25th September 1916.

Sir,

I write, on behalf of the Commissioners of the Board of Control, to inquire whether Mr. Edwin D. Nutt is still insane, and in a fit mental and bodily condition for transfer to another Institution.

Is this patient either suicidal or dangerous, or inclined to be so?

Dear Sir,

I am in receipt of yours of the 20th inst. and for which I thank you, also for the suggestion as to the Crickton Royal Institute, Dumfries. but that, taken at the terms you mention, with the extras added on, would still be somewhat beyond our means. It was only by my Son having managed to save a little from his salary, that it has been possible for him to continue with you as long as he has done; but now that has come practically to an end, and it is therefore with great regret that we have to remove him from your care.

I would take this opportunity of expressing both for M^{rs} Nutt and myself, our gratitude to you and those of your staff who have attended on our Son, for your endeavours to restore him to health both physically and mentally; and we feel sure that had you been backed up by my Son trying to assist you, he would ere this, have been quite restored.

Again sincerely thanking you

I remain, dear Sir,

Yours faithfully
R. Dyson Nutt.

20th September, 1916.

Dear Mr. Nutt,

I am very sorry to hear that Mr. Nutt must be transferred and that you feel obliged to send him to the County Asylum at Clifton. However, we quite understood that the present rate of terms could not be continued indefinitely.

We are much disappointed that Mr. Nutt has not recovered, but the poor man seems to have little incentive to get well. He seems to have little hope for the future even if he did recover for the present.

I wondered if it would be more comfortable for him if he were placed in one of the larger Institutions in Scotland, such as the Crichton Royal Institution, Dumfries where I daresay they would receive him for 25/- to 30/- per week. I do not wish to suggest that the Asylum at Clifton does not provide everything necessary for the patient, but you will readily understand that the associations at a public Institution receiving county patients are less satisfactory than in a Royal Asylum for private patients.

I remain,

Yours very truly,

South, September, 1910.

Dear Mr. Hall,

I am very sorry to hear that Mr. Hall was so transferred and that you feel obliged to send him to the country. However, we quite understand that the present rate of letters could not be continued.

Respectfully,

We are much disappointed that Mr. Hall has not returned, but the hope is that he will be able to return to his home in the near future. It seems to have little hope for the future even if he did recover for the present.

I wondered if it would be more comfortable for him if he were placed in one of the larger institutions, Scotland, such as the Edinburgh Royal Institution, which there I have they would receive him for $500 to $600 per week. I do not wish to suggest that the Royal Institution does not provide everything necessary for its patients, but you will readily understand that the association of a public institution receiving country patients is less satisfactory than in a private hospital for private patients.

I remain,

Yours very truly,

we all appreciate the attention and kind treatment he has received at The Retreat.

We all feel sure that everything possible has been done for him.

Dear S. Keene,

When I last saw you, I mentioned that ultimately it would be necessary, to remove my brother to a less expensive place.

I am afraid that the time has now arrived when this must be done.

We are very reluctant to take this step, as he is so exceedingly comfortable and well cared for in The Retreat.

We hoped that before this, he would have recovered from his ailment, but unfortunately this is not so.

I saw him last month and although I thought he looked somewhat improved in health, mentally he seemed no better.

As we cannot afford at the present time to place him in a private home, the only alternative appears to be, to try & place him in the County Asylum at Clifton.

We are taking this step, needless to say, very much against our inclination, & can only hope that some arrangement may be made there, to get him as much comfort as possible.

My father writes me that he is communicating with the people at Clifton, and I hope to write you again in a few days.

On behalf of our family, I should like to say how very much

Dear Mr. Nutt,

Many thanks for the cheque, a receipt for which is enclosed.

On the whole Mr. Nutt is slightly better. He has been taking more interest in things, volunteering more remarks, and his peculiarities are not so marked. He has been taking a great deal of interest in a billiard tournament, in which he has done very well. He himself says he is no better, but we all notice some improvement.

Dear Sir,

I should like to visit my brother on Sunday first, and, if convenient, should like to see you.

I understand from my father that your last report is unfavourable, and that he is, if anything, both mentally & physically, worse.

We are now faced with the problem of expense, and the question will soon arise as to the best way out.

My father suggests that we might apply for a reduction of fees, but I observe from your leaflet, that this only applies to recent acute cases, and I am afraid that my brother's case appears to be chronic, & that the possibility of obtaining any reduction does not apply.

If that is so, we shall all be greatly obliged, if you can suggest any institution where he can obtain reasonable care & comfort, at a less rate than he is at present paying.

We had all hoped that his affliction would be very temporary, & to give him every chance, we applied to you, & were fortunate in placing him in the Retreat.
Despite the care & attention he has received, and which we deeply appreciate, he has apparently made no progress towards recovery.

We shall be very thankful for any suggestion you can offer.

Unless I hear from you that it is inconvenient to see you, I hope to arrive on Sunday about 12.30.

Dear Mr. Nutt,

Just a line to say that the parcel were received, and I hope that your son will have acknowledged them himself. I encouraged him to do so.

He is not well either bodily or mentally, though there is little change to report. As regards his mental condition he lacks interest in things, is dull and gloomy, is disinclined to go out, sits about in the corridors reading and picking his nails, and we can do little good by encouragement. Physically he looks out of health. He is really somewhat feeble and certainly is not well enough to do any strenuous work. I attribute most of this to the exophthalmic goitre. I am sorry that I cannot give a better report.

I am sorry for the delay in replying to your letter. Mr. Nutt is not any better, or at any rate, there are no indications of decided improvement. He is gloomy, depressed and thinks he is suffering from some mortal disease. We have been doing our best to check his unfortunate habit of biting his nails, and he is wearing gloves day and night. Whether we shall succeed or not I cannot say, but so far he is doing better, though he has worn out one pair already with rubbing at the fingers.

Dear Mr. Nutt,

I enclose a Nurse's Report respecting Mr. Nutt. He improved very much on first coming to the Retreat, but since then there is not much change. He is in a dull depressed state, and is quite convinced that he is suffering from some hopeless disease of a nervous nature and that he cannot live long. One day he assured me that he had either General Paralysis or Locomotor Ataxy, and though I explained to him that this was entirely wrong he was not satisfied, and is quite sure that there is some progressive disease. He seems quite hopeless about his future and says he can never be any good, has nothing to live for, and certainly I think that his bereavement has a great deal to do with his present unhappy condition.

good offices, that again a change for the better will be obtained -

For some time previous to his wife's death he was always imagining that he was suffering from some complaint or another; for instance, about two or three months before the loss of his wife he told both her & myself that he had heart disease and he might drop dead at anytime. I got Dr. Stephens to examine him, who stated that there was nothing the matter with his heart; but Edwin would not believe him; and again about a fortnight before he left for the District he told me he feared he would be blind in a day or two. We therefore trust that his present ideas of what he is suffering from will pass away; and that the next report you are kind enough to send, will be more encouraging.

Dear Sir,

My eldest Son (aged 44 years) through the prolonged illness and death of his Wife, has lost for the time being his Mental balance. He imagines that he has behaved in the past very badly to his Wife, and that he has been also a most-wicked man: and whilst we his friends know to be nearly all untrue, he has also become somewhat mentally wrong on Religion: so far as it affects himself.
I have therefore concluded that it may shortly be necessary to put him under restraint for a time.

Having had your Patient mentioned to me, as an establishment wherein he would be, under your treatment, most likely to regain his Normal Mental balance, I would
