REPORT.

THE Committee of the Manchester and Salford Sanitary Association beg to present the Subscribers with a summary of their proceedings for the year 1880.

ARTIZANS' DWELLINGS.

As stated in the last Report a Joint Committee consisting of certain representatives of a public meeting held in the Town Hall on November 18th, 1879, and of the Committee of the Association were then engaged in preparing data for another public meeting. The Joint Committee have continued their work during the past year. Early in the year a series of questions was prepared and forwarded to employers of labour asking for information as to the advisability of artizans residing near their work, &c., and members of the Committee also re-visited some of the districts containing dwellings unfit for human habitation. The additional information obtained was embodied in the pamphlet which appeared in the appendix to last year's Report, and the complete Statement was presented to a second public meeting held under the presidency of the Bishop, in the Town Hall, on July 20th. The outcome of this meeting was the adoption of the following resolutions:-

1. "That it is desirable to form a limited Company for the purpose of building improved dwellings near the great centres of labour in Manchester and Salford, and that the following gentlemen be requested to sign the Memorandum of Association—Dr. Noble, Dr. Ransome, Dr. Sutton, Mr. R. Longden, Mr. T. Dickins, Mr. T. C. Horsfall, Mr. E. W. Nix, Mr. L. W. Andrews, and Mr. John Newton."

2. "That the Corporations of Manchester and Salford be earnestly requested to put in force more fully the ample legal powers they possess for the demolition of dwellings unfit for human habitation, and for the alteration of dwellings requiring it, with a view to improving the present unsatisfactory conditions in which large numbers of the working classes live."

The subsequent proceedings of the promoters of such a scheme have no place in the records of this Society, but the Committee are informed that several meetings have been held, plans have been submitted, and there is a prospect that at an early date some groups of dwellings will be built as an experiment.

THE VACCINATION LAWS.

During the last session of Parliament, Mr. Dodson, the President of the Local Government Board, introduced a Bill to the House of Commons, the chief provision of which was that after one fine, the maximum amount being 20/-, parents should be liable to no further penalties for non-compliance with the law. This Bill departed so far from the spirit of all previous legislation relating to vaccination as naturally to provoke very strong expressions of dissatisfaction on the part of various bodies interested in the public health. This Association among the number presented a petition to Parliament and a Memorial to the Local Government Board (See Appendix A), and your Committee are glad to report that owing to the strong feeling provoked, the Government withdrew the obnoxious measure.

DAY NURSERIES.

A Sub-Committee of Ladies and Gentlemen has recently been appointed to inquire and report as to the desirableness of establishing Day Nurseries for the children of women engaged in factories, &c., in Manchester and Salford, and the manufacturing districts generally. It is hoped that this inquiry will lead to valuable results. A copy of the circular issued to manufacturers is given in the Appendix (B).

WINTER LECTURES.

The following Lectures have been arranged for delivery and publication during the present winter:—

Dr. Simpson—"The House—its site, structure, heating, ventilation, drainage."

Dr. Haddon-"Clothing."

Dr. Ransome—"Cleanliness—of house, of clothing, of person."

Dr. Ashby-" Food-quantity, quality, cooking, hours."

Dr. Sinclair-" Beverages-water, tea, coffee, cocoa, &c."

Dr. Gamgee-"Work and Rest."

Dr. Tatham—" Infection—its nature, precautions against, &c."

Mr. Cullingworth-"Sickness and Nursing."

The Lectures continue to have a very wide circulation. Through Mr. John Heywood's extensive connection as publisher they reach the public not only of Manchester and Salford but of all parts of the country, and inquiries have been received about the publications of the Association from abroad also.

A very good example has been set during the past year by the Keighley Co-operative Society, who have purchased a considerable number of the Lectures for distribution in their neighbourhood.

WEEKLY RETURNS OF DISEASE.

For some time past the difficulty of obtaining the weekly returns with promptitude has been very great, and their chief value as warnings of disease being thereby in a great measure lost, the Committee have been reluctantly compelled to discontinue their publication. It is much to be regretted that statistics which have been recorded by the Association for 20 years should have to cease. The Committee feel that the occasion demands a special recognition on their part of the disinterested aid given to them by the various contributors—by some for many years.

In place of the returns of disease the Association now tabulates the statistics of mortality published weekly by the Officers of Health, and a statement of the Health of Manchester as indicated by these figures is compiled from Mr. Leigh's return for Manchester and published in the daily papers.

REVISION OF RULES.

It has been deemed desirable to revise the Rules of the Association which have been in force for four-teen years, with a view to meet altered conditions and increase the efficiency of the Association. The new rules to be submitted for the approval of the members, accompany this Report (Appendix C).

MISCELLANEOUS.

It is gratifying to know that the Association continues to be held in high estimation, also, in other localities, for its useful work. As an indication of this it may be mentioned that within the past month communications have been received from Liverpool and Rothesay, asking for information about the Association with a view to forming similar societies in those towns. The Committee heartily welcome such efforts to forward the great cause of Sanitary Reform.

The Committee have to record with much regret the loss of two members of the Honorary Committee during the year—Mr. S. M. Bradley, and Mr. Alfred Aspland, both of whom have done good service for the Association in the past.

FINANCIAL POSITION.

Owing to the loss of a considerable number of Subscriptions, through death, removal, and other causes during the past two years, the Committee—entirely and solely dependant upon this source of income—are compelled to issue a special appeal to the public for increased support. A copy is given in the Appendix (D), to which also the reader is referred for details of some of the special undertakings of the Association in past years.

THE Statistical Tables for the ten years 1871—1880, are especially instructive as they present data for judgment regarding sanitary progress which are less liable to error than the figures for separate years—the fallacies due to accidental variations of mortality being greatly diminished by the wider survey.

There is undoubtedly ground for congratulation in the fact that during the last decade the zymotic mortality of Manchester and Salford has diminished by about 100 deaths in each year. The average annual number of deaths from five epidemic diseases for the five years previous to 1876 was 1703, and that for the last five years was 1604. In other words there has been in the latter period a saving of life from the onslaughts of infectious disease of nearly 500 persons.

We cannot but connect this circumstance with the Sanitary efforts that have latterly been made by the Corporations, under the guidance of intelligent Medical Officers of Health, and we recall with satisfaction our own efforts for the appointment of such Officers made in the year 1866.

Unfortunately we are unable to compare the present figures with those for the decade ending 1870. The estimates of the Registrar General differ considerably from those of the Medical Officer of Health for Manchester, and the returns of the Registrar General for the last decade will not be published for some time to come.*

We can hardly doubt, however, from the figures before us, that considerable improvement will be shown when the vital statistics of the period are completed.

The details of the Tables also seem to us to point to the same conclusion, and to show the efficacy of such Sanitary measures as have been undertaken by the Corporations, while they still show the need of further efforts to improve the health of the community. Thus the care that has been taken to improve the vaccination of the population, shows its results in the remarkable diminution of Small Pox, and we can hardly fail to see in the diminution of Fever, a consequence of improved drainage and water supply. On the other hand it is remarkable how constantly Scarlet Fever is present among us—and how little it has altered in frequency in the last ten years. We cannot but think that if Dr. Radford's scheme for Reception Houses for infectious cases had been carried out, we should have seen a great improvement in this as in other parts of the Table. It will be remembered that his Scheme was strongly supported by this Association, and that it has also been approved of by the Medical Officer of Health for Manchester.

But perhaps the gravest conclusion to be drawn from these Tables is the sad one, that the mortality of infants and of children under 5 years of age is relatively increasing. Thus, although the total mortality of the town in the last 5 years is decidedly less, in spite of the growth of the population, the mortality under 5 years has increased 200 per annum, or to the total extent of 1,000 deaths in the 5 years.

We believe that this result is mainly due to the increasing unhealthiness of many of the existing dwellings of the working classes—children being the most sensitive tests of Sanitary conditions, and we see in the increase of our already excessive infant mortality an additional argument for the removal and rebuilding in an improved form of the tenements in the worst parts of the town.

SANITARY

INSPECTION DEPARTMENT.

Towards the end of the year, when fully two years had elapsed from the installation of the Department, the Committee—not satisfied with the numerical outcome of the operations—thought fit to institute an inquiry into the possible or presumable reasons for the deficiency. The number of premises for the inspection of which the services of the Engineers had been engaged did not exceed 80, whilst the Edinburgh Association had been able to report quite 500 cases of inspection in a year. A much greater measure of success in Edinburgh can, indeed, easily be explained by the fact that, in contradistinction to Manchester, it is eminently a residential town, still the discrepancy in the results appeared far too great to allow of its being accounted for by that circumstance alone. The information sought and obtained from Edinburgh, together with the results of the inquiry pursued in our own locality, have led the Committee, (whilst they do not as yet see their way to adopting the Edinburgh plan throughout) to modify in some respects the practice hitherto observed, and more clearly define some points which appeared to call for revision and settlement. The following is the proposed code of rules for the future working of the Department:—

PRIVILEGES.

- 1. An inspection and written report by the engineer of the Association, on the sanitary condition of dwellings or tenements, with specific recommendations, if necessary, as to the improvement of drainage, water supply, and ventilation.
- 2. A final inspection of any alterations in the sanitary fittings of such dwellings or tenements, which may be carried out according to the advice of the Engineer.
- 3. The Superintendence by the Engineer, if desired, of alterations recommended in his report.
- 4. An annual inspection, if desired, of the same premises with a report as to their sanitary condition.
- NOTE.—No single inspection of any premises will secure permanent efficiency.
 - Methodical inspection from time to time is absolutely necessary as a protection against inevitable decay, and accidental disturbance, due to such causes as the gradual stopping of pipes and drains by kitchen grease and rubbish, the corrosion of metal pipes, the fracture of earthenware pipes, or the stopping of ventilating openings by dirt.
 - 5. Occasional supplementary inspection and advice.
 - 6. Inspection of rows of houses, institutions, large works &c.,

VACCINATION BILL.

Copy of Petition to Parliament and Memorial to the President of the Local Government Board.

To the Honourable the Commons of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland in Parliament assembled.

The Petition of the undersigned on behalf of the Committee of the Manchester and Salford Sanitary Association

Humbly sheweth-

- 1. That your petitioners represent a society that has for the last 30 years been engaged in promoting by every means in their power the sanitary welfare of the community.
- 2. That they now desire humbly to petition against the Bill introduced into your Honourable House, proposing to abolish more than one penalty for non-compliance with the Vaccination Laws.
- 3. That in their opinion this Bill will afford countenance and support to the most pernicious and unjustifiable assumptions of persons opposed to Vaccination altogether.
- 4. That your petitioners are fully convinced that Vaccination, when efficiently and universally carried out, has proved a most valuable protection against Small Pox, and that no evils have ever been shown to arise from its practice that can for a moment weigh against the benefits it confers upon the nation.
- 5. That they believe that this protective influence can only be secured by the thorough Vaccination of the whole population, and that this can only be carried out by fully using the compulsory powers of the Vaccination Acts now in force.
- 6. That the granting of an exemption from Vaccination on the payment of a certain sum cannot fail to add largely to the number of unvaccinated persons in the country, and thus to encourage the growth of epidemics of Small Pox.
- 7. That the proposed Bill is opposed to the spirit of all the statutes relating to public health, under which continuing penalties are imposed for the perpetuation of conditions injurious to the common weal.

Your petitioners therefore pray that the proposal to limit the number of penalties which may be enforced for the non-compliance with the Vaccination Laws may not receive the sanction of your Honourable House.

And your petitioners will ever pray, &c.

APPEAL FOR FUNDS.

LETTER from the Lord Bishop of Manchester,

President of the Association.

MANCHESTER, JANUARY 29th, 1881.

My Dear Sir,

I sincerely hope that the appeal which the Committee of the Manchester and Salford Sanitary Association are making for increased support, may meet with a liberal response. The work which the Association undertakes to do is, in my opinion, of the greatest value as respects the physical health and comfort of our vast urban population; and a subsciption list of less than £140 a year is manifestly quite inadequate for the efficient performance of that work.

I remain,

Yours faithfully,

J. MANCHESTER.

Fred. Scott, Esq., Secretary.

DURING the last few years the income of this Association has been gradually diminishing, owing to the death and removal of former members and other causes; and the funds are now so much reduced that the Committee is compelled to appeal to the public for additional Subscriptions (this being the only source of income the Association has) to enable it to continue its useful work. Such an appeal would probably be unnecessary, were the many claims of the Association to support more widely known.

This Association was, we believe, the first of the kind formed in the kingdom, with the objects of discovering the sources of preventable disease and of spreading amongst all classes, especially amongst the poor, a knowledge of the means by which such disease and its deleterious consequences may be It has originated, or taken an active part in proprevented. moting many of the Sanitary reforms that have been brought about during the last quarter of a century, as may be seen from the accompanying lists of the principal published papers relating thereto, &c. Its weekly returns of disease, which have now been continued for twenty years, have done good service in warning local authorities and the public of the presence of epidemic disease. Its lectures, tracts, and other popular publications have been and still are valuable means of educating the public in the laws of health, and of calling their attention to many circumstances affecting the Sanitary condition of the locality. Still much remains to be done. The suffering and privation caused amongst the poor by preventable sickness may further be greatly alleviated, and the expense of supporting our hospitals diminished by well organised efforts to improve the conditions in which numbers of our industrious people live. Again, much as has been done in the past, more will doubtless be necessary in the future, to prevent the spread of epidemic disease amongst all classes. On all these grounds the Committee trust that they may not appeal in vain for pecuniary assistance, and as undoubtedly their work has a moral, as well as a social, bearing they the more earnestly ask for aid, especially of ministers of religion, by making the claims of the Association more widely known, and by taking an active part in its practical work.

If willing to aid the Association kindly fill up and return the enclosed form to the Secretary. Payments may be made either at the Office, 100, King-street, or to the Account of the Manchester and Salford Sanitary Association, at the St. Ann's Street Branch of the Manchester and Salford Bank.

REPORT.

In presenting the Annual Report to their Subscribers and Friends, the Committee of the Ladies' Branch of the Manchester and Salford Sanitary Association have much pleasure in stating that the suggestion made by Miss R. Adams, the Secretary of the London Ladies' Sanitary Association, at the Social Science gathering in 1879, has been successfully carried out. Simple lectures have been addressed to the Mission Women and to the Mothers' Meetings, by a lady who has devoted much attention and skill to this branch of the work, and were greatly appreciated. Ignorance on the subjects of clothing and diet are not confined to the working classes; and, as members of a sanitary, or health regaining and preserving Society, the Committee rejoice that the Ambulance Classes have done something, however small, towards enabling persons to realise the laws by which their bodies are governed.

The need of improved dwellings is another part of the health question often forced upon the attention of the Committee, and most heartily do they wish success to all engaged in promoting this important matter.

Mission Women, under the direction of Ladies interested in the respective localities, have been employed in Twelve Districts, viz.:—Collyhurst (2), Angel Meadow, Newtown, Oldham Road (2), Deans gate, Salford (2), West Gorton, Openshaw, and Eccles. It will be observed that these districts include parts of the city in which sanitary agencies of every kind are most needed, and the Committee have reason to believe that their little body of womenworkers is doing excellent service in an unobtrusive way. An offer has been made to form a fresh district in Ancoats, and steps have been taken to carry it out.

Extracts from the various journals will be read with interest:—

St. George's District, Oldham Road.-Mrs. S. Gamble reports: "The work here goes steadily on. The Mission Woman pays from 45 to 50 visits per week. Monday morning she spends in working up those members of the Mothers' Meeting who had not been at the previous one. Tuesday she devotes to the sick, aud the rest of the week to her ordinary rounds, distributing the powder and making about 30 new visits each week. In cases of infectious disease, however, she changes the disinfectant powder every 36 hours. Of these we have had more than usual the last 3 months. We have 100 members in the Mothers' Meeting and about half that number in the Clothing Club. This is a slight decrease from last year, the women seeming unable to spare the few pence weekly. But as they saw their neighbours going home on the day of distribution, the happy possessors of fine pairs of blankets, which they said seemed like a 'present,' there were many resolves made for the coming year. These, however, are mere bald facts and give very little idea of the good this Society does socially. A gentleman, at our last quarterly meeting, called it the 'missing link' between the rich and the poor; and he was right. There is no Society, I think, which brings them together more closely and pleasantly."

St. Simon's District, Salford.—Miss Wyndham writes: "The Sanitary work in this district is progressing very satisfactorily. The Mothers' Meeting numbers about 80, many of whom, from the influence of the weekly gathering, instead of attending in dirty shawls over their heads, present now a clean and respectable appearance. During the latter part of the autumn scarlet fever was very prevalent, but the municipal authorities are prompt in all such declared infectious cases. Miss Romley Wright's lectures have been attentively listened to and well appreciated at St. Simon's. We have had four of them during the past year and at the last 90 women were present. Artizan Cookery tickets to the value of £4 have been sold in the District chiefly by the Sanitary Mission Woman. We should hail with delight a Coffee Tavern in the heart of the district. It is a constant cause of regret that the early employment of girls and of married women to so great an extent in the factories, should keep them still so ignorant of some most important housewifely duties. Much, however, may be done by sympathy and patient discriminating effort, without lowering the self-respect of our working men's wives and daughters."

SACRED TRINITY DISTRICT, SALFORD.-Mrs. Dutton says: "The Mission Woman is expected to spend six hours daily in house to house visitation, taking houses in rotation in a street, if possible. She keeps a daily journal which her superintendent receives weekly. To quote from it :- "Monday Morning: Visited amongst our 'Mothers'; called on Mrs. F .- she is very ill; also on Mrs. K.-her baby has measles. Called upon Mrs. B. and tried to comfort her, as the doctor has declared her case cancer and she will have to go to the hospital. Then visited T. C. with powder; then went to prepare the room for the Mothers' Meeting. N.B.-This Meeting is held weekly at half-past two o'clock, and the work attending it keeps the Mission Woman engaged till five Tuesday: Visited Mrs. K. to enquire after the baby; then to see Mrs. B .- found her ill, and rubbed her with camphorated oil and put on cotton wool; then to Mrs S.'s to enquire why she did not attend the Meeting yesterday. Then to see Mrs -, who has given way to very sad drinking habits. I had a serious talk with her. Then to — Court; then to — Street; left powder at all the houses and had pleasant conversations with many of the people. Visits to-day 18; &c., &c.' In the same week she reports also having been asked often to read to people; that she went to the Salford Town Hall to purchase carbolic soap and to report cases of infectious sickness.

Often during the autumn, when an epidemic (diarrhæa) existed, the Mission Woman (Mrs. Pilkington) relieved over 40 cases weekly with medicine provided from the Town Hall, and each case was reported to the Officer of Health, whose agents visited the house.

We have to thank Dr. Mc.Call for kindly allowing our Mission Woman to attend his 'Nurses' Lectures,' from which she derived much benefit, as she passed the examination expected at the end of the course.

Miss Romley Wright's lectures to the women attending our Mothers' Meeting were most interesting; they were understood and appreciated, and several put in practice the use of brown paper when they could not purchase flannel. Our Clothing Club and Blanket Club have done well this year. We have been greatly cheered in seeing some of the drunken women reclaimed. We can hardly close without naming the Cookery Classes which have been held in this district. We have to thank Mr. W. Mather for a room lent and for all the encouragement given to this work. We can only hope that the women may have learnt much by this instruction, so as to prepare more comfortable meals and make their homes brighter."

ST. Mark's District, West Gorton.—Miss G. Connell writes: "There has been much sickness and distress in this district during the past year, and especially in the summer months, when the English Cholera and Scarlet Fever were doing a sad work amongst our poor. I cannot speak in terms too high of the kindness of Mrs. Robinson, our Mission Woman, during these trying months. Her visits were frequent to those who most needed sympathy and help; and more than once was she called up at night to visit some sick or dying one. As Mrs. Robinson's district is large, containing about 1,000 houses, she cannot visit them all frequently, but she pays particular attention to those low streets and back parts of the parish which are most in need of sanitary reform. She visits on an average 350 houses per quarter, and her visits are appreciated by the people. Our Mothers'

Meeting is steadily increasing; the average attendance is 36. We mentioned in our last report the formation of a men's class held weekly. This was discontinued during the summer months and re-opened in October. There is now an average attendance of 40 men. This we think very encouraging, for it is often difficult to induce men to attend such meetings. In addition to this we have opened on Saturday nights two rooms for working men; one a coffee room where they may buy coffee, buns, oranges and apples; the other a reading room where the week's papers and interesting books are placed, and where they can spend a pleasant and profitable hour. Mrs. Robinson attends both on Tuesday and Saturday nights and makes the coffee."

St. Oswald's District, Collyhurst.—Mrs. Clarke reports "The Mission Woman has done much good work here in visiting the sick and in giving the often overworked mother both useful hints and personal assistance. She visits regularly and I am sure has taught many a poor woman to feel the advantage and comfort of cleanliness and tidy home work. She failed in inducing any considerable number to attend the Cookery Classes lately held in Collyhurst; but I think as these Classes are better understood they will be more appreciated. Our people greatly value the powder."

St. Peter's District, Oldham Road.— The report here is: "Our Mission Woman is indefatigable in her work. A Lecture on 'the Skin,' given by Miss Romley Wright to some 50 or 60 women in October, was very much appreciated. We are hoping for another."

St. Catharine's District, Newtown.—Miss Haworth writes: "I am glad to be able to say that the success attending the Mission Woman's labours during the past year has been of a most encouraging character. Considering the kind of population of our parish, and the difficulties she has had to encounter, the results are of a very cheering nature. On an average the Mission Woman makes 56 visits a week, and has collected £18 in pence, week by week, and this exclusive of the money collected at the two Mothers' Meetings held in our Schools. We have had comparatively few cases of infectious diseases during the year, which we believe to be owing to the greater cleanliness of the houses induced by the labours of the Mission Woman, and the use of the soap and disinfectant powder. There is a manifest improvement in many of the houses which were formerly in vedangerous state of filth and dirt. The visits of the Mission Woman are highly prized and valued, and her advice and recommendations gladly received. The great change for the better in many of the once wretched homes is most gratifying."

St. Michael's, Angel Meadow.—" Miss Allen has little to add to the very full report made last year. The district has been remarkably free from sickness until lately. The Mission Woman has worked steadily and with much self-denial amidst every sort of disadvantage. The contributions to the Clothing Club amounted to f45."

Eccles District.—Mrs. Salmon reports that the Mission Woman works conscientiously, and that her visits are valued.

With regard to the "Sanitary Addresses to Mothers," which have been frequently alluded to, Miss Wright has very kindly reported more at length, as follows:-" During the past year I have been asked to address Mothers' Meetings, seven of which are connected with the Ladies' Sanitary Association. To these seven Meetings I have given ten addresses on the functions of the skin and those of the heart and lungs. To such uneducated audiences I have found it needful to make my remarks practical and familiar, directing attention to the practical outcome of such subjects, viz.: cleanliness of person, clothing, house and furniture—the due supply of warm clothing as a means of health, and various economical ways of procuring warm clothing, by using knitted articles rather than flannel, &c. Ventilation of sleeping-rooms has had a large share of attention, and in one district, the chief arrangement for fixing the window-sash so as to avoid draughts and admit fresh airs, has been much used by the mothers. Prevention of infection in cases of fevers has been carefully explained, and many copies of the cards and papers on that subject have been sold. In every Meeting I have found an earnest attention paid, and an apparent desire for fuller instruction in the laws of health; and, at the close, the mothers purchased the small books and tracts that I got for them at greatly reduced rates. The Religious Tract Society have twice made me a grant of copies of 'Till the doctor comes' which are eagerly purchased by the mothers. Through the kindness of this grant I am able to sell these works rather under half price; believing it to be wiser to sell than to give the books, I make a rule not to give any and I always find a ready sale.

At some Meetings I have given lessons in Bandaging, and the thanks of the Association have been tendered to Dacre Fox, Esq., M.R.C.S., for allowing me to copy his diagrams prepared for his Ambulance Lectures, and also to C. T. Cullingworth, Esq., M.R.C.P., for the loan of books and other help which these gentlemen have most kindly given.

The Physiology Class for the Sanitary Mission Women goes on steadily, and is a source of great interest. It is too early yet to ascertain its progress, but from some of the papers handed in, after only five lessons, there is every reason to hope for a good result at the examination kindly promised by Dr. Ashby at the close of the course.

As the need for instruction in cooking has been long felt, the Ladies' Sanitary Association resolved at their Meeting, September 29th, to sign the requisition to the Edinburgh School of Domestic Economy asking them to send a teacher. Cookery Classes have been established in Collyhurst, Ancoats, Salford, and Staleybridge, and have been remarkably successful. The numbers attending range from 200 to 800; and the teacher, Miss Dods, is much encouraged by knowing that the cookery is done at home according to the instructions she gives. The members of six of the Mothers' Meetings, connected with the Sanitary Association, are having the advantage of these lessons, and as the cookery lectures are extended into Pendleton, Ordsall, Greenheys, Rusholme, &c., it is hoped that many others will enjoy the benefit."

The Association has lost during the year the services of one of their Honorary Secretaries, E. Arthur Leigh, Esq., to whom they have been indebted for valuable help.

The Ladies' Branch of the Sanitary Association has thus, the Committee believe, done much useful work last year. It is a work not elemosynary and pauperising, but aims at encouraging self-respect and self-help. Its work is limited, clearly defined, and among the minor charities of life, but in dependance upon Him, Who 'wills not that any should perish,' and is 'Greatest in the least,' has worked on, earnestly and hopefully, for now eight or nine years. It has kept up steadily its old district operations, but has also broken fresh ground.

Plainly the Association might do much more than it does now if adequately supported. The proposed new district in Ancoats may be formed; additional subscriptions are required to maintain present work; the aid of ladies who have some leisure at their disposal is much needed, not only in the mere trying part of superintending mission women, but in collecting subscriptions, reading at the Mothers' Meetings, &c.; and, as one of the Lady Superintendents says, "Oh! if the ladies of Manchester only knew what a real pleasure a work of this sort is to those who undertake it, they would join us by scores."

The Treasurer reports a balance in favour of the Association amounting to £37 7s. 3d.
