PREFACE.

THE nature and design of this Work are too obvious to require explanation: but as it is constructed on a plan differing from most other Catalogues, an apology may be needful for its peculiarities. If it be objected that it was superfluous to copy every word of the title of each book, the information gained by reading the full titles, compared with what a list containing little more than names and dates can give, will be a sufficient answer. An alphabetical arrangement is an unsatisfactory method of describing a collection of books; for without a considerable knowledge of bibliography it will be needful often to search through the whole; while a well classed catalogue of a library is a lasting analysis of its contents, and a ready guide to every inquirer. The classification into which the Lewisham books are here reduced, will tend to show how advantageously a like plan might be adopted in the great Libraries of this country; and indeed, there are no other means of readily ascertaining what are their comparative riches in the several departments of literature. The notes may be perhaps considered too frequent and diffuse; but the useful, or original, and sometimes very curious matter that they contain, will (it is hoped) sufficiently compensate for their abundance.

Next to Biography, one of the most interesting subjects of Literary History, is, the origin and growth of Libraries: but the little attention that has been bestowed on it, has been the cause of our ignorance of a thousand valuable facts, which if brought to light would be readily acknowledged as such. The identification and authenticity of important MSS. the discovery of the MS. notes and criticisms of learned men from their autographs existing in the books, and the real names of the authors of works published either anonymously or under fictitious names, would be the frequent results of minute researches in great libraries, and of the disclosure of smaller collections which abound in this country: and if no very important facts of these kinds be found in the present volume, yet there are some that are too interesting to be disregarded. It scarcely needs to be added, that no pains have been spared by the compiler to secure accuracy; and that his grateful acknowledgements are due to several gentlemen for their valuable advice and co-operation.

MEMORIALS

THE FAMILY OF COLFE,

AND OF

THE LIFE AND CHARACTER

REVEREND ABRAHAM COLFE.

THE ancestors of the Reverend Abraham Colfe were descended of an English family,¹ and settled at Calais; where his "grandfather, Amandus or Almantius Colfe, and Catherine Bradfield his wife, good Christians and zealous professors of the Gospel," had a considerable estate, which they lost on the capture of Calais by the French in 1558. Shortly after, on the death of the persecuting Queen Mary, many of the Calisians and French Protestants came to England, and settled in Canterbury, in such numbers that the undercroft of the Cathedral was appointed for their place of worship, which is still continued to their descendants.¹ Among these came AMANDUS COLFE; who, in an antient pedigree, is described as "Aymon Colf of Guysnes" not far from Calais, where his wife's father, John Bradfield (son of Thomas Bradfield, of Namptwich, in Cheshire) was living.² What other children her father had, is unknown, but she is called a 'co-heir' in the Kentish Visitation of 1619.³ They fixed their dwelling in a house without the West-gate of Canterbury, which they dwelt in all their life, and which was afterward occupied by their son Joseph. They were both buried in the neighbouring church, called "Rood-church;" and their grandson Abraham left a bequest for the perpetual preservation of their monument.

Nothing is known of their eldest child William: he probably died young. Their second son, RICHARD COLFE, was brought from Calais when about eight years old, and was sent to London to be educated at Christ's Hospital.⁴ Having entered at Christ-church College, Oxford, he took his degrees in Arts, and was at length made Doctor of Divinity, on the 30th of June 1608.⁵ He succeeded Richard Willoughby in the fifth stall of the choir of Canterbury Cathedral, probably not long before the tyrannical visitation of Archbishop Whitgift in 1589, at which time his name was placed last on the list of Canons.⁶ He became Vicar of Herne near Canterbury, in May 1590;¹ and he continued to perform his duties there till the year of his death. He was thrice married: by his first wife, — Thorneton (about 1579) he had two sons, Abraham and Isaac,² both of whom he brought up to the ministry; and by his second wife, Alice Strughill of Lydd (married in November 1588), he had a son Joseph, and his only daughter Elizabeth.³ His third wife was Mary Karalak,⁴ a widow, the daughter of Dr. Richard Rogers, Dean of Canterbury and Suffragan Bishop of Dover; to whom he was contracted in marriage before the 28th of March 1596, which is the date of a settlement made on them by her father:⁵ their four children were named Richard, Benjamin, ² ISAAC COLFE was entered at Christ Church, Oxford, and took his degrees of B. A. 14 Oct. 1608, and M. A. 4 June, 1611. (Wood's Fasti, I. 325, 342.) Taking holy orders, he was admitted to the vicarage of Herne, 22 June, 1613, a short time before his father's death, who probably resigned that living in his favour, as he did in his turn for his cousin Jacob Colfe, M. A. (second son of Isaac Colfe the elder: see Wood's Ath. Oxon. I. 590) who was admitted 19 Sept. 1616, and died in the following year. (Hasted, I. 506, 8^o.) He seems then to have been settled in the ministry at Milton, near Sittingbourn, in Kent; as he is described thereof in two bonds relative to the conveyance of his brother Ralph's estates at Ashford to Abr. Colfe, 1 Aug. 1622 and 4 May 1625. The next notice of him that occurs, is his presentation, by Lady Mary Cooke, to the Rectory of Chaldwell in Essex, 23 Oct. 1635. (Register of Bp. Laud, f. 90, cited in Newcourt's Repertorium Ecclesiasticum, 1710, fol. II. 125; and by Bp. Kennet in Bliss-es edition of Wood's A. O. III. 390.) He died in the close of the year 1648; and his will was proved in the Prerogative Court of Canterbury, 7 January 1649; wherein he bequeathed to his brother Abraham those books now in Lewisham Library which bear his autograph. See also the Pedigree.

³ See the Pedigree, and Appendix No. 5.

This was a demise of a house and 20 acres of land, at Barrow-hill, in the parish of Ashford, to Robert Jysoppe and Thomas Shillingford, for the use of himself the Dean, and Ann his wife, during their lives, and of his daughter and

John, and Ralph. This venerable man, universally esteemed for his learning, virtue, and piety, died in the year in which he was Vice-Dean, on the 7th of October, 1613; and was buried on the 12th of the same month, in the north aisle of the nave of the Cathedral: on which occasion a funeral Sermon was preached to a numerous assembly, by Thomas Wilson, one of his fellow-prebendaries.¹ The following inscription, probably composed by his eldest son Abraham, is engraved on a mural tablet:²

The chief object of these memoirs being to pourtray the life and character of the reverend Abraham Colfe, eldest her husband afterward, and their children, with remainder to the right heirs of his daughter. This estate being held in gavelkind, descended to their youngest son Ralph Colfe (then of Norton in Kent, gent.), who demised it to his eldest brother Abraham by deed dated 29 Apr. 1626.

son of Dr. Richard Colfe, it is desirable here to notice his uncles, the other sons of Amandus, the ancestor of the Colfe family, that the following narrative may be uninterrupted.¹

JOSEPH COLFE, the third son of Amandus Colfe, was born at Canterbury shortly after his parents came thither;² and on their death, he occupied their dwelling-house.³ He seems to be the son described in the Bradfeld pedigree⁴ only as "apprentize wth Thomas Colf;" but who that person was, or what was his trade or profession does not appear: he became at length an Alderman of the City of Canterbury, and in 1611 was chosen Mayor.⁵ He was the Master of Maynard's Hospital, and in 1617 finished the building and repaired the chapel.⁶ He was also a Justice of the Peace; and in 1619 he attended the Heralds' Visitation of the County of Kent, and attested the pedigree of his family.⁷ He died on the 24th of June in the following year, and was buried in the church of St.

² In 1558. He is said to have died at the age of 62 years, on his portrait in the Guild-hall. See Gostling's Walks round Canterbury, p. 45. (Third Edition, 1779.)

³ Abr. Colfe's Will, p. 9.

⁴ Only two sons are there described: the elder is simply called "the Preacher," namely Richard. MS. 1 D. 14, fo. 115, in the Heralds' College. It is remarkable that about the same time there was another Thomas Colf living, who cannot be attached to the pedigree: he was M. A. and was admitted to the Rectory of S. Mary Bothaw, London, 3 Aug. 1588. (Newcourt, I. 448.)

" Nere unto this place lyeth interred the body of Joseph Colfe, Esquire, Alderman, sometimes Maior and Justice of the Peace of this Cittye. Hee departed this life the 24th of June, Anno Domini 1620. His first wife Bradwine, by whom he had issue nine children, where of fowre were deceased before his death : he left behind him his second wife Margaret, three Sonnes and too Daughters, Joseph, Thomas, Charles, Marye, and Anne ; who to showe there loves, His well-beloved wife Margaret with his three sonnes, and the husbands of his too daughters, hath caused this small monument, at their equal charges, too be erected in memorial of him. Thomas Jackson, Joseph Colfe, Thomas Colfe, Charles Colfe, and Richard Henley."

ISAAC COLFE, the fourth son, was born at Canterbury in or before 1560; and being, like his elder brother Richard, designed for the ministry, he was entered as a commoner of Broadgate's Hall in Oxford early in the year 1576 : he took his first degree in arts on the 17th of February 1580, and became M. A. on the 4th of July 1582.¹ He was presented to the vicarage of Stone in Kent, on the 25th of Feb. 1585, which he resigned two years after, when he obtained the vicarage of Brookland; about which time also he published a "Sermon preached on the Queenes day, beeing the 17 of November 1587, at the town of Lidd in Kent," (on Psalm cviii. 22-26) which he dedicated to the Bailiff and Jurats of Lidd. In 1592, he also published a "Treatise on the Temptation of Christ," on Matthew iv. ver. 1-2.² On the 28th of March 1596, as the attorney of

Dean Rogers, he delivered seisin of an estate at Ashford to the feoffees for the use of his brother Dr. Colfe: and on 18th of June following, he was inducted Master of Kingsbridge Hospital in Canterbury; soon after which he died on the 15th of July 1597, and was buried in the chapter-house of the Cathedral.¹

BEATRICE, the only sister of these gentlemen, is recorded in the Visitation of Kent, to have been married to Barnabas Turner, minister of the gospel; and all that is further known of her or her descendants, is, that Abraham Colfe bequeathed to his "cousin Thomas Carret son of Rebecca Turner late of Canterbury deceased, and to [his] loving cousins Nicholas Brethers chirurgeon at Tower-hill in London, and also to his wife, and daughter Bonner, and to [his] cousin Edwards and his wife,—a gold ring with a death's-head on it," to each of them.² It is presumed that all these persons were the family of Beatrice Colfe.

The following Pedigree, drawn from a great variety of authentic evidence, will present a correct view of the once respectable family of COLFE,—a name, that two hundred years ago bid fairly to be perpetuated in numerous branches, but is now either lost in obscurity, or not inherited by a single individual.

ABRAHAM COLFE, the eldest son of Dr. Richard Colfe, was born at Canterbury, on the 7th of August, 1580, and was christened at Rood-church, in that city, on the 14th day of the same month.¹ He was educated in the Free Grammar-school attached to the Cathedral,² whence he proceeded to the University of Oxford, and eventually attained the degree of Master of Arts.

Entering holy orders at an early age, he became Curate of Lewisham, in Kent, at Michaelmas, 1604, under Dr. Hadrian Saravia, Vicar of that Church, who, being a Prebendary of Canterbury, was probably a friend of his father:³ and on his resignation of the vicarage, he succeeded, by the presentation of King James I., on the 1st of May, 1610; having been in the mean time presented, by the Dean and Chapter of Canterbury, to the Rectory of St. Leonard, in Eastcheap, London, on the 30th of January, 1609.⁴ Notwithstanding this preferment, he continued to live at Lewisham, being within a convenient distance from the city, and a place congenial to his disposition, as a man of retirement, study, and benevolence; and to his bodily constitution, for, notwithstanding his studious habits, he seldom suffered sickness. Here also he was surrounded by the family and connexions of his wife MARGARET, widow of Jasper Valentine, of Lewisham, tanner, whom he married in or before

² Will, p. 42. The record of his induction into the vicarage of Lewisham is printed in the Appendix, No. 2.

⁴ Register of Bp. Bancroft, fo. 296, cited in Newcourt's Repertorium Ecclesiasticum, II. 891.

1612: she was a virtuous and pious woman, who not only felt interested in all his benevolent designs, but seems to have been constantly employed in doing good.¹

Shortly after his marriage, his attention was drawn to certain occurrences in his parish which involved the interests of the lower class of his parishioners; when he exerted all his might in the defence of his flock. It was a most violent and unjust attempt to deprive the inhabitants of their antient right of common, by two or three persons who had obtained a grant of Westwood from the King. Though insulted and ill-treated in various ways, the inhabitants of Lewisham resisted long, and at length, chiefly through their Pastor's advice, succeeded in obtaining a reversal of the grant. Many of his papers on this matter are extant; from which it will be sufficient to copy one short narrative of the whole proceeding, with the addition of a few illustrative extracts.

“Memorandū, that in y^e yeares of our L. 1614 & 1615, we had many troubles & suites concerning our cōmon of Westwood, being in quantity about 500 acres of ground, *wherevnto the Lord of his mercy gaue a good issue in y^e end.*¹ The occasion was yis. Henry Newport, of Lewsham, gentleman, & yeoman of y^e boiling-house to King James, hauing liued long in our parish in y^e yeare 1605 begged this cōmon of the King, and made meanes to his Maiesty for a lease of it at a yearely rent: wherevpon our cause was heard first on y^e 25 Aprilis 1606 before some of y^e Barons: y^en y^e 26 Junij 1607 before y^e Lords after dinner on a Starre-chamber day: & againe y^e 9th Nouembris 1608 before y^e Barons of y^e exchequier. But either he non suited himself or other error fell out in y^e pceedings, so y^t he obtained not as yet his purpose. After, Henry Newport ioyned two more with him, namely Robert Raines, sergeant of the buckhounds, & Innocent Lanier of Greenwich one of the Kings Musitians; & ioyntly took a lease from his Maiesty of y^e cōmon of Westwood: & then began very much to vexe y^e inhabitants. We complained. At length our cause was heard, first privately before the Barons on y^e 14th & 21th daies of May 1614. And after, by an order set downe for John Burnet of Lewsham to be y^e defendant; our cause was heard publikely before the Barons, on the 14th day of October: & a verdict passed against vs. At wch time John Sherman of Greenwich was fore-man, also John Halfpenny, and Henry Dobbins, and Henry Abbot, all 4 of Greenwich; and John Leech of Detford, & diuerse others were of the Jury. Presently the [lessees] Patentees began to make ditches about the cōmon, & inclosed it, & draue out & killed sundry of the cattell of the inhabitants. Wherevpon neere 100^d people [of the parish]² yong & old, went through y^e city of London, & a litle on this side of Topnam high-crosse petitioned King James; who very graciously heard y^e petition, & ordered that the Lords of his priuy counsell should take a course that he might be no more

FAC-SIMILE OF THE HAND-WRITING OF THE REVEREND ABRAHAM COLLE, A.M.

Testimonial of the Parishioners of Lewisham, to their Pastor's Character, A.D. 1615.

¹ In a Petition "To y^e right Hon. y^e Earle of Somerset L. high Chamberlaine," and another to the Archbishop of Canterbury, from the inhabitants of Lewisham, craving their favor against the presenting of a petition to the Privy Council, it is said,—“we were inforced to goe aboue an 100^d of vs, y^e 19 of December, with petition to y^e K. Matie for his mercifull fauour.” The draught of each is still extant in Colfe’s hand-writing, who to the latter subjoined a personal apology for his own misrepresented conduct in these affairs. “Further, in particular your humble suppliant Abraham Colfe minister of Lewsham sheweth to your grace, that whereas Rob. Raynes, Innocent Laniere, & Henry Newport, in a late petition to his Majesty haue abused your said suppliant Abrahā Colfe, saying y^t he out of his seditious sp. stirred vp y^e people tumultuously to clamour y^e K^s Matie, wthout any iust ground or colour: & further Innocent Lanier hath vsed sundry other defamations & slanderous speaches: also that he hath publicly spoken against y^e pceedings of his Maiesties court here, as though he had called publike meetings in the church to make y^e people curse y^{em}. That it would please your grace to relieue your said suppliant against y^{ese} impudent slanders; & he shalbe bound euer to pray as he doth euery day vpon his knees to Almighty god for your graces safety & fauour wth god & men.” Beside those memorials, he drew up a defence of his own character, at the request of his parishioners, of the draught of which a complete fac-simile is here inserted. It is read thus. — “We y^e inhabitants of y^e parish of Lewsham in Kent, whose names are vnder-written, hearing of the sundry defamations and vncharitable speaches giuen out [lately] in a petition to y^e kings maiesty, against Abraham Colfe vicar of our parish, [& preacher of gods word among vs,] & being desired by him to testify our knowledg of his behauiour among vs, doe solemnely protest before god & witnes y^{is} [before god] for a truth vnto all those whom it may concerne; that the said Abraham Colfe hauing liued as a curate & vicar these x yeares among vs, hath not to our knowledg demeaned himself otherwise then becōmeth the minister of gods word; for he hath bene very painfull in his calling, duly preaching once (& for y^e great part of the sūmer twice euery sabath among vs) liberall to y^e poore, giuen to hospitality & other good workes in his life peaceable, not hauing had any one suit or controuersy in law all this time against any of vs: no way sauouring of a factious or sedicious spirit, neither in publik or priuate speaches or actions; but continually dehorting vs [in y^{is}] during y^e time of our distressed suit about our cōmon [of Westwood to a peaceable cariage,] both from reuiling y^{em} in speaches y^t haue sought to get away y^e meanes of our liuing, & from pfourming any outward act y^t might be either offensive to his maiesty or p’iudiciall to y^e lawes of y^e realme. In witnes wherof we haue willing & freely subscribed our names.”

Another paper, subscribed “My answer to Bendens accusation 27 June 1615,” contains the following interesting particulars:—“Vpon the 5^t of February last we signified by petition vnto the right Hon. y^e Lords of the Coun-ley, to make a friendly end of the differences, if they could: or els to appoint a second tryall, wch should be finall & binding to both sides. Which was done by the Barons the 11th Maij 1615: & seeing no likelihood of agreement by reason yt ye [lessees] Patentees demanded 1000^l: yei appointed an other day for a finall tryall: wherein John Calton of Lewshā gentleman should be ye defendant: & gaue order for an indifferent Jury of 24 substantiall freeholders to be chosen [by ye Sheriff] out of Kent. So vpon the 16th Octobris 1615 our cause was heard againe publicly before ye Barons of the Exchequier: & (the Lords h. name for ever for his gr. tender mercies be blessed) a verdict passed in the behalf of the poore inhabitants: & the 18th of Nouember following, iudgment was also granted, & a copy both of the order, & of ye iudgment, taken out vnder the seale of the exchequier chamber, wch is kept by vs. The names of the latter Jury were Will. It pleased the L. Treasurer & M^r Chancelour vpon some speciall reasons to haue the ground surueyed: & in the meane time at our humble petition, to giue the poor leaue to haue furzes & pasture for their cattell in the extremity of the great snow. Yet the Patentees seruants droue the poores cattell, & hindered them from furzes. Whervpon we complained. And vpon the 14 day the L. Treasurer & M^r Chancellour sent John Mannington, a messenger of purpose, to the Patentees to cōmand them not to driue the cōmon nor hinder the poore of furzes, without further order from their Honours. Yet Henry Benden & other of the Patentees seruants still droue of the cattell, & spoiled some of them to death, & would not let the poore haue furzes. Herevpon the 22th day being Ashwednesday, Henry Benden being at church, after seruice I gaue him aduise, & wished him not to molest the poore in such sort by driuing & hurting their cattell & hindering them of furzes: for if he should be sent for by a purseuant, and cōmitted for his contempt, I thought his master (namely M^r Lanier) would not beare him out in it."

Mr. Colfe seems to have discharged his clerical duties in London but occasionally: his preaching is said to have been very acceptable to the more religiously inclined. He was one of the earliest members of Sion College at its incorporation in 1631, and gave eleven pounds to the newly founded Library there; of which the following record is contained in the Register of Benefactions to the Library:

Abraham Colfe, Rector of St. Leonard Eastcheape, London,

Concilia Generalia, per Seuerin. Binnium tom. 5. Col. Agrip. 1618.

On the third of December 1634, as Rector of St. Leonard's, he subscribed the Submission of the London Clergy to the King, relative to their claim of Tithes.² Wood says, that he was forced to give up this church to Henry Roborough, one of the Scribes to the Assembly of Divines;³ which must have been done in the year 1646 or 1647, when many ministers were deprived of their livings, most for their scandalous conduct, and some for their attachment to the King's party. To what cause Mr. Colfe's deprivation should be assigned, it does not appear: his moderation, learning, and piety seem to have been sufficient to protect him from public injury, so that it seems most reasonable to ascribe it to his holding pluralities, as he did not lose his vicarage of Lewisham; and his good will to his parishioners in Eastcheap was too manifest afterward,¹ to allow the suspicion of their having disliked him. Yet, that he had enemies, it is certain from his own words. In reference to his benefactions to his people at Lewisham, and of the "unfeigned love" that he had ever borne toward them, he adds—"notwithstanding the wonderful unthankfulness of some few householders among them, and the manifold vexations wrought me, both in latter days and years, and chiefly above twelve years past [about 1644], when at the instigation of their impudent Lecturer, they articted against me to the honorable Committee for plundered Ministers, and endeavoured to have deprived me of the benefit of my Vicarage."²

¹ In the same large folio register, is the following record of his perpetual benefaction to that Library. (See his Will, p. 8.)—"M.DCLXII. Abraham Colfe, sometime Rector of S. Leonard, Eastcheap, London, and late of Lewsham in the County of Kent (who dyed about the yeare MDCLVIII.) hath giuen by Will, Twenty shillings per Annum for ever, to be layd out for one or more Bookes at the good discretion of the Governours for the time being. He hath also giuen one shilling per Annum for ever to the Library-keeper for the time being."

² See the Report of the Common Council on the London Tithes, 1812, fol. p. 49.

Early in the year last-mentioned, he suffered the loss of his excellent wife,³ whose character he has recorded in an appropriate inscription, on a small stone over the vestry-door in Lewisham Church.

Mr. Colfe had no children, but he seems to have treated those of his wife by her former husband, as though they had been his own. He particularly mentions some of his conduct toward them in his will,¹ to refute certain ill speeches that had been spread about him. "For the preventing of many untruths which have been already, and may yet be uttered concerning me, (being a Minister,) after my death, I make known," says he "that whereas the goods and monies which I did receive at and after marriage, and which I should farther have received as due unto my wife, amounted in all to and about five hundred pounds. Out of my love, I so far increased all her children's portions, (as may appear by acquittances under their hands,) and payed such sums of money for the benefit both of her children and grandchildren, and also gave them such gifts, that (besides other kindnesses continually showed to them and to the kindred, and beside the great loss I had of about fifty pounds of my wife's stock, by her son-in-law Thomas Croft,)² it amounteth to very near, if not fully as much, and to as good a portion as she brought unto me." Several papers relative to the apprenticeship of Richard Valentine, the second son, and to his settlement in business as a Tanner in 1622, with his elder brother Jasper Valentine, some of which are in Mr. Colfe's hand-writing, abundantly illustrate his own statements: nor did his care of them cease at their mother's death; for before the close of the year in which she died, he employed Richard Valentine to collect all tithes and offerings belonging to his vicarage, for one year, for the net sum of eighty pounds, to be payed quarterly.¹

It is remarkable that a man so devoted to the advancement of learning and piety, never published any of the fruits of his own studies; not even one of his sermons is known to be extant. The intervals of his reading seem to have been occupied by his clerical duties, by his personal works of charity, and in concerting, providing for, and executing those plans of future usefulness which had been long revolved in his mind. The origin of these great designs seems to have arisen from the following circumstances.

Letters Patent were issued under the great seal by Queen Elizabeth, on the 31st of July 1574,² ordaining that there should be one school in Lewisham, to be called "the Free Grammer Schoole of Queene Elizabeth in Lewsham, for the educatinge, teachinge, and instructinge of children and youth in learninge," by a school-master and an usher; and appointing the following twenty persons to be the first

² Dated at Gorhambury, a°. 16 R. Eliz. They are partly recited in the document which has supplied the other information stated in the text.

Governors of the said school and its revenues:—Edmund [Freake] Bishop of Rochester, Roger Manwood Justice of the Bench, Sir William Daunsell, knight, John Bungay, clerk,¹ William Roper, John Oliff Alderman of London, Thomas Cornewallis, Thomas Walsingham, Brian Ansley, John Fitz, Edmund Style, Richard Stoneley, John Lee, Henry Bere, and Lewis Stockett, esquires, George Stoddard, George Mannynge, William Hopkins, Edward Johnson, and Robert Edmonds, gentlemen. This ordinance required that as often as ten of the governors should be dead, the survivors should choose others to supply their place; but within forty years after, they were all dead but Edmund Style, who, on the 18th of March 1612, nominated and appointed by deed poll, John [Buckeridge] Bishop of Rochester, Sir James Altham Baron of the Exchequer, Sir William Harvy, Sir John Wildgosse, and Sir Francis Leigh, Knights; Thomas Watson, Thomas Wildgosse, Humfry Streete, Bevell Molesworth, and Whittingham Wood, esquires, Abraham Colfe clerk, Edmund Style the younger, Edward Blunt, Robert Smyth, Thomas Foxall, John Eaton, John Burnett, and, Thomas Hill, gentlemen; “to be with himself in the places and office of all the said persons.”

The next trace that appears of this institution, is a conveyance of the estates, on the 31st of January, 1626, from Thomas Hill and Henry Langstone, of Lewisham, gentlemen, to William Simonds, one of the churchwardens, and his heirs for ever, for certain purposes mentioned in a decree of the Bishop of Rochester and other commissioners, under the statute (43 Eliz.) for charitable uses, but which purposes are unknown.² In this document the estates are described as lying in Greenwich, and late of William Hattecliff, esquire, deceased; and Mr. Colfe has noted on the back of Style's deed, that they were worth forty pounds yearly: but it is equally uncertain who this Mr. Hattecliff was, and why his lands were applied to another purpose, especially since Mr. Colfe was one of the Trustees;¹ and even his subsequent possession of these documents² cannot be accounted for, as the estates do not form any part of the endowment of his charities.

The coincidence of this transaction with Mr. Colfe's own words, in the year 1656,³ is remarkable: mentioning all his benevolent institutions, he says,—“which matters God of his great mercy hath (for about thirty years past) put into my mind to accomplish (as I trust) for his great glory and the great good of his church and people.” His father had not left him any lands, and his brothers were so great a charge to him, that he had bestowed more than four hundred and twenty pounds on them:³ yet with these disadvantages he maintained his purpose, and, with a praiseworthy perseverance, from the year 1626 or earlier, continued to purchase lands at every opportunity, until he acquired an estate sufficient to endow his designed institutions.

His next care was to provide a convenient situation for the Grammar-school, and observing that there was no fitter place in his parish, for the general benefit of all the parishes in the hundred of Blackheath, than a spot of waste ground on Lewisham hill, he obtained a certificate from thirty gentlemen of the hundred to that effect, and thereupon moved the court-baron of the manor of Lewisham for a grant of it. This was accordingly granted by the Jury, on the 12th of Oct. 1647, and afterward confirmed by Reginald Grahme, lord of the manor,¹ on the 25th of Oct. 1650; and seisin thereof was delivered to him on the 5th of December following, in the presence of John Lever the Coroner, Tho. Mason, B.D., W. Richardson, his curate, and others. The ground was then full of "great pits and holes," and almost five years passed before the buildings were finished. At length the school was opened at Whitsuntide, on the 10th of June, 1652;² the founder having appointed Mr. Matthew Day as Master thereof, who testified his gratitude, by dedicating to his patron a small volume that he published in the same year for the use of his scholars.³

Beside the sums of money that Mr. Colfe laid out on the purchase of lands, he had, for the further support of his institutions, for many years before, deposited money at interest with the Wardens of the Worshipful COMPANY OF LEATHERSELLERS; with whom his connexion seems to have originated, either from their holding lands at Lewisham, some part of which was tenanted by his son-in-law Richard Valentine, or through the acquaintance of Mr. Manby his conveyancer, who was clerk of the Company.⁴

⁴ On the back of a deed dated 1626, is this note in Mr. Colfe's writing :

So early as the third of October 1634, he made a "proposition to the Company concerning the setling of certaine lands and tenements vpon this Socyety, to be distributed to pious uses;" which was at first referred to a Committee: and on the 13th of July following, he brought his Will, requesting them to accept the trust that he wished thereby to repose in them; which was received, with a promise to fulfil it; "wherewith hee was very well satisfied, giving them many thancks for the same." From that time numerous instances of his intercourse are recorded on the minutes of the Company, with whom in those troublesome times he not only lodged his money, but even offered to place his estates in trust. In 1644 it amounted to a thousand pounds, and continued to increase until 1651, when he drew out two hundred for the building of his school. At length on the second of July 1652, he had the satisfaction of attending the court, and of stating that he had been so far able to carry his plans into execution, that his school was already opened for the public benefit; when the Company was pleased, at his request, to lay the foundation of a Library by a gift of books; and it seems that this was his last visit.

Having been spared by Providence to see the fulfilment of his chief design, whereby a considerable change was made in his affairs, his mind settled into a calm; and (cancelling his former testament) he composed his last Will¹ on the 7th of September 1656, being then in his seventy-seventh year, "yet in good health and of sound and perfect memory." Except a few small bequests to his kindred and friends, he bequeathed all his property to the Company of Leathersellers, constituting them the Trustees of all his charitable institutions; the particulars whereof and of his personal affairs, are therein described with a minuteness almost unexampled. This long testament is not remarkable for elegance of style, but throughout runs a vein of solid piety and benevolence, that shines brighter than the choicest ornaments of speech, and makes it a venerable and precious relic. Great part of it contains directions about the Grammar-school, which are the substance of a body of Statutes that he designed to compose, and to establish under his hand and seal; but this he did not live to perform.

"This lease is assigned back to Ab. Colfe for 20*l.* on the 3d of Decemb. 1630, at the shop of Mr. Manby and Job Royse, Scriveners, in Temmstreet by St. Myhells lane."

Thus was a long life of piety and activity crowned with a peaceful and contented old age. During the space of fifty-three years he had laboriously performed his ministerial duties; when in health "preaching usually twice every Lord's-day;" and for the last twenty years, he moreover "freely expounded some part of a chapter in the holy Bible, at the church, on Wednesdays and Fridays and holydays."¹ From several incidents it appears that his sermons were usually of an hour's length, simple, and adapted to the capacity of his hearers. It is probable that the instructions that he recorded for the conduct of succeeding vicars, in matters relative to his benefactions, and the general concerns of the parish, were only copies of his own example; for his carefulness in examining the cases of the poor, and in catechizing the young people in the church, are evident from his anxiety that the same practices should be continued.

¹ Will, pp. 10, 58. Toward the close of his life, he had as an assistant Mr. William Richardson, to whom he allowed a portion of his tithes, (p. 53.)

Though he has been thought a Puritan, he was zealously attached to the church of England, and a specimen of his religious sentiments is preserved in his directions about an anniversary sermon for the Grammar-school. "In which sermon (says the venerable Founder) it is desired that the minister should labor earnestly, with the greatest strength both of mind and body that he can possibly (having due regard to his health) to stir up all professed Christians, according to the Apostle's command to Titus (iii. v. 8) 'that having believed in Christ, they be careful to maintain good works,' even that they study and take thought how to adorn and confirm, and make manifest proof of their true faith, by being constant precedents or antecedent ring-leaders in good works, going before all others and continuing in well doing. The reason is added by the Apostle, 'for these things are good and profitable unto men;' that is, that doing of such good works, even in our life-time, are pleasing sacrifices to God, evident demonstrations of our true faith, sound convictions to stop the mouth of the foolish gainsaying adversary, and needful supplying of the poor man's want that God may have glory from both, and the adding of much comfort to our reckoning at the Last Day; while they show we are void of covetousness, hypocrisy, and vain-glory; for what good we do, is done, even in our life time, and wholly, for his glory and the great good of his poor people."¹

Of the manner of his death no particulars are known: a small tablet, placed according to his own directions on the south wall of the church, is the only monument that shows where his remains rest.

But has he not raised a nobler monument in his benefactions, and written his name more lastingly "than in the bright records of fame?" And does not some angel seem to whisper—ΓΡΑΨΟΝ! His Will was proved before the Judges for probate of wills and granting administrations, on the 25th of January 1658; and letters of administration in the Protector's name, and under the seal of that Court, were granted to William Hiccock, rector of Leigh (whom Mr. Colfe had called his "loving friend"), and Lieutenant-Colonel William Manby, Clerk of the Company of Leathersellers, two of the Executors named in his Will.¹ It seems to have been the Founder's desire to obtain an Act of Parliament for the establishment of his charities in his own lifetime, as a draught of one is yet extant; and in his will he gave particular directions for that purpose. Accordingly, after the restoration of Charles II. a Statute was passed in the year 1664, intituled, "An Act for setleing the charitable gifte of Abraham Colfe, clerke, for erecting and indowing two Freeschooles and an Almeshouse at Lewisham in Kent:"¹ whereby it was enacted that the Wardens and Society of the mystery or art of Leathersellers of London, and their successors for ever, should be "in deed, fact, and name, one Body Corporate and Politique of themselves, to bee called and knowne by the name of the Owners and Governors of the possessions and revenues of the [said] Freeschooles of Lewisham," with power to buy lands in mortmain for the farther endowment of them according to the Founder's intentions.²

Before the passing of this Act, the Trustees had built the Alms-houses for the poor of Lewisham, which he directed in his will should be begun in the year 1662. They stand on the road-side, by the Reading-school, and bear the following inscription in front:—

"An'o Decimo Sexto Caroli 2^{di}. An'oq; D.N.J. 1664.

The Gift of Mr. Abraham Colfe late Vicar of this Parish, whereof the Company of Leathersellers in London, are, according to the desire of his Will, by Act of Parliament appointed Governors; and by the said Company the same gift is enlarged."

² The particulars of the two Schools may be found in the First Report of the Commissioners on Charities, p. 121, and Appendix, pp. 169-198: also of his various charities in the Report for 1823, pp. 258-63. There is a short account of the Grammar-School in Gilbert's Liber Scholasticus, (8^o. 1829) p. 194-5.

The LIBRARY for the use of the Grammar School, and of the clergy and gentlemen in the Hundred of Blackheath, was opened at the same time as the school itself; when it contained only twelve volumes in folio and one in quarto, given by gentlemen of the Company, whose benefactions were recorded by the Founder in a parchment register which he gave for that purpose.¹ He directed in his will that, in the next year after his death, all the upper room over the School² should be made into a public Library, wherein all his books in folio, quarto, and thick octavo, that were worth the giving, and of which copies had not been before given by others, should be placed on shelves, and fastened with iron chains; leaving five pounds, and the money produced by the sale of the rest of his books, to pay the expenses of pulling down the partition-wall, setting up shelves, and binding and fixing the books. He farther directed that a yearly payment of twenty shillings should be made out of his estate, for the purchase “of one or two books in folio, of worthy and learned writers on Divinity, or belonging to History or other matters;” with the advice of the Minister of Lewisham and the Master. These also were to be "chained fast in the public Library; which Library (says he) shall be free for all well known Ministers, and for gentlemen of the Hundred, and for all the godly students that will frequent it, whom I desire (if they be of ability) to give a book with the price of a chain thereunto."¹ Beside several other minute regulations, he provided in various ways for the increase of the Library. A fine of three shillings and fourpence, to be payed by the Master for giving an irregular or additional play-day to the scholars, was to be applied to the purchase of a book.² He particularly enjoined on the scholars who should enjoy his exhibition to the University, that they should give one copy of every book that they should print, "and also the copy of all their sermon-notes."³ In like manner, the condition of his gift for the encouragement of biblical literature, was, that a copy of the Commentaries or Lectures for which the five pounds were to be given, should be first deposited in the Library of Sion College and in the Library of Lewisham;⁴ to which latter he earnestly called on the gentlemen of the neighbourhood to be benefactors.⁵

¹ Will, p. 44. At p. 59, it is said that the price of a chain would be only seven pence: and in default of such gift, he provided five shillings yearly to fasten up the books. He allowed also two shillings a year for firing to keep the books dry, and five more for attention to their general safety and cleanliness.

² Page 36. An instance is recorded in our copy of Hyginus (see Catal. p. 107), which contains the following note: "This book was bought for the library at Black heath wth half a crown given by Mr. Light for a play day, and y^e rest of [the] money raised from y^e Scholars by forfeiture for not speaking Latin."

APPENDIX TO THE MEMORIALS.

No. I.

“Christ’s Farewell to Jerusalem, and last Prophetie. A Sermon preached in the Quier of the Cathedrall Church of Canterburie, at the Funerall of that Reverend and worthy man, Mr. Doctor COLFE, Vice-Deane of the said Church, Octob. 12, 1613. By THOMAS WILSON, Minister of Gods word.” London. 1614. (small 8^o., 5 sheets, not paged.)

DEDICATION.

To his fellow-labourers in the Lord, Mr. Abraham Colfe, Pastor of Lewsham beside Greenewitch, and Mr. Isaac Colfe, Pastor of Hearne beside Canterburie, and to their Sixe Brethren, with their louing Sister Mis. Mann of London, all happinesse in Christ.

Hearing by iust and certaine report, not of a few, what working and effect my meane labours at the Funerall of your FATHER (that graue and godly Minister of Christ) had, through Gods blessing, in the hearts of sundry, and very many hearers, that houre in great companies assembled; and being once and againe, by writing and word, earnestly solicited to copie out that Sermon which I vttered by helpe of memory, without any benefite of Notes, through straitnes of time, and store of businesse: I condescended against all thought and purpose on my part (when I first conceived, and was deliuered of this lesse than nine houres birth) not onely to copie it out and put it in paper, for the priuate vse of some; but to commit it to the Presse, for the more publike good of many, which were not present auditors: Euery good thing being so much the better the more common it is; and writing being ordayned of God to be a meane of the teaching of his Church, as well as liuely voyce.

Now after I entred this resolution, upon these grounds, to whom could I more fitly dedicate it than to yourselues, his nine CHILDREN, whom towards his last breath hee did as earnestly couet to make you heyres of his graces, as of his goods? Pictures serue to put vs in minde of our friends departed; so let this Sermon and testimony giuen him at the preaching of it, be to you a Monument of your good Father, who left behinde him much more goodnesse to imitate, then goods to enjoy; yet of earthly substance so much as may witnesse how greatly God had blessed him with worldly and spirituall blessings, with the dew of heauen, as well as with grace from heauen.

Walke carefully in his steps: thinke it to be your greatest shame to degenerate, and your chiefest commendation to resemble him. As hee before his death prouided for foure of you Flockes to feede, fields to sowe, houses to build; so like good shepherds attend the flocks whereof the holy Ghost hath made you ouerseers, and which Christ hath purchased with his own bloud. Let not such a rich prize perish through your negligence and sloath, but as scribes, taught to the Kingdome of God, store vp old and new things in abundance, which you may draw out to refresh the tender Lambes and deare sheepe of Christ: Withall, like good Husbandmen prouide pure and good seede, which you may scatter in the morning and in the evening, in season and out of season; for yee know not which will prosper. Finally, as skilfull builders, lay no other foundation than that which is layd already, euen Christ Jesus, the head corner stone, vpon which see you doe build Gold, Siluer, and pretious stones, that is, pure doctrine, which will abide the examination of the spirit; that when the Lord of the house commeth you may heare the blessed voyce, Enter into your Maisters ioy yee faithful seruants. Farewell.

Yours Thomas Wilson.

The Testimonie which was given vnto Mr. Richard Colfe, Doctor of Divinitie, and Prebendarie of the Cathedrall Church in Canterbury, at his Funerall, being kept October 12, 1613.

Touching this reverend man (whose last obsequies and Funerall rites wee come now to performe) I am bound to say something in three respects: First, of God, that he may haue the prayse of his owne worke and gifts in him. Secondly, of himselfe, that his due and right may bee rendred vnto him. Thirdly, of you the Auditors that vnto you may be ministred, some iust matter of imitation: for the godly liues of the Saints dead are good patternes for the Saints that liue. Heb. Chap. I. verse 12.

Now, that which I haue to say may be comprehended in few words: hee was, first, bonus vir, secondly, bonus Christianus, thirdly, bonus Theologus, fourthly, bonus Pastor. Light of nature taught naturall men to say, homo homini charus esse debet eo quod homo est. Homo homini deus. His singular humanitie and curtesie sending from his presence none vn-satisfied or discontented (as it is written of an Emperour of Rome,) his sweet nature and amiable behaviour and peaceable disposition towards all men that had to doe with him; also his humane compassion, pittying and relieuing (as hee could) the miseries of men: his loathnesse either to speake or to doe hurt vnto others, or to suffer any euill to be spoken or done by others: All these doe beare witnesse of him, that hee was a good man. Neither indeede could hee be lesse, if the Poet haue well described a good man, when he thus wrote, Vir bonus est quis? qui consulta legum qui patres,¹ iuraque seruat: For hee submitted himselfe vnto superiour powers, being a diligent observer of good orders, and good lawes, both teaching and practising subiection to lawfull authority.

But unto his morrall goodnes God added
2. A Good Christian. much Christian and spirituall goodnesse.

For in time of his prosperitie and health, his vnfayned love to the Saints, (holding all deare vnto him which were deare vnto God,) communicating vnto their necessities, euen for Christs sake: more particularly, his contributions towards poore Schollers of the Vniuersity, for their maintenance and increase in learning and piety; also his vnblameable and honest conuersation, led according vnto the booke which hee studied, professed, and preached, doe speake for his sound Christianity.

In time of many and very great affliction[s],
Patience. (wherof some were both exceeding sharpe by anguish, and long for the continuance) his wonderfull patience in bearing euils, almost intollerable, without signification of the least grudge or discontentment in minde, when the beholders were forced through compassion to turne away their eyes from looking vpon his extremities; yet did hee still indure, not onely with patience, but with cheerfulness, the heauy hand of God, kissing (as it were) the rod that smote him, being euen another Job for patience, as he was another Moses for meeknes.

Meeknesse. My selfe inwardly and long acquainted with him, yet neuer, or uery seldom, did I see him moued vnto anger for any priuate or worldly matter; but as that seruant Moises, which was meeke and gentle in his owne causes, shewed himselfe seuer and stout, hot and earnest in Gods quarrell, Exod. 32, 19. So this our brother, otherwise not bee stirred, yet (cum quæstio fuit de veritate) he did declare himselfe very angry against gainsayers, taking more to hart, and being more displeased with the hurt done vnto the truth, than vnto himselfe.

Moreover, his constant faith, continuing to trust in

These his graces doe strongly and sufficiently testifie what a good Christian he was. Which yet was further manifested by his singular humility, behaving himself

Now, what a good Deuine hee was, I referre you
 3. A Good De- to these proofes following. First to his learned, iudicious expositions and Meditations, vttered in uine. this Church (in a frequent and learned assembly)

Lectures. vpon the whole 8. Psalme, and 127. Psal. and Math. 7, verse 24, to the end of the Chapter, and 1 Cor. 14. and on the Epistle of Christ sent to the Church of Laodicea, Reu. 3. but especially on 2 Thess. Chapter 2. from verse 6 to the end, wherein, he demonstratiuely and substantially proued the Papacy to be Antichristianity, there so liuely and fully described by Paul.

Further, whereas the Apostle saith that to euery

Teacher. this manner, to another after that, Gods seruants and children, amongst many graces haue some one gift which doth chiefly grace them whereby they excell both others and themselues :) I may truly say, and let it be said without offence, that το ιδιον δωρημα, of this our Brother was a special sleight and faculty, in revealing and preaching Christ, which hee did with that dexteritie as sundry, both godly and learned persons haue heard him not onely with affection but with admiration also. Thirdly, the Vniuersitie, his mother, conferred vpon him the greatest dignitie which she had to giue vnto her children, and that not without due desert on his part, as some of the Heads of houses, who heard his Diuinitie Acts, or exercises, haue reported, and affirmed them to haue beene performed with generall approbation, and great credit. Whereof I doe not meruaile, for certainly hee was a very great student, and of long continuance; hee was well seene and expert in the three languages, namely, in the holy tongue, the language of Canaan, by the benefit whereof, as also by much reading of our moderne writers, together with most learned interpreters, both euangelicall and pontificall (namely, Vatablus, Arias Montanus, Tremelius, Beza, and others) hee became an excellent Textman, and so an excellent Diuine. Bonus enim Textuarius est bonus Theologus. He was conuersant, with good fruit, in the ancient Fathers, and acquainted himselfe with the Scholemen also. Not above sixe dayes before his death hee shewed himselfe in conference as ready in Schole-distinctions, as if he had but newly come out of the Schooles.

He gaue a taste how good a Pastor he was, A Good Pastor. both by personall paines preaching the Word vnto his flocke plainely, without ostentation of wit, or learning: Also, by his prouision of a well qualified man to be his assistant in that weighty change.

And as a good Scribe, taught to the kingdom of God, hee would haue drawne things, both old and new, more plentifully out of his store, if he had recovered his health againe, for he often wished that hee might liue to preach Christ; lamenting it that hee was not able. But he hath serued his time, and finished his course; and his flocke hath lost a skilfull Shepherd; his Wife a louing Husband; his Children a kind Father; his Servants a mild and iust Master; his acquaintance a fast Friend; his reverend Brethren a faithfull fellow and companion.

This is all that I haue to say of him; such as loue him will thinke it too little, and such as did not, will iudge it too much; but lesse I could not say, and more I neede not say. The summe of all is this, Qualis vita, finis ita; hee liued well, and dyed well; full of dayes, in a good age, in the fauour both of God and good men. God be praised, that hath happily ended his painfull pilgrimage: and the same God giue you all grace to come after him in the same steps of faith and patience, wherein he went before. Amen.

APPENDIX, No. III.

Reverendo viro Dno Abrahamo Calfo apud Leusumenses in agro Cantiano verbi divini Ministro M. D. S. P. D.

Quum sit moris, ut qui aliquid in publicum proferat, aliquem sibi Patronum impetret; Quem ego potius quam te (Reverende Calfe) ad hujus opusculi patrocinium advocem? Certe te non digni, at iis, quorum tibi maximæ est curæ, pueris juvenibusque Anglicanis, aliquid uti spero, utilitatis prolaturi. Illis enim te solum in hoc, quasi occidentis literaturæ vespere, facem prætulisse vidi, humerisque, quamvis annosis, non tamen imbellibus, Herculis ad instar, Atlantis vice cælum suffulcire.

Quid est enim quod hominem ad Dei similitudinem factum adeo deprimit, quid quod ad belluarum naturam propius accedere facit quam ignorantia, inscitiaque rerum vel divinarum vel humanarum? Neque vero quicquam tam adversum, tam pestiferum Christianæ Reipublicæ credebatur, quam quod Julianus ille, monstrum humani generis, Christianorum odium, statuit, cum Christianis et eruditione et scholis interdixit; qua quidem in re diffidentiam suæ causæ prodidit, tam generosos adversarios metuens, quales futuri erant Christiani, literis instructi si in arenam descendissent. Ου γαρ θαρρουντος ην, οτε τοις υπεr της θρησκειας δικαιοις, οτε τοις λογοις αυτοις, το της ημετερας επισχειν λογους, ωσπερ αν ει τις κρατισον εαυτον νομιζοι των αθλητων, και αξιοι κατα παντων κηρυττεσθαι μηδεν των γενναιων αγωνιζεσθαι, μηδε καταβινειν εις το σαδιον επιταξας, η τι των μελων περικοψας, υπεr ανανδρειας μαλλον η ρωμης τεκμηριον. Ut contra Apostatam præclare Gregor. Naz.

Tu vero remedium huic morbo quam certissimum adhibuisti, qui propriis sumptibus ludum literarium erexisti, tuis ipsius reditibus pueros in eo erudiendos curavisti, juvenibus ab eo in Academias mittendis, satis amplam pecuniam quotannis distribuendam exhibuisti.

Quod quidem eo est laudabilius, quod hisce temporibus hæc præstiteris, quibus priscæ pietatis monumenta ab interitu, non modo non vindicamus, sed imis revulsa fundamentis dejectaque, non sine summo dolore conspiciamur.

Accedit, quod vivus valensque hæc omnia feceris, et Christum bonorum tuorum terrestrium hæredem constitueris: Qui pro sua infinita clementia, quod in illius gloriam auspicatus es feliciter secundet, tibi que multos adhuc largiatur annos, ut propriis oculis florentem tuam scholam conspicias, tandemque te cœlestis suæ gloriæ admittat cohæredem. Sic precatur, Reverende senex, tui observantissimus, MATTH. DAY.

NOTICES EXPLANATORY AND ILLUSTRATIVE OF THE AUTO-GRAPHS INGRAVED IN THE PLATES.

No. 1. RI. DOVER. Richard Rogers, D.D. was appointed Suffragan Bishop of Dover in 1569, and chosen Dean of Canterbury in 1584. He died 19 May, 1597, (see Wood's Athenæ Oxon. II. 325 and 777) in the year after the marriage of his daughter Mary to Dr. Richard Colfe; at which time her mother Anne was living. His eldest son Francis Rogers, D.D. of Dartford, was a Justice of the Peace, and died 23 July, 1638, leaving, by his wife Thomasine, a (second) son, George Rogers, M.D. of London, of whose son, George Rogers, there is a short life in Wood's Athenæ Oxon. IV. 559. The Dean's other son, Goldwell Rogers, had an only daughter, Anne, the wife of Francis Lovelace, of Canterbury, living in 1632.

2. RICHARDUM COLFE. This is presumed to be the autograph of Dr. Richard Colfe, and is taken from the text of the Charter mentioned in the account of his life (at p. xi.), which is thought to be in his hand-writing.

3. JOSEPH COLFE, the Doctor's brother. From the Heralds' Visitation-book, of the year 1619. See p. xiv-xv.

4, 5, 6. The Reverend ABRAHAM COLFE. The first of these signatures is taken from the same Visitation-book (fo. 128b.), in which Mr Colfe, as well as his uncle, recorded his pedigree. The second is traced from the copy of Eusebius, described in the Catalogue, at p. 35; the third from a deed dated 26 May, 1647. He is thus described in the Matriculation-book of the University of Oxford; "Abraham Colfe comitat. Cantiaë generosi filius ætat. 14." Nov. 8, 1594, Chr. Ch. He took his degree of B.A. 25 Oct. 1599. (Communicated by the Rev. Dr. Bliss.)

7, 8. ISAAC COLFE, brother of Abraham. The former signature is taken from a bond dated 24 May, 1625; the latter from the same volume as No. 26; see the Catalogue, p. 24. His autograph also occurs in the book of signatures to the Thirty-nine Articles, in the Archives of the University of Oxford, under date 10 May, 1605.

19. Thomas Henry, husband of Abraham Cohen's only daughter, by his Will dated 13 January, 1872, he left a bequest to the poor of Jerusalem, which is entered in the probate of his Will. The bequest was his wife and son, and his son's son.

9. RICHARD COLFE, another of Abraham Colfe's brothers, being the first son by the Doctor's third wife. This and the two following signatures are taken from a bond dated 1 Aug. 1622.

10. THOMAS MANN, husband of Abraham Colfe's only sister Elizabeth. By his Will, dated 12 January, 1648, he left a yearly benefaction to the poor of Lewisham, which is noticed in Abraham Colfe's Will, p. 54. His executors were his wife and Edward Dudson, his nephew.

11. WILLIAM MANBY succeeded Jasper Hallam as Clerk of the Leathersellers' Company in 1626. He was a Captain of the Artillery Company, and fought in the Parliament's army at the battle of Newbury, 20th Sept. 1643. In Mr. Colfe's Will, dated 7th Sept. 1656, he is called Lieutenant-Colonel William Manbye, of Leathersellers' Hall. Having been for many years employed by Mr. Colfe in the business of his estates, he was nominated one of the executors of his will, and administered accordingly thereunto, for which he received a bequest of five pounds. He died in 1660.

12. ELIZABETH COLFE, widow of Isaac, cousin of Abraham Colfe; whose legacy of five pounds to her husband (see the Will, p. 55) was received by her 20 March, 1661.

15. JASPER VALENTINE,—

16. RICHARD VALENTINE, and—

17. GEORGE VALENTINE, sons of Margaret, wife of Abraham Colfe, by her former husband, Jasper Valentine. Their signatures are copied from a lease of their father's tan-yard to Michael Nicholson, of Southwark, for 21 years from 10 July, 1624.

18. FRANCIS VALENTINE was the eldest son of the said Richard Valentine; his signature occurs, with his father's, in a release of the said tan-yard to Abraham Colfe, 12 January, 1651.

19. "GEO. STANHOPE, Vicar of Lewisham," the second successor of Mr. Colfe, was born 5 March, 1660: he was instituted to this vicarage 3 August, 1689, to that of Deptford in 1702, and in the following year was made Dean of Canterbury. He married Olivia, daughter of Charles Cotton, Esq. of Beresford, in

Staffordshire, who died 1 June, 1707, leaving a son George, and four daughters. This learned and excellent man died 18 March, 1727-8, and was buried in Lewisham Church, where proper inscriptions perpetuate his memory, which have been printed in Thorpe's Registrum Roffense, p. 847-8. His sermons, preached at Boyle's Lecture, and his edition of Marcus Antoninus, are in the Lewisham Library; see this Catalogue, pp. 40, 63. His autograph is copied from a list of books written by him, which had been received from the Leathersellers' Company for the Library, 27 Oct. 1693. That acknowledgement was also signed by—

20. JOHN TURNER, Master of the Grammar School. His bond, for the safe custody of the Library, is dated 8 Sept. 1687.

21. MARMADUKE MILLINGTON, Master of the Grammar School; from his bond, dated 16 July, 1674.

22. JOHN NEWMAN, Master of the Grammar School; from his bond, dated 6 June, 1678.

23. GEORGE HUMBLE, descended of a respectable family in Yorkshire, was Master of the Company in 1628, and a benefactor to it by his last will, dated 8 Sept. 1638. He died in 1640; and on the 6 Feb. 1644, the Court ordered his portrait to be placed in the Hall. His signature is taken from one of the Company's books, 5 Oct. 1630. He was a celebrated print-seller, and the original publisher of the valued historical works of Speed, of which subsequent editions were given to the Lewisham Library by his son—

24. WILLIAM HUMBLE, esquire; who was admitted to the freedom of the Company by patrimony, 2 May, 1636. He was Warden in 1652, when the Library was first established. At the restoration of King Charles II. he being one of the Aldermen of the city of London, was raised to the degree of a Baronet a few days after the King's grand reception into the city. His autograph also is taken from one of the Company's books, dated 30 Nov. 1681. His Will was dated 11 Dec. 1686, and he died on the 26th of the same month. The Baronetcy became extinct in 1744. His pedigree is registered in the Visitation-books in the Heralds' College, C. 24, fo. 35, and I. 30, fo. 41.

25. JOHN LOCKER, born 27 August, 1693, was educated at the Mercers' and the Merchant-Tailors' Schools, and at Merton College, Oxford. In 1718 he entered at Gray's Inn, and was called to the bar. He succeeded his father, Stephen Locker, as Clerk of the Leathersellers' Company, in 1719; and the signature, that is copied in the plate, was the last but one that he wrote in that capacity, at the distribution of Mr. Cater's yearly benefaction, namely on the 30th of January, 1759. He was also

Clerk of the Company of Clockmakers. He married Elizabeth, eldest daughter of Dr. Stillingfleet, and died 30 May, 1760, leaving an only daughter. He was a F.S.A. and a friend of most of the learned men of his time. Dr. Johnson, in his life of Addison, says that Mr Locker "was eminent for curiosity and literature." He was a considerable benefactor to the Lewisham Library. His works are described in Dr. Wilson's History of the Merchant-Tailors' School, 1814, 8^o. p. 1121 : see also Nichols's Anecdotes of Bowyer.

26. THOMAS CANTUARIENSIS. The signature of the venerable Archbishop Cranmer is taken from the identical copy of Martin Bucer's commentary on Paul's Epistle to the Romans, which the author dedicated to him, 25 March, 1536, three years after his accession to the see of Canterbury. See this work, p. 24 : at p. 20 it will be found that in this Library is another book bearing his autograph. It does not appear how these volumes escaped from his Library, which, after his martyrdom, 21 March, 1555, was forfeited to the Crown, and being deposited in the Royal Library, is now in the British Museum, where his books are marked with his initials at the foot of the binding. Among the MSS. in the Royal Library, are the Theological Common-place books of this learned and venerable person. A complete collection of his works is now being printed by the delegates of the University press at Oxford.

חמשה חומשו תורה כדפס עם רכ העיון על ירי זכריה

(Vitebergæ, per Zach. Cratonem, 1587, 4o.)

Hunc habet titulum editio de qua ista refert Maschius in Bibliotheca Sacra Jac. Le Long. (Halæ, 1778, 4o. I. p. 34.) “Ad calcem operis notatur et annus, et nomina eorum, quorum impensis Biblia hæc Hebraica [cum punctis] edita sunt: פדפס [etc. quæ sonant] Impressum ad mandatum (impensis) Johannis et Conradi Ruheli fratrum, per manus ZACHARIÆ CRATONIS, anno 347 (1587) minoris supputationis.—Adeo rara et infrequens est hæc Bibl. Heb. editio, ut in iterata editione Parisiensi operis Longiani omissa, Wolfio vero non integra, sed tantum quoad partes nonnullas nota fuerit. Prodiit opus ex officina Zachariæ Cratonis alias Kraft dicti, cui nonnullas Bibliorum Germanicorum editiones debemus. Fratres vero Ruhelii non operis correctores, sed cives et senatores Wittebergenses fuere, quorum nomen in historia Bibliorum Germ. satis est celebre. Titulus in utroque exemplari [sc. Pentateuchi ibidem impressi, a. 1586] portam repræsentat, in quo supra et infra, Ps. cxviii. com. 20, expressum est. [זה השער ליי, etc.] Ad primam Plantini editionem hanc ita esse effigiatam, ut fere paginæ paginis respondeant; quin et Plantinianæ sphalmata typographica in hanc transierunt, judicat, qui hanc recenset, Cl. Knochius. Quatuor absolvitur partibus, additis Pentateucho quinque libris festivalibus; quælibet vero pars peculiari ornatur titulo. Claudit unumquemque librum Masora finalis, typis quadratis expressa, et in fine addita est Haphthararum Tabula.” Hæc et plura Maschius.

“VETUS TESTAMENTUM HEBRAICUM, cum Variis Lectionibus. Edidit Benjaminus Kennicott, S. T. P. Ædis Christi Canonicus et Bibliothecarius Radclivianus. Oxonii e Typographeo Clarendoniano. MDCCLXXVI. MDCCLXXX.”
Fol. 2 vol.

In tomo priore habentur libri sacri ad finem II Regum : in posteriore Prophetæ primum habent locum ; sequuntur Psalmi, Proverbia, Job, Canticum, Threni, Esther, Daniel, Ezra, Nehemias, et Chronica. Ad calcem accedit cum indice suo—“Dissertatio Generalis in Vetus Testamentum Hebraicum ; cum Variis Lectionibus, ex Codicibus Manuscriptis et Impressis. Auctore Beniamino Kennicott, S. T. P. Oxonii, MDCCLXXX.” Pp. 129.

De eximiis eruditissimi viri laboribus, vide quasi in conspectu brevi, Bibl. Sacram Longianam Maschii, I. 61-4 : simul et quæ scripsit T. H. Horne nostras, (Introd. Crit. Stud. edit. 3.) vol. II. p. 122-3 ; unde ad ceteros libros commode pergas. Puncta non expressit editor. Operis egregii venustum exemplar.

Prorsus foret supervacaneum de hoc inestimabili thesauro, sæpissime descripto, multa jam enarrare. Licet studiosum referre ad Bibl. Sacram Longianam Maschii, I. 374-382 ; et ad Hornium nostratem (vol. II. p. 116-8) quæ medullam quasi animadversionum præstabit. "Rerum et Verborum per totam Scripturam Index, secundum libros capita et versus."

Edmundi Castelli magnum Lexicon Heptaglotton duobus voll. non comitatur, ut debet, exemplar nostrum.

"BIBLIA SACRA, HEBRAICE, GRÆCE, ET LATINE. Latina interpretatio duplex est, altera vetus, altera nova; cum Annotationibus Francisci Vatabli Hebraicæ linguæ Lutetiæ quondam Professoris Regii.

Omnia cum editione Complutensi diligenter collata, additis in margine, quos Vatablus in suis annotationibus nonnunquam omiserat, idiotismis, verborumque difficiliorum radicibus. Ex Officina Sanctandreana, MDLXXXVI." Fol. 2 vol.

Præmittuntur prologi Hieronymiani. In unaquaque pagina, extrema columna textum Hebraicum exhibet, proxima versionem novam (de cujus autore lis est inter doctos); tertia vulgatam, intima LXX. interpretum; subjacent his annotationes. Prius volumen claudunt duo Esdræ libri apocryphi, Latine tantum; in posteriore primum habent locum Tobet et Judith, (ante librum Esther) qui sicut reliqui apocryphi, suo ordine collocati inter libros sacros, triplici columna dantur; præter tertium Machabæorum librum, qui duplici. Duos prius, alterum tres tomos comprehendit.

De hoc opere raro, nec satis usitato, consule Longianam Bibliothecam Sacram, I. 384-6. Ter editum fuit; nempe cum titulo novo, ex off. Commeliniana, an. 1599 et 1616, adjecto tertio volumine Nov. Test. Græco-Lat. "Salutantur hæc Biblia plerumque a nomine Vatabli, sed Vatblo minime editio tribuenda est, qui anno 1547, inter vivos esse desierat. Robertus Stephanus, an. 1545, annotationes aliquas Bibliis Latinis adjunxerat, easdemque auctiores an. 1557 recudi curaverat; has sub Vatabli nomine publice exposuit, quia ex ejus prælectionibus haustæ dicebantur." (Maschius.) Hinc in Polyglotta devenerunt, quæ Corn. Bonav. Bertramo rectius viri docti adjudicant. Le-Long ait primam ed. in 3 vol. prodiisse: quod forsan error.

PSALTERIUM Quadruplex (sc. Hebraice, Græce, et Latine) in VIII. tomo S. Hieronymi Operum habetur.—Vide Patres.

§ 3. NOV. TEST. POLYGLOTTON.

"Ἡ ΚΑΙΝΗ ΔΙΑΘΗΚΗ. TESTAMENTUM NOVUM. דִּיתִיקָא חֲדָתָא. Est autem interpretatio Syriaca Novi Testamenti, Hebræis typis descripta, plerisque etiam locis emendata.

Eadem Latino sermone reddita. Auctore Immanuele Tremellio, Theologiæ Doctore et professore in schola Heidelbergensi, cujus etiam GRAMMATICA CHALDAICA ET SYRA calci operis adjecta est. Excudebat Henr. Stephanus Anno M.D.LXIX." Fol. mag.

Volumen speciosissimum Reg. Elizabethæ dedicatum, exhibet quibusque paginis binis Græcum textum cum versione Bezana, Syrum cum Tremelliana, luculentissimis typis descriptos. In fine cartula agglutinata memorat Anglice quod Da. Stokes reddidit librum bibliothecæ 5 Jun. 1658, quem ipse mense Jul. 1656, mutuaverat ab Abr. Colfe.

In Bibl. Sacra Longiana, I. 408-410, Syriaca hæc editio magnopere increpatur a Genebrardo. De Grammatica Syra, vide infra inter Philologos.

"JESU CHRISTI D. N. NOVUM TESTAMENTUM, sive Novum Fœdus. Cujus Græco contextui respondent interpretationes duæ: una, vetus; altera, nova, Theodori Beza, diligenter ab eo recognita.

Ejusdem Th. Beza Annotationes, quas itidem hac tertia editione recognovit, et accessione non parva locupletavit. Responsio ejusdem ad Seb. Castellionem, in qua multi Novi Testamenti et harum in ipsam annotationum loci accuratissime excutiuntur, seorsum excusa prostat." Genevæ; typis Stephanianis, 1582. fol.

Opus Reg. Elizabethæ dedicatum, in duos tomos partitur, duosque habet in calce indices. "Responsio" non extat in nostro exempl. Hornius, (II. 129) ait Bezanam editionem tertiam optimam ex iis esse quas ipse curavit: omnes habere duplicem versionem, duplicis item generis annotationes, philologicas nempe (supra textum) doctrinales et ad praxin spectantes, inferius.

§ 4. VERSIONES.

"Testamenti Veteris BIBLIA SACRA, sive Libri Canonici priscae Judæorum ecclesiæ a Deo traditi, Latini recens ex Hebræo facti, brevibusque Scholiis illustrati ab Immanuele Tremellio et Francisco Junio.

Accesserunt Libri qui vulgo dicuntur Apocryphi, Latini rediti, et notis quibusdam aucti a Francisco Junio. Multo omnes quam ante emendatius editi et aucti locis innumeris; quibus etiam adjunximus Novi Testamenti libros ex sermone Syro ab eodem Tremellio, et ex Græco a Theodoro Beza in Latinum versos, notisque itidem illustratos. Secunda cura Francisci Junii. Londini. Impensis Guliel. N[ewbury]. An. Dom. 1593." Fol.

Editio pulchrior quam ultra mare impressæ. Tituli Apocr. et Novi Test. an. 1592, præ se ferunt. Notas marginales Latine scripsit quidam doctus. Matth. Polus in Præf. ad Synopsin, magnam agit hujusce versionis commendationem. Ait porro, "Francisci Junii Scholia, brevia quidem, sed eruditione multifaria et summo judicio limata; cujus vel pauca verba ingentia æquant aliorum volumina. Junii labores non spernendos dixit Hugo Grotius; recte sanè, at addere potuisset, et addent quotquot Junii labores æquis oculis usurpaverint, plurimi æstimandos, et in primis Interpretum subselliis collocandos."

"THE BIBLE, that is the Holy Scriptures contained in the Old and New Testament. Translated according to the Ebrew and Greeke, and conferred with the best translations in divers languages.

With most profitable Annotations upon all the hard places, and other things of great importance. Imprinted at London by Robert Barker, Printer to the Queenes most excellent Maestie. Anno 1602." Fol.

This is a fine copy of the Geneva translation, (which was first published there by the English refugees in 1560, in 4to,) commonly known as the Breeches Bible. It is printed in a fine black letter, and contains the Apocrypha. The title to the New Test. is this :

“ The New Testament of our Lord Jesus Christ, translated out of Greeke by Theod. Beza. Whereunto are adjoyned briefe summaries of doctrine upon the Evangelistes and Acts of the Apostles, together with the methode of the Epistles of the Apostles, by the saide Theod. Beza. And also short expositions on the phrases and hard places, taken out of the large annotations of the foresaid author and Joach. Camerarius, by P. Loseler. Villerius. Englished by L. Tomson.”

“ THE BIBLE,” etc.

“ Amsterdam, Printed by Thomas Stafford ; and are to be sold at his house, at the signe of the Flight of Brabant, upon the Milk-market, over against the Deventer Wood-market. c15.15.xl. According to the copy printed at Edinburgh by Andro Hart, in the yeare 1610.”

“ The New Testament, [etc.] Together with the Annotations of Fr. Junius upon the Revelation of St. John.”

This, as well as the other edition of the Geneva Translation, is illustrated with a cut of “ The Situation of the Garden of Eden ” in Genesis ; and of “ The Description of the Holy Land,” prefixed to Matthew. The former has also a frontispiece of the Creation, to Genesis ; this has a fine plate of the high priest and his attire, at Exod. xxviii. and a map at Numb. xxxiii. After the usual Tables subjoined to this version, are two leaves with this title : “ An Admonition to the Christian Reader ; Concerning the Apocryphā Books, wherein are shewed the reasons and grounds wherefore they are here omitted, as not Canonically, and not to be accounted amongst the Books of undoubted truth, as the Holy Scriptures are to be held for.” At the end, “ Ordaigned by the Synode of Dort in the yeare 1618. Set out and annexed, by the Deputies, to the end of the Dutch Bible newly translated.”

The marginal annotations accompanying this version may account for an edition so late as 1640. The English printers had not authority to print them with the new version ; but about this time they petitioned the Committee for Religion, for license to do so, which gave occasion for the “ Assembly’s Annotations,” as we learn from their preface, p. 6-7. It is certain, however, that before the publication of that work in 1645, a fair folio edition of the new translation was printed at Amst. in 1643, having those notes “ for the first time set forth ” with it.

§ 5. BIBLIA POSTILLATA.

BIBLIA SACRA POSTILLATA; sive Textus Sacro-sanctus in media quaque collocatus pagina, commentariis Nicolai de Lyra et aliorum undique illustratus. Cum notis MSS.

Literis Gothicis impressa Venetiis per Joh. de Colonia et Nic. Jenson, 1481. Fol. IV. voluminibus.

Huic nostro exemplari deest volumen primum, quod sane dolendum; nam tria cætera pictas capitales habent literas, rubricatasque; præterea passim obviæ sunt notulæ, manu antiqua, ejusdem scilicet cum libro ætatis. In his plurimi auctores allegantur; Hieronymus, Armachani sermones, Parisiensis (scil. Petrus Comestor), Augustinus, Albertus, Cassianus, Gregorius, Ambrosius, Chrysostomus, Ricardus de Sancto Victore, Gerson, S. Thomas (Aquinas), Bernardus, Origenes, Leo papa, et Lincolniensis (Rob. Grosthead); quos omnes deprehendas in tertio vol. præter alios alibi; unde licet quanti notæ MSS. istæ sint æstimandæ discere.

Habentur quoque alius generis illustrationes in secundo tomo: super Ezech. 12 pictæ imagines ædificiorum ac aliarum visionum; in Daniele et ante Machab. schema successionis sive "figura regum." Has in spatiis relictis videtur eadem manus depinxisse, quæ et scripsit notas.

In calce tertii tomi subscribitur. "Explicit postilla nicolai de lyra super vetus testamentum cum expositionibus britonis in prologos hieronymi; et cum additionibus pauli episcopi burgensis et correctorijs earundem additionum editis a mathia doringe ordinis minorum.

“ANNOTATIONS upon all the Books of the Old and New Testament; wherein the Text is explained, Doubts resolved, Scriptures paralleled, and Various Readings observed. By the Joynt-Labour of certain Learned DIVINES, thereunto appointed, and therein employed, as is expressed in the Preface.

London, printed by John Legat and John Naworth, 1645." Fol.

The Preface to this work contains a very interesting sketch of the progress of sacred learning in this country, to the time of the Commonwealth. The origin of these Annotations hath been shown above, in a note on the Amst. edition of the Geneva translation. Though published by authority of the Assembly of Divines, Calamy (whose father was a member) says, that this work does not justly belong to it as a body; and he hath given an account of the authors of the respective portions of the work, in his Life of Baxter, p. 86. The third edition was published in 1657, in 2 vol. folio, much enlarged.

§ 2. COMM. IN VETUS TEST.

"A Help for the Understanding of the Holy Scripture. Intended chiefly for the assistance and information of those that use constantly every day to reade some part of the Bible, and would gladly alwayes understand what they reade if they had some man to help them.

The first part, containing short notes of exposition upon the five books of Moses, to wit, Genesis, Exodus, Leviticus, Numbers, and Deuteronomie. Wherein First, all such passages in the Text are explained as were thought likely to be questioned by any reader of ordinary capacity; Secondly, in many clauses those things are discovered which are needfull and usefull to be known, and not so easily at the first reading observed; and, Thirdly, many places that might at first seem to contradict one another, are reconciled. By Arthur Jackson, Preacher of God's Word in Wood-street, London. —Printed by Roger Daniel," etc. 1643, 1646. 4^o.

In one thick volume are contained two parts of this valuable work, the latter including as far as Esther. Pp. 572, 810. The former is dedicated by the author to his congregation, the latter to the Company of Clothworkers.

§ 3. COMM. IN NOVUM TEST.

"Des. Erasmi Roterodami in Novum Testamentum Annotationes, ab ipso auctore jam quartum recognita, et ex Græcis codicibus quos postea nactus est auctario nequitiam pœnitendo locupletatæ.

Apud inclytam Rauracorum Basileam. An. MDXXVII." Fol.

Volumen hocce comes olim fuit et debet esse Testamenti Novi Græce, cujus principem editionem Erasmus luci misit an. 1516. Quamvis enim Complutenses an. 1514 suam cuderant editionem, Erasmo videre non contigit ante tertiam suam jam evulgatam: quod etiam liquet ex ipso fronte hujus libri.—"In Annotationes Novi Testamenti præfatio, primæ æditionis quæ fuit An. M.D.XV. cui tamen post admixta sunt quædam, quæ ad tempus posterius pertinent usque ad annum vigesimum primum. Hoc te lector nescire nolui, ne quid offenderis." Adjunguntur, "Appendices Annotationum," cum Indicibus. Prodiit mense Februario, ex off. Jo. Frobenii. Bonum est nostrum exemplar, ac in fronte habet autographum reverendissimi Cranmeri, solitum, "Thomas Cantuarien."

"The first tome or volume of the Paraphrase of Erasmus upon the NEW TESTAMENTE.

Enpriented at London in Flete-strete at the signe of the Sunne, by Edward Whitchurche, the laste daie of Januarie, Anno Domini 1548. Cum privilegio Regali ad imprimendum solum." Fol.

The above title (from a copy in the British Museum) is wanting in our copy of this rare work: nor have we the second volume, which was published in the following year. This work is printed in the black letter. The translation was undertaken for Queen Catharine Parr, to whom each part is separately dedicated, by Nicholas Udall, (except the gospel of Mark, by Thomas Key,) and the whole is dedicated to Edw. VI.

“ In sacrosancta Quatuor Jesu Christi EVANGELIA Francisci Lucae Brugensis ecclesiæ cathedralis Audomaropolitinæ Theologi et Decani Commentarius. Alia ejusdem scriptoris ad S. Scripturæ lucem Opuscula.

Antverpiæ ex officina Plantiniana apud Joannem Moretum, M.DC.VI.” Fol.

Splendidum et egregium opus. Textus Evangeliorum cum commentario, per singulos versus exhibetur, Græce et Latine. Accedunt inter alia — Itinerarium Jesu Christi, ordine temporis; Notarum ad varias lectiones in iv. Evang. occurrentes, libellus duplex, quorum uno Græcæ, altero Latine varietates explicantur; simul et Tractatus de Chaldaica S. Scripturæ Paraphrasi.

Lucas fuit princeps Theologorum Lovaniensium, quorum labores in versione Latina repurganda, minus a Pontifice approbati, ansam dederunt edendi textum illum vulgatum, quo hodie utuntur Romanenses. Accipe quæ Polus noster, in Præf. ad vol. iv. Synopseos:—“ Lucas Burgensis, qui linguarum rerumque cognitione supra Theologorum vulgus instructus, Evangelia, ut prolixè, magnaue industria, ita docte et plerumque cum judicio, enarrata nobis dedit.”

“ Primus Tomus Theosophiæ Joannis Arborei Laudunensis, Doctoris Theologi, complectens sanam et luculentam difficillimorum locorum cum Veteris tum Novi Testamenti expositionem, decem libris absolvitur:

In quibus lepidissimæ sacrorum doctorum sententiæ discutuntur, et multorum hæreses revelluntur. Parisiis. Apud Simonem Colinæum, M.D XL.”

“ Secundus Tomus,” etc. Fol.

“ Doctissimi et uberrimi Commentarii Joannis Arborei Laudunensis Doctoris Theologi Parisiensis in Quatuor Domini EVANGELISTAS.

In quibus sacrorum doctorum sententiæ discutuntur, et perniciosæ quorundam interpretum assertiones revincuntur. Adjectus est huic operi laboriosissimo Index rerum arcanarum locupletissimus. Parisiis, apud Joannem de Roigny, in via Jacobæa, sub insigni quatuor elementorum, 1551."

"Tertius tomus [etc.] complectitur sanam et luculentam in omnes divi PAULI Epistolas explanationem, in qua sacrorum et ecclesiasticorum doctorum sententiæ discutiuntur, et quæ ad fidei robur, et Christianorum mores summopere conducunt, abunde tractantur. Ad illustrissimum Galliarum Regem Henricum, hujus nominis secundum. Adjectus [etc.] 1553. Cum privilegio Regis." Fol.

Exemplar pulchrum nostrum tomos habet quatuor in duobus voll. foliatis compactos; juxta ordinem temporis quidem sed non veram operis dispositionem. Priores duo (Card. Ludov. Burbonio dedicati) sunt potius Loci communes quam justi commentarii; quod ostendit titulus primi libri, esse nempe, "expositionem, [quæ] 19 libris conclusa est; quibus respondent litteræ alphabeticæ:" scilicet capit auctor vocabulum aut sententiam s. scr. vel alicujus ex Patribus doctoribusve. Tom. I. literas continet A-L, alter M-V. Postiores tomi textum exhibent cum commentario sequenti.

In calce primi tomi notatur, "Excudebat hoc insigne opus Simon Colinæus Parisiis, Anno M.D.XL. Mense Januario:" et ejus Temporis effigie titulus insignitur; sed "Prelum Ascensianum" ornat titulum com. in Evang. 1551, et tertii tomi Theosophiæ, (hoc ordine compacti sunt) istos enim excudebat Jo. de Roigny, cui nupta fuit tertia Jod. Badii Ascensii filia.

"A Commentary upon the three first chapters of the First Epistle generall of St. PETER.

Wherein are most judiciously and probably handled such points of Doctrine as naturally flow from the text. Together with very good Application thereof: and many good Rules for a godly life. By Nicholas Byfield, Preacher of God's word at Isleworth in Middlesex. To which is now newly added an Alphabetical Table not formerly published. London, Printed by Miles Flesher and Robert Young. MDCXXXVII." Sm. Fol.

This volume consists of three parts, each with a separate title and dedication, but in one series of paging. The commentary on the first chapter is dedicated by the author to the Countess of Bedford, 1617: the second by his widow Elizabeth to Sir Horatio and Lady Mary Vere; printed 1636: the third to the same, by William Gouge, who published both the latter parts after the author's death. The two former are called "a Commentary or Sermons," the last "Sermons" only.

The author died in 1622. An interesting account of him is given in the preface to the second part. He was chiefly remarkable for his piety and patience under an extraordinary affliction with the stone for many years. A printed ticket is pasted behind the title: "1653. The gift of Thomas Woodstock, Leatherseller of London."

S. Augustinus in Johannis Epistolas, in tomo IX. Operum habetur, p. 391: in Apocalysim, ib. 446.

"A Generall View of the whole Revelation." 4^o.

The title page of this book is lost, nor can the author's name be discovered. It contains 921 pages, is preceded by a table of contents, and followed by a prayer. A considerable part of the volume is occupied in controverting Bellarmine about Antichrist (pp. 622-770); with the exception of which part, the running title is "A Revelation of the Apocalypse."

CAPUT III.

CRITICA SACRA.

§ 1. CONCORDANTIÆ.

“Repertorium Alphabeticum sententiarum præstantium contentivum : decerptarum.

Ex Glossa Ordinaria Interlineari—Nicolai de Lyra doct. famosissimi Ordinis minorum, Litterali, Morali postilla—Questione quodlibetica. Utrum messias deus, et homo existens, et in lege promissus, venerit, an adhuc venturus a iudeis vere expectetur.—Libello responsali obiectionibus cuiusdam iudæi contra euangelium Matthei.—Pauli Episcopi Burgen. iudaismum repudiantis. Additionibus ad postil.—Matthie Thuringi Ordinis minorum. Correctorio siue Repli.—Super ve. et no. testa.” Fol.

Verso folio titulari habetur epistola, qua “F. Conradus Leontorius Mulbrunnen. Diligenti et beniuolo lectori. Salutem” dicens, totum opus commendat cujus hoc volumen septima pars extat ; quemadmodum supra nos jam diximus, Biblia Glossata recensendo. Editioni vero posteriori Basil. 1506, potius quam nostræ an. 1502 vulgatæ, convenit : causa moræ typographis inde nata est, quod, cum ante extitere duæ tabulæ, sive indices ad ingens hoc opus, altera antiquiore, altera impressa sed mendosissime (prout exemplis comprobatur Leontorius) omnino necesse visum est novum Indicem sive Repertorium moliri. Alia ejusdem epistola in calce operis legitur, similiter Romanis, cum reliquum volumen Gothicis scribatur, typis expressa. Utraque data fuit “Ex valle Engadi. VIII. Kalen. Novembris, Anno Christi M.D.VIII.” Dolendum est quod improbissima manus cuiusdam barbari, aliquot avulsis foliis, librum rarissimum nobis mancum reliquerit.

Egregiam navaverat operam eruditissimus typographus Rob. Stephanus, in textu versionis vulgatæ Latinæ repur-gando, ad quem accommodatur præsens opus. De ejus instituto vide præfationem.—Minutis typis excusum est.

“Rerum et Verborum per totam Scripturam Index, secundum libros, capita, et versus,” Latine, habetur in calce Bibliorum Polyglottorum Waltoni; ubi etiam invenias Indicem nomina propria virorum et locorum explicantem.

“Concordantiæ Græcolatinæ Testamenti Novi, nunc primum plenæ editæ: et diu multumque desideratæ, ut optimæ duces ad veram vocum illius interpretationem futuræ.

Accessit huic editioni Supplementum eorum omnium quæ hactenus desiderabantur, tam eorum quæ ad calcem libri rejectæ, quam quæ omissa desiderari poterant. In his quid præstitum sit, præfixa ad lectorem epistola docet. Oliva Pauli Stephani Anno M.DC.” Fol.

Promiserat hoc opus Rob. Stephanus in præfatione ad Latinas suas Concordantias. In præf. ad hunc librum Paulus agit de distinctione versuum Novi Test. a patre suo facta, deque aliis ejus in literis sacris operibus.

“Propheticae, et Apostolicae, id est, Totius Divinæ ac Canonicae Scripturae, Thesaurus, in Locos Communes rerum, dogmatum suis divinis exemplis illustratorum, et phraseon scripturæ familiarium, ordine Alphabetico digestus. Ex AUGUSTINI MARLORATI adversariis a Guiliel. Feuguereio in codicem relatus.

Londini, excudebat Thomas Vantrollerius typographus. Anno M.D.LXXIII.” Fol.

Colophon iste claudit opus. “Laus Deo, cujus Spiritu duce et Providentia comite, hæc absolvebat G. Fevgvereivs, Londini propter Evang. Christi exulans, pridie calendas Augusti Anno 1574.”

“Troporum, Schematum, Idiomatumque Communium Liber, ex omnibus orthodoxis Ecclesiæ Patribus singulari industria tam collectus, quam in ordinem convenientissimum, hoc est Alphabeticum, dispositus: ut sine omni scrupulo studiosus rerum divinarum, veteris et novi Testamenti Scripta, quæ phrasim peculiarem et loquendi Methodos, Hebraico more proprios habere, et nodos prius etiam Theologis summis incognitos, dissolvere queat. Barptolemæo Westhemero Phorzensi auctore.

Adjuncta est Troporum nomenclatura alphabetica, una cum Indice Sententiarum tropicarum extra alphabetum hinc inde positarum. Joannes Sapidus Lectori Theologo. [scil. ejus carmen.] Basileæ, Anno M.D.LI.” Fol.

Liber curiosus, a Joh. Hervagio impressus.

§ 2. MISCELLANEA BIBLICA.

“Twelve Dissertations out of Monsieur LE CLERK’s Genesis:—Concerning the Hebrew Tongue; Manner of interpreting the Bible; Author of the Pentateuch; Temptation of Eve by the Serpent; Flood; Confusion of Languages; Original of Circumcision; Divine Appearances in the Old Testament; Subversion of Sodom; Pillar of Salt; Coming of Shiloh; Several obscure Texts in Genesis explained and illustrated. Done out of Latin by Mr. Brown.

To which is added, a Dissertation concerning the Israelites’ passage through the Red Sea, by another hand.” London. 1696. 8vo.

The preface contains an apology for Le Clerk, and the highest commendations of him: the writer says, “certainly never mortal came better prepared to unveil the beauty of the Scriptures.”

“Illustrations of the Phraseology of Scripture, by WILLIAM DAY.” Edinburgh, 1828. 12^o.

These illustrations are contained in forty articles on the most interesting Biblical subjects; they were delivered in the form of popular Lectures, during a visit to London, in 1827, and were composed in the study of the compiler of this catalogue, by whom the book was given to the Library.

“Decimus—continens reliqua tractata apud populum, quorum summam indicabit hæc pagina versa.”

Sic breviter perstrinximus titulos singulis voluminibus præfixos; non operæ pretium ducens omnes libros nominatim recensere: namque primo tomo duplex præmittitur catalogus, prior “Index Operum divi Augustini juxta ordinem decem tomorum, indicatis simul retractationibus Aug. et censuris Des. Erasmi Roterodami.” Posterior vero servat ordinem “qui in Retractationibus et in priore æditione Basiliensi servatus est.” De qua editione, ut et nostra, vide Fabricii Bibl. Lat. III. 513. Etsi textus tomi primi cum typis fuerit scriptus anno 1528, sicut notatur in calce; completum tamen non fuit volumen, ante sequentem annum vergentem; ideoque titulus princeps isto anno insignitur. Namque ex calce justæ molis libri qui primo tomo accessit, cum hoc titulo, “Index omnium quæ insigniter dicta sunt a divo Augustino, juxta ordinem literarum accurate digestus,” discimus “Anno M.D.XXIX. mense Septembri,” operi coronam fuisse inditum.

De Vita Aug. a ‘Posidonio’ scripta, quam in fine tomi I. offendas, vide Fabric. p. 519. Vide Saxium de Aug. I. p. 446-7, sub an. 384; et de Possidio, p. 460. sub an. 397. Passim habentur notæ MSS. in marginibus.

“Divi PETRI CHRYSOLOGI Archiepiscopi Ravennatis viri eruditissimi atque sanctissimi, insigne et pervetustum opus Homiliarum nunc primum in lucem editum.

Claruit sub Martiano Augusto, Anno Domini CCCCL.” Coloniæ ap. Melch. Novesianum, 1541. Fol.

Dixit in epistola nuncupatoria typographus, “Eum—nunquam Germania antehac edidit, Italia autem, mutilum, corruptum et depravatum, ut vel Oedipo opus fuerit in multis in mente auctoris indaganda.” Præmittitur index clxxvi sermonum. Huic bono exemplari companguntur Lanspergii sermones, ex eadem off. eodemque anno profecti.

“Divi CLEMENTIS Opera quæ ad hunc usque diem extare comperta sunt: cujus D. Paulus ad Philippenses scribens meminit, quique eam quæ ad Hebræos conscripta est epistolam, magno Græcorum et Latinorum consensu scripsisse fertur. Rufino Torano Aquileiense interprete.

Accesserunt Canones Apostolorum per eundem Clementem in unum congesti, una cum interpretatione Gregorii Italoandri et veteri editione. Adjecimus insuper selectissimas vetustissimorum præsulum, non minus doctrina et eruditione quam morum sanctimonia epistolas ad fidem veterum exemplarium Victorinorum restitutas. Lege si libet ὁ θρησκευομαστιξ, et fateberis non nudiustertius natas cæremonias, sed jam inde ab Apostolis ad nos usque per manus devenisse. Versa pagella elenchum operum complectitur." Paris. ap. Carolam Guillard. 1544. Fol.

Eo tempore non in lucem venerat codex percelebris Alexandrinus (nunc in Museo Brit. in Bibl. Regia) unde recuperavit Patr. Junius duas ad Corinthios epistolas Clementinas, ediditque Oxon. 1633. 4to. At opera in isthoc libro, prorsus Clemente sunt indigna. Canones pseudapostolicæ, Græce cum duplici versione dantur, fo. 57-63. Libri partem posteriorem edidisse Jo. Sichard videtur. Epistolarum index titulum sequitur: Acta Conciliorum quorundam et Synodorum, decretaque Pontificum is monstrat. Leonis I. papæ, 95 epistolæ in extremo libro habentur; de quo sub anno 440 vide Saxium I. 505-6. Vide etiam quæ de Clemente refert ille, sub an. 69. p. 257, 576.

"Opera sanctissimi martyris CÆCILII CYPRIANI Episcopi Carthaginensis, jam tertium habes lector, a mendis repurgatiora, ex variarum æditionum ac vetustissimorum codicum collatione, adjectis pluribus quæ vulgata non fuerant, annotatis quæ vel notha ferebantur vel ambigua, studio curaque D. Erasmi Roterodami."

Basil. ex off. Froben. 1525. Fol.

Tam in fronte libri quam in calce nitida manus quæpiam additis tribus lineolis, librum fecit annum 1528 mentiri. Editionum Erasm. meminit Fabric. "1520, fol. et 1525, fol. apud Frobenium, et 1540, fol. et 1558." De Cypriano, sub anno martyrii sui 258, agit Saxius I. 368-9. Operibus præmittuntur, Vita ex Hieronymo; epistola Erasmi atque annotationunculæ: ordo operum, deinde index vocabulorum inchoantium epistolas; (quo meliorem nomina recensentem invenies apud Fabric. Bibl. Lat. III. 385;) Passio Cypriani per Pontium: item in calce est "Sententiarum index."

"Divi CYRILLI Alexandrini Episcopi Theologi præstantissimi Opera quæ hactenus haberi potuere, in tomos quinque digesta: nam quintus hac editione accessit.

In hoc vol. foliato habentur tantum quatuor tomi, in quos index est confectus. Quintus, in quo comprehensos "Commentariorum in Hesaiam prophetam libros quinque" esse monemur, non comparet: ex prefatione videtur seorsim fuisse excusus. Latinitati dedit Georgius Trapezuntius. “ Vita sancti Gregorii Papæ ” sequitur tabulas duas in principio : in folio penultimo, “ Incipiunt undecim interrogationes Augustini Canthuariensis Anglie archiepiscopi ad beatissimum Gregorium papam ” (f. 449b.) cum responsionibus : tunc, “ Explicit Parrhisij per magistrum Bertholdum Remboldt : Expensis ejusdem ac Joannis Parvi. Anno domini millesimo quingentesimo xvij. Die vero x. Decembris.” (f. 450d.) Sequitur Tabula in Registrum, volumini annexa huic valde curioso, literis Gothicis impresso.

“ Omnes quæ extant D. HIERONYMI Stridonensis Lucubrationes, una cum Pseudepigraphis et alienis admixtis, in novem digestæ tomos, sed multo quam ante vigilantius per Des. Erasmus Roterodamum nunc postremum emendatæ, locis non paucis feliciter correctis, quibusdam etiam locupletatis, duntaxat in scholiis.

Cura lector, ut nobis sit faustum ac felix tantum laborum et impendiorum suscepisse. Erit autem, si thesaurum magno usui futurum libenter emeris.” Basil. apud Froben. 1536-7. Fol.

Quoniam Erasmus in principio statuit bonos indices, extra operam fuerit nisi breviter describere titulos tomorum singulorum. Est primus “ Index omnium Operum S. Hieronymi cum censuris in quinque digestus ordines per Des. Erasmus Roterodamum ; ” alter “ eorum quæ perierunt Index ; ” tertius “ Index juxta ordinem tomorum complectens simul et initium operis et argumenti summam et nomen ejus ad quem scribitur."

I. "Tomus Primus, ea complectens quæ ad vitæ institutionem faciunt, adjecta coronide scriptorum illustrium, quanta potuit diligentia castigatus, et scholiis Erasmianis illustratus." (ex colophone curioso.)

II. "Alter tomus Epistolarum Divi Eusebii Hieronymi Stridonensis, complectens ελεγκτικά και απολογετικά, nimirum ea quæ pertinent ad refellendas diversas hæreseis et maledictorum calumnias: una cum argumentis et scholiis Des. Erasmi Roterodami."

III. "Tomus ultimus Epistolarum et librorum Epistolarium—complectens τα εξηγηματικά, ea nempe quæ ad expositionem divinæ scripturæ faciunt: una," etc.

IV. "Tomus quartus, in cujus prima parte reperies erudita quædam, sed hactenus falso inscripta Hieronymo. In secunda, aliena, sed suis quæque titulis autorem testantia. In tertia, lectu prorsus indigna, et impudenter attributa doctis viris. Quæ tamen adjunximus, ne quid amputasse videremur æditioni jam receptæ. Omnia diligentius recognita."

In hoc tomo inveniuntur "Eusebius de morte Hieronymi ad Damasum," p. 343. "Augustini Hipponensis episcopi ad Cyrillum Hier. episcopum de magnificentis beati Hieronymi," p. 363, cum responso. Vita Hieronymi incerto auctore, p. 386.

V. "Commentarios in Prophetas quos Majores vocant, continet."

VI. "Commentarios in duodecim Prophetas quos Minores vocant, juxta utramque translationem, continet."

VII. "Hæc insunt; In Parabolas Salomonis Commentarii, in Ecclesiasten Commentarii, Homiliæ in Cantica canticorum quatuor Origenis nomine. Denique in Job Commentarii."

VIII. "Commentarios in Psalterium habet. Accessit his Psalterium triplici lingua, Hebraica, Græca, et Latina."

IX. "Complectens Commentarios in Matthæum et Marcum, et in divi Pauli epistolas, videlicet ad Galathas, Ephesios, Titum, Philemonem: necnon Commentarios in omnes Pauli epistolas, sed incerto auctore: postremo Didymi de Spiritu sancto librum a Hieronymo versum."

Exemplar nostrum in quinque voluminibus compactum est, in corio suillo: madore corrupta sunt plurima loca. Notæ Colfanæ pulchre scriptæ in margine passim observandæ sunt. Erasmiana fuit editio sæpe repetita post primam, an. 1516: vide Fabric. Bibl. Lat. III. 450. After a dedication to James I. and an epistle to the reader, is "The Abstract of the Contents of the first part;" that of the second is at the end, after "S. Chrysostome's Exposition of Rom. 13, for the Supremacie of Kings," pp.543-554.

CONTROVERSIAL TRACTS, printed in the black-letter, between 1562 and 1581: in one vol. quarto:—

I. "The Apologie of the Church of Englande," by Bishop JEWEL.

"Imprinted at London by Reginald Wolfe. Anno 1562."

Ff. 70. The title only is wanting, though it begins "A iij:" for there are three leaves of the first sheet. The type is large and beautiful. See Jewel below.

II. "An Answeare for the time, unto that foule and wicked Defence of the Censure, that was given upon M. Charkes Booke, and Meredith Hammers.

Contayning a maintenance of the credite and persons of all those worthie men : namely of M. Luther, Calvin, Bucer, Beza, and the rest of those Godlie ministers of Gods worde, whom he, with a shamelesse penne, most slanderously hath sought to deface : finished sometime sithence : and now published for the stay of the Christian Reader till Maister Charkees Booke come forth."—"Imprinted at London by Thomas Dawson and Tobie Smith. 1583."

This is not in the black-letter : it contains 107 leaves. On the title is this note by Js. Colfe (?) "It is thought yt Persons writ the Censures on Mr Charke's booke." This tract is as curious as it is violent. Much may be found about Father Campion the Jesuit, and his contemporaries ; against whom the foulest language is vented.

III. "An Apologie, or Defence of those Englishe Writers and Preachers which Cerberus, the three-headed Dog of Hell, chargeth wyth false Doctrine, under the name of Predestination.

Written by ROBERT CROWLEY, Clerke and Vicare of Sainct Giles without Creplegate in London. Imprinted at London, in Paternoster Rowe, at the signe of the blacke boy, by Henry Binneman. Anno 1566. Octobris 14."

A beautiful pamphlet. The author was the first editor of the celebrated antient poems called the Visions and Crede of Piers Plouhman.

IV. "An Aunswer to sixe Reasons, that Thomas Pownde, Gentleman, and Prisoner in the Marshalsey, at the commaundement of her Maiestie's Commissioners, for causes Ecclesiasticall : required to be aunswered.

Because these Reasons doo moove him to think, that controversies and doubts in Religion, may not be Judged by the Scriptures, but that the Scriptures must be Judged by the Catholique Church. 1. The first is, for that the Scriptures are mute and dum. [etc.] Written by ROBERT CROVLEFY. Imprinted at London by John Charlewood. 1581."

The address "To all the Pope his Catholiques, in England or else where," is a specimen of the intolerance of those times. The six articles are dated 7 Sept. 1580. The two last leaves (G. iij. and 4) contain, "A breefe Aunswer to Maister Pownds six Reasons. Written by Maister Henrie Trippe" the associate of Crowley.

V. "Actes of Conference in Religion, Holden at Paris, betweene two Papist Doctours of Sorbone, and two godlie Ministers of the Church. Drawen out of French into English, by GEFRAIE FENTON.

Mon heur viendra. Imprinted at London by H. Bynneman, for William Norton and Humfrie Toye."

Dedicated to "The Right vertuouse Lady, the Lady Hobbie,—" at London, iij July 1571." The conference was "appoynted at the Duke of Montpensiers," in July and August 1566. The running title of this tract (which consists of 120 leaves) is "Disputations of Religion."

VI. "Two Godlie and learned Sermons, appointed, and preached before the Jesuites, Seminaries, and other adversaries to the Gospell of Jesus Christ in the Tower of London.

In which were confuted to their faces the moste principall and cheefe pointcs of their Romish and Whoarish religion: and all such Articles as they defend, contrarie to the woord of God, were layed open and ripped up unto them. In Maye 7 and 21, Anno 1581. By JOHN KELTRIDGE, Preacher of the worde of God, in London. Psal. 119, verse 128.—Prov. 4, 14.—Imprinted at London by Richard Jhones, dwelling without Newgate, neere unto Holburne Bridge."

Dedicated to Sir Fraunces Walsingham, "From my Chamber in Holborne, at London, June 10." A preface "To the Readers" follows; and then "The Epistle to the Jesuites," addressed "To the Adversaries of the grace of God in the Tower of London or elsewhere" This tract seems to be incorrectly printed: the signatures and paging are very irregular, on the last (the 60th page) are "Faultes escaped in Printing."

“A Treatise of Justification: wherein is first set downe the true Doctrine in the Causes, Effects, Fruites, Consequents of it, according to the Word of God. And then all Objections and Cavils of the Adversaries to God's free Justification by Grace are answered and confuted, especially of Robert Bellarmine, Jesuite and Cardinall.

This work consists of eight books; to which is prefixed "A Preface concerning the Apostasies of the now Church of Rome;" and subjoined is a good table of Scriptures, and an analytical table of contents. Calamy mentions a Mr. Downame, as employed on the Assembly's Annotations, (Life of Baxter, p. 86) perhaps a relative of the Bishop.

“A Replie unto M. Hardinges Answeare: By perusinge wherof the discrete and diligent Reader may easily see, the weake and unstable groundes of the Romaine Religion, whiche of late hath been accompted Catholique. By IOHN IEWEL, Bishoppe of Sarisburie.

Imprinted at London in Fleete-streate, at the signe of the Blacke Oliphant, by Henry Wykes. Anno 1565. With special Privilege." Fol.

The preface is dated "From London, the vi. of Auguste. 1565." Bishop Jewel's work, the "Apologie," which gave rise to this controversy, may be found in the volume of Controversial Tracts in black-letter (see above): it was reprinted a few years ago, by Bishop Randolph, in the first volume of his collection of Theological Tracts, intituled, Enchiridion Theologicum. In two letters to Abp. Parker, 26 April and 3 May, 1568, (preserved in the manuscript library of that prelate in Corpus Christi College, Cambridge, MS. 114, n. 161,) Bishop Jewel desired that it might not be re-printed until the typographical errors of the last edition should be corrected: see Nasmith's Catal. p. 152.

"A Defence of the Apologie of the Church of Englande, conteininge an Answere to a certaine Booke lately set foorth by M. Hardinge, and entituled, A Confutation of, etc. By IOHN IEWEL, Bishop of Sarisburie.—

Imprinted at London in Fleete-streate, at the signe of the Elephante, by Henry Wykes. Anno 1567. 27 Octobris. Cum gratia et privilegio Regiæ Maiestatis." Fol.

After the Dedication to Queen Elizabeth, is a curious collection of the abusive language vented against the Apologie: "Good Christian Reader," says Jewel, "I have here sette before the certaine principal flowers of M. Hardinges modeste speache. Taste no more then maie wel like thee. And iudge thereof as thou shalt see cause."

These two books are printed chiefly in the black-letter. They abound with manuscript notes, by the same hands as those in St. Jerome's Latin Works, namely, "Willms Wood" and Isaac Colfe.

"Miscellanies of Divinitie divided into three books, wherein is explained at large the estate of the Soul in her origination, separation, particular judgement, and conduct to eternall blisse or torment. By EDWARD KELLET, Doctor in Divinitie, and one of the Canons of the Cathedral Church of Exon.—

Printed by the Printers to the Universitie of Cambridge. Ann. Dom. 1633." Fol.

Of this work, dedicated to Abp. Laud, a full analysis is prefixed, with a large catalogue of authors. There is an index at the end. It is finely printed.

KELTRIDGE; see Controversial Tracts.

Verso folio est carmen commendatorium. Tum Index. Sequuntur folia CCLXVIII et LXXX: duo quippe habentur tomi; qui cum Petro Chrysologo (quem videas inter Patres) compacti sunt.

“Syntagma Theologicum in thesi et antithesi adornatum studio et opera OLAVI LAURELII, SS. Th. D. et antehac in Academia Ubsaliensi professoris regii, nunc autem Ecclesiæ Metropolitanæ Stockholmensis, pastoris primarii ac consistorii præsidis.

Ubsaliæ sumptibus authoris, excudebat Eschillus Matthiæ anno 1641.”

Titulus ex ære curiose est expressus. Post dedic. ad Christianam reginam, et præfatiunculam et privilegium, habentur 21 Carmina haud brevia, commendatoria, quorum duo Græca, unum Syriacum. Sequitur “Index et Series Articulorum,” etc. 35 numero. Opus est Theologiæ Polemicæ corpusculum, in quo auctor Lutheranus contra Papisticos, Arminianos, Calvinistas et alios, invehitur. In eodem volumine sunt alii tractatus: vide supra, Eschille et Gerdzlovium.

“The Common Places of the most famous and renowned Divine Doctor PETER MARTYR, divided into foure principall parts: with a large addition of manie theologicall and necessarie discourses never extant before. Translated and partlie gathered by Anthonie Marten, one of the Sewers of hir Majesties most Honourable Chamber,” etc.

This title is copied from the dedication copy presented to Queen Elizabeth, preserved in the old Royal Library in the British Museum; which is bound in purple velvet wrought with silver wire. This work is beautifully printed in the black-letter, in columns. There is a second title page:—

“Another Collection of certeine Divine matters and Doctrines of the same M. D. PETER MARTYR (the titles wherof appeare in the page following *,) necessarilie added to this volume for the greater benefit and comfort of the Christian Church. At the end is placed a table of all the particulars, and the Author's life at large. Translated, and partlie gathered by the said Anthonie Marten. [etc.] 1583." Dedicated "to hir Maiestie."

* "The Contents. Common places of Free will, Providence, Predestination, the cause of sinne, the sacrifice of the Masse. An exhortation to the Supper of the Lord. Three confessions touching the presence and participation of Christ in the sacrament. Certeine questions and answers. Divers propositions out of Genesis, Exodus, Leviticus, and the booke of Judges. A disputation, which D. Peter Martyr had at Oxford with Tresham, Chadse, and Morgan. Sundrie Sermons of the death of Christ, the resurrection of Christ, a place in the 20. chapter of John, Re-edifying of Christ's church, the profit and dignitie of the holie ministerie. An Exhortation to the study of Divinitie. A praise of the word of God delivered in the scriptures. Certeine other Orationes. Divers and sundrie theologicall Epistles. The Life of D. Peter Martyr," by Josias Simlerus.

The fine copy in this library wants the first title, and ten leaves at the end. Bp. Tanner mentions five editions of the Latin before this English translation, (Bibl. Brit. p. 515-7) the author of which says, that he had greatly improved and augmented the last of them.

Printed by John Windet, for the Assignes of Richard Day. 1599.” Small Folio.

A very fine ornamented title-page is followed by three leaves, containing, “ A Treatise made by Athanasius the great, concerning the vse and vertue of the Psalmes.” Then follow the Psalmes, beautifully printed in the black-letter; all in long lines; most of them being in the Alexandrine measure. It is imperfect at the end: the last leaf being P 5. The title of a beautiful edition of—

2. The Booke of Common Prayer, (black-letter) is also wanting, and all the first sheet. It begins with “ An Almanacke,” (red-letters), and seems to be in other respects perfect. After sheet Q is this title within a fine border:

"The Defense of the Aunswere to the Admonition, against the Replie of T. C. By IOHN WHITGIFT, Doctor of Diuinitie.

In the beginning are added these 4. Tables. 1. Of dangerous doctrines in the Replie. 2. Of Falsifications and Untruthes. 3. Of matters handled at large. 4. A table generall. (If any man be contentious, we haue no such custome, neyther the Churches of God. 1 Cor. 11. 16.) Printed at London by Henry Binneman for Humfrey Toye. Anno 1574." Fol.

This work is finely printed in the black-letter: it contains 812 pages, and 11 not numbered; with a colophon. In this beautiful copy are occasional MS. notes by "Isa: Colfe."

ANDR. WILLET'S "Synopsis Papismi, that is, a Generall View of Papistrie; wherein the whole mysterie of iniquitie, and summe of Antichristian doctrine is set downe, which is maintained this day by the Synagogue of Rome, against the Church of Christ.

Together with an Antithesis of the true Christian Faith, and an Antidote or Counterpoyson out of Scripture, against the Whore of Babylon's filthy cup of abominations. Confuted by Scriptures, Fathers, Councils, Imperial Constitutions, Pontifical Decrees, their owne Writers, and our Martyrs, and the consent of all Christian Churches in the World. Divided into Five Bookes or Centuries, that is so many hundreds of Popish heresies and errours. Now this fourth time perused and published by the former Author, and augmented with divers necessarie additions, to be seene in the end of the Preface. There are also annexed in the end 3. Tables, 1. of the Controversies and questions, 2. of the Scriptures, 3. of the matters. At London, Imprinted by Felix Kyngston, [etc.] 1614." Large folio.

A Latin prayer intituled Eucharisticon, is set before the dedication to James I. by ANDREW WILLET. Then follow, a dedication to Queen Elizabeth, and a "Preface to the Christian Reader," dated "Barleia. Ibid. [leg. Idib.] Octobr. Anno 1613." The several parts have their peculiar title-pages as here following :—

- "The First Booke or Centurie : Wherein are handled these chiefe and principall Controversies, of the Scriptures, the Church, generall Councils, the Pope, the Clergy, Monkes, and the Ciuill Magistrate." etc. With a Latin dedication to George Abp. of Cant. and John Bp. of London.
- "The Second [etc.] consistiing of Three general Controversies, concerning the state of the Church Triumphant in Heaven, the Intercession of Christ, and the Sacraments of the Church Militant upon earth in generall." With a Latin dedication to Charles prince of Wales.
- "The Third, [etc.] of such controversies as arise concerning the two right Sacraments of Baptisme and the Lord's Supper, and the five other Popish Sacraments."
- "The Fourth, [etc.] as are moved concerning the Benefits of our Redemption, as also touching the person of Christ. Wherein are contained the great questions of Predestination, Free Will, Justification by Faith, of Merites ; with a treatise of the Universalitie of Grace, which question hath much occupied of late the learned beyond the seas, and beginneth also to set foote in the Church of England." Dedicated to Sir Edw. Coke. (The author was a Calvinist.)
- "The Fifth Booke or Centurie, containing such Controversies and questions of Religion, as doe arise betweene the Protestants and Papists, about the natures of Christ : First of and concerning the Humane nature of Christ, then of his Divine, lastly of them both together. Hereunto also is added a brieffe Answer to Bellarmino's treatise of Indulgences and of the Jubilee." Dedicated to Thomas Earl of Exeter, and to Sir Julius Cæsar.

After page 1218 is a dedication to Sir Tho. Middleton, Lord Mayor of London, with a most interesting tract following:—

“A Catalogue of such Charitable Workes as have been done in the times of the Gospell within the space of 60 yeers, under the happie raignes of King Edward, Queene Elizabeth, [and] King James our gracious Soueraigne.” Pp. 1220-1243.

Another tract, ded. to Sir Tho. Egerton, Lord Ellesmere, Octob. 1613, has this title:—

“Tetrastylon Papismi: That is, the Foure Principall Pillars of Papistrie: The first containing their Railings, Slanders, Forgeries, Untruthes: the second their blasphemies, flat contradictions to Scripture, heresies, absurdities; the third, their loose arguments, weake solutions, subtill distinctions: the fourth and last, the repugnant opinions of the new Papists with the old: of the new one with another; of of the same writers with themselves: yea of the Popish Religion with and in it selfe. Collected as a necessarie Supplement or fit Appertinance to the Author's former worke, intituled, Synopsis Papismi: To the glory of God, [etc.] Reviewed againe by the former Author, and enlarged throughout, and the fourth time published.” etc. 1613.

After p. 1352 is an elaborate Analysis of the whole of this very learned curious and valuable work; “the first Table:” the second is of Scriptures, and the third of Matters. Another folio volume by the same author hath been already described among the Commentators.

“The True Church: Shewed to all men, that desire to be members of the same. In six bookes. Containing the whole bodie of Diuinitie. The Contents whereof are set downe after the Epistles. By GR. WILLIAMS, Dr of Diuinitie.

London, printed by Iohn Haviland for Nathaniel Bvtter, and are to be sold at his shop at the signe of the pide Bull neere Saint Austens Gate. 1629.” Fol.

The dedication to those noble brothers William Earle of Pembroke, and Philip Earle of Montgomery, is very curious; and is followed by an epistle, “To all Afflicted and Persecuted Christians.” At the end of this valuable work, p 933, is this subscription to a prayer, “Jehouæ Liberatori,” and the same words are subjoined to the excellent Index which follows.

Vossius in præf. ad Vitia Serm. ait de Boethio: "vix scio ecquid a Varronis temporibus Roma eo habuerit undecunque doctius."

A portrait of King Alfred, the translator and enlarger of this celebrated treatise, is prefixed. After "testimonia" are given some of the variations of the antient Cottonian MS. (Otho A. This beautiful translation of Tacitus was first printed in 1604, and the fifth edition was published in 1622. The two parts (pp. 271 and 227), form a very small folio volume; and the editions correspond page for page with each other. It was the joint work of two very skilful men. The dedication of the former part to Robert Earl of Essex, is signed Richard Grenewey: that of the latter "To her most sacred Maiestie," by Sir Henry Savile. Large notes accompany the text, and at p. 207 is "A View of certaine Militar matters, for the better understanding of the ancient Roman stories," with an ingraued plan of the Prætorian camp. The page following 227 has this colophon: "Printed at London by Arnold Hatfield for John Norton, anno 1612."

CAPUT III.

HISTORIA BRITANNICA.

HISTORIÆ BRITANNORUM ANTIQUA OPUSCULA: Londini apud Edmundum Bollifantum, impensis Henrici Denhami, et Radulphi Nuberij. 1585. 8o. Sunt autem:—

1. “PONTICI VIRUNNII viri doctissimi Britannicæ Historiæ libri sex, magna et fide et diligentia conscripti.

Ad Britannici codicis fidem correcti, et ab infinitis mendis liberati: quibus præfixus est catalogus Regum Britannicæ: per Davidem Pouelum, S. Theolog. professorem.”

Auctor, natione Tarvisinus, floruit an. 1490, et in gratiam Badoeræ familiæ confecit (post alios labores) Galfridi Mone-muthensis epitomen decem librorum historiæ fabulosæ totidem libellis. Hæc Vossius docet, non visa hac editione, sed illis quæ August. 1534, et Heidelb. 1542 cum Beda, excusæ fuere. (De Hist. Lat. p. 614.) Alia editio prodiit an. 1587, cura Hier. Commelini inter Scriptores Rerum Brit. in fol.

Ille qui correctoris officium præstitit huic libro, rogatu Do. Henrici Sydnæi, Walliæ Præsidis, hoc fecit; cui etiam dedicavit “Ruabonæ pridie Calend. Junij. 1585.”

2. “Itinerarium Cambriæ: seu laboriosæ Balduini Cantuar. Archiepiscopi per Walliam legationis, accurata descriptio, auctore SIL. GIRALDO Cambrense.

Opus Philippo Sidnæo dedicavit Pouelus (Ruabonæ 3 cal. Jun. 1585.) è tribus codicibus correctum, uno ab ejus patre D. Henrico, altero a D. Gul. Cecilio, tertio a Gul. Aubrey, LL. D. accepto. Præmittitur “Vita Giraldi Cambrensis ex ejus Scriptis, Lelando et Baleo collecta,” p. 43; et “Admonitio ad Lectorem,” de ratione editionis. Notæ copiosæ subjiciuntur singulis capitibus.

3. "Cambriæ Descriptio: auctore SIL. GIRALDO Cambrense. Cum,"—etc. (P. 231.)

Duplex præfatio auctoris præmittitur. Plurima verba Britannica recepta a Latinis, subjiciuntur cap. 15, ab editore. Volumen claudit,—

4. "De Britannica Historia recte intelligenda, et cum Romanis Scriptoribus reconcilianda, DA. POVELI Epistola, ad ornatissimum virum Gulielmum Fletewoode, ad leges servientem, inclytæ Londinensis Civitatis Recordatorem, conscripta." (P. 278-284.)

Sequuntur Index et Addenda. Tractatus istos breviter recensuit Tannerus in Bibl. Brit. p. 606, sub nostro Powelo; quem ait edidisse Historiam Caradoci Anglice, Lond. 1584.

"Chronicon ex Chronicis, ab initio mundi usque ad annum Domini 1118. deductum, auctore FLORENTIO Wigorniensis monacho.

Ille qui oras istius libri passim annotavit, cum Mariano Scoto conferens, aliisque historicis, nomen suum posuit sub titulo "Thomæ Milsî, ex dono D: GUL: HOWARDI." Eruditus ille Dominus Howard de Naworth edidit opus e codice proprio, suoque sumptu. Historiæ valde fuit peritus, prout monstrant codices plerique Arundelliani penes Feciales Londinenses, manu ipsius passim notati: quos nuper amplo Catalogo præsens recensuit Scriptor. Chronicon rarum est: exemplar istud plurimi faciendum.

"The History of Great Britaine under the Conquests of ye Romans, Saxons, Danes, and Normans. Their original Manners, Habits, Warres, Coines, and Seales, with the Successions, Lines, Acts, and Issues of the English Monarchs, from Julius Cæsar to our most gracious Sovereigne King James.

The third Edition, revised and enlarged with sundry descents of ye Saxons Kings; their Mariages and Armes. By JOHN SPEED. Anno 1650."—"Imprinted at London.—Are to be sold by George Humble at the Whit horse in Popes head Alley." Fol.

A fine engraved title and a portrait are prefixed to this work, which is dedicated to K. James I. Hen. Spelman is the author of the first piece of commendatory poetry, of which here is plenty. Under the dedication is pasted a ticket, inscribed, "1652. The guift of William Humble Esq; and Leatherseller of London:" who was the son of the publisher, and afterward Master of the Company and a Baronet.

"Divi Britannici: being a Remark upon the Lives of all the Kings of this Isle, from the year of the world 2855, unto the year of Grace 1660. By Sir WINSTON CHURCHILL, Kt."

London, 1675. Fol.

This curious book consists of a history of the Kings from Brutus to Charles II. inclusively, distinguished into six Dynasties,—Britains, Romans, English, Danes, English, Normans, and Scots. It is remarkable for the coats of arms assigned to each king. There is in this book too much wit for a just piece of history.

"The History of the Rebellion and Civil Wars in England, begun in the year 1641. With the precedent Passages and Actions, that contributed thereunto, and the happy End and Conclusion thereof by the Kings blessed Restoration and Return upon the 29th of May in the year 1660. Written by the Right Honourable EDWARD Earl of CLARENDON, late Lord High Chancellor of England, Privy Counsellor in the Reigns of King Charles the First and Second."

"Oxford, Printed at the Theatre, An. Dom. MDCCVII." Fol. 3 vol.

A Portrait of the author by Burgers, and fine vignettes, adorn this work. With the profits arising from the copyright of this history, which was bequeathed to the University by the author, the Clarendon Printing-house at Oxford was built in 1712. Within each vol. is written "Jan. 1712. Ex Dono Tho: White de Black Heath in parochia Greenovici, hujus Scholæ non ita pridem Alumni." His name is also stamped on the covers.

"Bishop BURNET's History of his Own Time. Vol. I. From the Restoration of King Charles II. to the Settlement of King William and Queen Mary at the Revolution: To which is prefix'd a summary Recapitulation of Affairs in Church and State from King James I. to the Restoration in the year 1660.

London: Printed for Thomas Ward in the Inner-Temple Lane. 1724." Folio.

Only this volume is in the Library. It is the original edition, and very fine. In an advertisement the publisher promises to place the MS. in a public Library, after the printing of the second volume.

The pious author dedicated his work "Optimo Maximo Θεανθρωπῳ Jesu Christo." He had proposed to continue it unto the Ascension, but only lived to bring it down to the eighth chapter,—“The Ancestors and Parents of our Saviour.” He was translated from Chichester to Norwich in 1638, and died 13 April 1641. His edition of the Epistles of Photius, was also a posthumous publication. Vide Patres.

“Viij^o. Junij 1726. Mr. Jeremiah Bright, late Master of the Company of Leathersellers, gave this Book to Mr. Colfe's Library.” He seems to have been the publisher: he could hardly have made a more worthless present than this bulky volume.

“A General Ecclesiasticall History from the Nativity of our Blessed Saviour to the First Establishment of Christianity by humane Laws, under the Emperour Constantine the Great. Containing the space of about 313 years.

“MONASTICON ANGLICANUM: or the History of the Ancient Abbies, Monasteries, Hospitals, Cathedral and Collegiate Churches, with their dependencies in England and Wales: also of all such Scotch, Irish, and French Monasteries, as did in any manner relate to those in England.

Containing a full collection of all that is necessary to be known concerning the Abby Lands, and their Revenues; with a particular account of their Foundations, Grants, and Donations; collected from original MSS. the Records in the Tower of London, at York, and in the Court of Exchequer, and Augmentation Office: as also the famous Libraries of Bodley, King's College, Camb. the Benedictine College at Doway, Arundel, Cotton, Selden, Hatton, etc. Illustrated with the original Cuts of the Cathedral and Collegiate Churches, and the Habits of the Religious and Military Orders. First publish'd in Latin by Sir WILLIAM DUGDALE, Knight, late Garter Principal King at Arms. To which are now added, Exact Catalogues of the Bishops of the several Dioceses, to the Year 1717. The whole corrected, and supplied with many useful additions, by an eminent hand. London,” etc. 1718. Fol.

This is a judicious Abridgment of the celebrated work produced by the joint efforts of Roger Dodsworth and Wm. Dugdale, in 1655, 1661, and 1683, in three volumes folio. The order of that work is observed; references being constantly made in the margin, to the pages of the original text. At the end is an alphabetical Index of the Monasteries.

DUGDALE'S History of St. Paul's Cathedral. (Vide Topographiam.)

I. "ACTS AND MONUMENTS of matters most speciall and memorable happening in the Church, with an universall Historie of the same.

Wherein is set forth at large, the whole race and course of the Church, from the Primitive age to these later times of ours, with the bloody times, horrible troubles, and great Persecutions against the true MARTYRS of Christ, sought and wrought as well by Heathen Emperors, as now lately practised by Romish Prelates, especially in this Realme of England and Scotland. Now againe, as it was recognised, perused, and recommended to the studious reader, by the Author, Mr. JOHN FOX, the eight time newly imprinted. Whereunto are annexed certaine Additions of like Persecutions, which have happened in these latter times.—London, Printed for the Company of Stationers, 1641." Fol. 3 vol.

II. "The Second Volume of the Ecclesiasticall History: containing the Acts and Monuments of Martyrs. With a generall discourse of the later Persecutions, horrible Troubles and Tumults, stirred by Romish Prelates in the Church. With divers other things incident to this Realme of England and Scotland, from the time of King Henry 8. untill the begining of the Reigne of Q. Mary. Whereunto is added, in this volume, the Life of the Author, Mr. John Fox, in Latin and English," [written by his son.]

III. "The Third Volume of the Ecclesiasticall Historie, [etc.] from the time of Q. Maries entring upon the Crowne, to the Reigne of our late gracious Soveraigne, Q. Elizabeth, of blessed memorie. Recognized and enlarged by the Author, John Foxe. Whereunto are annexed certaine additions, unto the time of our Soveraigne Lord King Charles now reigntyng."

These additions are contained in a supplement thus entitled:

"A CONTINUATION of the Histories of Forreine Martyrs: From the happy reign of the most renowned Queene Elizabeth, to these times. With sundry Relations of those bloody Massacres executed upon the Protestants in the cities of France in the yeare 1572. Whereunto are annexed the two Famous Deliverances of the English Nation; the one from the Spanish Invasion in 88. The other from the Gunpowder Treason, in the yeare 1605. Together with the barbarous cruelties exercised upon the Professors of the Gospel in the Valtoline, 1621." (Pp. 106.)

The title of this Continuation is printed within the rich border cut in wood for Abp. Parker's edition of Walsingham in "1574:" which seems to have been justly admired, as it was used for P. Martyr's Common Places in 1583, Tremellius-es Latin Bible, 1593; Savile's Scriptores post Bedam, 1596; and for other works in folio.

Of this edition of Foxe (which is the best, and beautifully printed in black-letter with wood-cuts) the fine copy in this library bears a ticket behind the title-page, thus inscribed: "1652. The guift of the Worshipfull Company of Leather-sellers of the City of London. Roger Daniel, Master. William Humble, Esq. John Brown, William Rutland, Wardens." A very copious Index by N. Holmes, D. D. published in the edition of 1622, is contained in the third vol. of this edition, corrected and enlarged.

"A Dissertation concerning Patriarchal and Metropolitcal Authority in answer to what Edw. Stillingfleet, Dean of St. Paul's, hath written in his Book of the British Antiquities. By EMAN. à SCHELSTRATE, S.T.D. C.L. and Prefect of the Vatican Library.

Translated from the Latin. With Allowance. London, Printed for Matthew Turner at the Lamb in Holbourn. MDCLXXXVIII." 4^o.

This is a fine copy on large paper, of one of the books encouraged by James II. (to whom it is dedicated) for the growth of Popery in England.

The Preface gives a short view of the ecclesiastical controversy which held the attention of divines and antiquaries throughout Europe, while the Stuarts were endeavouring to establish Popery in this country; the foremost Protestant champions were Stillingfleet and Burnet, who in 1676 conjointly published a valuable "Relation of a Conference held about Religion, — with some Gentlemen of the church of Rome," 8^o. Burnet, in his banishment, visited Rome, and there met with the author of the present work: of this acquaintance an account is given in his letters to Boyle, p. 227-230, first edition, Rotterdam, 1686, 8^o.

The work is dedicated to James II. whose personal example in restoring the Roman Catholic religion, is highly commended. Though no date occurs, it is probable from the Roman Imprimatur, 19 Oct. 1686, that Burnet was the "Learned Englishman" mentioned in the preface, who interpreted in Latin the English book which Schelstrate could not understand. The "Origines Britannicæ, or the Antiquities of the British Churches," was printed at London, 1685, fol. Burnet did not declare himself to be a Protestant, when in Catholic countries; and his letter from Rome is dated Dec. 8, 1685.

Before the Dissertations, are set down the points of controversy, in parallel columns of "Errors" and "Truths." Then follow the "heads of the [6] Chapters."—1. "That the British Church was instituted either by St. Peter or his successors." 2. "That the Bishop of Rome is Patriarch of the West and therein even of England," etc. 3. Comparison with the Illyrian Church. 4. About the Council of Arles. 5. Nicene Canons. 6. That the British Church acknowledged an authority superior to that of a Metropolitan," before the time of Augustin.

"SYNODUS ANGLICANA: or the Constitution and Proceedings of an English Convocation, shown from the Acts and Registers thereof, to be agreeable to the Principles of an Episcopal Church.

Appendix 1. Three Registers of the Upper House, in 1562, in which the xxxix Articles were agreed upon, 1640 under Archb. Laud, 1661, etc. in which the Common-Prayer was revis'd. 2.

The two entire Journals of the Lower-House, in 1586 and 1588." London, A. and J. Churchill, 1702. 8º.

"Jan. 26. 17 $\frac{1}{3}$. Ex dono Rndi. (Autoris) W. Kennett S.T.P. Ecc'æ Cathedralis Sti. Petri de Burgo Decani." In the long account of the Convocation Controversy, given in the Biographia Britannica, (I. 267-9) under Francis Atterbury and White Kennett, (IV. 2824) this work is not noticed: nor does it appear to have been considered as the production of this celebrated man in the lists of his works.

"A Pisgah Sight of Palestine and the Confines thereof, with the History of the Old and New Testament acted thereon. By THOMAS FULLER, B.D." London, John Williams, 1650. Fol.

Each of the five books is separately dedicated. The maps and plates are numerous. Between the first dedication and the map of Canaan, is a very curious plate, exhibiting 33 shields of arms of the Mæcenates, under whose patronage the author published his work. This work is an enlargement of the latter part of the first book of the same author's "Historie of the Holy Warre" (or the Crusades): the 18th chapter is entitled "A Pisgah-sight, or short survey of Palestine in generall; and how it might maintein 1300000 men." (2 edit. 1640, fol. p. 28.)

The above is the full title of this exceedingly curious work, full of interesting geographical and historical information, both original and selected. Each of the four volumes or "parts," consists of five books, which form two decads. The second part is unfortunately wanting in our fine copy. It will be sufficient to abridge the other titles ; of which the deficient one is taken from Cracherode's large copy in the British Museum.

II. The Sixth, Navigations and Land-discoveries, with other historical relations of Africa. 7. Inland regions of Africa. 8. Peregrinations in Palestina, Natolia, Syria, Arabia, Persia, and other parts of Asia. 9. Assyria, Armenia, and inland countries of Asia. 10. In New England and New-found-land ; with the Patent for New Scotland : Relations of Q. Elizabeth's Fleets against the Spaniards.

There is a short account of this valuable work, by Sir Eger-ton Bridges, Censura Liter. IV. 404-410. The volumes are dedicated, (1) to Charles Prince of Wales, (2) to George Duke of Buckingham, (3) to John Bp. of Lincoln Lord Keeper, and (4) to George Abp. of Canterbury.

These four volumes are accompanied by a fifth, which is a separate work, printed thrice before, and dedicated to Charles I. a few months after the death of his father James, who held it in such esteem, that (as he told the author) he read it through seven times; and he was in the course of reading the "Pilgrimes" when he died. The prince requested that the Pilgrimage should be added to them: its title is—

"PURCHAS HIS PILGRIMAGE, or Relations of the World and the Religions observed in all ages and places discovered, from the Creation unto this present.

Containing a Theologicall and Geographicall Historie of Asia, Africa, and America, with the Ilands adjacent. Declaring the antient Religions before the Flood, the Heathenish, Jewish, and Saracenicall in all ages since, in those parts professed, with their severall opinions, idols, temples, priests, fasts, feasts, sacrifices, and rites, religious: their beginnings, proceedings, alterations, sects, orders and successions. With briefe descriptions of the Countries, Nations, States; private and public Customs, and other most remarkable Rarities of nature, or humane industrie, in the same. The fourth edition, much enlarged with Additions, and illustrated with Mappes through the whole worke; and three whole Treatises annexed, one of Russia and other Northeasterne Regions by Sir Jerome Horsey; the second of the Gulfe of Bengala by Master William Methold; the third of the Saracenicall Empire, translated out of Arabike by T. Erpenius. By SAMUEL PURCHAS, Parson of St. Martin's by Ludgate, London. Unus Deus, una Veritas." London. 1626. Fol.

In his (second) dedication to the Abp. of Canterbury, the author says that he had borrowed from above 1300 authors; and he has given two lists of these at the beginning. The three appendices have separate titles; the last was translated by Purchas from the Latin version of a MS. at Heidelberg. A large Index follows p. 1047. Purchas calls his other work "my late voluminous Twinnes of Pilgrimes."

"BERNHARDI VARENI Geographia Universalis, in qua affectiones generales Telluris explicantur.

Adjecta est Appendix, præcipua Recentiorum inventa ad Geographiam spectantia continens, a Jacobo Jurin, A. M. Collegii S. Trinitatis Socio, et Scholæ Publicæ Novocastrensis Archididascalo." Cantab. C. Crownfield. 1712. 8°. (Cum tabulis.)

Exemplar nostrum videtur majori esse chartæ impressum. Præfigitur icon auctoris speciosissima, a G. Vertue insculpta: pone quam ista legitur inscriptio, “Bibliothecæ huic in usum Scholarum de Lewisham apud Black-Heath in Agro Cantiano lubens meritoque donavit Ph. Stubbs SS. T. B., et tit: Divi Albani, Archidiaconorum Minimus.”

“DIONYSII Orbis Descriptio, annotationibus Eustathii et Henr. Stephani, necnon Gulielmi Hill commentario critico et geographico ac tabulis illustrata.

Textui etiam subjungitur figurarum quæ apud Dionysium occurrunt (cum Dialecticis et aliis grammaticis minutiis) Systema, in usum tyronum; ut non modo Philologis et Geographiæ studiosis, verum et Scholis inserviat, in quibus geographia vetus, historiæ lux, una cum poesi Græca ex hoc fonte inbibere poterit.”
Lond. 1688. 8º.

Editio magis utilis quam speciosa. In priore tomo (unum est volumen) textus paragraphatum datur, cum versione et comm. Græco Eustathii; (de quo vide sub Homero,) sequuntur notæ Stephani, et index vocabulorum. Posterior præfationem habet inter duos titulos (quorum alter an. 1687 præ se fert) commentario præpositam; cui accedunt index rerum et verborum (p. 289), “Appendix de tabulis nostris, et earum usu; ubi breves geographiæ institutiones, in usum tyronum, traduntur” (311); Locorum et gentium index Dionysianus, (321), atque index in tabulam Europæ (352), uterque criticus. Exemplar nostrum non minus formosum est quam curiosum: nempe continet titulum originale primi voluminis, immo schedam integram quæ in cæteris plerisque exemplaribus periit avulsa, locum cedens ternioni in fronte quarti nostri posito. Ternio iste titulum suppeditavit suprascriptum; comprehendit præterea privilegia ibi memorata, una cum epistola Nicolai Maiorani ad Pontificem de Homero et Eustathio : sextum folium vacat, sed neque comparet in uno exemplari ad Museum Britannicum pertinente. Scire quippe liceat opus adeo fuisse grande, tantique laboris, ut septem fluxerant anni post editum primum tomum, ante coronam imponere potuerint editores. Profecto curiosissima est præfatio primaria, et lectu dignissima : quam etiam hic integram referre volebamus, ante quam in altero exemplari, magnifico satis Georgiano, quod nuper Museo Britannico accessit, reperta fuit.

Ubi de Eustathio, Homeri Commentatore, qui floruit circa annum 1160, agit Fabricius, non recte ait opus fuisse editum tribus voluminibus "A. 1542-1550;" nam anno posteriore fuit emissum quartum volumen, quod hunc habet titulum in prima columna. "ΚΑΤΑΛΟΓΟΣ ΔΕΙΓΜΑΤΙΚΟΣ ΤΩΝ ΕΝ ΤΟΙΣ ΕΥΣΤΑΘΙΟΥ ΕΙΣ ΤΗΝ Ὅμηρου Ἰλιάδα καὶ Ὀδυσσεΐαν ὑπομνημασιν ἐμφερομένων χρησιμῶν, διὰ Ματθαίου τοῦ Δεβαρῆ παρεκβληθεὶς καὶ συγκεφαλαιωθείς." Tres habentur in quaque pagina pagellæ. Non autem omisit Fabricius quin addiderit—"Indicem locupletissimum ad Romanam editionem composuit Matthæus Devarius, cujus extat libellus insignis de particulis Græcæ linguæ." (Vide infra, p. 124-5.) Bibl. Græc. I. 289-290. Index ad Scriptores ab Eustathio in Homerum citatos, habetur ibid. p. 306-329: etiam collatio paginarum ed. Rom. cum ed. Basil. an. 1560, p. 307.

Inter libros veteris bibl. Regiæ in Mus. Brit. asservatur exemplar editionis Basileensis, cujus paginas passim, immo abundantissime suis annotationibus refert doctissimus Js. Casaubonus, seu ut seipsum nuncupat Js. Hortusbonus.

In Homerum extat Oratio sive Præfatio Ang. Politiani, in Operum to. II. p. 339-375. Vide Literatores.

"Q. HORATIUS FLACCUS, sex ab hinc annos ex fide atque auctoritate complurium librorum Manuscriptorum, opera Dionys. Lambini Monstroliensis emendatus: ab eodemque commentariis copiosissimis explicatus, et tum primum in lucem editus:

Nunc ab eodem recognitus, et cum aliquot aliis exemplaribus antiquis comparatus, et multis præterea locis purgatus, iisdemque commentariis plus tertia parte amplificatis illustratus." Lutetiæ, apud Jo. Macæum. 1567. Fol.

R. Carolo IX. dedicatur editio: textus, itemque commentarius, paragraphatim distribuitur: paginae columnas habent. Mutilatur index exemplaris nostri.

"Q. HORATII FLACCI Operum pars prima: continens Odarum seu Carminum libros quinque. Quibus notas addidit Eduardus a Zurch. Harlemi," etc.

———— "Sermonum seu Satyrarum libri duo: Epistolarum libri totidem : et de Arte Poetica liber. Quibus," etc. (uno vol. 8º.)

Editionem refert Fabricius (Bibl. Lat. I. 244) ad an. 1697 ; utraque pars dedicationem præ se fert anno 1696 scripta : ait opus " cum scholiis eruditiss." hoc, recusum fuisse Londini, an. 1702, 8º. Præfationem primæ partis sequitur " Oratio de Q. Horatio Flacco, habita Harlemi antequam notis illustratum auctor ederet ;" adsunt carmina ad Zurckium, etc. In calce pauculæ sunt var. lect. et Index.

" LYCOPHRONIS Chalcidensis Alexandra, sive Cassandra, cum versione Latina Gulielmi Canteri.

Prolegomena sequitur " Epitome Cassandræ Græcolatina, versibus Anacreontiis conscripta per Guil. Canterum Ultr." Versionis suæ Latinæ extremos octo versus nomen fecit suum exprimere (δὲ ἀκροστιχίου) CANTERVS. Meminit hujus editionis Fabricius (Bibl. Græc. II. 421) et prioris Basil. (1566. 4º.) Canterianæ. Floruit auctor hujus poematis obscuri, sub Ptolemæo Philadelpho, A. C. 275 : vide Saxii Onom. I. 96.

Pulcher titulus ex ære expressus alterum sequitur titulum.

LITERATORES ANTIQUI ET RECENT.

ORDINE ALPHABETICO.

- ΑΙΣΩΠΟΥ (κ. λ.) “AESOPH Phrygis Vita et Fabulæ, plures et emendatiores, ex vetustissimo codice bibliothecæ Regiæ.

Lutetiæ, ex officina Rob. Stephani typographi Regii. M.D.XLVI. Ex privilegio Regis.” 4^o. (pp. 88.)

Incipit Αισωπου βιος τε μυθοποιε, Μαξιμω τω Πλανυδη συγγραφεις, p. 3. Αισωπε μυθοι, p. 38, quæ alphabetice ordinantur. Ad finem “Excudebat Rob. Stephanus typographus Regius Lutetiæ Ann. M.D.XLVI. Non. Novemb.” Vix duo conveniunt exemplaria, vel ordine vel numero fabularum Aesopicarum; de quibus, ut et de Planude monacho, vide Fabricii Bibl. Græc. lib. II. cap. 9. Tom. I. 390. Ait “perquam nitida est editio” ista; sed nostrum exemplar decurtatum est nimis.

„ ΑΙΣΩΠΟΥ ΜΥΘΟΙ. Αετος και αλωπηξ.” 4^o.

Sic incipit libellus nitidus, qui constat septem schedis duenionibus, sive 28 foliis. (A-G.) Nec titulus, nec typographi, anni, locive ullum adest indicium: videtur tamen cusus fuisse typis mediocribus Plantinianis. Fabula hæc prima tertium locum in ed. Steph. obtinet; cujus prima αδυνατον επαγγελλομενος, hic est quintadecima. Habentur επιμυθια: sed non ordine alphabetico jacent fabulæ, quarum numerus 149, convenit cum collectione Planudiana. Extrema est, Κυνωψ και λεων. Libellus curiosus.

Berolini. Ulr. Liebpertus. 1698. 3 vol. 8o.

Præfatio dabatur ex "Cracovia. Kal. Maj. MDXIXC." (1578.) Auctor fuit Historicus Imperialis. Talis titulus extat in III. tomo,—"ad amplissimum atque illustrissimum Polonorum et Lithuanorum Senatum, universosque regni Polonici ordines, de Ernesti Archiducis Austriæ, augustæ majestatis Principis, et de universæ familiæ Austriacæ laudibus Oratio. Neminem sibi parem Guilelmus Budæus in literis Græcis habuisse, tempore suo, fertur : Græce scripsit, loquebatur Græce, non minus facunde quam lingua sua materna. Præceptor fuit R. Francisci I.

"DES. ERASMI Rot. Operum Tertius Tomus Epistolas complectens universas quotquot ipse autor unquam evulgavit, aut evulgatas voluit, quibus præter novas aliquot additæ sunt et Præfationes, quas in diversos omnis generis scriptores non paucas idem conscripsit.

“HYGINI quæ hodie extant, adcurante Joanne Scheffero Argentoratensi, qui simul adjecit Notas, hic admodum necessarias, cum Indice verborum locutionumque variorum, et Dissertatione de vero hujus operis auctore.

Accedunt et Thomæ Munckeri in Fabulas Hygini Annotationes.” Hamburgi. 1674. 8o.

Tres indices præcedunt ann. Munckeri, quæ habent suum titulum. Bona satis est editio: postea tamen Munckerus ampliorem parabat editionem Hygini cum cæteris scriptoribus Mythologicis, in qua fatebatur has notas suas nimium fuisse festinatas. Vide Fabric, Bibl. Lat. I. 310.

“Apophthegmata ex probatis Græcæ Latinæque linguæ Scriptoribus. A CONRADO LYCOSTHENE collecta, et per locos communes, juxta Alphabeti seriem digesta. [etc.]

Accesserunt Parabolæ, seu similitudines, ab Erasmio ex Plutarcho et aliis olim excerptæ, deinde per Lycosthenem dispositæ, ac nunc primum aliquot centuriis auctiores editæ.—Ex typographia Jacobi Stoer.” 8o.

Titulo caret exemplar nostrum: iste depromitur a duobus in Museo Brit. exemplaribus an. 1602 (majore) et 1616, cui convenire videtur nostrum. Longe antea fuerat opus editum.

“Apophthegmatum ex optimis utriusque linguæ Scriptoribus libri VIII.

R. Whitlock olim possessor notavit, “vel potius Erasmii Apophthegmatum editio recentior.” Crassus libellus.

“PAULI MANUTII Epistolarum libri XII. Ejusdem Præfationes, cum Summariis ac notis Joannis Kirchmanni, et Indicibus consuetis.

Accesserunt huic primum editioni M. Jacobi Thomasii ad lectorem Præloquium: Elogia eloquentiæ Manutianæ: Præfatio una Manutii antehac desiderata: et Epistolarum ad Manutium appendix.” Lipsiæ. Chr. Kirchner. 1669. 8o.

Auctoris icon præfigitur: ipse collegit hasce suas opellas, ediditque Venetiis 1558. De eo dictum est in Vita huic editioni præmissa; "In Epistolis scribendis, atque adeo Latino sermone, sic regnat, ut ad veterum gloriam propius accessisse videatur nemo." Sigonius aiebat olim, "Paulus Manutius, omnis elegantioris doctrinæ et Latinæ eloquentiæ princeps." Præfationibus et epistolis eruditorum, (inter quas Manutianis summam deberi laudem testantur omnes) vix ulla res lumen in historiam literariam majus effundere potest; quare fasciculum haud parvum ex vetustissimis libris impressis, descriptarum præfationum, Catalogo Bibliothecæ suæ addidit Jos. Smith, consul Brit. apud Venetos; cujus maxima pars nunc in Mus. Brit. requiescit, in Bibliotheca Georgiana. Aldus nepos moriens an. 1597, reliquit Pisanæ Acad. 80,000 libros. Liber olim fuit "Caroli Bernard."

"MARCI ANTONII MURETI Presbyteri, JCti, et Civis Romani Orationes, Epistolæ, et Poemata, cum præfatione et insignibus augmentis M. Jacobi Thomasii.

Auctoris (cujus et icon) Vita præmittitur, auctore Andr. Schotto. Epistolæ 31 Pauli Sacрати ad Muretum (p. 753-786) dantur ex edit. Colon. 1583. Multæ inter Muretum et Manutium intererant epist. quas in utriusque collectione animadvertit editor referentiis mutuis. Poematum libri duo sequuntur, pp. 1-161: tum "Publii Syri Mimi, aucti et correcti ex codice MSto Frisingenii," p. 163-228. Denique Nuptiæ Paris. 1572, de historia Gallica agunt, per epistolas, etc. pp. 102, cum titulo peculiari. Indices in fine.

I. "ANGELI POLITIANI Operum tomus primus, Epistolarum libros XII. ac Miscellaneorum Centuriam I. complectens.

Indicem rerum memorabilium calci operis adjecimus." Lugduni, Seb. Gryph. 1550. 8^o.

Pergrata est harum lectio epistolarum et opusculorum: unde discendum quot labores tulerint, quot curas, immo quot voluptates, bonarum literarum recuperatores; quanta industria bibliothecas, tabernas, ac omnimoda latibula rimaverint, quantoque successu. Est Politiani nomen omnibus eruditis venerandum. Licet pauca in hoc libro comprehensa notare; qualia "Amor fugitivus e Græco Moschi," libro 7 (p. 199) cum "elegia de Violis" lepida, et aliis cum veterum tum ipsius Politiani carminibus. In Miscell. cap. 79, totus datur Callimachi hymnus in lavacrum Palladis, Græce cum versione Lat. Infinita hic pene sunt curiosa. Extremo libro plures habentur Hermolai Barbari Epistolæ prefationes et orationes.

"Catalogus eorum qui in hoc opere scribunt epistolas," titulum sequitur.

II. "Alter tomus Operum ANGELI POLITIANI, ea continens, quæ elenchus* paginæ sequentis indicat.

Plura exemplaria extant in Museo Brit. in fol. sed tantum "tomus primus" editionis hujus 1528, cujus nobis posterior tantum est. Editio anni 1550 est minus pulchra.

Opus. Alex. Farnesio dedicabat Paulus Doletus, patrui sui successor in episcopatu Carp. an. 1549. Librum "Dedit Tho. Rawlinson;" notante Lockero.

"ORATIONES CAROLI SIGONII."

Paris. apud Allardum Julianum, 1573. 8o. minori.

Quatuor priores "pro Eloquentia," Venetiis fuerunt habitæ, annis 1552-3-4-5; quinta "de Linguae Latinæ usu retinendo," anno 1556; sexta "de laudibus Historiæ," et septima (anno 1559 habita) est "de laudibus studiorum Humanitatis." Foliis 59 constat libellus nitidus. Sigonii stylus nimis est diffusus, aliquando ad obscuritatem usque: fuit auctor tamen gravis, eruditissimusque.

"FAMIANI STRADÆ Romani e Societate Jesu Prolusiones Academicæ.

Nunc secundo ab auctore recognitæ, atque suis Indicibus illustratæ." Lugd. 1627. 8o.

Dedicantur Alex. Card. Ursino.

Adversaria of WILLIAM WILLIAMS: containing extracts from various English Poets and Essayists, on moral subjects. 888. 8o.

This volume, formerly bound in parchment with a flap, contains 173 leaves, some of which are blank. Its miscellaneous contents are interesting. At the end of Pope's Essay on Criticism (f. 14b.-33) is this note—"transcribed by me William Williams in the year 1753." He seems to have been young then. Whether any of the passages to which a reference is not subjoined, were his compositions, cannot be readily ascertained: these and others were written a considerable time after 1753.

CANGII Glossarium, vide inter Lexica.

“ANGELI CANINII Anglarensis Hellenismus.” (In calce) “Parisiis M.D.LV. Excudebat Guil. Morelius in Græcis Typograph. Regius.” 4^o.

Eximias hasce Græcæ linguæ Institutiones postquam Lutetiæ superiorem ætatem “in Græcis poetis evolvendis” consumpserat auctor, hortatu Matt. Priuli patricii Veneti, confecit, misitque “E Collegio Cameracensi, quarto calend. Septemb. M.D.LV.” Opus eruditissimum sane, ac ad Græcæ philologiæ scientiam interiorem utilissimum. Legit olim vir quidam, inter doctissimos nostrates proculdubio recensendus, qui notas cum pulcherrimas tum optimæ indolis passim in marginibus conscripsit; præsertim in prima parte: nam tres opus partes capit; “Alphabetum” p. 1, “Accentus” 96, “Partes Orationis” 111-302. Dolendum tamen est quod pagina titularis, quæ nomen ejus verisimiliter habuerit, nobis est amissa: quapropter integrum titulum (cum sit rarior liber) ex altera editione, ampliore sed minoris formæ, excerpti apud Museum Britannicum; scilicet—

“ANGELI CANINII Anglarensis ΕΛΛΗΝΙΣΜΟΣ, copiosissimi Græcarum Latinarumque vocum Indicis accessione per Carolus Hauboesium locupletatus. In quo quicquid vetustissimi scriptores de Græcæ linguæ ratione præcipiunt: atque adeo omnia quæ ad dialectos intelligendos, et Poetas penitus cognoscendos pertinent, facili methodo exponuntur. Eo accedit plurimorum verborum originis explicatio. Parisiis, M.D.LXXVIII. Apud Ioannem Bene-natum.” (8^o.) Editor Barnabæ Brissonio dedicabat. Caninio item debentur eruditæ Institutiones linguæ Syriacæ, Assyriacæ, Thalmudicæ, una cum Aethiopicæ atque Arabicæ collatione, a Car. Stephano impressæ, Paris. 1554. 4^o.

“Opus Prosodicum Græcum novum, in quo Syllabarum Græcarum positione, diphthongis, et vocabulis* longis carentium, Quantitates, ex orthodoxis Patribus, Philosophis, Historicis, Oratoribus et Poetis Græcis, cum priscis tum recentibus, imprimis vero Epicis atque Elegiacis, perspicue demonstrantur.

Præmissa est epistola Jani Pyrrhii Pincii poetæ laureati, suadens auctori librum edere suum, 9 cal. Apr. 1531. Opus ipsum hoc nomen habet, “Augustini Saturnii Lazaronei Buennatis Mercurii Majoris, seu Grammaticarum Institutionum liber primus.” Exemplar imperfectum. Quidam "M. G." valde commendat in præfatione auctorem eruditum fati defunctum: statim sequitur "Index librorum quos conscripsit Gasper Scioppius, de literarum et Latinæ linguæ studio," numero 24, quos propediem edendos vel recudendos statuit typographus. Est vero sciendum auctorem talem sese præstitisse virum, ut utrum jactator an obtrectator, ambitiosus an eruditus potissimum fuerit, difficile est judicatu. Primum prodiit hoc opus Mediolani 1628; in cujus præfatione antiquam grammaticam cloacinam appellat, quasi ex cloaca in quam Crates Ennii magister olim inciderat, profectam: Alvaro maximas laudes dat, quasi veritatis grammaticæ non tantum restitutor quantum auctor extitisset. In fine, p. 183-7, est "Friderici Silburgii de Vetere Romanorum Scriptura tractatio." Cum isto alia compacta habentur opuscula: scil.—

Accessit in Grosippi Grammaticam, Paradoxa, nominum ac verborum Paradigmata, inque hoc ipsum Auctarium, accuratissimus Index." (Ibid. pp. 88.)

Libellus curiosus, argumenta decem totidem epistolis ad diversos viros eruditos expendens. Grosippum intelliges ipsum esse Scioppium, si nominis integri literas recte composueris.

3. "PASCASII GROSIPPI Paradoxa Literaria, in quibus multa de literis nove contra Ciceronis, Varronis, Quinctiliani, aliorumque literatorum hominum, tam veterum, quam recentiorum, sententiam disputantur.

Præmittuntur dedicatio an. 1657 scripta, et epistola ad Tursellinum cum responsione a Roma 1598. Ære insculpto titulus expressus, non recte plicatus est inter schedas a et b.

"M. TERENTII VARRONIS de Lingua Latina libri tres, totidemque de Analogia, cum Michaelis Bertini castigationibus. M. PORTII CATONIS Originum liber I.

Hi Varronis soli jam restant e viginti quatuor libris, quorum tres de L. Lat. fuere IV. V. et VI., tres de Anal. VII. VIII. et IX. Cum istis castig. primum prodierunt ad calcem Cornu Copiæ Perottiani, et separatim Lugd. 1535, 8^o. Vide Fabricii Bibl. Lat. I. 78-9. "M. Portii Catonis ex libris Originum fragmenta," quæ leguntur p. 223-242, revera non sunt Catonis, (judice Fabric. ibid. 22) cujus genuina fragmenta ab Ausonio Popma collecta, legi possunt post Sallustium Wasianum (Cantab. 1710, 4^o.) p. 180 et seq.

Multa curiosa de literatis Angliæ Regibus et Principibus narrantur in dedicatione ad Principem Karolum, postea regem II. ejus nominis, an. 1635. Index quamque sequitur partem : nam in quatuor partes distribuitur opus, sic ; in Vol. I. habentur pars I. seu de Arte Grammatica libri ii. et pars 2. seu de Vocum Analogia i. et ii. in Vol. II. pars 3, seu de eadem libri iii. et iv. et pars 4. seu de Vocum Constructione liber v.

Icon auctoris pulchra præfigitur, absque epigrammate. Omnibus literarum rerumque antiquarum studiosis, quibus vel vitia vitare, vel vocum sermonisque barbarismos intelligere, cordi sit, opus apprime est utile ; cujus index glossarii vicem præstare poterit. Animadversiones habemus a Cellario et a Scioppio scriptas ; quos vide, p. 128 et 132 supra.

“ Latina Grammatica, ex decreto Illustr. DD. Holl. West-Frisiæque Ordinum, in usum Scholarum adornata ; Studio atque opera GERARDI JOANNIS VOSSII. Editio tertia, aliquot in locis castigatio prioribus ; notis vero longe auctior.” Lugd. Bat. apud B. et Abr. Elzevir. 1631. 8^o.

Docet Vossius in præf. an. 1626 scripta, Ludolfum Lithocomum edidisse præcepta linguae Lat. in usum scholæ Dusseldorpiensis, an. 1575 ; quæ recepta late, sed a multis improbata, jussu senatus ipse suscepit corrigenda. Operis meminit in præf. ad Aristarchum suum. Habemus quoque Gram. ejus Græcam, in suo loco notatam. Opera bona, sæpe recusa.

§ 4. DE PRONUNTIATIONE ANTIQUA.

“DES. ERASMI Roterodami Dialogus de Recta Latini Græcique sermonis Pronunciatione.” Lugd. Bat. 1643. 12^o.

Ger. Jo. Vossio inscripsit typographus nitidam hanc editionem. At ipse Vossius Erasmani opusculi turpem originem exposuerat paulo ante, in Aristarchi sui lib. I. cap. 18; eum nempe fuisse deceptum ab Henrico Glarcano, quod novam enarrandi praxin ederet, quam tamen, errore postea cognito, nunquam usurparet. Vide et Placentinii Epit. Græcæ Palæographiæ, p. 138-9. (Romæ, 1735. 4^o.)

“IOANNIS CHEKI Angli de Pronuntiatione Græcæ potissimum linguæ Disputationes cum Stephano Vintoniensi Episcopo, septem contrariis epistolis comprehensæ, magna quadam et elegantiâ et eruditione refertæ.

Cum gratia et privilegio Imperiali. Basileæ, per Nicol. Episcopium juniorem, 1555.” (8^o. min. pp. 349.)

Libellum nitidum, Antonio Cooko eq. aur. dedicabat Cælius Secundus Curio, apud quem Checus epistolas, post Edw. VI. discipuli sui mortem, in Italiam contendens, legendas relinquerat. Audi Curionem. “Voluit sicut nosti, vir eruditissimus, collega et amicus tuus, Joannes Checus, corruptam Græcæ linguæ pronuntiandi pravamque consuetudinem emendare: et juventutem ad veterum incorruptum rectumque morem revocare. Ejus studio sese Vintoniensis pontifex, atque Angliæ, ut vocant, Cancellarius, opposuit: et pro vulgari consuetudine certamen suscepit: homo literis, opibus et auctoritate potens. Haud tamen ejus potentia territus Checus, rectissimo studio susceptam causam sibi esse deserendam duxit, sed fortiter in ea persistendum: illud cogitans, nihil esse veritate potentius. Itaque inter eos epistolis aliquot utrinque res acta est, adeo ornatis, copiosis et doctis, ut non epistolæ, sed clarissimorum orationes oratorum contrariæ esse videantur.” Notandum est Steph. Gardinerum tunc fuisse Canc. Academiæ Cantabr. quando Edicta (p. 18-21) ediderit, cal. Jun. 1542; nec factus est Canc. Angliæ donec restitutus ad episcopatum fuerit, 1553, regnante Maria. Erasmus sequi voluit Checus; haud rectissime: sed in errore fuisse Gardinerum docent ipsius Edicta. Cætera discite apud Biographiam Britannicam, et infra ubi de Smitho agamus.

“BEZA de ling. Gr. vet. pronuntiatione.” 24^o.

Talem titulum gerit exiguus libellus dorso inscriptum: cum autem desit primum folium, nec aliud exemplar reperire pot-uerimus, non nisi nostram de vero nomine sententiam damus. Est nobis ob oculos Lexicon illud bonum quod Bezæ familiaris Johannes Crispinus typographus eruditus composuit, an. 1566, Genevæ apud Gul. Rovillum impressum, (sicut antea 1562, 4o.) in cujus limine habetur "De Ling. Græc. Vet. Pronunt." dissertatio, præsentis opusculo (præter primam sententiam) omnino conveniens, a linea 14 pag. 5, (scil. post alphabeti explicationem) voce Harum, (Quarum Crispin.) ad finem primæ partis, (sc. p. 45) atque ipsissimis typis expressa. Misso jam Crispino, pergit opusculum "De Syllabis," et "De Accent." quæ omnia deprompta videntur e libello Bezano quem proximum recensebimus, p. 10. et seq. (p. 46-50.) Sequuntur "Compendia literarum et nexus partim brevitatis, partim elegantiae causa reperti," p. 51-3, typorum Crispinianorum specimen nitidum præbentes. Deinde, post duas sententias, "Exercendæ memoriæ ratio. Dialogus. Præceptor, Daniel:" (p. 55-61, majoribus literis) et postremo Precationes aliquot Gr. et Lat. cum Oratione Dominica verbotenus resoluta, Symbolo Apost. atque Decalogo. Præter illa quæ ostendit titulus, insunt libello trium schedarum, exercitationes super Or. Dom. Alph. Hebr. olim fuerat impressum, paulo postquam ad Genevam se convertisset Henr. Steph. religionis causa persecutus Parisiis; Græcum filius ejus cudebat et cum eo suebat, simul vendendum. Epistola Bezæ præmissa, annum 1554 ostendit; ubi "Me vero nullam," inquit, "hic novitatis gratiam captare, vel ii testari possunt qui me quotidie audiunt contra meum judicium non aliter pronuntiantem, quam in scholis olim didicimus." Optimo more explicatum sequitur

Londini an. 1512 inscripsit opusculum Erasmus Johanni Coletō decano S. Pauli nostrati. Insunt notæ a Phil. le Franc, circa an. 1564 scriptæ. Epistola de Argentinensibus responsiva erat, xi. cal. In quibus, inter alia, de affinitate ejus cum Græcorum Satyris, materia, forma, instituto Poetæ, et aliorum, cum diversis, iisque præcipuis ætatis hujus viris, prolixè disputatur: totum poetæ institutum ac ratio examinatur: plurimi illius loci exprimentur; multa denique quæ ad diversam eruditionem ejus faciunt, excutiuntur." (24º. pp. 296.)

Opusculum primo inter carmina Horatiana et notas suas edidit auctor, Lugd. Bat. ap. Elz. 1612, 8º. (cujus exemplar Bentleianum cum plurimis notis MSS. extat in Museo Brit.) p. 1-174. Cum vero typographi Poetam recuderent forma minima, an. 1629, adeo auxerat opus, ut duos libros pro uno statuit, qui quasi tertium editionis tomum faciunt, prout in egregio exemplari Cracherodiano in Mus. Brit. observare licuit. Conferenti post octo primas paginas, opus justius et pene diversum videtur: neque in prima edit. comparent illa quæ postea contra Casaubonum scripserit, (p. 8) ille vir etenim, an. 1605 duos libros ediderat de Satyrica Poesi, et Romanorum Satira.

Printed in the black letter: it was first published in 1570; see a short account of this book in Sir Eg. Brydges-es Censura Literaria, V. 276-9, by T. P[ark]. It was published by his widow Margaret Ascham, who dedicated it to Sir W. Cecil, then Chancellor of Cambridge. The preface states that the work originated in a conversation at court in the time of the plague, in 1563, about some runaway Eton scholars.

6. — “De Pædia Humanarum ac Divinarum literarum. Cum Indicibus librorum ad singula Pædiæ genera pertinentium.” Ibid. 1660. (pp. 40.)

Libellus, inter curiosissimos Scioppianos, exhibet privilegia diversorum regum, (imprimis Breve Urbani P. viii) et eruditorum magnatumque testimonia de eo : Libros ejus recenset : et “Talenta Christi Gaspari Scioppio ad negotiandum credita,” (pp. 22) scil. “bene de Ecclesia, ac Republicæ Christiana merendi Voluntas, ac Facultas.” Inerat ipsi zelotypia papistica ultra modum vehementissima.

“IO. ANTONII VIPERANI de Ratione Docendi ad serenissimum Albertum Austrium S. R. E. Card.

Romæ. Ex typographia Francisci Zannetti. Anno M.D.LXXXVIII. Superiorum permissu.” 8^o. min.

Quum alii satis dixerint de moribus, “operæ precium fore duxi (dicit auctor), docendi modum exprimere ; hoc est, viam quandam ostendere, quam is qui docet teneat, ut alios recta ad scientiam ducat.” Lectu digna videtur scriptiuncula (pp. 88 comprehensa), quæ de scientiis humanioribus potissime tractat. In principio inserta est tabula ostendens quid et quomodo docere debet aliquis. Libellus olim cum Hadriani Card. libro compactus.

“GERARDI JOANNIS VOSSII de Quatuor Artibus Popularibus, de Philologia, et Scientiis Mathematicis, cui operi subjungitur Chronologia Mathematicorum, libri tres.” Amst. Joh. Blæu. 1660. 4^o.

Uno vol. habentur libri tres, sigillatim quidem impressi eodem anno, propriusque titulis indicibusque gaudentes. Primus agit de artibus “Grammatistice, Gymnastice, Musice et Graphice ;” postremus “de universæ Matheseos natura et constitutione.” Sedula mente versandi.

Cum opera nobis adeo multa sint Vossiana, lubet hic animadvertere libellum quem nuper auctor (anno 1829, et ætatis suæ 72) “in Bibliotheca Bedleiana codicum Junianorum conservatrice reponendum” dedit : qui est—

“JO. GUIL. de Crane Oratio de Vossiorum Iuniorumque Familia, seculo præsertim xvii. insigni eruditionis laude clara, optime de literis, apud posteros etiam, merita ; habita Franequeræ in Athenæo publico, cum huius rectura iterum abiret, d. vi. Novemb. cldccccxx.” Groningæ, 1821. 4^o.

Præter ea quæ legi possunt apud Reimari vitam auctoris, p. 110-114, licet annotare optimam editionem reputari Ernestanam, Lips. 1773-4, 3 vol. 8o. in quo supplementa ad sua quæque loca rediguntur. Jure dixit ille "non latius patet amor humanitatis, quam hujus libri." Opus autem sic distributum est in quatuor libros (ad quorum binos accommodantur duo Supplementi tomi) :—I. "De Scriptoribus Aureæ Ætatis, qui libros suos edidere intra duo secula ante Tiberii imperium."—II. "De Scriptoribus Argenteæ Ætatis ab imperii Tiberiani temporibus ad ætatem usque Antoninorum," p. 303.—III. "De Scriptoribus Æneæ et Ferreæ Ætatis, a temporibus Antoninorum ad corruptum penitus nitorem sermonis Latini," 508.—IV. "De Fragmentis variisque Collectionibus veterum scriptorum Latinorum," 664.

"JO. ALBERTI FABRICII SS. Theol. D. et Prof. Publ. Bibliographia Antiquaria, sive Introductio in Notitiam Scriptorum qui Antiquitates Hebraicas, Græcas, Romanas, et Christianas scriptis illustraverunt.

"DANIELIS GEORGII MORHOFII Polyhistor, sive de Notitia auctorum et rerum Commentarii. Quibus præterea varia ad omnes disciplinas consilia et subsidia proponuntur." Lubecæ, 1688. 4^o.

Operis prior liber Bibliothecarius, posterior Methodicus designatur. Doctus quidam in fronte hæc annotavit ante centum annos. "Hoc opus sane quam utilissimum Morhofius (uti ex præfatione ejus ad lectorem patet) in tres Tomos dividere instituit; hos duos sub oculis libros tantum primam partem Tomi Prioris [esse], quos cæteros suo ordine sequuturos promittit. Luctuosissima autem clarissimi viri mors, vetuit stare promissis. Obijt a^o. 1692, quemadmodum habet Crenius in præfatione sua præfixa collectioni Methodorum studendi." Eo anno quidem obiit Morhofius, dum Crenius scribebat: nescivit autem notæ nostræ scriptor, quod idem annus viderat librum tertium, cura Henrici Muhlii editam, sub hoc titulo —

"DANIELIS GEORGII MORHOFII Polyhistor [etc.] Pars II." Lubecæ, 1692. 4^o.

Judicium suum de Morhofio in primo edito Fabricius opere dixit, tale, quemadmodum refert Reimarus (in Vita, p. 100); "Hunc Eloquentiæ, Poeseos, et elegantioris omnis literaturæ Magistrum merito appellaverim. Ejus Polyhistore nihil eruditius." Nec dubium quin animum Fabricii ad ea studia felicissime colenda, allegerit hoc opus, quod postea a se auctum ingens, edidit an. 1732, 2 vol. 4^o. iterum an. 1747 recusum, Lubecæ.

"The English Historical Library. In three parts. Giving a short view and character of most of our Historians, either in print or manuscript: with an account of our Records, Law-Books, Coins, and other matters serviceable to the undertakers of a General History of England. The second edition corrected and augmented. By W. NICOLSON, Archdeacon (now Bishop) of Carlisle." London, 1714. Fol.

The first edition of this valuable work was published in three volumes 8^o. whereof the first came out in 1696.

Opus diligenter fuit lectum et animadversum a quodam trecentis abhinc annis: valde curiosum est, in forma dialogi confectum. Hebraica magno et rudi vocabula caractere passim cuduntur. Contra Reuchlinum scripsit an. 1519, Jacobus Hochstratensis S. T. P. "hereticæ pravitatis" inquisitor Coloniensis: cuius liber, gothicis literis impressus, extat, in Museo Brit. at sub Reuchlini nomine in Catalogo designatur: titulum habet "Destructio Cabale, seu Cabalistiche perfidie ab Ioanne Reuchlin Capnione iampridem in lucem editæ," etc.

Mazarino, magna pars postea, Codices puta, in Regiam venerunt Bibliothecam. Hoc refert Hornius (Introd. Bibliogr. p. 701), simul animadvertens Naudæum istum confecisse catalogum, juxta suam "Advis pour dresser une Bibliothèque."

Morhofius nunc audiatur: "Magnus talium librorum (scil. manu virorum doctorum ac criticorum illustrium notatorum) numerus in exquisitissima illa Nicolai Heinsii Bibliotheca fuit, cujus Catalogus vel ideo aestimari viris doctis debet, quanquam et aliis optimis scriptoribus affluat." Hæc in Polyhistore suo, I. 61, an. 1688 edito. Obiit Heinsius an. 1681; vide Saxium, IV. 505-7.

This copy has the Apocrypha, and at the end—"The Book of Psalmes, collected into English meeter, by Thomas Sternhold, John Hopkins, and others: conferred with the Hebrew, with apt Notes to sing them withall. and right reverend the Bishop of Oxford; and Master of the Grammar School, Lewisham Hill.

The admirable simplicity and elegance of these discourses, are only exceeded by the truth and force of the doctrines taught in them.

1. "A Prospect of the Most Famous Parts of the World. Viz. Asia, 3. Affrica, 5. Europe, 7. America, 9. With these Kingdomes therein contained. Grecia, 11. Roman Empire, 13. Germanie, 15. Bohemia, 17. France, 19. Belgia, 21. Spaine, 23. Italie, 25. Hungarie, 27. Denmarke, 29. Poland, 31. Persia, 33. Turkish Empire, 35. Kingdome of China, 37. Tartaria, 39. Sommer Ilands, 41. Civill Warres, in England, Wales, and Ireland, you shall find placed in the beginning of the Second Booke marked with these * * and (5). Together with all the Provinces, Counties, and Shires, contained in that large Theater of Great Brittaines Empire. Performed by JOHN SPEED.

London, Printed by John Legatt, for William Humble, and are to be sold at his shop in Popes-head Palace. 1646." Fol.

The present volume consists of the author's Theatre of Britain (originally dedicated to King James I.) with large additions. To that work alone, the commendatory verses by Tho. Barkham, Sir Henry Spelman, Rich. Saint-George, Norroy King at Armes, Jo. Davies, and Jo. Sanderson, relate; as also "the Contents of the Chorographically part" which follows, being an index to the County-maps. The additional matter contained in this volume is shown by the title-page here copied, where the figures refer to the folios on which the maps are to be found: these were inserted to make the work a complete atlas and system of geography; they are dated 1626, except the first (the map of the World) which has the year 1651. The description of the Bermudas or Summer Islands is long and interesting: at the foot of the map is a list of all the merchant-adventurers for the year 1622, with accounts of their shares. After these interpolations, comes the beautiful frontispiece of the royal arms, and the ingraven title, which belong to the original work:—

2. "The Theatre of the Empire of Great Britaine, presenting an exact Geography of the Kingdomes of England, Scotland, and Ireland, and the Iles adjoyning: with the Shires, Hundreds, Cities and Shire-townes, within ye Kingdome of England, divided and described by JOHN SPEED.

Imprinted at London, Anno 1650. Are to be sold by George Humble at the Whit-horse in Popes-head Alley."

The maps of this latter work are mostly dated 1610; the frontispiece 1614: the date of the title has been evidently altered, as also in the edition of Speed's History described at p. 78-9, the title of which (except the words) seems to have been printed from the same plate. The following sheet is signed "E;" evidently showing how the preliminary part had been disjoined from it to make way for the new matter. The plates were engraved by Dutch artists, and are very beautiful specimens of the art: they are printed on the two inner pages of the sheet, the outer pair being left for the geographical "Description;" and in the county-maps the last page of each contains an Index of the names of places, which was the origin of the Villare Anglicum, published by Sir Henry Spelman, and of the larger Index Villaris, by Adams. At fol. 35 the author notes, "This Description of Northfolke, I received from the right worshipfull Sir Henry Spelman, Knight." Bp. Nicholson remarks on this, and says, that Speed's "Maps make a noble apparatus (as they were designed) to his History." (English Historical Library, ch. I. and see a critique on his History at p. 94-5, first ed. 8^o.) The Theatre of Britain is very highly commended in Bohun's edit. of Wheare on reading History, § 31. (1694, 8^o. p. 166-170.)

Pag. 103, post Tragicos Latinos.

"MARCI HIERONYMI VIDÆ, Cremonensis, Albæ Episcopi, de Arte Poetica libri tres.

Autoris Vitam præmisit, et Annotationes adjecit Tho. Tristram, A. M. Coll. Pemb. Oxon. Socius. Editio secunda." Oxonii, e typogr. Clarendon. 1723. 12^o.

Editio prior Oct. 28, 1721, imprimendum fuit permissa. Accurate et nitide expressit omnia editor. Joh. Locker notavit quod olim "Parisij, C. Wechelus, 1534. 8^{vo}." prodire fecerat opus.

Pag. 119, ante Rapicium.

"De Elocutionis Imitatione ac Apparatu liber I. Auctore D. IAC. OMPHALIO Jurisconsulto clariss.

Nunc postremo accurata recognitione ab eodem emendatus, multisque in locis auctus, et artium præceptionibus, illustrissimisque sententiis locupletatus." Paris. Jo. Libert, 1623. 24^o.

Post folia 266, habentur 102, in quibus comprehenduntur "Epistolæ aliquot familiares ejusdem D. Jacobi Omphalii Audernaci iuriconsulti, imitationis causa adjectæ."
