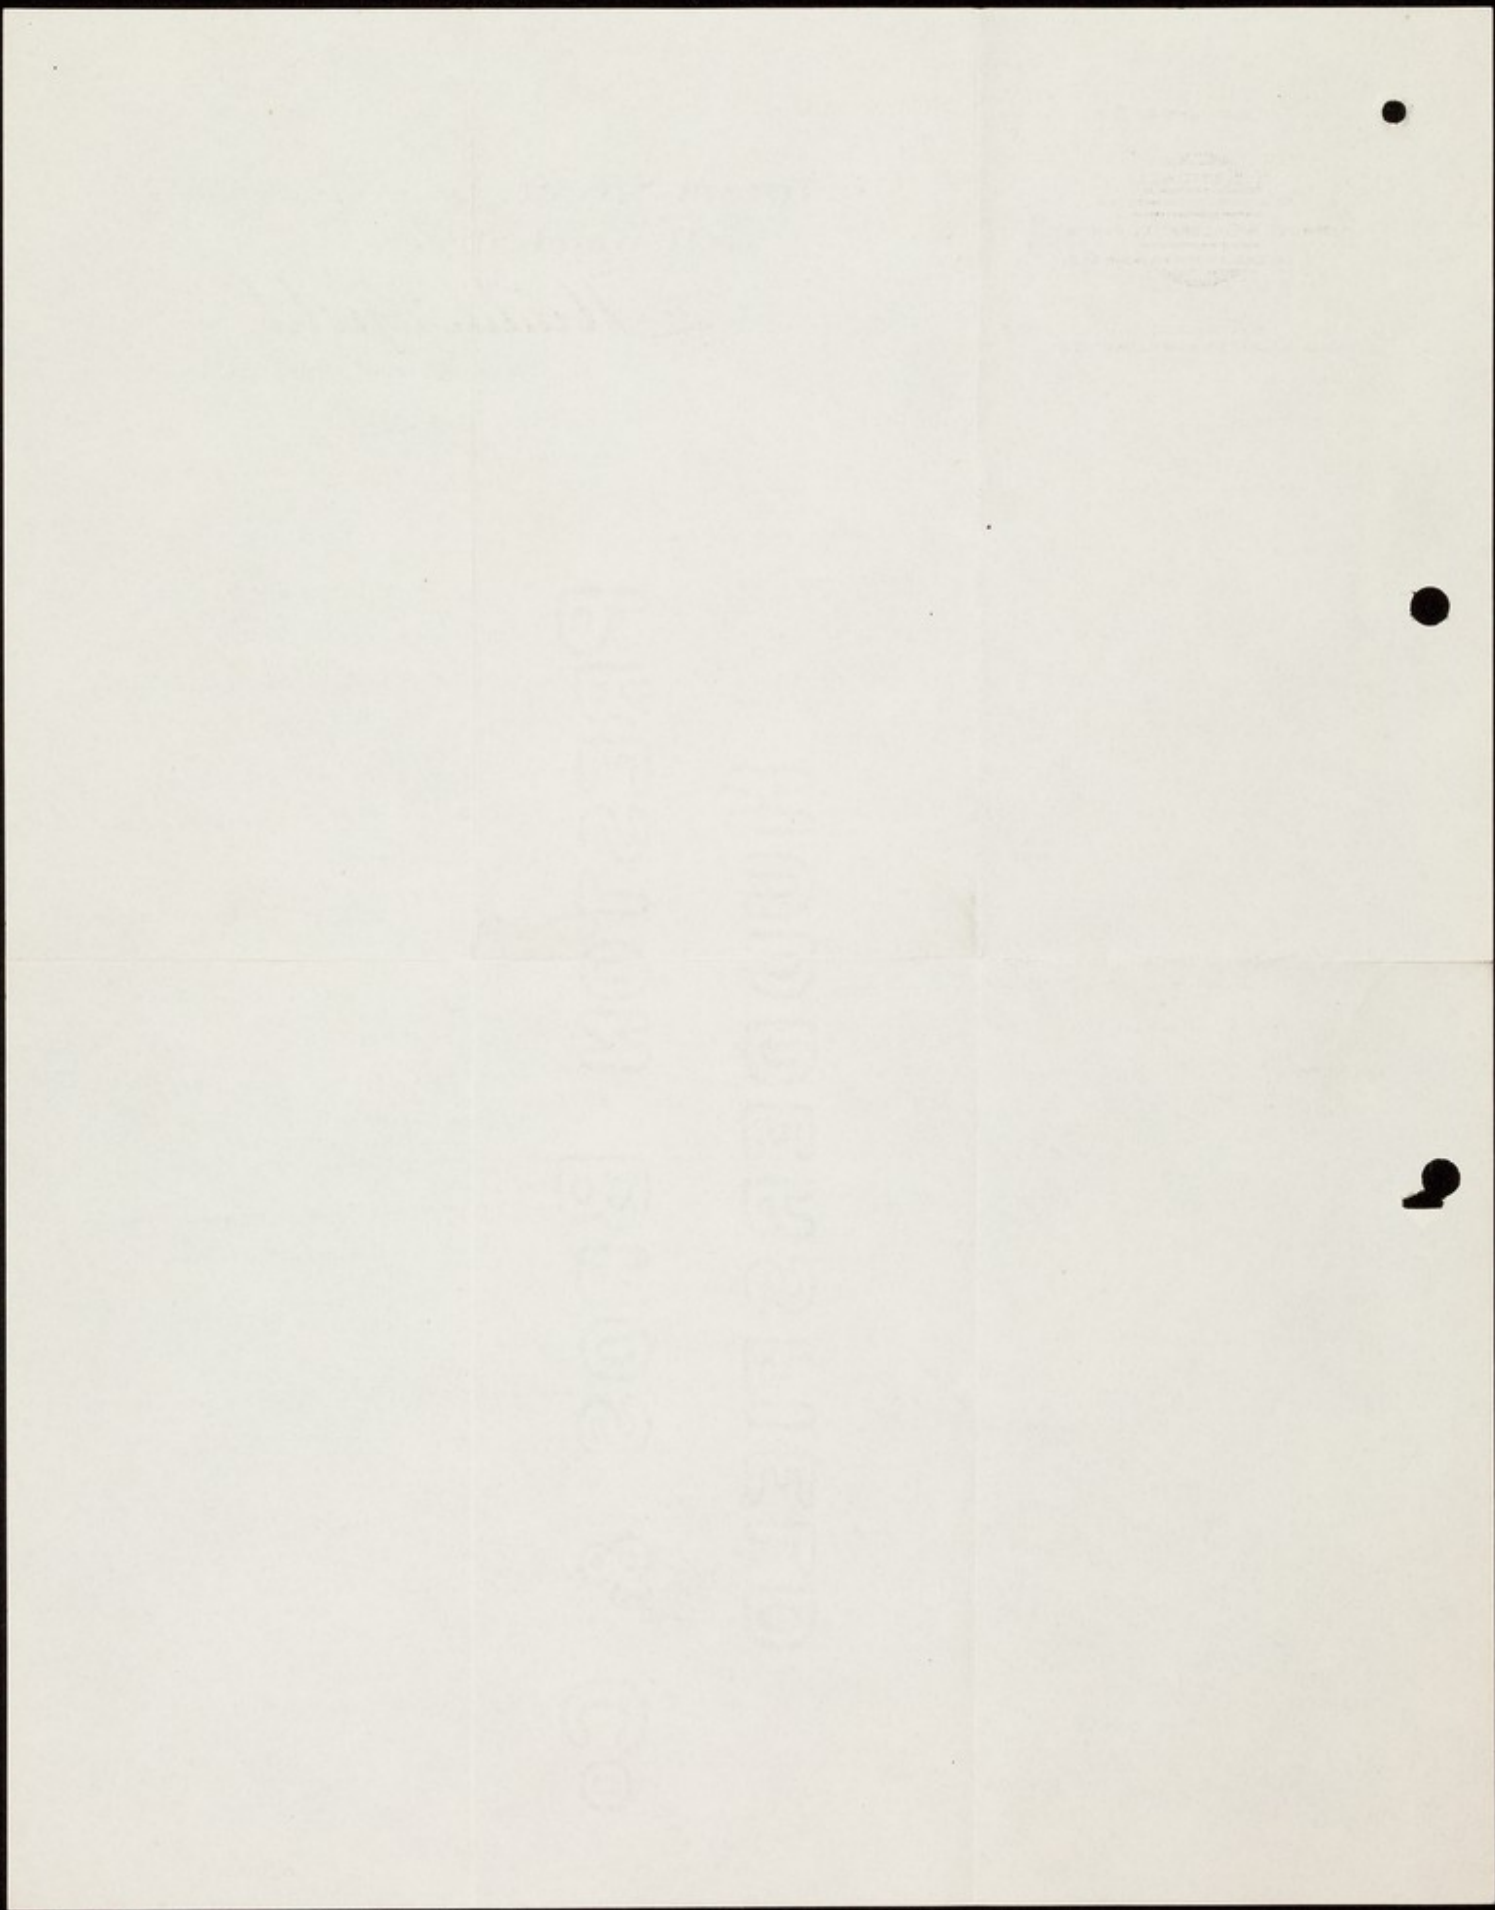

I think you will understand me, and I await your reply.

Yours Sincerely

Henry B. Kendall

Y. D. Pearce

Yours.

excuse us all and if you would send me word as to the amount for both consultations I will send you on a cheque for the same. I am sorry to find you cannot give any better hopes.
Of my sister but I am hardly surprised for I have been hearing today about her condition last night and also this morning.
Thanking you very much for kindness and consideration and hoping you ^{will} kindly

Dear Dr Percie.

I am extremely sorry to find that my relatives have forgotten to mention to you about your fee today.
I must also apologise for my forgetfulness last week in coming away
after doing the same thing.
I hope you will kindly overlook our forgetfulness believe me

Yours faithfully
