THE NINTH REPORT OF THE COMMIT-TEE OF VISITORS OF THE LUNATIC ASYLUM FOR THE COUNTY OF MID-DLESEX, SITUATE AT HANWELL, BEING THE EIGHTY-SIXTH SINCE THE COM-MENCEMENT OF THE ASYLUM.

Hanwell, January 19th, 1854.

THERE are comparatively few occurrences out of the ordinary routine of administration in a Lunatic Asylum, of sufficient importance to require the COMMITTEE OF VISITORS in making their ANNUAL REPORT, to bring them prominently before the notice of the Court. A detailed history of the little world comprised within these walls during the past year, will be found recorded under different heads by the Officers of the different Departments, and their Reports, with the tabular Statements annexed, will furnish the Court with the requisite information upon all topics of interest, whether pathological, administrative, or statistical, connected with the Establishment. The COMMITTEE have every reason to be satisfied with the general management, and with the conduct of the Officers and Servants of the Establishment, both as regards each other and the Patients. The arrangements hereafter adverted to, in reference to this point, will, they believe, guarantee a continuance of that satisfactory state of things for the future.

In conformity with the provisions of the 62nd section of the Lunacy Act, passed in the last Session of Parliament, your COMMITTEE have to report, that the Asylum is, as regards the Patients, in a satisfactory condition. There is accommodation for 960 Patients, and two new Wards calculated to provide for 50 additional Patients, will be ready in a few weeks.

It is fortunate, perhaps, that the circumstances requiring specific notice, are not many in number, for it is obvious that such would be more probably matters of regret than of congratulation to the Court and to the COMMITTEE. The statistics of Insanity in the County of Middlesex, hold out as yet no expectation of any material immediate reduction in the number of that afflicted class, to such an extent even as to justify any confident hope that all recent cases may be dealt with in the very earliest stages.

Your COMMITTEE cannot therefore congratulate the Court upon any diminution in the number of Patients, or upon any considerable increase in the number of cures, there being still so many unfortunate beings afflicted with chronic and almost hopeless disease. If, accordingly, from the nature of the case, there is but little to set out on the bright side of the picture, the prominent features will necessarily be of a more sombre character, and serve rather to shew the blots, which no vigilance on the part either of the Officers or the COMMITTEE can altogether remove. The difficulties, indeed, of managing Establishments, such as our County Asylums, are materially increased by the temptations held out to the class of persons from whom the Attendants have heretofore been selected, to seek other more lucrative occupations at home, or in the Colonies. The consequence is, that for two or three years past the resignations of Attendants have been considerably more numerous than in former times, and the Candidates of a less eligible class. It is unnecessary to remind the Court how much the well-being of such Institutions depends upon the conduct of Attendants, over whom it is difficult, from their numbers, and the extent of the Establishments, at all times to exercise supervision and control.

In the month of July last, in consequence of letters addressed by a male Patient to Mr. Perceval, complaining of ill-usage on the part of certain Attendants in the year 1851; complaints which had been fully investigated by the then COMMITTEE — which letters were forwarded by him to the Secretary of State, the Commissioners in Lunacy deputed two of their body to examine into these charges on the spot, who reported upon them to the Home Secretary. The conclusion at which they arrived, namely, that there was reason to believe that the Attendants did sometimes use disgusting language among themselves, and that in some instances they had been guilty of harsh and unfeeling conduct towards the Patients, induced Lord Palmerston to write to your Com-MITTEE, strongly urging the appointment of a Head Attendant, whose duty it should be exclusively to supervise the Attendants in the Wards and Airing Courts. In deference to this suggestion, the Committee of Visitors accordingly appointed to that situation Robert Blencowe, who has been an Attendant in the Asylum for 14 years, and whom Dr. Begley and the Storekeeper strongly recommended as being in every way qualified to fill such a position. His salary is fixed at £45 for the first year, with a promise of an increase to £52 at the end of that time, if his conduct should be satisfactory; and from the Report of the Medical Superintendent, up to the present time, he seems to have discharged his duties in a very able manner. The COMMITTEE OF VISITORS hope and believe, that, with such additional supervision, no complaints either of bad language towards each other, or of harshness towards the Patients on the part of the Attendants, will be repeated.

In the month of March, Mr. Shrubb, the resident Engineer, having resigned his situation, Mr. John Williams was appointed to succeed him, at a Salary of £110 a year, without Board.

In the same month the COMMITTEE, thinking it desirable to have additional supervision in the Wards, previously to any communication from the Commissioners in Lunacy, increased the salary of Mr. Aulsebrook, the Dispenser, from £70 to £85 a year, in consideration of new duties being imposed upon him in the Wards, and in the month of November, his title was altered, at his own request, from that of Dispenser to Apothecary.

In the month of April the salary of the Assistant Storekeeper, Mr. John Clift, was increased from £40 to £50 a year, after a period of ten years' service.

In the month of August, Miss Ireland, having resigned the situation of Superintendent of the Workroom, Miss Mary Humphrey was appointed her successor on probation, but she having been, at the end of a few weeks, seized with a dangerous illness, which incapacitated her from discharging its duties, Miss M. Macfie was appointed in her stead, also upon probation.

On the 17th of the same month, Miss Giddings resigned her situation as Superintendent of the Bazaar, she having been appointed Matron of the Royal Lunatic Asylum at Perth, and on December 29th, Miss L. Holland was appointed to succeed her, on probation.

This is one of the many instances of preference being given to Officers of this Institution, when Candidates for situations of trust and responsibility, which speak favorably as to the estimation in which it is held out of the County of Middlesex.

In the month of October, a circular was received from the Commissioners in Lunacy, making certain suggestions, in contemplation of the probable breaking out of cholera in the Asylum; and on Dr. Begley's recommendation a variation was made in the dietary, by substituting an ordinary meat dinner for the soup dinner on Mondays. The two Medical Superintendents were also empowered, in the event of that disease appearing, to engage such additional assistance as they might deem necessary. Fortunately, however, no such necessity has yet arisen, but, by the advice of these Officers, the additional meat dinner has not been discontinued.

The number of Patients admitted during the year was 126, of whom 64 were males, and 62 females. The number discharged cured was 43, of whom 17 were males, and 26 females. Three males also left the Asylum improved. The number of deaths was 68, of whom 45 were males, and 23 females. The rate of mortality, though somewhat higher than last year, is not above the average.

Various circumstances have combined to retard the completion of the new Chapel, the erection of which was sanctioned by the Court in June, 1852. It is now, however, completed, and will be ready for the performance of Divine Service, in the ensuing month.

Several alterations and improvements have been effected during the year in different parts of the Establishment, under the direction of the Engineer, some of which were mentioned as being in contemplation in the last Annual Report. Other very necessary alterations have been from time to time suggested by the Officers of the Establishment, as well as the Commissioners in Lunacy, on their visits to the Asylum. These have now swelled to an amount which precludes the possibility of their being accomplished within a reasonable time by the ordinary staff of workmen, and without greatly exceeding the amount allowed by the Lunacy Act of last Session to be expended annually upon alterations and improvements without the sanction of the Court. Many of these appear to your COMMITTEE to be of the most pressing necessity, and they accordingly instructed their late Engineer, Mr. Harris, in conjunction with Mr. Williams, to lay before them a Report and Estimate of Works requiring immediate or early attention. Foremost among these, the question arises, whether it would not be desirable to make provision for a larger number of inmates in the Asylum. The present moment appears peculiarly suitable for doing so before the new Ward is filled with Patients; inasmuch as some displacement must take place during any alteration of the Building, which could be effected without increasing its area \rightarrow a thing most undesirable in many respects. A Plan has been proposed by Mr. Harris, for raising the Wards in the centre Building an additional story, by which four new Wards, with the necessary Day-rooms, would be obtained, affording accommodation for 200 Patients, which, with the Ward just erected, will, it is hoped, contain all the Pauper Lunatics of the County now in Workhouses or Private Asylums. Such Patients as it would be necessary to remove from their present Wards during the Works, might be accommodated in the new and still unoccupied Ward-a difficulty which could not easily be got over, were it tenanted, otherwise than by limiting the number of admissions during the progress of the Works, and then in but an inadequate degree. The ventilation of the Asylum has been frequently adverted to in the Annual Reports as very defective, and your COMMITTEE are of opinion that some remedy should be applied forthwith. This remark is true both as to the want of cold and warm air, and a better supply of each is very much required. The insufficient quantity of hot water for bathing purposes is an evil of even more serious magnitude, and an entire alteration in the system of supplying it appears necessary at the present moment, and will, of course, become indispensable if an addition be made to the number of inmates. The bathing accommodation in the Asylum is also very far below its requirements, and should be increased without delay. An improvement in the drainage and waterclosets, both within and without the walls, has been repeatedly recommended by the Officers of the Establishment, as well as the Commissioners in Lunacy, and ought not to be overlooked. It seems to your COMMITTEE, that the points here adverted to are so important, that they trust their successors will lose no time in bringing them in a detailed shape before the notice of the Court. In submitting these recommendations, your Com-MITTEE would remind the Court, that a quarter of a century has elapsed since the Hanwell Asylum was constructed. Erected originally with a view to the accommodation of only 350 Patients, it has grown to its present size by insensible degrees, and it is manifest that many of the arrangements which were only adapted to that small number of inmates, must be wholly inadequate now for an Establishment of three times the original proportions. The improvements which have been made during that period in draining, in ventilation, in warming and lighting these abodes of disease and suffering, contrast unfavorably with the inadequate provision made for these objects, even at that comparatively recent date.

The spirit of humanity which distinguishes the age in which we live, and the generous rivalry exhibited by those upon whom the care of the insane devolves throughout the different public and private Establishments, not only in our own country, but in the two hemispheres, urges upon your COMMITTEE the necessity of keeping pace with other similar Institutions, and of remedying the defects which have accrued by the lapse of time, and the imperfect nature of the original appliances. Some of the existing evils would obviously be increased by the additional accommodation for 50 Patients which will be obtained by the erection of the new Chapel, and the Ward below it. As the state of the Works is so far advanced that this will be ready for the reception of Patients at a very early period, it seems a fitting occasion to consider the question of alterations generally, so as to combine them with the requirements of the enlarged Establishment. It can hardly be necessary at the present day to dwell upon the paramount importance of good drainage and ventilation, of an abundant supply of light, and of hot water for bathing purposes, of which latter, though the Asylum is amply supplied with cold water, there is a very inadequate quantity even for the present number of Patients. Your COMMITTEE are satisfied that when the Court shall be in possession of the details on all these points, it will concur with them that an alteration in the system is indispensable.

It was stated in the last Annual Report, that an additional vote would be asked for, to complete the fittings in the Chapel, in the new Ward, and Entertainment Room, and to defray the Architect's Commission. The sum required for these purposes amounts to £883, and the cost of bedding and furniture for the Ward will be £500; the details of which will be found in the Appendix. Application will accordingly be made to the Court, for a sum not exceeding £1,400, on the next County Day.

We regret that, owing to the great rise in almost all articles of consumption, and the price of labor generally, the rate of maintenance has been considerably increased for the present quarter. This state of things, it is to be hoped, will not be of long duration, and that a return will shortly be made to the ordinary rate.

Many improvements have been introduced into the Lunacy Act of the last Session of Parliament, which will be advantageous to the Patients as well as Parishes, by enabling Justices to remove those who do not belong to the County, and make room for others whose state requires immediate reception in Asylums. Several suggestions, made by the JOINT COMMITTEE of the two Institutions, have been embodied in it, and it is believed that they will operate usefully in the practical working of the Act.

It cannot, however, be too strongly impressed upon Members of the Court, that it is, in their individual capacity as Guardians of the Poor, they can most materially assist in carrying it out. Immediate attention to the first symptoms of Insanity, and strict determination to allow no tendency to harshness or neglect in their different workhouses to go unnoticed, are the means by which the number of cures may be increased, chronic cases become comparatively rare, and the burdens of the ratepayers lightened. Without such cooperation from the Magistrates of the County, Visitors of Asylums can hardly hope to effect much within their walls ; with it, it may be hoped, that the day is not far distant when all the Pauper Lunatics in the County may be provided for in the existing Establishments.

The MEMBERS OF THE COMMITTEE who retire by rotation are Messrs. Baillie, Brooking, Evans, Kemshead, Turner, and Wilks, and a seventh vacancy is occasioned by the death of Mr. Roe. Your COMMITTEE cannot conclude without expressing their great regret, that, in consequence of continued ill health, they have for some time been deprived of the assistance of their Chairman, Mr. Wilks, who has, during so many years, dedicated his services to the good of the Asylum, and the County generally.

MEDICAL SUPERINTENDENT

OF

THE number of Patients in the Male Division of the Asylum at the commencement of the year was 411; 64 have been admitted since, making together 475; 17 have been discharged cured, 3 as improved, and 45 have died, leaving 410 now under care.

Admissions.—The Patients admitted during the year were generally in so chronic a stage of their disorder, or the malady was so much complicated with General Paralysis or Epilepsy, diseases which usually render Insanity incurable, that hope could not be entertained of the recovery of many of them. Some of those, however, who were received during the early stage of the disease, and who were not affected with either of the complications referred to, have left the Asylum well; others of them are progressing favourably, and are likely to be discharged cured in the ensuing spring.

In 38 of the cases admitted the disease assumed the form of Mania, and in 9 that of Melancholia. Imbecility was the type of the disorder in 15 cases, and Dementia was manifested in 2. Mania was associated in 6 cases with General Paralysis, and in 6 others with Epilepsy. There was a double combination of General Paralysis and Epilepsy in 1 case of Mania. Melancholia was found in union with General Paralysis in 1 case. Imbecility was combined with that affection in 8 cases, and with Epilepsy in 1; in 1 other case of Imbecility there was a combination of both Paralysis and Epilepsy. The 2 cases of Dementia were complicated with General Paralysis.

A tendency to suicide was united with 1 case of Mania, and with Melancholia in 7 cases; 1 of the suicidal cases of Melancholia was affected with General Paralysis.

One of the cases of Mania occurred in a man 28 years of age, who had only been ill a fortnight, but it was his third The second attack came on when he was 14 years attack. of age, and the first at the age of 7 years. Insanity at so early an age, and not attributable to congenital defect, or to Epilepsy, or to any form of Paralysis, though not unprecedented, is yet so rare as to justify its being noticed here. The Patient was pale, feeble, and emaciated when admitted, also very incoherent and violent; he is now well nourished, excitement has subsided, and his mind is much improved, but it is not expected that he can recover permanently, as it has been ascertained that there is a strong hereditary predisposition to the disease in his family. His mother, several aunts and collateral relatives, were insane, and died in that state; one of his sisters is now an inmate of Colney Hatch Asylum, another has been more than once the subject of mental aberration.

Three of the admissions were cases of re-admission. One was that of a man who on his first admission, in March, 1848, was in a feeble state of health, much depressed, and had a wound in the throat, inflicted by himself for the purpose of suicide. He recovered in a few months. Loss of employment in the early part of this year, the illness of his wife, and dependence of himself and family upon the scanty earnings of his daughter (a needlewoman), again disturbed his mind, not so seriously, however, as on the former occasion. He was lately discharged cured. The second was the case of an agricultural labourer from the neighbourhood of the Asylum, who had been here twice before, and had also been in other Asylums; intemperance is the cause of his malady. He improves rapidly after admission by abstemious habits and regularity of diet. It is to be feared that these frequent attacks may enfeeble his mind and ultimately reduce him to a state of fatuity. The third was the case of a young man who, on his first admission in May, 1850, was pale, emaciated, incoherent, and affected with General Paralysis in its incipient stage. He soon became well nourished, and his mind improyed, he worked steadily in the grounds, and conducted himself so rationally that, after a residence of a year in the Asylum, though still retaining slight symptoms of Paralysis, he was discharged on trial, and permanently at the end of his month of probation. Failing in his efforts to obtain employment, he enlisted. The Medical Officer before whom he appeared for examination as a recruit, not recognising the Paralysis, he was passed, and soon afterwards sent to the depot of his regiment, where also the Paralysis was unnoticed by the Surgeon in charge. He went on well for more than a year, complaining, however, occasionally of the severity of the drill exercise; but at the expiration of that period he became irregular in his habits, appeared late on parade; was negligent of dress, remained out of barracks without leave. For these and other breaches of discipline he was frequently admonished without effect, and at length was placed under arrest, preparatory to being brought to a Court Martial. In the guard-house incoherent expressions were heard to fall from him, amongst them the word "Hanwell" was frequently repeated. This suggested to the Commandant the idea of the man being of unsound mind, and of his having been at some period an inmate of the Asylum. An inquiry being made on this point, and answered in the affirmative, all proceedings against him were abandoned, and he was in a short time dismissed the regiment as unfit for military duty, was sent to his relatives, and by them to the Workhouse of his Parish, and thence brought here in February last, very imbecile in mind and much Paralysed. He gradually sank into Dementia, and died a few days ago.

This case forcibly illustrates the necessity which exists for all Medical Gentlemen, whether about to attach themselves to the public service or to engage in civil practice, to acquire such a knowledge of the various forms of Insanity as may enable them, if not to treat the disease, at least to discern it when presented to them. To open Hospitals for the Insane in the same unreserved manner as General Hospitals are to Medical Students, for the purpose of imparting to them such information, is certainly a measure not unattended with risk and difficulty. Perhaps the least objectionable, and at the same time sufficiently effectual way of meeting the requirements of the age in this respect, would be the adoption of the plan suggested in 1846 by the writer of this Report, viz., that a limited number of Clinical Pupils (there not being accommodation for them to reside in the Institution) be permitted to visit the Asylum daily, and allowed to spend several hours each day in the Wards, so as to become acquainted with the disease in its various states and stages, observe its changes, learn the histories of the cases, watch the treatment pursued, and the effects produced. Although recent cases are seldom sent here, yet they are brought sufficiently often to furnish, in connexion with the Chronic, information respecting the malady, the constantly recurring paroxysms of the latter requiring all the care, attention, and treatment which those of later date are erroneously supposed alone to demand; besides which, the opportunities for studying the Paralysis of the Insane afforded by this Institution, are not second to those of any other in the kingdom.

The Patients admitted during the year were, for the most part, brought to the Asylum, as in the former year, in a manner highly creditable to the parochial authorities. There were, however, a few exceptions; these were mentioned at the time to the Committee, who communicated on the subject of them with the authorities of the Parishes from which the Patients were sent, and it appeared that the Medical Officers of the Parishes were not aware of the mode adopted of conveying Patients to the Asylum. If these gentlemen would be so good as to give directions as to the proper mode of performing this duty, the evil complained of, and which is now of rare occurrence, would soon cease altogether. It seems to be desirable also that the arrangements for the reception and care of Lunatics in the Workhouses should be improved and extended, at least until ample Asylum accommodation shall be provided for all the Insane Poor of the County.

Discharges.—The majority of the Patients discharged cured during the year were received in the early stage of the disease; the period of their residence in the Asylum varied from 3 to 10 months; 1 man, however, was discharged cured, who had been here 11 years, and 2 others 4 and 6 years respectively. Recoveries like these 3, after so long a residence in the Institution, are occasionally met with in every Asylum, and tend to show that hope is not to be abandoned in any case however unpromising or protracted. Fourteen of the cures were cases of Mania; 1 of them was associated with a disposition to Suicide; the other 3 were cases of Melancholia, two of them being of a suicidal tendency. One of the latter Patients maintained complete taciturnity for several weeks, and total indifference to all surrounding objects; one of the Patients discharged as improved, was so at the request of his friends; the two others were removed to the asylums of the counties to which they were respectively adjudicated.

It may not be inappropriate here to observe that the two Patients spoken of in last year's Report as having been discharged cured, though still slightly affected with General Paralysis, have been heard of during this year. They continue capable of attending to their occupations.

Deaths.—A large proportion of the Deaths was, as usual, caused by General Paralysis, Apoplexy, Epilepsy, and General Debility; some others resulted from Dropsy, Diseases of the Heart and Lungs, Stomach and Bladder. There was one death from Purpura of a Patient aged nineteen, who had been upwards of a year in the Asylum, and had persisted during the whole of that time in abstaining from animal food, vegetables and fruit, under an impression that such articles were too expensive, that he could not afford them, and did not deserve them, that he must be content with humbler fare; he took, however, a sufficiency of bread and butter, tea, cocoa, coffee, rice, &c. Hæmorrhagic spots appeared upon his limbs and trunk, the gums became spongy, a sanious discharge issued from them; he gradually sank. After death Petechice were found on the internal surfaces, the Pericardium, and even on the membranes of the Brain. One Patient, very feeble, 77 years of age, died from Constitutional Irritation consequent upon Fracture of the Thigh Bone; having been pushed by a Patient, he fell, and thus the bone was fractured ; he survived the injury 30 days; the fracture was found to extend for six inches obliquely downwards and inwards from the trochanter major to the linea aspera; ossific matter was thrown out, and union partially established along the line of fracture, but the surrounding muscles were lacerated, and sero-sanguineous fluid was effused and insinuated amongst them. Another died from the bursting externally of an Aneurism of the ascending aorta; the Patient had been three years and a half in the Asylum, and suffered from Aneurism for some time previous to admission. The tumour gradually increased in size, and advanced forwards by causing absorption of the sternum; it formed a considerable swelling on the chest, its coats became thin, and the process of ulceration set up in the most prominent part; a scab formed, this sloughed off, immediately purulent matter and blood oozed out; the next day a still larger quantity came away, so on the third and fourth days; in the evening of this latter day a fit of coughing came on, which caused a rupture of the coat, and through it gushed about a quart of fluid blood and several coagulated pieces of fibrin, consolidated and of very close texture. Death was instantaneous.

The duration of life after the invasion of General Paralysis, in those who died of that disease this year, averaged about two years and three quarters; in a few it did not exceed one year, in one it amounted to four years and a half, in another to upwards of six years; one Patient lived ten years after the Paralytic seizure.

The general health of the Patients has not been so good during this year as the previous one. Several suffered from Boils and Carbuncles and Abscesses in the spring; these complaints lingered a long time in the house, but at length disappeared, without leaving behind them any injurious consequences. In the autumn there were a few cases of Diarrhœa without vomiting, and a few of vomiting without Diarrhœa; these were all slight attacks, readily yielded to simple treatment, and were of short duration. Since the beginning of winter Catarrhs have been unusually prevalent, and there have been several cases of Bronchitis.

The dietary, liberal before, has been rendered more so recently, by the substitution of a solid meat dinner in lieu of soup, which was hitherto given once a week for dinner. This change is very agreeable to the Patients, and cannot fail to be beneficial to them.

Several improvements have been made in the house lately; amongst them rounding or bevelling off sharp corners and angles of walls in the galleries, which were dangerous to Paralysed and Epileptic Patients falling against them. Wire guards have been removed from 28 gallery, day-room, and bed-room windows, with the effect of admitting an increased quantity of light and air, and adding to the cheerfulness of the wards. There is not now any window within the male division of the Asylum having a wire guard attached to it; a large number of new bedsteads has been supplied; the bedding has been to a considerable extent renewed, horse-hair mattrasses being substituted for those of coir, formerly in use. The warming of the Asylum, long complained of as defective, would be materially improved by taking down the pipes from their present situation near the ceiling, and placing them under the floors. This would afford an opportunity for removing the present stone floors in the galleries, and substituting boarded ones for them, as has been already extensively done in the Dormitories.

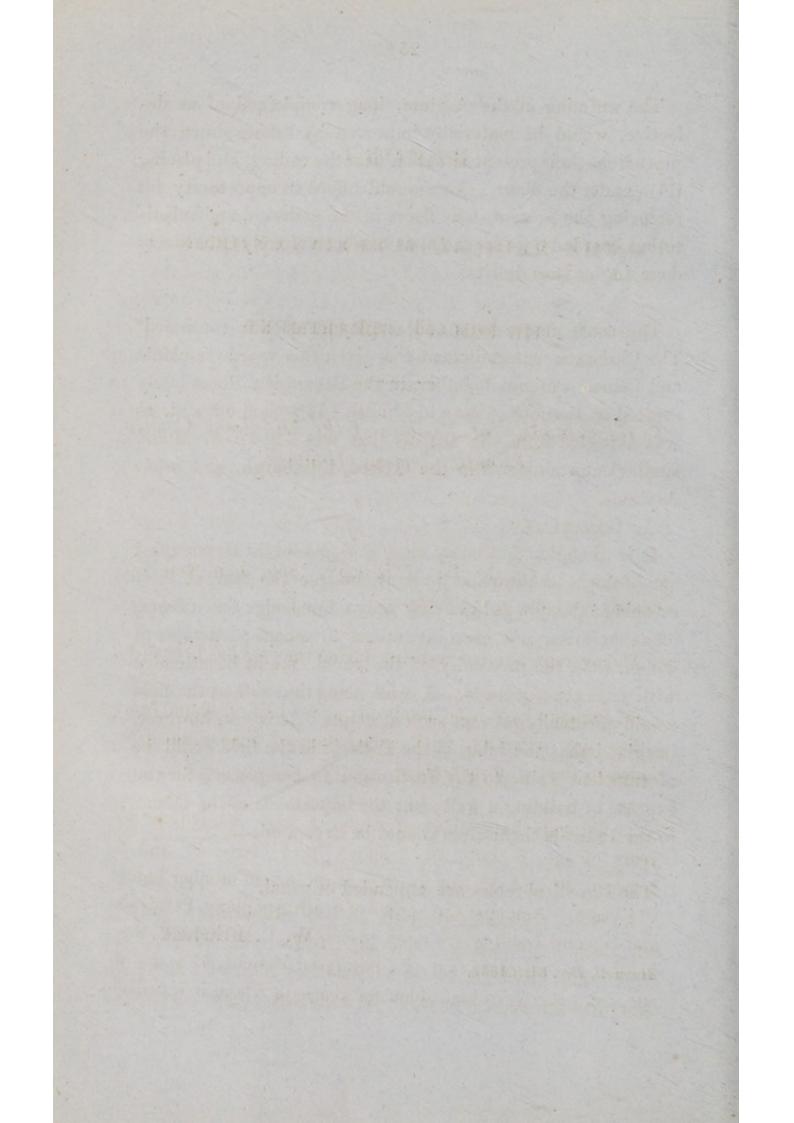

The usual amusements and employments are continued The Christmas entertainment was given this year to the Male and Female Patients together, in the Recreation Room lately erected on the site of the old Chapel. It passed off well, as was expected from the success that was known to attend similar entertainments in the Oxford, Edinburgh, and other Asylums.

It is thought that many more Patients might be occupied out of doors than are at present, but for the fear of their escaping; the new field having only a low hedge for a fence, offers facilities, and even invitations to escape; attempts at which, from the proximity of the canal, might be attended with fatal consequences. A wall along that side of the field would effectually prevent such attempts. It is not, however, imagined that the labor of the Patients in the field could be of sufficient value to the Institution to compensate for the expense of building a wall; but the importance of the labour to the Patients themselves cannot be overrated.

The statistical tables are appended as usual.

THE MEDICAL SUPERINTENDENT

THE FEMALE DEPARTMENT.

To the Committee of Visitors of the Middlesex County Lunatic Asylum, Hanwell.

GENTLEMEN,

On the 1st of January, 1853, there were 552 Female Patients in the Asylum.

The average number resident during the year has been 557.

63 Patients have been admitted; about half of whom, from either age, infirmity, or advanced stage of disease, must be added to the list of incurables.

23 Patients have died; of whom 2 were upwards of 90 years of age, 5 above 80, 2 above 70, 8 above 60, and 6 between 20 and 50, the average of the whole number being $61\frac{1}{2}$ years. Amongst the causes of death Apoplexy, Paralysis and General Debility are most prominent. An inquest was holden on one case, that of a Paralysed Patient, 67 years of age, who had been bedridden for years, in whom it was discovered, whilst changing her linen, that the right arm was fractured. This sudden shock to the system was sustained with apparent indifference for five days, when her existence was terminated by an apoplectic seizure.

During the year, 26 Patients have been discharged cured, and 8 transferred to other Counties. In many of the former, satisfactory reports have been received as to their continued recovery, and it is gratifying to state, that not one has returned to the Asylum.

The health of the Patients generally has been good; a few cases of Diarrhœa were recorded weekly during the autumnal months, and notwithstanding the prevalence of Cholera within two miles of the Institution, no symptoms approaching those of that disease have appeared.

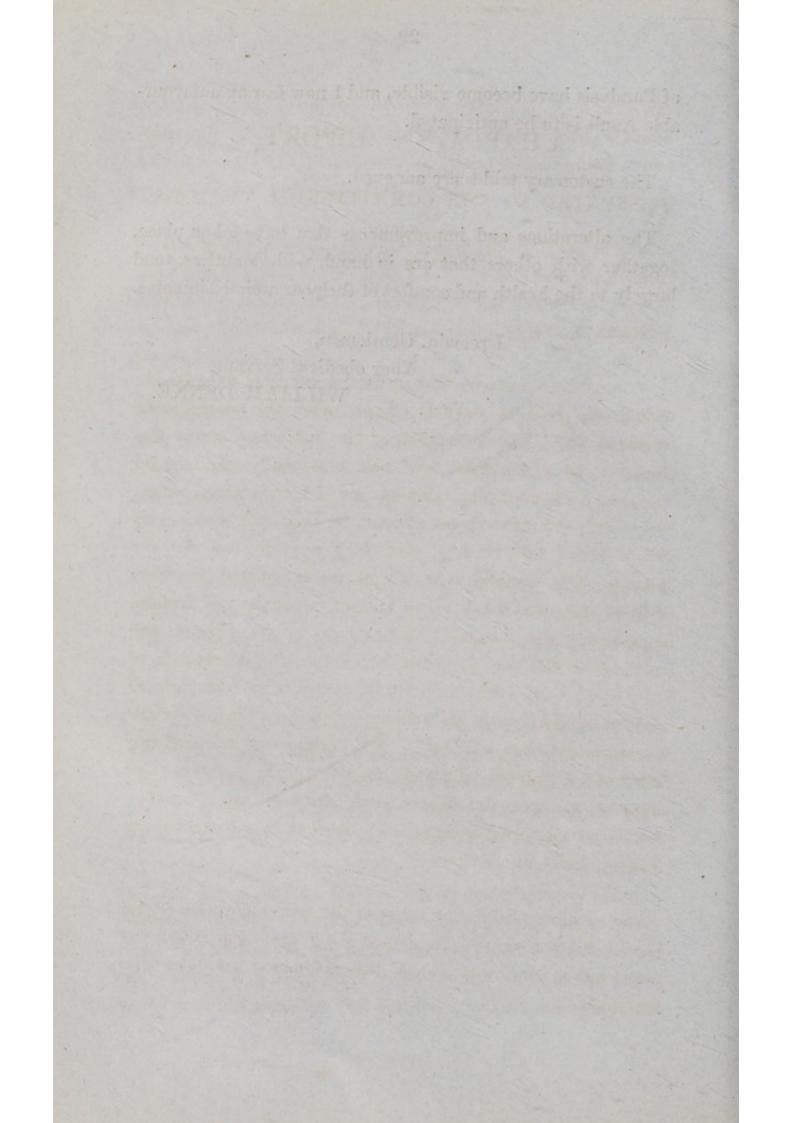

19 of the Patients admitted during the year were reported suicidal; yet all the attempts that have been made at selfdestruction were happily averted by the vigilance and promptitude of the Nurses.

In the month of September a Patient was admitted from one of the Metropolitan Prisons in an advanced stage of pregnancy, who, about a week afterwards, was safely delivered of a full born male child. During the month she took not the slightest notice of her infant; but, as she recovered her strength, so did the attachment for her offspring appear, and the propensity to thieve, which had formerly existed, gradually decline. At that time she was sent for employment to the Bakehouse, where she remained well conducted and cheerful (making daily visits to her child in the Infirmary) until within the last few days, when some symptoms of Paralysis have become visible, and I now fear an unfavourable result is to be anticipated.

The customary tables are annexed.

The alterations and improvements that have taken place, together with others that are in hand, will, doubtless, tend largely to the health and comfort of the poor afflicted inmates.

> I remain, Gentlemen, Your obedient Servant, WILLIAM DENNE.

CHAPLAIN'S REPORT,

PRESENTED TO THE COMMITTEE OF VISITORS,

DECEMBER 29, 1853.

GENTLEMEN,

I beg to report that up to the month of July Divine service was held in the Old Chapel, when the congregation averaged 280. The demeanour of the patients, (as was also remarked by a gentleman who has occasionally officiated for me,) had been even more devout and attentive than before. Since July we have been obliged to hold our services in No. 3 Ward for the men, and in the work-room for the females. The number who can be accommodated in either of these places is much below that of the males and females respectively who attended the services of the Chapel, and only one service can be given to each. The deprivation of the second service has been felt by many, who look forward with much pleasure to the opening of the new Chapel for the restoration of that privilege. The progress of the building has been a subject of great interest to the patients, and many of the more intelligent have expressed much satisfaction with its internal arrangement; more than one exclaiming that "it looks like a Church."

The number of communicants at the last celebration of the Lord's Supper was 55, but since the Chapel was closed the more public administration of this ordinance has been discontinued.

My winter Bible classes have been attended by about 120 patients: almost all of the discharged patients have availed themselves of these secondary means of grace.

Among the patients deceased were some whose cases were peculiarly interesting : one of these, G. P., illustrates in some measure an observation I have made on a former occasion, that any subject of great public excitement has usually some representatives among the insane. The malady of G. P. was attributable to over exertion both of mind and body in the preparation of a lock to be exhibited at the Industrial Exhibition of 1851. He completed his self-imposed task by working over hours, but his mental and bodily health both sank under the extreme pressure. While with us the news arrived that his work had been crowned with success, and that a medal had been awarded to him by the Council: he received the tidings with full appreciation; but he subsequently said to me, that he had a still higher prize in view, meaning a heavenly one. He told me that although an industrious and sober man, he had lived in forgetfulness of God, and that had he not been afflicted, he might have passed into eternity entirely unprepared to give in his account, and he thanked God for calling him to consideration. Although he had several relapses into a state of despondency, he seemed at last to have obtained a peaceful dependence on his Saviour's merits.

We have had other cases in the Asylum more or less connected with that Exhibition; and the same result has followed questions connected with religious topics; but as it would be absurd to blame the Great Exhibition as driving men to insanity, so it is equally unreasonable to charge religion as the cause of that of others: as for instance that of C. H.; this person on her arrival at the Asylum occupied herself in studying the baptismal service of the Church, in order as she alleged, to be prepared to administer the sacrament of baptism to Cardinal Wolsey, who, she imagined, had risen from the dead. In this we may trace a strange combination in her weakened intellect of the public excitement produced by the Gorham controversy and that which followed on the appointment of Cardinal Wiseman to the see of Westminster.

Omitting several interesting cases which have gladdened my heart in the performance of my duties, I proceed to notice the case of M. R., who may be regarded as the type of a large class of our more aged patients. These persons often talk to themselves, but are seldom excited: they employ themselves in the wards or work-rooms : when addressed, they listen as if they understood, but seem unable to give utterance to a correct reply when a question is put to them : in the Chapel they join in the prayers, or listen in silence. Such was the condition of M. R. until seized with paralysis; she was dying when I visited her, but quite sensible, and on my taking leave, she drew me close to her, and with much difficulty whispered, "I am not afraid to die, I know in whom I put my trust." Her countenance though distorted by her malady, was placid and smiling: she afterwards alluded to many things which had been said in Chapel. Had this patient been seen at our services, sitting obliquely on the form, her back bent, her arms folded, her body slightly oscillating, it might have been supposed that to her at least the Word would have been spoken in vain; yet this poor woman understood and profited by the discourses which she heard. Nor is hers an isolated instance: few indeed of our patients, as we find also with sane persons of a similar rank of life and education, are able to comprehend an argument, or follow connectedly an exposition of Holy Scripture; but many imbibe instruction from parts of a discourse; the beneficial effect of preaching arising from the repeated good impressions accompanied with the Divine blessing, rather than from exact knowledge of the arguments by which it is produced.

While speaking of the effect of preaching, I will mention an instance in which a discourse seems to have been greatly blessed to a very intelligent patient, who has since been discharged. On entering the wards after the evening service this patient came to meet me, and said, "I thank you, sir, very much for your sermon to-day, it has taken a load, as it were, from my mind, for I feared I should not be able to resist the dreadful thoughts I have lately had; but now I believe, through God's help, that I shall be able to get rid of them." On my remarking, "but you were not at Chapel, N," he replied, "No, I was too ill to sit so long, but I stood outside the door and listened." Surely in this we have an example of the Word being blessed, " to strengthen the weak hands and confirm the feeble knees."

Among the patients admitted during the last year, or already in the Asylum at the commencement of that period, were more than the usual number of those afflicted with Melancholia: to some of them my ministrations afforded comfort, whether the insanity was connected with remorse for a vicious course, as in the case of T. B., discharged, J. Z. and I. J., still in the Asylum; or the result of depression arising from physical causes or imaginary fears, as in the instance of W. N., discharged. At the same time I will mention that in other cases my efforts have been unsuccessful: I allude more particularly to A. N. and A. L. In both these cases there are delusions distinct from the melancholy symptoms, and I have observed that so long as such delusions remain, advice can seldom be successfully administered to a melancholic patient.

Our male wards contain numerous instances of general paralysis, which, as respects my intercourse with them, present two distinct classes. Some are quite incoherent, all things whether for time or eternity being, they imagine, in the most prosperous condition : these rapidly sink under their fatal malady, and little good can be effected. But there are others in whose insanity the paralysis appears to have a secondary place ; for though not entirely devoid of the same peculiarly bright prospects, they are not absorbed by them, and have very commonly some other distinct delusion : they can be diverted from their peculiar notions, and will converse coherently. These patients will be found regularly at our Chapel services, and many of them communicate till within a short time of their death.

I have to thank the Committee for a grant of Prayer-books, Bibles, &c., for the Institution. The small supply of Bibles from the Adelaide Fund for discharged patients, has enabled me to furnish those who were not in possession of the Holy Scriptures, with a suitable copy.

In conclusion, allow me to remark that my duties in this Establishment are necessarily of a two-fold character—being first those of a clergyman having the charge of immortal souls, and secondly those of one called to minister to "the mind diseased." In the former capacity I humbly rely on the promises of God "that His word shall not return void :" while in the latter I readily take my part in promoting the one general system of treatment, of which the medical superintendents, who have the responsibility, are justly entitled to the praise: sufficient for me if, by giving spiritual counsel and religious instruction, I may be instrumental in opening the way for those remedies which it is the physicians privilege, derived from study and experience to apply.

JOHN MAY, Chaplain.

MATRON'S REPORT.

TO THE COMMITTEE OF VISITORS OF THE HANWELL ASYLUM.

GENTLEMEN,

Ar the close of another year, I beg leave to lay before you a brief outline of occurrences chiefly connected with the Domestic Management of the Female Department of the Asylum during its progress.

The Patients have been generally healthy, although the past summer and autumn were unusually sickly elsewhere, and the weather was most unfavourable for out of doors exercise and recreation. Every endeavour has been faithfully made to render their residence comfortable and their time pass cheerfully, and, within reasonable but imperceptible and unfelt limits, each has been encouraged to choose her own occupation and her own amusement.

The first out-door entertainment took place on the 1st of June: the sunshine was bright and clear, but a keen east wind threatened to chill the elderly Patients, as well as to mar the comfort of those who could move about more briskly, when it was suggested to assemble the party in the shelter of one of the Garden Airing Courts, which has a south-western aspect, and which had been recently extended to twice its original dimensions, by the Committee having ordered a division wall to be removed. This plan combined many advantages, and the fête was eminently successful. The lilac and laburnum trees were in full and unusually profuse blossom, as were also many smaller shrubs and plants, not one of which was injured, nor even a flower gathered, except by permission; indeed, the only trace remaining, after the retirement of the holiday-makers, was the partial treading down of the grass by the dancers' feet.

The season permitted only one other entertainment to be held in the open air, and that took place in the Front Field, with the usual satisfactory results.

The employments of the Patients have been steadily and cheerfully pursued, and, in numerical amount, variety and value, will be found to be equal to those of any former year. The proceeds, in a monetary point of view, of the industry of many of the Patients, is small indeed; but the importance of occupation to the individual herself, and the influence of her example upon her associates, is of unspeakable moral value, and tends to great results. Happily, a woman who is habitually and really idle is an exception in the Wards.

The Attendants have, as a body, discharged their duties faithfully and well. One of the number unhappily committed a wilful breach of the rules, and was dismissed by the Committee. Considerable inconvenience has arisen in this department, owing to the secession of several experienced Attendants, who were tempted to enter the service of other institutions by the offer of higher salaries than have been hitherto given at Hanwell. It must be obvious, that, upon the resignation of an experienced and valuable Attendant, it may often occur, that several candidates must be taken on trial before one, who is really suitable, can be obtained for the vacant charge. None but persons possessing unexceptionable moral character, a respectable appearance, fair education, good address, and good health (from 24 to 35 years of age) are eligible as Candidates for the situation of Ward-Attendant; and all are engaged on probation for six months. The class of Applicants is chiefly composed of respectable Domestic Servants, often from the country. The duties of an Attendant in a Lunatic Asylum are, however, very different from those required of a Domestic Servant in a private family; and the first year of her engagement must necessarily prove most trying to her temper, nervous system, and constitution generally. It is during the first year that voluntary resignations, and, on the other hand, intimations of unsuitableness and incompatibility, usually occur. The service of the Insane is at all times a very arduous and onerous one, and peculiar qualifications are required in Candidates for successful engagement in it. Amongst these firmness, combined with kindness, patience and forbearance under provocation, a good temper and cheerful disposition, are essentials which cannot be dispensed with; whilst readiness to sympathise with her Patients in their troubles, facility in engaging their attention and promoting their amusements, with the power of winning their confidence and affection, and leading these to healthful objects, are endowments which cannot be too highly valued in an Attendant.

The Asylum has sustained considerable inconvenience by the resignation of Miss M. Giddings, late Superintendent of Bazaar, who has been elected Matron of the Royal Lunatic Asylum at Perth. The musical talents of this lady were particularly valuable at Divine Service in the Chapel, where she presided at the organ; and her skill in needlework, and zeal in promoting the lighter employments and amusements of the Female Patients were most praiseworthy.

The gift by Hartwell J. Maude, Esq., one of the Magistrates for the county of Middlesex, of a handsome Piano-Forte, for the use of the Female Patients, deserves most grateful acknowledgments.

The Nightly Visits to the Wards by Mr. Denne and the Matron have been, as usual, frequently made at unexpected hours, and with beneficial and satisfactory results.

There have taken place during the year a greater number than usual of most interesting and satisfactory recoveries. Amongst these no less than five young mothers have been happily restored to their homes, cheered and assisted on their discharge, in every case, by the discriminating bounty of the Committee, from the Adelaide Fund. The larger proportion of cures, however, have occurred in that important class, respectable Domestic Servants.

S. G., aged 21, was taken into Mr. Denne's household almost immediately upon her admission: she was discharged in the beginning of February, supplied with suitable apparel from the Adelaide Fund, and engaged as Housemaid in a family in the West End, where she still remains, well and happy, and highly esteemed by her mistress.

E. H., aged 26, was discharged on the same day with S. G., was immediately engaged as a Laundrymaid, and continues to be a contented and useful member of society.

S. E., aged 26, also discharged at the same time, had been a Lady's-maid, and was a most respectable and intelligent person. In her case her wardrobe was replenished from the Adelaide Fund, to enable her again to enter the family of a gentleman, and a weekly allowance was kindly granted to her by the Committee from the same source, which had not long ceased when she obtained an engagement.

M. J., a fine, frank, healthy Irishwoman, aged 25, had come to London to seek service, but the stern realities of the Metropolis disappointed her sanguine expectations, her money was soon exhausted, and she became despondent. Her residence at Hanwell did not extend to three months, when she was discharged perfectly restored, furnished from the Adelaide Fund with comfortable clothing, and placed (with her passage paid) on board the Cork steamer, her father and mother being resident, in easy, though humble circumstances, in the City of Limerick.

The cases of S. W., M. H., C. W., C. L., and several others, also present satisfactory details.

M. W., aged 58, emigrated many years since with her family to Canada. Her husband had been a Builder, in good circumstances, but was reduced to poverty before he left England. The children were young and numerous, and the family were almost in a state of destitution. M. W. had a brother who resided in one of the eastern counties in England, unmarried, and possessed of considerable property. She resolved to recross the Atlantic, to make a personal appeal to his affection and benevolence—letters had been found unavailing. The brother received her coldly, did not offer her shelter for a single day, but, placing five shillings in her hand, advised her to return to London, the port at which she had disembarked. She did so. Her mind, already weakened by trial and privation, gave way, and she was brought to Hanwell. Her case appeared at first almost hopeless, but by degress she began to seek employment, and at length became one of the best Helpers in the Wards. She was naturally loquacious and meddling, and at times extremely troublesome. She had been nearly five years at Hanwell when, early last spring, one of her sons, now approaching manhood, wrote from Canada to a distant relative to inquire for his mother, giving at the same time a very cheering account of the growing prosperity, consequent upon industry, of himself, father and brothers. Renewed hope completed M. W.'s cure. She was discharged, and the magistrates kindly and earnestly interested themselves in her Most opportunely, a servant of the Asylum was behalf. about to emigrate with her husband to New York, and M. W. was sent thither under her care, it being arranged that J. W. should come from Canada to meet his mother when she landed, and conduct her home. Since her arrival in Canada two most cheering and grateful letters have been received at the Asylum, one from herself and the other from her son, who states that it shall be only from her own choice if his mother works any more-want she can never experience again.

Although the Deaths have not been numerous during the year, many of the very old Patients have been called away, several of these having exceeded by a score of years and upwards the prescribed period of man's sojourn upon the earth, according to the statement of the Psalmist.

It has been hitherto arranged that the Male and Female

Patients should, at the close of the year, have a special Entertainment in their respective Departments, neither party mingling with the other. Perhaps the most imperative reason for such a prohibitory arrangement was to be found in the circumstance, that the Asylum did not possess an apartment sufficiently spacious to accommodate so large an assemblage as the united parties would have formed. This impediment exists no longer ; a new Chapel, so long craved by the crowded and increasing Congregation, having been erected by the Committee, the old Chapel has been altered and formed, by an inconsiderable addition, into a handsome and lofty room, in which it was resolved to celebrate the Patients' Christmas Entertainment this year, by the union of Patients of both sexes, and the experiment succeeded admirably. The Female Patients first entered the room and were served with coffee and cake; afterwards the Male Patients entered and took up their position in an orderly and correct manner, under the superintendence of their Attendants, and the amusements of the evening commenced. Partners were selected by those who chose to dance, and different parties were formed. Some preferred to look on, or to walk about and chat with others. The courtesies which were exchanged were characterised by kindness and real good feeling, and would not have been out of place in a more pretentious assembly. At 8 o'clock the Male Patients retired to supper, and the Females were supplied with cake and spiced beer. After supper the party was again united, and dancing resumed for a time. The Queen's Anthem was then sung by the whole assemblage standing, and immediately afterwards the Patients retired quietly to their respective sides of the House.

The party was visited by several of the Committee during the evening, who were also present at its close. About 400 Female Patients came into the dancing-room; at all times nearly 300 were present. The Male Patients present numbered perhaps 200.

The Musical part of the Entertainment was chiefly supplied by Male Patients, by whom also the room was decorated with evergreens, of which the tasteful grouping evinced considerable artistic skill.

At 20 minutes before 10 three of the Magistrates on Committee, attended by the Matron, walked through the greater number of the Female Wards, the Patients having all retired, and the Department, with two slight exceptions, being profoundly still.

I have the honour to be,

Gentlemen,

Your obedient and faithful Servant,

CATHERINE M. E. MACFIE,

Matron.

CHARLES WRIGHT, Clerk to the Committee of Visitors of the Hanwell Asylum. TO HER MAJESTY'S JUSTICES OF THE PEACE FOR THE COUNTY OF MIDDLESEX IN QUARTER SES-SIONS ASSEMBLED.

THE FORTIETH REPORT OF MESSRS. ALLEN, OF CARLISLE STREET, SOHO SQUARE, ATTORNEYS-AT-LAW.

MESSRS. ALLEN have to report, that during the year 1853 the settlements of four Criminal Lunatics who were confined in the County Asylums, under warrants from Her Majesty's Secretary of State for the Home Department, have been discovered and adjudicated; that a Criminal Lunatic, whose settlement had been discovered and adjudicated on the 28th December, 1852, died pending an appeal against the adjudication; that the settlement of another Criminal Lunatic was also discovered, and was about to be adjudicated when the Lunatic died; and that the settlements of two Lunatics who had been respectively adjudged on the 23rd of October, 1850, and the 3rd of March, 1853, to be chargeable to the County, have been likewise discovered and adjudicated.

Messrs. Allen have also, during the year, attended at the Metropolitan Police Courts, at Petty Sessions, and on Parish Officers, and have made inquiries relative to 91 other Lunatics, in consequence of notices given (under the 59th section of the Act 8th and 9th Vict., cap. 126, and the 98th section of the 16th and 17th Vict., cap. 97) to the Clerk of the Peace, by Parish Officers, of their intention to apply for Orders charging the County with the Lunatics' maintenance. In 15 of those cases the applications were abandoned by the Parish Officers, or Orders upon the County Treasurer were refused to be made by the Magistrates, in consequence of information obtained by Messrs. Allen; and in two other cases the Lunatics died before the investigations were completed. In the remaining 74 cases the Paupers were deemed chargeable to the County, 67 of them being natives of Ireland or Scotland, or foreigners.

The expenses incurred relative to the 6 Criminal Lunatics (the settlements of 4 of whom were discovered and adjudicated, as before mentioned), and in discovering and adjudicating the settlements of the 2 County Patients before referred to, and in investigating the 91 cases, and for correspondence, attendances, and inquiries in 8 other cases, with the view of protecting the interests of the County, including the expense of defending appeals relative to the settlements of 2 of the Criminal Lunatics, and also including payments to country agents, amount to the sum of £280. 8s. 7d.

Messrs. Allen beg to observe, that if the making of Orders on the County Treasurer in the 15 cases had not been successfully contested and opposed, the County Rate would have been called on, not only to repay the expense of the maintenance of those Lunatics incurred within the previous twelve months, but also would have been liable to the payment of £341 5s. a year for their future maintenance, so long as they remained in private or the County Asylums; and that the expense of maintaining the four Criminal Lunatics whose settlements have been discovered and adjudged, would have amounted to £91 a year.

All which Messrs. Allen submit, &c.

C. & J. ALLEN.

January, 1854.
